5. This Constitution is subject to amendment by a two-thirds vote.

BY-LAWS.

1. It shall be the duty of the District Manager to have the oversight and responsibility of enlarging and strengthening the work in her district; to prepare programs for and preside at the annual District meetings; keep in touch with the auxiliaries and bands, stimulating them to local and co-operative efforts; be in communication with the principal congregations, and arrange an itinerary for the Organizer to visit them consecutively, if practicable; also, to make a report of her work at the spring semi-annual executive meeting and at the State meeting.

2. Each county manager shall take charge of the work in her county; acquaint herself with its churches, their number of women and children and missionary temperature; strengthen the existing auxiliaries and bands, and open the way to organize where there are none. She shall confer with and report regularly to the District Manager, assisting her in preparing a route for the Organizer, and arranging for county meetings, and in all matters required by the interests of the work.

3. Each County Manager shall collect the membership dues in her county, subject to call of the District Manager.

INSTRUCTION LEAFLET.

Each Auxiliary should have three regular funds into which all the money raised by it should go—the State, Contingent and General Funds. The “State Fund” is to meet all the expenses of enlarging the C. W. B. M. organization in Kentucky, the salary and expenses of the State Secretary and Organizer, expenses of the State Superintendent of Children’s work; all printing, publishing minutes, stamps, stationery, etc. The amount necessary for this purpose is apportioned among the Auxiliaries, each being earnestly urged to give the amount asked, and to forward it early in the year to our Board Treasurer, Mrs. O. L. Bradley, 68 North Upper Street, Lexington. We hope the..... Auxiliary can soon send to the above address.....for the State Fund.

The "Contingent Fund" is for the purpose of meeting the incidental expenses of each Auxiliary—stamps, stationery, blank books, improving library, special meetings, entertainments, etc., and should be kept in the hands of the Auxiliary Treasurer, subject to the call of the President.

The "General Fund" consists of the monthly ten cent dues, and all other money (except the State and Contingent Funds) raised by the Auxiliaries, and should be sent by the Treasurer, quarterly, the first weeks of March, June, September and December, by post office order or registered letter (not check) to Mrs. Helen E. Moses, 152 East Market Street, Indianapolis, Ind., at which time the Auxiliary Secretary should send a report to Mrs. Sarah K. Yancey, Lexington.

Do not give the money raised by any Auxiliary to any other than C. W. B. M. purposes: observe C. W. B. M. Day; have a missionary library.

Take the "Missionary Tidings" and co-operate promptly and cheerfully with any movement undertaken by our General Board, or in any suggestion or request made by our State Board of Managers.

"Whatsoever ye do, work from the soul, as unto the Lord and not unto men; knowing that from the Lord ye shall receive the recompense." "Ye serve the Lord Christ."

Minutes.

Monday Evening.

CYNTHIANA, KY., September 30, 1901.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. A. M. Harrison, at half-past seven o'clock. After a song service, led by W. E. Hackleman, the devotional exercises were conducted by Miss Etta Rannells of Morehead; she read the thirteenth chapter of I Corinthians, and Mrs. Harrison offered prayer. Miss Sublette and Miss McCorkle gave brief talks, and the service closed with a circle of prayer, in which a number took part. The evening program was in the interests of the Young People's Work. The general subject was The Claims of the C. W. B. M. on the Young Women of the Church.

Miss Virginia Hearn spoke on The Need of the C. W. B. M. of Young Women as Leaders of Children's Bands.

Miss Jessie Spencer spoke on Our Foreign Missionaries Recruited from Young Women.

Miss Wilhelmine Loos spoke on The C. W. B. M. Needs the Culture and Enthusiasm of our Young Womanhood.

Miss Withers, President of the Florida C. W. B. M. then gave an address on A Retrospect of What I Saw of Woman's Work Abroad.

After a song and announcements, the benediction was pronounced by W. R. Taylor, of Versailles.

Tuesday Morning, October 1, 8:40 o'clock.

The Eighteenth Annual Meeting of the Kentucky Christian Woman's Board of Missions was called to order by the President, Mrs. Harrison. President Burris A. Jenkins, of Kentucky University, gave a helpful Bible Study on the Seventeenth Chapter of Acts.

