A. O. STANLEY .. RETURNS FOR SPEECH HERE

Former Senator Endorses The Candidacy Of A. B. "Happy" Chadler

A well filled almost packed court house greeted Governor A. O. Stanley, former governor and former United States Senator here last Thursday night, when he spoke in the interests of the candidacy of A. B. "Happy" Chadler and the Democratic ticket. Gov. Stanley, who is well known here and who has spoken here many times before is recognized as the greatest orator of the many with whom Kentucky is best. His name has been linked with the Gov. Ed. Morrow, who went through many a political battle opposed to Gov. Stanley.

An unexpected and therefore unadvertised feature of the rally was the presence of Lieut. Gov. Chandler himself, who after closing his meeting in Flemingsburg drove to Morehead in time to drop in at the close of Gov. Stanley's address. The candidate received a rousing ovation as he entered the court room, the entire crowd leaped to its feet and cheering with prolonged applause. Governor Stanley contrasted the two gubernatorial candidates in their personal characteristics, stating that while "Happy" had gone through trials that ordinarily would have soured his disposition, those trials had only opened up his smile and his heart and had given him a better insight into the needs and wants of the poor people of the state. He said he thought that "King Swage, on the other hand, had been weaned on a pickle."

Governor Stanley said that the importance of this election was of national import, that the eyes of the nation were fastened on Kentucky to see how they endorsed the national administration.

He paid glowing tribute to Judge-Allen W. Young whose close friend he was through many years. When he was told that "Happy" would be here, he said "there was only one man whom he would rather have drop in on him. Why ask who that man was. They knew."

Governor Stanley closed his speech by making personal references to the boyhood of Happy Chadler, whom he had known during that period in Henderson county. There was not a dry eye in the house at the time he pleaded with the mothers to support the man who was their boy. He then introduced Happy Chadler to an audience that knows him 'kismet as well as Senator Stanley does and that literally hobbled him at the close of a short talk, in an effort to shake his hand and to pledge him their support.

Mr. Chadler had spoken six times that day, but he was not tired to greet his friends, nor to shake their hands.

Special Meeting Of Legion Post Called

According to a notice sent out by H. A. Sprinkle, adjutant of the Corps at Lexington Post 126 of the American Legion, a meeting of the service men of the county has been called for Friday night of this week.

The special meeting is being called for the purpose of drafting resolutions to be presented to Congress asking for the full cash payment of the adjusted compensation certificates, which are commonly called the bonus.

Other important matters will be discussed at the meeting, that are demanding attention at this time.

All service men and particularly all Legionnaires are urged to be present at the meeting to take part in this important work.

The Legion post has not functioned properly for some time and an effort will be made to revive the interest in the work for the ex-servicemen of the county and community.

Homecoming Plans Near Completion H. A. Babb Is Guest Of Faculty Monday

Committee Chairmen Say Homecoming To Be Greatest.

Elaborate plans are being made for Morehead's annual homecoming November 2. Committee chairmen say that this will be the greatest homecoming in the history of the college.

The first event will be an amateur hour on Friday night, November 1. This event will be sponsored by the Alumni M. Club. Morehead merchants are cooperating to make the stunt program a success.

On Saturday morning a special chapel will be held and the alumni will be in charge. Roy Corneette, president of both the Alumni Association and the Alumni M. Club, will officiate.

In the afternoon the football teams of Morehead and Eastern State Teachers College will clash on Jayne Memorial Field. Since the schools are bitter rivals, a great game is expected.

The annual alumni banquet will be held in the college cafeteria at six o'clock. Warren C. Lappin, director of the training school, will preside, and President Harvey A. Babb will make the principal address.

A dance in the college gymnasium will close the program. Music will be furnished by Earl King Serff and his King's Jesters orchestra.

The senior class will have charge of decorating the cafeteria for the banquet and the juniors will decorate the gymnasium for the dance.

LITERARY CLUB

Mrs. Wood Hinton and Mrs. Earl will be hostesses to the Literary Club Monday evening when they met in their club room on main street. Following several book reviews that were given and a discussion of current events there were a number of games played. Mrs. Ernest Jayne and Miss Stella Mae Canfield were awarded the costume prizes.

FRED M. VINSON SPEAKS HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

Closing the campaign in Rowan county, Hon. Fred M. Vinson, Congressman from the Eighth district will address the voters of Rowan county at the court house here on Saturday night at 7:30 p. m. Mr. Vinson, who was a strong supporter of Mr. Rhea in both primaries, is now out for Mr. Chadler and the entire Democratic ticket. He says in his speech that he "is stronger now for Chadler than he was for Rhea." Mr. Vinson was among the first to congratulate Happy on his nomination and to pledge his his warm-hearted support in the general election.

Mr. Vinson has made a practice of years of bringing the Rowan county campaign to a close, on Saturday night before the election.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Dr. G. H. Fern, Mrs. Fern and son, Kenneth attended a birthday surprise dinner at Ewing last Tuesday given in honor of Mrs. Fern's sister, Mrs. G. A. Pepper.

GOV. F. D. SAMPSON FAILS TO ARRIVE HERE

Failure of former governor Flen D. Sampson to arrive for a scheduled speech at the court house on Tuesday night, caused disappointment to a gathering of Republicans. No reason has been learned for Mr. Sampson's failure to appear.

To fill in the time and not completely displease those who had gathered, Dudley Caudill, campaign chairman for the Republican party in Rowan county discussed the features of the campaign issues.

Among other things Mr. Caudill discussed the letter which was sent out from Democratic headquarters asking for voluntary contributions to the Democratic campaign funds. The letter which expressly stated that no assessments would be made but that if any one cared to make contributions they would be welcomed.

MAROONS WILL BE HOMECOMING FOE

The Maroons of Eastern State Teachers College come to Morehead November 2, to try and make Homecoming Day a blue Saturday for Moreheadians. The Eastern clan, under the tutelage of Coach Rome Markham, has developed into a formidable football aggregation and will give the Eagles plenty of trouble.

Eastern beat Morehead by a score of 7 to 0 last year and reports from Richmond are that they intend to run the score up this year.

