SPECIAL TO THE IRONTON TRIBUNE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Now in its second century of service, Morehead State University has provided generations of students from the Tri-State Area with the opportunity to obtain a quality education at an affordable cost.

On Oct. 3, 1987, the University marked the 100th anniversary of the opening of its predecessor institution--the Morehead Normal School. Although perhaps not what we today would consider as a college, the normal school served as a teacher training institution from the very beginning.

After operating for 35 years as a private normal school, it became a state institution--Morehead State Normal School--in 1922 and over the years evolved into what we know now as Morehead State University.

For MSU, 1987 was a year of growth dominated by enrollment increases and a year that saw private gifts exceed the million dollar mark for the first time in history.

It also brought the homecoming of a new president, Dr. C. Nelson Grote, and recognition of MSU's student athletes academically when the University became the first recipient of the Ohio Valley Conference Academic Banner.

A 10.1 percent fall enrollment increase over the fall of 1986 capped a year of growing enrollment which saw MSU's 1987 Spring enrollment increase by 7.3 percent over the previous spring and Summer I take a 9 percent jump from the year before.

The fall enrollment of 6,490 students included a 13.4 percent growth in full-time student population, which created such a demand for on-campus student housing that three dorms---previously closed---were reopened.

Not only did the gift-giving year of $1,249,075 surpass all previous years, but three additional milestones were reached with the largest corporate gift, the largest individual gift and the largest bequest.

The Ashland Oil Foundation committed a half million dollars over a three-year period to MSU, with $350,000 earmarked for scholarships for academic excellence, for enhancement of certain academic programs and for a series of distinguished lectures. Another $150,000 was designated as the Ashland Oil-Albright Challenge Grant with $50,000 in three annual increments which must be matched by the University in new, unrestricted gifts.

The grant was named in honor of MSU's 10th president, Dr. A. D. Albright, in recognition of his contributions to higher education.

The banner giving year of 1986-87 also included $681,878 from Terry and Susan Jacobs for artificial turf at Jayne Stadium, representing the largest individual gift.

The largest bequest came from a retired faculty member, Dr. Norman Tant, who earmarked $100,000 from his estate to endow the Norman and Dean Rust Tant Scholarship Endowment Fund, and also designated MSU to share in his residuary estate.

For Dr. and Mrs. C. Nelson Grote, 1987 will be remembered as the year they came home. Dr. Grote, who began his career in higher education administration at MSU 27 years earlier, became the University's 11th president on July 1, 1987, returning after a 16-year absence which saw him lead Schoolcraft College as president from 1971 to 1981 and serve as chief executive officer (chancellor) of The Community Colleges of Spokane for six years.

In his first address to the faculty and staff, Dr. Grote outlined a series of priorities which included better salaries for both faculty and staff, a well-maintained and equipped working environment, and an environment that stimulates creativity and productivity. If these goals are accomplished, then a fourth goal--seeing MSU achieve an even higher level of excellence--would be attained.

Re-emphasizing his slogan unveiled at Founders Day, "Together We Can!", Dr. Grote called for a sense of unity campuswide, saying:

"I am absolutely confident that if we will unify our resources and our creativity and work together like we have never worked before that we can achieve both our individual and corporate goals. We can be the kind of university that you will be proud to be associated with and one about which our graduates will extol the virtues. I can't do that by myself, neither can you, but together we can do anything we decide to do."

The inauguration of Dr. C. Nelson Grote drew many dignitaries including three former MSU presidents, two former governors and then-Gov. Martha Layne Collins. Gov. Collins, bringing greetings from the citizens of the Commonwealth, assured the crowd of more than 1,100 that MSU was "on sure footing" and had entered a "new era of progress and prosperity."

Some of that progress and prosperity was evident in the re-establishment of MSU's School of Education and the School of Business and Economics; approval of a four-year degree in veterinary technology; the naming of Dr. Robert L. Goodpaster, a prominent Ashland-area educator, as director of the MSU-Ashland Center; the formal opening of the MSU-Morgan Center in West Liberty, and for the third consecutive time a 100 percent passage rate on the national licensure examination by a graduating class from the University's nursing program.

MSU earned the distinction of being the first school to win the OVC's Academic Achievement Banner, recognizing the conference institution with the best overall academic record involving student-athletes who participate in conference-sponsored sports and invitational meets.

