Congress. We are gratified at the deliberate, step-by step progress, which Congress is making towards the great question of the session-the settlement of Mr. Polk's quarrel with Mexico. It is a question of vast consequen ces, involving as it does, the character of the nation-its finances-the future relation of the States to each other-the fate of Mexico -and, we fear, to no small extent, the det tiny of our Republic itself. The incessar drain upon the coin of the country, for arm uses, (scarce any of it returning) without the nding influx from starving Europe correspo which has existed until recently, is already beginning to be felt by the commerce of the country, and must, if continued, exercise a very deleterious influence, by means of the vitable contraction of the circulation ed upon the banks by the withdrawal of basis. An additional loan of many the spec as of dollars has been asked. for th future prosecution of the war, the only available means of paying which, or indeed the intercast itself, suggested by the President, is the imposition of a duty on tea and coffee. This measure, if enacted, will be a practical enforcement of the revenue doctrines of the Tariff of '46, but little calculated to increa the popularity of this unpopular war. Mr. Polk is either blind to the indications of public sentiment, manifested in the primary public sentiment, mannested in the primary assemblages of the people, held recently, as well as in the election of the present House of Representatives, or else he hopes by grad ifying the American passion for "more Ter ritory," to sanctify the means employed fo its attainment. Mr. Polk's war ministe asks Congress for Ten Regiments of fresh troops, to fill "the places of those gallant men, who have lost their lives in battle, or by discase," (as Mr. Senator Allen says,) by disease," (as Mr. Senator Allen ays), while angged inna armed crusted for peace, with as much sang froid, as Napolocn in the zenith of his glory, would have asked engag for the same number of French troops, for Bill, the hindred purpose of conquering a "Con-Muinental system," of which France was to be a set of the same track the system target as the system of the system to be set. A victory over the nationality of Mexico would be a victory over the fundamental principles of our Government-over the Constitution of the Union, which is the written exposition of those principles, principles, the disregard of which, no State gency can excuse, because they are to be "immutable."

If such are the evils which threaten us as the possible, nay, probable consequences of a longer continuance of the existing war, a longere continuance of the existing war, Congress, we repeat it, cannot be too can-tious in its efforts to extricate the nation each step be fortified by principle and sound policy, and "the avalanche of the people" will close up the breach which.
