Hilda V. Franklin Dies As Result Of Explosion Burns

Pours Kerosene Over Live Coals; Death Follows; Home Gone

Rowan county is about to see the weed crop reduced to a minimum. If the prospects along the state highways are any indication. The weed-cutters are at it. Well at least, whether or not they take for them there will be a few less weeds after their labors are done.

And while the Rheacaters are cutting the weeds or having it done the Chandeliers will be out shaking the bushes and doing a good job of it.

This bush shaking isn't so hard when you have a just cause for shaking. And if the Sales Tax isn't a just cause, just ask Tom or Bill or John. He knows And if he doesn't know just ask his wife. She'll tell you in no uncertain terms.

A FRIEND IN NEED

We have recently had an example of what that old proverb means. The death of Miss Hilda Virginia Franklin as a result of burns sustained in a fire which destroyed the Franklin home last Thursday, has naturally brought out the neighborly qualities of those who live in this community to the fullest extent.

Jim Franklin needs help. He lost everything he had. Neighbors took him and his family in and are keeping them.

The News feels that this is a community affair. We believe that this community has a heart. We believe that that heart functions, not only for the high, but for the low.

This is an opportunity. Let's grasp it. It won't cost much, and it will mean so much more than it will cost that it cannot compare.

SUMMER SICKNESS

With the first hot wave of this summer, the usual amount of sickness is apparent. Everybody is sick, and those who are not, are not feeling so hot. Well we've been praying for heat and dry weather, so the farmers who really want to farm can get their crops in. We've got it and now we could do with a little less.

At any rate the News hopes that everyone who is ill at present is soon improved, and those who are well remain so.

REV. DAMPIER TO BE AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Professor W. B. Dampier of Russell, Ohio, who is connected with the college this summer term, will preach at the First Christian church next Sunday morning.

Beginning with Sunday night there will be no night services of any kind at First Christian church until September. Last summer this plan was used and it worked so well that it is being tried again this year. The membership and friends of the church are urged to attend the morning services including the Bible school and make those services as helpful as possible.

"Give Unto Those Who Are In Need"

Applies Particularly In Franklin Case

The attention of the News has been attracted to the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Jim Franklin have lost everything they owned in a disastrous fire last Thursday, which destroyed not only their home and their furniture, but which took the life of their daughter.

It is impossible, of course, for anyone to adequately express their sympathy with Mr. and Mrs. Franklin in the loss of their daughter. It is however, possible for the good people of this community to lighten their grief by proving to them that they have friends and neighbors who can pause a while to give them aid.

With something like this in mind, the News wishes to call the attention of the citizens of Rowan county to the plight in which a former officer finds himself. He is without funds, without a home without furniture. Surely there is ample to help Mr. and Mrs. Franklin get a fresh start, to help

J. C. W. BECKHAM TO SPEAK OVER WHAS FROM LOUISVILLE TONIGHT

At 8:00 Wednesday night, July 3, J. C. W. Beckham of Louisville will speak over the radio at WHAS. Mr. Beckham's announcement has been awaited with interest and every citizen is urged to tune in at that time and listen to his speech. He will endorse a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the office of Governor.

Struck By Auto, Is Seriously Hurt

Raymond Hargis, aged about 17 years, was struck and seriously injured when hit by a automobile driven by H. S. Sidmore, 25, of Elizabethtown, Ky. The child suffered broken bones in both legs, a fractured jaw and possible internal injuries. The accident is said to have been unavoidable, by reliable witnesses.

According to reports, an older brother of Raymond, Russell, Hargis was whipping the child for some misdemeanor, as Mr. Sidmore picked up. The boy broke away from his brother and sprang in front of the car.

Mr. Sidmore who was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. G. W. Sidmore and by Miss Margaret Hodges, also of Elizabethtown, stopped his car and accompanied the boy who was brought back to Morehead in a truck. Examination was given at the office of Dr. C. C. Nickell, and arrangements were made to take him by ambulance to Lexington to the hospital there.

Mr. Sidmore was on his way to Parkersburg, W. Va., where he expects to visit for the next week. Local officials released him subject to call.

W. A. CROCKETT MAKING RACE FOR STATE SENATE

In this issue appears the statement of the platform of Walter Allen Crockett, as a candidate for the office of Senator from the 31st district of which Rowan county is a part.

Mr. Crockett is a young man from Mayville in Mason county. He was born at Sharpsburg in Bath county and is well known throughout the district. Mr. Crockett is well qualified to carry on the work of the legislature at Frankfort. A copy of his platform appears on another page of this issue.

JARVIS CLOSE OUT SALE DRAWS LARGE CROWDS

The sale being held by the Jarvis Store, formerly the Morehead Department store is still under way, and according to the management is still attracting crowds of customers. They are again offering new and better bargains in their aid in this issue of the News. Read their ad.

K. E. R. A. Plans Not Yet Settled

While nothing definite has been learned of the new plans for KERA which will be put into effect as soon as possible, the present setup is carrying on for the time being, under the old rules and plans. It is expected that within the next week or so, an entirely new set-up will be put into effect, probably the most comprehensive that has yet been attempted, according to Mr. D. H. Shouse, county engineer and supervisor.

The new plan is expected to take in all of the present organization and will be a part of the work relief program for which Congress recently appropriated over four billion dollars. The bill when passed was designed to do away with direct relief altogether, putting that burden where it belongs, directly on the State and county. Funds appropriated by Congress would thus be released to be applied directly to work relief which was intended to provide

J. N. KENNARD RUN FOR RAILROAD COMMISSIONER

J. N. Kennard of Ashland visited Morehead Wednesday morning in the interest of his candidacy for Railroad Commissioner of the Eastern District of Kentucky. Mr. Kennard, a brother of N. E. Kennard of this city and as such will undoubtedly receive a large vote in this county. His announcement will appear in the News next week.

Dr. J. H. Payne In Europe For Study

Granted the unprecedented honor of being permitted to pilot the crack German liner, S. S. Bremen, for a full minute each, Dr. John Howard Payne and Dr. Henry T. Moore president of Skidmore College, Bremeislarven, Germany, last Saturday. Together with the four other educators composing the party, they were escorted by Berlin to Berlin under the protection of the Carl Schurz Foundation.

