Optimist Yule Tree Sale Starts

The Optimist Club of Morehead will begin its annual Christmas Tree sale on Friday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. A splendid variety of 300 Scotch pine and spruce imported from Canada will be placed on sale on the Chakere Theatre lot and in front of the adjoining building owned by Dr. J.K. Smith.

Dr. Nelson Grose, president of the Optimist Club, said today, "This is certainly a wonderful variety of beautiful trees and we hope the people of Morehead and Rowan County will support our Christmas tree sale as they did last year."

Proceeds from the sale go to youth projects sponsored by the new young club which now has a membership of 45. The annual Christmas tree sale is the sole fund-raising project of the Optimist Club.

Grose said the trees will range in size from three feet to 12 feet and will be priced from $1.00 to $12.00. The lot will be open five days a week from 3:00 to 8:00 p.m. and on Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Grose also pointed out that the Optimist Club will sell wreaths and other Christmas decorations as well as stands for the wide variety of trees.

before the press deadline; and without time to check with proper officials to inform the relevant. All Magistrates' terms expire Jan. 1, and a new Fiscal Court takes over.

State Police said that a "comedy" of wreaths started happening.

The truck carrying hydraulic oil, in quantity, in the floating bridge driven by Briscoe, broke. Oil was sprayed over the highway for many feet and in all directions.

Six motorists hit the oil and wrecked, although none were serious and nobody was injured. All carried insurance, indicating litigation between the underwriters, the car owners, and the U.S. Army which, according to State Police records, caused the wreck of all eight vehicles.

The report car driven said Briscoe should have consulted (according to signal) to proceed across the bridge.

A man and wife, and their two children, suffered serious, although not fatal, injuries at 6:15 Sunday evening on a rural road (Ky. 1722) in the north-west part of Rowan County, near Fleming County.

The driver, Claude Alfrey Little, 23, Peru, Ind., skidded 82 feet off the narrow road and into a creek, the car landing on its side, when his right front tire blew out rounding a curve.

All four, according to the Police report, suffered class A injuries, meaning they had to be carried from the scene. They were hospitalized at St. Claire.

The injured - Little; his wife, Thelma Alfrey, 23, a daughter, Helen, 3, and a year old son, Ronald, were taken to the hospital.

He was driving a 1965 Ford.

The accidents listed above were investigated by Sgt. Edgar Rooper and Corporal Marvin Campbell.

Butler's death was the 9th this year on Rowan County highways, compared with eight at the same time last year.

In the district served by the Morehead State Police barracks the 1965 accidents were compared to 50 through Dec. 9 last year.

It was emphasized at this meeting, and also on Area Development at a ball last week, that planning and thinking is that almost every part of Kentucky (and the nation) will have PH water within a few years. Billed down, the planning is like that in initial stages of rural electrification and telephones, and has the backing of Congress and the Lyndon Johnson administration.

Kentucky Commissioner of Agriculture Wendell Berry, who said this is the number one order of business in his department. Rowan County is, in effect, doing about the same thing that all Kentucky counties are starting. Rowan may have an advantage for federal funds in that it is in the Appalachia region while Bluegrass and western Kentucky areas are not.

[The Morehead News requests to publish in its next issue the revised maps, charts and other detailed information on the Rowan Water district. These are being processed for publication.]

at about 10:30 Friday night. The fire broke out in the house unoccupied and contained no furniture. Police thought the fire was started by someone using the furnace for a party, or oil burner.

The Morehead Fire Department used less than 300 gallons of water to extinguish the flames. Water is used sparingly as possible to conserve the city supply as this is limited by existing pumping and purification facilities.

Owingsville Home Town Will Attract Many Local People

Many from this county, and area, are expected to attend the annual Owingsville home town celebration on Saturday and Sunday from 2 through 5 p.m.

Homes selected for viewing this year are those of Earl Miller, LaRue Byron and Carroll Elliot Byron.

The Miller home is a modern cape-cod; picture windows are a feature of the Byron residence. The LaRue Byron 1 1/2 story home (built before 1840) is Finnish bld and modified Georgian.

St. Claire Medical Center Auxiliary realized $282 from its annual Christmas Bazaar Saturday as everything from baked goods to hand-made doll clothes were sold.

Chairman Mrs. Mike Keller said the Auxiliary is sponsoring the bazaar scholarship fund, and other hospital needs.

She also emphasized that contributions for the Auxiliary Scholarship are being accepted by personnel at Medical Center, or by Mrs. Bill [Sizemore] Lane at Lane Funeral Home.

"We can think of no finer expression of Christmas than a contribution to the scholarship fund," Mrs. Keller said.

Mrs. Eunice Cecil won a turkey (donated by Allen's IGA Foodliner) at Saturday's bazaar.

Next regular Auxiliary meeting is scheduled Jan. 10.

Women's Medical ... News

Ladies, lead your husbands to the golf course.

A recent report from the American Heart Association indicates that physically active men get fewer heart attacks than their desk or TV-bound brothers. They also have a two or three times better chance of surviving a heart attack than their less active counterparts.

Dr. Charles W. Frank, of the Albert Einstein College of Medicine, in New York City, who directed a study of 35,000 men between the ages of 25 and 64, explained that the leisure activities of men, as well as the kind of work they do, were graded.

"With reduction in work hours and increase in leisure and vacation time," the doctor said, "off-job activities are becoming an increasingly important fraction of the total life pattern."

Automation, the automobile, power tools, elevators, even electric tooth brushes all conspire to cut down on physical activity, says the physician, and "the resultant physical inactivity may be a significant factor in the currently high incidence of and death rate from heart attack."

SAFETY OF 'PILL' PROVED AGAIN

Scientists continue to give high marks to the birth control pill for effectiveness and safety. Three researchers affiliated with the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston report that in a study of 16 women who had been on the pill for a total of 65 months, they could find no evidence that it causes thrombophlebitis (inflammation of the walls of the veins).

"It does not alter the blood coagulation potential of the blood or its rate of flow," they concluded.