And MSU's varsity cheerleading squad was invited to participate in the National College Cheerleading Championship, held at Sea World in San Diego, Calif., in January, as one of the top five Division I teams in the country.

In 1988, Morehead State will continue to build upon its level of excellence, according to Dr. Grote.

While maintaining its aggressive student recruitment program, MSU will place even more emphasis on student assessment and retention efforts. "You can enroll students and insure their failure or you can enroll students and prepare them for success. And we intend to do all we can to enhance their opportunity for success," Dr. Grote said.

Faculty/staff development programs will be another major focal point as the University focuses on the quality of its people.

Dr. Grote also predicted that 1988 would see a growth in MSU's involvement in the region's economic development as specific partnerships with business and industry are initiated.

Repeating his earlier pledge to work closely with public school personnel to improve the quality level of education in Eastern Kentucky, he said, "We will be expanding our relationships with the public schools, helping to address issues that affect us all such as literacy, dropout prevention and drug abuse."

Major physical improvements will include the start of a three-phase renovation of the underground utility and communication system as well as renovation of two older residence halls, Fields and Thompson.

"Over the years, MSU and the Tri-State Area have worked together to improve the region's quality of life," Dr. Grote said. "We expect this partnership will continue to flourish in years to come."

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University will conduct registration for the spring semester Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 11-12, from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. both days. In addition to these hours, part-time students may register between 5 and 6 p.m.

Undergraduate students who did not pre-register will need their trial schedules approved by their academic advisers before entering the registration area, according to MSU Registrar Gene Ranvier.

The process will begin in Wetherby Gymnasium and students will register by an alphabetical system based on their last name. Pre-registered students who have not paid their fees also will report to Wetherby, using the same alphabetical system.

Students who pre-registered are encouraged to pay their fees prior to Jan. 9 and avoid the arena registration process. Bills for spring tuition and fees were mailed to students in mid-December.

"Those students who take advantage of the pre-payment deadline gain the advantage of extending their vacation by a few days longer since they don't have to be back for registration," the registrar noted.

Schedule adjustments for all students will be processed in the student's academic major department, beginning on Wednesday, (Jan. 13).

Day classes at Morehead State will begin at 8 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 13, while evening classes begin Jan. 19.

Registration for MSU's off-campus classes will be conducted at the regional campus centers from 5 to 7 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 11. Mail-in registration for off-campus classes will be accepted through Jan. 12.

Off-campus classes will begin meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 19. Information on off-campus offerings may be obtained by calling MSU's Office of Graduate and Special Academic Programs toll-free at 1-800-262-2044, ext. 2039.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Registration information night for Morehead State University's off-campus classes to be taught in Morgan County during the spring semester will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. Monday, Jan. 11, at the MSU-Morgan Center.

That same evening, MSU will conduct an "Opportunity Night" for area high school seniors and anyone else interested in taking courses at MSU's main campus or at the Center.

University representatives will be on hand to answer questions about academic programs, financial aid and admission procedures.

"We invite anyone interested in learning more about the opportunities for study offered by MSU to stop by," said Jonell Tobin, MSU-Morgan Center director.

Students planning to take courses this spring at the Center are reminded that mail-in registrations will be accepted postmarked through Jan. 12. Off-campus evening classes will begin meeting Tuesday, Jan. 19. Additional information may be obtained by calling Jonell Tobin, MSU-Morgan Center director, locally at 743-1500 or MSU's Office of Graduate and Special Academic Programs toll-free at 1-800-262-2044, ext. 2039.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University's Academy of Arts is now accepting applications for its spring semester which begins Jan. 25.

The course schedule includes instruction in creative movement, ballet, jazz and modern dance, most musical instruments, voice and visual arts, as well as a new class, according to Yvonne Baldwin, Academy director.

For the first time, the Academy is offering a class in Suzuki piano which is taught through a combination of private and group sessions. Students will have frequent opportunities to perform during the 12 weeks of class.

"The Suzuki method allows the parent to participate in the child's learning experience," said Baldwin. "The parent attends the private session and learns along with the child." The group sessions include activities and games to teach music concepts.

Enrollment in the new class is open to children ages 4 through 10. The instructor will be Vivian Flint, who was trained in the Suzuki method at Memphis State University.

The Academy's Suzuki violin class, taught by Terry Durbin, will be offered again during the spring semester. Because of the increased enrollment, this class will not be accepting new students during this session.

