FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Family entertainment will be featured each evening during Morehead State University's 11th annual Appalachian Celebration June 21-27.

The events, scheduled daily at 7:30 p.m., all will be free this year, according to Pete McNeill, special projects coordinator for MSU's Office of Regional Services.

Highlighting the evening entertainment activities will be a performance by the famed McLain Family Band from Berea. Scheduled to play in concert on Thursday, June 25, in the Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center, the McLain Family Band will provide the music for a post-concert public dance.

Now almost as much a tradition as the Celebration itself, the Gathering of Traditional Musicians is slated for Friday, June 26, Duncan Recital Hall.

The program will feature such favorites as Alfred Bailey, the White Horse String Band, J.P. Fraley, Estill Bingham and a Salyersville group, the Bottom of the Barrell Bunch. Dr. Gene Young, MSU associate professor of English, is coordinating the "Gathering."

Launching the week on Sunday, June 21, will be a reception from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., hosted by MSU's Department of Art, in the gallery of Claypool-Young Art Building. In addition to the exhibit, "Building on the Past: Significant Works from the First 25 Years of the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen," will be live music by local mountain musicians.

Champion clogger Scotty McKee will lead an evening of clogging and square dancing on Monday, June 22, in the Crager Room, ADUC, McKee also will teach clogging classes--beginning and intermediate--as well as mountain square dancing during the Celebration.

Celebration scholars-in-residence Michael Williams and Marilou Awiatka will be featured on Tuesday's evening program in the Eagle Room, ADUC. A master storyteller, Williams also is a Methodist minister. Awiatka is a noted Cherokee/Appalachian poet and activist.

Gospel Music Night on Wednesday, June 24, will include such diverse groups as the Applegate Family, the Morehead Church of God Choir, the Lighthouse Gospel Quartet, the Scottaires, the Johnson First Church of God Choir and Mervil Whitt. The program, slated for Button Auditorium, is being arranged by C. Roger Lewis of Morehead.

On Saturday, June 27, the Celebration will close with another public dance, led again by McKee, in the Crager Room, ADUC.

The Appalachian Celebration, an annual campus summer event, is designed to emphasize the rich cultural heritage of the region through classes, concerts, exhibits, displays and demonstrations.

Additional information on Celebration events is available from McNeill at (606) 783-2077.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Maj. Gen. Billy G. Wellman, Kentucky adjutant general, will be the opening speaker for the 47th session of Kentucky Boys' State to be held at Morehead State University June 7-12.

More than 300 youth from across the state will participate in mock government sessions designed to provide practical lessons in city and state government. The program is sponsored each year by the Kentucky American Legion.

Kentucky Girls' State, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, will be held at MSU June 8-13. Boys' and Girls' State delegates will have the opportunity to observe a special meeting of Morehead's city council, set for 7:30 p.m. Monday, June 8, in Button Auditorium.

Gen. Wellman, will address Boys' State delegates on Sunday, June 7, at 7:30 p.m. in Breckinridge Auditorium. The Ashland native and MSU alumnus began his full-time career with the Kentucky National Guard in 1957 as a personnel officer and in 1960 became staff assistant for the 201st Engineer Battalion which he later commanded.

He held various other posts with the State Headquarters before being named adjutant general by former Gov. Julian M. Carroll in 1977. Reappointed to the post by former Gov. John Y. Brown in 1977, he also served Gov. Brown as Justice Cabinet secretary and Kentucky State Police commissioner. Gov. Martha Layne Collins reappointed him as adjutant general in December 1983.

Throughout the week, Boys' State delegates will be gaining practical lessons in government at the state and city level. They will develop a two-party political system and serve as legislators, introducing, debating and acting on bills as in the Kentucky General Assembly. They also will elect officials for mythical cities.

On Friday, June 12, the elected state officials will meet with their real life counterparts in Frankfort.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--The 41st Kentucky Girls' State convention will be held on the Morehead State University campus, June 8-13.

Sponsored by the Kentucky American Legion Auxiliary, the convention will be attended by high school juniors from across the state.

Girls' State participants will obtain practical experience in the state's governmental process by holding caucuses, organizing a two party system and writing bills. A highlight of the week will be selection of state officers who will travel to Frankfort to visit their counterparts.

Convention activities will include attending a meeting of the Morehead City Council. Various state, county and local officials are expected to be guest speakers during the week.

Kentucky Boys' State will meet on the MSU campus during the same period.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University will honor noted naturalist and former faculty member Dr. Roger W. Barbour on Wednesday, June 10, at a public reception in Camden-Carroll Library.

The reception, sponsored by the library and MSU's Department of Biological and Environmental Sciences, will be held from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. on the fifth floor of the library.

Dr. Barbour, who taught at MSU in the late 1930s and early 1940s has presented the University with a collection of early Morehead photographs, a collection of animals he preserved during his teaching days at MSU and various memorabilia from a two-year stay in Indonesia.

The collections will be on display in the Barbour Room on the library's fifth floor, where the public may view them during the reception.

In addition, Dr. Barbour and his wife, the former Bernice Lewis, have funded grants for MSU graduate and undergraduate students to do field research on vertebrate animals in Eastern Kentucky for several years. His zoological collection is used by the Department of Biological and Environmental Sciences as a teaching aid as well.

A program to recognize Dr. Barbour's contributions to the MSU Foundation and the library is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Dr. Barbour enrolled in what was then Morehead State Teachers College at age 15 and upon graduation in 1938 already had completed his thesis field work for the master's degree which he earned at Cornell University.

Following his studies there, he returned to teach at MSU and, after serving in World War II, earned his doctorate from Cornell. He later joined the faculty at the University of Kentucky, where he retired as professor of zoology in 1985.

The co-author of several books, his publishing credits include "Wildflowers and Ferns of Kentucky," "Trees and Shrubs of Kentucky," "Kentucky Birds: A Finding Guide," "Turtles of the World" and "Inner Bluegrass of Kentucky." Dr. Barbour also is the author of "How to Catch a Skunk and Other Tales of a Field Biologist."

Dr. Barbour will be available to autograph copies of his works at the reception.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Rhonda L. Baldwin, a Morehead native, has been named coordinator of recruitment activities for Morehead State University.

According to Tim Rhodes, director of university enrollment services, the position was developed to coordinate recruiting activities both on campus and off.

Before, we divided recruiting between several people, Rhodes said. "This post provides for better coordination," he added.

Baldwin, who was previously the director of Cartmell Hall at MSU, will coordinate the Student Orientation and Registration (SOAR) program as well as off campus recruiting. She and two admissions counselors will travel to high schools in Kentucky and surrounding states for senior opportunity days.

A graduate of Wilmington College in Ohio, she received her B.A. degree in human services. She earned her M.A. degree in adult and higher education with a counseling emphasis at MSU.

While at Wilmington, Baldwin was named a leadership scholar and a faculty honor scholar. She also received a Presidential Leadership award. She is a member of the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators and the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators and the National Association of Campus Activities.

"I love the Morehead State University campus community and I'm highly excited about my new position and continuing my stay at MSU," Baldwin said.

She is the daughter of James and Ottielenna Baldwin of Pleasant Plain, Ohio.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Music will fill the air as part of the Appalachian Celebration at Morehead State University June 21-27.

Throughout the week, Gerry Gray, a southern Indiana native who plays the dulcimer and autoharp, will give free lessons in the Adron Doran University Center. Gray performs in state and national parks and has a new album called "Second-hand Heart."