Several weeks will be spent in the Prussian capital and vicinity observing methods of language instruction in the German institutions of higher learning.

According to a letter written to Mrs. Payne, the liner touched at Cherbourg, June 29, and the passengers were allowed to step onto French soil. Another call was made at Southampton, across the English Channel from France.

Dr. Payne's letter stated that 1850 passengers were aboard the ship, 350 first class, 600 tourist class and 1000 third class. Some of the Germans returning to Der Vaterland had been away as long as 40 years. At the German port of entry, Bremerhaven, a band playing martial airs greeted the ship. In a violent display of emotion, rivets and hinges when the gang plank had been lowered.

During the voyage, Drs. Payne and Moore were received frequently by the captain in his private quarters, a privilege denied all but the most distinguished individuals.

The Morehead president, according to him, experienced no seasickness on route across the Atlantic. Instead, his appetite was enormous and his health excellent.

Bud Hawkins To Show Here For Three Days

Annually, Bud Hawkins players make Morehead and have for the past twelve years. Each year about this time or earlier, the Hawkins fans begin to worry and ask, "Bud coming?" This year he has been a little longer in reaching Morehead than usual, and as a result the question has become almost a refrain.

However Hawkins fans may set their minds at rest. Bud and his gang will be here this week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

It has come to be unnecessary to say more, "Bud's coming" for everyone to begin to plan to attend the show each night. As usual he has an entirely new set of plays to offer, and as usual they will be high class stuff. Well, "Spread that among you."

Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart Pays Tribute To Mrs. Letitia Bradley In Article

In the passing of Mrs. Letitia Bradley an extraordinary woman has gone out of the world, leaving a meek, pious and more barren place. Eastern Kentucky has lost one of its finest, noblest and most sainted women and Morehead has lost one who was a beloved and marked a precious link between the old days and the new. She had graduated the town with her presence for many years, and though modest and unassuming, she possessed a world of quiet strength and her influence was widely felt.

She was a born lady. In her bearing, her manner, her dress, in her soft, well modulated voice, which was never raised to a loud tone, in all that she said and did this was

Teachers Claims Allowed In Ruling Of Circuit Court

Several Thousand Of Dollars To Be Paid As Result

Good news for various teachers of the county who hold old claims against the County Board of Education, came as the result of a judgment issued in the Rowan Circuit Court last week. Judgment was rendered in a number of cases where suits had been filed by a representative of the teachers who held unpaid vouchers issued from 1925 to 1930. Many of the vouchers had been purchased by the Citizens Bank and judgment in the amount of $3485.35 was entered in favor of the bank by the court. Other teachers claims held by individuals were grouped and suit was brought by D. B. Caudill, representing the group. The total amount of the vouchers was $2653.19.

Both judgments called for the payment of the vouchers together with interest from the date the vouchers were issued, in some cases from 1925, at the rate of six per cent.

The claims have been the subject of much discussion ever since a Court of Appeals ruling handed down several years ago, which set aside all claims as invalid, unless paid in the year for which they were issued. The ruling held that the Board was not permitted to exceed its income in expenditures.

However at that time, the local Board had established the custom of "robbing Peter to pay Paul", in other words borrowing from one group to take care of another group from the previous year. This left many teachers' names on the list of unpaid vouchers. The Court of Appeals also put a decided stop to the custom.

AIRPLANE TO BE HERE FOR PASSENGER TRIPS

On July 6 and 7, the same airplane which entertained the people here and which gave many of them their first airplane ride, will again visit Morehead on a trip to the Flemingsburg Road. The days will be occupied with taking up passengers in the plane.

The plane is piloted by an experienced pilot of will be able to furnish plenty of thrills to his passengers.

CANDIDATE TAKE TO AIR DURING NEXT WEEKS

On Saturday, July 6, 13, and 20 time in an WIAS at 1:30 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. At 1:30 Thomas S. Rhea, administration candidate for governor will speak in the interest of his candidacy. Immediately following the Rhea address, from 2:30 to 3:30, Happy Chandler will deliver a message to the radio audience. This same order will hold on all three of the days mentioned. Citizens of Kentucky are invited to tune in on all three days. (Free Advertisement.)

It is expected that within the next week or so, an entirely new set-up will be put into effect, probably the most comprehensive that has yet been attempted, according to Mr. D. H. Shouse, county engineer and supervisor.

The new plan is expected to take in all of the present organization and will be a part of the work relief program for which Congress recently appropriated over four billion dollars. apparent. She was not rugged, but was an ethereal type, whom it seemed proper to adorn with lavender and old lace to match her loveliness of face and form and the gracious dignity of her ways. She was one who indulged in no idle words. Her words were few, but everyone was captivated, "like apples of gold in pictures of silver." In a world where there is much idle, useless talk, her restraint and modesty were truly admirable by comparison.

She was a devout Christian and set an example of Christian living, which made her life a perpetual sermon. Hers was a life that was fraught with gentleness, meekness and good will, the fruits of a right.

WOLF! WOLF!

Once upon a time, according to the fable, there was a boy who was sent out to watch the sheep. If a wolf came near, he was to shout "Wolf! Wolf!" and all the good people were to run and drive the wolf away.

Well, so the story goes, the boy got tired of staying out alone, and in order to have some fun, cried, "Wolf! Wolf!" and the good people came running, but there was no wolf. He was enjoying himself so much that he kept it up until finally the wolf did come. Frantically the boy cried, "Wolf! Wolf!" He's eating the sheep. The good people paid no attention, thinking that the boy was just having his fun. And the big bad wolf ate all the sheep.

There's a good deal in that story that can be aptly applied to the nomination of the old cry of "Wolf!"

Wolf! is being raised on every side, but the fact remains that the people are going to vote for their candidate for governor, the man whom they know has stood by them, the man whom they recognize as the champion of the middle classes, the man who was against the Sales Tax and is still against it. They are going to vote for A. B. Chandler for the nomination, in spite of the cries of "Wolf! Wolf!" But there is no wolf. The facts are that every candidate for the nomination have endorsed the old age pension, because every candidate has endorsed the Roosevelt administration and the old age pension as a part of his program of social security. A. B. Chandler has endorsed it and, there is no wolf!

