FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University has scheduled four Summer Orientation, Advising and Registration (SOAR) programs to acquaint prospective students--and their parents--with the University's programs, student services and campus life in general while registering for the fall semester.

SOAR sessions will be held June 16, June 22, July 14, and July 20, according to Alan Baldwin, coordinator of recruiting activities in MSU's Office of Admissions.

"These are special times for incoming freshmen and transfer students to meet with academic advisers, visit the various departments and complete the pre-registration process," Baldwin said. "This also provides an opportunity to meet with current students to discuss campus experiences and address any concerns the new students may have about college life."

Each of the four sessions will follow the same format. For those who wish to arrive the evening before and desire overnight accommodations, registration begins at 4 p.m. at the Laughlin Health Building. Parents and students alike may stay in residence halls for a special rate of $5 per person, per night.

To get acquainted and make new friends, an ice cream social will follow at 7 p.m. in the Plaza Grill of the Adron Doran University Center. Concluding the evening's activities will be "Surviving College Life," a series of skits performed by MSU students.

"These programs are planned especially for the new students and their parents," Baldwin said. "Depicting situations which are normal occurrences to the college student, the skits are entertaining and informative, but also assure the student that survival is very much a reality."

SOAR
2-2-2-2

The SOAR activity starts with check in at 8:30 a.m. at Button Auditorium, followed at 9:30 a.m. by a "Welcome to Morehead State" from MSU President C. Nelson Grote and Student Government Association President Chris Hart.

At 10:15 a.m., parents and students will be divided into small groups for an informal discussion of the University, its programs and campus life. A one-hour lunch break begins at 11:30 a.m.

Students will receive academic advising, select programs of study and register for classes beginning at 12:30 p.m. When the procedure is complete, the participant will be issued a student I.D. card.

The afternoon session for parents includes an indepth look at issues of importance to them. Among those on hand to answer questions will be representatives from student health services, housing, financial aid and business services.

Concluding the day's activities for the parents will be guided campus tours with stops at classroom facilities and residence halls.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---The Morehead Small Business Development Center (SBDC), housed in Morehead State University's School of Business and Economics, has been selected to participate in a national program designed to stimulate energy-saving inventions.

Personnel with the Morehead SBDC will be seeking and evaluating technological innovations in this field which are being developed either by individuals or small businesses, according to Ernest Begley II, general management consultant and director of the SBDC office.

Under the program, the Morehead SBDC will forward promising ideas for energy-related inventions to the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST), formerly the National Bureau of Standards, to be evaluated under the Energy-Related Inventions Program. The program has been conducted since 1975 by NIST and the Department of Energy (DOE). Inventions believed to have energy-saving potential will be recommended to DOE for possible support, according to Begley.

DOE may provide financial support or help in marketing the inventor's idea. Grants typically have ranged from $50,000 and $200,000, with an average of $70,000 per invention. If NIST finds the invention lacks the required energy-saving potential but still has commercial promise, it will be referred back to the originating Small Business Development Center with suggestions for further development.

The Morehead SBDC is participating as part of the Kentucky Small Business Development Center program statewide and the Association of Small Business Development Centers (ASBDC). The ASBDC is a coalition of 54 states and regional SBDC's with a nationwide network of nearly 700 local offices. The centers provide training and guidance to small businesses and entrepreneurs.

"We deal with a great many people, and some of them have good ideas that could be commercially feasible," said Jerry Owen, state director of the Kentucky Small Business Development Center. "But we don't have the expertise to properly evaluate those ideas or the funding to help get their ideas from the workshop to the marketplace. That's where the Energy-Related Inventions Program comes in. We will assist our clients in applying for federal funding, and will offer counseling during the application process."

(MORE)

Since the Energy-Related Inventions Program started 13 years ago, NIST has recommended over 400 inventions to the DOE for support out of 24,000 requests for evaluation. DOE has awarded grants totaling more than $20 million. George Lewett of the NIST's Office of Energy-Relations Inventions said:

"The networks of Small Business Development Centers will greatly enhance our ability to find inventors with new ideas. Of course, the more inventions submitted for evaluation, the more are recommended for DOE's support, and more become successful in the marketplace."

