SANDY HOOK BANK IS ROBBED IN MONDAY NIGHT STEAL

Dr. A. Y. Lloyd Makes Record In New Work

Proves Value To State Administration By Work In Pension Division 3,800 Pensions Granted
Dr. A. Y. Lloyd on leave of absence from the history department of the Morehead State Teachers College, to serve as head of the Division of Old Age Assistance in the Department of Welfare at Frankfort, is making more and more of an impressive record as the days go by.

When Dr. Lloyd took charge of the work at Frankfort, he found an entirely new and unorganized department. Not one grant to the aged had been made, and the entire division was so disorganized that he was forced to start at the very bottom before he could accomplish a beginning. Dr. Lloyd took charge in mid-August. By September 1, he had a small number of grants ready and made immediately.

He then set a goal for September which welfare workers said could not be reached, a goal of 1,000 grants. Dr. Lloyd said it not only was reached but exceeded. He added that if those in charge could not do it, he would set someone who could.

On October 1 the goal he set had not only been reached but passed. To be exact, 1,303 grants had been made in that time.

Then Dr. Lloyd set another and higher goal for the month of October. He said that 2,000 additional grants must be made. Again the workers said it could not be done. Dr. Lloyd again repeated that it must be done.

When the smoke had cleared a way last Saturday, October 24, it was found that again Dr. Lloyd's quota had been exceeded and a grand total for the month of October of 2,279 grants had been made. This means that about 3,800 grants (Continued On Page Four)

Eagles Take Transy By 7-0

Score Touchdown And Kick Point In First Quarter; Hold Margin

Morehead won their first K.I.A.C. football game last Friday in Lexington by playing airtight football and earned the break that got them a touchdown in that quarter with a punt which they guarded with magnificent skill. The Eagles defeated Transylvania on the short end of a 7-0 score.

In the play that gave the Eagles the win, Horton, the Eagles' pivot man, crashed through the Crimson defense to rush the passing of Dabbeizer, and was successful in partly blocking the ball which was gathered in by Adams, Eagle guard, who wormed his way to the promise land. Vinson then trotted from the Morehead bench and sent the pigskin through the posts to tally the extra point. The game was pretty evenly fought, with frequent penalties on both sides. Each team penetrated deep in each other's territory several times but the scoring punches were met with stubborn defense and the game ended with Pioneer scalps dangling from Eagle claws.

Morehead played the same type of game as in the Murray and Georgetown games and got the (Continued On Page Eight)

Democrats And Republicans Lay Last Plans To Carry Rowan County On Tuesday

Democrats, feel that they have a decided edge in prospects to carry the county, due largely to the numerous WPA projects in the county and the amount of money the federal government under the Roosevelt administration has spent in this county. On the other hand they claim the present WPA set-up has handicapped them considerably. They expect to see a drop in one or two precincts, but they are unable to figure where they can lose in the county.

Son Is Born To Dr. And Mrs. Black

Announcement is made of the birth of a son to Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Black, at Mary Chiles hospital in Mt. Sterling on last Friday. The youngster who weighed 7 pounds at birth has not yet been named. This is the fourth child in the family, all boys.

Hog Cholera Found On E. E. Elam Farm

Herd Of Forty Hogs Die From Effects Of Disease

Cholera destroyed the entire herd of hogs belonging to E. E. Elam at Clearfield this week. According to County Agent Chas. L. Goff, Mr. Elam had bought the greater part of the herd in Fleming county and discovered they were sick after he got them home. Dr. Carter was called from Park Ky., to administer to the hogs, but all except about five died from the ailment.

As the hogs were confined to the Elam farm, Mr. Goff believes there is no danger of a spread of the disease elsewhere. He hopes that farmers living near by keep a close watch over their herds and if there is any indication of the development of the disease to notify him at once. Dr. Carter's services are at the command of the farmers, and he is glad to give his service free of charge. Farmers are required where inoculation is necessary or desired to pay only for the cost of the serum and virus. The services of Dr. Carter are entirely free.

Luther Patrick Speaks For Demos

"Live And Help Live" Offered As New Deal Ideal For America

"America's former attitude toward life was 'root hog, or die' and later we developed the idea of 'live and let live,' as a national program. But today the ideal of the New Deal, their motto for life and living is 'live and HELP live.' That is a few words was the gist of the address delivered before a fair sized audience in spite of the rain, by Hon. Luther Patrick, Congressman from Aldhama.

