GOVERNOR WILLSON FOR HONESTY IN MANUFACTURE

Deplores the Act of the Alow in Lynchburg. How Has Before it a Bill For Pure Malt Whisky.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 18. "I am very sorry that Hill was lynched, although he deserved to be punished as he was if, as you say, he confessed that he was guilty of the crime with which he was accused, but he should not have been lynched," said Governor Willson today.

His. McManey's Experience.

John McManey, Prichett, Miss., writes: "I was confined to my bed for three months with kidney and bladder trouble, and was treated by two physicians but failed to get relief. No human tongue can tell how I suffered and had given me hope of ever getting well until I began taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. After taking two bottles, I felt like a new man, and had to my doctor to tell me that my bladder was cured."

Mrs. Joseph Murphy

The number of people who suffer from stomach trouble is being reduced. Often, too, it is the strongest and most robust who suffer as a result of indigestion. Robert Murphy, 1728 W. Market St., Indianapolis, Ind., was so afflicted and for years tried everything, but no relief could until he took Dr. Cassady's Compound, which also cures indigestion, indigestion and all stomach troubles.

It is easily prepared by a woman, and if you want to try it before buying send your address for a free sample bottle to: Penon Syrup Co., 119 Caldwell Block, Monticello, Ill. It is sold by N. M. Higgins in Olive Hill, Ky.

Langley's Bill.

Representative Langley, of the Death District, is preparing a bill designed to prevent the extermination of fish. The bill is being extensively discussed and the Death District member believes it should be put to a vote.

Dangerous Diseases

Do not pretend to know a thing that I do not know. "When I don't know a thing, I say at once, 'I don't know it.'" "A very good course," said Dr. Cassady, "but how exceedingly inhuman your conversation must be, if you don't know it."

Mrs. Feebee of Tennessee.

The stomach is such an easy organ to get out of order. One is troubled with it in the form of indigestion, or other heartburn, flatulency, etc. Mrs. Feebee of Cumberland Furnace, Tenn., suffered for seventeen years from sour stomach. Naturally she tried "everything," and she says nothing ever benefited her until she took Dr. Cassady's Syrup Pepsin, and that cured her.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out, and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are cured by Catarrh. Itching is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We are authorized to announce
A. M. JOHNSON
candidate for Justice of the Peace of Olive Hill Magisterial District No. 3, subject to the action of the Republican party.

We are authorized to announce
JOHN CLUTTER
a candidate for Justice of the Peace of Olive Hill Magisterial District No. 3, subject to the action of the Republican party.

We are authorized to announce
of Olive Hill, a candidate for Justice of the Peace of Magisterial District No. 3, subject to the action of the Republican party.

As we see it the Republican voters of Carter county have little kick coming against the nominees of their party for the various county offices. They are rather to be complimented on their selection of good men, with due regard for the several equally good men who went down in defeat, for among them are some who are heroes to our county.

If the nominees of both parties at the election next year will leave asleep the old "worm to a fizzle" "divided county" contention and all join hands toward putting in office the best material regardless of such "schemes" it will be commendable. In union there is strength. All for a pull in the same right direction. The first to try to open the old score, mark him as no friend to the cast or west but a perpetual irritation bubble.

Though it is a fact that the recent county primary election was a mark of difference in the one just past and several previous ones, as all went off quietly as was expected—really with more quietude. There are black sheep in all things as well as in all families, but if it is known that any violated their oath by the use of liquor as influence in the primary—or any other thing—they should not only be deposed of their nomination but brought to the understanding of the meaning of an obligation and exacted legal punishment.

THE HARGIS TRIAL

Monday morning the selection of the twelve jurors to try Beech Hargis for the murder of his father was completed and were sworn. All the jurors are farmers. James P. Brophy, an eye-witness and clerk in the Hargis store at the time of the killing, was the first witness to testify. He testified that Judge Hargis scuffled with Beech after three shots had been fired and that the last two shots were fired while both were lying on the floor.