This study appeared in the American Journal of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

PARENTS FAIL AS TEACHERS OF SEX

Evidence is mounting that parents on both sides of the Atlantic do an inadequate job of educating their sons and daughters about the facts of life. According to a report in a recent issue of the British Medical Journal, only two of 100 women queried by a physician felt their mothers had given them satisfactory information about menstruation.

The same said they had been inadequately prepared or had received no information at all. These findings confirm a previous British study of some 6,000 women, almost 40 percent of whom reported that neither their parents nor anyone else had given them information about this crucial event.

Another British physician points out that boys are also much in need of help as they approach puberty. Law, he says, the help is too little and too late.

The subject of sex," writes Dr. M.E.M. Herford, "is of central importance, and preparation begins at the bath and diaper stage."

Sex enlightenment is a continuing process and should not be suddenly on young people.

Rowan Men May Join League For Basketball

Are you an adult male, live in Rowan County, desiring relaxation and exercise? Do you desire relaxation and exercise?

If so, the opportunity for this health program is being offered through the Junior Chamber of Commerce-Rowan Recreation Association with a basketball league.

Application should be made through Ronald Hart at Breckinridge Training School, or Basketball League Chairman, Jack DeLorenzo, Post Office Box 55, Morehead State College. DeLorenzo said nobody will be turned down as long as they have two legs and can run.

The league schedule and roster will soon be announced.

The Recreation Association announced today that this week's meeting of the women's Trinitas Class has been cancelled. The next gathering will be Thursday evening, Dec. 16. This class is to keep the ladies alert and trim through supervised class and home exercises and activity.

Denzil Fraley Participates In Important Maneuvers

Fireman Denzil R. Fraley, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fraley of Route 2, Morehead, participated in the U.S. First Fleet's training exercise "Rangoon" while serving aboard the destroyer USS Gurke.

The week-long exercise off the coast of Southern California involved ships of the First Fleet and several naval air units, comprising "friendly" forces in aerial reconnaissance, anti-air, and anti-submarine warfare operations against "hostile" units portrayed by other Navy units. The exercise was assigned to increase the combat readiness of the First Fleet.

The boundary purchased by Ray White and Sons is located in what is known as Ragland Bottoms, between the Middle land-Yale road and Licking River from the mouth of the Caney Creek to Cave Run. It will be a clear cut of all the sawtimber within the area, and is within the basis of the reservoir to be impounded by Cave Run Dam now under construction.

After the sawtimber is removed another sale covering the same boundary will be made by the Forest Service to dispose of pulpwood material remaining on the area. As work progresses the Forest Service will make additional sales to dispose of timber on other areas of national forest land to be within the pool area.

As a result of some changes made in the regional boundaries of the U.S. Forest Service last month the Cumberland National Forest will make additional sales to dispose of timber on other areas of national forest land to be within the pool area.

Regional Forester J.K. "Reese" is known to many in this area since he was part of Region Seven back in the early forties. However, most of his staff were strangers until last week when Frederic N. Newham, in charge of multiple management, and Paul W. Newcomb, Assistant Regional Forester in charge of recreation and land use management, Kelly B. Heffner, Regional Engineer, and Sidney E. McLaughlin, Assistant Regional Forester from Mt. Vessey's office paid to get acquainted with him on the forest.

ALUMINUM CARE - Don't rove food in aluminum pans, in fact, never leave food in aluminum any longer than necessary, recommends Mrs. Ella Anderson, UK Extension specialist in home management. This causes the pan to pit - it hurts the pan's looks and makes it harder to clean. Wash aluminum pans with a mild soap or detergent as soon as possible after use.

PEACE CORPS TEAM VISITS MOREHEAD STATE COLLEGE FOR SURVEY

A Peace Corps team from Washington, D.C. is visiting the campus of Morehead State College this week.

Staff members, including returned Volunteers, are explaining the Peace Corps, its training and service programs, and the opportunities it offers students. They are also accepting applications.

An information center will be staffed by the team throughout the week and the non-competitive Peace Corps placement tests are being given each day. These tests are used to determine an applicant's strengths and qualifications and require no preparation.

Members of the team will be available as speakers at any time for the rest of the week. Arrangements can be made with the Peace Corps, Liaison Monroe Wicker, Dir. of Admissions and School Relations at 748-4181.

The Peace Corps has more requests for Volunteers than it can fill and the need is growing greater. To meet the goal of sending 10,500 Volunteers overseas this year, large numbers of individuals from all walks of life are required. Openings exist for people from most professions, technical, academic and skilled trade backgrounds, and college training is not necessary for many programs. Many can qualify for immediate training.

Here's Test Of What Newspaper Ads May Do To A Business

A 16-inch portable television set, the ad said, for $8.95. Just clip out the coupon and bring it to the store.

When the 48th Street discount firm in New York opened for business at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, 500 persons waving coupons burst through the doors.

Hundreds of others milled around outside waiting to get in.

The clerks tried to explain that the price in the advertisement was a typographical error—it should have read $89.95. The bargain-hunters wouldn't listen.

While trying to think of some way out the store sold 30 sets of $8.95. Then the management called a halt, infuriated shoppers promptly started "picking up everything in the store," an official said.

With the help of police, the store was

Social Security Schedules Additional Office Hours

The Ashland District Social Security Office is scheduling special Wednesday and Saturday office hours during the month of December in order to accommodate those members of the public who have not yet enrolled for Medicare.

District Manager Thomas B. Thompson announced today that the following extra business hours have been scheduled for convenience:

Saturday mornings, December 4, 11 and 18 -- 8:15 to 12:00 noon

Wednesday evenings, December 5, 15 and 22 -- 5:00 to 8:00 p.m.

Regular Monday through Friday office hours from 8:45 to 5:00 will, of course, still be continued.

The manager said they'd reopen for business Wednesday.

Stroke Fatal To Prof. Wm. Caudill, 78

One of Kentucky's leading educators at the public school and college levels, Prof. William M. Caudill, died Sunday morning shortly after admittance to St. Claire Medical Center at Morehead.

