THREE IMPORTANT WPA PROJECTS EXPECTED TO BE APPROVED IN NEAR FUTURE BY WASHINGTON

Office Building, Jail Repair New School House Are Being Considered.

Immediate approval is expected on at least two larger county WPA projects, according to Judge Chas. E. Jennings, who was in Paintsville Saturday and Sunday in the interest of the projects which had been submitted some time ago.

The first project calling for an expenditure of $14,000 is for the construction of an office building on the North West corner of the court house yard, facing the boulevard. The proposed office building which is to be built by the fiscal court in conjunction with the Rowan County Board of Education, will house the offices of the county superintendent. Such other space as may be left will be assigned from time to time to various county offices.

The plans for the office building have been approved by the Paintsville office of WPA and sent back for signature. They have been returned to Paintsville and must now go to Washington for final approval. This is expected almost at once.

Another important project which has been under consideration for some time and which is expected to be approved within a short time, is a project to overhaul and veneer the county jail. The project calls for the veneering of the jail with native stone, the installation of a concrete roof, and a general overhauling, which is intended to make the jail modern and "break-proof." This project has already received approval and is on the verge of being started. It will call for an expenditure of $4,500.00.

Probably the most ambitious WPA project is the one in which calling for the construction of six room school houses together with gymnasiums at Elliottville. The project which originates with the county board of education will call for an expenditure of $25,000.00. The proposed building will be erected of native stone and when completed is expected to give Elliottville a school house second to none in the section.

The project has reached the point where word is expected any day ordering the county board to proceed with the work.

REV. H. L. MOORE ATTENDS METHODIST CAMP MEET

Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Moore will leave Thursday for Wilmore, Ky., where they will attend the annual camp meeting of the Methodist Church. Rev. J. R. Church, who conducted a revival at the local church last fall, will be one of the preachers in the camp.

DR. MANNING DISCUSSES PERSONNEL OF STATE EMPLOYEES IN CHAPEL TALK HERE

Dr. John W. Manning, Director of Personnel Efficiency of the State Administration at Frankfort spoke at Convocation Friday to the summer school student body and faculty. He lauded the efforts of the Governor in instituting a merit system in the selection of state appointees, saying that the most important business in Kentucky is the State government and that, heretofore, we have had a 33 1/3 per cent turnover in State appointees each year, amounting to a 100 per cent turn-over each three years. Such a system, he said, would mean bankruptcy in any legitimate business and that one of the provisions of the reorganization act, passed during the special session of the legislature, provided for the creation of a divided of personnel efficiency. The function of this division is to aid the Governor and the State Administration, in the selection of merit men and efficient employees. After September 1st, a person can be appointed in the best service of the State until after he has taken an examination and the

Pays First Visit To Eagles Nest

This is news. In fact we should have spelled that with capital letters, NEWS. Mrs. Mollie White lives on the corner of News and Mill Street, Aunt Mollie has lived there for years.

But on Monday of this week, Aunt Mollie, as every one knows her, crossed the street and visited —

The Eagles Nest. And that became NEWS.

For the Eagles Nest has also been located in its new place for years, not quite so many years as Aunt Mollie has lived in her home.

And in all those years that both have been neighbors, it was the first time that the two had met.

It was Aunt Mollie's first visit to the Eagles Nest.

Needless to say the Eagles Nest appreciated it and extends a hearty invitation to her to return.

College Professors Answer Many Calls

Members of the faculty of the Morehead State Teachers College had a "busy day" during the past week taking part in numerous teachers meetings throughout the section and conducting student tours to various parts of the state.

Dr. R. L. Terrell addressed the teachers of Powell county at their meeting held last Friday, on the subject "The Sciences in Elementary Schools."

On Saturday Prof. L. H. Horton discussed "Music in the Elementary Schools" before the teachers of Montgomery county, at Mt. Sterling.

Dr. J. D. Falls spoke to the teachers of Elliott county at Sandy Hook last Saturday. His subject was "Teaching Reading."

Prof. M. E. George, sponsored his second summer band at Canal City in Morgan county, where that organization furnished the music for a big celebration. The occasion was the laying of the corner stone to the new Canal City graded and high school building. At this meeting Dr. C. J. Turck, former president of Center College delivered the principal address.

Miss Katherine Braun on Saturday accompanied a group of 25 Geography students on a trip to Cumberland Gap near the Tennessee, Virginia line.