Georgetown defeated Eastern last Saturday 8 to 6 and had previously trounced the Eagles 19 to 0. This letter than Morehead on paper. Figures however, do not mean much, and when the two teams meet next Saturday, math won't win the game.

Morehead has suffered from injuries all year and is again in rather bad shape. Joe Taylor who has been doing much of the ball totting for the Eagles is out with an injured hand. He may have a crushed bone. Woodson Dale, star triple threat man, who was injured in the Georgetown game, is probably out for the rest of the season.

TUESDAY'S ELECTION OCCUPIES CENTER OF ATTENTION AS LULL MARKS BEGINNING OF FINAL BOUT

News Endorses Old City Council

In this issue appears the advertisement of the present city council composed of W. C. Lapin, W. H. Rice, Robert Bishop, Steve Caudill, T. J. Trumbo and J. C. Wells, to which has been added the name of N. E. Kennard. The council in asking your support lists the accomplishments of the past two years when they took office and the record is one that is worthy of your careful consideration.

While the News is not taking any particular part in the council race, we feel that without any disrespect to the men who are running on the other ticket, that a careful examination of the record of accomplishments of the present council entitles the sincerest endorsement possible from the voters of Morehead. We say this knowing that the men running on the other - are all high type gentlemen who would have the interests of the community at heart. At the same time, we feel that the present council, in view of their work in the past two years and in view of the plans they are making and already have under way for the future, should be reelected to the offices which they at present hold, without exception and without change.

As the present Police Judge is not in the present race for election, Columbia, Ky., should be respected for this office, all of whom are friends of the Rowan County News, we make no choice in this race.

The importance of having a city council who will do things and who have been tried and found to be great. The present council has delivered. They deserve your complete endorsement at the polls on Tuesday.

"Zero Hour" Of Campaigners Approaches As Both Parties Prepare

This pre-election lull that seems to have taken possession of the leaders of both Democratic and Republican parties may mean almost anything. It likely means that both forces are gathering up their remaining strength to do battle to the death politically of one or the other state tickets. Incidentally it must not be imagined that while the surface indications are quiet, there is not turmoil and deep stirring underneath. Locally the campaign has been conducted on both sides in an unusually quiet manner. There has been less, far less than the usual discriminations and less far less of the usual excitement.

The Democrats had of course gone through two strenuous primaries and whether they wanted to or not, they were so nearly exhausted both physically and financially that they had to lie up. They just couldn't hold the pace they had set last May when the campaign opened here. The result has been that they have not campaigned as hard as they might have or as they perhaps need to.

The Republicans on the other hand have conducted a different campaign from any they usually indulge in. It has been more or less on the gun order, an undercover campaign to deceive the common enemy, the Democratic party. Whether they have succeeded or not will undoubtedly be demonstrated on Tuesday of next week. Republicans are freely predicting that they will carry Rowan county by as high as six hundred votes.

This would necessarily be proof of the fact that several hundred Democrats have voted the Republican ticket, as the county, according to Republic figures is around three hundred Democrats.

The Democrats on the other hand do not feel the so-called "bolt" will reach any such proportions. They take the position that the Democrats are Democrats and unless the Republicans have something better to offer than their own party, they will vote their party ticket.

The "bolt" will in their opinion not be a bolt in reality. As one former Rhea supporter put it, the people who are being accused of planning to bolt, are in most cases better Democrats than those who are accusing them.

As a matter of fact, there are no Democrats in Morehead who can actually be said to be bolters. There may be a few who have not become satisfied over the outcome of the heated primary, but they are so few to be negligible. When the time comes to vote they will vote the Democratic ticket, in spite of Republican rumors to the contrary. It is in the rumors that are circulated as pre-election rumors, stirred for political reasons.

In the heat of the election many are likely to forget the importance of the constitutional amendment to be voted on at the coming election. The first amendment is to repeal the Seventh or Prohibition amendment in Kentucky. It must be remembered that Kentucky has a dry law, whether it is enforced or not. If you are against the prohibition amendment to be voted on, it is all-important one on the Old Age Pension law. Unless the amendment carries, Kentucky's legislature will not be able to pass a law allowing the old age pensions. By all means, vote YES on this amendment, as that is the only way in which the legislature can take care of the aged in the state.

Vote YES, for the Old Age Pension amendment.

Today

With the setting sun, your hopes of yesterday died out. All right. That was yesterday. Things didn't materialize the way you dreamed they would. All right again. Now—the present hour—is Today. Yesterday bears no relation to it, except perhaps, the relation that a nightmare bears to the morning after. Forget all about yesterday—it is dead and buried in the cemetery of Time.

Today is alive. Are you? Well then, get busy! Fling from your shoulders the depressing weight of those hopes that haven't come true. Stand erect. Man, the world is yours! You have just as much claim on its good things—as on the things you've longed for and prayed for and worked for—as the other fellow has.

This hour has been handed to you as a gift from the overflowing storehouse of Eternity. What are you doing with it? Answer that. Moping? Growing? Despairing? For shame!

God has favored you with another chance to make good. He has given you Today. Prove your appreciation by making it a stepping stone to happier, worthier tomorrows!

THE STEADY SUBSCRIBER

How dear to our heart
Is the steady subscriber,
Who pays in advance
of the birth of each year,
Who lays down the money
and does it quite gladly,
And casts round the office
a halo of cheer.
He never lags, "Stop it!
I cannot afford it!"
I'm getting more papers now than I read."
He always says, "Send it—
our people all like it—"
In fact we all think it a help and a need."
How welcome his check when it reaches our sanctum,
How it makes our pulse throb,
how it makes our heart dance!
We outwardly thank him;
we inwardly bless him—
That steady subscriber
who pays in advance!

LAFFOONISM

With the 1935 state campaign reaching its climax in the election on next Tuesday, the voters of Rowan County by that time have made up their minds on the issues of the campaign and have decided their ticket which they intend to give their support.

There are many issues involved in the present campaign, issues of vital importance to the voters themselves. They are to decide the destinies of the ship of state in Kentucky for the next four years. They are to decide whether or not they choose to endorse the Roosevelt administration. They are to decide whether they are definitely through with Laffoonism and bipartisanship, or whether they wish a continuance of both.