Kentucky Arts Council Artist-in-Residence David Musser will present a workshop on Thursday in ADUC from 1 to 2:30 p.m. for elementary teachers and parents. The workshop deals with teaching elementary students traditional music on scaled-down instruments. Musser's program has been featured on KET's "Education Notebook" and in a KET documentary "Drop-Out Prevention Works." The fee is $10 and no prior music training is necessary.

Noon concerts will be featured daily, outside on the Camden-Carroll library lawn or in the Button Drill room if there is rain. Gray will perform on Monday along with cloggers from Rowan County Middle School. Pat Cleary, a balladeer from Fleming County, will perform on Tuesday. The C. Roger Lewis Group is scheduled for Wednesday.

On Thursday, the Berea Dancers will be featured. They perform regional folk dances displaying the heritage of the Appalachian area. Three acts are scheduled for Friday's noon concert. They are the White Horse String Band, the Rocky River Express from Fairborn, Ohio, and Milta Fryman of Oxford, Ohio who plays the banjo and sings old-fashioned tunes.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Fourteen Morehead State University theatre students will work in professional theatre in seven states this summer.

Dr. Travis Lockhart, assistant professor of theatre, estimates that these 14 students represent approximately 40 percent of the active students in the program.

The students received the positions through auditions and interviews, competing against students from across the country. Dr. Lockhart believes the exposure these students receive builds on the reputation of the MSU theatre program.

"Being in a smaller program, they get more experience and they get to do more than a student at a larger school," he said.

The students and their employers are:

Kevin Amburgey, Littcarr senior, "Unto These Hills," Cherokee, N.C.

Amburgey will be an actor and dancer. This is his second year with this production.

Octavia Biggs, Lebanon Junction spring graduate, National Shakespeare Conservatory, Kerhonkson, N.Y. Biggs will be an actress as well as a student.

Darin Blackburn, Elkhorn City freshman, "Young Abe Lincoln," Lincoln City, Ind. Blackburn will be an actor and technician.

Terry Cain, Paris spring graduate, "Stephen Foster Story," Bardstown. This is Cain's second year in Bardstown. He will be an actor and singer.

Jeffrey Caswell, Falmouth spring graduate, "Great Smokey Mountain Passion Play," Gatlinburg, Tenn., and "Damascus Road," Maryville, Tenn. Caswell is in his second year in "Great Smokey Mountain Passion Play" and will play Stephen, a major role in "Damascus Road."

Carl Curnutte, Ashland junior, "Sword of Peace," Snow Camp, N.C. Curnutte will be a costumer and actor.

Julie Jones, Cynthiana junior, "Unto These Hills," Cherokee, N.C. Jones will not only be an actress, but a dancer and technician.

Tara Lail, Cynthiana junior, "Young Abe Lincoln," Lincoln City, Ind. Lail will be an actress and stage manager.

Christopher Marshall, Union City, Ohio, graduate student, King's Island in Cincinnati. Marshall will be a master electrician.

Karen O'Baker, Geneva, Ohio, junior, "Trumpet in the Land," New Philadelphia, Ohio.

Doug Salisbury, Wheelwright graduate student, Kings Island in Cincinnati. Salisbury is a lighting technician and crew chief. This is Salisbury's second year with Kings Island.

Ralph Wall, Cedar Island, N.C., junior, "Viking at Valchatel," Valchatel, Minn. Wall has a major acting role.

Van Wilburn, Grahn sophomore, "Lost Colony," Manteo, N.C. Wilburn will be a technician as well as actor.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.-- A Morehead State University administrator has been named a Fulbright-Hays Fellow for summer 1987 and will present a series of lectures in the People's Republic of China.

Dr. Larry W. Jones, dean of MSU's College of Professional Studies, was chosen along with 14 other scholars nationwide to be a consultant to the colleges and universities in the northern provinces of Liaoning and Xingjiang in China.

The delegation will spend six weeks, from July 6- Aug. 14, visiting various colleges and universities in the two provinces.

The delegation, composed mainly of college deans and two public school superintendents, will advise the Chinese on improving the educational programs of the country, according to Dr. Jones.

Only four percent of the Chinese have access to higher education. The figure is almost 40 percent in the United States, he said.

Dr. Jones sees the trip as a cultural exchange and hopes that MSU can benefit from it. "I hope it will enable individuals from the MSU academic community to make some future contacts with the Chinese. Perhaps the University could set up an exchange program for students and professors," Dr. Jones said.

Dr. Jones came to MSU in fall 1986 from Bloomsburg (Pa.) University. At Bloomsburg, he was provost and vice president for academic affairs and also served as interim president and acting president there.

Dr. Jones received his bachelor's and master's degrees from North Dakota State University. He obtained his doctorate at the University of Oregon in administration and policy analysis. His most recent post-doctoral work was completed at the Institute for Educational Management, part of the Graduate School of Business at Harvard University.

In the past, Dr. Jones has received fellowships from the Bush Foundation, the Mott Foundation and the American Council on Education.

Dr. Jones and his wife, Dr. Ellen B. Barker, are the parents of two children.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.-- "I believe in you because you are the future of America," said Maj. Gen. Billy G. Wellman, Kentucky adjutant general speaking to the approximately 300 young men attending Boys' State this week at Morehead State University.

"When I look into your faces, it motivates me, because you have so much to give," he added.

Wellman addressed the first general session of the 47th session of Boys' State, sponsored by the American Legion.

Wellman stressed that older Americans have an obligation to the youth of America.

"If they fail, it is our responsibility. We have a responsibility to pass on the principles, morals and values that built this great country," he said.

A native of Ashland and former delegate to Boys' State, Wellman began his full-time career with the National Guard in 1957 as a personnel officer and in 1960 became staff assistant for the 201st Engineer Battalion of which he later became commander.

He held various other posts with the State Headquarters before being named adjutant general by former Gov. Jullian M. Carroll in 1977. Carroll is scheduled to address the Boys' State graduation banquet on Friday.

This week the delegates will participate in mock government learning practical lessons in state and local government.

State and local officials will be elected to represent their state and six mythical cities. General assembly sessions will be held with delegates introducing, debating and passing bills.

On Friday, state officials will travel to Frankfort to meet their real-life counterparts.

Girls' State is also being held this week at MSU.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Two teachers from Morehead State's Child Development Lab will lead the Children's Workshop at the Appalachian Celebration June 21-27.

This is the second year that Karen Hammons and Jeanne Huie have conducted the workshops.

The workshops are scheduled weekdays from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. for children ages six to 12.

Activities include games, crafts, songs and story-telling. The children also will participate in other Celebration events, such as the noon concerts, demonstrations, exhibits and the mid-week petting zoo and animal exhibition.

"We try to emphasize the relation between the past, the present, and the future in all the activities we do," Hammons said. "This year we want to do canning, for example, and one of the new activities will be stenciling," she added.

Cost of the workshop is $20 per day or $80 for the entire week if registered before June 15. The children should bring their lunch, but snacks will be provided, Hammons said.

Now in its 11th year, the Appalachian Celebration is an event designed to emphasize the rich cultural heritage of the region.

Additional information and registration may be obtained from Hammons or Huie, UPO Box 889, MSU, Morehead, Ky 40351. Telephone: (606) 783-2106.