Mrs. Broadhurst, of Louisville, then read the 103rd Psalm, and Mrs. Hagerman led in prayer. "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" was sung, and Miss Sublette offered prayer. Song, "O, Worship the King," closed the devotional service.

The President then delivered the following address, which was a comprehensive summary of the work of the past year, and full of suggestions for future work.

President's Annual Address.

Members and Friends of the Kentucky Christian Woman's Board of Missions:

We begin this morning the Eighteenth Annual Convention of the Kentucky Christian Woman's Board of Missions, and it is my duty and my very pleasant privilege to give you some account of my stewardship during the past year.

First of all, let me thank the good people of Cynthiana and the good members of this church for the cordial welcome and sincere hospitality extended to us. I doubt not that there comes to many, as there comes to me, a profound sense of unworthiness that such poor service as we render should win for us such abundant entrance into the hearts, the homes, and the beautiful churches of our State. It certainly should be an inspiration to us to be permitted to meet in so noble and artistic a building as this; we pray that all we may say and do may be in harmony with such surroundings—that the “beauty of holiness” may adorn each one of us, and the spirit of “the One altogether lovely” may be the spirit of this convention!

I believe we are all beginning to prize more highly these annual gatherings in our State; the increasing numbers who attend are evidences of this, and though these meetings are primarily for reports of past work, and for plans for future work, there are numerous other benefits we reap from them that were not thought of at first. One of these benefits has been called to my attention during the past year; we all value our congregational form of church government, and hold it as one of our inalienable rights—and yet it carries with it certain disadvantages; it has a tendency to make our churches independent of each other, and to cut them off from the current of religious thought among our brotherhood. I am told this is especially true of our country churches; they are necessarily more separated from other congregations than our city and town churches, and are bound to suffer for lack of the warm fellowship that contact gives. The languor and lack of life in many of the country churches were often mentioned in the recent State meeting of the Missouri Missionary Society, which I had the honor to attend. I believe that these missionary gatherings which we hold, whether of State or District, or County, are correction of this tendency to isolation, and its accompanying evils; they give the living, personal touch, and furnish impetus and inspiration to all who attend them; the missionary spirit thus becomes a golden chain which connects many links into one. The debt to missions which we owe passes therefore that of other religious bodies, whose form of church government brings their congregations into intimate relations, and we should give a correspondingly cordial and enthusiastic support to missions. In the numerous meetings which I have attended during the past year, this unifying influence has been one of the beautiful, outward and visible signs of the inward and spiritual grace that we call the missionary spirit. I believe these great gatherings will be the tie that binds our churches together, and they may be the means of saving some of them from waxing cold, and possibly from dissolution; our brother McLean truly says, "A church must have an interest in the whole world, before it can work well in its own little sphere."

As I said, it has been my privilege during the year to attend a number of our missionary meetings. First in place and importance, of course, comes our National Convention, held last October in Kansas City; it is always an inspiration to be present at these great yearly feasts. It was especially pleasant for Kentuckians to be there, because our State led all others in offerings; we gave $12,607.68, nearly $3,000 more than Ohio, the next State on the list. As your representative, I have also attended the Annual Conventions of two States—the Jubilee Convention of the Illinois Missionary Society, and the State Meeting of the Missouri C. W. B. M., at the same time attending the St. Louis District Convention, making the evening address at each of these places. I have also participated in one of the Conventions of the Virginia C. W. B. M. by contributing a paper to its program. These opportunities for fellowship in the woman's work in other States have been a high privilege. They bring home to us the magnitude of the missionary movement, and emphasize the conviction that "women who bear the tidings are indeed a great host." I have also been so fortunate as to be present at the Annual Meeting of the South Kentucky Branch of our work; we count ourselves happy in having with us this morning Mrs. Elizabeth Seargent, the President of that department, and she will report it to us later on the program. I have attended four of our District Meetings, one County Meeting, and have taken part in the exercises of the auxiliaries of six of our churches.

All that I have seen makes me feel that our work is growing, both in numbers and in influence; some of our district meetings have been so largely attended that they seemed like State meetings; and the attendance has been supplemented by an unusual excellence of program, by a willingness on the part of many to participate in the exercises, and by the high tide of spiritual feeling manifested. We have organized one new district, I am happy to say, in Eastern Kentucky, where our work is not strong. Their Annual Meeting was held in London last June, and was excellent in all respects. The efficient Manager is Mrs. Dickson. This gives nine well organized districts in this end of the State. In South Kentucky, they have divided their work into districts, and expect before long to have that part of the State well organized in this line.