Additional information and registration is available from the Academy Office in Rader Hall 206, or by calling (606) 783-2659.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Anita W. Musser of Clearfield has been appointed to a new position at Morehead State University.

Formerly employee benefits counselor for the Office of Personnel Services, Musser has assumed the post of recruitment and employment manager for that office.

In her new role, Musser will assist all University units with employee recruitment. Her duties will include coordinating the advertising of vacancies and helping in the preliminary screening of applicants' qualifications.

"She's here to make recruitment of good employees easier for supervisors," said Jack Jones, director of personnel services. "Ms. Musser was extremely effective as MSU's employee benefits counselor and we anticipate that she will be no less successful in her new post."

An MSU staff member since 1981, Musser also is a former Office of Development and Eagle Athletic Fund secretary.

She earned an associate degree from Fort Steilacoom Community College, Tacoma, Wash., and a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from MSU. She is a member of the Kentucky Association for Gifted Education and the MSU Alumni Association.

The daughter of Wallace and Pernie Webb of Clearfield, she is married to Capt. Kenneth E. Musser. They have two daughters.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Dwayne P. Cable of Sylva, N.C., a former associate dean for operations and development at Southwestern Community College, has been named director of computing services at Morehead State University.

Cable, who joined SCC's staff in 1983 as director of computer operations, also has been a consultant in the area of automated office management.

Announcing Cable's appointment, Porter Dailey, MSU's vice president for administrative and fiscal services, said:

"Mr. Cable has an excellent background in academic information systems management and with the PRIME system in particular. His experience will be most helpful as MSU refines its current applications and looks for new ways to utilize computer technology."

Cable, who assumed the post in mid-December, succeeds Deborah Atkinson who resigned last February to accept a private sector post.

"I want to extend sincere thanks to Bill Mahaney, computer applications manager, for the excellent job he did as interim director," Dailey said. "His efforts combined with those of the Computing Services staff are most appreciated," the vice president added.

"I'm looking forward to working with MSU's computing services staff. In the few weeks that I've been here, I have found them to be extremely capable," said Cable. "With their support we will be able to enhance the services offered to the campus community."

Cable earned the Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree magna cum laude and his M.B.A. from Western Carolina University. He also holds associate degrees in business administration and in accounting from Wayne Community College.

While at SCC, Cable developed several cost saving programs for computer maintenance and employee training and designed systems to improve productivity by reducing paperwork. One of these, a college-wide inventory system, is under consideration for implementation throughout North Carolina's community college system.

A contributing author to Carland and Carland's "Accounting Principles for Non-Business Majors," he also has produced several audio and video teaching presentations

The recipient of Western Carolina's 1981 Outstanding Graduate Award, he is a four-time International Men of Achievement Award-winner and is listed in "Who's Who in Finance and Industry."

Cable and his wife, Deborah Ellen, are the parents of one daughter, Cheri Neil, and a son, Julian Brett.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University's varsity cheerleading team has won the Division I National College Cheerleading Championship.

The competition, sponsored by the Universal Cheerleading Association, was held at Sea World in San Diego, Calif., this past weekend (Jan. 8-10). The contest was videotaped to be televised over ESPN at a later date.

"We are extremely proud of these young people," MSU President C. Nelson Grote said. "They are a talented, hard working group and their dedication has paid off, not only for them, but in bringing national attention to Morehead State University," Dr. Grote added.

Ranked 11th in the nation last year, the MSU cheerleaders were one of five Division I squads selected in preliminary competition to vie for the division's national title.

To earn the number one ranking the team beat Appalachian State, Furman, George Mason and James Madison universities, according to Myron Doan, assistant to the vice president for student development and squad adviser.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--The Morehead State University women's bowling team won first place in the first annual Atlantic City Collegiate Invitational Tournament recently.

In the finals, the MSU team beat Pennsylvania State and Indiana State University, the number one and two ranked competitors in the nation.

The team had won its division conference prior to this competition, according to Larry Wilson, team coach. "The bowlers have worked long and hard preparing for this meet," he said.

The five member team included Sharon Owen, Bowling Green junior; Lisa McGinnis, Huntington, W.Va., sophomore; Theresa Burkhardt, Beaver Creek, Ohio, freshman; Terri Kaelin, Louisville freshman, and Christine Gawlik, Rolling Meadows, Ill., freshman.

Owen also was named top female bowler in the competition. Selected All-American Bowler last year, she is eligible for that honor again this year. She was named Academic All-American the last two years.