He was 78 years of age.

Prof. Caudill, retired from the staff of Morehead State College, had been in apparent good health for his age until he had a stroke Saturday, and failed to rally. He had been "Christmas shopping" in Morehead stores during the week and had his presents wrapped when the stroke came.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 2:30 at First Baptist Church with Dr. Aaron Doran and Rev. Kenneth Cole officiating. Interment was in the cemetery.

Prof. Caudill was a lifelong member and leader in the Baptist Church.

His friends were numbered in every county of Kentucky all the 500 miles from the Breaks of Sady to the Pennyridge. Affable by nature, learned by education, study and experience, and a person who expressed his views firmly but softly, Prof. Caudill was favorably recognized by educators at all levels.

He was born Feb. 18, 1887 in Knott County, son of the late Almander and Martha (Thornberry) Caudill.

In 1911 he married Beulah G. Carver. His wife preceded Prof. Caudill in death, passing away March 23 of last year.

The only child, a daughter, Dr. Billie Joe Caudill, has her office in Morehead. She had one of the highest All-Time scholastic ratings in medical school at University of Louisville, and internship at Lexington.

He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Lenda Bryant, McDowell, Ky., and several nieces and nephews.

Prof. Caudill (most people called him "professor") graduated from Eastern State Normal School and later attended University of Chicago and George Peabody at Nashville.

After earning his teacher's certificate, Prof. Caudill taught in the Floyd County school system. He immediately started rising, with recognition in the profession, and was Superintendent of Prestonsburg City Schools from 1915 until 1923.

His work became known to educational leaders, and he was offered, and accepted, the high position of Dean of West and Assistant to the President of Murray State University (1923-1924).

In 1924 he came to Morehead State College and served as a faculty member for 12 years. The governing board chose Prof. Caudill.

He served as President of Campbell-

Edsel Caudill Reenlists For Six More Years

Specialist Four Edsel F. Caudill, son of Mrs. Laura D. Caudill, Clearfield, reenlisted for six years in the Regular Army Nov. 15, while serving with the 4th Artillery Division in Germany. His father is deceased.

Specialist Caudill, assigned as a clerk-typist in Headquarters Battery, 1st Battalion, 22d Artillery, entered the Army in September 1938.

He was born in 1945 to 1948.

In the meantime, Dr. William Hesse Baird had become President of Morehead State College. In 1948 Dr. Baird recommended, and the Board of Regents approved, a request to name Prof. Caudill as Director of Extension and Public Relations. He accepted because this gave him an opportunity to travel and meet and mingle with the people, at all levels, in Eastern Kentucky.

His long record of service, understanding of their problems, a recognition that the economy of Eastern Kentucky was lagging and the people were suffering, were perhaps Prof. Caudill's greatest traits.

He served at Morehead State until retirement in 1958. The title of "Professor of Emeritus" was conferred on him. Prof. Caudill was a strong supporter of Morehead State College, and his services were recognized by the "voluntary" basis by President Aaron Doran.

Prof. Caudill was a democrat-by-birth and practice. He was a personal friend of many of the people who achieved high places in government, and exceptionally devoted to Lt. Governor Harry Lee Waterfield, one of the honorary cabinet bearers.

Prof. Caudill termed himself a "liberal." He always contended that Eastern Kentucky could assume its rightful place in the nation only through education. He supported higher appropriations for education, teachers salaries etc.

After retirement at MSC, Prof. Caudill participated in some political races, generally as Secretary of the Rowan County democratic campaign organization.

He wrote in the Morehead News that a hospital was Morehead's one great need. This was before St. Claire Medical Center became a reality.

He was also active in civic affairs, and liked to stroll through the streets of Morehead quietly greeting "folks" and discussing every-day happenings. His mind was clear and keen to the end. He also loved young people and said this generation was more advanced and "smarter" than his own.

Lane Funeral Home cared for arrangements.

The casket bearers - John "Sonny" Allen, Kenneth Spears, Glenn Kaika, Charles Bishop, Earl Leach, Allen Parkins, Harold White and Jeff Arnold.

With The... Morehead Jaycees

By Ronald Hart

The search is on once again for Rowan County's Junior Miss. This contest, sponsored by the Morehead Jaycees, will culminate January 8 when the winner will be chosen from contestants representing Breckinridge Training School and Rowan County High.

Announcement of the contest, a highly popular activity, was made by Lane Collins, chairman of the Jaycee Pageant committee. Collins stated that the local Junior Miss title is given to the high school senior between the ages of 16 and 19 who best typifies the ideal American teenager. Judging includes personality, talent, scholastic achievement and personal appearance.

Local girls interested in competing may obtain entry blanks at the high school they attend or from any member of the Morehead Jaycees. Miss Karis Keller, Rowan County's reigning Junior Miss, will act as hostess at this year's pageant.

The girl chosen as the local Junior Miss will be presented with a Junior Miss Trophy. She also will travel to Louisville to compete in the Kentucky Junior Miss finals which will be held February 8 through 12. The state winner receives an expense paid trip to Mobile, Alabama to compete in the national finals with hopes of sharing in the $14,000 America's Junior Miss Scholarship fund.

Morehead Jaycees will hold a short business meeting and formal induction of 8 new members tonight, December 9 at the Kentucky Cabin Inn. Meeting time is set for 6:30. Ronald Hart, Jaycee President, stated that this is the regular dinner meeting and it will be climaxed with a new member orientation and induction ceremonies.

All Jaycees are urged to attend as several matters of important business need to be finalized. Foremost of these will be the Christmas and Religious Activities phase of the Jaycee program consisting of Christmas Food Baskets for needy families, Toys for Tots, America's Christmas Trains and Trucks, Dial A Prayer, Suggs & Bible Readings, Christmas Tree Sales, and participation in Project Concern.

Hart stated that the meeting will adjourn in time for the Jaycees to attend the Morehead-Kentucky State basketball game at 8:00 p.m.

Our Christmas Season

In the United States Christmas becomes the object of commercial preparation as early as late October. The big stores begin to dress their windows and make Christmas appeals almost two months before Christmas.