Statistics show that only 15 or 20 inventions are recommended to DOE for every 1000 inventions submitted to NIST for evaluation. Three to five become commercial successes.

The program was developed on a pilot basis during 1989, when applications for federal assistance through Small Business Development Centers were received at a rate 3.5 times greater than usual. During 1989, 11 SBDC's participated in the program; the 1990 program includes 15 SBDCs.

Further information is available from Ernest Begley II, director of the Morehead State University Small Business Development Center, at (606) 783-2077.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Cedric J. Dennis of Glendale was named governor of the 50th session of Kentucky Boys' State held on the Morehead State University campus, June 3-8.

Dennis, son of Betty and Elijah Denton, was elected by the nearly 300 delegates from across the state attending the program, sponsored by the Kentucky American Legion.

Being straightforward and speaking what's on his mind was the deciding factor in getting him elected, according to Dennis. "We should all have our own ideas and go for what we want," he said. "Don't let anyone discourage you from keeping your goals."

Praising Boys' State for teaching him responsibility and military discipline and allowing him to make new friends, Dennis believes he is on a first name basis with nearly one-half of the participants. He plans to attend college and would like to go to the Air Force Academy.

A member of the varsity football and track teams at Central Hardin High School, Dennis had a busy week in competition. His platform was for better enforcement of laws for those who pollute the environment, pay increases for teachers and better curriculum in the schools to provide a challenge for students.

"I also would like to see tougher laws for drunk drivers," Dennis said. "I think the punishment should fit the crime."

For Lonnie Brenner of Ashland, "shoot for the stars and hope for the moon" was his philosophy when running for the office he won, that of lieutenant governor. "I came to have a good time and learn how the government really works, especially the election process," he said.

The son of Lon and Judy Brenner, he campaigned against flag burning, for mandatory state safety belt laws, and stiffer penalties for those who abuse alcohol. The Paul Blazer High School senior is a member of the National Honor Society and the baseball team. He plans to attend college and study chemical engineering.

(MORE)

Tjuan Overly was elected secretary of state. A senior at Rowan County Senior High School, he is the son of Peggy Overly of Morehead and Freddie Overly of Maysville.

Serving as state auditor will be Mark Alan Lindstrom. Son of Alan and Betty Lindstrom of Mayfield, he is a senior at Graves County High School.

Winning the election for superintendent of public instruction was Lemuel Harr. Son of Merlin and Linda Harr of Owensboro, he is a senior at Daviess County High School.

Brandon "Brad" Rustin, son of Larry and Janice Rustin of Fredonia, is the commissioner of agriculture. He is a senior at Caldwell County High School.

Elected as attorney general was Deronte Smith. A senior at Taylor County High School, he is the son of Flora Smith of Campbellsville and Grant Smith of Lebanon.

Norman A. Fischer Jr., son of Norman and Lecita Fischer of Perryville, was named the state treasurer. He is a senior at Boyle County High School.

Assuming the title of railroad commissioner was Tarris Horton. A senior at Central Hardin High School, he is the son of Jan and Edward Horton of Elizabethtown.

During the week, the delegates originated bills which they debated. The bills which were passed will be sent to the Legislative Research Commission in Frankfort for review.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---The Renaissance City Winds will be heard in concert at Morehead State University on Monday, June 18, at 8 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall as part of the Arts in Morehead (AIM) 1989-90 series .

The concert will mark the ensemble's sixth appearance at MSU and will feature a guest soloist, harpsichordist B. Geoffrey Thomas.

Admission will be by AIM series ticket or by individual tickets available at the door for $5 adults and $2.50 for all students.

A member of the music faculty at Duquesne University and the School of the Carnegie Institute, Thomas has performed widely as a soloist and accompanist in Europe and the United States. He has been heard on National Public Radio's "Performance Today," on ORF (Austrian radio) and WQED-FM in Pittsburgh.

Hailed by the New York Times as "expert wind players," the Renaissance City Winds was formed in 1975 by oboist Eric Draper. Known originally as the Renaissance City Woodwind Quintet, the group changed its name in 1988 as it broadened its programming beyond selections for the standard woodwind quintet.

Tours have taken the ensemble throughout the East and Midwest, including two Carnegie Recital Hall performances and an appearance at the Kennedy Center.