The team, ranked sixth nationally in the writers' polls prior to the Atlantic City, N.J., meet, will compete in Savannah, Ga., Jan. 28-30.

STUDENT TEACHER ORIENTATION

Approximately 160 upperclassmen in Morehead State University's teacher education program will be going into the region's public schools this spring as student teachers. As part of their preparation, they began the semester in a two-day student teacher orientation workshop conducted by various MSU School of Education officials. Here, Dr. George Troutt provides some insights into what they might expect in a teaching classroom situation. Dr. Troutt is coordinator of regional in-service activities for MSU's Office of In-Service Teacher Education.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--A variety of events including a candlelight march have been scheduled at Morehead State University to commemorate the birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Sponsored by MSU's Office of Minority Student Affairs and Black Coalition, the celebration is being held in conjunction with the national holiday named in King's honor to be observed Jan. 18.

The life of Dr. King will be showcased in the Adron Doran University Center, beginning on Jan. 15 (King's birthday) and continuing until Jan. 22. Included in the display will be photographs depicting King's life and the books he has written.

On Saturday, Jan. 16, the movie "Dr. Martin Luther King Jr." will be shown at 3 p.m. at the Cross Cultural House. Following the movie, hot dogs and hamburgers will be served.

Activities for Sunday, Jan. 17, begin with worship services in Breckinridge Auditorium at 11 a.m. A potluck dinner will follow at 1 p.m. in the Cross Cultural Center. Meat, drinks and utensils will be provided. Participants are asked to bring a covered dish to serve six people.

The eighth annual Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Candlelight Memorial March highlights the events for Monday, Jan. 18. The procession will form at 6 p.m. on the lawn of the Camden-Carroll Library and proceed down campus to Breckinridge Hall. Candles will be provided.

Following the march, Dr. Ann Grundy will serve as the keynote speaker for this year's celebration scheduled for 7 p.m. in Breckinridge Auditorium. Dr. Grundy, a graduate of Berea College, will speak on "All Things African and African-American." She is married to Chester Grundy, director of minority affairs at the University of Kentucky.

All activities are free and open to the public. Additional information is available by calling (606) 783-2123 or 783-2668.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Problems in broadcast journalism will be highlighted at Morehead State University on Feb. 9.

A panel of broadcast journalists will debate the topic at a symposium in Breckinridge Auditorium at 2:30 p.m.

The discussion is being jointly sponsored by MSU's Department of Communications and Office of Minority Student Affairs in conjunction with Black History Month.

The panel will consist of Gil Noble, producer-host of "Like It Is" on WABC-TV in New York City; Vic Carter, news anchor of WSB-TV in Atlanta and an MSU alumnus; Dwight Ellis, vice president of minority and special services for the National Association of Broadcasters, and Dale Greer, MSU assistant professor of radio-television and a former war correspondent.

The program is free to communications students and other interested persons, according to Joe Hamer, graduate assistant in the Office of Minority Student Affairs, who is coordinating the activity.

"The panel members are well informed people in the media, and we believe this symposium will be of top quality, comparable to any held on any college campus," Hamer said.

Discussion will focus on the role media plays in the lives of presidential candidates, whether the American people are too informed and would the outcome have been different if the media had backed off in some situations, Hamer added.

Earlier in the day, Noble will meet with MSU President C. Nelson Grote and minority affairs administrators from the University of Kentucky and other state universities to discuss the National Black Archives of Film and Broadcasting, Inc., of which Noble is president. He will also deliver a public lecture at 7 p.m. in Breckinridge Auditorium.

Additional information is available from the Office of Minority Student Affairs, (606) 783-2668.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University has received an Award of Excellence in visual design from the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE).

The award-winning entry--a brochure and poster for MSU's 1987 Appalachian Celebration--was one of 149 entries in the design for print competition sponsored by CASE District III.

The design concept was by Cindy Gray of the Office of Publications with technical production by Ricky D. Adkins of the Office of Printing Services.

"MSU has a longstanding tradition of excellence in publications as a result of the efforts of a talented and creative staff," said MSU President C. Nelson Grote. "We are pleased to see this recognition continue, especially from our colleagues in institutional advancement."

All winning entries will be on display at the District III Conference Feb. 14-17 in Atlanta.