Probably the major development of the present campaign is the "bolt" of Ruby Laffoon. Apparently it is a one man bolt, of a man who personally is expected to vote the Democratic ticket as he says he has for the past forty years. That in itself is more or less of a spectacle. Governor Laffoon has never yet in his speeches stated that he would not vote the Democratic ticket. He has inferred that he would not and has in effect urged others to bolt. But he has yet to say that he will not vote for Chandler himself. That fact in itself has materially weakened his position. He is apparently urging others to do what he himself will not say he will do.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 31, 1935.—A. B. "Happy" Chandler, whose life story reads like a book by Horatio Alger will be the next Governor of Kentucky.

Six months ago "Happy" as Lieut. Governor was apparently headed to the oblation that generally encompasses all Western governors.

Today as the Democratic nominee for governor he is the "miracle man" of Kentucky politics.

Not within the memory of the oldest political observer has any individual so fought the fancy and affection of the voters and the entire man of the street and rural districts as has this youthful crusader from the Democratic ranks.

As the National election approaches a prophecy as to the majority that will be accorded him by Kentuckians is problematical. The usual rules, laws of averages and estimates cannot be applied to either "Happy" or his campaign. His campaign has been different from any other ever seen before in Kentucky.

He has already displayed his mettle as a campaigner winning the Democratic nomination over Thomas S. Rhea, of Russellville, an aged, experienced party leader who was supported by almost all of the court house politicians of the state, the strongest state organization thrown together in years and an unlimited amount of campaign funds.

In the latest vote ever cast in a Democratic primary in Kentucky "Happy" defeated Rhea, his supporters the money, and the machine.

Any candidate who can overcome such obstacles as those and win is not only a campaigner of the first water, but also has a grip on the voters of his party that is beyond definition.

His assault on the old order of things has perhaps brought some discord into the Democratic ranks. Veterans of many campaigns of years past in many instances resent his intrusion, his youth and his ability to capture the popular fancy which also means the capture of votes.

There may be defections in the Democratic ranks in certain sections of the state but they will not be of sufficient importance to have any important bearing on the ultimate result on November 5.

"Happy's" majority may be 50,000 and then it may be more than 100,000 votes. His majority depends upon the size of the vote and interference the Eagles their first foot-ball victory of the season as Morehead defeated the University of Louisville 14-0 in their first home game of the year during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Caudill gave a Halloween party Monday night in honor of their daughter, Elvera and son, Sam, Jr., about 35 children were present.

Roy Cornett was entertained at his home Friday night at a birthday and bridge dinner.

Miss Marcell Davis and Mr. Leslie Lovett were united in marriage on October 14 by Rev. B. F. Foster at his home in Newport, Ky.

Robert Bishop, of the C. E. Bishop Drug Co., is reported as doing nicely in the St. Joseph's Hospital in Lexington, following an operation Saturday evening.

Professor Ralph Hudson, instructor in the Art Department at the Morehead State Teachers' College, was named editor of The Kentucky Art Teachers Association Journal, Saturday at the State educational meeting in Lexington.

One of the dramatic hits of the season staged locally was the presentation of "Deacon Dubbs" by the Halldens Dramatic Club at the Halldens Theatre Saturday night.

Miss Mildred Waltz was entertained at a surprise birthday dinner given in her home Wednesday evening.

An allotment of $1,081,000 for relief in Kentucky during the month of November was announced from Washington yesterday.

Four factors point toward such a heavy vote in Kentucky. The first is the fact that a majority of the cities are electing mayors and members of council or city commission.

The second is the "dirt" and "dry" content to remove or retain the "dry" amendment in the state constitution; the third is the unusual interest evinced in the gubernatorial contest and the fourth is the constitutional amendment authorizing old age pensions, which is also to be voted on.

One thing is certain however, the heavier the vote the greater will be "Happy's" majority.

Since the opening of the campaign "Happy" has had his opponent Judge King Swope, of Lexington, Republican candidate on the defense. His campaign has been "cut-throat" and effective. Great crowds have thronged to hear him wherever he has spoken and the patiently wait to shake his hand and pledge their support at the conclusion of all his speeches.

Judge Swope, a careful survey of the state has shown, has not struck a responsive cord within the ranks of his own party. He has far less appeal to the average Republican voter than Mayor William B. Harrison, who opposed Governor Ruby Laffoon four years ago. In the election Harrison was defeated by approximately 72,000 votes. Added to this Judge Swope has at times shown indications of bad temper and permitted himself to indulge in indiscretion in his speeches that have reacted injuriously in many cases.

Judge Swope has also been handicapped by conditions which have arisen during the campaign. He has not discussed any phases of the Roosevelt program as applicable to taxes because both his advisors and he realize that the President is exceedingly popular in Kentucky. He has also been unable to criticize any mistakes of the Laffoon administration because it is to the governor and his friends that the judge is looking for whatever scattered Democratic votes he may carry. Consequently his campaign has drifted into personalities with many Democratic leaders being abused in the hope that offensive, personal animosities thus engendered will bring votes into the G. O. P. camp.

While it has already been stated that there is not any logical ground upon which to base an estimate of "Happy's" majority a discussion of the congressional districts and the situation that exists in them might be helpful.

Reports from the First congressional districts indicate the usual Democratic majority will be forthcoming from that old Gibraltar of the party.

Though there are ramblings of discontent in some of the counties, increased majorities in the others will offset what less Chandlers might sustain through the deflection of discontented office holders and others. A majority of 25,000 for Chandler seems a fair estimate.

In the second district the normal majority of the party will be secured for it is here that Governor Ruby Laffoon and Thomas S. Rhea, unsuccessful opponent of Chandler reside. The governor is open in his opposition to "Happy" and Rhea through many of his friends is backing the governor's openly expressed hope that Chandler is defeated.

Other conditions along with these may cause a slump in "Happy's" majority in this district, but a conservative majority regarded as conservative.

The third district, comprising Louisville and Jefferson county will give Chandler a majority of from 10,000 to 15,000 votes if optimistic party leaders are to be believed.

The fourth district, home of Ben Johnson, former chairman of the highway commission, and always a battle ground in any election will again be the scene of a bitter struggle with the Democrats expecting to roll up a majority of not less than 8,000 votes.