Beech Hargis testified at the afternoon session of the court and recited concerning the killing of his father. The boy said he was twenty-two years of age and that he was drinking on the day of the killing. He said his father had mistreated him for years and often struck and beat him, and on several occasions attempted to shoot him.

The trial resumed Tuesday morning with the introduction of further testimony by the prosecution. A. F. Lyon, the first witness called at the morning session, who was clerk in the Hargis store, testified that being in an adjoining room, he did not see the shooting. The prosecution rested at eleven o'clock to begin at the afternoon session.

Mothers should be grateful to know of a remedy for their own stomach, bowel and liver troubles as well as for those of their children. Mrs. Alice Northup, of Quincy, Ill., for trying many methods is free to admit that the best one is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which she uses herself and gives to her family. She believes no household should be without it.

This remedy is absolutely guaranteed to do what is claimed, and if you want to try it before buying, send your address for a free sample bottle to Pepsin Co., 119 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill. It is sold by N. M. Hudgens at 5c, and $1 a bottle.

First Sanitary Laws.

Laws regulating eating, drinking and dressing are almost as old as history itself. Nothing like excesses can be washed in the matter, but it is safe to say that it was in Egypt, as far back as 2000 B. C., that the first practical sanitary statutes were passed. Hence the Romans only first appeared in the celebrated "twelve tables." In modern times Charlemagne was the pioneer in sanitary legislation.

Bloodhounds in War.

Although because of bloodhounds for tracking criminals and sniffing out other ancient uses of these dogs seems to have died out. Bloodhounds were at one time often called upon to assist an army in the field. This forces with the rest of the part of Essex expressed the 17th century tact the time of Elizabeth, for instance, being accomplished by 800 dogs. In the Scottish and Scottish clan feuds and the wars between England and Scotland bloodhounds were regularly employed in tracking fugitive warriors, and both Wallace and Bruce were hunted in this manner. Wallace is said to have baffled his pursuers by killing a follower, and leaving the corpse for the hound to find while Bruce adopted the way that when wading some distance down a stream and ascending a tree which overhung the water.

A Strange Hairpin.

"This," said the gray bearded, leading his visitors through the flat, "is my famous collection of hairpins."
The hairpins, a hundred or more, filled a Louis Quinze cabinet. Some were of shell, some of silver, some even of gold.
"This is the strangest," said the bachelor; "this hollow glass one. See, there is a bird in it, a perfume. And here is a tiny hole, so that when the pin lies obliquely in the hair the perfume is emitted slowly in delicate drops."
"It is a Japanese hairpin," he concluded. "The geisha Isha Yokotama tea house gave it to me. I can still see her as she sat on her cushion playing the shamisen, while very slowly, in drops resembling tears, the perfume fell on her amber colored cheek."

Russian Education.

The "intelligentsia" of Russia, writes the Hon. Maurice Baring in "A Year in Russia," is primarily consisting composed of every one who can read or write. But the term is generally used to designate those members of the middle class who belong to the professional classes—doctors, professors, teachers and literary men. The average man in the majority of the Russian middle class is better educated than the average English man or woman of the same class.
They are saturated with the foreign language. They often speak two languages besides Russian, and they are conversant with modern thought in the various European countries so far as it is allowed to reach them. They are taught at school things which will be useful to them in a general education of knowledge. The average Russian boy knows more about English history than the average English boy, but knows less about English history than the average English boy. The average Russian of the middle class is saturated with John Stuart Mill, Ruskin, Macaulay, Carlyle, and Shakespeare, Milton and Shelley are read as Russian classics.

Medicine that is Medicine.