While it performs music of all style periods since the Renaissance, the ensemble's specialty is American music. It has researched pre-Civil War music from the archives of the Harmony Society, builders of Old Economy Village in Ambridge, Pa., and commissioned many new works from living composers.

The group also is noted for its innovative collaborations which have included mime, modern dance, choral music and other chamber groups.

Highly acclaimed by music critics, the ensemble also has won four awards from the National Endowment for the Arts and two Chamber Music America Residency Awards as well as in its first season, the prestigious Pittsburgh Concert Society auditions.

Additional information may be obtained by calling MSU's Academy of Arts at (606) 783-2659.

MOREHEAD, Ky. --- The City of Morehead and Morehead State University announced Thursday afternoon that both are committed to resolving the problem of false fire alarms on the MSU campus.

"The City and the University recognize the costly and dangerous nature of this situation and today have pledged their mutual cooperation in finding solutions," Morehead Mayor Larry Breeze and MSU President C. Nelson Grote said in a joint statement.

The statement followed a 90-minute meeting between city and MSU officials, a session described by both men as "frank and helpful".

"The City of Morehead and Morehead State University have enjoyed a harmonious relationship for many years and we intend to preserve that relationship by resolving this problem as quickly and as equitably as possible," Breeze and Grote said in the statement.

Additional discussions will be scheduled soon, they added.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---"Music from the Mountains" figuratively and literally will fill the air during Morehead State University's 14th annual Appalachian Celebration scheduled June 24-30.

Traditional music of the mountains will be explored during the noon and evening concerts scheduled throughout the week in keeping with the Celebration's theme, "Music from the Mountains."

The White Horse String Band will be the featured group at the opening reception on Sunday, June 24, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the gallery of Claypool-Young Art Building. MSU's Appalachian Treasure Award will be presented during the evening to Loyal Jones, director of the Appalachian Center at Berea College and a regional author. On display will be "Where the Mountain Laurels Bloom," an exhibit of photographs by Pictureman Mullins.

Entertainers for the weekday noon concerts will include C. Roger Lewis and Friends on Monday; Debbie and Sandy Knipp on Tuesday; Randy Wilson on Wednesday; folklorist and the Celebration's scholar-in-residence Lynwood Montel with "Kentucky's Ghosts" on Thursday, and Gerry Gray, Tull and Shelly Glazener on Friday. Concerts will be held on the lawn in front of Camden-Carroll Library or in case of rain in Button Drill Room.

In addition to the displays and demonstrations of Appalachian crafts in Button Drill Room throughout the week will be special performances and speakers. On Monday from 2 to 3 p.m. the Tildon Hogge Dulcimer Band will appear, followed at 3 p.m. by C. Roger Lewis and Friends.

Tuesday's lineup includes Tull and Shelly Glazner at 1 p.m. and naturalist John Tierney speaking from 2 to 4 p.m. Featured guests on Wednesday will include Randy Wilson at 2 p.m., followed by a repeat performance by the Tildon Hogge Dulcimer Band.

Returning Thursday will be Tull and Shelly Glazener at 1 p.m. and John Tierney at 2 p.m. Friday brings the triple bill of Debbie and Sandy Knipp at 1 p.m.; J.P. and Annadeene Fraley at 2 p.m., and the White Horse String Band at 3 p.m.

Evening events range from poetry readings and lectures to gospel music and traditional mountain tunes. The programming for Monday will be poetry reading by Lee Pennington, Celebration scholar-in-residence, at 7 p.m. in the Adron Doran University Center (ADUC). The evening also will include music by Gerry Gray and Tull and Shelly Glazener.

Pennington, author of "The Flowers, the Land and Green: Appalachian Wisdom," will appear again on Tuesday at 7 p.m. in ADUC. Wednesday evening will be "Old Tyme Gospel Music" with C. Roger Lewis as guest host in Duncan Recital Hall at 7:30.

"Appalachian Family Night" will be the theme for Thursday evening with an 8 o'clock concert and dance featuring Homer Ledford and his Cabin Creek Band in the Crager Room, ADUC. Tickets, available at the door, will be $5 for adults. Children under 12 years of age will be admitted free.