They will try to frighten the people working on relief into supporting their choice for the nomination by telling them if he is not nominated and elected they will receive no relief. "Wolf! Wolf!" They are trying to convince the people who pay one cent tax for every loaf of bread they buy, that they should be glad to pay it, because that is the only way they can get relief. "Wolf! Wolf!"

As a matter of fact, the relief was carried on long before the Sales Tax went into effect and probably will continue at the will of the federal government if and when the Sales Tax is repealed. Neither Happy Chandler nor Tom Rhea will remove it before it has served its purpose. Don't let anyone fool you on that. When the Sales Tax is removed as it will be when Chandler is nominated and elected, ample funds from other sources than those taxes that rest almost entirely on the backs of the poor people, will be assessed to meet the need. Don't let anyone tell you otherwise. It's the same old cry of "Wolf! Wolf!"

They will tell the teachers that if Chandler is nominated they will go back to the time not so long ago when they were forced into politics in order to keep from starving to death. They will and have held up the picture of the wolf of a few years ago, a low wage scale, and at the tops of their voices they have shouted to the teachers, "Wolf! Wolf!" and a whole pack of Wolves. Frankly the teachers are not to be fooled. They have the assurance of Happy Chandler a man who has never broken a promise, a man to whom a pledge is sacred, that the $12 per capita will be maintained as a minimum. They know that if Chandler is nominated and elected they will not again see the disgraceful situation of having the schools forced into politics and the teachers forced, like common beggars to go before the Legislature, with their hands out pleading to be given that which is rightfully theirs.

Too long they have cried, "Wolf! Wolf!" Too many times has the little boy who wants to have some fun, called the people from their work with the frantic appeal. This time the people who oppose the Sales Tax, the people who are on relief, the teachers, the laboring classes, will remember that the boy has fooled them before, and they will not be fooled again. They are opposed to the continuation of the condition that has existed during the past three years. They know that Happy Chandler has lead the battle during that time, against the forces that saddled the Sales Tax on the people. They know that Happy Chandler alone is responsible for the fact that they have the primary. They know that he has stood between them and the forces that have capitalized on their condition of poverty. All the cries of "Wolf! Wolf!" in the world are not enough to drive them to be fooled again.

EXTORTION OR WHAT?

According to Howard Henderson in the "State Capital" column of the Courier Journal, the Rhea-actors are now starting their campaign of pressure to limit the state employees up behind Mr. Rhea in his desperate battle to cop the nomination for governor. The pressure according to Mr. Henderson is being applied to all and sundry to squeeze about six per cent of their annual wages out of the employees to be used in the three campaigns they figure will be necessary before Rhea is finally defeated or elected as the case may be. Two percent, says Mr. Henderson will be collected out of the June salary checks and two out of the September.

However, Mr. Henderson goes on to explain that the employees are not really the ones who are footing the bills for the Rhea campaign after all, but its simple minded tax-payers. He stated that the employees were all given a "raise" of from five to ten percent in salary earlier in the spring, and that the collection now being made will still leave the employees their regular salary and possibly a bonus after all collections for the Rhea Fund are in. We have no means of knowing that Mr. Henderson is right in his statements. However it would result in a damaging condition to him if he were to quote such things without sufficient evidence to back him up. If he is right, and we have no reason to believe that he is not, then the voters who are opposed to Mr. Rhea are undoubtedly in the hands of a despot who reaches down into the pocket of every taxpayer to force him, willy-nilly, to back his cause, however unjust the taxpayer may believe that cause to be. If taxes not only Democrats but Republicans, Socialists and whatnot. So whether you like it or not, you will help Mr. Rhea finance his campaign. You will furnish him with the cash in hand out of your own pockets and out of the mouths of your hungry children to pay the expense of his campaign to elect him to the office of governor, from which position he will, for the next four years, with the able assistance of the then-governor Ruby Laffoon, continue to reach down into your pocket to finance the next campaign of his chosen "Crown Prince", and so on and so on, and so on. When and if the voters permit this condition to continue, we will have established a dynasty of Crown Princes to compare favorably with the worst European conditions.

It should be remembered that Kentucky has a law with respect to the office of governor, which permits the incumbent to serve but one term of four years. The purpose of that law was to prevent just such a situation as is being faced today. The efforts of the administration to force a candidate of its own selection on the people is an effort to set aside the state law and to establish if not a monarchy in Kentucky, at least a feudal system.

A COAT OF PAINT

Before giving the home its coat of paint it is a good practice to inspect the siding and corner boards. Joints may have become open as a result of stresses and strains set up during changes of weather. A few nails driven in the proper spots will assist in keeping out moisture and provide better insulation by making the house tight.

Mrs. ELLINGTON ANNOUNCES FOR STATE SENATE

MRS. ETHEL ELLINGTON For SENATOR 31st DISTRICT OF KENTUCKY Bath, Fleming, Mason, Menifee, Powell, Rowan Counties. Subject to action of the Republican Primary, August 3, 1935.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE DISTRICT: I announce my candidacy on the following platform.

- 1. I stand for drastic and severe curtailment of the gross and extravagant expenditures of this administration. The heavy burden on the tax-payers of this state can be lightened only by sane and common-sense budgetary control. I heartily favor the policy of keeping the expenditures of the state within its income. 2. I stand for the discontinuance of the Sales Tax. It is fundamentally unequal and unfair tax. It is not based on the principle of ability to pay, which should be the first consideration in any tax or revenue measure. 3. I pledge to the schools and teachers my efforts for: Adequate financial support for the schools and teachers of Kentucky; Increase of the present school per capita; establishment of a retirement system for the teachers of the state. 4. I favor a reduction of the state gasoline and automobile license tax. 5. I favor the continuance of the building of good roads, especially the rural roads from farm to market. I stand for the transformation of the State Highway Department from a corrupt and vicious political machine to an efficient road-building organization. This can be done only by the able administration of the department, by qualified engineers, and making public the operations of this department by frequent audits. 6. I favor a reform of our out-moded penal systems, to be brought about by the establishment of self-supporting prison farms. These will be of incalculable value in the rehabilitation and reform of the inmates. 7. I believe that the greatest welfare of all the people is, or ought to be, the end of all government; and that equal and exact justice to all should be the keynote. Your support and influence will be appreciated.

GUTTERS

Gutters should be of sufficient size and should be constructed with enough pitch or slope to carry off water draining from the roof.