"I have suffered a good deal with malaria and stomach complaints, but I have now found a remedy that keeps me well; and that remedy is Electric Bitters; a medicine that is a medicine for stomach and liver troubles, and for run down conditions," says W. C. Keisler, of Haddley Park, Electric Bitters purify and enrich the blood, tone up the nerves, and impart vigor and energy to the weak. Your money will be refunded if it fails to help you. 50c. at all druggists. 12

Deceptive Woman.

The opportunity of young people have of really getting to know one another are so lamentably small. The nicest woman seeks for such a husband attractive. Of course she does, and rightly so. And a man who sees her at two or three dances a week at Asot and at Haddley does not see her as she really is. Every woman before marriage is as deceptive as a company prospectus. In the one case you go to a lottery, in the other to matrimony. The schoolboy who was asked the feminine of "sir" and replied "siren" had in him the elements of unconscious truth. A man who is thinking of marrying a girl should see her in her own home about 11 in the morning when it has been raining for a week and she is ignorant that any eligible man is watching her. It is the cheap flannels that shrink in the wash.—London Truth.

Planting to Music.

In Batavia, according to the Manila Times, the labor of the rice planter is a rhythmic delight. The fields are not plowed or puddled, nor is there any transplanting, and the weeds and no degrowth are chopped down with hoes, then burned. The ground is hoed, and corn is planted in rows about six feet apart. When it is a foot high the hoe is planted, two or three kernels in a hole, about eight or ten inches apart. One man has a cutlar and plays quick rhythmic music, while a close succession of six or a dozen men with long, sharp-edged lamboos give rapid thrills in the ground, keeping time with the music, and doing a fantastic series of leaps backward with joyful shouts. Meanwhile two or three women or girls are able to do the work in the house made by one man and cover them up, keeping on a jolly, laughing comment all the time.

New Field Apologized.

While in a peculiar mood one day Stephen J. Field severely reprimanded Page Henry Metcalf for an offense of which the price was innocuous. But the member of the highest court in the land could not be persuaded that his course was not the correct one. Metcalf left no doubt, but he was a little outlandish and held his peace.

"Enter in the day Justice Field sent for Metcalf."

"Come to my house at 7 o'clock this evening," was all he said.

With mingled feelings of doubt and despair the page called at the Field residence at the time specified, was ushered into the jurist's library and told to hold the books which Mr. Field began without explanation or ceremony to read the sheet of paper.

When the veteran lawyer had put about fifteen volumes in Page Metcalf's arms he gruffly remarked:

"Henry, I'm very sorry for the way I treated you today. I realize that my conduct was unwarranted and I beg your pardon. Here are some choice books. Keep them up a nucleus for your library. Keep them, young man, and keep your temper, too, whatever you do. Good night!"

Zimmerman's Band.

OLIVE HILL, KY., enroute to Beartown, Nov. 8, 1908.

In company with my wife, Dovie Ramey and Bro. Chesa Armstrong, we got to Enterprise on time. Got off the train into a two-horse wagon; had a ten-mile ride over the beautiful roads of Carter and Elliott counties, landing at C. D. Mauk's in time for supper. (If you want a good, square meal stop at C. D. Mauk's). From there I went to the schoolhouse, where we met a large, anxious crowd—not so anxious for the truth; but to see what the four hollow cranks looked like. So we gave them the straight gospel. They rocked the house, but we did not let up. We preached and prayed. God put them under conviction. They ran to the altar and got saved. Strong men got saved and then acknowledged their wrongs. One said: "When these folks came to Beartown I was in favor of running them off. I thought they'd starved out of Olive Hill and had come here for something to eat, but, thank God, I got saved."

Quite a number were saved and sanctified. Prayed all night with one man. You shall see the results from the letters that will follow. When we went there we found just three women that would pray and no men at all. Yours,

J. P. ZIMMERMAN & BAND.

THE PRESIDENT GROWS LIENT

Executive Willing Innocent Soldiers Shall Be Reinstated.