In some countries this is forbidden, a special period being allowed for commercial exploitation of Christmas. Perhaps this would not be accepted by Americans, who cherish individual freedom to such an extent. On the other hand, it does seem that some limit is needed on the over-commercialization of Christmas in the United States.

The spirit of some nations, however, is not to be curbed by public opinion and not by laws curtailing individual rights. We also need to lessen the financial burden Christmas brings to so many families—who must shell out money for every member of the household's list of "must" presents.

Common sense is the proper guide to behavior during the Christmas season. The practice of exchanging gifts for exchange's sake can be curtailed if one uses tact and substitutes deeds or self-made remembrances, or cards, or something else.

Premature exploitation of Christmas need not be rewarded by consumers. Children can be taught the true values of Christmas and the day itself can be observed with more meaning and example than the usual Saturday-night partying. We should think more about Christmas and what it means and stress our reverence for the day and its meaning, and use it to dedicate our behavior and actions to the ideals for which the day stands.

Commissioner Eckert

Baseball's leaders picked a retired military man to head organized Major League baseball in what is a critical time for the sport. He is former Army Lieutenant General William D. Eckert, who signed a contract at a fat figure per year. In the opinion of some sportsmen, former Commissioner Ford Frick, while respectable in office and not a man to discredit the game, did little to enhance its image or increase its popularity. It falls to Eckert's lot to make a positive contribution.

That is necessary because baseball has not kept pace with the demands of the day. Play could be more exciting and the game could move with greater speed if imagination and intelligence were used to modernize it in some ways—without altering the traditional character of the game itself.

Eckert was a sportsman at West Point and has followed sports since. Yet with no baseball background he faces a stern test of his ability in his task of improving play, increasing attendance and selling baseball to the nation's youngsters.

Much will, of course, depend upon the cooperation he gets from club owners in his efforts to make improvements and inaugurate innovations. In the final analysis it is club owners themselves who must realize the trend and demands of the television era, and move to keep Major League baseball abreast of the times.

War On Alcoholism

According to Congressional Quarterly, the Administration is undertaking a major war on alcoholism, which costs so many lost man-power hours, 10,000 deaths a year, and so much hardship and family suffering.

The effort is centered in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, in its National Institute of Mental Health. The Institute's expenditure on alcoholism have risen from 1.4 million dollars in 1961 to 4.5 million in the current fiscal year.

It's section on alcoholism and drug addiction is to be greatly expanded next year. It is also reported that the study is to depend on the results of a government-financed study of alcoholism, centered at Stanford University. The expectation is that there is need for action, and both the federal government and states should meet that need.

The Administration may ask Congress for funds to expand the federal effort to combat alcoholism as well as support various state efforts. Alcoholism as a disease ranks just behind heart disease, cancer and mental disease as a public health problem—and is the one we can probably do most about today, if we concentrate our efforts.

Our Trains

Service and comfort on U. S. trains is far from what it should be. This is why train travel is avoided by so many Americans.

There are other reasons, of course. We travel over long distances, compared to European distances. But there is no doubt U. S. trains are far behind the best in comfort, cleanliness and service.

The President and far-seeing Americans are hoping and planning to give passenger train travel, and the railroads are at last beginning to stir a bit.

A journalist recently traveled from Washington to New York on a well-known train. Smoking was allowed. Yet the seats had no ashtrays! Everyone dipped ashes on the floor (or seat), discarded cigarettes on the floor! The train jerked along, as American cars, because of their couplings, do, and it was a dirty, jerky ride.

American passengers still are forced to sit in old-style coaches, with two-by-two seats the length of a hall.

Glennie Hollon

Glennie's address is 818, Huntington, Ky.

By Glennie Hollon

Bob Cooper, Associated Press man Lexington, was up here to Williba. He called us up before coming and we suggested that he fetch along his lunch since us Lee Countians are facing great hardships and we don't want visitors and strangers coming in and eating up what little grub we do have.

If he brought his lunch, we didn't see it nowhere. And we felt sorry that we even suggested he do so. Mr. Cooper might not have been hungry. He ain't much big and no fat and we still have sorrowful spells because we didn't offer him a little something to eat while here.

He might not have been hungry. A lot of them big rich city fellows are too hungry. They don't eat a lot of carbohydrates like us pore do. Carbohydrates is what fattens up us pore--so claims Social workers.

A lot of pore around in Foreord claims they never did eat no carbohydrates and even doubt if they would like 'em anyways. Us pore never do eat much of them canned up vittles.

Them stylist keeps a talking about them topless gowns and things like that. We believe it would go against the Civil Rights law of America to start such a project as topless clothing for women. All women should be took into consideration before such a drastic move is made in fashions. It would be against the laws of the Civil Rights to force all women to wear a type of no clothing that might not be impressive.

We even read in the big papers whereby the skirts are going to be just about as short as possible. With nothing above and nothing below, they ain't going to be much covered.

In the Garden of Eden, provisions were made that man would have plenty without work at all. It didn't work. It seems that our government is trying a Garden of Eden project and are out to prove that it will work. We are being fed pampered, lecherized, and Federalized. The only thing left to do seems to be the removal of the Fig Leaf. We're gradually coming to that.

Still some of us doubt that a complete Welfare System similar to the one first created in the Garden of Eden will work. If it did not work for the Great Master, then some of us doubt that it will work for the Great Society. There'll be a little snag in the grass.

The first great law put down upon this earth by the Master was that man would "earn his bread by the sweat of his face." We are in the process of abolishing this law. Why not take it to the Supreme Court? The Master was disappointed in the Welfare System of the Garden of Eden. Someday, we will be disappointed in ours.

Duke Ellington Visits Morehead On Next Tuesday

Duke Ellington and his world famous orchestra will appear in concert on the Morehead State College campus, Tuesday, December 14.

The concert is the second concert of the season in the Northeast Kentucky Civic Society Series. Ellington and his 14-piece orchestra will perform at 8:00 p.m. in the 5,000 seat fieldhouse. Admission is $2.00 for those who are not members of the Society Series.