The note of hope and cheer is dominant in our reports. As you know, our total offering of $12,607.68 last year, was made possible by Mrs. Pearce's generous gift of $5,000 to our work. Mrs. Helen E. Moses, our National Corresponding Secretary, states in a telegram just received, that Kentucky's entire offering for the year closed on September 30th, amounts to $17,000. This large amount is partly owing to the fact that our Morehead property which is conservatively estimated at $7,000, is included in it; but it is also owing to the fact that our auxiliaries are growing in the grace of giving. These figures are for amounts sent to our National Treasury, and do not include our State dues. There has been sent to our State Treasurer, Mrs. O. L. Bradley, during the year $765.22; if we had not carried over from last year a balance of $310.22 it would not have been possible for us to meet our expenses with this amount—so you must not be surprised if your apportionment for State dues has to be slightly increased this year. I think our good organizer has done more work than in any previous year, so the traveling expense fund is larger than usual. She has organized 24 new auxiliaries, and has visited 38 old ones, and has added 279 to our lists; besides this, she has attended most of our district and county meetings. Our auxiliaries have sent in more reports this year than ever before—90 out of 125 societies have reported, leaving 35 not heard from. These 90 societies report a membership of 2,401; if the membership of the 35 unreported auxiliaries were added to this, it would make a sensible increase. The note of hope, as usual, grows more pronounced as we scan our children's reports; 97 of our Bands and Junior Endeavor Societies have reported, giving a membership of 2,054, and a contribution of $1,686.26 sent to our National Treasury. If we add the membership reported by the children to that reported by the auxiliaries, it gives a total of 4,455 women and children in our ranks; this is far in advance of any previous year's reports—surely the Lord hath given us increase! And while I am speaking of the children, let me emphasize one thought that is near my heart.

You will note that we have a superintendent of Young People's Work—not of children's work only. The department includes the young women as well as the boys and girls. We have 125 auxiliaries, composed of women full of good works, and who are constantly growing in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ—we have nearly 100 societies of children; but between the women and the children is a missing link in our missionary organization—I mean the young women of our church. When the little folks outgrow the Bands and Junior Societies, they drop out of our work, and are lost to us until they reach maturer years. This should not be—our work should appeal especially to the ideals and enthusiasm of youth. The foreign missionary work in this country was started by four students of Williams' College. Most of the missionaries sent to the foreign field by the Christian Woman's Board of Missions are young women—of the 59 missionaries in their employ abroad, 42 are women. I have been glad to note an increase of young women in our ranks during the past year. I attended the district meeting at Lancaster last Thursday; the capable manager of that district is a young woman, and it is said that her influence is attracting young girls to our work. We arranged the program last night especially for young women, and we hope next year to see our ranks largely recruited from this class, and to receive from them the zeal and momentum which youth alone can furnish.