Mr. Patrick stated that the purpose and intention of the New Deal is to look after the Forgotten man. He contrasted the Republican idea which he claimed had failed completely during Hoover's administration, of pouring the funds into the large industries at the top and hoping that a small part of it would trickle down through so that the poorer groups would finally get a little benefit, with the new deal theory of distributing funds so that all might benefit from recovery at the same time. He stated that the ideal of the Democratic party and the New Deal is Live and Help Live. By that he said the New Deal meant that they believed in starting at the bottom and at the top and the middle and giving all an opportunity to prosper at the same time. Thus and thus only he said could prosperity come and be made a permanent part of the history of America.

Peoples Bank Looted In Night By Robbers

Notes And Mortgages Damaged By Heat Are Salvaged Loss Estimated At $2,000

The Peoples Bank of Sandy Hook was robbed of approximately $2,000 and a number of notes and mortgages were damaged in a bold robbery on Monday night of this week. The robbery was discovered Tuesday morning by Drew Evans operator and Dr. L. H. Townsend, Jr. and Mrs. Evans, who are in charge of the bank. They had spent the night at their home in Morehead and did not discover the robbery until their arrival in Sandy Hook to open the bank.

Early reports were to the effect that the notes and mortgages had been entirely destroyed and that the cash loss was in the neighborhood of $25,000. Investigation disclosed that the loss was not nearly so great, and that the notes and mortgages had been saved by the fire from the acetylene torch which was used to cut through the vault and the safe, and has been damaged by water, but were all legible and good.

The robbers were apparently expert at their work. Those who are familiar with the use of acetylene torch say that an inexperienced operator will take 15 to 20 or perhaps days to accomplish the work that the robbers accomplished in a very few hours.

Democracy In Motorcade

Prominent Democrats Visit City On Tour Through East

A Democratic Motorcade headed by Lieutenant Governor Keen Johnson, Highway Commissioner Bob Humphreys of Mayfield, James Hammond, warden of the Frankfort Reformatory, Tom Underwood editor of the Lexington Herald, C. M. C. Pate and a number of other Democratic notables paused for an hour in Morehead, at lunch, spoke briefly in the interest of the Democratic party and drove on to Olive Hill their next stop.

The motorcade was greeted by a fair sized crowd who enjoyed the speaking and even more the making of the acquaintance of these men. The Morehead audience would have been larger had there not been somewhat of a mixup as to the exact time of the arrival.

During their brief stay in Morehead the entire party visited the plant of the Rowan County News, admiring the new Globe Street plant, recently installed. Mr. Underwood and Lieutenant Governor Johnson, being newspaper men (Continued On Page Four)

Fruit Class From U. K. Visits Here

Pay Visit To Orchard Of Dr. Van Antwerp At Farmers

The class in advanced horticulture in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, accompanied by Prof. W. S. Waitman and Dr. L. H. Townsend, recently visited the Dr. H. Van Antwerp orchards of 40 acres and 1-100 bearing trees in Rowan county.

Of special interest were two modern "discolored" storage houses of 10,000 bushels capacity, several acres of vineyard and a stationary spray plant. The plant is located adjacent to a pond from which the water is carried by gravity to two 400-gallon tanks. Electrically driven pumps exerting a pressure of (Continued On Page Eight)

High School Offers Annual Carnival

The annual carnival of fun, fest and amusement will be held at the Morehead Public School gymnasium on Thursday night of this week. Plans are being made to entertain one of the largest crowds that has ever gathered for this session of fun for the boys of the county.

The carnival activities will hold forth in the gym. There will be a Hall of Terror, where those who like a thrill and a chill may pass through the blood curdling awesome scenes. There will be a fish pond where, "fisherman's luck" will rule supreme. Those who wish to engage in a quiet game of Bingo may take the opportunity. Jockeys may bring their horses and race fans will be satisfied with the hogg racing without which Kentucky would not be Kentucky.

The negro minstrel is expected to draw its full quota of adherents. The fortune teller will have her little tent from which you are certain to go away satisfied. Cupid will also be out in force and will teach the bashful maidens how to shoot the quivering arrows into the hearts of her awkward one. Lunch may be had at the foot stand. Penny boards, Ring-around, Halloween stand. Beauty contest, Carnival night. What more could any red blooded, carnival minded individual want? If he wants more all he needs to do is ask for it.