PROVIDED THEY TELL TRUTH

In Special Message to Congress Dealing With Brownville Affair, the President Concludes Punishment of That Portion of Colored Troops Not Actively Concerned in Shooting Has Been Sufficient—Recommends That All Who Give to the War Department Proper Evidence of Contrition Be Taken Back.

Washington, Dec. 15.—The Brownville affair consumed nearly the entire session of the senate Monday. Senator Foraker obtained the floor early in the day and read letters from a former soldier of the Twenty-fifth regiment falling of the procedure of government detectives in attempts to get a confession from him. Mr. Foraker introduced an amendment to his original bill for the re-instatement of these soldiers providing that a commission of three retired army officers be created to determine whether discharged soldiers are innocent of complicity in the shooting up of Brownville as a prerequisite to their re-enlistment. Instead of leaving that duty with the president as provided in the Warner bill.

President's Special Message.
The president's message, giving the results of the war department's investigation of the Brownville affair, was read, and Mr. Foraker again took the floor to comment upon the president in transmitting the report of the war department the president said: "This report enables us to fix with tolerable definiteness as to those who did the shooting, but who took the lead in the unprovoked shooting of private citizens at Brownville. It establishes clearly the fact that the colored soldiers did the shooting; but upon this point further record was unnecessary, as the fact that the colored soldiers did the shooting has already been established beyond all possibility of doubt. The investigation has not gone far enough to enable us to determine all the facts, but we will proceed to make such sufficient accurate certain facts of enough importance to make it advisable that I place this report before you. It appears that almost all the members of Company B must have been actively concerned in the shooting, either to the extent of being participants or to the extent of virtually encouraging those who were participants. As to Companies C and D, there can be no question that practically every man in them must have had knowledge that the shooting was done by some of the soldiers of B troop, and possibly by one or two others in one of the other troops. This conclusion is supported by a grave offense, which was greatly aggravated by their testifying before the senate committee that they were ignorant of what had happened. Nevertheless, it is to be said in partial extenuation that they were probably covered by threats, made by the more desperate of the men who had generally been engaged in the shooting, as to what would happen to any man who failed to protect the wrongdoers. Moreover, there had been circumstances tending to show that these men were encouraged by outsiders to persist in their course of concealment and denial of facts, and that the sergeant of the men, who after the shooting shielded the perpetrators of the wrong by refusing to tell the truth about them, was a man who was in part due to the unwise and improper attitude of others, and that some measure of allowance should be made for the indiscretion. In other words, I believe we can afford to re-instate any of these men who give truly and fully what has happened, give all the aid they can to detect the men who have perpetrated the crime, and those who are really guilty, and those that themselves had no guilty knowledge beforehand and were in no way incited in the affair, may be reinstated if they can be shown to have had knowledge of the facts, and refusing to divulge it. Under the circumstances, and in view of the length of time they have been out of the service and the aid they have brought that would have accrued to them by conforming to long-time service, we can afford to treat the men who meet the requirements of the law, and having been sufficiently punished by the consequences they brought upon themselves when they rendered necessary the exercise of disciplinary power. I recommend that a law be passed allowing the secretary of war, within a fixed period of time, say a year, to re-instate any of these soldiers when he after careful examination finds to have been innocent and whom he finds to have done all in his power to help to catch the guilty."

Meanwhile the investigation will be continued. The results have made it obvious that only by carrying on the investigation at the war department has the actuality carried it to the point of the slightest change of bringing the offenders to justice or of separating out the innocent, but less guilty from these whose guilt was dubious.

A Good Ending.

Bright Prospects.
We don't all look at questions of ethics in the same way. A young enamored of a grey girl, but told the mother that he was not rich enough to marry her. The mother laughed and said: "Why not? Not rich enough in the land of milk and honey? Why with so much pluck a thief as my daughter you will be a millionaire in a twelve-month."—London Chronicle.

NEWS OF KENTUCKY

Tersley Told Information Concerning Matters of Current Interest to Kentuckians.

