FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Fun and fellowship are on the schedule for Morehead State University's Homecoming '86 to be held Oct. 9-12.

"We are hoping for a large attendance at this year's festivities," said Lisa Browning of Owingsville, Alumni Association first vice president and Homecoming chairperson. "We tried to plan activities for a fun, relaxed weekend for everyone including time to visit with friends," she added.

"There is such a positive attitude on campus," Browning continued. "The Eagles have won four games and enrollment is up. There are signs that this Homecoming will be the best ever," she added.

"Nationally, the trend is toward more informal activities and indications are that this is the preference of our alumni as well," said Don Young, alumni relations director and Homecoming coordinator. "We hope our alums will return to campus to visit with their former classmates and professors and have an enjoyable time."

The 1986 Homecoming schedule offers more free time than in past years, according to Young, who is involved in the event for his 16th time.

Festivities begin on Thursday, Oct. 9, when the campus community will show its school spirit by wearing "gold and blue for MSU." The evening activities include a parade across campus to the site of the season's first pep rally. Beginning at 7:30 p.m., the Student Alumni Ambassadors will lead the procession around the residence halls ending at the parking lot behind the court house. A bonfire and spirit contests will conclude the evening's activities. In case of rain, the rally will move to Laughlin Multipurpose Room.

On Friday, Oct. 10, beginning at 6:30 p.m., the Alumni Association will sponsor a welcome reception at the Morehead Holiday Inn for all alumni and friends of the university.

Throughout the weekend, the "war years" football players will host ongoing reunion activities for members of the 1941, 1942, and 1946 teams.

Later in the evening, the Sensations from Lexington will play for the Blue/Gold Celebration in Adron Doran University Center's Crager Room. Sponsored by the Student Government Association, the dance is free to alumni, friends, students, and faculty and staff.

Saturday, Oct. 11, will begin with a continental breakfast and registration from 9 to 10:30 a.m. in the University Center. Reunions for the classes of 1936, 1946, 1956, 1966 and 1976 will meet also at that time. A Greek alumni reception will begin at 10:30 a.m. in the Crager Room.

Again this year, the Alumni Association will sponsor a tailgate party before the Homecoming football game. Members of the basketball team and student ambassadors will serve chili on the east veranda of the Academic-Athletic Center from noon to 1 p.m.

The Homecoming football game begins at 1:15 p.m., as the Eagles take on Austin Peay. The band will perform and coronation of the homecoming queen will be at halftime. The alumni band, with a larger number than last year expected to participate, will make a return visit.

Following the game, minority alumni, parents and friends will gather in the University Center's Gold Room to organize the Minority Affairs Lena Coleman Memorial Association. Additional information is available from Jerry Gore at (606) 783-2123.

The Alumni Association and Foundation will sponsor a post game bash and fish fry from 5 to 8 p.m. for active alumni and contributors only.

On Sunday, Oct. 12, the Alumni Association and Eagle Athletic Fund have scheduled an 18-hole golf scramble which is open to the public. A greens fee will be charged and prizes will be awarded. Participants may register at the Alumni Center in advance and at all events during the weekend.

Homecoming activities also include the MSU theatre students presentation of "The Thread That Runs So True," an adaptation of Jesse Stuart's book by the same name. Performances, beginning at 8 o'clock each evening, will be held in Button Auditorium Oct. 9-11. Tickets will be available at the door at $4 for adults, $2 for non-MSU students and children, and free to MSU students with valid I.D. cards. Additional information is available by calling the Theatre Box Office at (606) 783-2710.

"We're really looking forward to Homecoming this year," Browning said. "We've made some changes that we think will make those returning enjoy their visit to campus more than ever," she added.

Additional information is available from the Alumni Office at (606) 783-2080.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--As part of a concerted effort to expand its news offerings, WMKY-FM 90, public radio from Morehead State University, has added a 30-minute international news program entitled As It Happens: The American Edition. An Americanized version of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's As It Happens, the show will be heard on WMKY each weekday at 6:30 p.m.

"WMKY listeners are already familiar with the high quality programming produced by the CBC through listening to CBC's Sunday Morning program (Sundays at 9 a.m.)," said David Farmer, WMKY News and Public Affairs Director.

"I was sold on As It Happens: The American Edition after I heard a presentation in which host Dennis Trudeau outlined the CBC's plans to make the program more palatable for an American audience. We feel the program will provide WMKY listeners with a more diverse view of world events," he added.

As It Happens: The American Edition will contain important international stories and, at the suggestion of listeners, much of the strictly Canadian news will be edited or deleted. Hosted by noted journalists Dennis Trudeau and Kevin Marsh, the program also will offer the feature reports and in-depth analysis that are the earmarks of the series.

The addition of the CBC program follows the August revamping of WMKY's own daily news program, Newsroom 90. The local program launches the afternoon news block at 4:30 p.m. with local and regional news, sports, weather, area business reports and other features.

Following Newsroom 90 at 5 p.m., WMKY airs the nation's most popular evening newsmagazine, National Public Radio's All Things Considered. Ashland, Ky. native Noah Adams and his co-host Mara Liason relay the latest reports in national news. NPR's morning newsmagazine, Morning Edition also holds a place in WMKY's news lineup. The two-hour program, hosted by Louisville native Bob Edwards, airs each weekday at 8 a.m. Its weekend counterpart, Weekend Edition, airs at 8 a.m. on Saturdays.

More information on WMKY's programming or on how to become a WMKY supporter is available by calling (606) 783-2001.

MOREHEAD, KY.--A Morehead State University educator will lead a statewide study of teacher training and certification needs in special education.

Dr. Barbara Russell, assistant professor of education, will chair the committee established by the Kentucky Council on Teacher Education and Certification to look into the state's special education preparation and certification programs.