District III is composed of nine states: Kentucky, Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Florida.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University is hosting preliminary auditions for the 1988 Kentucky Governor's School for the Arts on Saturday, Jan. 23.

Final auditions will be held on March 19 at the Kentucky Center for the Arts in Louisville. Winners will study July 3-30 on the campus of Bellarmine College and at the Kentucky Center for the Arts. The four-week experience culminates with a showcase performance at the Center.

MSU faculty members will serve as judges for 97 regional high school students competing in dance, drama, visual art, creative writing, vocal music and instrumental music categories.

The Governor's School is a residential program for 120-150 students from around the state who have been identified as artistically gifted and have completed their sophomore or junior year of high school.

Founded in 1986 by Gov. Martha Layne Collins and the Kentucky General Assembly, the Kentucky Governor's School of the Arts is jointly administered by the Kentucky Department of the Arts and Kentucky Center for the Arts. MSU's coordinator for the activities is Yvonne Baldwin, Academy of Arts director.

SPECIAL TO THE MOREHEAD NEWS

MOREHEAD, Ky.--A crowd of more than 100 Morehead State University students and staff turned out Monday evening, Jan. 18, for a candlelight march and special program in memory of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Sponsored by the University's Office of Minority Student Affairs and the Black Coalition, the annual march was one of many held nationwide to recognize the contributions of the late civil rights leader. "For us, it was a time not only for reflecting on what this great man did, but also to think about what each of us today can contribute," said Jerry Gore, MSU's minority affairs director.

Cutlines:

- 1---Shielding their candles from the wind, memorial participants prepare to march across the campus to Breckinridge Auditorium to hear Ann Grundy of Lexington discuss "All Things African and African-American."
- 2---Her candle reflecting in her glasses, Louisville freshman Jaronna Yates joins her classmates in remembering Dr. King.
- 3---Keynote speaker Ann Grundy urged her listeners to take time for self-enrichment through reading, getting to know other people and themselves. Become achievers and by improving the black race, you will improve the human race, she told them.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University is sponsoring a bowhunters club known as the MSU Eagle Archers. The club, which started last December, consists of 16 members and serves the community of Morehead as well as MSU.

MSU Eagle Archers is an educational program formed by Zach McClurg, 1987 state archery champion, and George Eyster, director of Extended Campus Programs, with the encouragement of MSU President C. Nelson Grote.

The idea of the club is to bring people in contact with MSU and to promote archery not only in Morehead but statewide as well. "The club is not designed for competition--although it's there--but its main purpose is to help the bowhunters in Rowan County," said McClurg, MSU lead electrician and club president.

The club offers many activities such as indoor shoots, which run through March 19. The outdoor shoots will begin April 3. Sign in for the shoot is from 2 to 4 p.m. on the day of the shoot. The entry fee is $3 for members and $5 for nonmembers.

The club will hold indoor shoots every Saturday until April and outdoor shoots every Sunday with club meetings on the first Tuesday of every month.

The first two shoots of the year have averaged 63 participants from all over the state as well as Ohio and West Virginia, according to McClurg.

"MSU Eagle Archers consists of many exceptional bowmen such as Danny Mabry, J. T. Caudill, and David Hyatt, club vice president," he said. McClurg added that he appreciated the efforts of all the members who have "made a dream come true."

Membership fees for the club are $20 per family and $15 per individual.

Additional information about the club is available by calling either Zach McClurg at (606) 784-5691 or George Eyster at the Office of Extended Campus Programs at (606) 783-2038.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University will be a satellite receiver for a national videoconference, "AIDS: Future Campus Crisis?," on Wednesday, Feb. 17, 2-4 p.m. in the Crager Room, Adron Doran University Center.

The conference will discuss what the AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome) disease is, how it can be transmitted, who could be infected, and why college students are considered a high risk group.

This live broadcast will include a question and answer segment, allowing MSU students to speak directly to the program panelists, national leaders in the identification, treatment and research of AIDS.

Sponsored by MSU's Office of Student Development, the videoconference is free and open to the public.

"It is critical that young people be made aware of this deadly disease," said Madonna Huffman, director of residence education. "We hope to make this a community event as well as a university event. Notification has been sent to medical personnel; to teachers, administrators and counselors in the Rowan County school system, and to area higher education institutions," she added.