Climaxing the entertainment on Thursday night, Miss Jean Luzader will sing. Miss Linda Lou will tap dance.

The funds will go to the benefit of the athletic fund of the Morehead High School.

The public, all of them is cordially invited to attend and take part in the fun. You are also invited to bring some small or large change along, as the boys certainly need the support of the towns people and the money with which to run their team.

Eagles Hope For Win Over Ancient Rivals

Eastern-Morehead, natural football classic of Eastern Kentucky, will take place at Hanger Stadium in Richmond Friday afternoon with the Maroon and Eagle fans filling the new sport arena to capacity and the home team enjoying favor from the sport going public. Eastern being Kentucky's only college eleven undefeated has scored 95 points to their opponents 8 in five games with three being classified as set-up games to build for the general K. I. A. C. foes. Coach Ellis Johnson's nest of Eagles roosts on the sixth round in the K. I. A. C. ladder and hopes to step up another notch at the expense of the traditional rival, Morehead under new coaches has had to struggle to hold their own with the best K. I. A. C. foes in the state and in four games have surprised even their most loyal followers with hard earned successes.

The Eagles won their first game last Friday against Transylvania 7 to 0 and has ties with Georgetown and Union, and a heart break loss by one touchdown to Murray in the season's opener. Coaches Johnson and Miller will be able for this first time this year to put the best Eagles on the field and these birds ask no odds when it is Eastern that they play.

Their only foe in common as far this season has been Georgetown and the Tigers let each know that they had been in a football game before the final whistle. The Tigers were lucky to hold Morehead to a tie and really handled the Maroons a scare, making more first downs and gaining more ground and it was only the passing of Eastern backs that saved the day for the Teachers. Morehead will enter the game as underdogs but feared and respected by the Rome Rankin outfit.

The rivalry is a natural and fierce past games have built up a traditional classic that make both schools football hungry for a victory. The first Eagle victory is still vivid on the smoke stack at Morehead campus and the follow-up victory in '29 are the only two (Continued On Page Four)

Wodehouse Story At Cozy Theatre

One of the most uproarious laugh riots of the year comes to the Cozy screen Wednesday and Thursday with the release of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, "Picadilly Jim", starring Robert Montgomery.

Of all the hilarious comedies written by the brilliant British humorist, P. G. Wodehouse, "Picadilly Jim" has been proclaimed his funniest.

The picture brings together for the first time in three years the romantic team of Montgomery and Madge Evans. They were last seen together in "Lovers Courage".

Directed by Robert Z. Leonard, who made "The Great Ziegfeld," the new picture gives Montgomery and Miss Evans stellar supporting parts that include a new comedy team, Frank Morgan and Billie Burke, in addition Eric Blore, Robert Benchley, Ralph Forbes, Cara, Witherspoon, Grant Mitchell, Alsen Fringale and Billy Bevan.

Montgomery's step-mother, Billie Buran makes her first screen appearance under the terms of her Too, the new picture brings Montgomery and Morgan together for the second time. Their last appearance together was in "Trouble For Two," in "Picadilly Jim." Morgan plays Montgomery's father, a has been Shakespearean actor.

"Picadilly Jim" is the story of a young American caricaturist in London, who plunges into romantic difficulties by unknowing burlinesquing in a comic strip the family of the girl with whom he is in love.

The settings of London and New York and the transatlantic steamer background are described as among the most beautiful ever designed by Cedric Gibbons. Harry Rapp was the producer.

College Features George Arliss

East Meets West For Friday, October 30, the College Theatre brings to the screen the inimitable George Arliss in "East Meets West."

This is the story of an Eastern potentate in conflict with a representative of a Western power. In the story the Sultan of Tunatra, a small oriental province, is of international importance because he controls a harbor which is between two other countries. England is interested on the eastern side of the harbor and an eastern power is interested on the western side.

The Sultan needs at least a million pounds to develop his little country and he plays each of these adjoining countries against the other in an attempt to get them to finance his country.

There is a British customs officer who is smuggling rum into the country and the Sultan's son is in love with his wife. When the officer is captured and condemned to be hanged, the Sultan's son tries to raise a mob and lynch him before the Sultan can pardon him.