MOREHEAD, Ky. -- "I think that the next president of the United States will come from the U.S. Senate or House of Representatives," said U.S. Rep. Carroll Hubbard, 1st District of Kentucky.

He was responding to a question as to whom he thought would win the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

"Jimmy Carter was a former governor of the state of Georgia; Ronald Reagan was the governor of California," he said. "That is why I think the next president will be from the U.S. Congress," Hubbard added.

Hubbard spoke and fielded questions Monday, June 8, from more than 600 youth present at Kentucky Boys' and Girls' State under way at Morehead State University.

Challenging the high school seniors who will study state and local government this week, Hubbard urged the delegates to become active in government by voting.

"Those in politics today yearn for young people to take part in politics and government. Unfortunately, the great number of young people are not registered to vote," he said. "Be proud of your country and take an active part," he added.

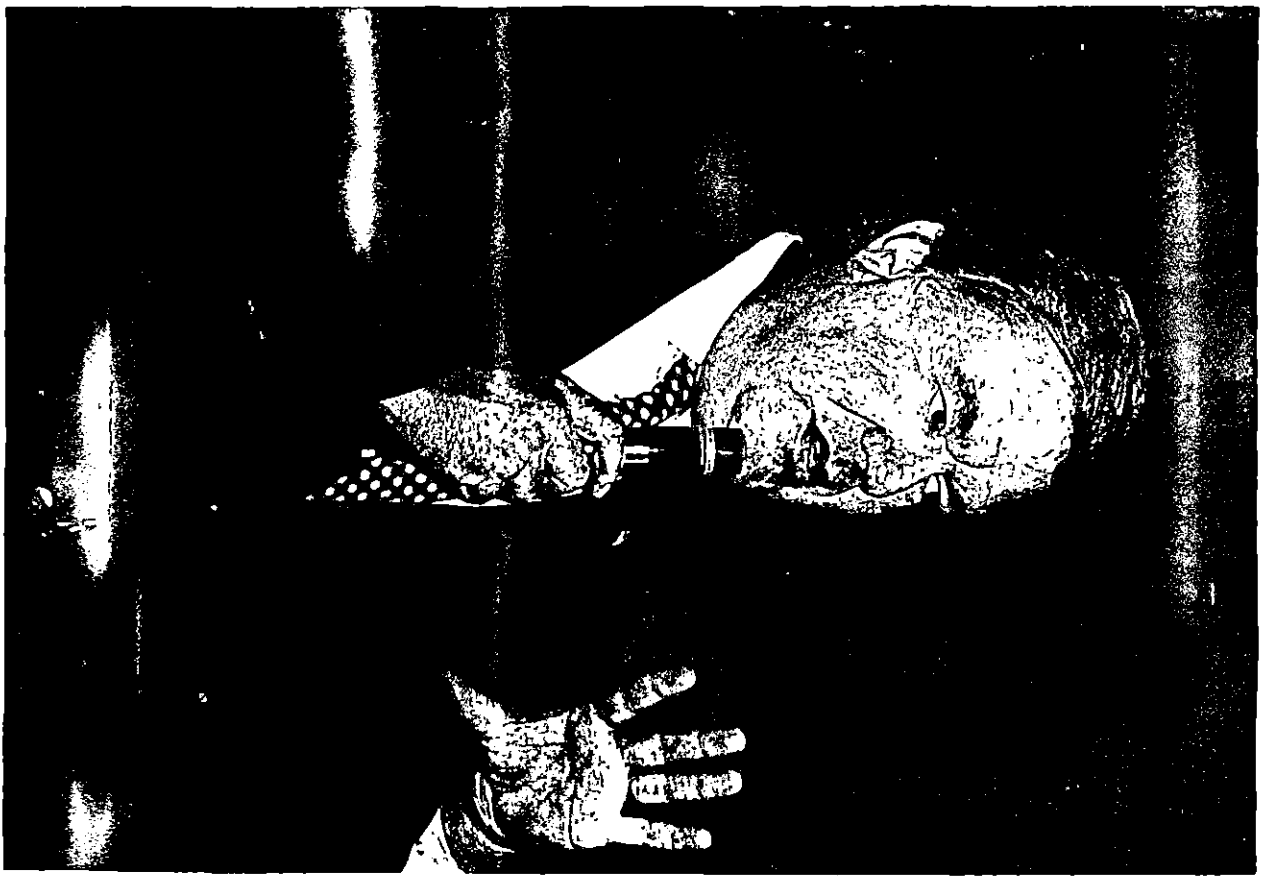

A native of Mayfield, Hubbard was first elected to Congress in November 1974. He has served in House leadership as an at-large whip, appointed by former Speaker of the House Tip O'Neill. He is the chairman of the subcommittee on General Oversight and Investigation of House Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs.

Other political leaders will address Boys' and Girls' State delegates throughout the week, including John Harper, Republican gubernatorial nominee, Janet Farmer of the Kentucky Association of Counties and Gov. Martha Layne Collins.

Former Gov. Julian Carroll will be the keynote speaker at the graduation banquet for Boys' State on Friday.

Boys' and Girls' State is a practical lesson in state and city government in which the delegates participate in mock government sessions. Boys' State is sponsored by the Kentucky American Legion and Girls' State is sponsored by the Kentucky American Legion Auxiliary.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Creston Daniel Rudolph of Paducah, a senior at Lone Oak High School, was elected governor of the 47th session of Kentucky Boys' State under way at Morehead State university this week (June 7-12).

Running on a platform that included permitting state officials to succeed themselves, Rudolph was chosen by the other 332 delegates from across the state attending the program sponsored by the American Legion.

Rudolph, son of Creston and Mae Rudolph, also would like to see legislation passed to raise the tax on alcohol, with revenue going to alcohol abuse programs.

He said that he believes it should be harder for convicts to be paroled, citing that the average prisoner only serves one-fifth of his sentence. His solution would be to create a parole board composed of corrections officers, victims of the crime and jury members.

Concerning education, Rudolph said that there should be "much tougher qualifications" for teachers and merit pay based on classroom observations. He also believes prayer should be put back into the schools.

"This country was founded under God and the Christian religion," Rudolph said.

A 4.0 student, he also is a Governor Scholar. His other activities include track, National Honor Society and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

A member of the Nationalist party, Rudolph called for unity among the delegates.

"I want to work with people, not parties," he said.

Michael E. Wolfe of Benton was elected lieutenant governor. The son of Phillip and Judy Wolfe, he is a senior at Marshall County High School. He was an All Western Ky. Conference linebacker and has received a nomination to the U.S. Military Academy from U.S. Sen. Mitch McConnell.

Thomas A. Becket will serve as secretary of state. The son of Harlan Whitman of Henderson, Beckett is a senior at Henderson County High School. He is active in the science club, debate team and church youth group.

Jerry W. Huffman of Louisville will be superintendent of public instruction. Huffman is the son of Sylvia Dycus and a senior at the Kentucky School for the Deaf. He is a member of Student Council, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and runs cross country.

Christopher S. Blair, a senior at Elizabethtown High School, was elected commissioner of agriculture. He is the son of Leon and Patsy Blair of Rineyville. Blair plays football and is involved in Students Against Drunk Drivers and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Ray L. Dunn, the son of Ray and Gayle Dunn of Hazel, is the attorney general. He is a senior at Calloway County High School and a member of the tennis team, Beta Club and Just Say No club.

