The next Legislature will be an important one, and should not be en-tirely lost sight of. Should the new Constitution be formed and adopted before, or during the session of the Legislature, much important legislation will be necessary in order to adapt the laws to any new system which may be established by the Constitution. Honce, the importance of selecting men of intelligence and sound practical experimee, to represent Mason county in the next Legislature. Without consulting either of the gen-lemen, we take the liberty of recom-

stemen, we take the liberty of recom-mending as with table persons to run for the Legislature, Jonx D. Tarzon, Eq., and Capt. Joux Boroux. Mr. Taylor is known to the people of this county as a gentleman-of fine talents and experience, and Capt. Brough as a man of most ex-cellent practical intelligence, both of how would at Gabet however the target w. om would reflect honor upon the county. Progress of Democracy.

Frogress of Democracy. The Legislature of Arkansa, at the last session, passed a law giving the elec-tion of judges and district atoorneys to the people. This is right, and we hail it as evidence of the progress of the glori-ous principles of democracy. State after State is following the example of Missis-tippi. Well may the people of this State be provide the good example they have provide the good example they have the new law, takes place on the 14th of next month.—Missi, Jackhonian.

Another Enterprise—Revivel of the Campaign Flag, and proba-ble suspension of the Daily. From a Prospectus, which will be for in another column, it will be seen that we have decided in view of the approaching contest in Kentucky, to revive the publi-cation of the CAMPAIGN FLAG, and to throw our whole energies into that con test, however inefficient they may prove

Having been among the early advectes of a convention to remodel the concause of a convention to remodel the con-stitution; and, having advocated it express-ly on the ground that the subject of slave-ry should not be agritated in that body, we feel it to be a duty which we owe to Ken-tuckians, to use all due dilligence in pro-venting, if possible the occurrence of a circumstance so much to be regretted, and which would be productive of so much evil to the people, under that state of feeling which at present exists upon the subject.

Indeed, we feel that our friends have claim upon us, in the present emergen-cy, that we are under obligations to respect, and in moral duty bound 'o honor, by throwing aside all minor cousidera-tions, and entering at once into the pending contest with all the activity, energy, ing contest with all the activity, energy, and talent which we possess; at J, hence it is, that we have consented to resume the publication of the paper which is now called for, from various parts of the State, which we have resolved to do, sometime the ensuing month.

In order to make said paper as inter-esting and efficient as possible, and have time to attend to its editorial columns, we have also resolved to bring the publica-tion of the Daily to a close the present week. In some respects, we regret this, but in others, we have abundant reasons but in others, we have abundant reasons to rejoics. We regret that the limited patronage of the city is insufficient to yield a renumeration for the labor per-formed in the publication; we regret that our daily intercourse with our city read-ers must be interrupted, and their hopes and concertained discontinue and how and expectations disappointed; and above all, we regret that we are now about to afford our neighbor of the Herald an op-portunity to retaliate, by the publication of our OBITUARY-a duty which we so recently performed for the Daily Morn-ing Herald.

But while we have all these regrets and mapy more, we have as many rea-sons to rejoice: 1st, we rejoice that we shall realize a fairer renumeration for our future labor; 2nd, that we shall not be compelled to toil day and night, in or der to insure the regular appearance of a morning paper; 3d, that our hands (who are worn down, from incessant toil,) will have an opportunity to recuperate, and enjoy a little rest, especially at night; and 4thly, if our friend of the Herald should should bore us unmercifully over the susto pay him back in his own coin, at some future day, provided that life and or future day, provided that life and oppor tunity be afforded. But all this acide. It is well known to our pairons that the attempt to run a Dai-ly in this city with its present population, was but an experiment, in which we nev-was but an experiment, in which we nev-er expressed much confidence of success. We know the expense standing the en-terprise, and that there were more chan-terprise, and that there were more chan-terprise, and there were more chan-ter to be a money 1 - ut or sailing in the desired to have a dail , publication, we consented to undertake it, but without binding ourseless to continue the publica-tion for any definite period. We have binding ourselves to continue the publica-tion for any definite period. We have tried it, and are sclisfied. If we have not actually lost money in the prosecution of it, we have to at labor, which might have been more profitably employed, and any amount of sleep and pleasant dreams, into the bargain.

So, with Frids, morning's issue the DAILY FLAG will cease to exist, for the present—and until the city shall contain at least 15,000 inhabitants-that being at least 15,000 inhabilitats—that being the umber required to austain a Daily, according to the estimate of old and experienced publichers. We may live to see that day, and we may not. Be that sea an All-wise Providence may di-rect, we cannot do less than to thank the kind friends who have done all in their waves to search on, is the advance. power to sustan us, in the arduous un-dertaking, which we do in the full hope that their patronage will still be extendthat their patronage will still be extend-ed to our weekly issue, which we shall endeavor to make more interesting than ever.

Indeed, this will, in all probability, be the only issue pro-In an protocolity, be the only issue pro-sented, and the great battle will be fought and the victory decided upon the merits of the Emancipation question. The ed-itor took sides in this controversy in becoming the advocate of a Convention, near three years ago, and his opinions have undergone no change, since that period. He endorsed the action of the period. He endorsed the action of the Legislative meeting held at Frankfort, in 1846-7, and has ever since protexted against the agitation of the question of alavery in the Convention which is to na-somble the present year. He believes that such agitation would only tend to pro-duce unnecessary evils, alite injurious to the master and the slave; and hence will were availed it with all the health of the war against it, with all the humble abili-ties which he may possess.