The talented Ellington, who has written such great all-time standards as "Mood Indigo," "Sophisticated Lady," "Solitude," and "Satin Doll," is internationally recognized as one of America's foremost musicians. Not only does he excel as a composer, but is an arranger, pianist and bandleader.

The urban Ellington has surrounded himself with outstanding musicians, including: Harry Carney, baritone saxophone and clarinet; Johnny Hodges, alto saxophone; Paul Gonzales, tenor saxophone; and Cat Anderson, trumpet.

150 High School Students On Morehead Campus

The tenth annual High School Speech Clinic is being held on the Morehead State College campus today [Dec. 9]. Over 150 high school students from throughout Kentucky are attending the clinic which will run from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

A workshop is scheduled from 9:30 to 11:00 followed by group sessions on broadcast announcing, oral interpretation and story telling.

A luncheon at 12:45 will feature a special program focusing on the development of speech in the Morehead region during the past two decades.

At 2:00 p.m., the clinic participants will attend a debate between members of the Morehead State College debate team and debaters from Cambridge University, England.

Z. Brent Fry, Assistant Professor of Speech, is coordinator of the clinic, assisted by Harlan Hamm, instructor in Speech.

The opening session at 9:30 is in Burton Auditorium.

From Mrs. Hazel Boyd, Fresno, California: For the benefit of the lady who wanted to know how the old string balls were made, I can tell her we made them when I went to a one-room schoolhouse in Texas.

We used worn-out men's socks, preferably coarse and heavy ones. The string was quite strong and easy to unravel once you got it started. Sometimes we used a small rubber ball as the center, giving the ball more "bounce." Some of the older boys preferred a stone in the center, making the ball heavier.

In either case, you would the string around the ball or stone until it was the desired size. Then, we threaded a large darning needle with twice that had been run through beeswax. We sewed all around to keep the yarn from unraveling. Some made covers from worn-out boot tops, using a pattern from the cover of an old baseball. The covers were sewn on in the same manner as baseball covers. I know how to make the balls, making the ball heavier.

Deputy Sheriff Ends Up In Jail At Mt. Sterling

Montefee Deputy Sheriff Robert Parks ventured into Montgomery on U.S. 460 to work a traffic accident Sunday night and was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Buford Sorrell and Warren Campbell, Jr., on warrants charging that he gave cold checks to the Traders Drive-In liquor store here and Jones Grocery in Camargo.

County Judge Caswell P. Lane continued the case after Parks told the court that Menfee County was in arrears on his salary and he would make the checks good when paid this week.

Your... Social Security

Many people who continue to work after they become entitled to monthly social security benefits will benefit from a liberalization of the retirement test in the 1965 amendments. The following changes will be effective for taxable years ending after 1965.

First, the exempt amount — the amount of earnings a beneficiary can have in a year and still receive all benefits during the year — was increased from $1,200 to $1,500. This change also means that even if a person's earnings exceed $1,500 during the year, he may still receive a full payment for any month in which wages are $1.25 or less.

Second, a smaller amount of benefits will be withheld when the beneficiary works and earns over $1,500 in a year. Previously, $1 in benefits was withheld for every $2 of earnings between $1,200 and $1,700 in a year. On earnings above $1,700, $1 in benefits was withheld for every $3 of earnings. After 1965, $1 in benefits will be withheld for every $2 of earnings between $1,500 and $2,700. Benefits will be withheld on a dollar-for-dollar basis on earnings above $2,700.

For example, a man and wife receive a combined benefit of $150 a month and he works and has earnings of $2,700 in both 1965 and 1966. Their total possible benefit if it were payable, would be $1,800 each year. For 1965, the couple would actually receive benefits of $150 ($1,800 less $1,650) and $150 for 1966. For 1965 they would get total benefits of $1,200 ($1,800 minus $600 of the $1,200 of earnings between $1,500 and $2,700). His earnings would be $2,700 for each year, the couple would receive total benefits of $300 for 1965 and $1,150 for 1966.

Another change in the retirement test concerns royalties received in or after the year in which a self-employed person attains age 65 on a copyright or patent obtained before the year the person is 65. These earnings will no longer count for purposes of the retirement test. This change is effective for taxable years beginning after 1965.

Interest Higher On CCC Paper

The boom in the rate of interest payable on certificates of interest issued to banks and other private lending institutions participating in the financing of 1965-crop price-support loans has continued to make such loans more attractive than possible. The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced that the rate was increased from 4.1 to 4.25 percent per annum, effective November 16. If this increase brings the 4.25 percent rate payable on certificates more nearly in line with interest rates generally which have prevailed for some time in the money market.

The increase is not retroactive. Lend-

Tales About Insects Are Often Not True

Termites can always be spotted by the signs of damage they leave in the floor. Dragonflies — sometimes called "darning needles" — sew up people's eyelids. Bats are always trying to tangle themselves in ladies' hair.

These three statements have one thing in common — they're all completely wrong, says Dr. Richard Miller, UK Extension entomologist. Yet they're part of the folklore surrounding pests, especially insects. Many such false ideas about pests may lead people in the wrong direction when it comes to pest control, he notes.

Termites, for example, leave no sawdust at all [except the drywood termites found in some areas of Florida and southern California]. Practically all termites are the subterranean variety that consume the tiny wood chips they carve out of their tunneling. If you wait for sawdust piles to tell you termites are present, they can do a lot of damage before you ever discover them.

And, in spite of all the fairy tales, bats have no interest in ladies' hair. Actually, a bat is caught in the room with a lady, he's more scared than she is. Dragonflies, which also carry the name of blue bottle flies or "darning needles" in some areas, are harmless. Despite their size and strange design, they neither bite nor sting, much less sew up eyelids.