The Sultan has meanwhile deferred his decision regarding the pardon until the English governor agrees to pay him six million pounds and also agrees to sign a treaty of friendly neutrality. The other power, in a panic for fear of being left out, agrees to pay a similar amount. Thus the shrewd oriental succeeds in outwitting the others and gets two million pounds.

Baritones: Wendel Brown and Earl Boggers.

Trombones: Paul Young, George O. Jackson, Robert Humphrey, Bill Toran, Kenneth Fern, Crawford Adams, and Harry Boggers.

without losing the independence to his country.

HEURY VIII, before his death created a council of Regency of sixteen to rule during his sons' minority. Edward VI, The Earl of Hartford, was chosen leader, governor, and Protector of the Realm. He was later overthrown by the Duke of Northumberland who had him executed.

Northumberland became head of the Council of Regents, but at the death of Edward VI entered into a plot to put Jane Grey on the throne. Jane was the wife of Guilford Dudley. Northumberland's fourth son, whom she was forced to marry, and Northumberland believed he could dictate her policies of government through her husband. On July 19, 1553, she was proclaimed Queen and reigned for a period of nine days.

The masterful acting of George Arliss is impressive and the love scenes between the Sultan's son and the English officer's wife is interesting. The dialogue is impressive and the suspense involved in the interrupted execution is exciting.

Band Plays Concert At Vanceburg; Get Plaudits

The M. S. T. C. Field Band, composed of 42 picked musicians and under the direction of Marvin E. George, will journey to Eastern Friday for the Morehead game. The band will march during the half and form the letters "E" and "M" as part of their maneuvers.

The band on its trip to Vanceburg played a concert in the school gymnasium but did not lead the Lewis county school because of rain. The Field band was accorded an enthusiastic reception in Vanceburg and receive many compliments.

THE AND EVER-FRADD RAZORS

ROWAN COUNTY SCHOOLS

By "Jessie" Allen

Perhaps the greatest contribution to the sports of Morehead State Teachers College by any organized group was the announcement last week by the 'Aumni M Club' that they were going to give annually awards to the varsity and freshmen athletes that make the best scholastic standing during a standard school year. These will be given this year at commencement and are the first honorary awards given to the college by its former students. This is another definite step in the right way to put athletics on a high plane at Morehead. The former athletes of Morehead are to be congratulated on this sports gesture to the Eagles and Eagles and it is hoped that the boys make a great race for the handsome trophies.

Mud in their eyes and grins on their faces, the Vikings recalled the glories of the graduates when they paraded down main street last Friday carrying gracefully the heavy end of a 1 to 0 football score.

Success pays and pays. While the Eagles were in the air last Friday with the scalps of the Pioneers some of the more fortunate were on the other 'WAVES' giving Morehead a just praise to radio listeners. That air is a good thing for us.

The Lady of the Hour on the Turf is Myrtlewood, fleet daughter of the Turf, which won her last race Saturday at Keeneland in a match test with Miss Merriman. She retires Queen without a defeat.

Dear Sir
I beg to be granted the space to comment on a speech last Friday evening, made by the Honorable Alfrey E. Smith. It seems that it has been many long years since I heard of the then Honorable Mr. Smith pleading for the cause of the common people, and today I am wondering of Mr. Smith ever heard the poem: Turn backward, turn backward, O time in thy flight. Make me achid again just for tonight. Or has Mr. Smith forgotten his childhood days? Then too, I have a faint recollection of his plea for the farmer, but he seems to have forgotten that now, since he made a statement in regard to the rise in price of pork, I wonder whether Mr. Smith really thinks that farmer can produce hogs and sell them at a price which will enable the butcher to sell them at 19 cents per pound. Does Mr.

question and breeds hope her own or to cast forward from the blue grass pasture with others to carry on where she left off. Many from here saw the climax of the great racing marvel.

'Shoot the works' is the cry of the Campus Club who will give an old 'Hog Rifle' to the winner of the Eastern-Morehead football classic. This is the beginning of a tradition that has real merit. May the Eagle eye be the first to set this on a true course.

Smith know that in 1932 it took 200 bushels of wheat to bring it about 80 bushels would bring today, yet the farmer cannot pay the debt which he made in the preceding years because he does not clear enough money to do any more than make a decent living. Now I ask the reader not to get me wrong. I trust that Mr. Smith has been a great man, but lately he reminds me of a wet hen that is setting on a bad bunch of eggs.