One of several musical highlights of the Appalachian Celebration is the Gathering of Traditional Musicians set for 7:30 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall on Friday. Among the musicians expected to participate are J.P. and Annadeene Fraley, the Bottom of the Barrel Bunch, Alfred Bailey and many others.

On Saturday, performers will take to the Outdoor Stage on the Laughlin Health Building lawn, beginning at 10 a.m. with the music continuing to 2 p.m. Entertainers appearing will include the White Horse String Band, Judy Muse and Family, Debbie and Sandy Knipp, Laura Lee Duncan, the Tildon Hogge Band, J.P. and Annadeene Fraley, C. Roger Lewis and Friends, and Ginny Hawker and Kay Justice.

WMKY 90.3 FM, public radio from MSU's campus, will broadcast the concert live from noon to 2 p.m.

With the exception of the Appalachian Family Night, the concerts are free.

Additional information on the Appalachian Celebration may be obtained from Donna Reynolds Spangler, Celebration coordinator, Office of Regional Development Services, Morehead State University, Morehead, KY 40351-1689. Telephone: (606) 783-2077.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---For the fourth consecutive year, all applicants from Morehead State University's pre-veterinary medicine program have been accepted into veterinary college.

"We believe it to be a rather unique record, shared by very few schools," said Dr. Scott Rundell, program adviser.

Three MSU students will enter Auburn (Ala.) University's College of Veterinary Medicine this fall for four years of study leading to the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree.

The successful applicants include:

Debbie Kilgallin of Ashland, daughter of Benton and Nancy Kilgallin;
Beverly Harris of Sandy Hook, daughter of Charlie and Thelma Harris;
Kendall Clay of Owingsville, daughter of Robert and Betty Clay.

The achievement speaks to both the quality of MSU's pre-veterinary medicine program and the students, according to MSU President C. Nelson Grote.

"The faculty members who assist these students with the stringent preparation necessary for this professional program also should take pride in this accomplishment," Dr. Grote said.

MSU's pre-veterinary medicine program normally requires three years to complete. A minimum of between 80 and 90 semester hours of course work is necessary before applying to a school of veterinary medicine.

Students in MSU's program are encouraged to follow a curriculum which will lead to a B.S. degree in agriculture, biology, or a related field should they not be admitted to veterinary school.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Trefon N. Thomas of Lexington and Lonnie J. Brenner of Ashland have been chosen to represent Kentucky at the 45th session of Boys' Nation at Marymount University in Arlington, Va., July 20-28.

The announcement was made at the graduation exercises for the 50th session of Boys' State, sponsored by the Kentucky American Legion and held at Morehead State University.

Thomas is the son of Laurie and Ann Thomas and Brenner is the son of Lon and Judy Brenner.

Two alternates were selected in the event that either of these candidates are unable to attend Boys' Nation. They are Patrick Abner, son of Dale and Pat Abner of Richmond, and Christopher S. Roberts, son of Diana Roberts of Paducah.

U.S. Rep. Carroll Hubbard, 1st District of Kentucky and a former Boys' State delegate, was the keynote speaker at the graduation ceremony. "By living in the United States, you enjoy one of the most wonderful countries in the world," he told the nearly 300 delegates in attendance. "You are the future of the commonwealth and I challenge you to do better in life, keep trying and some day you will succeed at finding ways to accomplish this."

Boys' Nation is held each year in Washington to allow delegates to see the workings of government at the federal level. Two outstanding graduates from each of the 50 Boys' State programs are chosen by the counselors to represent their respective states.

KENTUCKY BOYS' STATE

Nearly 300 high school seniors from across the state attended the 50th annual Kentucky Boys' State convention held on the Morehead State University campus, June 3-8. A part of the morning ritual, the delegates were instructed in flag etiquette. Performing the duties were, from left, John Barger of Frankfort, legionnaire Andy Cahill, and Patton Thurman of Radcliff. Boys' State, sponsored by the American Legion, is a practical learning experience in state and local government.

EVENT: MSU Board of Regents meeting

DATE: Friday, June 22, 1990

TIME: 10 a.m.