The fifth district, the North end Kentucky area, is expected to give to the Democrats the largest Democratic majority it has given any candidate in several decades. A majority of 15,000 to 20,000 is not unlikely and would occasion no surprise.

The sixth district, "Happy's" home district and a majority of 12,000 votes is a conservative estimate. The seventh district should be close with the Democrats carrying it approximately 2,000 or more votes owing to the heavy vote of union men in that region. The eighth district should give a majority of not less than 8,000 and the Republican stronghold, the Ninth congressional district should roll up more than a 20,000 majority for the Republican nominee. There are, your figures for what they are worth, if used as a basis for estimating a prediction of these figures give "Happy" a majority of not less than 100,000 votes. They may be in line with the trend of the sentiment of the voters and then they may fall short. Anything resembling a "ground swell" will give "Happy" the election by an unprecedented majority and there are indications that such a condition exists.

As for the Republicans, they have not waged an aggressive campaign. They have quietly selected whatever organizations they have, permitted Judge Swope to be the front of his campaigning and hoped that disaffection in the Democratic ranks under the leadership of Governor Laffoon and Rhea would bring to their standard many thousands of Democratic voters. As the election approaches it would seem that such hopes are doomed to failure as the rank and file of the Democratic party seem more enthusiastic over the party ticket than they have been in years. Added to this "Happy" has exerted a personal appeal with the independents that is drawing them to his banner and along with them many Republicans who have been attracted by his personality and (Continued on Page Five)

Democratic Party Presents Program

for Commonwealth's Advancement

Promises and Accomplishments

The Democratic and Republican platforms are so nearly similar on a number of major points that Lieutenant Governor Chandler has charged that Judge Swope "swiped" his platform. Mr. Chandler enunciated his platform in the primary. Promises however, are valuable only if they are fulfilled. There will certainly be a Democratic majority in both Houses of the General Assembly in Frankfort. Mr. Chandler will have a complete Democratic Administration and is not tied up with any promises to return to bi-partisanship. He, therefore, can accomplish his program while Judge Swope could not be able to accomplish anything in Frankfort.

End Uncertainty

The defeat of Mr. Chandler for Governor would introduce an era of certainty which causes distress to business and handicaps all progressive activity in the Commonwealth. Split responsibility in the era of Sampsonism or bi-partisanship resulted in job bartering in the Legislature, ripper bills, forcible ousters, many suits for testing the Governor's acts and authority and a general deadlock preventing constructive action.

A Popular Ticket

Mr. Chandler and his associates on the Democratic ticket were nominated by the people in a Democratic primary. They are known throughout the State. Mr. Chandler and the nominee for Lieutenant Governor, usually referred to as "Happy and Keen." All nominees are able and well-known Kentuckians and their election will result from a popular outpouring of public sentiment which will inspire them and enable them to render better public service.

Primary Elections

The Democratic Party complied with the compulsory primary law enacted by the the General Assembly of Kentucky. The Republican Party as the result of the efforts of national fixers trying to undermine President Roosevelt called a convention and made "re commendations." This nullified the primary election law.

Repeal The Sales Tax

Mr. Chandler has fought the sales tax from the time it first was proposed in the Legislature. He stands now against its re-enactment or continuation.

Support the President

President Franklin D. Roosevelt is looking to Kentucky to endorse his program.

The eyes of the nation are turned toward this State and the defeat of Mr. Chandler will be interpreted nationally as a repudiation of Roosevelt just when recovery is well under way.

Save by Economy

Mr. Chandler has estimated that millions can be saved by economy and through recognition of the State Government along the lines suggested by auditors who studied the State's administrative structure. Property owners, taxpayers and all interested in business of any kind will be assisted by such an economical government as he will give.

Support for Schools

Mr. Chandler is in favor of a $12 per capita for the schools of Kentucky. He is pledged to free textbooks for the public school children. He advocates reasonable salaries for teachers and elimination of politics from the schools. On the ticket with him is Harry W. Peters, for Superintendent of Public Instruction, one of the outstanding educators of Kentucky.

Friend of Farmer

Farmers are supporting the Democratic ticket because of their interest in seeing the Roosevelt program for keeping up prices of farm products continued. They also feel that in Senator Garth Ferguson, who has done so much to make the State Fair a great institution, they have a true friend in the candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture.

Labor Champion

The Kentucky State Federation of Labor endorsed Mr. Chandler at its State Convention in Frankfort. The four railroad brotherhoods have endorsed his candidacy. United Mine Workers of America are supporting him John L. Lewis, outstanding national labor leader, will visit Kentucky in his behalf.

DONATED BY THE DEMOCRATS OF ROWAN COUNTY

A Tribute To Rowan County And Its People

"In the strategic center of the veritable Eden, natural portal from North to South" touched by a national highway; historically significant and in scenery unrivaled; sturdy, thriving and industrious and ambitious, awaiting, but the touch of opportunity to spring forth to the gaze of the world and all her glory, stands Rowan County, well equipped for productivity; a perfect system of hard surfaced roads, splendid schools and churches; beautiful homes, paved streets; business activity; adequate banking facilities; a trade area of many miles, reaching in every direction from the county seat, embracing a large trade population; railroad facilities; bus and truck lines for transportation of passengers and of freight; ample sites and a hardy welcome for manufacturing industries.

A people, who, not only believe in, but act upon the theory of essential practicality every type of essential time and supporting local industries, all these and many other advantages tend to make this a land not only of promise, but of fulfillment for progressive accomplishments.

Gaze upon our beautiful county; Search into its heart; Listen to its silent murmur; Its very appearance is that of a true Kentucky domain, its truth, its honor, its responsibility, its inhabitants are appreciative and loyal, in each others sorrows, sympathetic; in others joys, jubilant.

her glorious past, her splendid present, her brilliant future, Rowan County welcomes you to share. Do so by patronizing your local people, supporting able and efficient public officials, and treat your fellow men as you would have them treat you.

NOTABLE PEOPLE AND INSTITUTIONS OF ROWAN COUNTY

JUDGE C. E. JENNINGS

"Prominent Official And Esteemed Citizen"

To sit in judgement of his fellow men is an office which demands rare powers of discernment and a full understanding of the weakness and forties of human nature. Those sterling qualities are not often observed in such conspicuous manner as in Judge Charles E. Jennings, Judge of the County Court.

