J. SPRICG CHAMBERS, EDITOR.

Maysville, January 28, 1848.

The editor of the Flag with his usual sagacity, argues from the fact that we were seen in company with the Hon. W. J. Graves, during his recent visit to this city, Graves, during ins recent visit to lins city, that we were arranging the nomination of a Whig candidate for Governor. He is as smart as a young Dector, who, in the absence of his instructor, having been called in to see a patient who had suddenly become worse,—attributed his relapse to having catalytical and the second of to see a patient who had suddenly become worse,—attributed his relapse to having eaten a horse, because he saw a saddle under he bed. The secret was, that the Old Doctor, who was a little quackish, had boasted to his pupil that he had astonished the family he bellight he can eatient he had hearby telling the same patient he had been ear ing oysters, which very surprising discrim-ination was the effect of having seen oyster shells concealed under the bed.

Now, Mr. Pike gives an account of an interesting interview he had with Colone Johnson, about the same time of Mr. Graves Johnson, about the same time of Mr. Graves visit to this place, and announces with the intention (questionable!) of complimenting him, that "mentally, he seems as capable now of administering the affairs of the Gen-eral or State Government, as though he were