SITE: Riggle Room, Adron Doran University Center

The agenda includes a number of items for discussion/action including adoption of an approximately $54.7 million operating budget for 1990-91 and the 1990-91 personnel roster. The budget reflects a 12 percent increase over last year and contains funding to address the top priority of raising faculty salaries, by rank, to the average of the Kentucky regional universities.

Other agenda items include approval of a revision to the Faculty Senate Constitution; revisions to University Policies resulting from standing committee restructuring; reaffirmation of affirmative action/EEO policy; approval of emeritus rank and ratification of personnel actions and personal service contracts.

Also up for board approval are revisions to several personnel policies, including those covering extra compensation (PSE-11); sick leave (PG-49), and vacation (PG-48).

Reports are expected on the Ashland and Prestonsburg Extended Campus Centers, Summer I enrollment and admissions and housing applications for Fall 1990.

NOTE: Media representatives planning to attend are asked to contact the Office of Media Relations by noon Thursday, June 21, so that sufficient support materials are available.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Do you have what it takes to start your own business?

Morehead State University will be the site for a "Going into Business? Why -- Why Not!" seminar on Thursday, July 5. This is a pre-business planning program, designed to help potential business owners make objective decisions before investing their time and money.

In the session, participants will learn what is needed to start a business and why some business ventures fail. Also included will be a discussion of questions to ask when buying an already established business.

The seminar is sponsored by the School of Business and Economics Small Business Development Center at MSU, Morehead/Rowan County Chamber of Commerce, Mt. Sterling/Montgomery County Chamber of Commerce, Buffalo Trace Area Development District, and Gateway Area Development District.

The program will begin at 6 p.m. in the Butler Hall Conference Room. A $5 pre-registration fee is required. Arrangements will be made for the handicapped when requested in advance.

Additional information may be obtained from MSU's Small Business Development Center, Butler Hall #24, Morehead, KY 40351-1689. Telephone: (606) 783-2077.

The Kentucky Small Business Development Center is partially funded by the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA).

SUMMER DAYS AT MSU

Taking summer classes doesn't preclude a little fun in the sun, as students at Morehead State University have found out. The outdoors, whether grassy lawns or concrete benches and steps, becomes an ideal place to study. Taking advantage of a quiet, shaded nook for studying with a fellow student is Ingrid Bellamy of Sharpsburg, a sophomore marketing major.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--More than 10,000 visitors are expected to be on Morehead State University's campus this summer.

In addition to regular summer school sessions, Summer Orientation, Advising and Registration (SOAR) and Upward Bound, the University will serve as host site for a wide variety of camps, conferences, workshops and other programs for all ages.

Ranging from intermediate horsemanship to band, the camps offer youth an opportunity to improve special skills. For the young athlete, there are basketball camps for girls and boys, baseball, golf and football camps, as well as the NCAA Sports Camp and several cheerleading camps.

In addition to an arts day camp for children, the schedule includes the Kentucky Dance Institute and several Elderhostel sessions. For high school leaders, there is Kentucky Boys' State and the Kentucky Demolay Conclave.

One of the major drawing cards during the summer is the University's weeklong Appalachian Celebration, now in its 14th year. The Celebration opens June 24 and continues through June 30.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Three Morehead State University mathematics professors are heading back to the classroom this summer not to teach, however, but to be taught.

They are Dr. Rodger Hammons, chair of the Department of Mathematical Sciences; Dr. Glenn E. Johnston, professor, and Randy K. Ross, assistant professor. Although the locations differ, the subject matter will be the same---using computers as math teaching tools.

Ross and Dr. Hammons will attend an eight-day session at Dartmouth College called "Computers and the Teaching of Mathematics: A Training Program for Professors of Mathematics" and sponsored by the Sloan Foundation.

Dr. Johnston has been accepted at a similar seminar sponsored by National Science Foundation at Saint Olaf College.

"Computers are impacting heavily upon the mathematical sciences and we as educators need to make a serious effort to learn as much as we can in order to equip our students for the technological revolutions occurring," Dr. Hammons said.

"Both conferences will focus on computer applications in the teaching of mathematics and the use of a new software known as CAS or Computer Algebra Systems," he said.

"While we still need to be able to mentally and manually calculate, many complicated functions are now being processed by computers," he added.