Gordon Hippe of Frankfort is state treasurer. He is the son of Doug and Diane Hippe and a senior at Frankfort High School. Hippe plays basketball and is a member of Key Club.

Troy M. Wilson, a senior at Williamstown Independent High School, is the railroad commissioner. Wilson is a member of Beta Club and plays football and runs track. He is the son of Bill and Anita Nelson.

During the week, the delegates introduce, debate and pass legislation which they originate. The bills which are passed will be sent to the Legislative Research Committee in Frankfort for review.

On Friday, the state elected officials from Boys' State and Girls' State, also meeting this week at MSU, will travel to Frankfort to meet their real-life counterparts.

A graduation honoring Boys' State delegates will be held Friday night. Former Gov. Julian Carroll will be the featured speaker.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--"The whole world is open to you and you can do anything you set out to do."

This was the message John Harper, Kentucky Republican gubernatorial candidate from Shepherdsville, presented to the more than 300 delegates at the 41st annual Kentucky Girls' State convention being held on the Morehead State University campus.

Harper and Janet M. Farmer, legislative assistant with the Kentucky Association of Counties (KACo), were speakers Tuesday, June 9, at separate sessions of the convention.

In his talk at the morning session, Harper stressed the importance of learning the workings of state government and being willing to accept the challenge of getting involved.

After discussing the history of ancient Rome and the events that lead to its fall, Harper compared it to Kentucky's current situation. "Rome was beset by enemies, from without and from within, and the leadership was not up to the task," Harper said. "We must prevent the same attitudes and conditions from permeating our commonwealth."

In the 12th day of his statewide campaign in the gubernatorial race, Harper stated that Kentucky's serious financial problems must be addressed head-on and resolved so the state can move forward.

"We have lost so many jobs because of people moving out of state," he continued. "My platform in running for governor is to restore prosperity to Kentucky by attracting and keeping jobs and industry here," he added.

Harper emphasized that economic development, education and transportation are necessary if the state is to move forward.

As the afternoon speaker, Farmer urged the Girls' Staters to learn as much about state and local government as possible because it "touches every avenue of your lives."

"Understanding the governmental process gives you greater control of your life," she said. "You are the do'ers; you can accomplish many things. Everything you learn here will be most helpful," she added.

A 1958 Girls' Stater, Farmer discussed local and county government structures and the interrelationships of these units with the state government. Kentucky's one merged county/city government and how it differs from the normal county/city entities was also explained.

The Girls' State delegates are spending the week writing bills, holding caucuses and preparing for election of state officers. Once chosen, the officers will travel to Frankfort on Friday to meet their counterparts.

Girls' State, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, is a practical learning experience in state government. Highlights of the remaining activities of the week-long convention (June 8-13) will include a visit from Gov. Martha Layne Collins on Thursday; an Inaugural Banquet with Sandra Varellas, County Judge Executive of Fayette County, as the guest speaker, and election of Girls' Nation delegates on Saturday.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University incoming freshman Melinda C. Clark of Morehead is one of four recipients of Kentucky Publishing Company Scholarships for 1987-88.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Clark, she also received a Kentucky Journalism Foundation Scholarship from the Kentucky Press Association.

Returning student-holders of Kentucky Publishing Company Scholarships are Ashland sophomore Lynne Fisher, Kimper senior Terry L. May and Mt. Sterling senior Kevin Goldy.

The scholarships, awarded annually since 1978, are renewable if the students maintain a 3.0 g.p.a. in all journalism courses, according to W. David Brown, associate professor and coordinator of the journalism program.

The scholarships are designed to encourage area students to pursue a career in journalism, Brown noted. Freshman recipients are selected based on high school records and teacher recommendations.

Clark, who graduated earlier this month from Rowan County Senior High School, was a finalist in the journalism competition of the Sweet 16 Academic Showcase. At RCSHS, she was editor of the Viking Voice, the school newspaper, during her junior and senior years. She also was a member of the President's Council and speech team.

A delegate to Kentucky Girls' State last year, she is active in the youth program at Johnson First Church of God. She has received several awards for her scholastic and community activities, including a National Leadership and Service Award for Excellence.

"We are indebted to the Kentucky Publishing Company for its continued generosity which over the years has enabled a substantial number of the department's outstanding students to continue their education at Morehead State," said Dr. Richard Dandeneau, chair of MSU's Department of Communications. "Many of these former students are now award-winning community journalists," he added.

The Kentucky Publishing Company publishes the Morehead News, Olive Hill Times, Grayson Journal-Enquirer, Greenup News, The Shopping News and Menifee County News.

MOREHEAD, Ky.-- As part of the Appalachian Celebration being held June 21-27 at Morehead State University, three scholars-in-residence will conduct workshops for writers and present poetry readings and storytelling sessions.

The three scholars-in-residence are: famed storyteller Michael Williams, Cherokee/Appalachian poet Marilou Awiakta and H. Hilton Smith, editor of the Foxfire books.

Williams, an ordained United Methodist minister, is currently the director of preaching ministries for the United Methodist board of discipleship in Nashville, Tenn. In addition, Williams is a published playwright, poet, and author. He has conducted workshops nationwide.

Williams graduated from Vanderbilt University with a B.A. degree in English and drama. He received his doctorate from Northwestern University in religion and speech/theater.

Awiakta is the author of two books and numerous articles and poems. Originally from Oak Ridge, Tenn., she earned her B.A. degree in French and English from the University of Tennessee, graduating magna cum laude.

"All of my work is within the holistic Native American tradition of art," Awiakta said. "The true artist must help create a disease free environment; that is, to help create harmony and healing," she added.

Scholar-in-residence Smith has been the editor and education consultant for the acclaimed Foxfire books since 1984. A former social studies teacher, Smith taught in the Downtown Learning Center in Atlanta, an alternative high school. In addition, he has taught in Ohio public schools and in Fulton County, Ga.

On Tuesday, June 23, both Williams and Awiakta will participate in the Jesse Stuart Symposium in the Adron Doran University Center. The two also will give a storytelling and poetry reading program in ADUC at 7:30 p.m.

According to Dr. Gene Young, associate professor of English, all three scholar-in-residence will be guest lecturers in Dr. Rose Orlich's creative writing workshop course being taught Summer I.

Williams and Awiakta will conduct storytelling sessions and discussions Wednesday and Thursday, June 24-25, in ADUC at 6:30 p.m.

Smith will explain the history and concept of the Foxfire series, now consisting of nine books. Sessions will be on the fifth floor of the library on Wednesday and Thursday afternoon. He will also hold a session on Foxfire publications in ADUC.

Now in its 11th year, the week-long Appalachian Celebration is an event designed to emphasize the rich cultural heritage of the region through classes, concerts, exhibits, displays and demonstrations.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University President and Mrs. A.D. Albright will be guests of honor at a farewell dinner here Friday, June 19.

The 7 p.m. event in the Crager Room of the Adron Doran University Center will be hosted by the University's Board of Regents, the MSU Alumni Association and the MSU Foundation, Inc., with assistance from the Morehead-Rowan County Chamber of Commerce.

Tickets are $20 per couple or $12 for an individual and may be ordered by mail from the MSU Foundation, UPO Box 1000, Morehead, KY 40351.

"We invite all friends and admirers of the Albrights to join us as we pay tribute to them for a year of invaluable service and personal dedication to Morehead State University," said former Gov. Louie B. Nunn, chairman of MSU's Board of Regents. "The strong leadership and quiet diplomacy of the Albrights have steered the University through a critical period and we want to express our gratitude in a meaningful fashion."