When properly designed and installed, gutters should permit snow drifts which accumulate on roofs to slide over and not pile up in them and, at the same time, to catch water from melting snow. Gutters should be of durable, water-resistant and corrosive resistant material.

If the material is subject to gradual deterioration, due to exposure to the elements, it should be painted with a good quality of durable, water-resistant paint. Good gutters and downspouts of adequate size properly installed prevent buildings from deteriorating and are an essential part of low maintenance cost.

COOR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL. By Dr. ALLEN G. HERRARD. Director, American Institute of Public Health. New York: The American Institute of Public Health.

SUMMER TOURING

The summer auto trip with children along takes a little planning. Wherever you go, conditions are not exactly the same as at home. Some families carry water from home in glass bottles. Others boil water and use the chlorine treatment, which your physician or druggist will explain. Pasteurized milk is your one safeguard when traveling.

Always wash thoroughly all fruit and vegetables purchased along the route. Do this even when you buy direct from the farmer. Just remember he may have used poisonous sprays to kill insects.

Take along a supply of paper cups. The glasses at roadside stands are not always as clean as yours at home.

It is wise to consult your family physician about first aid needs and laxatives. A little bit is often a blessing when least expected. Be sure to put in the soothing lotions you use for poison ivy and the cold cream for sunburn.

A word about eating. The danger is in eating too much and at irregular times. Avoid particularly the temptation to drink sodas and bottled drinks. And conquer the desire to overload the stomach with ice water. No vacation can be had while riding on a sea-sick stomach.

Our idea of true justice is when a stenographer throws her gum out the back story window and then steps in it when the gas for lunch.

Kennel Murder Case

BY S. S. VAN DINE Copyright by W. H. Wright It was decided to discontinue the investigation for the day. We were all tired and confused, and there were no leads to follow. Vance suggested a complete cessation until he could make an injury into the ownership of the wounded Scottie. His sanguine attitude toward the presence of the dog in the house struck me as extravagant; and I knew Markham felt the same way about it. But since there was little more that could be done at the moment, he gave in hopefully to Vance's suggestions. It's quite safe, Vance told him, when he had reached the lower hall, to let the various members of the household go about their business. I can assure you, Markham, no one will run away. Gamble was told to proceed with his duties, as usual; and Miss Lake and Grassi were informed that they were free to go and come as they chose, provided they were available for questioning. Keep a man in Coe's bedroom, however, Vance admonished the sergeant, and it would also be well to have a man outside to check on anyone entering or leaving the house. Vance, Markham and I went out into the chill air. It had been a day of horror, and the cool breeze from the park was invigorating. When we were entering the district attorney's car, Markham asked, Were you serious, Vance, about seeing those people to whom Wrede gave the Doberman Pinscher. Oh, quite. It will only take a minute. The name of the people was Enright; and they lived in a penthouse in one of the new apartment buildings on Central Park, West. The butler informed us that Mrs. Enright was at that moment out of the city, and that Mr. Enright was walking the dog in the park. Entering the park, we sat down on a bench by the path entrance and waited. Presently there appeared a very large man with a dog on a leash. That will be Enright, said Vance. Suppose we stroll toward him. Enright proved to be a genial, easy going type of man of great bulk. Vance introduced himself and Enright was cordial and talkative; and when Vance mentioned Wrede's name he became voluble and spoke of his long friendship with the man. As he chatted, I had a good look at the dog. He was lean and muscular, with beautiful lines, his coat a shiny black with rust-red, sharply defined markings. The dominating impression he gave was that of compact, muscular power, combined with speed and intelligence. A dog that would make a loyal and protective friend and a dangerous enemy.

Markham, something duce queer. Why should he be timid? Why should he distrust and fear strangers? It's not like a Doberman to act that way. Something has happened to him, he's had a blighting experience of some kind. Markham beat an annoyed tattoo on the window ledge of the car. Yes, yes; it's very sad, I suppose. But what possible connection can there be between a shy Doberman in Central Park and the murder of Archer Coe? I haven't the vaguest notion. Vance returned cheerfully. But there are only two dogs in this case, and one of them is browbeaten and timid, and the other is viciously wounded. Pretty far-fetched, Markham grumbled. Vance sighed. I dare say. But so are the circumstances surrounding the murder. He lighted a fresh cigarette and glanced at his watch; it was drawing toward dinner time. Does that tempt you? And I'll open a bottle of that '35 Chateau-Yquem you're so fond of. You cheer me, old man. Markham gave an order to the chauffeur. Ah, a bit of forgetfulness—what? Quite right you are. There'll be nothing toirk us till tomorrow. But Vance was mistaken. That night the Coe case entered a new and more sinister phase. It was exactly halfpast two in the morning when Vance's private phone rang. It woke me from a deep sleep, and it was several minutes before I could answer it. Markham's voice came over the wire demanding Vance. I carried the portable phone in to his room and handed it to him. He listened a brief minute; then he set the instrument on the floor, yawned, stretched, and threw back the covers. Dashed it all, Vance he complained, as he rane for Currie. Grassi has been stabbed. SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Written each week by Rev. B. H. Kasse, Pastor of the Baptist Church.

SUBJECT: Moses (Leader and Lawgiver). Exodus Chapter 24. GOLDEN TEXT: "Blessed is the nation, whose God is the Lord." Psalm 33:12. This lesson brings a series of studies of great Biblical characters. We fitfully start with Moses, perhaps the greatest of them all, except Christ. Space here forbids an adequate study of him. Read of his life in the Book of Exodus. We must here briefly summarize his part as a national leader. 1. Moses was a man chosen of God to lead a people. His miraculous escape from the death of the male children among the Israelites in bondage is a story of wonder and enchantment to every one, young or old. Thus, from the basket in the rushes he was made prince in Pharaoh's court for forty years. Then an incident happened in his life which drove him to the wilderness where he was taught of God and prepared for the work God had designed for him. Then God, through the burning bush, called him to lead Israel out of bondage. He was God's man chosen and prepared for God's great purpose—of delivering his people from bondage. 2. Moses was a national leader. Israel has multiplied, even in bondage, to a people numbering millions. They are ready to begin a national life. Their leader is endowed with all that is needed to make them a great people. His first work is to lend himself to God as a deliverer. This is all accomplished by miracles of God and Moses is only an instrument in God's hands. After the deliverance Israel starts upon the long journey to a land which God has prepared for them. It is this long pilgrimage which God uses to mold his people into a nation. Their trials, their helplessness, their lack of wisdom make them dependent on their leader. The leader, filled with the presence and reality of God, keeps their eyes upon God. Here lies the blessing of a great man in the life of any nation. Our nation goes forward as long as it has godly leaders whom that ceases it fails. 3. Moses was the great lawgiver. God called him upon the mountain of Sinai. There for forty days and nights he communed with God who led with him in person. With time to listen, to think, to hear the voice of God, he brought forth on tablets of stone the laws which made Israel a great people. Would that our law makers could spend some time in the mountain of communion with God before trying to make the laws to shape our country! We would then have fewer and better ones. It is to be feared that our law makers spend their time in communion with the political critics of the country to be sure of reelection. What else can come to a nation like that but ruin? We think we learn but we do not. Nations have told us this story over and over again when we depend upon divine leadership which we receive with disregard it we perish. No wonder the Psalmist said, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord."