Dr. Hammons said that the department may explore the possibility of requiring students in some of its classes to purchase a graphing calculator to use along with their textbooks this fall.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University is featured on the cover of the Spring 1990 issue of "Opportunities, The Publication for Minority Students Interested in Continuing Their Education," a national publication.

Also, MSU was one of approximately 20 colleges and universities highlighted in the "mid-America" section of the national magazine.

The color photograph was taken by Tim Conn of Mansfield, Ohio, student photographer in the Office of Media Relations. Conn received his degree in May. Featured on the cover were Renee Warfield, Louisville graduate student; Gary Gainer, St. Petersburg, Fla., sophomore; Rashawnda Blake, Flint, Mich., junior; Mose Cartier, Cincinnati, Ohio, junior; Lisandra Ortiz, Morehead junior, and Peggy Overly, MSU minority student recruiter.

The profile on MSU's programs for minority students was prepared by the University's Office of Media Relations.

"This type of exposure for the University and its programs will do much to assist us in attracting minority students to the campus to pursue their education," said Jerry Gore, Minority Student Affairs director.

WEST LIBERTY, Ky.--Morehead State University's Morgan Center has received a $1,000 check from Hinkle Contracting Corporation, completing a $2,000 commitment made last year.

The presentation was made by Bob Helton, director of sales and marketing at Hinkle, to Jonell Tobin, Center director.

The gift to the MSU Foundation, Inc., earmarked for the MSU-Morgan Center, will be used to assist in equipping the computer laboratory and to purchase other instructional equipment.

MSU President C. Nelson Grote extended appreciation to Hinkle for the gift. "We are fortunate to have such support from industries within our service region," he said.

Helton, an MSU alumnus and graduate of Morgan County High School, said he was pleased to help in such an effort because the MSU-Morgan Center has a great impact on the area. "Its presence means a better prepared work force," he said.

Headquartered in Paris, Hinkle has four asphalt hot mix production plants in the area--Pomp in Morgan County, Jackson in Breathitt County, Bowen in Powell County and Clearfield in Rowan County. In business for more than four decades, Hinkle is a full service road construction company, offering services from project design to the actual paving.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--A summer reading program for elementary and middle grade students will be offered at Morehead State University July 11-Aug. 2.

Individually tailored to student needs based on a diagnostic screening prior to their program start, the sessions will meet for two hours each weekday morning. Test results will be shared with the parents of participants and also will be sent to the student's school, if desired.

Designed to meet individual developmental needs, the program is appropriate for students working on, below or above their grade level. Classes will be taught by MSU graduate students under the direction of Dr. Mary Anne Pollock, assistant professor of education.

Cost of the program is $30, which includes a non-refundable testing fee. Application forms and more information is available by calling (606) 783-2859 or 783-2209.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Morehead State University has received a $70,150 grant from the TENCO Private Industry Council to offer a summer youth program for 14- and 15-year-olds who have the potential for completing high school.

Now in its second year, Morehead Occupational and Academic Retreat (MOAR) will provide academic support, cultural enrichment and job experiences for 23 youths who will spend seven weeks living on campus, from June 17 to Aug. 4.

The TENCO PIC counties participating include Bath, Boyd, Fleming, Greenup, Lewis, Montgomery and Rowan. Students attending are:

BATH COUNTY--Tonya Blackburn, Kim Charles, Johnny Martin and Kim Stapleton;

BOYD COUNTY--Christine Farrington, Jamie Hoffman and Mike Kruger;

FLEMING COUNTY--Wayne Coffey, Shellie Duncan, Terry Gulley and Tonya Justice;

GREENUP COUNTY--Kim Holstein and Jason Woods;

LEWIS COUNTY--Mike Applegate, Lvangle Gilliam, David Hill and Eric McCane;

MONTGOMERY COUNTY--Laura Garner, Wanda Hatfield and Heather Williamson;

ROWAN COUNTY--Bobby DeLashmit, Amy Kelly and Marvin Mabrey.

The students will take classes in English, math, reading and computer science. They also will learn about the world of work, career planning, personal development and study skills.

After classes, they will be assigned work at numerous campus locations and will be paid the minimum hourly wage by TENCO. Students will work for various departments developing clerical skills.

