COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES A T MOREHEAD HIGH TO OCCUPY 1st. DAYS OF WEEK WITH SENIOR PLANS

Class Play To Be Given At Public School Gym Thursday.

The students and teachers of Morehead High School have been very busy for the past few weeks preparing for Commencement Exercises to be held May 21, at the Methodist Church.

The High School Glee Club will provide music for both the Commencement Exercises and for the Baccalaureate Service which will be held on Sunday night, May 17, at the Christian Church.

Rev. H. L. Moore will have charge of the Baccalaureate Service and John Young Brown will deliver the Commencement address to the graduating class.

"After You I'm Next" a three act play, will be presented by the Senior class on Thursday night, May 14, and their class day exercises will be at the regular chapel hour on Wednesday, May 20.

Here's another of Baker's popular play recipes. Take your young and popular novelist add a beautiful if jealous wife and a colored man servant, who is careless with the truth, place in a rose-covered cottage and let simmer for a few minutes. Then add a mysterious young homely-coupled couple, two newspaper reporters, one precocious child with a burning desire to become an actress, one musical comedy star with a string of pearls that would make Tiffany pull down his blinds, stir until thoroughly mixed. Then drop in a burglar and a mother-in-law, set over hot fire of misunderstanding and as it starts to boil throw in a wizard, a fortune teller, a fox, a rascal, a flavor with thrills, low quarters and uproaring fairs. Now put the cover on tightly and let boil vigorously for two hours. Remove and serve and you will enjoy another of those Baker beverages, a fancy frappe. See "After You I'm Next," at the High School Gymnasium, May 14.

President H. A. Babb Expresses Appreciation

To the Citizens of Morehead and Rowan County: I want to express to you my sincere appreciation for the wonderful spirit of cooperation manifested on the occasion of my inauguration as President of the Morehead State Teachers College. The town was beautifully decorated and our visitors were very much impressed with the interest of our citizens in the college. By your loyalty, you honored me personally and the institution as a whole.

Morehead and the Morehead State Teachers College are inseparable. One cannot grow without the other. Moreover, growth and development must come from within, and by united effort we shall make rapid progress. Again, may I say that I am deeply grateful to the citizens of Morehead and Rowan County for the splendid cooperation and for the excellent spirit manifested toward our institution.

Gratefully yours, H. A. Babb, President.

DR. J. G. BLACK, DEAN VAUGHAN TO MAYSVILLE

Dr. J. G. Black, head of the mathematics and physical department at Morehead State Teachers College was the guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Mays-Rotary club at the New Central hotel Tuesday evening.

On the program was a string quartette from Morehead College under the direction of Keith Davis. Dr. Black, who discussed "The Electric Eye," repeated the lecture he presented in the afternoon at 2:30 to the students of Maysville High School for another of the "College Glimpses" program. The musical program was likewise the same.

Dr. Lloyd Will Edit Inaugural Bulletin

Dr. A. Y. Lloyd, head of the department of history and government, who is chairman of the committee on history and permanent records for the inauguration, will have charge of the publication of a bulletin of the proceedings of the inauguration.

Other members of the committee who will assist in the publication are C. O. Peratt and Earl King Senff, of the history department and Anna B. Carter, secretary to the president.

Heffner-Vinson Co. To Show Here

The Heffner-Vinson Players, reported to be the largest show of its kind in the world, will open a two-day engagement at 8 o'clock beginning Wednesday, May 20 in their big tept theatre at Morehead. The tent will be located on the Bradley lot on Mill Street.

The doors will be open at 7:00 o'clock and the first night's production is a three-act comedy-drama, "TAMED, AND HOW," featuring Jimmie Heffner, the South's most favorite comedian, in the comedy role.

Fifty of the most versatile people in the show business make up this company.

On opening night one lady will be admitted free with each paid adult ticket. This show is making two-day engagements.

High class singing and dancing acts will be featured between acts. An eight-piece orchestra, known as Jimmie Heffner's Rhythm Boys will play 30-minute concert before each show.

This year the show is new from front to back—new tent, new seats, trucks, plays, vaudeville, and new people. Don't miss the season's best show.

Revellers To Present Three One-Act Plays

The Revellers, College dramatic organization, will present three one-act plays in the auditorium Saturday night, May 23, as a part of commencement week program. The club had originally planned to give "The Royal Family" but found that they did not have sufficient time to put on this production.

The three plays are those that placed first, second, and third in the playwriting contest staged by the Revellers.

The three best plays will be entered in the STAGE magazine contest and will be produced before school is out if possible.

HAMM REUNION WILL BE HELD MAY 31

The annual Hamm family reunion will be held on May 31 at Wallingford, Ky., according to the announcement and invitation carried in this issue of the News. A big day for the Hamm family is in prospect and every member of the family in this section is urged to attend.

The day will be occupied with singing, speaking and a general good time such as prevail on such occasions and those who attend are asked to bring their lunch along and join in the discussions on the occasion.

Joe McKinney Is Injured In Wreck

Joe McKinney, Rowan Circuit Court Clerk, suffered serious injuries and the loss of considerable blood early Monday morning when his car was wrecked on the Midland Trail near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kessler. The accident occurred about 4:00 o'clock Monday morning as Mr. McKinney was returning home.

While no details are available, it is thought that Mr. McKinney dropped asleep and lost control of his car which swerved from the road struck a ditch, throwing him from behind the driver's wheel, then bounded over into another ditch, throwing him through the windshield and seriously cutting him about the head and face.

Mr. McKinney was returning from Soldier where he had taken Allie Holbrook and left him.

Following the accident, he was taken to the Kessler home and was brought to Morehead where he was given treatment for his cuts. Later, fearing that he might require a blood transfusion, he was taken to Lexington to the hospital. It was found, however, that the transfusion would not be necessary. According to late reports he is recovering nicely. The car was not greatly damaged, according to reports.

Miss Paulson Takes Students On Trips

Miss Etta Paulson, fifth grade critic teacher at the training school has been taking her students and practice teachers on several trips in the past few weeks.

The most recent of these was the trip of the student teachers to Ashland on May 2. They visited the Arno, the tannery, Independent, and the Sanitary Dairy. Those accompanying Miss Paulson were Doris Vag Hook, Charles Browning, W. C. Rines, W. C. Lowe and Charles Baker.

On May 9, the members of the fifth grade visited the places of interest in Central Kentucky, among them, Dix River Dam, Harrodsburg, Man of War, the gorge in the Kentucky river, near Brooklyn Bridge. Enroute the difference in the sur-

ROWAN FISCAL COURT OFFERS SUM OF $750 TO CONTINUE ROWAN COUNTY HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Increase Of Appropriation Indicates Unit Will Be Continued.