The committee is charged with developing, over the next two years, a 25-year plan to meet special education needs for the state in certification and teacher training.

The committee will include representatives from each Kentucky institution training special education teachers, Council members, regular classroom teachers as well as special education teachers, special education supervisors, other public school administrators and college/university faculty members in disciplines other than special education.

Dr. Russell, a member of the Council itself, has been at Morehead since 1983 and served the University as acting dean of the College of Professional Studies for the past year during a national search for a permanent dean. She holds a doctorate in educational administration from Arizona State University.

Oct. 3, 1986

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- Morehead State University Theatre's 1986-87 season will feature an autobiographical book turned play, a Pulitzer Prize-winning drama, an award-winning psychological drama and a romantic comedy.

"Diversity is the key to unlock any successful theatrical season, and our upcoming season has that key," said Dr. Travis Lockhart, MSU assistant professor of theatre and MSU Theatre coordinator.

The season will open Oct. 9 with Jesse Stuart's autobiographical book turned play, "The Thread That Runs So True." The performance, which is MSU's contribution to the 80th birthday celebration honoring the late Eastern Kentucky author, will be repeated Oct. 10 and 11 at 8 p.m. in Button Auditorium. Additional performances, sponsored by the Jesse Stuart Foundation, will be given at the Paramount Arts Center in Ashland Oct. 17, at 7:30 p.m. and Oct. 18, at 2 p.m.

Tickets are $10 and $7.50, and all seats are reserved. Additional information is available by calling the Center at (606)324-3175.

The season will continue with the Pulitzer Prize-winning drama, "Crimes of the Heart," on Nov. 18 - 22. The play is a warmhearted, imaginative and ultimately moving portrait of the relationship between three sisters in smalltown Mississippi. The performance will be at 8 p.m. in Kibbey Theatre.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Homecoming '86 at Morehead State University, Oct. 10-12, will be reunion time for members of the football team who played prior to and just after World War II.

Nearly 50 members of the 1941, 1942 and 1946 teams will get together for the first time in 40 years. "For us, it's a once in a lifetime thing," said former player Wayne Gibson in response to the reunion idea. Team members Tony Salvato and Cal Lyon were instrumental in organizing the get-together.

Those returning for the football reunion will attend Homecoming '86 activities which begin with a welcome reception at Morehead's Holiday Inn on Friday evening. From 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., the Alumni Association will sponsor this gathering to give alumni and friends an opportunity to renew friendships and learn about the weekend's activities.

Following the reception, the Sensations from Lexington will play from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. for the Blue/Gold Celebration in Adron Doran University Center's Crager Room. Sponsored by the Student Government Association, the dance is free to alumni, friends, students, and faculty and staff.

Saturday's activities will begin with a continental breakfast and registration from 9 to 10:30 a.m. in the University Center. Reunions for the classes of 1936, 1946, 1956, 1966 and 1976 will be held during that time. A Greek alumni reception is set at 10:30 a.m. in the Crager Room.

From noon to 1 p.m., the Alumni Association will sponsor a chili tailgate party on the east veranda of the Academic-Athletic Center. Members of the basketball team and Student Alumni Ambassadors will serve as hosts.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Obtaining an education at Morehead State University is often a family affair for members of Eastern Kentucky families.

Such is the case of the daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. Willie Shepherd of Royalton in Magoffin County. The sisters who attended MSU are: Daisy S. Holliday, Virginia S. Holliday, Oma S. Risner, Flora S. Rudd, Alene S. Allen, Alma S. Holliday, and Thelma S. Vanderpool (deceased).

Of the seven sisters attending, five received degrees. Thelma was seven hours short of completing when she became ill and Alma got married.

A recent family reunion provided the setting as the group remembered their earlier years and good times.

"Morehead State University has been good to our whole family," said Daisy. "It certainly helped change the culture in Magoffin County--in fact, in all Eastern Kentucky."

"That's true," added her brother-in-law, Paul Risner, a former MSU student. "If Morehead had not been where it is, many people from our area could not have continued their education."

"After I married, my husband moved to another state for employment, Alma explained. "I didn't complete my degree, however I did teach for two years on a temporary teaching certificate," she added.

"We have taught in about every school in the county," said Virginia who retired in 1982 after 38 years in the teaching profession.

"Some of those schools don't exist anymore," chimed in Flora, a 1964 graduate. She has completed 29 years of teaching and currently teaches at Salyer Elementary School.

"Do you remember some of the places we taught?" asked Daisy, who ended her 40 year teaching career in 1981. She was principal of Salyer Elementary School for 18 years.

"Let's see, there was Forks of Trace, Swamton, Royalton, Molly Branch and Buck," said Oma, Paul's wife. Other schools mentioned by the sisters included: John T. Arnette, Carver, Gun Creek, Sycamore, Millard Hensley, Half-Mountain, Long Creek and Tip Top.

"I remember a one room school where I taught had 60 students," said Oma. "Some of the first graders were 10 and 12 years old," added Oma, who retired at age 55 after 22 years of teaching.

"We all taught in one room schools at first and we always had 30 to 40 students, even in the first grade," Virginia said.

According to the sisters, most of their classes were taught at night or during the summer terms because they held full-time teaching positions.

"None of us really had the money to attend Morehead full-time, but we kept Hogback Ridge hot, going back and forth, taking night and summer classes," Daisy recalled.

"There was never enough time for studying; we'd take turns driving and asking each other questions on our way to Morehead to class," said Oma. "Sometimes we'd even pull over to the side of the road and look up the answers," she added.

"You all may have studied," said Alene. "But that's when I took my nap." She retired in 1985 after 30 years of teaching. Her husband, Darvin, is a 1962 graduate.

Continuing to make it a family affair, Alene, Oma and Virginia graduated from MSU in June 1961 with bachelor's degrees.