Miller gives more examples of misconceptions about pests. Sand fleas are a common complaint at the beach, but they don't exist. You may be bitten by a flea at the beach, but it's probably a dog or cat flea raised from an egg dropped from a passing pet and hatched in dirt or trash on the beach. Spiders are generally disliked, but they're harmless with a few exceptions such as the black widow. Their daily consumption of other insects actually makes them good friends of man. About the feared 17-year locust isn't a locust at all but a cicada. Moreover, the so-called "plague of locusts" that hit the American plains was actually migrating grasshoppers.

The mistaken belief that moths can't survive adds a cruel twist also is part of this folklore. After the chest is a year or so old, it may take your clothes small nice, but the only way it can hurt a moth is to fall on him, Miller concludes.

Nurses Receive An Unexpected Christmas Gift

A $9,500 Christmas gift was collected Thursday night for two English born nurses injured by a dynamite blast in the Kentucky mountains.

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt held a $100 a plate fund raising dinner in the executive mansion at Frankfort in what he called "a small token of our appreciation in helping the nurses."

Miss Molly Lee, who came to Eastern Kentucky 11 years ago with the Frontier Nursing Service and her sister, Nora, were injured last July 30 when their jeep struck a homemade mine planted in a road near Hyden.

The sisters were on their way to treat a patient at the time.

Nora Lee Lott both legs below the knees and an eye. Molly's legs were badly injured. The sisters have been returned to England and are recovering in a London hospital.

Breathitt said the dinner was held "not only to honor two members of the Frontier Nursing Service who almost gave their lives for the benefit of the people of our state, but in a way to pay tribute to the service itself."

The service was organized 47 years ago to treat patients in the Appalachian area. The governor termed it a "guide and inspiration to the great and less fortunate."

Molly Lee, who was trained as a midwife, had planned to resign and return to England when she was injured. Her sister had been with her for some time.

About 75 guests attended the dinner. A check for the sisters was presented to Redmond Carroll of Cleveland, British Consul of this area.

Co-chairmen for the dinner were Harry Bingham of Louisville and Fred B. Wachs of Lexington.

Cropland Detail Adjustments Made

The cropland adjustment program, aimed at cutting surplus production from 40 million U.S. farm acres, will go into effect in the near future.

The U.K. Cooperative Extension Service will help farmers with the program. The Conservation Service will accept surplus land from farmers in later December or early January.

The program's main aim is to get the surplus-producing acreage into other uses. It will be a 10-year period. Emphasis will be on shifting diverted land to public benefit uses, with a strong emphasis on conserving soil and water. The Cropland Adjustment Program (CAP) supplements yearly commodity programs.

Some of the provisions:

- (1) The CAP will limit amount of land to be put under the program, no more than 10 percent of the community allotment or base acreage for any crop or total cropland in any single year. No more than 25 percent of such land can be designated during the life of the program. There are exceptions, however.

- (2) Diverted land will go into protective conservation uses under long-term agreements, with adjusted payments related to normal crop-value production. There also will be conservation cost-share payments, and possible additional payments for public recreation uses.

- (3) Past-use and land productivity will govern the payments.

Local ASCS offices will have full details shortly.

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Your editorial about complacency must wake somebody up in this county, especially so since that meeting Wednesday in Ashland when Congressman Perkins and them big assistant secretaries told them there was millions of dollars available in recent laws passed by Congress.

Your page one in last edition had "Water Act" in letters type. Fear to me and Timothy like everybody is getting in on this "Big Free Money And Grant" now. One thing about our people — they can smell a U.S. dollar further than Clem Smithers' best coon dog can smell a corn or possum.

Everybody is coming up with a federal program to get some of that free money. Timothy stated that he was going to organize a one-job training program to teach people how to fish. Timothy is the best fisher in the county. He doesn't stop by a certain still on a hill as previously editorially mentioned by me when Timothy barely showed up to vote in the last election because of accepting by said hill where also a wider woman lives nearby.

Timothy figures the government will pay him a letter type. Fear to me, to teach the fisher class. Personally I recommend Timothy. He's more qualified for the job than these fellows who are a-trying to get on the federal payroll and snag some of that poverty money. Uncle Sam is handing out Timothy is also a good swimmer and if a one-the-job fisher training fell in Timothy would be good at saving his life.

The fellows at the county score Saturday night was thrown into a state of panic when Zeke Grubb come in and announced he was junking his '50 pickup truck and getting himself a new 1966 model.

Ed Doolittle allowed as how Zeke was a good example of how come pore folks stays pore, always getting in hook to the tanker to get something new every time it come out. Furthermore, Ed was of the opinion Zeke was just trying to get more status in the community and didn't need no new truck at this time.

Clem Webster of the Great Society was defending Zeke, said it was folks buying things they didn't need that was keeping the economy of the country at a high level. He recollected how President Johnson had took some tax off automobiles and advised the people to spend this savings immediate so's to keep the money flow going steady.

Joe Glodogher was agreed with Clem, said if a fellow wanted to keep his status he had to get a new car and a new wife about every two years. And Joe finished, "If a fellow couldn't afford both it was better to get the car on account of the new safety features they was putting on 'em. They wasn't much safety in a new wife, allowed Zeke, but they got cars nowadays that'll tell you how much air you got in your tires and if the law was behind.

But Ed, incidental, that has started blamming his recommendation and pore eye sight on the Democrats, wouldn't give up. He said "sdy Bird was trying to get rid of all the junkyards and here was Zeke messing up the scenery with junking his old truck. Ed claimed that, actual, what they was doing was paying folks to get'em back off the highway and the Government was paying fer trees and bushes to set along the road so's people couldn't see'em. And he claimed the tax Lyndon took off'n cars didn't amount to nothing on account of taxes in the Great Society was like Moloches. When one gets stomped down in the front yard two more pop up in the back yard.

Personal, Mister Editor, I would have to vote fer Zeke getting his new truck. The National economy is now geared to the merry-go-round system and we got to keep the roof from falling down.

I was reading in the papers last week where the Republicans had made a survey and found there was a $10,000 life insurance policy was losing about $50 worth of buying power ever month. But if the Democrats would make the same survey they would come up with a different set of figures. They would show we was going to live a heap longer in the Great Society and didn't need no insurance. A fellow just pays his taxes, Mister Editor, and hopes fer the best.