Bids To Be Opened Friday, July 31

Bids on the construction of the proposed Morehead federal building will be opened at 1:00 p. m. Friday, July 31, according to the advertisement appearing in this issue of the News, at the Procurement Division, Public Building Branch, Washington, D. C. The requirements of the bidders is set forth in the advertisement.

While it is not known just how long after the bids are opened, before the actual construction work will begin, it is believed that the contractor who wins the award will start work almost immediately.

The new federal building will occupy the lot formerly owned by S. S. Cassity on the corner of Wilson Avenue and Main Street. The lot was recently purchased by the government from the Citizens Bank and Mrs. Laura Clayton.

The erection of the new federal building will be another step forward for Morehead and will fill a long felt need for office buildings in the city. It will be a wonderful improvement for the entire section.

Many New Visitors Take Forest Drive

Publicity pays.

A few weeks ago the Rowan County News ran an article covering a trip through the Cumberland Forest, discussing the beauties to be found on every hand, the scenery that is being newly discovered, and the advantages enjoyed by the people of this section. Advantages that are being missed largely because they are so close as to be taken for granted.

Warren Fletcher, superintendent of the Clearfield CCC camp in an interview with a News reporter since the publication of that article, stated that he was more than surprised at the remarkable increase in the number of local people who had taken advantage of the excellent trails built throughout the forest, to make the drive around the section.

Each Sunday in the past two weeks, Mr. Fletcher said had seen a marvelous increase in traffic on the trails. Cars that have never been out before and people who are making their first visit to the forest pass the office and the home throughout the day.

Not that we are agents for the Cumberland Forest, but because we official making the appointment must select his candidate for the appointment who has some who have successfully passed the examination. He further stated that, some of the State Departments were already voluntarily cooperating with the Department of Personnel Efficiency and gave the example of the State Tax Commission. He stated that no appointment had been made by the State Tax Commission, except from those who had ranked highest on the efficiency examination. As a result of that, an efficient group of employees had been picked and last month the Tax collection for the State Government amounted to $5,000,000 more than had been collected in any one previous month in its history.

The speaker emphasized that the State Government needs men in its ranks with brains and training. He pointed out three fallacious notions that have been held about the State Government: (1) "The victor belongs the spoils." The speaker declared that the result of such a

Voters Will Have Opportunity To Select Candidates For Senator, Congressman

Both parties are holding primaries in the election on August 1, with three offices represented in the county, those of United States Senator, Congressman and Clerk of the court of Appeals. The election in the case of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals is a special election caused by the death of Charles O'Connell, following his election last year. His son, who is a candidate for the election to which his father was elected last year is a candidate on the Democratic ticket this year.

Locally the only candidate whose name appears on the ballot is that of Lee Stewart, at present Morehead police judge, who is running on the Republican ticket for Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

On the Democratic ballot will appear the names of five men who are seeking the nomination for the office of United States Senator. They are: J. C. W. Beckham, Senator M. M. Logan, incumbent, John Young Brown, Dr. K. N. Salyer and Mr. Mont Walker.

For Congressman from the Eighth District will appear the names of Fred M. Vinson and Frank Salsberry. Mr. Vinson is incumbent at present.

For Clerk of the Court of Appeals on the Democratic ticket are Chas O'Connell and Harold M. Curley.

J. C. WELLS DOES NOT GO TO KANSAS CITY CLINIC

An error was made in a news item appearing in the Rowan County News last week, when it stated that J. C. Wells had gone to the Thornton-Minor Clinic in Kansas City for examination and treatment. The name should have been Mr. H. C. Black instead of J. C. Wells. So far as we know Mr. Wells is enjoying his usual health.

Mr. Black was accompanied to Kansas City by Allen Black of Elliottville and Cooper Black of Hilda who are also receiving treatment.

Martha Reed Gets $15.00 Saturday

Morehead's Saturday Trade Day is growing in popularity, judging by the increased crowd that was present at last Saturday's Gift season on Main Street at the junction of Wilson Avenue. Those who received rewards for their patients were liberally scattered in various sections of the county, with the first award going to Martha Reed of Cranston. Billie Hodge of Morehead was next with $5.00. Other $5.00 awards went to I. D. Cassity and Mrs. D. H. Goveador of Morehead.