I gave Carulid to my daughter who was in about the same condition and she was soon all right. Thousands of women testify Carulid benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician."

MABEL ALFREY, Attendance Officer
CLEARFIELD SCHOOL HAS
EXCELLENT ATTENDANCE
Why does the Clearfield School have such good attendance? One answer is that you will find the most cooperative and hard working group of teachers here that you will find any where in the county or the state. They are on the job every minute. The past month they had seventy-eight children who did not miss a day of school. Isn't that a record to be proud of? There are so many activities going on that the children refuse to be absent. The parents visit the school often and the teachers have been practically in every home in the community. They have an active P. T. A. which is a great help to the school. There is a ball club organized here and they did not lose a game this year. They won the Rowan County championship. They are organizing a dramatic club, which will sponsor several plays. A Halloween party is being planned.

There is a library in the upper grades of over five hundred books and the other rooms have their own libraries. Contacts are always changing to keep the children in Health courses are in progress in keeping nails and teeth clean. They are also making plans to work out a unit on desert life. The parents are really backing the school. They sponsored a pie supper which brought $24.01, the money to be spent for school supplies. The following supplies have been bought for the school: Window blinds, curtains, two ball bats, two soft balls, a basket ball set, water colors, crayons, poster paper, construction paper, and lumber for building a basket ball court.

Those in school who have earned bibles are Florence Jennings, Bertha Hampton and Irene McBrayer. Those earning Pocket Treasures are Herbert and Iret McFrayer, Florence Jennings, Kenneth Crisp, Sarah Harris, Sherman Jennings, Geneva Slusher, Clyde and Leslie Cox. A number of the children are working for Testaments. We were visited this week by uncle Stewart Lambert and Oliver Wilson. Those on the honor roll for this year are: Virginia Slusher, Faye Slusher, Beatrice and Sibbie Baldrige. Mr. Cornette was with us this week and Mrs. Alfrey visited us a few days ago.

school. They won $18.00 in prizes during the fair, on of which was in the float.

The teachers at Clearfield know that only a successful school can be had if all the children are present. They realize they are being paid to teach all the children in the district and not only a few.

They also know that not only one method will interest the children but it will take as many methods as there are children. The parents and teachers like to tell you what is being done in this school and it is easy to see why there is so much interest shown when the Clearfield school is mentioned to the patrons of the district.

IMPROVING IN ATTENDANCE
Our attendance has been pretty low this month, due to the rush of caring for the crops, but those who have been absent are getting back in school again.

The pupils are working hard, as they are doing extra work memorizing Bible verses in order to earn Bibles, Testaments, and Pocket Treasures.

Those in school who have earned bibles are Florence Jennings, Bertha Hampton and Irene McBrayer. Those earning Pocket Treasures are Herbert and Iret McFrayer, Florence Jennings, Kenneth Crisp, Sarah Harris, Sherman Jennings, Geneva Slusher, Clyde and Leslie Cox. A number of the children are working for Testaments. We were visited this week by uncle Stewart Lambert and Oliver Wilson. Those on the honor roll for this year are: Virginia Slusher, Faye Slusher, Beatrice and Sibbie Baldrige. Mr. Cornette was with us this week and Mrs. Alfrey visited us a few days ago.

Kentucky Needs Roosevelt

Kentuckians _ _ _ and the citizens of other States should be grateful to Franklin D. Roosevelt not only because of humane and progressive social security legislation but because of the conversion of deep despair and economic chaos into confidence and orderly prosperity.

IN 1932 — UNDER HOOVER

Frantic home-owners could not pay their mortgage interest — sometimes 8 or even 12 per cent.

Banks were staggering under a weight of "frozen" loans, loaded with unsaleable real estate.

Banks were failing at the rate of 100 a month. Bank deposits were not protected.

Business, unable to get credit, piled up 25,000 bankruptcies in 1932.

Kentucky factories were closing and cutting off men periodically.

Educators were conferring about plans to save the educational system from collapse as revenues shrank.

Wheat was 48 cents a bushel, corn 24 cents. It cost more to raise stock than it brought at market.

The family automobile rusted in the barn—no money for gas.

Some 900,000 farms were sold by foreclosure or for unpaid taxes.

Farm Income Dropped Under 4 1-2 Billion In 1932

IN 1935 — UNDER ROOSEVELT

Home Owners' Loan Corporation restored 1,000,749 homes to their owners. F. C. A. saved a half million more.