Yours truly,
Claig Sprout

Morehead Vikings Annex 5th Straight

By Budd Stinson
The Rowan County High School Vikings, under the capable direction of Coach Warren Cooper, roared to their fifth straight victory last Friday as they "bumped off" a much taller team from Mt. Olivet Deming High School, jumping out to an early first quarter lead of 22-7, the Vikings repeatedly fought off the stronger Devils to win by a decisive 92-7 margin. The Vikings were led in scoring by senior forward Dennis King who looped in 22 points. He was closely followed by pint-sized guard Glenn Perkins with 21. Reserve forward Glenmore Thomas poured in 19 points, guard Phil Hardin scored 12, and reserve forward Gary Trent game through with 10 points to place five Vikings in double figures. Deming was led by Wayne Cooper with 26 and Eddie Henderson with 25. The Big Green had previously defeated Carter by an 89-69 margin; Olive Hill, 66-46; Menlowe County, 75-39; and East, 73-60. Employing an aggressive pressing defense and a blistering fast break, the Vikings have not been seriously threatened in their first five games. Lacking a big man, the Vikings have been using a 3-2 offensive pattern (three guards and two forwards). From this alignment they have been able to shoot with outstanding accuracy over their much taller opponents.

The Vikings have only one starter who measures over six feet tall - senior forward Dennis King who stands 6-1. King, however, makes up for his lack of height with aggressive rebounding and excellent outside shooting. He has hit the nets for a very good 16.8 scoring average in the Vikings' balanced attack.
5-8 senior guard Glenn Perkins is the leading scorer for the Vikings as he has dropped through an average of 23.6 points per game.
Forward Phil Hardin is the third leading scorer with a 15.6 per game median.
The Vikings return home Saturday night (Dec. 11) to take on Sandy Hook after journeying to Grayson Tuesday.

Cigarette Tax Hits $2 Billion

Federal taxes on cigarettes zoomed to a record high in the fiscal year 1965. Commerce Clearing House said Tuesday in reporting a general rise in collections on terms in the spending money.

night to tackle the Prichard Yellow-Jackets of Coach Dick Vincent.

The 1965 edition of the Rowan County Vikings is a small, fast team that makes up for its lack of height with 20% "muscle" which makes for a very exciting and enjoyable game as far as the spectator-fan is concerned.

The 1965 Viking roster follows:

Pos.	No.	Class
Hardin, Phil	F-6	Senior

The organization and U.S. taxes on cigarette climbed to $2,069,995,000, a gain of $93 million. Taxes on such purchases had fallen $54 million in fiscal 1964. A panel of scientists reported to the U.S. Public Health Service early in 1964 that cigarette smoking is a health hazard.

Taxes on cigars and other nontobacco products provided about $3 million more in 1965 to aid in setting an all-time high in federal tobacco tax income.

It also reported federal excise tax collections on wagering was $6.6 million, up more than $600,000.

Links Drink To Urban Life

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — The increasing rate of alcoholism can be attributed to "social alienation" caused by modern urban living, reports a University of California law professor.

Dr. Bernard Diamond, psychiatrist and professor of law in the UC's Berkeley campus, noted recently that in cities many people have no significant role to fill or nothing to give them a sense of accomplishment. "They go to work and perform duties for the sole purpose of providing the basic needs of life but the work is meaningless to them. It gives them no sense of belonging, no feeling of significance," he said.

Diamond said the response to this is anxiety, depression and tension, which the individual may attempt to blunt by using alcohol.

He also noted that the majority of patients in special clinics for the treatment of alcoholism come from high socioeconomic levels. "Though shielded by family, friends and money, the more well-to-do alcoholic is just as sick as his fellow victim on acid row," Diamond said.

Key Development

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — What is called the first major change in key design in a century has been produced here. Instead of the familiar double, the key has flat edges. And the lock that goes with it has three different rows of pins instead of the conventional single row. The keys cannot be duplicated on any key-making machine in general use; duplicates have to be obtained from the company.

The system uses small "bolts" in the flat edges; and these are different on each key.

RESOLUTION TO RE-NAMING CUMBERLAND NATIONAL FOREST

The Editor: The Daniel Boone National Forest Association at its organization meeting adopted a resolution to promote understanding of the desirability of changing the name of the Cumberland National Forest to Daniel Boone National Forest. The movement is directed to changing only the name of the forest. Cumberland River, Cumberland Falls, Cumberland Gap, Lake Cumberland, Cumberland Mountains, valley, county, city and other applications of the name would remain the same, according to Dr. Hambleton Tapp, President of the association.

It is in the area of this forest where Daniel Boone gained his fame as pioneer, great woodsman and a representative of the highest type of early Americanism. The resolution: "WHEREAS, The Cumberland National Forest extends over a large portion of land originally explored and settled under the guidance of the celebrated Kentucky pioneer, Daniel Boone, and

"WHEREAS, In this area Daniel Boone established the Boone Trace, located and blazed the Wilderness Trail, established Fort Boonesborough and is famous throughout the world as representative of the highest type of Americanism; he was truly the "great woodsman," and "WHEREAS, The name Cumberland has been applied to many areas and natural features throughout the Eastern United States in honor of the "infamous" Duke of Cumberland, particularly in Kentucky, which has Cumberland Falls, Lake Cumberland, Cumberland Gap, Cumberland Mountains; Cumberland Valley, Cumberland County, the city of Cumberland and even to corporations and companies, and "WHEREAS, The name Daniel Boone is associated in the minds of the American people with forests, wilderness adventure, long trails, hunting, camping, hiking and the general enjoyment of nature and wise use of natural resources, and

"WHEREAS, National Forests are also associated in the minds of the public with these same values: "NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Daniel Boone National Forest Association, in its 1st Annual Meeting assembled at The Old State House, Frankfort, Kentucky, on this 30th day of November, 1965, that it is deemed most fitting and proper that the name Cumberland National Forest be changed to Daniel Boone National Forest, honoring the pioneer whose leadership made settlement of that portion of Kentucky possible.