The program will be hosted by John Criswell, co-anchor of the ABC-TV affiliate in Dallas, Texas. He was formerly news anchor in Washington, D.C., where he covered events at the White House and on Capitol Hill.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--In celebration of Black History Month in February, WMKY, public radio from Morehead State University, will present National Public Radio's Horizons each Friday at 6:30 p.m.

Horizons will explore "Music: From Africa to the Americas"--the legacy of the African musical heritage, focusing on African-American hymns, Cuban religious music, the Brazilian Samba, and African music in the United States.

The weekly half-hour documentary series will be hosted by musician and ethnomusicologist Taj Mahal. During his more than 20 year musical career, Taj Mahal has explored many African-influenced musical styles including Caribbean music, early jazz, and African antecedents of the blues.

"We are very pleased to be able to present this musical history," said WMKY Program Director Susan Westfall. "Host Taj Mahal and producer NPR guarantee a fascinating, quality series of interest to all Americans," Westfall added.

The first episode of the series, which airs Feb. 5, will focus on traditional and innovative African music created by African-American artists.

MOREHEAD, KY.--Morehead State University's Office of Extended Campus Programs has received grants totaling $28,164 to fund two training programs for 1988.

The grants, funded by the TENCO Private Industry Council, will be administered through the Job Training Center.

A grant of $14,567 will be used to fund the Pharmacy Technician training program. Under way now, this program will train graduates to be competent in maintaining patient records, dispensing and auditing routine orders for stock supplies, maintaining inventories of drug supplies, and generally serving as a pharmacist's assistant. In addition to classroom training, on-site training will be conducted at area clinic and retail pharmacies.

A $13,597 grant will provide training in the Nursing Assistant/Health Aide program. Scheduled to begin in February, the program is designed to train older workers (age 55 or over) to perform nursing assistant and aide level functions in nursing homes, hospitals, and private homes.

"We are extremely pleased to be able to offer these programs," said Shirley Hamilton, coordinator of training. "We had a 90 percent rate of hire for our program's graduates for last year. We are very fortunate to continue to train persons for employment," she added.

Jacquelyn Scott is the Job Training Program coordinator.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Nationally-known news media leaders will appear at Morehead State University to present a symposium, Problems in Broadcast Journalism, at Breckinridge Auditorium on Feb. 9 at 2:30 p.m.

Discussing the topic will be Gil Noble, producer-host of "Like It Is" on WABC-TV in New York City and an Emmy-award winner for his documentary on Malcolm X; MSU alumnus Vic Carter, news reporter of WSB-TV in Atlanta and a Peabody Award-winner for documentary broadcasting; Dwight Ellis, vice president of minority and special services for the National Association of Broadcasters, and Dale Greer, MSU assistant professor of radio-television and a former war correspondent.

In conjunction with Black History Month, the panel discussion is sponsored by MSU's Department of Communications and the Office of Minority Student Affairs.

"This is a splendid opportunity for students who are interested in the media to learn about job opportunities," said Dr. Richard J. Dandeneau, Department of Communications chair. "Students also will gain an insight into the career problems connected with the field of broadcast."

At 7 o'clock that evening, Noble, president of the National Black Archives of Film and Broadcasting, Inc., is scheduled to speak again in Breckinridge Auditorium.

Other activities at MSU to be held in conjunction with Black History Month are scheduled as follows:

Feb. 15--Omega Psi Phi will sponsor a film, "Malcolm X," to be shown in Claypool-Young Art Building, Room 111, at 8:30 p.m.

black history month

Feb. 16--Attallah Shabazz, oldest daughter of El Hajj Malik Shabazz (Malcolm X), will speak at 7 p.m. in Breckinridge Auditorium.

Feb. 19--MSU students will recite works of famous black poets in the "African-American Poetry Spotlight" in Breckinridge Auditorium from 6 to 8 p.m. It is sponsored by MSU's Black Coalition.

Feb. 23--A jazz group from Bloomfield, N.J., Saul Productions, will appear in Duncan Recital Hall at 7 p.m.

Feb. 25--Arts in Morehead will sponsor the Mitchell-Ruff Jazz Duo. This concert will be held in Duncan Recital Hall, beginning at 8 p.m. Tickets are $5 for adults, $2.50 for youth 18 and under, and free to MSU students with valid I.D. cards. Additional information on this event is available by calling (606) 783-2931.

With the exception of the Arts in Morehead concert on Feb. 25, there is no charge for attending the events. Additional information is available from MSU's Office of Minority Student Affairs, (606) 783-2668.