SUMMER ROASTS

The use of light Summer roasting sheds by chicken breeders is steadily increasing. While the advantages of these sheds are obvious, it is not advisable to use an ordinary light unless there is adequate insulation to guard against the hot midday sun, as well as against the occasional cold and windy days that come in even the hottest Summer. Insulation board is invaluable for this purpose and can be applied very simply to the parts of the shed that need special protection.

The deceased printer knocked at the gates of Hell and asked entrance. "Who's the boss here?" demanded Satan. "I want to collect some old debts from a few of my customers who died before me and this is the place to which they referred me," replied the poor printer.

THE 1935 STATE FAIR PLEDGED AID OF LEADERS ALL OVER STATE

Several New Features To Be Added

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 12.—Spurred by the very great success, financially and otherwise, of the State Fair within the last three years, some twenty-five leading representatives of the press, industrial, agricultural and other interests in the State, met here Tuesday for the purpose of proffering their support and cooperation to the Fair, which plans for the opening of the 1935 Fair, September 9th to 14th, the greatest in the institution's history. Not only the greatest, they declared in point of attendance, but in every other way of the highest value to the State as a whole. The Fair officials were highly commended for the success of the Fair in every way for the last three years. They were strongly urged to continue such very popular and successful features as the State-wide beauty contest, and every effort put forth this year for a constant team every county in the State. Likewise, the massed band and music festival, in which some thirty bands participated last year with about 500 pieces. With the State's seventy-five or more bands, drum and trumpet corps from the various counties marching the streets and playing on the grounds and massed into one mammoth band of 1,500 members, send several thousand voices from the schools of the State in folk and community songs, to the Band's accompaniment would make one of the largest musical aggregations ever gotten together on the American continent and far the most spectacular and entertaining attraction the Kentucky State Fair, or any other state fair ever staged. Support was also pledged to the Fair's suggested plans for arranging in the huge Merchants and Manufacturers' Building, a separate booth for every county in the State, each year, to present its resources and other advantages. Along with a large separate display for the State Agricultural College, conducted by the State Agricultural College.

Weather conditions and the usual difficulties from insects and other deterrents affecting young tobacco plants have somewhat retarded the planting of tobacco in Canada this year, according to a report to the Louisville district office of the Commerce Department. Present indications are that approximately 41,000 acres will be planted in the province of Ontario, the principal Canadian source of Flue-cured and other grades of tobacco, compared with 32,249 acres planted to tobacco in 1934. Under the provisions of the Tobacco Marketing Board, the acreage of both Flue-cured and Burley tobaccos is being regulated this season but there will be no regulation restricting the production of Dark tobacco. It is expected that about 10,000 acres will be planted to Flue-cured tobacco in Ontario, 9,700 acres of Burley and 2,000 acres of Dark tobacco. In Quebec about 8,000 acres of cigar varieties are expected to be planted.

A Story For

When Edna Leedom first starred on Broadway she used to be pretty thin. She was, in the words of some of the other girls, "skinny." Well, Edna and another actress were rehearsing in the same piece and one day they got into a spat, and Edna reminded the other lady.

"Remember, please I am the star," "Yes, I know you are the star," the other retorted, eyeing Edna's slim figure, "but you would look better, my dear, if you were a little Meteor."

FRANKLIN HOME BURNS

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin suffered the loss of their home together with all its contents. Only two old rocking chairs and the sewing machine were saved from the fire.

Hilda Virginia Franklin was born in Kenova, W. Va., on November 19, 1917 and was at the time of her death seventeen years and seven months of age. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Franklin and by a sister, Mrs. Carrie Franklin Moran of Dayton, Ohio. At the funeral were present Mr. and Mrs. Claud Franklin of Zetsmouth, Ohio, Mr. Orville Armstrong of Ashland, Ky., and Mrs. Pearl Smith of Huntington, W. Va., all relatives of Miss Franklin.

TEACHERS CLAIMS GIVEN

It will be remembered that several years ago there was a decided stir in Rowan county over the fact that the board of education had accumulated a mass of indebtedness which was felt could never be lifted. The debt was in the neighborhood of $80,000, most of it unbounded. Since that time, the teachers and the Citizens Bank have been holding their vouchers and attempting to obtain judgement on their claims. The payment adjudged them by the court will be a relief to many of them.

At present the Board of Education is making payment to the amount of 50 per cent of the total claims together with the interest accrued.

Some body will evidently celebrate the Fourth of July in a befitting manner. They have just cause for celebration.

Try CARDUI For Functional Monthly Pains

Women from the teen age to the change of life have found Cardui genuinely helpful for the relief of functional monthly pains due to lack of just the right strength from the food they eat. Mrs. C. H. Brown, of Essex, Mo., writes: "I used Cardui when a girl for cramps and found it very beneficial. I have recently taken Cardui during the change of life. I was very nervous, had head and back pain and was in a generally run-down condition. Cardui has helped me greatly." Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

K. E. R. A. PLANS

labor for all who are capable of doing work.

The plan of course primarily is for the purpose of doing away with the dole system, whereby those who are unable to find work are kept from starvation, a system that has tended to break down the self-respect of those who have received it, and has caused private industry considerable concern.