"Last year's students really enjoyed their work experiences," said Charles Gilley, coordinator of the MOAR Program. "They evaluated their employers at the end of the program and most gave excellent ratings."

Weekends also will be a busy time for the students. They will embark on cultural field trips to such places as the Cincinnati Art Museum, Cincinnati Zoo and My Old Kentucky Home in Bardstown. Some planned "fun activities" will include a day at Kings Island, Cave Run beach, and to see the movie "Dick Tracy."

"The students will be very active--up at 7 a.m., go to class, work and take field trips, then to be at 9 p.m.," commented Gilley.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---The traditional techniques of skilled craftsmen, musicians and dancers, long a part of the Appalachian heritage, will come to life during the 14th annual Appalachian Celebration, June 24-30, at Morehead State University.

Artisans from Kentucky, West Virginia, Ohio and North Carolina will demonstrate various skills and display their finished products in Button Drill Room weekdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with extended hours on Thursday to 7 p.m.

In addition to the exhibits, this year Button Drill Room also will be the location for several afternoon entertainments, which begin on Monday with the Tildon Hogge Dulcimer Band playing from 2 to 3 p.m., followed by C. Roger Lewis and Friends.

Tuesday's schedule calls for Gerry Gray, Tull and Shelly Glazener to appear from 1 to 2 p.m. On Wednesday, naturalist John Tierney will present a two-hour program beginning at 2 p.m. That same day performances are scheduled by Randy Wilson at 2 p.m. and by the Tildon Hogge ensemble at 3 p.m.

On Thursday, exhibit-goers will hear Gerry Gray and Tull and Shelly Glazener at 1 p.m. with John Tierney making a return appearance at 2 p.m.

Friday's special performers include Debbie and Sandy Knipp at 1 p.m., J.P. and Annadeene Fraley at 2 p.m. and the White Horse String Band at 3 p.m.

Also on Friday at 1:30 p.m. in Button Auditorium, Shirley Hamilton will host a "Vintage Fashion Show," featuring area senior citizens modeling various fashions from the past.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Donna Reynolds Spangler, Celebration coordinator, Office of Regional Development Services, (606) 783-2077.

MSU'S APPALACHIAN TREASURE

Relaxing in his new handcrafted rocking chair, Loyal Jones listens as Morehead State University President C. Nelson Grote reads the certificate recognizing Jones as MSU's 1990 Appalachian Treasure Award recipient. Jones, author and director of Berea College's Appalachian Center, was honored at a reception launching MSU's 14th annual Appalachian Celebration which runs June 24-30. The award is given to recognize unusual contributions to the promotion and preservation of Appalachian culture. The rocker is the visible symbol of the award.

MOREHEAD, KY 40351-1689

606-783-2030

June 26, 1990
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.-Morehead State University's Board of Regents has approved a $55.8 million operating budget for 1990-91 which included a 14 percent average salary increase for faculty members. MSU's faculty salary increase is the largest among the state schools who have announced their salary schedules.

With approval of the budget, MSU has taken what President C. Nelson Grote called "giant step" toward addressing a problem that has plagued the school for several years--low faculty salaries.

The increases which range from 11.27 percent to 20 percent are expected to bring MSU faculty salaries up to the average of the state's regional universities. "While that midpoint is always a moving target, based on our calculations we will be at the median of Kentucky's regional universities," the president said at the board meeting on June 22.

The average staff salary increase will be 6 percent, with the increases ranging from 4.2 percent to 9.47. Calling the staff salary increase, the "down side" of the budget, President Grote told the board that "a year from now we are going to have to take a serious look at our staff salaries and make them a priority for 1991-92."

MSU's total budget represents a 12.8 percent growth over the previous year which is attributed to a larger state general fund allocation, additional tuition revenue as a combined result of enrollment growth and the 11 percent hike in fees, and projected growth in auxiliary operations.

The budget also reflected a significant increase in the percentage of the Educational and General budget allocated to instruction--the largest percentage in more than a decade--45.8 percent.

In his remarks Dr. Grote also noted that MSU had received $2 million for instructional equipment from state bonds for the 1990-92 biennium. Other budget highlights include funding for expanded services and offerings at the MSU-Ashland Extended Campus Center and the MSU-Big Sandy Extended Campus Center located in Prestonsburg. Funding was also included for five new faculty in nursing and radiologic technology to support the reinstatement of the associate degree in nursing program and two additional faculty members in elementary education.