An increase of $250 was made in the annual appropriation of the Rowan County Fiscal Court for the work of the County Health Department last week when the court made an allotment of $750 to the department. Previous appropriations had been $500 yearly.

The State Department of Health had asked that the appropriation this year be $1,000 but the court did not feel that they could grant this amount and decided on a compromise of 750. Whether or not this amount will be acceptable to the State Department of Health is doubtful, according to Dr. T. A. E. Evans, head of the local health unit, but he went on further to say that he felt that the work of the Rowan County Department was too important to be stopped and that the state would probably accept the lower amount.

The local department will continue to care for all pauper cases as it has done in the past, according to Dr. Evans. He also was told that he had petitioned the county board of education for an allotment for health work.

Special nurses who assisted in the tuberculin testing here last month, reported here Monday to continue the testing of students at the local high school and at Haldeman were given the tests this week. X-rays for those showing a positive test will be given next week. Approximately 160 students have had positive tests as reported by the testing unit.

Sportsmen To Visit Ashland This Month

Blind and Flammer, as well as an "eye" interest, is expected to flock to Ashland to attend the League of Kentucky Sportsmen Convention to be held here May 28, 29, and 30.

Thirty-one member clubs are expected to join the League before the business session on Friday, May 29, so that they will be eligible to take part in the voting.

Plenty of entertainment is being provided for the sportsmen and their wives to make their short stay a happy one. A fox hunt on Thursday will open the program, to be followed by numerous other activities, such as skeet, pistol and rifle shooting, East casting, archery, and con-dog trails. A banquet will be held on Friday night at Convection Headquarters, the Henry Clark Hotel.

Bud Hawkins Has His First Circus

There is something new under the sun.

Although it's been a threat for several years, it has happened at last and this year, instead of the usual run of the billed show, with a play each night, Bud Hawkins will come to Morehead on Tuesday of next week, May 19 with a brand new, first-class circus and trained animal show.

Of course there is no need in Morehead to do more than mention Bud Hawkins, to set both the kids and the old folks to talking. This year Bud is giving them something new. He is breaking out with a real circus that is one of the best little circuses on the road, according to all reports.

Mr. Hawkins has been laying his plans for years and coupled with his own success as an animal trainer has gathered about him a complete crew made up of able and experienced performers who make his circus stand out from the ordinary show. He features funny clowns, pretty girls, trained animals, acrobats, and acrobats and gymnasts and firing acts.

He has a large collection of trained animals which perform at each show.

The Bud Hawkins circus will give two shows here, a matinee in the afternoon and an evening performance at 8 p. m. Admission is 25 cents to all.

Exams Not Set For May 15, Says P. M.

In an article published in the News last week, A was erroneously stated that the examination for the rural route mail carrier out of Morehead on the newly established route would be held on May 15, with the result that numerous applicants have been calling at the post office for information and application blanks.

As a matter of fact the examination dates have not yet been set, according to Mrs. Mattye Burns, postmaster. The article should have read that applications will be received for the examinations up to and including May 15, but that the dates of the examinations is not known and will be fixed and announced at a later date.

When the applicants receive their cards notifying them that they are to take the examination, the date of the examination will be put on the card, so that there will be no possibility of mistake.

While the News is sorry to have postmaster considerable inconvenience made the mistake, which caused the case, we are delighted to learn that so many people had not been set on a profit by the information it carries even though that particular piece of information was wrong.

HENDERSON ADAMS HAS LIGHT PARALYTIC STROKE

Henderson Adams suffered a slight paralytic stroke on Saturday last week and is confined to his bed at present, as he slowly recovers. Mr. Adams condition was said to be serious on Saturday and Sunday, but he has shown considerable improvement in the past few days.

WALK—DON'T RUN IN CASE OF FIRE!

Panic again took a terrible toll when six persons were killed and thirty seriously injured in a fire which attacked a restaurant in New York recently.

Fire prevention education has done much to acquaint the general public with the dangers of fire, and the work of the city fire departments and the fire insurance companies has made the nation safer.

One of the first considerations of fire prevention engineers is to see that there are sufficient exit facilities of approved type. Conditions, however, do not always permit of the ideal, and in many cases disorderly and panicky crowding results in disaster.

May this work bring wisdom in governing the actions of those who are now being taught to walk—not run—toward the exit in case of fire.

HELP TO PREVENT FLOODS

"It's an ill wind that blows no one good," according to the old saw. And it also seems to be a rare flood that hasn't its mitigating effects.

It is estimated that insurance coverage of flood damage to businesses amounted to only about 1 per cent. A similar situation exists in regard to flooded homes.

A more immediate result will be the great job of repairing machinery in flooded factories and places of business. Electrical equipment, machine tools, meters and other instructions, etc.—no one yet knows how much of this kind of goods was ruined.

It is estimated that insurance coverage of flood damage to businesses amounted to only about 1 per cent. A similar situation exists in regard to flooded homes.

CHAPTER THREE

Underwood, a large vital man of seventy, boomed a hearty greeting to Van and clapped him on the shoulder.

Then he said, with unexpected directness, "Van, no beating about the bush. What are you trying to put over on me?"

Gluelessly, Van explained that he was thinking of reducing "Mayfair" to fifteen cents. Underwood was silent, then expostulatory. Advertisers could never reach both classes with a fifteen cent magazine.

As Van stepped back into his waiting car, he burst into uncontrollable laughter. "He tried to talk me into it," he gasped to Whitey. "Believe it or not, now, he fell like a ton of bricks."

When he had reached the door of his house, he directed Finney, his chauffeur, to drive Whitey home. "And Whitey," he leaned into the tonneau of the car.

"You can trust me," The car moved off. Linda was waiting for Van at the head of the stairs, "I called you at the office," she said, with pretended steeple.

"Didn't go back to the office," he explained glibly. "I was at the Club all afternoon in the swimming pool. What did you want?"

Nothing. Too late. The mood's gone. "I'm sorry," she said, "I'll remember. It's gone, eh?" He eyed her as if she were some rare tidbit.

"It is, eh? It is?" Then, swooping down on her, he found her lips and pressed them into flame.

Ted and Anne Barker, Linda's guests for the evening, were seated on the sofa while Van balanced himself on the arm of Linda's chair. Before-dinner cocktails were in the act of being hoisted.

Exclaiming over Linda's delicious liver-paste crackers, Anne greedily sprang up and went for the tray at the far end of the room.