THE STATE NEWS IN A NUTSHELL

Here Are Found Accurately Detailed the Happenings of the Largest Import Which Are Attracting Attention Throughout Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 15.—The Union Tobacco society, representing tobacco growers in Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, Tennessee and Wisconsin, with estimated assets of $30,000,000, was organized here. The purpose of the organization was said to be to protect the tobacco growers from a minimum price and the consumer from a maximum scale. The interests of the growers in the states named will be pooled and the tobacco sold through a board of directors. The following associations joined the new society: The Kentucky Tobacco growers, Henderson, Ky.; Stenning District association, Bowling Green, Ky.; District association, Green Hills Tobacco association, The Kentucky Tobacco growers, Henderson, Ky.; Secretary, J. P. Doas, Greenville, Ky. Another conference will be held on Jan. 23, when officers will be elected and a definite policy of procedure adopted. Permanent headquarters were maintained in Louisville.

NEW SCHOOL FOR NEGROES

Ambitious Project is Now on Foot in Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 15.—Options are said to have been secured on tract of land near Oxford, in Jefferson county, about four miles from Louisville, for the purpose of establishing a colored school similar to those at Turkege and Hampton. According to reports the tract has been given on 200 acres belonging to William Moreman and on 200 acres in the city of Louisville. The new college will take the place of Berea college as a school for negro students. The decision of the supreme court upholding the state law prohibiting the co-education of white and black, made it necessary to provide separately for the colored branch of Berea.

The trustees of Berea have accepted $200,000 from the first operation of the institution and appropriated the income from it for the benefit of the colored people. An adjustment fund of $400,000 is needed to carry on the work of this Andrew Carnegie has pledged $200,000, and other pledges amounting to $100,000. Mrs. Russell Safe, it is said is one who will contribute. One-half of the $400,000 is to be used for a perpetual endowment. The other half will be invested in lands, buildings and equipment.

STATEMENTS PADDED

More Revelations Come Out During Trial of Banker.

Owensboro, Ky., Dec. 15.—More revelations were developed at Owensboro in the trial of James H. Parrish, president of the Owensboro savings bank & trust company, charged with receiving deposits when the institution was insolvent.

Joseph Cooty, a former bookkeeper in the bank, testified concerning the padding of the quarterly statements, which are required by law to be published.

According to Cooty's testimony, two entries which helped to swell the cash on hand shortly before the failure of 1908, statement were $15,000 worth of currency in transit from the American National bank of Louisville, and $10,000 worth of checks payable to the bank. On January 2, the fourteen thousand was marked off with the notation: "Currency did not arrive." However this amount was used to swell the "cash on hand" in the quarterly statement.

Seven other similar transactions were related by the witness. However T. A. Pedler, was on the stand, when court adjourned for the day.

CRUEL WAYSIDE MURDER

Kentucky Schoolgirl Accaulted on Highway Near Home.

Columbia, Ky., Dec. 15.—Near Russell Springs in Russell county, Mattie Williams, aged thirteen, daughter of Jogen Williams, was murdered while returning home from school. The school building is located a mile and a half from the Wainne home and the girl failed to return at the usual time. Her parents searched a long time for her. They found her body in a woods. She had been struck on the head with a club, and her body dragged about 150 yards from the road into a thick undergrowth.

The Deadlock Continues.
Christiansburg, Va., Dec. 15.—The joint convention of the coal operators and organized miners of the Kanawha field, failed to reach an agreement in the matter of the new contract for a wage scale that would pay them on a competitive basis with employers of non-union mines, after 48 days of discussion. The miners are now close, leaving many unemployed miners.

LATONIA INTERESTED

Big Racing Association Took Keen Note of Court Decision.