Altogether the sisters have taught for almost 200 years in their home county. "It would be hard to count the number of students we've had in those years," said Daisy. "And MSU gave us the opportunity to complete our education and become teachers.

"We also have to give credit to our parents," said Daisy. "Many of the other children in this area had to drop out of school and go to work on their parent's farms. But our parents always made sure that we had the time to go to school and complete our education," said the 1950 graduate.

"Things are a lot different in Magoffin County now than when we were young," said Oma, "and I give credit to MSU for making our lives better. I hope we've passed that along to some of the students we've had in school."

The sisters discussed the help and support the school afforded them. While they were in college from 1950 to 1964, MSU arranged its school terms to coincide with county school calendars. Extension courses were offered for those teachers who were working toward degrees and could not come to campus.

"While we were students, we enjoyed the friendly home-like atmosphere on the campus," said Daisy. "Additionally, the professors have always shown a personal interest in the students," she added.

"Morehead's location made it more accessible to older students who had families to consider while trying to further their education," said Virginia.

The Shepherd sisters have appreciated their college experiences but they are not the only ones in their family to enjoy the time at MSU. A sister-in-law, Sarah Watkins Shepherd, is a 1968 graduate. Having completed 29 years in education, she teaches at Salyer Elementary School. Nine grandchildren have also attended MSU and six have completed degrees.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University's Department of Agriculture and Natural Resources will conduct its first Appalachian Shepherd's Day Saturday, Oct. 11, from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Derrickson Agricultural Complex.

The program will feature a series of workshops related to the sheep industry on such topics as health, nutrition, economics, forage and flock selection. In addition to workshops, there will be several trade exhibits on high tensile fencing, feeds, minerals, supplies and equipment.

"The field day will be a profitable and enjoyable time for both the novice and experienced sheep producer," said Jim Akers, MSU sheep specialist. "We will deal with everything from sheep handling to no-till pasture renovation," he added.

MSU FarmHouse fraternity members will serve a smoked lamb luncheon.

Akers stressed that current participants in MSU's Sheep Industry Development Project and anyone interested in becoming involved in the University's attempt to re-establish the industry in Eastern Kentucky are encouraged to attend.

"Right now we are working with 38 farmers in a nine-county area with nearly 1,500 ewes, but we will soon be opening up our ewe-lease program for next year," Akers said.

"Potential participants could get an early start on their preparation through the field day and other programs upcoming," Akers added.

Additional information on the field day or the Sheep Industry Development project may be obtained from Akers by calling him at (606) 783-2664.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University's Department of Art will honor one of the University's own with a special exhibit and reception in the Alternative Gallery, Claypool-Young Art Building.

Photographs from a recent pictorial history of Eastern Kentucky by Dr. Stuart S. Sprague, professor of history, will be displayed in the gallery Oct. 14-30. From 3 to 5 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 14, the department will host a combination reception and autograph party for the author.

Gallery viewing hours are from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays.

From MSU's Alternative Gallery, the Sprague exhibit will move to the University of Kentucky's Appalachian Center in Lexington, where it will open Nov. 6.

Dr. Sprague's book, "Eastern Kentucky: A Pictorial History," is his second photographic history. His first was "Frankfort: A Pictorial History." Both were published by Donning Publishing Company, Norfolk, Va.

An Appalachian history scholar, Dr. Sprague has taught at MSU since 1968. He earned both his B.A. and M.A.T. degrees from Yale University and the doctorate from New York University.

SPECIAL TO THE MOREHEAD NEWS

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University's campus television station is back on the air this fall with expanded viewing hours and new programming.

MSU-TV, Channel 12, has added four hours of programming from National College Television (NCTV) to its other offerings, according to Autumn Grubb-Swetnam, coordinator.

Channel 12 operates Monday through Friday when University classes are in session during the fall and spring semesters and much of the programming is student-produced, she noted.

NCTV offerings follow the local programming and will include, in order of viewing:

Audiophilia, featuring popular performers in concert with musical styles ranging from Motown and folk classics to progressive music and rockabilly.

Adult Cartoons, featuring rarely-seen cartoons from the Museum of Cartoon Art spanning the turn-of-the-century to today's best animation.

Uncensored, featuring some of the best independently-produced documentaries.

The Golden Years of Television, featuring a sampling of the funniest early situation comedies, game shows and specials of the 1950s.

Campus America, featuring campus issues and trends as the only national news show dedicated to the student and college community.

Richard Brown's Screening Room, featuring in-depth interviews with filmmakers and a look at their latest works.

New Grooves with Meg Griffin, featuring music videos.

Care*Free Comiquickies, featuring brief routines from some of today's funniest young stand-up comedians.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Dr. Alban L. Wheeler, professor of sociology at Morehead State University, has been named MSU's director of undergraduate regional programs.

In announcing the appointment, MSU President A.D. Albright said:

"We have called upon Dr. Wheeler to use his considerable administrative talents in the organization and coordination of our new regional program of upper division level course offerings at two-year campuses."

Dr. Wheeler, who will continue to teach, will report to the president in his newly-established position.

Described as an expansion of the Appalachian Consortium, the program was launched this fall at Ashland, Maysville and Prestonsburg community colleges and Lees College at Jackson.

Dr. Wheeler, former dean of social sciences, has been at Morehead State as a faculty member and administrator since 1972.

"All of us involved in this new venture believe it provides a real service to Eastern Kentucky residents and I find it tremendously challenging," said Dr. Wheeler.

"We are working to identify the needs of those people with two years of college, but who cannot leave their home area to take additional work toward the four-year degree," he said. "The cooperation we've already had from the participating campuses has been most gratifying."

The new director earned B.A. and M.A. degrees from Mississippi College and his doctorate from Mississippi State University. He previously taught and served as acting dean of students at Wayland College, Plainview, Texas.