Hambleton Tapp, President Daniel Boone National Forest Assoc. Post Office Box 4 Frankfort, Ky.

TV NOTES

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chris Jones, who has the title role in ABC's "The Legend of Jesse James" series, will have a little wider help in a future episode called "Anytime." Stage star Susan Strasberg (Mrs. Jones) has a role in this one.

Breakaway star Norman Macdonald will appear on "The Hollywood Palace" for ABC next March as a guest star for the which Fred Astaire will be host.

Shaggy and Bobby Darin has a deal with Universal Television in Hollywood to star in a one-hour weekly dramatic series called "The Street Life" which is aimed at the 1960-61 season. He plays an American expatriate enjoying the luxury of living on the French Riviera.

The first telecast of play in the 25th annual Ring Crosby prize-winning tournament at Pebble Beach, Calif., on Jan. 21 will be preceded by a half-hour special commemorating the anniversary that will have Norman Macdonald as guest. Crosby, Bob Hope and Phil Harris will be among those appearing with the star.

The British apparently have an attractive sex with the espionage-adventure-private eye sort of series. ABC will put one of them, "The Baron," on the air in the 10-11 p.m. Thursday slot beginning Jan. 20, replacing "The Long Hot Summer," which will move into the same period on Wednesdays to replace the cancelled "Amos Burke, Secret Agent." CBS recently reinstated the British-made "Secret Agent," and next fall NBC will give network exposure to "The Baron," already seen on a number of stations in this country on a syndication basis. "The Baron" stars Silvers Forster, American movie actor, who appears to be the weakly center of action shops in various countries but actually is an undercover agent.

McGillivray Reusch HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — David McMillan, co-star in television's "The Man From U.N.C.L.E.," signed an exclusive recording contract with Capitol records. His first album will include two of his own songs.

Kentucky Landowners Must Give Their SS Number

Kentucky property tax returns, prepared by the State Department of Revenue and sent to county tax commissioners will ask the Social Security tax numbers for each landowner this year for the first time.

The new forms were prepared following the recent law designed to lower property tax rates while valuations increase. The forms are now in evidence in county tax commissioner offices throughout the state . . . and will afford a check between property and income tax schedules.

NEW PRODUCTS

NEW YORK (UPI) — For the handyman, around the house — or for his town.

An electric glue gun — the handiest do-it-yourself gadget to come along in ages, ready at hand on the work bench along with drill, saws, saws and soldering gun. In the kitchen, no fix-it drawer or in the job's handy corner. The glue gun, loaded with special hot-melt glue, will stick just about anything with a smooth, waterproof, flexible bond that holds securely in just 40 seconds. The glue, glue-bond and containing no solvents, adheres to almost all surfaces, particularly wood, plastic, fabrics, leather and paper. It works well, also, as instant-set caulking for bathroom or house.

Wonderful for furniture repair (no chiseling, sawing), for mending building, replacing loose floor or wall tile, attaching linoleum or tile, repairing to sticking, leaking cuffs, almost any repair chore on your list. To use, just plug in, insert glue stick and wait three minutes. The glue gun to reach its co-destined operating temperature.

(Thermoplastic Electric Glue Gun, H.B. Chemical Co., United States, Inc., 725 Memorial Drive, Cambridge, Mass.)

Another new adhesive — this one is a plastering installation of caulking and other home improvement projects. Supplied in an easy-to-use cartridge, it has bonding strength sufficient to attach tarring strips to masonry walls, to drain underlayment before laying tile, to attach stair treads, risers and thresholds, add chair rails or other decorative molding to walls, and similar jobs. The adhesive is waterproof and may be used in high moisture or humidity locations.

(Theroplast General Purpose Adhesive, Minicore Corp., 29 North Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill. 60601.)

A new all-purpose handy blade features a break-away blade with 10 sharp edges. Just snap off the dull end to reveal a new cutting surface. The color-coded aluminum handle holds an extra supply of blades. As the blade edge wears, it is to some degree, longer and sharper. Use it to cut sheetrock, wallboard, plaster, brick, wood. Open corners easily without disturbing contents. Use blade for picture framing, tile, insulation and photographic prints and pastes.

(Quick-Point, Stanley Tools, 180 Lake Street, New Britain, Conn.)

For quick refurbishing of old furniture, dress woodwork, old, cracked tile, even linoleum or even washable wallpaper, a new "renewing" gel offers a new, two-step process and a choice of nine-grain finishes or eight colors — antique white, golden green, wood tones, colonial red, harvest gold, golden olive, driftwood and Florentine wood. These coat goes on over old finish. After 24-hour drying period, glass coat is applied and wiped off while still tacky. For linoleum or other heavy-wear surfaces a top coat of high-grade floor varnish or polyurethane finish coat is necessary, of course.

(Acme Quality Paints, 2250 St. Antoine Ave., Detroit, Mich. 48211.)

Any do-it-yourselfer knows what the roller contributed to no-mess painting. Now a new kind of paint roller is making the possibility of spills and splatters even less likely. A reservoir handle holds paint which is transferred to the roller by means of light hand pressure. Especially useful for ceiling jobs. Roller comes with protective cover for the head and a plastic pouring spout to expedite transfer of paint from container to roller.

(Kono-Matic, Union Carbide Corp., 270 Park Ave., New York)

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Hot chocolate blends well with a taste of cinnamon, or a teaspoon of orange-flavored liqueur or a peppermint stick stirrer.

To keep celery crisp, wrap it in aluminum foil after washing, and store in the refrigerator.

Sprinkle a little granulated sugar over meringue before browning to produce a topping that will not brown easily.

Knit goods made of synthetic fibers may take more care in the washing. Unlike wool, some synthetics cannot be blocked back to size once they have shrunk.

Buy an extra tube and bulb mister as a handy means of watering plants.

Map is one of the most important things to check when shopping a basket. The map should be a good design, resistant and should not be when brushed with the hand.
