The Election of Judges.

The Hersid of Fridsy says: "We know that an election of Judges by the people will be a paris contest in Kentucky, as it is in other States." This, we take as a fire admission that public opinion demands a change from the precent plan of anominties them, and that it will be fair admession that public opinion de-munds a change from the present plan of appointing them, and that it will be made a question at the polls in August next. We are pleased at this admission, because the Herald has already taken a sand in opposition to a choice by the people, and declared in favor of the old English system of appointing them; and we can now have an opportunity of dis-cussing the menties of the question, and leaving the people to dec's the matter in August next, provided our friend does not back out from the investigation. The only argument which he urges, an upport of the perpetuation of the pow-or, seems to be based on the supposition that a man when may one his elevation to office to the popular will of the peoples, will be incapable of doing justice to liti-gants, and thus the ends of justice to liti-gants, and thus the ends of justice will be defeated. Now, we are well aware that defeated. Now, we are well aware that most men have their partisities said their prejudices, and that injustice is not unfrequently done to parties, owing to their influences; but we deny that the man who may be elected to office, is more liable to be governed in his decisions by these partialities and prejudices, than he who holds his appointment from the Covernor, or Legislature. If the one is under tobligation to friends who have elected him, the other is under like bijustations to

The editor seems to have forgoten that his own paper is the quinteesance of stupidity, boiled about and he, lawyer-like, once undertook (according to ancient tradition,) to manage a notable cow case. He seems to know how to saddle his own foibles upon others, but whenever he attempt to finite rhis dolt-headed stupidity upon us, he is certain to exhibit his folly as well as his other seeds points.

In Breadstuffs the trade has been steady since the 1st, with an upward tendency. The market news is somewhat duller.—American Flour brings 26e27s for Western, and same for Philadelphia and terra, and same for Philadelphia and the 10th owner of the 10th owner owner.

American and Consider Philadelphia and ohio American and Canadian white When To 3 to 7 640 per 70 lbs. Red 6 6 dt to 7s. Indian Corn has declined to 90a,31 for white and 31s 6 db.32 for 7 yellow.

There has been a great demand for Cotton the past fortight. The sales for this week ending Feb. 1st. comprised 67.70 bales, of which 31,530 bales were American. Prices were scarcely changed the sales of the sales for the sale products have been in fair demand at re-munerating prices decidedly encourag-ing from the manufaceturing districts.

The Stock market is improving, and American and English Securities are again on the advance of 3 with prospects of fairner ins. Large amounts changed hands. Pennsylvanis 5 x74 to 75; Con-cubic for more yellowed at 924. Money continues abundant, and first class bills are discounted at 2 per cent.