Awards of $2.00 were given to Marguerite Harmon, Alice Young, Mrs. A. E. Martin, Jimmie Harmon and Woodrow Scott.

Ten awards of $1.00 each were carried home by B. H. Kazez, pastor of the Baptist Church, Opal Pearl Hall, Hazel Caudill, Mrs. L. A. Fair, Mrs. Bert Harwood, Nellie Branham, Oliver Reynolds, Gladys Marshall and Alpha Hall.

The awards will be made next week at the corner of the Batson Drug Store. Tickets are being given by the following merchants:

Dr. Riddle, 34, Dies At Pemberton, W. Va.

Ora Riddle died at his home in Pemberton, W. Va., on July 15, following a short illness. The remains were brought to Clearfield to the home of his sister, Mrs. Joe Gregory.

Funeral services were held at Clearfield, Kentucky on Friday of last week, with Rev. Wesley Cox preaching the sermon. Burial was made at Crick.

Mr. Riddle was born on June 22, 1895 and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Riddle, of Crick, Ky. For the past fifteen years he has resided in Pemberton, W. Va., where he had employment.

He united with the Missionary Baptist Church three years ago and has been a consistent member since

Willis Bailey Home Destroyed By Fire

The home of Willis Bailey west of Morehead, on the Midland Trail was completely destroyed by fire on Thursday of last week, together with the entire content with the exception of a clock and a trunk.

The fire was discovered shortly before noon and was thought to have caught in the attic. The girl had started the fire at noon to prepare the midday meal, and presumably the fire had passed through the chimney which passed through the attic. Due to the fact that the Bailey home was some distance from Morehead the fire had made such progress before the arrival of the local fire department, that it was impossible to save any part of the building.

ELECTION OFFICERS FOR PRECINCTS CHOSEN BY COUNTY ELECTION BOARD

Commissioners of Election for the Rowan County primary to be held Saturday, August 1, met last week to select precinct officers for the election. ### OLD AGE PENSION OFFICE OPENS IN MOREHEAD UNDER DIRECTION OF STATE WELFARE SUPERVISOR

Post Office To Have Regular Schedules

Postoffices of the second class, to which Morehead belongs, are required to conform in their working hours to the 44 hour week established by the government for its employees. In order to meet that requirement the local post office will establish the following hour schedule for the employees.

Five days each week the office will open at 7:00 a. m. and close at 5:00 p. m. These days are Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

On Saturday the office windows will open at 7:00 a. m. Meney order, Postal savings and Bond windows will close at 4:00 p. m. All other windows will close at 5:00 p. m.

Irvin McKenzie First To Have Application For State Aid Filled.

Irvin McKenzie was the first man over 65 years of age to present his blanks to Mrs. Clayton Johnson, newly appointed welfare worker in Rowan county, to be filled out for application for the old age pension to be paid by the state and the federal government. Mrs. Johnson has not yet received the blanks from the state office, but Mr. McKenzie had written in for blanks and brought them to the local office in the jury room at the court house to be filled out.

While no definite date has been set when the payment of the Old Age Pension will be made, it is thought that the law which became effective on July 1, will be in partial operation at least by September 1. Some time is required to organize the forces so that they may be set in motion, and an additional time must be allowed for necessary investigations of those who make application.

Notice will be given through the columns of the News as soon as the blanks arrive, so that all those who wish to make application may come in and do so.

For the benefit of those who are not familiar with the provisions of the law we are giving a brief outline.

The law provides that those who are found to be entitled to the pension may draw up to $15.00 per month as a maximum pension, half of which may be paid by the state and half by the federal government.

Not everyone who applies for the pension will draw. There are certain requirements that must be met before the applicant will be put on the pension roll.

First he must have no means of support. In other words if he has relatives who contribute a certain amount to his support, his pension would be cut down correspondingly. He may, according to the law, have property and still be eligible for

Court Of Inquiry Held Yesterday

On Wednesday County Judge Chas E. Jennings together with County Superintendent Roy E. Cornette held a Court of Inquiry at the Poplar Grove school house to determine who had caused the injury to the property in the past few weeks.

Incidentally damage reported as done at the Minor School over the past week end was also investigated by the same court of inquiry. A determined effort is being made by county officials to fasten the blame on the proper persons, who when they are located will be summarily dealt with, according to Judge Jennings.

In the past, these courts of inquiry in similar cases in other districts have accomplished considerable results in abating the evil of the destruction of public property.

