THE MOREHEAD WEEKLY

"ONE OF KENTUCKY'S GREATER WEEKLIES"

MOREHEAD, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1938

Volume V. The Bystander Stanley K. Iverson

HERE'S ONE FOR THE BOOK stamp at a local garage last week. Sometime later he returned with the stamp (all of the "big checks" off the "big course") and the clerk that since he didn't have any use for it, he would like his money back.

THEY'RE GIVING HITLER HECK because he's turning back the Czechs, but nobody ever says anything to Dave Caudill, who's been turning back checks for years.

DURING THE BEST PERIOD between halves of the Morehead-Holtbrook game, Saturday, one of the Dinosaurs (?) said despondently to Mendel Beatty, the Holtbrook coach: "Mendel, I just know one of those guys is a blackjack."

AIN'T IT AWFULL: WHO'S always trumpeting on Wilson Avenue? We don't mind, but you know how it is. . . Girl huffing walnuts and getting stinked all over one of those guys. . . Somebody stealing shoes off Elliott county boy Sunday night as he slept in his room in Main street. . .

THE LINTOPIST CAN REALLY refrain from making a comment about the fact that I'veerson joined the Parent-Teachers Association. Iverson is an editor not a teacher, so he must be a parent and I've never even heard of his marriage. . . Neither did I-Iverson. . . That's bad--Linto-pist.

NOTICE: A STARVED DUCK (known as Donald) has been found, and the owner, Mr. Gerard and Wendel's Chicken Farm, get Donald by paying his feed bill.

CRACKERBARRER COMMENTS by Woody Hinton: Written for and about my friends: I wish William Homer Rice would have some fresh pictures taken. . . Take your tape measure along next time. . . The other day I had a call for sulphur. . . Know the prospective young aviator in town? . . . One business firm in town will not get out of business for another two years ago it was broke. . . Who had a week-end party and roared a pig? . . . Where is Gentry? . . . John Francis has the most serious smile I have ever seen. . . Who said to his boys, "Well, I am going on a drink for a few days and when I get sober I will be back." . . . What young lady went on a shopping trip to Cincinnati last week and was unable to decide on a single purchase? . . . I am sick of Amos 'n' Andy, the radio stars. . .

HOW TO KEEP FROM GROWING old! Written for the interest of our local undertakers, repairmen, and cemetery lot salesmen. . . Always drive fast out of alley and side streets. . . Always race with that train, engineers like it, and it brings you are not afraid. . . Always pass the car ahead on curves, high or tapers. . .

Another will get her choice of a $300 payment on a new auto or $200 in cash. Four others will receive complete and latest, not least, every active participant who fails to win a prize will receive a cash commission of TWENTY PER CENT (one dollar out of every five dollars of the subscription money they collect). Could anything be fairer? Did you ever have a more liberal proposition offered you? Then why not come to the Independent office right away and get a receipt book and get started. Don't delay any longer--send in your NAME BY THE END OF THE DAY. A receipt book is at the office waiting for you. Also lists of present subscribers and copies of The Independent. You will find The Independent easy to sell to your friends and neighbors. Injunction Granted Over Land Dispute

Mac C. Moore Charges James Caudill With Illegal Possession Of Land

A hearing will be held on Wednesday, issued Mac C. Moore vs. James C. Caudill, in Judge D. B. Caudill Friday at 2 p. m. Moore was granted a temporary injunction in Circuit Court. Clerk Joe McKinney in the absence of the judge, restraining James Caudill from trespassing on lands claimed by Moore to belong to him. Moore filed a suit in circuit court last week asking judgment of one thousand dollars against James Caudill and wife for damage to timber on the land in dispute. Moore stated in his suit that he has owned the land in dispute since November 30, 1917, but that since April 11 of this year, he alleges that James Caudill has taken actual possession and cut and removed timber. Moore also states that Caudill is claiming title by reason of a deed from Wm. H. Dyard, trustee, who in the said deed, retained a lien on the property and Dyard is therefore a necessary party to the action.

Warns Barbers Not To Post Prices

Northern Kentucky barbers were warned Friday morning not to post prices in their shops. The posting of prices is considered a violation of the anti-trust act and is illegal. The warning was given by Special Agent A. F. Thomas, state inspector of the Barbers' Board, in this county. The warning was given to barbers in the county. According to Mr. Carroll, violations may be punished by a $19 fine or the offenders license may be revoked.