"You know," Ted said earnestly to Linda, "Van looks a little fagged out. Now I've found out that to keep in trim you have to spend some time at it. I was at the club, swimming in the pool all afternoon and I tell you I feel like a new man."

You ought to get Van to do that. I haven't seen him at the club in months.

Van now moved into earshot with the platter, Linda rose. "I'll get Molly to make you up a jar of liver, Anne." Her spine rigid, she walked toward the kitchen. "Molly," she said calmly to the cook, "would you fill a little jar with chicken liver for Mrs. Barker? And also write down the recipe?" Her head ached wretchedly.

Molly was flattered, but alas, she had no little jar. Linda summoned Finney. "I'd like you to run a little 'You've had dinner, haven't you?"

"No, ma'am, I took Miss Winford here after I brought Mr. Sanford."

"I see," Wootenly, Linda explained the errand, then returned to the living-room. Her heart shattered, she bit, but her face masked in the smile of the perfect hostess.

Mary Tilford, meanwhile, had proved a vicious child, giving a glib lying and browbeating the other girls. Her chief victim is Rosalie Wells, whom she knows has stolen a bracelet.

Rosalie and another child, overheard Martha's aunt making unmistakable insinuations about her and Joe. They tell Mary what they have heard. She runs away from school, forcing Rosalie to accompany her.

Arrived home, she tells her grand, mother a distorted and maliciously compounded story of the "goings on" at the school and compels Rosalie to confirm it. Worried, Mrs. Tilford has all her friends remove their children.

Bewildered, Karen, Martha, and Joe confront Mrs. Tilford for an explation. Mary and Rosalie repeat their story. Martha brings a libel suit against Mrs. Tilford, but the case is lost. The scandal causes Joe to be dismissed from the hospital. He asks can get a post, but she refuses.

Karen to come to Vienna where he fears the doubts that have been against her. Crushed, Joe tells her if she ver feels she can believe him he'll be waiting.

Martha persuades Rosalie to confess the truth. Mrs. Tilford acknowledges her mistake, but Martha excuses her. It is too late to make reparations. Mrs. Tilford then goes to Karen and the girl hurries to Vienna and Joe.

The Sanford Publication Welfare Club was holding its annual skating ball at the Manhattan Ice Palace. Enveloped in a huge fur coat, Linda sat at the edge of the rink. Van was adjusting his skates.

"You shouldn't be here with your cold," he said solemnly. "I'm all bundled up." Her voice was edged with friction.

Surprised, Van looked at her closely, then good-humoredly attributed it to the discomforts of her cold.

Whitey crashed into the falling in front of them. "May I borrow your husband, Mr. Sanford, if you're not skating?"

Linda smiled evenly. "You're quite welcome."

Two pairs of eyes, Dave's and Linda's fixed them as they moved from the tallyho as it sped down the rink, the scotchies revealed the close familiarity of Van and Whitey, with the former's arm clasped around the girl's little body.

Linda turned as a girl plopped down beside her. "You're lucky to get out of skating. Been with Sanford long?"

Involuntarily, Linda smiled. "Oh, three years."

"Really? Say... there's Sanford now. The good looking one. And see him?"

Linda stiffened. "Yes?"

"The girl smirked," that's his strategy... if you know what I mean. She fell back suddenly at the strange bias in Linda's eyes. Backing away hurriedly, she skated off.

The skating ball was beginning to break up. "We ought to come here more often," Whitey said to Dave, her cheeks aglow. "Next year I'd like to surprise them and do figure skating." She tugged at her glove absently. "Your ring's in the way."

Dave directed a deadly cold stare at her. "I guess it is."

Her face drained itself of color. It was stark and white. "I guess you're right, she said tonelessly. Dropping the ring into his palm, she spun around and left....

"Sorry I kept you waiting Darling. Van said, as he inticed the car where Linda was already waiting.

She murmured something and was silent. Then, to his perturbed amazement she began to talk to him in a low monotone. Why not tell Whitey go... not fire her, of course, but find another position for her in his company. At his mute question, she proceeded to tell him of the young woman who had sat next to her at the rink.

Angrily, Van turned to her. "Linda, I certainly won't let Whitey go because someone thinks something smutty of our association. Any one would think you were jealous...."

The car drew up before the house. Stepping out, Linda disdained Van's proffered hand and swept past him, her face hard and set.

Stunned, he looked after her. Then he glared "Take me to the club," he said, by rapid to the girl's embowed car.

He was morosely sitting in a on-a-poker game when Linda's telephone call came.

"Van," she sobbed, "come home. Darling," she blubbered, "I'll be right there."

And with Linda once again in his arms, everything seemed to right itself. Whitey was remote and forgotten as their lips met in a kiss of love and forgiveness.

Two weeks later Whitey brought her complete report on National Weekly's figures to Van.

"Do you think the directors will let you buy it?" Whitey asked.

"Oh, sure. Underwood's the catch. How much will he want?"

The telephone rang. Harrington, Van's representative at the Publishers Convention in Havana, was ill. Van came to a rapid decision. He would represent his firm at the convention himself, especially as Underwood was there.

His plane was well on its way to Havana when Whitey made her unpleasant discovery. Interviewing a Mr. Jenkins for a job as bookkeeper, she was informed that he had been working for Hanson House, a rival publishing firm, on a report of American Weekly. Then they too, must be planning to buy, she told herself.

Not until evening was she able to reach Van on the telephone in Havana. Swiftly, she reported Jenkins's disclosures.

"Whit' you?" Van's voice had set purpose in it. "You don't mind fixing, do you?"

The telephone almost fell from her hand. "Oh, no," she quavered. "Then listen. Get all those papers out of the safe and take the first plane down here. Underwood's here, and in New York. Hurry it up, too."

(Linda and Van have managed to peek up their quarrel. But now this new complication arises. Does Van intend to confine himself strictly to business as on Whitey's arrival? Be sure to read next week's thrilling and exciting installment.)

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING INSTALLMENTS:—In 1843, Joaquin Marzetta, carefree and happy, is living at Sutter's Fort in California with his wife Rosta. But one night some American ruffians attack him and murder Rosta. Joaquin swears vengeance and later kills one of the men.

Left—Joaquin now searches furiously for his friends. He finds Tabbard, Cooily he offers him a chance. Whoever reaches his gun first, may shoot. But Joaquin is quicker on the draw and he kills his second victim. Three-fingered Jack, a Mexican outlaw, has been watching admiringly. He asks Joaquin contemptuously, "Who is he?" Joaquin replies, "He is an outlaw, not a murderer."