In June, 1933, mortgages were foreclosed at the rate of 1,000 a day; in March, 1936, foreclosures were lowest in 5 years.

By paying $225,000,000 in back taxes, Home Owners' Loan Corporation enabled towns and counties to continue schools and other public services.

Home Owners' Loan Corporation advances of $75,000,000 for home repair benefited workmen, contractors and dealers.

Farmers have saved over 20 million in annual interest charges on loans refinanced by F. C. A.

The exchange of liquid government-guaranteed bonds for frozen mortgages has protected the savings of 50,000,000 people invested in real estate by banks, insurance and loan companies.

Dollar wheat is back and corn tripled in price.

New automobiles carry the farmer to a market where his stock sells at a profitable figure.

Not a single bank failure in the entire Nation in 1936, for the first time in 55 years. Bank savings are protected by Federal deposit insurance.

Educators are teaching in better equipped, modern buildings than any time in history.

As the farmer's income has increased, the business of every merchant, large or small, has grown.

Fear has banished; hope has returned and the feet of the Nation set definitely on the road to abundant prosperity.

Farm Cash Income Rose 2 1-2 Billion In 1935

We urge all kentuckians, men and women Democrats and Republicans, to vote for President Roosevelt and those who will help him— Senator M. M. Logan and the State's Democratic Congressmen.

Where's this man to sleep? Shellenberger asked.

He can sleep with you, Sparrel said simply and naturally as custom.

Oh, No. He doesn't sleep with me I sleep by myself.

Sparrel had never known a man to object to sharing a bed in another man's house. He looked at Shellenberger and then at Mullens and then at Reuben. He knew that beds are about all full now but yours, Sparrel said.

He can sleep just anywhere Shellenberger said. Give him a blanket or something.

But the black man had got out of the room but did not answer Sparrel's call. Shellenberger went on with his dressing. He turned back the high, heavy, padded quilt Julia had spread with care over the bed. He saw that there was only one sheet on the bed.

And I want another bed, please to sleep upon and a little small pillow if you have one.

Sparrel stood looking at him, but Julia had heard him speak, and without revealing any of the hurt to her pride she got them quickly from the linen closet and gave them to Sparrel. Reuben, lying on the bed and looking up at Sparrel, could feel his restraining speech before his sense of outraged hospitality.

But Sparrel did not answer until he had reached the door, then he said, apparently unaware of the thing he had done. He lay down drawing the cedar-scented sheet over him.

Good night, he said.

But Sparrel did not answer until he had reached the door, then he said without warmth. Good night. And as if remembering Reuben and Jess, "Rest to you, boys."

Cynthia in her room next door blew out the light and he thought out the voice: "I reckon I'll be right glad when it's done and we live again like we always have, without a man like Shellenberger coming to pay for his keep and then doing a thing like that. Before we came we were weaving and planting and making garden and it was like the other springs. Every time has been in a spirit from the minute he rode into the bottom—Reuben is a gentleman as Shellenberger but he sees finer in people's ways and feelings—and he wouldn't come here if that man he hit."

In the morning Mullens came up to the wash rock brushing the straw from his hair and trousers.

Where have you been? Abrael asked.

The barn, he said, with a squint about his eyes.

Sparrel only said, Morning.

When breakfast was over, Shellenberger spoke to him for the first time. "Well go with party this morning and see the layout. Then we'll go on across to Ganpon and figure out on the ridge in sight of the Pinnacle. Mullens said to Shellenberger.

About ten thousand feet of long leaf pine to the acre, and maybe two thousand to three thousand short-leaf in that second house. "How much poplar?"

"Maybe average two thousand feet."

And the other stuff.

About the same for white oak, chestnut and ash. Maybe five hundred feet of pignut and shellbark hickory.

"What do you think of it? Shellenberger asked."

Never saw a finer lot of stumpage for a loggin gang in my life. Just made right for gittin'."

Shellenberger sat down and began to sketch in a drawing on the back of an envelope.

"You'll have to build a camp in the hollow down there below the rock. They call it Dry creek. This man has a steam mill and he is getting a circular saw, so that will be easy. You can clear out that flat there at the mouth of the creek for a collecting point. You can look at it again tomorrow. I don't think we'll need a dam in Ganpon. Maybe one in the smaller creek."

Have you been all along Ganpon Creek?"