He has written several articles for various publications and is a member of numerous professional organizations, including the Southern Sociological Association and the Kentucky Academy of Science.

He and his wife, the former Sharon Louise Pepper, are the parents of one son, Darrell L. Wheeler.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Dr. Randall L. Wells, professor of education at Morehead State University and a Floyd County native, has been named to coordinate MSU's student recruitment and related activities.

The appointment was announced by MSU President A.D. Albright who described Dr. Wells as "an enthusiastic and experienced educator who understands student recruitment in Eastern Kentucky."

As MSU's coordinator of school relations, Dr. Wells is responsible to Dr. Albright primarily for oversight of the University's admissions activities in the 47 high schools and four two-year colleges in the University's 22-county service region. Included will be programs to involve local alumni and other MSU supporters in student recruitment.

In addition, he will monitor the professional staffing needs of local school districts and advise MSU's academic program planners.

Dr. Wells will remain a member of the MSU faculty where he has served since 1968. A two-time graduate of MSU, he holds a doctorate from Union Graduate School. Dr. Wells also is a graduate of Prestonsburg High School.

"This new assignment represents a tremendous challenge and I am pleased to have this opportunity to help our University and the people of my home region," Dr. Wells stated. "All of us are committed to MSU truly becoming Kentucky's university of the mountains."

Well-known in education circles, Dr. Wells has been a consultant to the Kentucky Department of Education and to the state Advisory Committee on Dropout Prevention.

A former supervisor with the state Department of Education, he also has been a Harrison County elementary school principal and band director at Rowan County High School.

He is a member of the Commonwealth Faculty and a certified trainer for the Beginning Teacher Internship Program. Dr. Wells is active in numerous professional organizations including Phi Delta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi and also wrote an inservice teacher training manual for the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity.

Dr. Wells, who is a charter member of the Floyd County Hall of Fame, is married to the former Sue Shackelford of Morehead, also an MSU faculty member. They are the parents of a daughter, Troy Lynn, who teaches at Haines City (Fla.) High School. He is the son of Mrs. Sam Wells of Prestonsburg.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University's Individual Events (IE) team opened its 1986-87 season with a third place sweepstakes win last weekend (Oct. 3-4) in competition at Trevecca Nazarene College, Nashville, Tenn.

Competing against 12 schools, MSU's IE team qualified in nine events for the national competition to be held this spring, according to Gene Alesandrini, MSU instructor in speech and forensics coach.

"Our sweepstakes score of 127 points and our qualifying record are especially gratifying as we traveled with about half our team," said Alesandrini. "Most of the team were first year novices," he added. Assisting Alesandrini this year is Morehead graduate student Donna Totich.

Leading the team in compiling the sweepstakes points was Winchester senior Lisa Shemwell, who placed first in Informative Speaking, third in Persuasion and Extemporaneous Speaking, and fifth in After Dinner Speaking.

Ashcamp freshman Lori Hawkins in her first collegiate competition finaled in all three of her events, finishing second in Prose, third in Poetry, and fifth in Dramatic Duo teamed with Elkhorn City freshman Darin Blackburn.

Other wins included:

Vonda Ramey, Morehead senior, fifth place in Extemporaneous, and teaming with Morehead sophomore John Burchett, fourth in Dramatic Duo;

Also adding to the sweepstakes points was Elkhorn City freshman Greg Sanders by placing in Extemporaneous and Impromptu Speaking.

Morehead State's IE team, currently ranked ninth in the nation by the National Forensics Association, will compete next at Miami University of Ohio in a midwest tournament, scheduled Oct. 24-25.

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- City and county officials and state legislators from throughout Eastern Kentucky are being invited to Morehead State University on Saturday, Nov. 1, for Local Government Day.

The program begins at 10:30 a.m. in Breckinridge Auditorium with a workshop on liability insurance for public officials. Co-sponsored by the Kentucky Municipal League and the Kentucky Association of Counties, the workshop will feature a panel discussion involving three persons representing city and county government and the state legislature.

Participating will be State Rep. Marshall Long of Shelbyville, chairman of a House subcommittee concerned with liability insurance for municipal officials; Shelbyville Mayor Neil Hackworth; and Nelson County Judge-Executive Mike Abell, president of the Kentucky Association of Counties.

Those attending the workshop will be guests at a noon luncheon hosted by MSU President A. D. Albright. Later, they will move to Jayne Stadium for the Morehead State-Murray State football game at 1:30 p.m.

"We are pleased to work with the Kentucky Association of Counties and the Kentucky Municipal League in providing a timely program on an important public issue," said Dr. Albright. "And we are looking forward to sharing our hospitality with the elected leadership of Eastern Kentucky."

Dr. Albright added:

"We are hopeful that Local Government Day will be seen as another example of our continuing effort to bring this institution closer to the people we serve as Kentucky's university of the mountains. It is important that local officials be more aware of the University's teaching, research and public service activities which impact their communities."

The MSU chief executive expressed appreciation for the assistance of Fred Creasey, executive director of KACO, and Ed Griffin, executive director of the KML, in developing plans for MSU's first Local Government Day.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University's Department of Music and O.P.U.S., MSU student keyboard club, will sponsor an FX-20 Electone concert on Monday, Oct. 20, at 11:30 a.m. in Duncan Recital Hall.

This concert is presented in conjunction with the Kentucky Music Teachers State Convention which also will be held on the campus during this same time.

Guest artist for the concert will be Phillip Keveren, director of Electone Instruction at Yamaha International, Buena Park, Calif. Keveren, a versatile keyboard artist and composer, is at home in both the classical and jazz worlds. He has been internationally recognized since he represented the United States at the International Grand Prix in Japan in 1979 and 1980.

The concert is free and open to the public.