The year since our last Annual Meeting at Carlisle has been an unprecedented period of calls to wider service in our work at large—a time of doing good to a greater number of our fellow men than ever before in our history. We are now beginning to reap the harvest of long years of patient work and growth, and are entering on a field of usefulness so broad, that some of us who are timid and fearful are almost afraid to attempt such great things for God. From a handful of workers, we now have in our employ 143 missionaries, besides native helpers, evangelists and teachers; 84 of these are at home, 59 are abroad. 14 of these are employed in our own State, and are distributed at Berea, Hazel Green, Morehead, and at Louisville Bible School. The work at Hazel Green and Morehead has shown a long step forward, as their reports this afternoon will indicate—both had last year the largest enrollment in their history. The menace of the open saloon has been removed from Morehead; last June, the people of Rowan County voted upon the question of local option, and carried the vote in every precinct in favor of temperance; this victory insures Morehead and Rowan County against open saloons for three years at least. Our National Board have decided to enter on an era of enlargement in our mountain work; contracts have been let for the erection of a large brick and stone building, with facilities for school and industrial training, at both Hazel Green and Morehead, and work has been begun on both of them. The two buildings cost $18,500 exclusive of furniture and equipment. Your State Board trusts that this enlargement of our work will enlarge our conceptions of the importance of this needy part of our State as a field for mission work. This is an accepted time to reach the people of that region; its wealth in coal, iron, timber, and recent discoveries in oil is attracting the attention of capital, and railroads are being built and projected all through it. As these hermit peoples, so long isolated, thus come in contact with the rest of the world, a poignant sense of their own shortcomings is brought home to them, and they are eager for education and uplift. We should esteem it a high privilege to be able to contribute to this need on so generous a scale. This work has awakened such interest outside of our borders that a good woman in one of our neighboring States has promised $5,000 to it. We are hoping that a like spirit of generous giving will be roused in our State, and that those who have the means will make large special offerings toward this effort to uplift the young men and women of Eastern Kentucky. This work has much in it that appeals to the heart of humanity at large, but in a certain sense it should appeal more nearly to Kentuckians than any one else; these boys and girls are the future citizens of our Commonwealth. If they reach maturity on the same low level of illiteracy and lack of opportunity as their fathers and mothers, then so much lower is the standard of citizenship in our State. Paul, in one of his letters, compares the church to the human body, and says if one member goes wrong the whole body suffers. The same figure might truly be applied to the State—if one part of it be violent and lawless, then the fair name of the whole of Kentucky is stained. I trust that this opportunity to show a spirit of helpfulness will appeal to many, and will be manifested in liberal gifts toward our two mountain missions.

The opening of the Orphanage in San Juan, Porto Rico, is another opportunity for good that we have seized within the year. Any work that touches childhood, especially orphaned and neglected childhood, has ever a peculiarly tender interest for women, for childhood has always been the sacred charge of womanhood. That this mission is our first on this new and needy possession of our country gives it a strategic importance passing that attached to orphanage work generally.

There has been a distinct advance in our Bible Chair Work during the year. Those of you who were with us at our Carlisle convention will recall Mrs. Forrest's presence there, and the charming impression her bright words of greeting made. You will also remember that she is a Kentuckian, and therefore our special property. She left with her husband, W. M. Forrest, last October for India, to do Bible work at Calcutta, which is the educational metropolis of the Orient. They had hardly become established there before they found themselves in the midst of opportunities for carrying on their work that were wellnigh bewildering. The Young Men's Christian Association there furnished them quarters in their beautiful building; large numbers of the students gave Prof. Forrest an attentive hearing, both in the classroom and at other places where he gave lectures and held institutes. Those of you who know him and have heard him cannot doubt but that his teachings have been profitable, both for the mental and moral uplift of his listeners.

The first of this past April, the English Bible chair work was started at the State University of Kansas, by our Bro. Wallace Payne. And while the time has been too short to show any definite results, yet it has been long enough for him to win golden opinions, both for himself as teacher, and for the great work he represents.

During the past winter, another new mission station has been opened at Pendra Road in India. Bessie Farrar, so well known and so well beloved by all of us, has married Mr. Madsen, and they have gone to this hill country of India to make their home, and start what they trust will be their life work.

But the largest and most important work undertaken by the Christian Woman's Board of Missions during the past year, or at any one time in its history, has been the work among the negroes of the South, which for ten years had been carried on by the Board of Negro Evangelization and Education. Our board formally assumed the management of it at our National Convention last October; it is the only work done among the negroes by our church at large, so the burden (or privilege) of helping that needy race in our midst now rests alone on the women of the church. The wide-spread illiteracy among them has a parallel in an equally wide-spread immorality. Much of this has been a result of conditions past the control of either the negro or his white friends, but I fear that some of it may also be a result of a failure of the church of God to help bear its share of the black man's burden. We believe that a high honor was shown us by our brethren in their proffer of entrusting this important work to us; we look upon it as a great and effectual door to higher service, and though there are many problems and responsibilities in connection with it, we accepted it, trusting in the support of the great womanhood of our church, and looking to our Heavenly Father for wisdom and guidance. This work should appeal peculiarly to Southern woman—the negroes are near to us, not only in location, but in a mutual understanding of each other; no one knows the negro so well, or loves him so well as the Southern man or woman.

Your National Board has undertaken some other work in the home field during the year, notably in city evangelization in Chicago and San Francisco, but the ones I have mentioned are the most important additions to our work.