Yes. Clear down to the Big Sandy. It's just about right. You can take forty-foot logs down in the spring.

What about men?"

We'll try the natives. They'll be cheap, and a lot of them can board at home. We'll get Pattern to draw

FARM & AGRICULTURAL NEWS

ENROLLMENT RECORDS

Broken at University... Topping all previous records, the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky has an enrollment of 437 farm boys and girls...

The home economics department has 177 girls registered as compared with a previous high of 128. Three girls are registered in agriculture, the first time since 1923 that his has taken place...

The freshman class is the largest including 100 boys and 61 home economics students. The sophomores run 79 for the boys and 34 for the girls, the juniors 58 and 33 and the seniors 29 for agriculture and 28 for home economics. There are three special students.

Other states sending students to Kentucky's agricultural school include New York, Tennessee, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, North Carolina, Ohio, South Carolina, Iowa, Virginia, Massachusetts and West Virginia.

THE FARM AND HOME

Honey may be used in gingerbread in place of molasses. But it contains less acid than does molasses, and soda should be left out and the quantity of baking powder increased by one teaspoonful for each quarter-teaspoonful given in the recipe...

In planning a new house, consider two stairways to the second floor. One at the side of the kitchen will be found useful, and will be used often to save steps. It also might save lives in case of fire.

Now it's "An apple a day keeps fat away, according to fruit advertisements. Apple for breakfast tend to hold down calories it is declared. At the same time they provide the vitamins and minerals necessary for health.

Store canned foods in well-ventilated places. Stoves, too near furnaces may be too warm, and those near outer walls may result in freezing. Glass pans stored mold may form if the store room is warm and damp.

With feed prices high, many farm... ers are culling their poultry, keeping only the pullets that are early maturing, well developing strong and vigorous. Fever birds given better care are most profitable than large flocks poorly fed and housed.

Windrow or morning glory come through the dry season literally with flying colors. This pest probably did better this year than in most normal seasons. Occasional cutting of the weed seems to encourage it, but constant cultivation tends to kill it.

PROPERLY COOKED INEXPENSIVE MEAT IS GOOD If the homemaker uses inexpensive cuts of meat, can they be made appetizing?

It's all in how they are cooked, in the opinion of the home economics department of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. The solution is in proper cooking and a clever use of seasoning.

Money-saving cuts of meat are beef chuck, rump, flank, round or shoulder, shoulde and breast of veal or lamb, and shoulder of pork. The tougher cuts require moist heat and slow cooking, so braising is suggested for cooking round of chuck.

Season the meat with salt and pepper, dredge with flour and brown in a small amount of fat. Then place in a deep baking dish, surrounded with vegetables, add seasoning and brown onion slices and enough water to half cover the material. Cover closely and bake in a very slow oven from one to four hours until tender. It may also be cooked in top of the stove if care is used to keep the water below boiling.

Roasts should be cooked slowly because it gives them a better flavor, or a more uniform degree of doneness, and less shrinkage. Tests made in the home economics laboratory showed that roasts cooked at a low temperature shrunk five times as much as the one cooked at a low temperature. It was also found that cooking results in greater shrinkage, despite the popular opinion to the contrary.

Meat is highly desirable in the daily diet; one-third of a pound of boneless meat per normal adult is certainly not injurious. Meat is high in iron, phosphorous and copper, and in complete protein.

K. I. P. A. Meet To Be Held October 29, 30, 31

In a letter received here this past week it was learned that the fall meeting of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association will be held in Louisville, October 29, 30, and 31. This meet was originally conceded to the University of Kentucky, but was changed to gain the benefits from meeting with the National press group which meets at the same time.

THE TRAIL BLAZER plans to send several members to this association.

ATTEND CONVENTION

A group of Morehead students left Friday afternoon to attend the Baptist Student Union Convention held at Bowling Green on October 23-25. Over 200 hundred students are expected from the Kentucky colleges. In the group that is going are Martha Hamon, Alene Huff, Clara Robinson, Ruth Stephens, Louise Stephens, and Clyde Smith.

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

Nothing Doing in the Fish Line

SOME people insist that measuring, class by class, the lowest order of human intelligence in America, is found among Key West sponge fishermen. Others hold that the group placed at the foot of the column properly belongs to a certain order of theatrical producers.

ers. As proof of the value of their contention they point to the story of the theatrical manager, who, on being told that a play brought him by a certain dramatist was based upon one of Charles Dickens' novels.