Cincinnati, Dec. 15.—The decision of the Kentucky Court of Appeals to the effect that betting on horse races is not gaming within the meaning of the Kentucky statute against such action was of interest to Latonia track people, not alone because of the fact the case went up from that track, but also because it seemed to have an indirect bearing on the content involving the life of the famous race course. The Latonia management sought an injunction against the state racing commission which had forbidden the installation of regularly accredited bookmakers at the various meetings this year, the case being still in the Kenton county court awaiting hearing. One of the contentions of the Latonia Jockey club was that the commission had authority to fix dates but could go no further so long as no law was broken, bookmaking being declared to be not contrary to the law of Kentucky. By the McDevitt-Thomas case, just decided, this contention seems to be sustained.

MUSIC LESSONS NEEDED

Our Sailors Fall Down on National Anthem in Foreign Ports.

Washington, Dec. 15.—Letters which have reached Washington from officers on the United States fleet indicate a serious lack of knowledge of anything approaching a national anthem. In most places, where the fleet was received with such cordiality, the sailors were prompt and vigorous in the delivery of an appropriate air and such an incident was usually followed by an attempt to recite the "Star Spangled Banner," with the result, as one correspondent has described it, that the singers were rarely able to proceed with the song for more than three lines. The repeated failures finally led to some combined effort to rehearse for the rendition of the "American Anthem," but without much success.

Created Emperor of Heaven.

Point, December 15.—An edict has been issued by the Chinese emperor Dowager Empress Tsu Hsi an, the posthumous title of Filial and Admirable Empress of the Heavens, equal to that of her husband, the late emperor. The edict orders that special ceremonies be carried out in connection with the conferring of this title. It says that the late emperor, who was a great dowager empress's fame became world wide; that her virtue was universal and her boundaries numerous. Earth and Heaven therefore recognized her as empress.

Calcutta in a Ferment.

Calcutta, Dec. 15.—Great excitement prevails here owing to developments in the agitation which has been going on for some time against the government of the most prominent Bengali leader in Eastern Bengal, Dutt, was arrested at Durgipool and conveyed to an unknown destination. Another prominent nationalist leader, Mitra, editor of the Sandesh has been arrested at Calcutta, while the editor of another native paper has been sentenced to transportation on the charge of sedition.

To Go Loaded For Big Game.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 15.—It is stated that for his African trip President Roosevelt has ordered from a firm here four different types of rifles. The first of these is known as the "model" rifle of 400 caliber and is the most powerful rifle made and is intended for the very largest type of African game, such as rhinoceros, hippopotamus and elephant. It is likely to be extremely useful when the President finds the looked for crocodile of the upper Nile.

A Lynching Was Feared.

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 15.—So intense was the feeling at Jessup, Ga., against Sheriff W. C. Williams of Wilkes county and his son, Archie, who killed Dr. Fleming Smith a druggist there, that the prisoners were hurried to Savannah for safe-keeping. Smith was shot five times and then beaten down with the butt of a shotgun, dying in the arms of his fiancée. A coroner's jury found that the sheriff and his son did "unlawfully and with malice aforethought" slay Smith.

The Body Identified.

Elliot City, Md., Dec. 15.—The body of the man known as A. H. Crawford, who committed suicide here as he was about to be placed in the hands of federal officers, has been identified as that of Oran Clyde Child, of St. Paul. Among his papers was found his appointment as "traveling manager and diplomatic agent of the people's guard of the Russian Republic Military Association."

Sheriff Frustrated Mob.

Danville, Ky., Dec. 15.—A mob of 100 men gathered at the jail for the purpose of lynching Elder Hill, but the officers hurriedly removed the aged man to Monticello shortly before the mob arrived. Hill is charged with assaulting and murdering Nannie Womack, a girl who had been a student at the school. The mob beat down the jail doors in its search for the prisoner.

Macon City, Dec. 15.—Rodolfo Mason, recorded the most famous Mexican bull-fighter ever seen in a ring in this country, was fatally injured in a fight with a bull in city of Fresno, Calif. He was caught by the fifth bull of the hope of the actual penetrating the bull's side.