We are authorized to announce J. B. MAUK for Representative, Rowan-Bath District, SUBJECT TO THE ACTION OF THE Democratic Primary, August 2, 1937.

REGISTER AT THE PRIMARY

Voters of Rowan county should by all means vote in the coming primary on August 1. If they wish to retain their voting privilege in future elections, for on August 1, when the primary is held, the first step in carrying out the registration law passed at the 1936 session of the legislature will go into effect. The new law calls for the registration of every voter in Kentucky regardless of party affiliations before he is allowed to cast his vote in any succeeding election. The law provides that two additional clerks shall be provided at each precinct voting house whose duty it is to register the voters before they cast their votes at the August primary.

There are many voters who are not familiar with the new registration law. It is really simple in its operation. Voters merely give their party, stating whether they are Democrats or Republicans, their place of residence and a few minor facts that will identify them in the future.

Of course there is a provision that those who do not register at the primary election may call at the office of the county clerk on any day between August 15 and October 10 to register. However the important thing is to register, so that both parties should have an exceptionally large vote in the coming primary.

SAVE THE TIMBER

The following article from the U. S. Forest Service is in line with editorials and articles carried in the Rowan County News for a number of years.

Every day brings in more fire reports to the United States Forest Service and every day means that someone's land has been set back another twenty years. In some places it will take over fifty years to bring back the soil to its present condition which in many cases is none too good.

When the soil is as dry as it is now the fire burns deep down below the top soil and destroys the root systems of all the young trees and leaves nothing for sprouts to start from. It leaves the surface without fertile content, and the seeds that naturally would reseed the land have nothing to grow in. Some of the poorer weeds will grow, but they are of no value for grazing purposes, or anything else, except to help build back the soil which takes a long time. The largest number of fires start from carelessness of someone and could be avoided with just a little care.

It certainly is worthwhile to everyone owning property to protect his land as far as dollars and cents are concerned. If you want to sell a piece of land you all know that you can get more from it if it is growing good timber. Many have had the sad experience of having a fine piece of timber land go up in smoke just because some neighbor of theirs was careless in letting fire out. This of course is not any gain in cold cash for you, any more than it is for a firebug that has the same experience from you letting your fire get away from you.

There is something else to think of along this line and that is—what about your children? They certainly will need timber and good land, as well as their children to follow. Should you destroy their birthright by burning up everything during this generation?

This is a very critical time for fires and it only takes a little spark to set it off. Everything is so dry that the woods burn now about as badly as early spring or late fall, and fire has no respect for property rights or distances, but burns every thing that happens to be in its path. Just recently a man had completed a nice new fence that he and his two sons and spent long hard hours in building, and then fire came along and all his fence was gone. This man found out too late that fire does not pay. If anyone who reads this has some such experience, he will agree, and if anyone after reading this agrees that he will not let fire out, why that may mean that he has saved someone's fence. Let's be careful with fire.

LAWN, TRIMS HEDGE Binghamton, N. Y. — Stephan Zapatosky, 3, whose feats of strength long since have ceased to surprise his family, caused scarcely a stir last week when he strode up to the lawnmower and tidied up the lawn.

Grass-cutting seemed a natural next step to him, because he had just finished trimming a hedge. Three feet tall and weighing seventy pounds, Stephan is both larger and stronger and looks older than a 7-year-old boy next door.

His arm and leg muscles are remarkably developed, but his parents insist that there is nothing abnormal in his appearance and growth.

BONUS PAYMENTS

SLOWED TO TRICKLE

Washington, — Bonus payments slowed to a trickle last week, with Treasury officials reporting a sharp dip at the large number of veterans who apparently prefer interest-bearing bonds to immediate cash.

Thus far, of $1,708,600,000 in bonds issued to the veterans, a total of $1,064,300,000 has been presented for cash payment. This was against an estimate made in May that the cash cost of the bonds would run to $2,237,000,000.

The figures also showed both bond and cash payments dwindling.

If, as some officials think is indicated, the payments are thus slowing away, a revision in the year's budget figures may become necessary.

State Operates Within Income For The First Time Since 1908

Another week went by without any final word from Governor Chandler on the suggested special session to submit a bond issue to retire the State debt to the people.