While no information as to the exact plans has been disclosed it is a published fact that the plan call for public works and projects which will furnish actual work to laborers at an established wage scale.

FARM AND HOME

Water is important in the production of eggs because about 65 per cent of an egg is water. Hens, like people, need fresh water, especially in warm weather. Plenty of cool, fresh water and shade are necessary for high egg production in summer.

Pails, cans, separators and other milk equipment should be clean and sterile. Thoroughly wash, scald and dry pails and cans. Open seams in containers accumulate filth that is hard to remove. Seams should be closed and soldered or the pails discarded.

Women have been known to make themselves believe they needed an article of merchandise in order to take advantage of an alleged bar-gin. Something not needed and for which there is no use is never a bargain, regardless of the price.

In drenching sheep, best results are obtained when feed and water are kept from them for at least 12 hours before and 4 hours after treatment.

If the land upon which turkeys run is thought to be infested with roundworms, danger of loss may be tobacco powder to each 100 pounds lessened by adding four pounds of growing mash. The best method is to raise turkeys on clean ground, away from chickens.

BRAN MASH

Cutworms that destroy tomato, cabbage and other plants may be poisoned with a mixture of a peck of dry bran, a quarter of a pound of white arsenic or paris green and a pint of syrup or molasses. Use enough water with the syrup to moisten the bran enough to make it stick together into a crumbly mass. As cutworms usually do their damage at night, evening is the best time to scatter the poison. Less bait is needed when it is placed around the plants, but do not throw it directly on plants. Two or three scatterings may be necessary.

As arsenic and paris green are deadly poisons they should be handled with care, and kept away from children and animals.

REAL SECURITY

A report from a representative medium-sized life insurance company says that the volume of regular paid business secured during May of this year was ten per cent greater than in any month for for and one-half years past.

In addition to the business increase, the company found many other favorable factors. The lowest lapse rates in its history are now being experienced. Policy loans are decreasing. Favorable mortality rates are continuing. And the amount of total insurance in force is showing steady gains.

Life insurance sales have held up well during times when business, employment and payrolls were tending to drop. That can mean only one thing, that the American people, having witnessed the debacle that began in 1929, have a growing respect for the safety permanence and soundness of life insurance from the standpoint of both protective and foresight. That kind of security is worth more than all the government doles ever proposed.

A TRIBUTE

eous spirit and of a pure heart. The memory is one of her seated in the most vivid picture of this beloved woman that lingers in the writer's Christian Church in Morehead on the Sabbath day in an attitude of worship. She was wearing a dainty black and white dress on which she had pinned, or loving hands had fastened, a bouquet of lilies of the valley, the flowers which she wore. She was oblivious to everything but the worship of the hour, but when the service was over, as she turned to greet those about her with a radiant smile and a kindly word, she seemed the embodiment of all that makes a Christian lady, and looked more fit to grace the streets of Heaven than to walk the common ones of earth. She was a great mother. Losing her husband, Solomon Bradley, when she was a young woman and her children were small, she took up the task of rearing those children with Spartan courage. She brought those children: Hiram, Sam, Anna, Marj, Ellis Morgan, Willie, Ida and May through the years of childhood and womanhood, and saw them all married and in homes of their own. She implanted in them sterling qualities that led to wide usefulness, as they went forth from this home, provided over by a wise, patient and loving mother, to play their part in the world. It was no small service for one woman to bring up five children to manhood and womanhood without losing a single one of them. The hours of watchful, tender mothering that went into that cannot be estimated. If medals were given to mothers who battle to rear their children in health and honor and to start them on careers of usefulness, Mrs. Letitia Bradley would have been one of those decorated by her country for "going beyond the line of duty," which she did not once only but countless times. It is to her credit and to theirs that early in life her sons and daughters began to share her burdens, which she had transmitted to them, will to assume responsibility. It was a privilege to visit in that home and to see her with her children, and to sound her. One could not but be deeply impressed with the atmosphere of harmony, courage and good cheer. There was never a hint of struggle or a complaint as to hardships. It was a real home and one who visited it carried away memories that gave pleasure and inspiration that could not fade. In her last years she made her home with her son Senator Samuel M. Bradley, in Morehead, where she received every loving care that he and his family could bestow, and was the recipient of all the attention and devotion from her other children that a mother could have. She saw four of her children precede her by a few years to the "Land of the Blest." She leaves to mourn her loss, besides a host of friends, her sons, Judge Hiram Bradley, of Joplin, Mo., Senator Samuel M. Bradley of Morehead, W. E. Bradley Huntington and her daughters, Mrs. M. Paxton Davis of Morehead and Mrs. Irvin Rhodes, of West Palm Beach, Florida. She has joined "The Choir Invisible," which sings to us of better and more kindly ways of living, and of "That Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," on which she waits to welcome those who love her and who will follow her there some day. W. A. Crockett Announces For State Senator

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 31st SENATORIAL DISTRICT:

- I have announced for State Senator, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary of this district and I believe that the people are entitled to a frank statement from me as to how I stand on various issues. I promise that if I am nominated and elected as Senator of this district I shall honestly and fearlessly advocate and carry out the following platform:
1. I shall oppose the reenactment of continuance of the Sales Tax law.
2. I shall oppose any increase of taxes on real estate.
3. I shall advocate reduction of state expenditures to the lowest possible level and at the same time carry on an efficient and economic manner by eliminating useless state offices.
4. I favor legislation which will make a fair provision for the ex-service men of Kentucky, their widows and dependents.
5. I am in favor of the good roads program and in addition favor the acceptance for maintenance of the public county roads, IN ADDITION TO THE ROADS now embraced in the State Primary system.
6. I am heartily in favor of a continuation of the present $12 per capita tax for the support of the schools, as a minimum, and will favor furnishing by the State of free books to the children in the public schools.
7. I am heartily in sympathy with the purpose and aims of the Morehead State Teachers College, and I sincerely promise, in case of my nomination and election to do all in my power to further the interest of the college. I realize that the Morehead State Teachers College is the most important institution in Eastern Kentucky, and with that thought in mind, I propose to work to the utmost to obtain suitable appropriations to properly conduct and maintain the college as the present high school.
I may add, that my one ambition is to do my best to follow in the footsteps of Judge Allie Young, realizing at the same time that I cannot hope to ever reach the high place occupied by that great statesman.
8. I am in favor of any legislation which will be beneficial to the farm.