His reputation for opinions that are extremely just and fair has made him one of the most popular jurists in the history of this county. His splendid facility for rendering impartial decisions has been repeatedly recognized by the public, bench and bar alike.

Nothing could attest to the confidence held in Judge Jennings as his own record which is outstanding in brilliant administration. He strives to have all his important, established precedents of his very fingertips which is a valuable asset in sitting on the bench of legal jurisprudence. Judge Jennings has a personality that reflects his kindly attitude toward society in general, even when it errs, if conditions warrant, for after all to err is human. But let not the old offender or deliberate criminal misunderstand the statement, for Judge Jennings knows full well the proper way of meting out heavy penalties when it is deserved. Judge Jennings is ever active in public movements for the common good of the community and is an outstanding citizen as well as a man of affairs.

Prior to his seating on the bench, Judge Jennings was Circuit Clerk of Rowan county from 1928 to 1934 and taught school for five years and was considered one of the best educated men in this county. Judge Jennings is also a member of various lodges and fraternities, including the Masons and the Jr. O. U. A. M.

In the annals of our county, Judge Jennings will be remembered as a man that saw his duty and did it, and a man that fought for the righteousness and justice for all fearlessly and fairly, regardless of what the consequences may be, and a man that is loved and respected by all who know him.

HARTLEY BATTSON

"Morehead's Leading Drug Store"

An enterprise that the good people of Rowan County can point to with justifiable pride of association. A business that was founded with but one principal, and one creed in mind, and that is, "true value, for every dollar invested." In the early centuries when pharmacy was in its infancy, the druggist was a man that had the health of the entire area vested in him, and from that day, until now, pharmacy has been an honored and essential profession.

Dr. Battson of Battson's Drug Store, whose nature has been fit to invest all the sterling qualities that led in centuries, as a man whom this community is indeed fortunate in having as a citizen.

FRALEY-MOORE

"Buick And Pontiac Cars — International Trucks"

In making a review of Rowan county's progress and the importance of the contribution made by commercial industries and good citizens, it would be difficult to over-estimate the contribution made by the firm of Fraley Moore Motor Company.

This well known concern is headed by Mr. C. F. (Cecile) Fraley and Mr. M. P. (Millard) Moore and their business policy is exemplary of the maxim that that "that profits most who serves the best."

Mr. Fraley and Mr. Moore are not only men who are eminently successful in business affairs, but men who have found time to give abundantly and outstandingly to the cause of civic advancement, and they have rendered their patrons every service and courtesy that is consistent with good business.

The new Pontiac, with its "Turbo Top" made of solid steel, is indeed an advancement that has been anticipated by all of the motoring public, and its many other advantages of triple sealed hydraulic brakes, enclosed knee action, silver alloy bearings, electroplated light weight nickel alloy pistons, cooled engine and spare tire compartment are advantages that not many of the other cars can boast.

The Buick car for this year is considered the best car in its price range and is truly a car of grace and poise and durability, and we suggest that when you are in the market for a new car, you call Mr. Fraley or Mr. Moore and ask for a demonstration of this truly wonderful car.

The International trucks, sold by this firm are given up to be real and true value in trucks, being made and backed by the manufacturers of trucks only, with the experience of making trucks with the past thirty years, and we can truthfully state that they have reached the zenith in truck manufacture in this year's International Truck.

We suggest that when in need of anything in the automobile or truck line, you call Mr. Moore or Mr. Fraley and be convinced of the many advances that have been attained in the new Buick and Pontiac cars and the new International Trucks.

We take the greatest of pleasure in complimenting Mr. Fraley and Mr. Moore, in being one of Rowan county's best business assets and leading citizens and feel sure that in your dealings with them, you will be treated honestly and fairly.

JOHN N. FERGUSON & SON

"Funeral Directors — Embalmers"

The saddest of human endeavors is that of funeral directing. It is his solemn duty to be methodical and business-like in the midst of the most poignant grief to which the human race is heir.

The burden of introducing the details of a burial into the sorrowing household is his duty.

This is a task that requires great tact and diplomacy. He must be a manner and technical learning and man who combines gentleness of will and dignity to the occasion.

Such a person is Mr. J. N. Ferguson and son, who head the Funeral Home of the Ferguson Undertaking Company, whose well-equipped headquarters are in Morehead, Ky. Years of experience have given him an insight into the elements of funerals and the psychology of this type of grief. His duty does not cease after the last clod of earth has been thrown upon the mound containing all that was dear and precious to the bereaved family. In many ways he has helped the bereaved to become reconciled to their loss. In a word he is more than undertaker or mortician; He is a master of sympathy that really consoles, in addition to being in his line and with all, he is considerate in the charges for this excellent service.

The continued success with which he has met, may therefore be understood for he is constantly doing personal service for the community. Mr. J. N. Ferguson and associates are deserving and appreciate your patronage.

CARR-PERRY MOTOR CO.

"Honesty And Service"

In this review of the deserving business houses of Rowan County, we feel that it more than just that we compliment the Carr-Perry Motor Company, upon the position that it has attained in the upbuilding of Morehead and Kentucky.

This company is one of the best known establishments in Rowan County, known for their honesty of purpose, and their ever willingness for anything pertaining to the progressiveness of this community as a whole, and it is with a finger of pride that we point to the Carr-Perry Motor Company as one of the most outstanding business assets of Morehead and Rowan County.

having received true value for every dollar invested.

This establishment is ably managed by a man of high character and valued citizen of Morehead, whose policy is, the maximum of service at the minimum of price, and as this policy has been followed throughout the years that they have been in business, explains fully the reason that they have enjoyed a fine business, and have built up their patronage to its present standard. Mr. Perry and associates will be glad to lend their technical advice to any problems confronting you, and we suggest that at any time that you are in need of anything in their line, that you go to their store and be convinced that they are the logical ones to see when in need of anything in the automotive line.

MOREHEAD LUMBER CO.