Center—But now the country is around. There is a large reward offered for Joaquin. One day he is seen Sheriff Judd on the road. He tries to explain that he is not a common murderer, but Judd will not listen, and craftily attempts to capture him. Joaquin shoots Judd's horse and escapes.

Right—Joaquin now takes the advice of his friends, Johnny and Bill Warren and goes away to his brother Jose's farm. Early one morning at the market a crowd of drunken Americans accuses him of stealing a mule. Scolding Jose says, "If you are guilty, they hang you from a tree, then he Joaquin to it and lacer him until he is unconscious. Suddenly, Three-fingered Jack and his hand take up. Will Joaquin be saved? See the next exciting installment.

WITH THE THEATRES

COLLEGE THEATRE

No matter how large the theatre in which "Devil's Squadron" plays, there'll always be enough thrills to go around. In fact, each one in the audience could have a second helping of breath-taking moments, and the picture would still be dishing them out. The Columbia drama roars into the College Theatre Friday with the throttle wide open and Richard Dix, the he-man star, at the controls. "Devil's Squadron" is one of the most thrilling thrillers.

Karen Morley, in the feminine lead, does splendidly. And Lloyd Nolan, Shirley Ross and Billy Burrud also turn in some excellent performances, doing credit to a swell story.

Dick Grace, a test pilot himself, has conceived a tale of an ace pilot who, unable to escape an unfair stigma that has been attached to his name, is given a job by an old friend, who is superintendent of a testing plant. The pilot, Redmond, falls in love with his friend's girl, and she with him. Grateful to Kirk, his friend, he doesn't want to hurt him, hence he keeps as far away from Martha, the girl, as possible.

Redmond, in an attempt to cover the tracks of Martha's brother, who loses his nerve as he is about to test a plane, is instead blamed for the boy's death. Everyone hates Redmond until he later proves himself so highly courageous by a thrilling deed.

COZY THEATRE

As a successor to their two previous full-length hits, "The Devil's Brother" and "Babes in Toyland," Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy make their latest feature-length film appearance in "The Bohemian Girl." Hal Roach's ambitious filmization of the world-famed operetta which has thrilled generations at the Drury Lane Theatre in London in 1844. The new picture will be shown at the Cozy Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Gypsy in atmosphere, the locale of "The Bohemian Girl" is mid-continent Europe. As an incident in Hardy's hazy life, his show-biz wife kidnaps a little Princess as she elopes with the handsome Devshof, played by Antonio Moreno. Laurel and Hardy "mothering" the child over a period of years again arrive at the castle of the child. While she is about to be flogged by the minions of her father, who hate all gypsy vagabonds for the great tragedy they brought him, he recognizes a token establishing the identity of the now grown girl as his child. Thus all ends happily with Laurel and Hardy rewarded for caring for the girl.

Minstrel Club Gives Third Spring Frolic

The Minstrel Club, composed of senior high students of the training school, gave its third spring frolic in the Breckinside auditorium Thursday night.

Willard Keeton acted as inter-locutor. Billy Hogue, Bruce Rawlings, J. G. Black, Dorsey Long, Orville Redwin, and Truman Caudill were the end men.

The program started with the entire company singing "I Gotta Clap My Hands." Gags were carried on between the interlocutor and his end men. Skits and novelty numbers were put on between each gag as follows: Helen Holbrook and Frances Peratt did a tap dance; Billy Ramey sang; Dolly and Ione Bays did a strutter's dance; Kenneth Bays advertised the show's backers; Marjorie Hawkins sang two songs; Dolly Bays sang and did the "Truckin'"; Robert Fraley sang; Marian Louise Oppenheimer sang two songs, and Ione Bays did an original tap dance.

For the grand finale the entire company sang "Is It True What They Say About Dixie?" and Ralph Holbrook made some concluding remarks.

Making the Job More Difficult

By IRVIN S. COBB

IN MISSOURI there used to be a judge who had one abiding fear. He was desperately afraid of lightning. The first suggestion of a gathering thunderstorm changed him from a dignified and competent citizen into a quivering refugee. One jagged bolt from the clouds, one rolling reverberation, and he would flee into hiding.

On a certain summer evening he was entertaining guests at dinner. Suddenly the skies became overcast. There came a flash of lightning and a louder crash. The judge tore out of the dining-room and plunged head-long into a coal-closet under a flight of stairs and buried his head in the folds of a raincoat.

His mortified wife excused herself from the company and trailed him to his hiding-place. She rapped upon the door of the closet.

"Who is it?" sounded a quivering, muffled voice, "and what do you want?"

"Judge Robinson," said the humiliated lady, "I'm ashamed of you—you, a Christian and a grown man and a judge on the bench behaving like this! Don't you know if the good Lord wants to kill you with a bolt of lightning He can find you, no matter where you hide!"

"That may be, Madam," he answered, "but by Gum, I'll put Him to as much trouble as possible!"

Two New Buildings Will Complete College Plant

Will Be One Of The Most Modern In The State Of Kentucky.

When Morehead State Teachers College's new science building and dormitory, now under construction, are completed, the institution will have one of the most modern equipped plants in the state. A new power plant is in the last stages of completion.

The two, new buildings which are being built at an estimated cost of approximately $400,000, will complete a chain of twelve edifices which comprise the College plant. The buildings of the College which have all been erected in the last ten years, are the administration building, housing laboratories, classrooms, and offices of administration; the two girls' dormitories, Allie Young Hall and Fields Hall; the boys' dormitory, Thompson Hall; the President's home; the auditorium-gymnasium, the gym, with a seating capacity of nine hundred and the auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,500; the Johnson-Camden Library, containing over 15,000 volumes; the Breckinridge Training School; the Senn Natatorium, and the new power plant. The Jayne Memorial Stadium, a concrete structure, with a seating capacity of 2,500, is one of the best in this section of the country.

The new dormitory will contain rooms for men students, apartments for married couples, and offices for various campus organizations. The new science building will house all the science departments of the College and will also have space for attractive displays of the work of the different departments. These buildings will probably be completed by the end of the year.

JUNIOR IN COLLEGE DIES IN LEXINGTON

Cerebral Hemorrhage Proves Fatal To Mrs. Aileen LeMaster.

Mrs. Aileen Snedegar LeMaster, a junior in the College, died in a Lexington hospital Tuesday morning at about eight-thirty. Death resulted from cerebral hemorrhage.

Mrs. LeMaster lived on a farm near Owingsville and commuted daily. She graduated from the Owingsville High School in 1927 and first entered the College in 1928. She had taught for a number of years in the rural schools of Bath County.