It was announced that, in lieu of personal gifts to the Albrights, contributions are being sought for the Ashland Oil--Albright Challenge Grant in honor of the couple.

"In view of Dr. Albright's extraordinarily successful efforts to raise private funds for the University we feel this approach to matching part of the Albright Challenge is most appropriate," said Cincinnati broadcast executive Terry S. Jacobs, president of the MSU Foundation.

The Albright Challenge represents $150,000 of a $500,000 gift pledged to MSU last February by the Ashland Oil Foundation.

"President and Mrs. Albright are assured of a special place in the history of Morehead State University and we urge each alumnus to express appreciation for what these two great Kentuckians have done for our Alma Mater," said Alumni Association President William L. (Bill) Phelps of Versailles.

Dr. Albright became MSU's 10th president on July 1, 1986. The retired president of Northern Kentucky University and former executive director of the Kentucky Council on Higher Education will be succeeded at MSU on July 1 by Dr. C. Nelson Grote.

The Albrights plan to return to their permanent home in Lexington.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Speaking before more than 600 high school seniors attending Kentucky Boys' and Girls' State this week at Morehead State University, Gov. Martha Layne Collins called for continued improvements in Kentucky education at all levels.

"Whatever improvements that we have made in our schools are not enough," Collins said Thursday (June 11). "We've made great advances, but we have only hit the tip of the iceberg," she added.

Collins said that in the beginning of her administration fundamental changes in education had to be made, but that those reforms were only a beginning.

"There is no greater danger than the thought that we did enough," she said.

Gov. Collins said that Kentucky's success in attracting new industry can be linked to the improvements made in education for the future of Kentucky.

"What I'm most proud of are our advances in education," Collins said.

"The world sees Kentucky in a new light, but if we had not made education a top priority, then our prospects would not be as bright," she added.

Boys' and Girls' State, sponsored by the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary, offers high school students from across the state an introduction to Kentucky's political system. The delegates participate in mock government procedures, electing state and local officials.

Former Gov. Julian Carroll was the featured speaker at the Boys' State graduation banquet Friday, while Sandra Varellas, Fayette County judge executive, spoke at the Girls' State inaugural banquet.

GOV. COLLINS ADDRESSES BOYS', GIRLS' STATES

Calling for continued improvements in the state's education system, Gov. Martha Layne Collins, center, told more than 600 delegates to Kentucky Boys' and Girls' States that the greatest danger was to believe that enough had been done already. With Gov. Collins are Suzanne Taylor of Greensburg, executive director of Kentucky Girls' State, and Silas Noel of Frankfort, executive director of Kentucky Boys' State. Sponsored by the American Legion and its Auxiliary, Boys' and Girls' State programs are designed as practical lessons in state government. Morehead State University served as the host campus.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--"The subject of education should be the main concern of everyone in Kentucky today."

So said Sarah McLean Pryor of Versailles after her election as the 1987 Governor of Kentucky Girls' State at its 41st annual convention held this week (June 8-13) at Morehead State University.

"There is a definite financial crisis facing the educational system," she said. "There is a lack of money for books, teachers' pay is extremely low, and school boards won't support taxes to help education."

A majority of the bills discussed by the 308 Girls' State delegates were on educational reform, according to Pryor. Besides gaining knowledge about state government, she learned how to conduct a campaign and a lot about myself" during the week of Girls' State activities.

"When I first received the information on Girls' State, I knew I wanted the opportunity to be governor," she said. "I guess I have been working for this moment ever since.

"This has been a very realistic election," she added. "The girls here represent the population of Kentucky, and I am honored to have received their vote of confidence."

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Pryor, she is a senior at Woodford County High School. She is a member of the Woodford County Mock Trial Team, All-State Band and Beta Club.

She has received an Academic Letter, French II and Political Science Awards. Last year she was chosen Outstanding Delegate at Kentucky Youth Assembly.

Her future plans include attending college, possibly at Yale or Princeton and studying government, politics, or international relations.

"Someday I want to be a Kentucky senator to the United States Congress, or possibly hold another national office," she said.

MOREHEAD, Ky.-- An Arts and Crafts Market with an estimated 100 booths will be the highlight of the final day's events of the Appalachian Celebration June 21-27 at Morehead State University.

The market will be from 9:30 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturday, June 27, in the Laughlin Health Building.

A wide variety of arts and crafts will be represented, including: quilting, fabric crafts, weaving, wood-crafts, pottery, painting and basketry. New to the market this year will be stained glass and hand woodcarving.

According to Georgia Sammons, coordinator of the market, more than half of the expected vendors will be returnees. "We strive for variety and for quality in the arts and crafts we showcase during the market," Sammons said.

Other activities Saturday will take place on the Laughlin lawn. There will be Granny Toothman's "Sheep to Shawl" demonstration. Toothman will weave continuously and shearing will take place at 10 a.m., noon and 2 p.m. An open stage concert with various bluegrass bands will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Authentic Appalachian food, including ham and biscuits and cornbread and soupbeans, will be sold also.

Now in its 11th year, the Appalachian Celebration is an event designed to emphasize the rich cultural heritage of the region through exhibits, demonstrations and workshops.

June 20 is the deadline for applications for booth space. New vendors must have their crafts approved for originality, according to Sammons.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Whether it's quilting, clogging or the sound of Kentucky bluegrass that draws you to the 11th annual Appalachian Celebration, the down-home warmth that you receive at this weeklong event will make you want to stay.

Hosted by Morehead State University, June 21-27, the event is designed to emphasize the rich cultural heritage of the region through exhibits, demonstrations and workshops.

To kick-off the Celebration, MSU's Department of Art will sponsor a reception and exhibit in the Claypool-Young Art Building on Sunday, June 21, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Along with the exhibit, there will be live music from mountain musicians.

Various bus tours will be offered during the week to local places of interests. Not only can visitors see Jesse Stuart's W-Hollow home in Greenup County and covered bridges in Fleming and Mason Counties, but also tours will be give to Blue Licks Battlefield State Park and the Natural Bridge/Red River Gorge Area. Pre-registration is required for all tours and the cost is $7.50.

Music will play a major role in the festival with noon concerts daily featuring traditional groups on Camden-Carroll Library lawn. The McLain Family Band from Berea will be in concert on Thursday, June 25 at 7:30 p.m. in the Crager Room of Adron Doran University Center. A public dance will follow with the McLain Family Band providing the music. Wrapping up a week full of music will be an outdoor stage concert Saturday, June 27, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the Laughlin Health Building lawn.

As a finale to the numerous crafts exhibitions, demonstrations and workshops, an Arts and Crafts Market will display goods for sale from over 100 artisans. Wares from the Market will be on sale all day Saturday, June 27, in Laughlin.

The 11th Celebration will end with a dance in the Crager Room, ADUC, at 7:30 p.m. The dance will be hosted by national clogging champion Scotty McKee.

Additional information or registration may be obtained from Pete McNeill, Office of Regional Development Services, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351. Telephone: (606) 783-2077.