"Where The Greatest Number Buy Their Lumber"

In making a review of the onward progress of our county, and the contributions that have been made by good citizens and progressive enterprises, it would not be complete if we failed to commend the Morehead Lumber Company, and its able and popular manager, Mr. Walter Swift.

It is one of the oldest and most reliable establishments in our community and has at all times rendered every practical service to their many patrons.

Here one will find a complete building service, from the mapping of your plans to the complete construction of any project. And whether your order be large or small, the same courteous atmosphere prevails when dealing here.

THE CITIZENS BANK

"A Strong And Safe Financial Institution"

During the greatest financial debacle the world has ever passed through, with security values shaken to the vanishing point and banks closing throughout the country, it is little less than remarkable that right in our midst, there are financial institutions that have come through it all with credit to themselves and honor to the community they serve.

Such an institution is the Citizens Bank of Morehead, whose officers, Dr. Thos. A. E. Evans, president and H. Van Antwerp, cashier, were recruited from the ranks of our own citizens. To hold office in such an institution these days is no sinecure, for it takes ability and means responsibility, never ceasing watchfulness and care. The officers named and the able assistant cashier, Mrs. Nellie, take a personal interest in every client and depositor, and the bank is ever ready to render any favor to any one in the community, that is consistent with good banking.

All the essential services of a Bank are met by their several departments and around these is thrown the absolute protection of Government Regulation and GLAR ANTEE. Conveniently located and with convenient banking hours (8 to 4), they stand ready to render confidential, friendly and helpful service. Avail yourself of their advice and facilities.

MELVIN JOHNSON

A Deserving Candidate

It is indeed gratifying to the citizens of Morehead to know that Mr. Melvin Johnson has condescended to the will of the people and offered himself as a candidate for Police Judge of Morehead, on the Independent ticket.

Party affiliations will have little effect or bearing on the way votes are cast for this particular post, as the citizens of Morehead are unanimous in agreeing that Mr. Johnson is the logical man for this important post by reason of his past record as a citizen and a business man.

Our city desires a person who understands the problems of our people, and one who has the courage to back his convictions. Such a person is Mr. Melvin Johnson, and he combines in his person all the sterling qualities that are most desirable in manhood and citizenship.

He is well qualified to serve as a Police Judge and it is only a matter of time until he will be fully filling this post.

Mr. Johnson will show his gratitude, for the support of the people by striving in every way to serve our citizens honestly and fearlessly. Your vote for Mr. Johnson will be another vote for law and order, and a vote to make Morehead a better place to live. —Adv.

S. B. Mutters For Police Judge

S. B. MUTTERS
OWNER & OPERATOR OF THE POLICE CAFE

In offering my name to be placed upon the ballot for the office of Police Judge for the city of Morehead to be voted upon at the general election Tuesday November 5, I want to state briefly just how I stand in a few things that confronts the Police Court every day.

1. During the last regular session of the General Assembly at Frankfort, a law was passed authorizing the Courts from the Circuit Court Courts to suspend sentence on any violator found guilty of misdemeanors to the Police and Magistrates or offenses if the court saw fit to do so. That law has never been applied to any extent throughout the entire state. The General Assembly saw fit to provide this law to eliminate the cost of keeping and feeding prisoners during this depression on the state, county and cities and at the same time save the poor unfortunate human the expense of paying a fine at a time when his money was most needed to support his family.

Due to the failure of the different courts to take advantage of this law, the attorney general's office at Frankfort saw fit through the columns of the press to criticize the courts for failure to take advantage of this law. Now this may not be a good law, but it is the law whether we like it or dislike it. And if elected I will apply this law to first offenders should the offense be of a nature to justify it.

I believe every unfortunate one caught in the Police net especially those whom I know to be in destitute circumstances should be given the advantage of this law and not placed in jail, thereby depriving his family of his support at a time when it is most needed. At the same time eliminating the cost to the city of keeping him. He will be sent home with the admonition not to return to the police court the second time.

2. I will, if elected, to this office treat every one brought before me with every courtesy due any human let he or she be rich or poor. Guaranteeing every offender a trial by jury should he so desire.

3. To you fathers and mothers, let me say that should your boy come before me I would treat him with the same kind and courteous treatment and advise him as though he were my own boy. He will not be subjected to any embarrassment and held to ridicule before the public as is usually the rule in most Police Courts. They will be in kind hands and handled in the same manner as my own should they be caught in like circumstances. I believe all fathers and mothers feel as I do about that.

You don't know what time your boy is going to be caught in the police net, neither do I know when mine will be caught, but in either case rest assured yours will receive the same consideration and be handled with the same kindly hands as my own.

If you approve of these policies and would like to have a man for your Police Judge who would carry them out to the best of his ability, then go to the polls Tuesday, November 5, and vote for me and I will exhaust every effort to carry them out.

The citizens have never considered the office of Police Judge of any importance, but it is far more important than it has usually been considered. Law and order in our little city is at stake. The Police Court if properly conducted is your medium of punishment to law violators if caught.

I believe I am capable of looking after your interests and will pledge you my very best efforts in carrying out your desires.

Furthermore, should I fail to measure up to just what you are entitled to, I will gladly step down and give some man a chance who will.

Should you endorse the policies I have set forth in this appeal for your support, then help me put them across by using your influence and power for me on Tuesday, November 5.

I am running on the ticket, known as the Square Deal Ticket with my picture under same as my emblem, and a vote under it will be appreciated and will be your guarantee of an honest effort should I be elected.

Candidate For Police Judge
City Of Morehead.

who also approve of the program of the national administration believing it has more chance to succeed in its application to a state under a Democratic Administration than with a Republican governor at Frankfort.

But above all and everything else shines the personality of "Happy".

For weeks the story of his rise from a humble beginning in life, in a little village in Henderson county has been on the lips of thousands of men and women.

They approve of his fight to gain a place for himself in the sun of Kentucky politics and the affairs of his state.

They admire his youth and his enthusiasm, if pressed hard enough the most of them will admit they have a feeling akin to love for him down in their hearts.

Whatever it is "Happy" has "it" and that "it" is certain to carry him into the governor's chair on November 5 when the voters trek to the polls to determine who shall have charge of the destinies of the commonwealth for the next four years.