You see that the Christian Woman's Board of Missions has followed in the track of our great government, and has entered upon an era of expansion. Now that our opportunities for doing good to all men are so greatly enlarged, we must see to it that there is a corresponding enlargement in our organization—enlargement in numbers, in offerings, and in zeal. To effect this, let each one of our good members become a preacher of a gospel of growth—but most of all let each of us strive to “grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.”

Miss Sublette, Corresponding Secretary and Organizer, then submitted the following report:

Mrs. Margaret Willis, Superintendent of Young People's Work of South Kentucky, then read a good report of the work accomplished during the year, which showed activity and splendid results from her labor of love, so generously given to the young people under her supervision.

Mrs. Elizabeth Seargent, First Vice President, brought greetings from the South Kentucky Convention, and emphasized the needs of our sisterhood in that part of the State. The body of her report is incorporated with that of the State Secretary.

In the few moments remaining before the hour for the symposium, the President asked for remarks from Mrs. E. O. Hagerman, Second Vice President, who responded in an earnest and beautiful plea with the members of the auxiliaries to see that the intoxicating cup was removed from our sacred communion services and the pure fruit of the vine put in its place.

Miss Rebel Withers, State President of Florida, brought greetings from the fair Southland, and rejoiced our hearts by telling how the seed sown in earnest hearts had brought forth fruit abundantly.

Mrs. Louise Loos Campbell, of Michigan, was then introduced to the convention and cheered our hearts with greetings from our coworkers in that faraway State. Truly the hosts of our C. W. B. M. women know no South, no North.

After singing "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," "The C. W. B. M. Needs of the New Century" was discussed.

Mrs. Mary Walden urged that one of the greatest needs is a strong, living interest by the auxiliaries in the Young People's Department, and formation of societies by the auxiliaries.

Mrs. Margaret Willis discussed the training of the young for mission work. With beautiful and earnest words she plead for the little ones.

Mrs. Bessie Ellis, showed us how the needs demanded intellectual expansion, and reached the climax in her plea for the spiritual uplift of all our workers.

Mrs. G. L. Sehon dwelt upon broader information, urging that missionary literature be read, especially the Missionary Tidings, and also showed the great need of deeper consecration.

Mrs. McNeil closed the symposium with a plea for enthusiasm in all our work.

The President then announced the following committees:

MISSIONARY LITERATURE.

Mrs. S. M. Bernard, Louisville.

Mrs. R. P. Mitchell, Midway.

Mrs. Trimble, Clark County.

NOMINATING COMMITTEE.

Composed of the Presidents of all Auxiliaries whenever present, with Mrs. Emma Shawhan, President of the Cynthiana Auxillary, as Chairman.

The noon hour having arrived, the morning session was closed with prayer, by Mrs. Nellie Stucky.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The convention was called to order at 2 p. m. After a brief service of song, conducted by Prof. Hackleman, Mrs. Belle Burdette, of Germantown, led the devotional exercises, after which the convention proceeded to business.

Mrs. Shawhan moved that a resolution combining the office of Secretary and Organizer, passed by the Shelbyville Convention, be rescinded. After some remarks the motion prevailed.

Prof. Wm. Cord, principal of Hazel Green Academy, then submitted the following report, which was heartily received by the convention:

Our eleventh annual report and the fifteenth since the C. W. B. M. has controlled this mission, brings to all workers and well wishers of the C. W. B. M. glad tidings of much joy.

Enrollment of students on the opening day was 85, a marked increase over any previous year. The number of matriculates increased until we reached a grand total of 278 for the year. Of these 139 were boarders. We had in the music class course 8, living in the town of Hazel Green temporarily 20, residents of Hazel Green 69, day pupils 20, graduates 3.

These pupils came from 51 communities of the mountains, from 9 counties, 3 States and one territory. Out of an enrollment of 278 during the last session only 69 were residents of the town, and 211 came from beyond the town. The deportment of this student body was exceptional; none better could be found anywhere, being few cases for severe discipline. The work done in study hall and class-room was excellent.

Tuitions collected, $1,253 38-100.

A great increase over any previous year.