Health Department in Warning To Travelers

The following article from the Rowan County Health Department is timely and worthy of consideration.

PREVENTABLE DISEASES. So often the physician is asked what is good for "this or for that" and most all of "this and that" that the Doctor is asked to remedy is a disease that is preventable, such as Common Cold, Influenza, Tuberculosis, French Mouth, Pneumonia. The largest factor in prevention is CLEANLINESS. It is regrettable but due to improper cleaning of eating and drinking utensils at many public places, our lips come in contact and our mouths become contaminated with germs from the salivary secretions of former patrons of the roadside stand or restaurant. Just a short time ago a young man working for the State Highway Department in Leslie county was taken sick with Vincent's Angina and in a short time he and mother and two others of the family died with the disease, contracted from the common drinking cup used for the food.

to prevent further crime, and we recommend that as the correct course in all instances, which ordinarily means a great saving of expense to the Commonwealth. There has been much complaint before our body of the manner in which the relief for our citizens in need has been handled. The complaint, as made, suggests that many persons in dire need and in distress receive a very meager help while on the other hand many persons who are in need but not so serious receive a considerable amount of help and in some instances, those in need receive $50 help at all. We have come to the conclusion that this should be seriously investigated by the department heads and the trouble remedied. Such an effort to administer relief must have its hardships, but where they have access to the homes and the inmates it should be difficult, after seeing the surroundings, to determine what should be done, and the main difficulty in handling this relief is, in our judgement, a failure to ascertain the actual condition and provide a relief in kind of taking the word of somebody else. We recommend that a copy of our report, or so much thereof as has to do with the relief situation be forwarded to the proper departments and that whatever can be done have the proper attention. We have examined the public buildings and offices; we find everything, in apparently good condition, except the toilets in the jail need repairing and beds provided in the women's department; and especially do we find that the officers are doing their duty. We attach hereto a few warrants of arrest; we have been unable to develop them just against the persons named in the warrants. In fact, we have been unable to complete the investigation. We suggest that these warrants be furnished to the next Grand Jury and an investigation made in each instance. Also we recommend that the County Superintendent's office be moved from its present location to the Court House. We thank the court and the officers as a whole for their help during our sittings. Respectfully Submitted, (Signed) I. D. CAUDILL, Foreman.

Rhea will discourse from 1:30 to 2:30 p. m. and Chandler will talk from 2:30 to 3:30 p. m. We recommend that all who can do so listen to both speeches each time. It is only by that method that the citizens can form a just idea of the merits of the two leading demagogues for the Democratic nomination. Thus you will see both sides of the picture. Naturally we hardly believe that Happy Chandler will suffer by the comparison.

Kentucky State League Will Finish Season With Same Line Ups; League Games, Play-offs

Teams Appear To Be Taking Up "Home Talent" League Idea.

The Kentucky State Baseball league set-up will remain substantially as it is for the season, it was reported yesterday by officials who attended a league meeting in Mt. Sterling Thursday night.

Newton C. "John" Rudy, manager of the Maysville club, stated definitely that contrary to apparently well-founded rumors, the Bears will stay in the league.

A trend toward the dropping of high priced semi-professional players and organization of "home town" teams was noted among most of the officials, it was reported. Managers have lost money, mostly because of adverse weather conditions, and no longer can afford to pay imported stars for the rest of the season.

It was decided at the meeting to extend the first half of the season two weeks to allow two of each team's postponed games to be played off. The Bears will meet Flemingsburg at home on one of the extra dates and Paris or Vanceburg away. The second half will begin July 21.

Due to the wet season a number of games remain and will remain after the close of the regular first half of the regular first half of the Kentucky State League according to announcement by league officials. These games will be played off on July 7 and 14. The schedule for the play-off games is:

- JULY 7: Flemingsburg at Paris (2)
- Morehead at Owingville (2)
- Maysville at Vanceburg
- Brooksville at Mt. Sterling (2)
- JULY 14: Morehead at Brooksville
- Vanceburg at Owingville
- Paris at Mt. Sterling
- Flemingsburg at Maysville

SPORT SPLURGES

The tendency in the Kentucky State League at present, according to indications from other towns, is to make the teams of the various towns, "home talent" teams, eliminating the expense of carrying on the pay-rolls semi-pro players who take away all the profits and run the teams and their managers in the hole.

The only solution, at present is the old "home talent" idea. As a matter of fact the home talent is not so bad as some imagine. The boys can go out and win a fair share of their games and if the other teams take the same attitude that baseball is a sport and not a life and death matter, it will be much better for baseball in this section.

Prisoner: "Yes—I'm supposed to visit my dentist every six months."

Will Not Manage Morehead Club

Dan Parker, who spent his idle hours last summer looking after the fortunes of the Morehead team in the Kentucky State Baseball League, will not take over the reins this summer, according to a statement made to the News. Mr. Parker was reported as being ready and willing to again take up the burden of guiding the destinies of the local club for the balance of the season.

Morehead To Play At Ma'ville Today

Maysville will meet the Morehead State League team at Maysville on Thursday, July 4, according to the schedule of the Kentucky State League. This is the last regular scheduled game of the first half of the season, although there are still several games to be played that have been postponed.

The game July 4 will be interesting particularly from the fact that the team that loses will take the cellar position, as Maysville and Morehead are at present tied up in the standings.

Jack Hejwing, Jr., was asked to write an essay on New York City. His teacher was surprised to read the statement: "The people of New York are very stupid."
"Why, Jack," she asked, "where do you get that idea?"
"It says in my geography," Jack replied, "that the population is very dense."

THE MOVEMENT IS BACK TO THE FARM

Two recent surveys cast new light on the current status of agriculture. There has been a small but encouraging rise in the value of American farms. Between March, 1934, and March, 1935, values rose in 39 states, declined in but five and remained unchanged in the other 13.

All of this speak is well for the future of agriculture and a self-supporting citizenship. It is natural "Back to the Farm" is becoming a reality. Where a few years ago, the farm population was being depleted by an exodus to the cities, the trend has completely reversed and streams of people are going from urban to rural areas. A number of reasons lie behind this, such as industrial unemployment, the development of profitable specialty farming, and the desire of immigrants to leave the cities for the land.