The deceased is survived by her father and mother, a sister, her husband, Roy LeMaster, and a four year old son. Funeral services were held in the Forge Hill Cemetery Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock, a minister of the Christian Church, of which Mrs. LeMaster was a member, officiating. Several members of the faculty and friends at the College attended the services.

Glamorous Gladys Swarthout Defies Afternoon "Let-Down"

By Jane Rogers

GLADYS SWARTHOUT, Metropolitan Opera star, appearing in her latest screen success, "Give Us This Night," guards her health as her most precious possession.

That dreary afternoon period, known as the "fatigue hour," holds no terrors for Miss Swarthout, for she fortifies herself every afternoon, even while on location, with a light repast, consisting of a sandwich or a plate of cookies served with a glass of cool Hawaiian pineapple juice.

Sandwiches, according to Miss Swarthout, should possess substance and tang, cheese or rye, is unobtainable without the traditional mustard spread, and the popular ham sandwich is all the better for the addition of ketchup or chili sauce.

Hard boiled eggs on white bread is a good combination, and so are fried eggs spread generously with chili sauce.

Molasses cookies are Miss Swarthout's favorite, and with them she serves a tall glass of her favorite punch.

Bridge Cocktail

2 cups Hawaiian Pineapple Juice 3 tbsp. powdered sugar 1/2 cup cranberry juice 1/2 cup lemon juice 6 maraschino cherries

Mix all ingredients except cherries. Add more sugar if desired. Serve ice cold, with one maraschino cherry in glass. (The cocktail will be more enjoyable if ginger ale is added just before serving.) Serves six.

Molasses Cookies
1 1/2 cup molasses 2 tsp. ginger 1/4 cup soda 1 tsp. salt 1 cup sweet milk Flour 1/2 cup shortening, melted

Beat the soda into the molasses thoroughly; add the other ingredients, including enough flour to have the batter drop easily from a spoon. Chill in refrigerator. Roll out the dough on a floured board, cut into shapes and bake in moderate oven.

EAGLES TAKE SWIM MEET BY 50 TO 28 SCORE

Borst High For Eagles; Morehead Takes Early Lead

The Morehead swimming team defeated the big Maroon team from Eastern by a count of 50 to 28 in the Senff Natatorium Saturday night. The Eagles took first place in all but one of the eight events.

Casper Borst was high point man for the Eagles, scoring first place in the 60 yard breaststroke, the 210 yard freestyle, and the 60 yard backstroke for a total of 180 points. Charles Morris scored ten points, winning the 60 yard freestyle and the diving contest. He also helped his team win in the 120 yard freestyle relay and the 90 yard medley relay.

Morehead took the lead in the first event and increased it as the meet progressed. Hofstetter, Jackson, Kelly, and Morris won the 120 yard freestyle relay to give the Eagles a 8 to 4 lead. The time for this event was 1:03.

Borst took the 60 yard breaststroke while Eastern got second and third. Morris and Hofstetter placed first and second respectively in the 60 yard freestyle. Borst took the 210 yard freestyle, swimming five lengths on his back. Morris and Hall placed first and second respectively in the diving contest. Borst and Bradley placed first and third respectively in the 60 yard backstroke. Kelly and Jackson placed second and third in the 90 yard backstroke. Kelly and Jackson placed second and third in the 90 yard freestyle, this being the only event in which Eastern took first. Borst, Morris, and Hofstetter won the 90 yard medley relay in 54 6-10 seconds, to give the Eagles a 50 to 28 victory.

Eastern Wins First Bout From Eagles 5-4

The Eastern baseball team defeated the Eagle nine by a 5 to 4 count in a game played here Saturday afternoon. The Eagles had several good chances to win the game but were unable to hit safely in the crucial moments. Trailing by 5 to 4 in the last inning, the Eagles had the lead on a lounding and only one out but Arizon popped out to the pitcher and Vinson's long drive to center field was snagged by the Eastern outfielder.

Dave Leslie, Eagle pitcher, was the victim of errors by his teammates. Eastern scoring three times in the first inning on two errors, two hits and a wild pitch. The other Maroon tallies came in the eighth inning when they scored twice on three hits and an error. Leslie was a good form and struck out four members of the Maroon batsmen. Bryant, Eastern's pitcher, hit the game in the seventh.

Morehead scored one each in the third, fourth, sixth, and seventh frames. Eastern played careful ball, getting full advantage from their six hits. The Maroons did not get a safe hit from the first to the eighth inning. Morehead got two safe blows.

MORRIS AND HOFFSTETTER STAR IN FRAY

Kentucky Taker Five First To Morehead's Three To Annex Contest

Morehead's first swimming team, making its debut against the University of Kentucky, Indiana Wednesday evening in the Senff Natatorium before a wildly-cheering crowd, showed creditably even in defeat. The final count was 46 to 32.

Hofstetter made a driving finish in the 180 yd. medley relay, the last event on the card, to give the Eagles eight points and save them from an ignominious shellocking.

Morris Stars
Charles Morris, the Frankfort flash, gave Morehead two of its three first places. His first triumph came in the 60 yd. freestyle when he nosed out Hinkelin, the U. K. clown. His second was a surprise win over the vaunted Langdon Hay in the diving contest. Morris' brace of victories was rivaled only by Westbrook of Kentucky, who captured the 60 yd. backstroke and the 90 yd. freestyle.

Casper Borst, the Indiana pride, was not up to form, but was good enough to place second in the 60 yd. backstroke and the 60 yd. breaststroke. Casper reaped some small satisfaction as well as points, by defeating the winner of the former in the opening lap of the 180 yd. medley relay, the event in which Joe Hofstetter overcame a ten foot lead to nip Riley, U. of K. anchor man, at the wire.

Westbrook High
Westbrook was the high point man of the Independents, garnering ten of the forty-six points tallied by his team. Langdon Hay and Hinkelin were close on his heels with eight each. Westbrook not only rang up two firsts but also aided materially in putting U. of K. out in front in the opening event by keeping the lead given him by his mates by the 120 yd. freestyle relay. Hay capped the 210 yd. freestyle, swimming the distance in two minutes and fifty seconds, nineteen seconds faster than he swam it against Eastern two weeks ago, and ran second to Morris in the diving fray. Hinkelin squeezed out a victory over Borst in the 60 yd. breaststroke, and placed in the freestyle tussle over the same distance.

Leslie Shuts Out L'Wilson 5 To 0

Eagle Ace Allows Only Five Hits: Ison Stars At Bat

Behind five-hit shutout twirling by "Little Dave" Leslie, Eagle mound ace, Morehead breezed to a 5 to 0 victory over Lindsey-Wilson Junior College Wednesday afternoon for its second win in as many starts.