Expenditures 1,058 44; 58 dollars of this was for extra rooms for students. W. O. Mize furnished gratis one house for boarders. The principal has received for his work for the year

We did not rest satisfied with the work of text-book and class-room, but we took them up through nature to nature's God, and gave them lessons for life. They were impressed that "Life's mission is not to make a living, but Life's mission is to make a life." The work of the church in all its departments was very good. During the year H. D. Clark, of Mt. Sterling, preached for us ten days and gave helpful Bible studies at the Chapel service. Robert Hopkins, Sunday-School evangelist, was with us four days with his splendid Sunday-School work.

The Principal of the Mission preached during the year 104 sermons; received by baptism 25; by commendation 7; reclaimed 8; making a total of 49 additions to the local congregation.

The church gave for missions $100.

The citizens of Hazel Green gave to the C. W. B. M. a beautiful 30-acre campus, for which they paid $1,200.

The school and church must go hand in hand through the mountains if we would win this great people for "Christ and the Church."

W. H. CORD, Principal.

Prof. Frank Button then submitted the first year's report of the Morehead School, which was enthusiastically received:

THE CHURCH.

The church has been made self-supporting, a good preacher has been employed, and a parsonage to cost $800 is in process of construction.

THE COMMUNITY.

At the instance of the C. W. B. M. local option was voted June 1st in the entire county of Rowan.

Working under the auspices of the Christian women of Kentucky and the National Board, the people of Rowan county voted June 1st upon the question of local option and carried the vote in every precinct in favor of temperance. This insures the county against open saloons for three years, at least. The whiskey people were supplied with money and whiskey without limit. The women and children of Morehead, led by the lady teachers of the school, marched by the voting places, singing school and religious songs, carrying banners with such inscriptions, "The School or the Saloon," "Save Our Boys," &c. When the victory was gained every bell in town was rung, and the day closed with a thanksgiving service at the Baptist church.

The small-pox broke out in the town about the middle of April and the school was closed soon afterward, or we should have had a still better report.

F. C. BUTTON.

All regretted the absence of Mrs. Shouse, Chairman of the Committee on Mountain Schools. She, with our State President, Mrs. Harrison, and Prof. Annie Bourne, of Kentucky University, have done arduous and faithful service in getting plans and letting contracts for the new buildings.

Miss Sublette read the report, which was adopted. The following is a brief summary:

Your Committee on Mountain Schools submit the following:

Being appointed at the suggestion of the National Board to look after all the interests of our mountain work, we sent representatives to both Morehead and Hazel Green to inquire into the needs pertaining to these schools, Mrs. Helen E. Moses accompanying the committee. All these months we have worked and planned for new buildings, and we are happy to state that contracts have been let and the work is now progressing. These new buildings are to be of brick, with stone trimmings, with modern conveniences. They will be two stories, with a tall basement. They will be completed before another school year. The cost will not be less than twenty thousand dollars.

The National Board has been so generous to our own mountain work, will the Christian women of this State sit serenely down, with folded hands, and allow our sister States to put us to shame by doing for us what we should be glad to do for ourselves? Will not our State pride, as well as our interest in the work, inspire us to raise within our own borders the entire amount?

We earnestly suggest that every auxiliary in the State be requested to obligate itself for a specified sum; the stronger societies for not less than one hundred dollars, the weaker ones, less; but it must be distinctly understood that these amounts are not to take the place of the C. W. B. M. day offerings, or regular dues, nor in any way diminish other offerings to the National treasury, but must be an extra offering for our own mountain work. Are there not many Christian women in Kentucky whom the Lord has blessed with this world's goods who will respond liberally to this appeal?

After some discussion, pledges were called for and the following auxiliaries responded: Paris, $100; Lexington Central, $100; Lexington Broadway, $100; Lexington Chestnut, $50; Lexington South Side, $25.

The reports of the District Managers were then called for, and the following submitted:

Since this report was made at our District Convention last April our good State Secretary has organized four auxiliaries in this district, with a membership of 45, which makes the total membership in the district 269.

We held our annual District convention in Louisville on the 11th of April. We felt that this was the best convention we had ever had. It was preceded by a week of Bible study, conducted by Prof. Coler, of Ann Arbor. We had with us on that occasion Miss Adelaide Frost, Prof. Coler, Bro. C. C. Smith and Miss Sue Sublette. The attendance was good and the enthusiasm contagious. We organized that day a Missionary Social Union, by which we hope to come in closer touch with other missionary societies. All of which we respectfully submit,

Mrs. R. M. KILLGORE, District Manager.