County Fair Opens Friday

Farmers Will Vote On Inspection And Grading Of Tobacco

Service Will Be Established If Two-Thirds Vote Favorably

A referendum to determine if local farmers want to have their tobacco inspected and graded by federal inspectors is being held at the Morehead county fair before being sold is to be held on October 30, according to County Agent Chas. Go.

This service is being arranged for the Mayville, Paris, and Springfield, Kentucky, markets. Also the markets located at Huntington, W. Va., and Knoxville, Tenn., will be included in the referendum. If two-thirds of the producers voting indicate that they want this service it will be established. The service does not cost the producer anything but is paid for by the federal government. Each basket is carefully inspected by the grader after it has been placed on the floor for auction and is given a label indicating the grade. Farmers and the public will be kept posted on the average price of each grade as sold during the season and the most recent daily averages that are available. This information will enable farmers to determine the approximate value of their tobacco before it is sold. It will tend to discourage selling to pinhook buyers and will give the farmer important information regarding the acceptance or rejection of his tobacco. The Mt. Sterling market has had government grading for several years and is steadily increasing in volume of tobacco sold. This taken as an indication that the producers are favored by the service.

Victims To Play McKell At Jayne Stadium On Friday

Line, Kicking Much Improved

The Morehead Vikings play their third game of the season Friday afternoon at Jayne Stadium when they engage McKell high school from Fullerton. Although playing against a highly-rated eleven at Winchester last Friday night which lights the Vikings lost by only three touchdowns and a converted point, 19-0. Winchester failed to score their second touchdown until the end of the third quarter. They started slowly in their best game, but soon too much for the Vikings to overcome. Winchester's line was a great deal heavier and their best game, although the Viking line was much improved over the week before. The Vikings carried a squad of only 15 men, but they had three boys available as substitutes. Winchester ran three teams in practice on the field. George Hill's kicking kept the Vikings in the game at several stages of the contest.

A sophomore, now in school this fall spent only $298 last year during the entire two semesters for his education, clothes, food, books and fees. The student, who is on a regular schedule of studies and worked outside six hours a day and still obtained a 1.9 or almost a B, averaged $1.50 a day. He had no dates and attended no dances. He got his amusement, and recreation from three campus organizations, Y. M. C. A., Beaux Arts Club and Trill Blazer. And each year he is doing it all over again.

Lawrence Tech To Play Eagles Here Next Saturday

Michigan Team Coming Here Has Heavier Line And Backs

The Morehead Eagles who play Lawrence Tech, Detroit, Saturday afternoon in the second game of the season are not expected to win so easily over their northern opponents as they did over Holtbrook last Saturday, 38, to 0. Although Lawrence Tech lost its first game they have a much heavier line and backfield than the Eagles possess. Their backfield averages fourteen pounds heavier and the line thirteen pounds heavier than that of the Eagles. A tackle, end and guard each weigh 210 pounds and the center 200. Lawrence Tech was added to the injured list Tuesday when he dislocated a shoulder. Robertson has a dislocated elbow. Coach Johnson expressed doubt whether Carter Reynolds would be able to play Saturday. Fair has also been on the injured list with a hurt back. Lawrence Tech is very likely to get into the game. The Lawrence Tech team is reported to be good on end running and passing. A Tech halfback who is not on the starting lineup but was reported as playing last Saturday is No. 47, who kicks and punts. Dr. Miller Talks To Forty Fathers, Sons

Banquet Was Held At Christian Church Tuesday Evening

Dr. Frank B. Miller, speaking at a fathers and sons banquet at the Christian church Tuesday evening expressed a belief in the need for better relationship between fathers and sons. In this day of unprecedented strains resulting from speeded up living and in the face of war scares, fathers should take their sons into greater confidences, he said. There is much need for this in the form of character education. Fathers should be in the form of the boy's heart. This will be done, he said, not by commands to the youth to do it but by the more profound cry, "I'll do it together." Following Dr. Miller's speech the group joined in games and singing. There were forty fathers and sons present.

Business Showing Marked Improvement

With the opening of schools and the approach of cold, crisp fall days, business in Morehead is showing marked improvement and merchants generally feel much encouraged.