Leslie allowed but three scattered bingles in the first eight frames but weakened in the ninth to give the lads from Columbia two singles. Only one of the five blows garnered by Lindsey-Wilson was a clean base knock. No less than eight batters hit the ozone for the third strike; a goodly number of strikeouts in any language.

Ligon, right fielder for the Eagles, had a perfect day with the history collecting four for four and scoring four runs. Huston barked the only extra base hit of the fray; a triple in the second canto with Ison aboard scoring the Eagles' first marker, and a double in the fourth added another tally.

Score by innings:

This is a splendid individual of a great breed of beef cattle and Mr. Myahler is to be congratulated for bringing him to the County.

EASTERN - EAGLES TO SWIM AT RICHMOND MEET

The Morehead College Swimming Team Will Meet Eastern in a Match in the Eastern pool at Richmond, Ky., on Thursday night of this week. East.

Saturday night, in a match that resulted in a victory for the Eastern and Morehead met here on Morehead's team with a score of 48 to 27.

Wednesday afternoon the Morehead College baseball team met Eastern at Richmond. Eastern has one victory over Morehead this season in a game played here last Saturday which the visitors triumphed 7 to 4.

Tennis Tourney Gets Underway

Twenty-Three Men Entered In Annual Meet; Corbett, Hall Favored

Twenty-three men have started play in the first round of the College intramural tennis tourney. First round matches must be concluded by Thursday of next week.

Favorites at the present time are "Cheese" Hall, former title-holder at the University of Wisconsin, who set down "Duffy" Watson, last year's champ, 6-3, 6-2 in a first round match played Thursday; "Shorty" Pelfrey, who has been mowing down all his opposition so far, and George Corbett who eliminated Thornton in a first-round match 6-4, 8-5.

The money derived from the entrance fee will be used to buy a suitable trophy for the winner.

Eagles Mermen Will Enter Tournament

The Morehead mermen will enter the State Intercollegiate Swim Meet which will be sponsored by Eastern State Teachers College in their pool on May 21. The Eagle swimmers have made an impressive showing in their two meets and should have an excellent chance at the championship honors.

All state institutions having swimming teams have been invited to participate in the meet and it is expected quite a bit of interest in state sporting circles.

The men who will represent the College in the meet will probably be Morris, Borst, Hall, Hofstetter, Jackson, Kelly, Henderson, Bradley and Ball.

Getting a Job and Getting Ahead

By Floyd B. Foster, Vocational Counselor, International Correspondence Schools

The Qualities of Leadership

GETTING ahead in your job depends largely on your leadership and ability to "deliver the goods." Have you prepared yourself to hold down a better job? Do you know your present work so well that you can direct others in doing it? Are you willing to assume greater responsibilities?

If your answer is "yes" you have gone a long way toward solving the problem of getting ahead. But mental attitude and personality are also important, for these traits that are constantly in evidence and by them the employer must to a considerable extent judge your ability to direct others wisely and without friction.

In contact with an employer no one should turn himself into a "yes man." Neither should he go around with a chip on his shoulder just to show how independent he is. If you think "yes" say so just as readily as you should say "no" if you mean "no." The man who can do this displays the balance and bigness that is needed in business today.

Some men on the way up are afraid to develop others to take their place. If you have prepared no one to take over your present work, how can you reasonably expect promotion when there is no one to replace you? Leadership demands the ability and willingness to train assistants.

Thousands are always waiting to be employed for the ordinary job but those who can lead have an unworried judgment that runs straight to success.

1936 GRID SCHEDULE IS NOW COMPLETE

Five Games Will Be Played Here And Three Away

Disregarding the disastrous 1935 grid season—the most ever witnessed or endured—Morehead has scheduled the most powerful eleven in the S. I. A. A. and potent out-of-state aggregations as foes for the Eagles this fall.

Ed Grande and Alfred Holbrook schools of lesser repute, have been dropped from the calendar. The irony of this is that Morehead tallied but twice during the seven games played in the fall of '35; once each against these teams. The one against Ed Grande, scored early in the fray was nullified late in the closing period and the Red Raiders from Ohio eked out a 7 to 6 victory. The other marker scored by Vinson, the pantless wonder, gave Morehead its lone triumph.

Various and sundry reasons were given as to why the Eagles made such a miserable showing. Investigations were held and the outcome was a promise that the same thing would not happen again. To keep faith the most feared teams in the state were picked as opponents, arrangements were made to increase the number of athletes, and other necessary problems which have to be solved were considered. This all points to a fairly successful season for the Eagles, this coming autumn.

MOREHEAD LOSES GAME TO FLEMERS

Loose Playing By Locals Costs Third Game Of Series

The Flemingsburg nine routed a bewildered Pirate 46m at Cooper Park, Flemingsburg, Sunday, by a score of 11 to 1. Everything the Pirates did was wrong and the Flemers were never in better form.

Flynn pitched the entire game for the Flemers and held the Pirates to a even hit and one run which was unearned. Poor fielding by the Pirates gave the Flemers eight of their eleven runs. The eleven hits tallied by the Flemers were bunched in their big innings, the first, sixth, and eighth.

Rob McKenzie started on the mound, but the locals but couldn't control the ball and the Flemers scored five times on three hits, three bases on balls and two wild pitches. McKenzie was relieved by Dale in the second who held the Flemers in check until the sixth but the Pirates were already demoralized and he had only poor support.

Varney was best for the Pirates, turning in an excellent performance in the field and collecting three safe bingles out of four trips to the plate. This victory gave the Flemers the game series, Morehead winning the initial tilt by 10 to 6, and then losing 15 to 6 and 11 to 1.

The Pirates will probably play either Frankfort or Mt. Sterling Sunday.

This means a great deal to you as a motorist. It is our way of safeguarding the interests of every purchaser and it leads to this—"The mechanical depreciation on a Ford is less than most cars, especially after the first year."

This is one sign of the extra value in the Ford V-8. Accuracy in manufacturing is another. (The Ford is made to unusually close precision limits.) And there is a long list of fine-car features that are exclusive with Ford in the popular field.

Have you a V-8 engine in your car? You pay $1645 for it in any other car but Ford.

Does your car have Center-Poise Riding? Ford gives you this modern feature—"a front-seat ride for back-seat passengers."

Does your car have foot-proof Super-Safety Mechanical Brakes? The Ford V-8 gives you this proved design, with 186 square inches of braking surface.

Does your car have a genuine steel body structure? Does it have Safety Glass all around? Ford is the only low-price car that gives you this extra protection without extra cost.