Those who are in doubt prepare now to vote the newest and brightest figure in Kentucky politics, "Happy" Chandler.

Before You Vote For Members City Council Nov. 5, Study the Record

Accomplishments of the present city council: The People's Ticket.

1. When this council was elected two years ago, the streets were very poorly lighted; people were being held up and robbed on the main streets of the town; citizens feared to go out at night. Upon being inducted into office as councilmen we lighted the streets of Morehead and can now boast one of the best lighted towns in Eastern Ky.
2. Secured a material reduction in electric rates for the citizens amounting to approximately $3,000.00 per year.
3. Employed an extra policeman.
4. Extended the sewer line 4000 feet.
5. Made necessary repairs to streets and bridges.
6. Provided city jail facilities in the city hall, this eliminated the large monthly expenditure to the county for boarding city prisoners.
7. Secured maintenance of Main Street by State, Highway Department.
8. Instrumental in getting Main Street rebuilt and widened by the State.
9. Negotiated and agreed with the Board of Regents a fine Morehead State Teachers College for use, by the citizens, of water to be furnished by Kentucky's most modern water plant at no increase in water rates.
10. Passed numerous ordinances for the betterment of health conditions and the welfare of the citizens.
11. Purchased fire truck (not yet delivered), sufficient hose and other fire-fighting equipment to keep the fire insurance rates from being raised.
12. Will close our two years in office with more money in the treasury than was on hand when we took large monthly expenditure to the office.

WHEN ELECTED TWO YEARS AGO THIS COUNCIL PROMISED TO CARRY OUT ITS PROGRAM WITHOUT ANY INCREASE IN THE TAX RATE—THIS PROMISE HAS BEEN CARRIED OUT TO THE LETTER.

1. We have already applied for, and the Federal Government has donated $50,000.00 for city improvements. With this money we propose to:
 - a. Install a municipal gas system
 - b. Install a sewage disposal plant and incinerator.
 - c. Build a city jail building.
 - d. Pave streets and lay side walks.
2. We propose to practice the same rigid economy as has been practiced during the past two years.

We respectfully solicit your support for this THE PEOPLES TICKET, at the city election to be held November 5, 1935.

CHINA SEAS

CHAPTER FIVE

Her rage died into a strange humility as Gaskell's eyes flickered over her contemptuously. The look in his face shocked her beyond words.

"What a vicious slut you are—turning on your own people!"

"Well—why not?" Again her anger bubbled to the surface. "You did your double-cross on me, didn't you? You were supposed to be my partner—the same—only you're still head man, and I'm hooked into a piracy. All right—let it ride. If you hadn't been playing high and mighty with me, nothing would have happened—if you're only listened when I came to your cabin to warn you."

Gaskell did not answer for a long time. The grim look of the inquirer faded as his steady eyes stared into China Doll's. A vast aggressive weight seemed lifted from his shoulders. He said softly: "So that's why you came to my cabin—to warn me. You weren't in it until then?"

"No," said China Doll faintly.

Jamesy was dead drunk in his cabin—and I found the trunk-banknote in his wallet and I knew what it meant."

"You fool! You hot-headed, crazy little fool!" snapped Gaskell, but there was that in his tone which made the words a caress.

I didn't think said China Doll faintly, "anybody'd be hurt."

Jamesy McArdle was swaying in the deck, his face greenish. "Look a hill," he gasped. "Make me sleep to—Kingston come."

It was all over in a minute. Jamesy would answer in a higher court.

Gaskell summoned the Sergeant of the Guard. Quietly, regretfully, he ordered: "Take Miss Portland to her cabin and put a guard over her."

The King Lung, somewhat the worse for wear, was being warped into her Singapore dock. In the chart room Sybil Barclay, dressed for shore studying Gaskell, whose face bore the marks of the battle he had been fighting with himself.

"Sybil," he burst out unhappily, "don't you think it's best for you to leave for England? I want you to escape all the dirty scandal that will come out at China Doll's trial. I'll have to get up in court and tell the whole story—because I'm almost as guilty as she."

"Guilty! Nonsense. How could you be?"

She came to warn me about McArdle. I wouldn't listen. He limped about the flag on his tortured feet. I nearly threw her out—with as dirty an insult as a man could throw at a woman. I don't know why—except that I'd seen her in McArdle's cabin—into her understanding smile came a strange tenderness, a solace to a previous dream that had vanished. She put her hands on his shoulders.

"I came fifteen thousand miles to find you, Alan," she said gently. "And now you're farther away than you ever were."

"I think that what I've been trying to tell you," he looked at her frankly, "is that—don't you change to something I can never be again?"

"Yes," she nodded with self-pity. "Perhaps I am. And I think that's the only beautiful way it could ever be, Goodby, Alan."

"Good-bye, Sybil." He kissed her tenderly on the lips and she smiled up at him proudly. He had not failed himself. She turned quickly and went out the door, just as the Purser entered.

"The bank's sent for the gold, sir," he said, with the amusement of one who shares a good joke.

"Give it to them," Gaskell handed the startled Purser a key. It's in the tool box of the steam boiler."

He left the Purser stammering in amusement, and limped to China Doll's cabin. She was smoking a cigarette with a casual air. Gaskell looked at her with grim silence and deep affection.

"Police commissioner ready?" she asked.

He nodded, caught her arm and led her to his quarters. "Now listen to me, Dumbkull—my official job is when I turn you over to the police commissioner. From then on I'll be on your side of the fence."

"In a pig's eye you will! What do you want to do that for, you big sap?"

"You're going to do exactly as you're told."

"Oh, Alan—the least I can do is plead guilty and take what's coming to me."

"You're going to tell the truth—and so am I, you stubborn contrary half-wit! Behind his harshness lay desperate appeal.

"Please, Alan—it's awfully sweet of you—" China Doll showed signs of breaking. "But it won't do me any good getting you mixed up in this mess—you know the horrible things they'll ask both of us—"

"I'm not worrying about that."

"What about—her?" No need to ask whom she meant.

"She's gone back to England."

Blankly China Doll stared at him. "You don't have a row with her on account of me?"

Gaskell shook his head. "Can't help myself, Dolly. Couldn't quit you if I wanted to. I loved her—always will—but not the way I love you."