The impression grew here during the week that the Governor was attempting to work out some alternate plan that would enable him to effect a huge saving in the interest on the State debt. The bond issue plan would necessitate a strenuous two months campaign to remain constant at home to carry the campaign to the people. In addition it would bring about a mixture of State and National issues.

Governor Chandler has planned to speak outside of the State for Roosevelt. The National leaders, studying election results in Kentucky last year, believe he would carry wide appeal among young voters in other states. Governor's Chandler success in

Dr. Manning stated that Kentucky was the twelfth State to introduce a merit system in the State Government and he thought it was the most forward step that had been taken in Kentucky Government in a generation.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Written each week by Rev. B. H. Kaeze, Pastor of Baptist Church.

SUBJECT: Christianity spread by persecution. Acts 7:59-8:4; 1 Peter 4:12-19.

Golden Text: "Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life." vs. 2:30.

The Pharisees and Sadducees have here united in a lynching. They have stoned Stephen... One of the seven causes, because of his activity along with the other disciples, in preaching Jesus. This doctrine has become a nuisance to the "powers that be" and they intend to destroy it out of their seats.

Will God let a death like this fall to count? In the end of Stephen's sacrifice? No! The Sanhedrin began at once to bring much persecution or the disciples and they began to scatter over the country, even into Samaria. Does that mean they have failed? No! It simply means that the Gospel is on its way to conquer the earth. By persecution they are scattered that they may preach in many places instead of Jerusalem only.

Furthermore, the sentiment stirred up at the death of Stephen makes the heart of every disciple more determined than ever. Thus God stirs in the disciples the spirit of loyalty and devotion which only martyrdom can bring. Standing by at the death of Stephen was a young man named Saul, who was well pleased at Stephen's death. He was the leader of the killers, and later on "made havoc of the church, entering houses which he had hitherto tried to destroy. Peter, commenting on this phase of life shows us that in persecution of Gods servants God is glorified. Persecution is nothing strange for a disciple; it is his lot. "They that would live godly in Christ Jesus must suffer persecution," declares Paul. It is God's way to use persecution to scatter the Gospel. Let us bear with patience, even unto death, and thus receive a crown of life.

church, for the sake of the Gospel which he had hitherto tried to destroy. Peter, commenting on this phase of life shows us that in persecution of Gods servants God is glorified. Persecution is nothing strange for a disciple; it is his lot. "They that would live godly in Christ Jesus must suffer persecution," declares Paul. It is God's way to use persecution to scatter the Gospel. Let us bear with patience, even unto death, and thus receive a crown of life.

Sudan grass drilled at the rate of 25 pounds to the acre should yield good hay or fall pasture. Millet sown as late as August 1, under favorable conditions should produce a ton of hay to the acre. German millet is the kind usually grown in Kentucky, but Hungarian probably is better for late seeding. The Kentucky Experiment Station recommends that a liberal acreage of rye or barley be seeded in late August or early September. These will furnish good fall and early winter grazing and will save hay. Many dairymen do not like rye, and on good land barley is just as satisfactory as rye.

It is further recommended by the Experiment Station that, in order that pastures may be available next year, the practice of seeding grasses this fall be followed more extensively than in the past. Orchard grass can be sown in the early seeded grasses, and timothy and redtop in the later seeded grasses. Fall seeding is more certain to give a stand than spring seeding, and grasses seeded this fall will furnish considerable pasturage next year, particularly if the weather is not too dry in the spring.

Farm and Agricultural News

CHANGES MADE IN FARM PROGRAM FOR DROUTH BELT. Changes have been made in the Agricultural Conservation Program in an effort to help farmers adjust their operations to meet the emergency caused by the drouth.

One of these modifications relates to the minimum acreage of soil-conserving crops. Formerly, if a farmer did not have a conserving acreage at least equal to the sum of 15 percent of his general soil-depleting land, a deduction was made from the total amount of the Class I and Class II payments.

Now, if a farmer falls short of the minimum acreage requirements, a deduction will be made only from the Class I payment. That is, the farmer will be paid for the soil building practices carried out without being required to have any given percentage of the land on his farm devoted to soil-conserving crops. The above modification does not affect the soil-building allowance, nor the limit which it places upon the amount of the Class II payment.