The budget also reflects several major organizational changes which include:

The Office of Planning, Institutional Research and Evaluation will now report directly to the president;

Intercollegiate Athletics and Office of Printing Services have been transferred to the Division of University Advancement.

In other action, the board reaffirmed the University's affirmative action/equal employment opportunity policy; approved revisions to various University policies, and rescinded selected academic and administrative policies.

Among those policies revised were those concerning sick leave and vacation leave. In both instances, the changes do not affect employees hired prior to July 1, 1990. New hires will now earn one (1) sick day per month, bringing MSU's policy into alignment with the practices of other state universities.

Vacation accrual for those hired after June 30, 1990 will be on a three-tier system providing for one (1) vacation day earned per month from 1 to 5 years of service; one and one-quarter (1 1/4) days per month from 5 to 10 years of service and one and one-half (1 1/2) days per month after 10 years of service.

Current employees will not be affected by these changes, but will continue to earn sick leave and vacation leave credit at the old rate, Dr. Grote told the board.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Jeffrey S. Crump of Morehead, formerly of Mt. Sterling, recently was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Kentucky Army National Guard.

He earned his commission through the Guard's Officer Candidate School at the Kentucky Military Academy at Fort Knox.

2nd Lt. Crump was assigned to the engineer branch and will report to Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, later this year for additional training. Meanwhile, he is serving as a platoon leader in the Kentucky Guard's Company C, 206th Engineer Battalion, at Jackson.

As a result of his outstanding performance in OCS, the new officer received the following awards:

Association of the U.S. Army Plaque, given to the graduate who demonstrates the highest standards of leadership;

Military Order of the World Wars Award, given to the graduate who attains the third highest overall standing in the class;

Army Achievement Medal, given to the three top officer candidates in the graduating class.

2nd Lt. Crump is a 1990 graduate of Morehead State University and has been a full-time staff member in MSU's Office of Alumni Relations for six years. He is married to the former Brenda Sparks of Salt Lick and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Crump of Mt. Sterling. The new lieutenant is the father of two sons, Chris and Jacob.

2nd Lt. Crump is a former member of the Morehead unit, Company E of the 206th.

MSU'S APPALACHIAN CELEBRATION '90: A Picture Story

With exhibits, crafts demonstrations, workshops and musical entertainment, Morehead State University's 14th annual Appalachian Celebration continues to draw crowds to the area. The Celebration continues through Saturday. On tap tonight is the annual "Gathering of Traditional Musicians" which will be hosted by Gene Young.

Saturday brings the Arts and Crafts Market to the Laughlin Health Building, where regional folk artisans and craftsmen will sell their wares from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., while traditional music is performed on the lawn at the Outdoor Stage. Also available will be regional foods.

Cutlines:

- 1---Relaxing in his new handcrafted rocking chair, Loyal Jones listens as Morehead State University President C. Nelson Grote reads the certificate recognizing Jones as MSU's 1990 Appalachian Treasure Award recipient. Jones, author and director of Berea College's Appalachian Center, was honored at the reception launching the Appalachian Celebration. The award is given to recognize unusual contributions to the promotion and preservation of the Appalachian culture. The rocker is the visible symbol of the award.
- 2---Learning some of the fine points of fiddle playing from Leo Blair, MSU associate professor of music, is Helen Whitt of Morehead. Workshops offered to participants ranged from instructional on traditional mountain instruments to crafts such as basketry.
- 3---One of several exhibits in Button Drill Room, this display of rag dolls attracted the attention of these young Celebration-goers, Sarah and Jacob Mincey of Morehead.
- 4---The outdoor concerts scheduled daily at noon are part of the Celebration's tradition and, with this week's sunny skies, have attracted a sizeable audience. Here C. Roger Lewis and Friends entertain the audience. The ensemble includes, from left, Sandy Knipp, Tim Gilliam, Lewis, and Leo Blair.
- 5---For those folks viewing the exhibits and demonstrations inside Button Drill Room, there was some special entertainment throughout the week, including songs by little Erica Dailey and John Allen, both of Morehead.