TWO NATURALS

Mt. Sterling Takes League Lead By Dropping Tail Enders.

Hitting the toboggan for two more losses, Morehead slid gracefully into the cellar on the Kentucky State League standings, with no hopes of recuperating in time to get into the "hook" in the first half of the penultimate game. Brooksville, behind the superb hurling of Dodson took the opener of a double header here Sunday, the score being 2 to 1. Leslie who tossed ten up for Morehead, in the first game issued six hits which combined with two errors gave Brooksville the game. Dodson was responsible for five hits by Morehead.

Dale was a trifle wild in the second game allowing nine hits which were cashed in for five runs. Morehead took an early lead but it was wiped out in the third, inning. Dale has been pitching excellent ball for Morehead, but Sunday appeared to be an off day.

The local team is suffering from the loss of three of its star players when Clayton, Fraley and Carter took up a proposition in W. Va., which promised them better opportunity. The holes have been filled, but the team has not settled down since the upset of their regular lineup.

MT. STERLING TAKES TWO

The Mt. Sterling Chiefs routed Paris in a Kentucky State League doubleheader Sunday by scores of 4 to 0 and 19 to 3.

The Chiefs walloped four Merchant hurlers for twenty-five safeties during the two contests. B. Cox and L. Cox were the leading hitters, each getting five.

South	4	1	0	0
L. Cox	5	1	3	2
Miller	3	0	15	2
B. Cox	4	1	9	0
Dalton	4	1	9	0
Rhodes	3	1	1	3
Adams	4	0	3	0

Paris	4	0	1	2
Butler	4	1	4	0
Willis	4	0	8	1
Thompson	3	1	9	0
Morton	1	0	1	0
Miller	3	0	2	0
Violett	3	1	2	3
Cook	3	1	0	2
Terry	3	1	0	2
Hinkle	2	0	1	1

Flemingsburg took two games of a double-header from Maysville Sunday in what Maysville papers report as two poorly played contests. Flemingsburg won the opener 5 to 2 and carried off the honors in the final game 6 to 5. Both teams were said to have featured greatly changed lineups with home talent taking the place of the high-salaried semi-professional material.

When the Dawn of Understanding Came

By IRVIN S. COBB

THE caller undeniably large. When he walked he rippled and one had the feeling that should he sit down suddenly he'd splash. Dressed in the staple overalls of a husbandman, he wallowed into the office of a lawyer in the foothills of the Tennessee mountains. Having given his name and his postoffice address he stated that he desired to bring suit against a neighbor for ten thousand dollars' damages on account of libel.

"How did he libel you?" asked the lawyer.

"Well, sah," stated the aggrieved party, "he up and called me a Mappotamus—that's what he done, cunnars his picture!"

"Was a girl on two years ago?"

"That very best day,"

"Indeed," said the lawyer; "then why did you wait nearly two years to begin taking steps to bring suit against him?"

"Well, sah," stated the prospective plaintiff, "until that there Ringling Brothers' circus showed yistidday in Knoxville an' I went down fur to see it I'd thought, all the time, that he was payin' me a compliment."

Do dogs make faces?

"Certainly not," says Shirley Temple.

"Why should they?" asked Joel McCrea, who plays Shirley's father in "Our Little Girl." Shirley's one Fox Film picture, coming next Saturday at 11 p. m.; Sunday at 2:00 and 8:30 p. m.; Monday at 7:30 p. m. to 11 p. m.; Monday at 7:00 p. m. to the Dixie Theatre in Olive Hill.

The controversy arose when Lyle Talbot, who is also in the Fox picture, claimed that Shirley's "scottie" made faces at him. "The actor tried to prove his case by telling them that a great Scotch veterinary proved that animals especially dogs really make faces all of the time."

"Now look," said Talbot, "that dog wants something to eat. The look in his eyes tells me that he is hungry. Shirley laughed and replied, "I am funny, only ten minutes ago I gave him a can of dog food." Talbot intends to write to the famous doctor for additional information on "animal face making."

Edward Butcher produced and John Robertson directed "Our Little Girl," in which Shirley also sings.

COLLEGE

An entirely new approach to the drama of theatre business is provided in a highly entertaining manner by RKO Radio's "Hooray for Love" with Ann Sothern and Gene Raymond.

The plot relates to a Broadway musical show with novel story treatment. It is particularly pleasing to note that the musical revue is presented as it normally would be, on a grand scale, with fantastic camera angles and trick photography being avoided.

A lot of credit is due Sothern and Raymond for the tasteful and appealing handling of their romantic scenes. They are given strong support by Thurston Hall, Lionel Stander, Georgia Caine, Pert Kelton, Walter, and Etienne Girardot.

Reaching supreme heights in characterization and in strength of emotional appeal, "The Informer" coming to the College Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday ranks as one of the most powerful dramas ever brought to the screen.

Superbly acted by a brilliant cast the picture under the direction of John Ford brings to vivid life the characters and scenes of Liam O'Flaherty's novel. In the role of the informer, Victor McLaglen reaches even greater heights than those to which he attained with his universally praised performance in "The Lost Patrol."

COZY

When Nat Pendleton, the one-time wrestler who plays comedy screen characters with strong backs and weak minds, recently announced his willingness to go to the mat with any wrestler in Los Angeles, and called in his friend and trainer, Galen Gough, he little realized the service he was doing that Irishman.

For no sooner had the 240-pound Gough arrived at the Metro-Goldwyn Mayer studios where Pendleton is under contract, than Director Raoul Walsh took one look at his frame and physiognomy and said, "You're what I want for a new picture."

Five minutes later the necessary papers were signed and Gough, the wrestling mentor, became a gangster stooge for Pendleton who plays the chief gunman in "Baby Face Harrington." The new M G M comedy, featuring Una Merkel and Charles Butterworth, opens July 3 and 4 at the Cozy Theatre.

During the pauses between scene making puppets and protege would go to a corner of the set and play such games as lifting automobiles, making pretzels of iron light brackets, and tying each other in knots.

To amuse the company Gough once allowed them to bend a solid iron bar, one inch thick, over his lower molars. A professional strong man, he is now considering losing weight and submitting to facial surgery in order to play romantic roles on the screen.

"I'll do anything you do," he remarked to Pendleton.