You get these fine-car features in the Ford V-8 because of Ford manufacturing methods and low-profit policy.

PLAN SUMMER CAMPS

FOR UTOPIA CLUBS

Three educational and recreational camps are announced for Kentucky Utopia clubs, an organization of older farm boys and girls. The first camp will be held at Pineville May 27-28; another at Earlington Lake in Hopkins county in July and the third at Camp Daniel Boone in Letcher county in August.

Utopia clubs are similar to 4-H clubs. They provide for home and community education and recreation for young men and women who have passed the maximum 4-H club age in 24 counties, with a total membership of 18. There now are Utopia clubs, with a membership of approximately 1,000 young men and women.

Kentucky is one of the few states which is providing ways whereby young men and women on the farm may attain higher standards of citizenship and leadership.

FRUIT GROWERS INCLUDED IN SOIL PROGRAM

A statement from the Kentucky College of Agriculture says that fruit and vegetable growers may qualify for payments under the agricultural conservation program.

Orchards, vineyards and areas in small tracts and nut trees are considered eligible. If such land is clean cultivated, it is classified as neutral. If it was used in 1935 to produce an interplanted soil-depleting crop, the actual acreage so used is classified as soil-depleting. If it was interplanted with a soil-conserving crop, the actual acreage so used is classified as soil-conserving.

The provisions governing rates of payment and requirements for qualifications for payment are the same on the interplanted part of the land devoted to orchards, vineyards, small fruits, and nut trees as on any other cropland.

Truck farmers and other vegetable growers who use winter cover and green manure crops will be able to increase their soil-building allowance, which is the maximum of the Class II payment for which they can qualify under the agricultural conservation program.

Land that has been in vegetable crops will be counted in the acreage allowance in determining the soil building allowance allotted to winter cover crops and green manure crops, provided that such crops are turned under as green manure between Jan. 1, 1936, and Oct. 1, 1936. The winter cover crops and green manure crops, however, must have been growing at least two months, before being turned under.

Such classification of acreage will be used only for the purpose of determining the soil-building allowance. The number of dollars for soil-building payments cannot exceed the number of acres in soil-conserving crops, including the winter cover and green manure crops, on the farm in 1936. That is the top limit on the total Class II payment for the farm. However, the rate of payment for specific soil-building practices may be greater than $1 per acre for the acreage on which they are carried out.

Among the first pests to come are the plant lice on cabbage and on the spring greens. For some of these, the gardener is himself responsible, for with the "frost-proof" cabbage plants he bought, he also bought cabbage lice, and perhaps infant Harlequin bugs, or their eggs. With the coming of cabbage-growing weather, these insects, too, become active and multiply, sometimes in numbers great enough entirely to destroy cabbage and the related greens, mustards, Seven Top and kale, or, at last, seriously to hamper them.

To forestall the lice, a good precaution to have taken would have been to douse all "frost proof" cabbage slips in a strong decoction of tobacco, or in a solution of nicotine sulfate, to kill the lice that are almost always present, and the young of the Harlequin bug. The latter insect is the gaudy orange-and-black diamond-shaped "bug" that causes "blisters" on the cabbage foliage and that of the related greens.

Support, however, that the slips were not so treated, these pests may still be held in check by spraying with stout tobacco tea or with commercial tobacco extract. As spray is needed, to drive the material up to the leaf veins and into the central bug, the lice are destroyed only by direct contact, and so are the Harlequin bugs in their younger soft-shelled stages. After these latter have taken on their hard-shelled "shells" no spray is of any avail, but only hand-picking. Although this may seem quite a chore it is quite effective, if it is done before much seedling takes place.

No exact schedule for spraying lice can be given; rather, the presence of the insects should determine. There should be no live lice 15 minutes after a spraying has been given.

The earliest chewing insect that attacks cabbage and its kind-folk greens is the green cabbage worm. With the coming of the first warm days, the familiar yellow and white "butterflies" will be seen bobbing here and there among the plants, laying eggs from which this pest hatches. The obvious remedy is to apply stomach poisons but that is safe to do only until heading of the cabbage is underway, and never on greens, because of the risk to humans.

For greens, and for cabbage that has begun to head, the material to use is rotenone, deadly for all chewing insects but harmless to human beings. It is recommended to apply rotenone in dust form, because of the difficulty met in making wet spray sticks, a dust whose base is lime or sulphur, which carries three-quarters of a percent of rotenone. Such dusts are readily obtainable, anywhere.

On younger cabbage, an arsenical may be used, again preferably in dust form, an acceptable dust may be made by mixing calcium arsenic and lime, 1 part to 6 parts, by weight.

It is always best to apply the dust through a dust-gun, because of better coverage, with less material, but either the rotenone or the arsenical may be sifted on the plants through a sack of porous material. Applications should be made as needed for them in indicated by the injury the worms do. Too, when harvest begins, the stubs should be pulled and destroyed as the cabbage heads are cut, so as to remove further breeding places for the pest.

Holstein-Friesian Give Good Tests

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America reports that the Holstein herd at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington averaged 1.3 pounds of butterfat per cow daily during the first 157 days of the current test year. Five cows in the herd topped the 200-pound mark, with highest honors going to U. K. Lad Glen, who produced 277 pounds of butterfat and 7,930 pounds of waterfat and 7,660 pounds of milk in the 157-day period. The senior, four-year-old U. K. Lad Florence in the Experiment Station herd recently completed a lactation record of 538 pounds of butterfat and 15,999 pounds of milk, on a twice-a-day milking.

A Million Miles WITHOUT AN ACCIDENT

Firestone HIGH SPEED TIRES

WILL STOP A CAR UP TO 25% QUICKER
GIVES GREATER BLOWOUT PROTECTION
GIVES 25% LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE

BUY ON PROOF OF PERFORMANCE

A MILLION miles on Firestone Tires without an accident. That is the record of Ab Jenkins, famous driver, who has driven on all kinds of roads and in all kinds of traffic in every state in the union. What a tribute to safe, dependable, tire equipment! Make this proof of performance your guide in choosing new tires to protect yourself and your family.