Keveren composed and arranged special music for the world champion figure skaters, Tai Babilonia and Randy Gardner. He also played keyboards for that recording. In May of 1984, Keveren introduced the FX-1 Electone keyboard at Carnegie Hall, performing with Skitch Henderson and the New York Pops orchestra.

A graduate of California State University, Northridge, he is also a graduate student in composition at the University of Southern California and creates textbooks and materials for the Electone Course, a music curriculum for electronic keyboard players, published by Yamaha International.

ROYAL SMILES FOR HOMECOMING AT MSU

Smiles were the order of the day for Morehead State University's 1986 Homecoming Queen and her court as they posed for photographers during half-time at Jayne Stadium on Saturday, Oct. 11. The court included, from left, Tracy Morella of Glen Gardner, N.J., Lesli Lee of Mt. Sterling, Julie Jones of Cynthiana, Lori Jewett of Lancaster, Ohio, Linda Chouinard of Maysville, Queen Jeanie Large of Ironton, Ohio, Dana Dotson of Frankfort, Lisa Adkins of Sandy Hook, Angie McClure of Chesapeake, Ohio, Geri Lynn Turner of West Liberty and Marilyn Jones of Sharpsburg. Approximately 1,200 MSU alumni were among the estimated crowd of 8,000 attending the Homecoming football game. The Eagles emerged victorious over Austin Peay's Governors to go 5 and 0 for the season.

MSU HOMECOMING '86: A Picture Story

Sunny skies, a nationally-ranked football team and the opportunity to relive those memorable campus days with the friends who shared them brought Morehead State University alumni back to the campus literally by the hundreds last weekend.

It was Homecoming '86 and "come home they did," according to Don Young, MSU alumni relations director. Young estimated nearly 1,200 former students participated in the various Alumni Association-sponsored activities during the weekend.

"They came bringing their Eagle pride from all over Kentucky and other states including Florida and Maryland," Young said.

Beginning with a welcoming reception Friday at the Holiday Inn, alumni crowded around to talk excitedly with one another about the "good old days", former teachers and today's big news--the Eagles ranked in the top 10 of Division IAA.

Events throughout the weekend included class reunions, a reunion for members of the "war years" football teams, special Greek-sponsored activities and a reception for minority alumni. Following the football game, a Postgame Bash and Fish Fry was co-sponsored by the Association and the MSU Foundation. Rounding out the weekend was a golf scramble on Sunday.

For the students, the excitement included a pep rally and bonfire, various spirit contests, the secrecy surrounding the homecoming queen title winner and a Blue and Gold Celebration Dance.

Winning the banner/pyramid contest with a banner calling for the Eagles to "impeach" Austin Peay's Governors was Chi Omega Sorority. Delta Zeta Sorority and Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity were second and third place winners, respectively.

Jeanie Large of Ironton, Ohio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Large, was crowned Homecoming Queen 1986 by MSU President A.D. Albright during half-time ceremonies and was presented roses on behalf of the Alumni Association by its president, William Phelps. She also received a silver bowl from Student Government Association President Carlos Cassady on behalf of SGA. Large is an elementary education major, a varsity cheerleader and member of Chi Omega Sorority.

- 1--Sparking enthusiasm for Homecoming '86, MSU students staged a pep rally and bonfire with various spirit contests Thursday night. The students flocked to the rally to lend support to the Eagles.
- 2--It was a time for reminiscing as Carter County natives, from left, Charles McClave of Charleston, W.Va., Bud Raybourn of Flatwoods and Henry Shufflebarger of Newport News, Va., got together at Friday's welcoming reception.
- 3--Gesturing emphatically to emphasize his support for the Eagles is former MSU football and basketball coach Ellis Johnson, who was among the returnees. Head football coach Bill Baldrige, right, beams with pride.
- 4--More than 8,000 excited Eagle fans, who packed Jayne Stadium for the game against the Austin Peay Governors, see quarterback Adrian Breen run the ball. The Eagles, now 5 and 0, won 27 to 10.
- 5--President A.D. Albright crowns MSU's 1986 Homecoming Queen Jeanie Large, an Ironton, Ohio, elementary education major.
- 6--Smiles were the order of the day for the queen and her court as they posed for official photographs. The court included, from left, Tracy Morella of Glen Gardner, N.J., Lesli Lee of Mt. Sterling, Julie Jones of Cynthiana, Lori Jewett of Lancaster, Ohio, Linda Chouinard of Maysville, Queen Jeanie Large, Dana Dotson of Frankfort, Lisa Adkins of Sandy Hook, Angie McClure of Chesapeake, Ohio, Geri Lynn Turner of West Liberty and Marilyn Jones of Sharpsburg. Each finalist received a charm from the Alumni Association.
- 7--Exhilarated by the win, alums celebrated and visited at the Postgame Bash and Fish Fry. You can bet they weren't swapping fish tales about the Eagles being 5 and 0.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Tenor Perry Smith, accompanied by Michael Fogler, will appear in a guest recital at Morehead State University Thursday, Oct. 16, at 8:15 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall.

The program, sponsored by MSU's Department of Music, is free and open to the public.

Smith, vocal instructor and choral director at Eastern Kentucky University, frequently performs in recitals, operatic productions and oratorios.

He has sung with the Indianapolis Opera Company and the Richmond Opera, appearing as Adolfo in "Traviata," Rudolfo in "La Boheme," Pinkerton in "Madame Butterfly," and Count Almavia in "Barber of Seville."

Fogler, who will accompany Smith on guitar and lute, has been performing as a soloist and in chamber ensemble concerts for a decade. In addition to his studies at the University of North Carolina and Florida State University, he also has participated in festivals and summer programs at Aspen, at the North Carolina School of the Arts and the Academia Chigiana in Siena, Italy.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University has scheduled five special times for prospective students to get acquainted with its campus during the 1986-87 school year.