"Well, you get hold of this fellow Dickens and bring him around to lunch tomorrow and we'll get his ideas and fix up a contract." Without any desire to take part in the controversy over the respective merits of the theatrical managers and the Key West sponge-fishers, I herewith submit, for what it may be worth, an incident which happened in the office of a prominent producing manager, whose name is a household word in every actor's home. To him there came an experienced playwright bearing the script of a new play which he had just finished.

"I don't want you should read it to me, now," said the manager. "Just tell me what it's like." "Well," said the playwright, "it's a historical drama in five acts. I call it 'The Dauphin.'" "For why do you call it that?" "Because it's based on the story of the Lost Dauphin." "I don't want it," said the manager emphatically. "It wouldn't go. The public wouldn't ever stand for a play about a fish."

Know Your Language

By C. L. Bushnell School of English, International Correspondence Schools

THE pronoun "it" is one of the most troublesome words in the English language. When used without due care it can produce some remarkable results, as in the following sentences: "If the child does not thrive on uncooked milk, it should be boiled." Few mothers would care to subject their children to such drastic treatment. In this particular instance, about the only way for the writer to express his meaning clearly is to avoid the use of "it" altogether and make his sentence read, "If the child does not thrive on uncooked milk, the milk should be boiled."

One is angry at a thing, but with a person. Say "He is angry with him;" not "He is angry at him."

Young Outlines Raconteur Book

Contract Is Awarded To Same Firm Again.

"At a recent meeting of the Annual committee the Thomas Studios of Huntington, West Virginia were again contracted to do the photographic work for the current year book."

According to Naomi Claypool, sponsor, Mr. Thomas is recognized as one of the best authorities on photography in the Tri-state region. The work of the Thomas Studios is so heavy that it is necessary that they employ seven photographers during the winter months to take care of photography for school annuals. All who have viewed their work of the past year have been very much impressed by its quality.

During the past year Lewis and Ford of the Thomas Studios did the bulk of the work on the campus. Mrs. Claypool stated that their work was so satisfactory to those who had their pictures taken that a greater number of photographs were purchased by the student body than ever before.

In view of the fact that a great deal of new photographic equipment has been purchased by the studios in the last few months, Mrs. Lewis assures the Annual Committee and the student body that the work will be better than ever this year.

The layout of the book is rapidly taking shape. The annual staff assures that a very unusual Raconteur will be the result of the creative efforts of editor H. K. Collins with the guiding hand of Naomi Claypool, sponsor.

A very novel theme has been chosen. The book, two years ago was built on the theme of "Seasons" while that of last year was "Living to Learn, and Learning to Live." The present theme along with a number of other announcements of interest to the campus will be forthcoming in following issues of the TRAIL BLAZER.

HOG RIFLE TO SET NEW TRADITION

"Let's Use Rifle To Bring Home Bacon" Says Club.

At a recent meeting of the Campus Club it was suggested that a gridiron tradition be established between Morehead and Eastern State Teachers College.

A number of ideas were discussed and with the suggestion that annually the University of Kentucky and the University of Tennessee, and Indiana and Purdue fight for possession of a beer keg and an old oaken bucket respectively, it was decided that a similar tradition be suggested for Morehead and Eastern.

The tradition decided upon is that annually the Morehead-Eastern gridiron contest will be fought for the possession of an old hog rifle which will become the charge of the winning team until it is defeated by the other of the two schools. The old rifle has always been purchased by the Campus Club for joint presentation to the two institutions.

Mountain Top, Eastern Kentucky is steeped with stories...

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

SPEAKING of institutions, there's an old one I've never told. There was a new patient in an insane asylum. He was one that got himself declared insane by the jury so he could get out of the murder charge and was waiting for the doctors to come around and say he wasn't crazy so he could go out and kill another one.

This new patient had everything fixed up with the superintendent, so he was sitting on the lawn under a tree, drinking cold drinks while somebody was fanning him. There was an assistant superintendent that had got his job not stand all the workings of the place fixed. He came around to the new patient and says:

"You are a new patient?" "Yep." "Why aren't you at work?" "I'm crazy." "Yes, but the rules here are that all patients must work. Don't you see that all the others are working?" "Oh, yah, but I ain't THAT crazy, mister!" (American News Features, Inc.)