His confession roused her to humility and tragic protest. Her eyes filled with tears and she stretched his arms pleading: "No, no—it's not right—a no-good dame like me I'll always bring you trouble—"

"No you won't," he denied with a sudden grin. "Married life will show you down—don't worry."

"Me?" she said slowly, incredulously. "You'd marry—me?"

Her pathetic disbelief rasped his temper to a brusque retort. "Not if you're going to make it such a blasted favor—"

For an instant China Doll stood trembling, trying to find words to suppress the aching happiness that welled up within her. She took hold of his hands, kissed them gratefully and he pulled them away quickly and lifted her up until her glorious golden head was level with his own.

"You gorgeous, marvelous sap choked China Doll."

"I'll be over," said Gaskell quietly, "as soon as I get through here—and anything you want—"

"Quit that!" snapped China Doll. "Don't you see—you've got me torn to pieces—already!" She grabbed the officer's arm. "Come on—I can't stand any more!"

She tugged the police commissioner down the deck, Gaskell hobbled to the door and started after her. His strong face softened by a smile which lighted it. Sir Alan came into the cabin, patted Gaskell on the shoulder understandingly.

"I'd better hurry around to court, growled Captain Gaskell. "Somebody ought to protect the judge."

REFRIGERATING FRUIT

Experiments in the refrigeration of fruit on the farm and its transportation in a chilled state from the source of production to the point of utilization are being conducted by the railroad companies of Great Britain according to a report to the Leamington district office of the Department of Commerce. It has been determined that if fruit is chilled immediately it is picked and packed in specially constructed refrigeration vans, whole fruit jam can be manufactured from fruit that would ordinarily have to be pulped. This new method of preserving is particularly applicable to districts where certain fruits are grown intensively.

College Theatre Features Musical Hit Of The Season

When a girl discovers that the man she has fallen in love with is the husband of her best friend, what's to be done about it? That's the question Ginger Rogers answers in "Top Hat." RKO Radio's colorful musical romance, scored by Irving Berlin, which centers her with Fred Astaire. It all happens when Ginger makes a perfectly natural mistake in identities. And after that mistake, things occur fast, furiously and feverishly. London and the Lido are the backgrounds for this gay, tuneful production which presents Astaire and Miss Rogers at their dancing and singing best. Featured among the sensational new terpsichorean creations introduced by the stars is the original number, the "Piccolino," which is acclaimed as more brilliant than the "Carolina" or "Continental." Previous Astaire-Rogers dance hits: Edward Everett Horton, Helen Broderick, Erik Rhodes and Eric Blore head the cast supporting the co-stars.

Orchestra Substitutes On WCMI Broadcast

Keith Davis Directs Musical Group in Initial Broadcast.

Due to the absence of Lewis H. Horton, who was attending the funeral of his mother, the Morehead State Teachers College orchestra substituted for the Foster Choral Club in the broadcast over W C M I, Ashland, Thursday afternoon at 2:30.

The orchestra, Keith Davis, conductor, presented the "Miserere" from Mozart, G Minor Symphony, "Valse Triste" by Sibelius, "Norwegian Dance" by Grieg, the "Andante" from the Surprise Symphony of Haydn, and Ravel's "Bolero."

This program was the first of a series which will be broadcast by the college over the Ashland station. The programs will be broadcast each Thursday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. Central Standard Time. Particulars of the program next Thursday were not available at press time.

The personnel of the orchestra is as follows: William Toran, concertmaster, Virginia Harpham and Evelynne Thompson, first violin; George Bachford and Alton Payne, second violin; Christine Thaw, viola; Evelyn Harpham, Marion Louise Oppenheimer, Amy Irene Moore, cello; Marvin E. George and Leo Oppenheimer, bass violin; Casper Bost, flute; Kathleen Shinkle,

A picture that probably sets the sound track in a single evening's entertainment is the latest feat of Hollywood. In line with the growing popularity of music on the screen, "Here Comes the Band," in which ninety-seven per cent of all sound track contains harmony in special numbers, sequences, or underscoring.

Featuring Ted Lewis and his orchestra, the production follows the fortunes of an army band from the armistice to 1935. In radio, Armistice Day reunion, parade and other scenes of music is introduced. Songs, comedy, specialties and other novelties are woven into the main theme. The picture comes Wednesday and Thursday October 30 and 31 to the Cozy Theatre.

The story itself centers about a song, "Headin' Home," by Herbert Stothart and Ned Washington. This is a blend of all typical American music, and in a fictional plagiarism suit over it the authorship is proved by a demonstration in court, in which Indians, hill billies, Negroes, cowboys and others sing in choruses, component parts of the music originating in their folk songs. In this court room ensemble a chorus of forty Negroes for spirituals, twelve Indians, including one squaw, six authentic hill-billies, and a double quartet of authentic cowboy singers feature.

Fail of Pompeii

In the Last Days of Pompeii, when the Roman spectacle-all the barbaric splendor of first-century Roman Rome has been brought to the screen. Notable are the savage game held in the arenas of the Roman Empire. Hand-to-hand conflicts of gladiator against gladiator and man against beast serve to visualize the Roman holiday of fact and fiction.

The private lives of rich Romans are also shown in the film. Living in marble palaces, they spent a good ly portion of their time in riotous feasting and drinking. Slaves waited upon their slightest wish, and beautiful dancing girls gathered round the four corners of the far flung Roman Empire, provided further glamour to their revels.

Preston Foster heads the cast, which includes Alan Hale, Basil Rathbone, Louis Calhern, John Wood, David Holt, Dorothy Wilson and Wylene Birch.

was county is to the effect that Rowan and Bath counties will take turns at the office of State representative. This year, according to the gentlemen's agreement, is Bath county's turn.

Citizens of Bath county have held rigidly to the agreement at all most any time they chose to do so, they could have elected their representative simply by nominating him. They have graciously refrained from doing so. Democrats of Rowan county should consider carefully whether they want to break that agreement. Frankly, to break it is to say in effect to Bath county citizens that Rowan county is withing to do away with the agreement, which will mean but one thing, that Bath county will be in a position to elect the Representative from now on.

A vote for J. J. Thomas is a vote to keep the agreement.