The first "Open House" will be held on Saturday, Oct. 18. Beginning with registration at 9 a.m. in the Adron Doran University Center, the day's activities will provide interested students an insight into campus life and the opportunity to discuss programs of study with faculty members and university administrators. Specific details on financial aid, housing and student services will be provided. The four-hour informational sessions will include a tour of the campus.

"We are inviting anyone who has indicated an interest in visiting the campus to attend one of the sessions," said Bruce Heasley, associate director of admissions. "We are proud of our campus and our educational programs. We want to share the information with as many people as possible," he added.

Additional "Open House" dates, also scheduled for Saturdays, are Nov. 1, Nov. 8, Feb. 28 and Mar. 28.

Anyone interested in attending one of the sessions may call the Admissions Office toll-free in Kentucky, 1-800-262-7474; from other states, 1-800-354-2090.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University's Phi Kappa Phi honor society will hold its "Tribute to Excellence" scholarship banquet at 6 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 23, in the Red Room of Adron Doran University Center.

Dr. Marc Glasser, professor of English and 1986 Distinguished Faculty Award recipient, will be the guest speaker.

Cash scholarships will be awarded to six MSU sophomores who have shown academic ability. They include Eric Blair of Morehead, Judith Carr of Flat Gap, Kyle Crager of Morehead, Larry Early of Morehead, Joyce Planck of Morehead, and Julie Ann Smith of Waverly, Ohio.

"These students were recognized as outstanding freshmen at the spring banquet," said Margaret Patton, associate professor of sociology and chapter advisor. "They have maintained a high grade point average and completed the interview process."

Additional information and reservations are available from Patton at (606) 783-2656.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Twenty-five high school bands will compete in Morehead State University's first Blue and Gold Tournament of Champions High School Marching Bands Contest Saturday, Oct. 18.

Sanctioned by the Kentucky Music Educators Association, the invitational competition will be held at Jayne Stadium beginning at 1 p.m. with the Fairview High School Band of Ashland. The bands will perform in 15 minute intervals in the following order, West Carter, Fleming County, Raceland, Elkhorn City, Moore, Tates Creek, Green, South Point, Green County, Prestonsburg, Rowan County, Huntington, Sheldon Clark, Boyd County, East Carter, Bryan Station, Highlands, Conner, Boone County, Henry Clay, Larue County, Oldham County, Male and Simon Kenton.

Award ceremonies are slated for 7:45 p.m., according to Richard B. Miles, MSU director of bands. Fifty-two awards will be presented, including the MSU Regents Award for the top scoring Eastern Kentucky band, the Governor's Award for the highest scoring Kentucky band, and the President's Award honoring the competition's grand champion.

Each band also will receive a participation trophy based on an evaluation of the overall performance ensemble. Those receiving superior ratings will be eligible to participate in the state KMEA Marching Band Championship in Lexington.

In addition to the high school bands, MSU's Marching Band will present an exhibition performance at the close of the event.

"For the audience, the contest will provide an exciting spectacle of sound and color comparable to the pageantry of a Broadway musical," said Miles.

Tickets for the event will be available at the gate for $4 each.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Arts in Morehead (AIM) will present concert pianist Ann Schein in Morehead State University's Duncan Recital Hall at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 20.

Admission will be by season membership or general admission tickets available at the door at $5 for adults and $3 for youth age 18 or younger. MSU students with valid I.D. cards will be admitted free.

A member of the faculty at Peabody Institute in Baltimore, Md., Schein began studying piano at age four and made her professional debut in 1957 in Mexico City. She has studied with Mieczyslaw Munz, the noted Polish pianist, and with Arthur Rubinstein.

She has appeared at Carnegie Hall, the White House and throughout the United States and Europe to critical acclaim. The Washington Post has called her "one of the best pianists around," while the New York Times has described her performances as "imaginative, beautiful and expressive."

She has performed frequently throughout the world, including the Soviet Union and the Far East, under the U.S. State Department's Cultural Exchange Program.

AIM is a joint effort of MSU and the Morehead-Rowan County Arts Council.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University's Kentucky Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, international honor society in the social sciences, again has been placed on the society's national Roll of Distinction, the highest honor attainable by a chapter.

MSU's chapter was selected on the merits of election and initiation of members, financial responsibility, effectiveness of the chapter on campus, and local initiative in developing new activities or methods of operations. This is the 14th time in its 16 year history the chapter has received this honor.

"Pi Gamma Mu on the national and local level endeavors to help develop the kind of graduates an institution can be proud to have," said Ina Turner Gray, executive director of Pi Gamma Mu, in announcing the award. "Faculty officers work with the students to develop their potential for the future."

The Kentucky Gamma chapter was founded in 1970 by Margaret D. Patton, associate professor of sociology. She serves as executive secretary of the chapter and as Chancellor of the Central Region. Lola Crosthwaite, assistant professor of sociology, is the faculty sponsor.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University has announced the appointment of Larry McCarty as the school's first safety coordinator.

McCarty is responsible for identifying hazardous situations on the entire campus, according to Joe Planck, physical plant director, who announced the appointment. He will work closely with the Office of Safety and Security and the physical plant staff in making observations and developing safety precautions, Planck noted.

"My goal is to educate the faculty, staff and students and make them conscious of safety regulations," said McCarty who has been a security officer at MSU for the last year. "I see this as a big job with lots of responsibilities and I need the cooperation of the entire campus." He will retain his security officer status in this position.

Prior to coming to MSU, McCarty was a manager of safety and security at the Amcast Industrial Corporation in Ironton, Ohio. He was also a law enforcement officer with the South Point (Ohio) Police Department for eight years and an Ohio highway patrolman for two years.