MSU RECOGNIZES NATURALIST

Dr. Roger W. Barbour, right, noted Kentucky naturalist, was honored by Morehead State University recently for his contributions to the institution. Presenting him a plaque as a token of appreciation was MSU President A.D. Albright. An MSU alumnus, Dr. Barbour also taught here in the late 1930s and early 1940s. He retired from the University of Kentucky's faculty in 1985. Dr. Barbour placed a collection of photographs of early Morehead and memorabilia from a two-year stay in Indonesia in MSU's Camden-Carroll Library. Earlier he presented a collection of preserved animals to the Department of Biological and Environmental Sciences to be used as a teaching aid. For several years, Dr. Barbour and his wife have funded student field research grants through the MSU Foundation

MOREHEAD, Ky.--One highlight of the 11th annual Appalachian Celebration being held at Morehead State University, June 21-27, will be the numerous demonstrations and exhibits by skilled craftsmen.

Artisans from Kentucky, West Virginia and Ohio will demonstrate various Appalachian skills and display their finished products in Button Drill Room from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily.

Everything from basket making to herbal cosmetics will be featured at the weeklong event. There will be quilting, breadmaking and corn grinding.

A mobile historical unit entitled "Kentuckians at War" will be in front of the Adron Doran University Center Monday and Tuesday, June 22-23. This exhibit traces the events and wartime experiences of Kentuckians from frontier days through the Spanish-American War.

A "Coal in Appalachia" exhibit will feature a mock mine, slide shows and movies about mining and coal processing, along with a display of mining tools.

The Cora Wilson Moonlight School on the MSU campus will be open afternoons from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. Members of the Rowan County Retired Teachers Association will be on hand to answer questions concerning exhibits set up inside the school.

The Appalachian Celebration is an event designed to emphasize the cultural heritage of the region through exhibits, demonstrations and workshops.

Additional information may be obtained from Pete McNeill, Office of Regional Development Services, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351. Telephone (606) 783-2077.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--In addition to the regional tours announced earlier, daily afternoon tours to local places of interest will be given during the Appalachian Celebration, June 21-27, at Morehead State University.

The tours will leave the Adron Doran University Center at 1:30 p.m. and return at 5 p.m. The cost is $2.

On Monday, June 22, tour leader Laura Havens will show visitors the Canadian Geese Sanctuary and Minor Clark Fish Hatchery at Cave Run Lake.

Historic Old Washington in Mason County will be the destination on Tuesday. Located on Highway 68, approximately half of the log buildings have been restored to their original state, according to Pete McNeill, special projects coordinator for the Office of Regional Development Services. En route to Old Washington, visitors will see the Goddard covered bridge in Fleming County.

Wednesday's tour will be of Owingsville's historic homes and buildings. Tour leaders Marge Thomas and Tom Bryon will show visitors the Owens House which was built in 1811 and an old iron furnace.

On Thursday, visitors not familiar with tobacco and the tobacco-farming process will get an opportunity to see tobacco in the field and on the warehouse floor.

Winnie Wright will take visitors on a tour of the historic homes and churches in Flemingsburg on Friday. Included in this tour is the Presbyterian Church which still has the loft where slaves were permitted to worship.

Now in its 11th year, the Appalachian Celebration is an event designed to emphasize the rich cultural heritage of the region through exhibits, demonstrations and workshops.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--A bus tour of Morehead State University's Mountaintop Agricultural Complex in Martin County will be part of the Appalachian Celebration.

The tour of the project will be Friday, June 26. The bus will leave the Adron Doran University Center at 8 a.m. and return by 5 p.m.

The Mountaintop Agricultural Complex was started in 1982 on one of the largest surface mines in the eastern United States. The project is one of reclamation of plateau mined land for agricultural use.

On the 450 acres currently being utilized, visitors will see one of the state's largest swine operations where 5,000 pigs are produced each year. Also at the Complex, 81,500 laying hens are kept, along with 70 head of cattle. A large portion of the animals' food is produced at the Complex in numerous hay fields.

The tour leader will be Bob Wolfe, coordinator of the Mountaintop Agricultural Complex.

In addition, bus tours to other sites in Eastern Kentucky will be offered throughout the week.

The tours cost $7.50 per person and preregistration is advised. Visitors will need to bring their own lunch.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Two central Kentuckians, Urika Berry of Lexington and Sarah Pryor of Versailles, have been chosen to represent the state at the annual Girls' Nation convention.

This announcement and presentation of plaques to outstanding citizens were made at the closing ceremonies of the 41st annual Kentucky Girls' State convention held recently (June 8-13) at Morehead State University.

Berry, daughter of Ulysses Berry, is a senior at Bryan Station High School. Pryor, daughter of David Pryor, is a senior at Woodford County High School and the 1987 Governor of Girls' State.

Girls' Nation, designed to provide a clear understanding of the process of the federal government and one's responsibilities as a citizen, will be held in Marymount College in Arlington, Va., July 11-18.

Chosen as outstanding citizens from the mythical cities were: Hammons Hollow--Amy Baldrige, daughter of Barbara Baldrige of Clearfield; Reiger View--Laura Hornback, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hornback of Covington; Adamstown--Kathy Day, daughter of John and Wenna Day of Paducah; Mitchell City--Regina Gagel, daughter of Sewanit Gabel of Louisville; Taylorsport--Clarie Cain, daughter of Wade and Judy Cain of Morehead; Von R Villa--Amy Wentz, daughter of Willard Wentz of Brandenburg; Heitz Plains--Kelli McKnight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McKnight of Paducah; Hartford--Lisa Lanier, daughter of Robert and Joan Lanier of Kevil; Riddle Ridge--Lori Lampley, daughter of Larry and Dorsie Lampley of Benton; Brumleve Bay, Ann Holland Thomas, daughter of Ray and Martha Thomas of Mayfield; Caviness Lane, Terri Martz, daughter of William Martz of Louisville, and Powers Point--Stacey Kootz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Koontz of Ashland.

Girls' State, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, is a practical learning experience in state and local government. More than 300 delegates from across the state attended this year's convention.

During the week, delegates were asked to audition for the Girls' State chorus. The American Legion Auxiliary from each state will pay all expenses for two delegates to participate in the chorus at the National Convention of the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary in San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 22-27. Selected were Carol Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Baker of Louisville, and Cynthia Biamon, daughter of Niels Biamon of Ft. Campbell.

A highlight of the week included Gov. Martha Layne Collins speaking to a joint session of Girls' and Boys' State. The 47th Kentucky Boys' State convention was held on the MSU campus during the same period.

GIRLS' NATION DELEGATES SELECTED

During the 41st annual Kentucky Girls' State convention held recently on the Morehead State University campus, two central Kentucky delegates were chosen to represent the state at Girls' Nation. Selected were, from left, Urika Berry, daughter of Ulysses Berry of Lexington, and Sarah Pryor, daughter of David Pryor of Versailles. With them, is Suzanne Taylor of Greensburg, director of Kentucky Girls' State. Girls' Nation, a practical learning experience in federal government, will be held at Marymount College (Va.), July 11-18. More than 300 high school seniors from across the state attended the Girls' State convention, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Physical examinations for youngsters who wish to attend the 1987 NCAA Youth Sports Program Camp at Morehead State University are scheduled June 20, beginning at 9 a.m. in Laughlin Health Building.

Buses will run regular camp routes on June 20 at the farthest point from Morehead at 8:30 a.m.

The five-week day camp, sponsored by the federal government and the Rowan County School system will open June 29 and continue through July 31, according to Dr. Earl Bentley, MSU's Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation chair.