Another modification provides that land from which wheat is harvested in 1936, which is grown in combination with or immediately followed by a legume, will be classified as one-half used for soil-conserving crops for the purpose of meeting requirements for minimum soil-conserving acreage and new seedings of soil-conserving crops. The entire acreage from which wheat is harvested in 1936 still is considered as soil-depleting, however, for all other purposes of the program. The change will enable these producers who have not been able to seed soil-conserving crops seeded in wheat. Also, soy beans cut for hay in Kentucky will be classified this year as soil-conserving if this crop is followed by a winter cover crop. In this state, acreage devoted to soybeans has previously been classified as soil-conserving.

STILL TIME FOR VEGETABLES. There is still time to grow many garden vegetables, points out a statement from the Kentucky College of Agriculture. The usual late varieties of cabbage, such as Louisville Drumhead and Ballhead, may be set until August 1, the All-Season Copenhagen and Golden Acre after that date.

Several kinds of beans will mature in 30 days including Stringless Green Pod, Beautiful, Valentine, Perzel Pod Black Wax and Brittle Wax, all grown in Kentucky. The famous Kentucky Wonder will mature in 65 days, as also will the Missouri Wonder, another pole bean that is gaining in favor in Kentucky. The Missouri Wonder is ivory white, and therefore favored by many people as a shell and dry bean.

Early Adams and other early varieties of sweet corn may still mature, under favorable conditions. Turnips, beets, carrots and kale may be produced in abundance. So far as feedings are concerned, sudan grass and millet will still make good hay, under favorable moisture conditions. Soybeans might still make had, drilled at the rate of a bushel and a half to the acre.

CANDIDATE FOR THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR CONGRESS

EIGHTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Primary, August 1, 1936

The people of this district are looking for a Representative in Congress who will look after their needs and who will hold at arm's length those who would take what they have without adequate return.

It is no longer a secret that the farmer and his tenant have been left at the mercy of the tobacco trusts. The livestock producers have not had proper protection against the packing interests.

We have no extensive mining interests in this district, yet, by legislation sponsored by your present representative, each and every ton of coal you use will cost under the Vinson-Guffey Bill from $1.50 to $2.00 per ton more than it has heretofore.

These are a few of the reasons why the people of this district are seeking a change.

If I am nominated and elected, I will see to it that the interests of all the people are guarded and protected.

I am asking that you help me do this by voting for me in the August 1st Primary.

WHITE TEETH Double-Quick! This tooth paste is the answer

Old-fashioned slow-cleaning tooth paste is often to blame for dull-white, unattractive teeth. Use Dr. West's Double-Quick Tooth Paste—it cleans over twice as fast as some leading brands, nearly twice as fast as average. Cannot scratch enamel. For sparkling white teeth, try it today!

COZY FEATURE IS "DANCING FEET"

One beautiful blonde is usually thought of as the average motion picture, but the Republic production, "Dancing Feet," which comes to the Cozy Theatre, Wednesday, and Thursday, July 22-23, possesses two of Hollywood's prettiest natural blondes. They are Joan Marsh, just returned to the film capital after twenty-five weeks of personal appearances, and Isabel Jewell, Lexington, Kentucky's Latin teacher, who won fame for her vivid screen portrayals.

A girl with such beauty and personality could not remain a Latin teacher for long, however, and she was prepared upon to take up a stage career, where she won success. She appeared with Roger Pryor in the stage production, "Blessed Event" and was brought to Hollywood to play the same role in the screen production, which features Lee Tracy. Miss Jewell's father is a wide-

OLD AGE PENSION

the pension. In that case he will be investigated as to the value of the property and the value of his holdings, and he will be required to sign a lien to repay the government out of his holdings at the time of his death. In that case the pension becomes a loan during the lifetime of the one who receives it, which is repayable on his death.

There has been some criticism of this feature of the pension act, but in most cases it is realized that the purpose of the pension is to take care of those who have no means of support and that if one does have, he should then be willing to repay the government for the assistance rendered.

Following the making of the application for the Old Age Pension, an investigator will call at the home of the applicant and will investigate the statements made in the application. If she finds the statements true, she will make her recommendations to the district agent who in turn will make recommendations to the state board when the pension will be approved or disapproved.

The law provides that any one who is not satisfied with the result of their application may appeal the decision and may then appear before the board in person to present their claims. They will be given a full and fair hearing at all times.

Thus far about sixty have appeared before Mrs. Johnson asking for a change of the plan, and for blanks which have not yet been received. As stated before, as soon as the blanks arrive, those who are interested will be notified through the columns of the News.