McCarty is a graduate of the Peace Officers Training School of Ironton and attended the Ashland Area Vocational School. He has taken courses at Ohio University and attended the National Safety Council's seminars with fire marshals for the state of Ohio. His previous employment also includes investigative work with Pinkerton, Inc.

A native of Ashland, McCarty is married to the former Janet Spears of Coal Grove, Ohio. They have four children--Melissa, Jeffrey, Alison and Ryan.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Visiting the Bank of England, Lloyds of London, the London Stock Exchange are among the experiences awaiting participants in a study tour to London offered by Morehead State University Dec. 26 - Jan. 9 through the Cooperative Center for Study in Britain (CCSB).

CCSB is a consortium of Kentucky universities providing the opportunity for students and adults to study in Britain.

The course in International Business Education will be taught by Dr. Ray D. Bernardi, MSU professor of business education. Other courses in International Business and Finance, International Marketing, British Theatre, Music, and Nursing are offered by other participating universities. Each course provides three hours of college credit. Adults may participate on an audit or continuing education non-credit basis.

In addition, excursions to Stratford-upon-Avon, Windsor Castle, Canterbury, and a panoramic city tour of London have been scheduled. Ample free time will be provided for visits to Westminster Abbey, Parliament, St. Paul's Cathedral, Tower of London, Buckingham Palace, the British Museum, and shopping at Harrods and on Oxford street to take advantage of the after-Christmas sales.

The cost of the study tour is $1,245 and includes air transportation on scheduled airlines and accommodations in a central four-star hotel providing a continental breakfast each morning.

Interested persons (regular students or adults) may contact Dr. Bernardi, UPO 937, Morehead State University, Morehead, KY 40351 or call (606) 783-2163 for applications and additional information.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Nearly 500 elected officials from 42 cities and 22 counties in Eastern Kentucky have been invited to participate in Local Government Day at Morehead State University on Saturday, Nov. 1.

The day will begin with a workshop on liability insurance coverage for public officials, scheduled for 10:30 a.m. in Breckinridge Auditorium.

The workshop is co-sponsored by the Kentucky Municipal League and the Kentucky Association of Counties and will feature Lebanon Mayor Maurice Spalding, KML president, as moderator.

Panelists will be State Rep. Marshall Long of Shelbyville, chairman of a House subcommittee dealing with liability insurance for municipal officials; Shelbyville Mayor Neil Hackworth and Nelson County Judge-Executive Mike Abell, KACO president.

Following the workshop, participants will be guests of MSU President A.D. Albright at a noon luncheon and attend the MSU-Murray State football game slated for 1:30 p.m. in Jayne Stadium.

"We look forward to sharing our hospitality with Eastern Kentucky elected officials and hope that they will leave the campus more aware of the University's teaching, research and public service activities which impact their communities," said Dr. Albright.

"We also are most appreciative of the efforts of Fred Creasey (KACO executive director) and Ed Griffin (KML executive director), who helped us develop plans for this event," he added.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--The Kentucky Energy Cabinet has awarded a grant to Morehead State University's Department of Agriculture and Natural Resources to purchase laboratory equipment and supplies for the Mining Technology Program.

The grant, in the amount of $21,722.43, will be used to establish a microcomputer laboratory, for maintenance of equipment and purchase supplies for the Mining Energy Research Laboratory, acquire surveying and ventilation laboratories and purchase field trip equipment.

"We are pleased with the state's commitment to the students of the Mining Technology Program," said Charles Patrick, program coordinator. "This is a vote of confidence for MSU and makes it possible for us to teach our students with the most current technology available," he added.

"We are delighted to receive this grant," said Dr. Judy Willard, Department of Agriculture and Natural Resources chair. "It will allow us to purchase the much needed equipment necessary for our programs, and also buy computers for laboratories which will help our department and the College of Applied Sciences and Technology as well."

Currently, MSU offers a two-year associate degree in mining technology, and bachelor degree programs for students interested in mining technology, reclamation technology and mining administration.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University will formally charter the Floyd County Chapter of the MSU Alumni Association at 7 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 30, at the Prestonsburg Holiday Inn.

The event, which is free and open to all MSU alumni in Floyd County, is part of the University's observance of National Higher Education Week.

"As National Higher Education week is designed to honor the contributions of colleges and universities to our people, perhaps one of the best ways is by recognizing our alumni and creating a vehicle for their closer involvement with their alma mater," said MSU President A.D. Albright.

Alumni Association President William Phelps of Versailles will present the new group's charter to Gary Frazier, who will serve as the first president. Frazier is principal of McDowell High School.

"We want to encourage all MSU alumni in Floyd County to join us for this very special occasion," said Frazier. "Our University needs and deserves our support."

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Donald Neuen, professor of conducting and director of choral activities at the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N.Y., will be guest conductor for Morehead State University's 27th annual Choral Festival for High School Singers, Nov. 6-7.

The festival will include a performance by the MSU Concert Choir and Chamber Singers, Thursday, Nov. 6, at 8:15 p.m., and a 250-voice festival chorus concert conducted by Neuen, Friday, Nov. 7, at 7 p.m. Both performances will be held in Duncan Recital Hall.

Admission to the festival chorus performances is free.

Three-time guest conductor of the Choral Festival, Neuen has served on the faculties of Ball State University and the Universities of Wisconsin and Tennessee. He also served as director of choral activities and assistant conductor for Robert Shaw and the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra.

Previously director of choral and orchestral activities for Georgia State University, Neuen has conducted all-state choruses as well as state and national church music workshops.

Neuen has studied privately with Robert Shaw, Roger Wagner, Alfred Mann, and from 1964-1979 with musical adviser/musicologist Julius Herford. Critics have called him an "enormously gifted conductor."

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Con Spirito, a Pittsburgh-based classical woodwind quintet, will appear in a free concert at Morehead State University at 3 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 2, in Duncan Recital Hall.