The camp is open to young people ages 10 through 16, without regard to race, color, sex, handicap or national origin. The program includes instruction and competition in a variety of sports activities, including tennis, basketball, swimming, soccer, canoeing, golf and racquetball. It also features special enrichment programs on health issues and job opportunities.

All 10 and 11 year old participants will need to file a copy of their birth certificate with their camp application.

The camp is free to selected participants.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Dr. Bentley, (606) 783-2180.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--"I want you to go back home and lead your classmates," said Dr. Walter Blevins Jr., state representative for the 71st district.

"If you don't help them now, you'll pay for them later," he added.

Blevins was the featured speaker at the graduation exercises for Kentucky Boys' State, sponsored by the American Legion and held at Morehead State University recently.

Blevins challenged the more than 300 high school seniors from across the state to make a difference in society, education and voting.

"Fifty percent of people over 25 in Kentucky are illiterate," Blevins said. "You can help them one person at a time. If you are not a part of the solution, then you are a part of the problem," he added.

Blevins discussed the youths' role in a society that was changing from industrial-oriented to a communications orientation.

"Even in a communications society, we are still going to need good minds," he said. "You have the answer to solve the problems of society. Don't be a part of the silent majority," Blevins added.

In its 47th year, Kentucky Boys' State offers high school students an introduction to Kentucky's political system by setting up mock state and local government.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Harlen L. Hamm, associate professor of speech at Morehead State University, has been named coordinator of forensics for MSU's Department of Communications.

According to Dr. Richard J. Dandeneau, department chair, Hamm will be in charge of speech tournaments hosted by the University and oversee activities of MSU's speech team.

"With a seasoned faculty member as the coordinator, the program will have more continuity and permanence," said Dr. Dandeneau.

"The restructuring of the program will allow for more indepth recruitment for the IE (Individual Events) team," Hamm said.

A graduate of MSU, Hamm has more than 20 years of experience in forensics at the University and at the University Breckinridge School.

In addition, Cathy Thomas, who received both her B.A. and M.A. degrees from MSU, will return to the University as an assistant professor of speech and director of the IE team for the 1987-88 academic year.

The IE team will begin the academic year by members conducting a workshop for the Johnson Central High School speech team July 13-15.

During the year, the University will host a regional speech tournament for Eastern Kentucky junior high and high school speech teams. In January a college tournament, expected to draw nearly 30 teams, will be held on campus. This event in the past has drawn several of the nation's top 10 IE teams, according to Hamm.

EVENT: 11th Annual Appalachian Celebration
DATE: June 21-27, 1987
SITE: MSU campus

MSU's week-long Appalachian Celebration has become a summer tradition on campus. Events range from workshops and exhibits to demonstrations of the region's traditional crafts and a variety of concerts, including one by the McLain Family Band on Thursday, June 25.

All events are designed to heighten an awareness of the region's rich cultural heritage. Especially noteworthy--and visually appealing--this year are the outdoor woodcarving and pottery-making demonstrations as well as the popular noontime programs on the lawn of Camden-Carroll Library. Arts editors for newspapers may also be interested in the special exhibit under way in the gallery of Claypool-Young Art Building: "Building on the Past: Significant Works from the First 25 Years of the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen."

Enclosed is a calendar of the various events. I know we've bombarded you already with various news releases concerning the events. Obviously, we encourage coverage of any or all events. Please call my office, (606) 783-2030, if I can assist you in your coverage.

Looking forward to seeing you here.

MSU BIDS DR. ALBRIGHT FAREWELL: A Picture Story

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Some described him as an "education busybody." Others referred to him as Kentucky's "dean of higher education."

While the barbs and accolades flowed, more than 325 friends and colleagues of Dr. A.D. Albright gathered Friday, June 19, to express their appreciation for his service this past year as Morehead State University's 10th president.

Taking good-natured pot shots at the educator were such dignitaries as Dr. Gary S. Cox, Kentucky Council on Higher Education executive director; Harry M. Snyder, former CHE executive director and now a CSX Corp. vice president; Dr. John Duncan, MSU professor of education, and Dr. John Brock, Rowan County Schools superintendent.

The program began with former Gov. Louie B. Nunn, MSU regents chairman, and former Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, regents vice chairman, unveiling a life-sized candid photograph showing the guest of honor "dozing" during the 1987 Founders Day Convocation.

As the evening turned serious, Elmer D. Anderson, executive director of the MSU Foundation, announced that the dinner, held as a fund-raiser, had resulted in more than $18,000 in contributions to the Ashland Oil--Albright Challenge Grant.

Student Government Association President Steve Strathmann and Carlos Cassady, last year's SGA president, presented Dr. Albright with a silver tray in appreciation of his work with the students.

MSU Alumni Association President William L. (Bill) Phelps announced that the 74-year-old educator had been inducted into MSU's Alumni Hall of Fame, making him the first person without an earned MSU degree to be so honored. Also Phelps presented Dr. Albright's wife Grace with a plaque and roses in recognition of her being named an honorary alumna by the Association.

On behalf of MSU's Board of Regents, Nunn presented Dr. Albright with an honorary doctorate of humane letters and noted the outgoing president had "provided leadership that leads." He also said that Dr. Albright had done more for MSU in a short time frame than anyone in his experience.

Thanking the regents for "the best professional year I've ever had," Dr. Albright told the audience that it was time for Morehead State to carve out a special role in the state's higher education system. "MSU need not be like every other university," he said.

June 24, 1987

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University President A.D. Albright Tuesday described as "very good news" the announcement that MSU had been removed from the censure list of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP).

Dr. Albright said he had been notified by letter that the action was taken earlier this month at the AAUP national convention.

"The University is very pleased to have its name removed from the AAUP censure list. Faculty members and administrators worked in harmony to achieve this positive disposition of the matter for the benefit of all parties. We appreciate the cooperative and helpful attitude of the AAUP staff."

MSU was placed on the organization's national blacklist in 1983 following the non-reappointment a year earlier of two probationary faculty members in the Department of Art. The AAUP alleged at the time that the action denied the faculty members "the safeguards of academic due process" under its standards.

In voting to remove the censure this year, the AAUP noted that MSU had changed its policies regarding non-reappointment of probationary faculty and other procedures involving faculty to bring them "into full compliance with Association-recommended standards."

APPALACHIAN CELEBRATION: A Picture Story

Bringing together the past and the present with music, arts, crafts and exhibits, Morehead State University's 11th annual Appalachian Celebration was a tribute to Eastern Kentucky and its people. Throughout last week (June 21-27), people gathered to share the rich heritage of the region, with the event concluding with an arts and crafts market and outdoor stage concert on Saturday. According to Pete McNeill, special projects coordinator for MSU's Office of Regional Development Services, more than 5,000 people were present for various activities. "The whole idea behind the Celebration is to let people know that we're interested in preserving the good things in the Appalachian heritage," said McNeill.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--A one-of-a-kind Elderhostel program will occur in conjunction with the Summer Chamber Music Celebration at Morehead State University, July 12-18.

MSU's Chamber Music Celebration Elderhostel marks the first time that the National Elderhostel program has required participants to possess a certain skill, according to George Eyster, director of Extended Campus Programs.

The Celebration, sponsored by MSU's Academy of Arts and College of Arts and Sciences, is a weeklong series of workshops and concerts. The program allows serious musicians to meet, rehearse and perform in informal, unstructured settings.