There are three important factors you should know about the tires you buy—

- 1. THE FACTS ON TRACTION AND NON-SKID SAFETY
A leading university in 2,350 tests has found that the new, scientifically designed tread on the Firestone High Speed Tire stops a car up to 25% quicker.
  - 2. THE FACTS ON BLOWOUT PROTECTION
Ab Jenkins used Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires when he drove his 5,000-pound car over the hot, soft beds at Bonneville, Utah, in the record-breaking time of 127 miles per hour, covering 3,000 miles in 2 1/2 hours without a blowout or tire trouble of any kind.
  - 3. THE FACTS ON ECONOMY AND NON-SKID MILEAGE
The largest transportation companies in the country, such as Greyhound, to whom safety and tire economy mean business efficiency, the Firestone Tires from Coast to Coast and from Canada to the Gulf. And our own test records prove that the new Firestone High Speed Tire for 1936 gives you up to 25% longer non-skid mileage.
- The Firestone High Speed Tire for 1936 proves by performance its superiority in all of these three qualifications. Make this proof of performance your yardstick of safety and value. Decide today to equip your car with new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1936—the safest driving equipment money can buy.

End of cord in Gum-Dipped Tire means firmness, insulating every fiber in contact with liquid water.

End of cord from ordinary tire means weakness, insulating every fiber in contact with liquid water.

Gum-Dipping not only strengthens the cords but prevents heat inside the cords, where it insulates the tiny fibers against friction and protects Firestone High Speed Tires from blowouts.

This heavy, broad, traction and non-skid tread is held to the cord body of the tire with Two Extra Layers of Gum-Dipped cords, a patented construction, making the cord body and tread inseparable unit.

The angles in the scientifically designed Firestone High Speed tread are so placed as to stop a car quicker and without side-sway. Its super-traction and non-skid efficiency have also been proved in the famous Pike's Peak Race where for eight consecutive years it has been used on the winning cars.

CHICKS NEED FEEDER

Use a feeder in plenty room at the feeder, for rapid growth and uniform development are highly desirable, suggests Stanley Caton of the Kentucky College of Agriculture.

One inch of feeder space per chick is sufficient for the first two or three weeks. Then the space should be increased to 1 1/2 to 2 inches for four weeks, the chick is three times as big as it was when hatched. Do not starve the chicks by keeping them away from the feed, says Mr. Caton. They are fed to a table set for 100 chicks won't do for 200.

Hints To Gardeners

By Harold Coulter
Vegetable Expert

Fighting Vegetable Pests

THERE are two major classifications of insect pests—chewing and sucking. Chewing insects, such as beetles, leave telltale holes in leaves. Control by dusting or spraying plants with arsenical poisons with arsenate of lead as a base, or pyrethrum. These remedies are known as stomach poisons, for they must be eaten by the insects. Plants commonly attacked include cucumber, squash, other vine crops, mustard, tomato and pepper. Presence of sucking insects, such as aphids or plant lice, is indicated by a general lack of vitality in the plant. Control by dusting or spraying directly on the insects, nicotine sulphate or pyrethrum. These insects do not eat exterior plant texture and must be killed by a contact poison. Among plants attacked are peas, peppers, cabbage and related crops.

All seedlings may be treated early with light application of an arsenical.

Special treatment should be given two pests—outworm and leaf beetle. The former is a chewing insect, very fond of green pepper, tomato and cabbage plants, and is controlled by spreading about a mound of "rotten straw hay" near each plant. This should be done at nightfall. Leaf beetle (also a chewing insect) is found on tomato, pepper, turnips and other plants. It can be repelled by a dust form of rotenone spray.

Remember this important "don't." Don't use arsenical on the edible portion of vegetables within 14 days of the time they are to be eaten. If you do, however, are equally effective and may be safely used at any time.

THE INSECTS

In no time at all, the first of the insects will emerge from their winter shelter, and the annual battle to outwit them will begin. While it is true that, in severe seasons, insect mortality is high, it is too much to say that last winter's low temperatures have solved the gardener's insect problem for him, but he should

Second, Third Prize Clean-Up Stories

II CORRINE BRADLEY

Have you wondered why Sparta was so progressive? It's streets were the most perfect of any other city in the civilized world. It sparkled with loveliness and radiated health because of its superior cleanliness. It had its city clean and attractive so that their future men would be healthy and be of benefit to their fast-growing country.

Morehead, like Sparta, can be as well kept as Sparta. Cleanliness and attractiveness speaks louder of a city's status in a better metropolitan community or a large metropolis. If every citizen looked upon Morehead as his individual problem as to keeping it clean and attractive it would be a Utopia and the home of many progressive citizens.

Morehead with its natural beauty, is a unique situation in a better business man. It lies peacefully between the mountains, unpolished by the fire and crime of the factories. What business man would not want to make such a beautiful home for his children, always his foremost thought, has the promise of every educational advantage. He is assured of good health, due to the cleanliness, the pure air, and in "arm's length" of a surgeon. Coming home in the evening, and his footstep slightly dragging, he knows that he will spend the evening in peace and solitude. His eyes roam over to neighbor Bailly's lawn which has been recently mowed, and he sees the lawns of many of his neighbors which are just as inviting. Prosperity? Satisfaction? Yes!

Why do tourists stop in to see the unique scenery hid among the hills of Kentucky?

It is a faithful duty they perform, to stop at each little town to view its "No." Its quaint beauty arrests their eye, invites them to stroll among its loveliness, drinking in its beauty hungrily. This would be the case more so than that now is, if they saw an immaculately clean, surprisingly attractive, city.

Morehead is your possession-keep it, and make it the best by keeping its natural beauty alive and guarding its cleanliness.

III NORENE HUNTER

If people feel their best when they look their best, why shouldn't Morehead make her people feel good by looking her best? Why should Morehead lag behind other progressive towns for cleanliness and progress? She can be something! She can be made one of the most beautiful and encouraging little towns of Kentucky. Why not help her look good, citizens? She can't stand alone. She needs the helping hands of her guides.

Nature has had a great hand in Morehead's situation and why can't the people of Morehead take a hand in beautifying it? Morehead lies between two hills, and has beautiful views around it. It is situated in a very beautiful place, and all it needs is a good clean-up!

When a town is clean and attractive the tourists and passers-by feel that it would not be a waste of time for them to stay, their stopping would extend trade and communication.

If a person were driving through a clean, attractive town looking for a permanent place to live he would think this is the place to make his home.

If Morehead were cleaned and cleared up like it should properly be, the people would be greatly surprised to see how it would prosper. The wonderful things that would flourish. The people who passed through would be glad to send their children to such a clean town to attend the great school that Morehead has built.

Instead of dragging Morehead down, the citizens should lift it up. The merchants should make a good clean-up of their stores and fix up their window fronts. The many signs that clutter the town should be taken down, and a few new ones should be properly arranged in their places. The streets should be cleaned as well as the lawns of the town.

Should one be given advice when he already knows what to do. That's the citizens of Morehead! They already know what to do and all they need is one little shove and they will be on their heads to build up the town, and make it a shiny spot in the world.