The performance is jointly sponsored by MSU's Academy of the Arts and the Arts in Morehead Concert and Lecture Series.

With a repertoire ranging from 16th Century compositions to such modern works as Scott Joplin rags, the ensemble has received critical acclaim for performances at arts festivals and colleges and its appearances with symphonies and chamber music societies.

Members of the quintet have played with symphonies in the United States and abroad, bringing to the ensemble a high level of musicianship earned through the rigorous demands of professional performance.

Members include Barbara Kemper, flute; John Ralston, oboe; J. William King III, clarinet; Erik Lugwig, bassoon, and Lori Johnson, horn.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--More than 100 area artists and merchants have contributed a wide variety of items to the Morehead State University Foundation's Charity Auction.

Co-sponsored by MSU's Department of Communications, the auction is scheduled for 5 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 15, at Adron Doran University Center.

Proceeds will go to the Noel F. Oney Memorial Scholarship Fund, established by friends and family of the MSU alumnus who died last year.

A native of Carter County, Oney graduated from Morehead State in 1964 as a speech and theatre major. He was the son of the late Ernest and Eva Oney of Soldier and graduated from Olive Hill High School. Prior to his death, he was active in theatre in South Pasadena, Calif., where he owned his own business.

The items will be on display prior to the start of bidding by auctioneer Steve Lewis of Morehead and musical entertainment will be provided by the Morehead Piano Trio. There will be light refreshments.

"We have found the support for this special fund-raising event to be almost overwhelming," said William H. Redwine, MSU director of development. "Right now we have nearly 200 items, ranging from original art works and silk floral arrangements to antiques and new merchandise," he added.

Redwine also commended the members of the Scholarship Organizational Committee and the Auction Committee for their efforts. "It's their enthusiasm that has enabled us to gain such support from donors," he said.

Serving on the Organizational Committee are Marcella Jolley, Barbara Horton, Sylvia and Bill Layne and Harlen Hamm. The Auction Committee includes Dr. Richard Dandeneau, Dr. Travis Lockhart, Lewis and Hamm.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University will hold its annual Little Siblings Weekend Oct. 31 - Nov. 2.

"Little Siblings Weekend '86 is designed to give brothers and sisters of MSU students the opportunity to visit and share campus life with their brother or sister," according to Madonna Huffman, MSU director of residence education and coordinator of the event. "We're looking forward to showing our students and their sibs what fun really is," Huffman said.

Weekend activities will begin with registration and check-in Friday, Oct. 31, from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. in each residence hall.

Highlights of the weekend include the Undertakers Ball Friday from 8 p.m. to midnight in the Crager Room of the Adron Doran University Center. "Sibs should remember to bring costumes for the dance," Huffman said.

At the same time as the ball, MSU's Student Government Association will sponsor a carnival throughout the University Center.

The fun will continue Saturday, Nov. 1, with the Pumpkin Bash, a contest between sibling teams, from 10 to 11 a.m. on Cooper Hall's front lawn.

Siblings can show their Eagle spirit Saturday at 1:30 p.m. when the MSU Eagles host the Murray State University Blue Racers at Jayne Stadium. A tailgate party will precede the game from noon until 1 p.m.

Both Saturday and Sunday evenings, each residence hall will hold its own events for the siblings.

The Delta Zeta - Theta Chi Haunted House also will run 7 p.m. to midnight Friday and Saturday in Button Auditorium. Admission is $1.

Visiting siblings may stay in the residence hall of their brother or sister. Additional information about Little Siblings Weekend '86 may be obtained by calling Huffman at (606) 783-2060.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University's Individual Events (IE) team won second place in the Miami (Ohio) University Rose Bowl Tournament last weekend (Oct. 24-25).

Competing with 35 other college and university teams, including six of the top 10 schools in last year's national tournament, MSU's team compiled 116½ sweepstakes points and qualified for five additional slots at the national tournament this spring, according to Gene Alesandrini, team coach and instructor in speech.

"It truly was a team effort," Alesandrini said. "Everybody contributed to the victory."

Individual winners included:

Winchester senior Lisa Shemwell, second in Rhetorical Criticism, third in Persuasion, fourth in Informative Speaking and fifth in Pentathlon.

Radcliff senior Margaret Holt, fourth in Rhetorical Criticism, fifth in After Dinner Speaking and Dramatic Duo, and a semi-finalist finish in Impromptu Speaking.

Morehead senior Vonda Ramey teamed up with Holt for the fifth place win in Dramatic Duo.

Mt. Sterling junior Kevin Cockrell also was a semi-finalist in Prose.

Other team members helping to score sweepstakes points were: Morehead sophomores Rondell Meeks and John Burchett, Somerset sophomore Melissa Noble and freshmen Darin Blackburn of Elkhorn City, Dorothy Arthur of Georgetown and Lori Hawkins of Ashcamp.

The MSU IE team will compete next in late November in a tournament hosted by Marshall University in Huntington, W.Va.

FLOYD COUNTY CHARTER PARTY: A Picture Story

Braving ghosts and goblins, Morehead State University alumni from Floyd County met Oct. 30 at the Prestonsburg Holiday Inn to charter the Alumni Association's newest chapter.

Attending from MSU were Don Young, alumni relations director; Lisa Browning of Owingsville, Alumni Association first vice president, and Floyd County native Buford Crager, assistant professor of education. Crager extended greetings on behalf of President A.D. Albright and the University.

- 2--As president of the Floyd County Alumni Chapter, Gary Frazier of Martin, received the official charter from Lisa Browning on behalf of the Alumni Association. Frazier, principal of McDowell High School, encouraged all to join with him in making MSU "truly the University of the mountains."
- 3--Listening to the charter presentation were, from left, Joe Davis, and Kathy and Jim Stewart of Prestonsburg. In back is W. Paul Skeans of Martin.