In previous years, active amateur chamber musicians as well as professional musicians from regional and metropolitan orchestras from across the United States have taken part in the Celebration.

This year, 66 musicians, including 19 from Elderhostel representing 10 states, will attend the Celebration.

Highlights of the Celebration include: a guest artist recital on Monday, July 13, featuring the Renaissance City Woodwind Quintet of Pittsburgh; a participants recital on Wednesday, July 15, featuring small chamber groups, and a chamber orchestra concert on Thursday, July 16, with Manfred Blum of Earlham College as conductor. All will be in Duncan Recital Hall at 8 p.m. In addition, there will be at least two noon concerts during the week.

Elderhostel Program

MSU hosts various other Elderhostels throughout the year. During the annual Appalachian Celebration, there is an Appalachian Elderhostel, and in the fall and winter months, Elderhostels occur at area state parks.

Another unusual Elderhostel at MSU is the Mystery Elderhostel. In this program, mystery buffs gather to solve a "murder" that happens on the first night of the week. This year, 54 people from 28 states attended the Mystery Elderhostel.

Started in 1975 at five campuses in New Hampshire, Elderhostel programs are patterned after the youth hostels of Europe. Elderhostels are now held at over 1,000 universities and attract approximately 100,000 participants each year.

The programs are tailored to the unique aspects of the locations and provide inexpensive lodging, meals and academic opportunities for interested people over 60 years of age.

Additional information on the Summer Chamber Music Celebration may be obtained from Yvonne Baldwin, Academy of Arts, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351. Telephone: (606) 783-2659. Information on the Elderhostel programs may be obtained from Eyster, director of Extended Campus Programs, MSU, Morehead, KY 40351. Telephone: (606) 783-2038.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--The microcomputer has made its way into the public school classroom and Morehead State University is preparing educators for the technology that awaits them.

Beginning in the fall, MSU's Department of Education will open a microcomputer lab to teach people who want to be teachers and those who already are how to use the technology.

"We want them to become comfortable with this technology, so they will use microcomputers in their classroom teaching," said Dr. Paul R. McGhee, department chair.

The University has hired Drs. Mark and Edna Schack, former professors at Illinois State University, to run the lab. Having given workshops and taught courses in the midwest, they say that they look forward to training present and future teachers of Eastern Kentucky.

According to Dr. McGhee, most high schools and many elementary schools now have microcomputers which are used in a variety of ways.

Rowan County High School, for example, has 12 Apple IIe computers in a primary lab which is used for beginning and advanced courses in computer literacy. Other computers are located in the science, business administration, home economics and English departments. These are used for word processing in business administration and for individual remedial work in other areas.

Rowan County has just purchased a new computer hardware and software system for administrative purposes such as student scheduling and recording of grades, according to J.D. Reeder, assistant principal for curriculum and instruction.

Microcomputers

While it may seem like a contradiction, Dr. Mark Schack says, "As computers become more advanced, people will become more at ease with using them. They will fit right in to regular classroom instruction."

"A computer is a tool for teaching, just like a pencil is a tool," Dr. Edna Schack said. "We are hoping that computers become everyday teaching tools, like a chalkboard or an overhead projector," she added.

The lab, located in Ginger Hall 213, will be used in three ways. There will be workshops for teachers in the region, classes for undergraduate and graduate education students and an open lab for those in education that are interested in microcomputers.

The Schacks will offer a nine-week introductory course to anyone in education during the second nine weeks of fall semester for one hour of credit. The course, EDSE 399, Workshop: Microcomputers in the Classroom, will be offered from 2:50 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. on either Monday or Tuesday.

The lab is equipped with 30 Apple II GS computers with 15 Apple printers. There are also four Macintosh computers in the lab.

Software is already available for various grade levels. The software is in three varieties: tutorial, word processing and programming.

"We have taken courses in computers across the country and MSU has one of the best computer labs we've seen in education," said Dr. Edna Schack.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Nearly 700 high school students will participate in three band camps on the Morehead State University campus this summer.

According to Richard Miles, University band director, three high schools will attend each of the camps. During the week, they will learn their competition show which they will perform at home football games and state championships.

"Each band will bring clinicians specializing in flag, rifle, dance, marching and instrumentation," said Miles. "They will learn music, choreography, marching and drills for a 9-11 minute coordinated event."

Bands attending the July 19-25 camp will be: Adair County High School of Columbia, directed by Tim Allen; Danville High School, directed by Tim Blevins, and Paintsville High School, directed by Ken Price.

The July 26-Aug. 1 camp will include: Bryan Station High School of Lexington, directed by David Morris; Henry Clay High School of Lexington, directed by Debbie Shelton, and Moore High School of Louisville, directed by Paul Downs.

On Aug. 2-8, participating bands will include: Lafayette High School of Lexington, directed by Steven Moore; Lakota High School of West Chester, Ohio, directed by Jack Elgin, and Male High School of Louisville, directed by Nanette Moore.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Dr. Stephen Taylor, executive director of academic support services at Morehead State University, has been named acting vice president for academic affairs.

His appointment was announced by MSU President A.D. Albright on Friday, June 26. Dr. Albright also named members of the search committee for a successor to Dr. Roberta T. Anderson, who resigned the vice presidency and has accepted a similar post at California State University-Stanislaus.

The search committee will be headed by Dr. Ron Dobler, chair of MSU's Department of English, Foreign Languages and Philosophy. Members include Porter Dailey, vice president for administrative and fiscal services; Jerry Gore, director of minority affairs; Janet Gross, assistant professor of nursing; Dr. Bill Pierce, professor of marketing, and Student Government Association President Steve Strathmann. Dr. Mike Seelig, Faculty Senate chairman, will serve in an ex-officio capacity.

The vacancy will be advertised nationally with an application deadline of Aug. 1, according to Dr. Albright. "That will allow sufficient time for the process and to have someone on board by Jan. 1," he said.

Dr. Taylor, a member of MSU's faculty and administrative staff since 1973, has served the University in a variety of posts, including acting vice president for student development, director of academic assessment and evaluation, director of counseling, testing and evaluation services, executive assistant to the president and director of testing.

A member of the Kentucky Council on Higher Education Task Force on Pre-College Curriculum and the Kentucky ACT Advisory Committee, Dr. Taylor has served on various visitation teams for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools' Commission on Colleges and is a former co-chairman of the Southern Association Institutional Self-Study Program.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Enrollment for Summer I at Morehead State University shows a 9 percent increase over Summer I of 1986.

Announcement of the first summer term enrollment figures was made today by MSU President A.D. Albright.

According to University records, 2,049 students are registered for Summer I classes as compared with 1,879 students at this time last year.

"It is interesting to note that MSU has seen increases in enrollment over the previous year at every academic session since Summer I of 1986," Dr. Albright said.

VISTA VOLUNTEERS CHOSEN

Seven area women have been chosen as VISTA Volunteers for Morehead State University's special adult literacy program. Participants in the program are, from left, Bonnie Burrell, coordinator of MSU's Appalachian Adult Learning Center, who will train the volunteers; Dneice Adkins and Diana Dohl of Elliott County; Jeanna Montgomery and Violet Mays of Morgan County; Sandy Clayton and Glenda Brown of Rowan County; Doris Kincaid of Bath County, and Shirley Hamilton, training coordinator for MSU's extended campus programs. The volunteers will each train 20 reading tutors who will work with three students each who wish to improve their reading skills.