Mrs. Mary Woodcock, Manager of the 5th District, failed to make a report.

Mrs. H. D. Barker, Manager of the Sixth District, sent her report, which was read by Miss McCorkle, but for some reason it failed to reach the Secretary.

On account of illness, Mrs. Hattie Montgomery, Manager of the Seventh District, could not be present to make her report.

Mrs. Bruce Trimble, Manager of the Eighth District, made her report, but it also failed to reach the Secretary.

REPORT OF TENTH DISTRICT.

In absence of Miss Shanks, Mrs. Pullen read the following report:

During the past year the Lord has caused His face to shine upon us, and has very greatly blessed us in our labor of love.

Every auxiliary in the District has reported and the reports show growth in interest, in numbers and in offerings. At the time of organization three years ago, there were six auxiliaries. At the present time, nine. We held our District meeting with the Lancaster auxiliary. Large delegations from all the auxiliaries. Lincoln is the banner county and Stanford the banner auxiliary. All things considered Lancaster has done the best work and deserves special mention for having doubled her membership. The motto of our District is "Wider vision, truer devotion and steadfastness in all the high and holy lines of life."

With a foundation of London Auxiliary, the district was organized by adding five new auxiliaries in the early part of the year. The work is new to us, and we doubt we need to be taught much, but we are willing to learn in so great and good a cause. Hence there is no reason why Southeastern Kentucky should not be exceedingly fruitful in C. W. B. M. good works. May the gracious Father abundantly bless us.

Mrs. JOHN B. DICKSON, District Manager.

After the reports, Miss Rannells, of the Morehead school, spoke of the interest manifested in the work of the C. W. B. M., by the Morehead women and children, as shown by the three organizations, a flourishing Auxiliary, a Young People Circle and a Mission Band.

Committee on Young People's Work reported as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK.

Your Committee begs leave to submit the following report:

1. We recommend that, inasmuch as we failed to reach the high mark of our watchword given last year, that the same be continued, "one hundred and twenty societies, and twenty hundred dollars for 1902."

2. That the Superintendents be exceedingly careful to fill out the Report Cards sent from Headquarters and to answer each question outlined

3. That the basis of award of the State Banner be the largest offering to missions, and to secure a place on the Honor Roll, every card sent out by the State Superintendent must be returned with all questions answered.

4. That more attention be given to the organization of Young Women's Circles, or Intermediate Societies and "Light Bearers."

5. That a District and County Superintendent of Young People's Work be appointed in every District.

6. That earnest effort be made to win the non-contributing Societies to an interest in the work.

7. That the State tax (one dollar from each society) be discontinued.

8. That inasmuch as the Young People's work is a child of the auxiliary, that it should be fostered more generously by the auxiliary and that the aid of the Pastor in the Children's work will be appreciated:

Miss Hattie Dear,
Miss Mattie Moore,
Mrs. Mary Walden,
Mrs. Margaret Willis,
Mrs. Will Hagan.
Mrs. Dorcas Hutchcraft.
Miss Lida P. Fant, Chairman.

A motion to adopt as a whole prevailed.

Committee on Resolutions reported as follows:

REPORT ON RESOLUTIONS.

Your Committee beg leave to submit the following report:

Gratefully acknowledging the tender watch-care and loving guidance of our Heavenly Father, and earnestly invoking his blessings for the future, we recommend the following:

1. That we commend the zeal and plans of our National and State Boards and heartily urge loyalty to all enterprises undertaken by them.

2. We urge the earnest co-operation of all our auxiliaries with our Secretary and would emphasize the importance of prompt attention to all circular letters and blanks sent out by her.

3. That we appreciate the advance in the past year along the lines of Christian giving, and in view of our new and enlarged interest, ask for greater liberality in this noble grace.

4. That each auxiliary assume some special work endorsed by the C. W. B. M.

5. We insist that members of the C. W. B. M. realize more fully that the work of our young people and children is included in our auxiliary work, and that we ought to read the Junior Builders to know their work and attend their meetings to give them inspiration.

6. Your Committee would emphasize the great necessity of increasing the list of subscribers in our State to the Missionary Tidings and Junior Builders; also that Leaflets be utilized in the preparation of our monthly programs.

7. That we extend our thanks to press and railroads for favors received; also to the good people of this city and the various country churches for their lavish hospitality.

MRS. LOUISE CAMPBELL,

MRS. EARL ASHBROOK,

MISS MARY WATTS,

MRS. BEAN.

MRS. JAMES VERNON, Chairman.

A motion to receive report of committee prevailed.

The Committee on Enrollment did not receive a full enrollment.

The Committee on Literature brought in no report.

The Committee on Time and Place submitted the following report:

REPORT ON TIME AND PLACE.

Your committee submit the following report: We recommend the last week in September or the first in October, and that we accept the invitation of the Paris church.

Mrs. Yancey moved to amend by inserting Glasgow instead of Paris.

The amendment was approved and the report adopted.
The Committee on Obituaries then made their report:

REPORT OF OBITUARY COMMITTEE.

We have come together after another year of service for our Master, another year of added experience and higher aims; but some feet have grown weary by the wayside, some hands have dropped the burden they were carrying and have stretched out toward the angels; some voices, hushed upon earth, have joined the heavenly choir.

In the roll of our sainted sisters for the year there are no names of national fame, none perhaps with a State-wide reputation, but who shall dare to measure the waves of influence for good that these lives have set in motion?

They come mostly from the rank and file of the society—just where our greatest need lies. For the imperative need of the C. W. B. M. is not more brilliant women, but more consecrated women; not more talented women, but more faithful women. It is a grand thing to speak for the C. W. B. M. It is a grander thing to live the principles of the C. W. B. M. "Faithfulness" was written across each one of these lives, and to them has come the welcome "Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Very tenderly and reverently do we breathe the names of twenty-one sisters and two brethren.

Mrs. Frankie Anderson, Mrs. Marie Grooms; Danville; Mrs. J.T. Brown, Mrs. Yancey Browning, Mrs. Hogue, Mayslick; Mrs. Anna Swinney, Mrs. Kate Brentlinger, Eminenc; Mrs. Nettie Reid, Mt. Sterling; Ora Russell, Point Pleasant; Mrs. G. R. Keller, Carlisle; Mrs. E. P. Thompson, Georgetown; Mrs. John Baughman, Hustonville; Mrs. Mary Roberts, Midway; Mrs. Mamie Landrum, Mayfield; Mr. T. M. Bondurant, Louisville, Third Church; Charles Allen Thomas, Louisville, Broadway; Mrs. Kate Downing, Lexington, Central; Mrs. Lora Jett Shyrock, Jett; Mrs. Eliza Sule, Harrodsburg; Mrs. Emily Beasley, Stanford; Mrs. H. MRS. EMMA HERNDON, Georgetown.

MRS. FANNIE MOSLEY, N. Pleasureville.

Committee.

The report was silently received, while our hearts were saddened at the loss of so many of our co-workers.

Mrs. Yancey led us in prayer for the comfort and consolation that can only come through Him who binds up our wounds and heals the broken in heart.

The minutes of the morning session were now read and adopted.

Prof. Button pronounced the benediction, which closed the afternoon session.

TUESDAY EVENING.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30. After a song service led by Prof. Hackleman, Mrs. Seargent led the devotional reading for our lesson, the 23rd Psalm. Miss Cannon, of Cynthiana, sang a solo, The Lord is my Shepherd.

Mrs. Emma Wharton, former missionary to India, was expected to deliver the evening address, but sickness prevented. She, however, sent her good husband, G. L. Wharton, whom we all delight to hear, to fill her place. He gave us a stirring and eloquent address on his work in India, and plead most earnestly for Christian union "that the world might believe," which was enthusiastically received.

The President then announced that the eighteenth annual meeting of the C. W. B. M., had come to a close. After a song the benediction was pronounced by J. J. Haley.

MRS. NELLIE STUCKY, Rec. Sec.

NOTE.—The attention of the Auxillaries is called to the fact that Mrs. Sarah K. Yancey, No. 58 West Sixth Street, Lexington, is now our Corresponding Secretary, and all reports and correspondence relating to work of the Auxiliaries should be addressed to her.

Miss Sue Sublette, No. 128 E. Maxwell, Lexington, is still our State Organizer, and correspondence in regard to organizing work should be addressed to her.

IDA W. HARRISON, President.