Morehead has a good trading area with a large population but how and will buy here when properly invited and approached.

These people who live in the outlying parts of the county and in the neighboring counties are anxious to trade here, because Morehead is their logical shopping point.

These people who live in the outlying parts of the county and in the neighboring counties are anxious to trade here, because Morehead is their logical shopping point, but before making a special trip to Morehead they will want to know what our merchants have to offer of interest to them.

History Before Your Eyes This is a historical week. The future course of nations and possibly civilization may go off on a new and uncharted course.

Forging To The Front The installation of the Smith-Hughes agriculture department in the Morehead public schools this year was undoubtedly a forward step in local education.

During the state fair at Louisville three high school boys from the Morehead agriculture department and their instructor, Carl Wade, took part in the judging contest for the first time.

Placing in the upper twelve per cent of the ninety teams on their first trip to the fair speaks well of the instructor, Carl Wade, and the members of the team.

Same Old Story? Yes And No Fall is here. It's here again! It's coming around quite regularly.

Perhaps that's because we've had a cold snap a bit earlier than usual and the leaves are beginning to turn brown.

Maybe we do feel different. Schoolbook story poems always said fall was a time of mellowness. We seem to be more lazy. We like to sleep later in the mornings. But when we do get up the air smells better. It really is crisp and vitalizing like a good rub-down after a cold bath.

A Warning To Girls Who Go To Cities

Thousands of girls from the agricultural areas and the smaller towns are marching upon the big cities of the United States, looking for jobs in their effort to become self-supporting.

The trek of girls into the larger cities has been going on for some years. Unfortunately, many of them go to the cities without having any position and without adequate money to support themselves.

Recently, in the Good Housekeeping magazine, Sarah Comstock analyzed the problems working girls in six cities. She concluded that a majority of the girls, who go to the cities, have never directed their own lives.

Among the thousands of girls who have gone to the larger cities have been some from Rowan county. There may be others who are now contemplating such an expedition.

While we are in thorough sympathy with the girl who has determined to make herself independent in an economic sense and accord her the same liberty to do so that society offers boys, sensible girls will easily recognize that it is a strange city, facing immense difficulties, that she proposes to enter.

Kentucky-Rich In Material Assets

Kentucky is rich in many ways if we only knew it. We have many advantages in climate, transportation, agriculture, timber, minerals and taxation compared with other states.

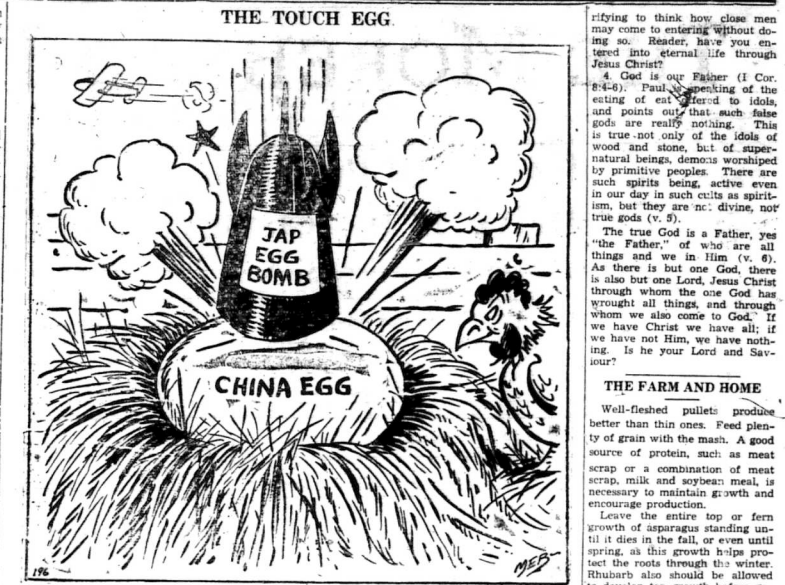

Blue Grass, frequently referred to as the "Blue Grass" state, entered the Union in 1792. It is contended by some that La Salle was the first to discover Kentucky in 1660 when he passed down the Ohio River.

Ranking 36th in size with a total area of 40,538 square miles, of which 417 square miles are water area, Kentucky ranks 15 in population, which amounted to an estimated 2,906,000 in 1937.

Conserving Coal And Oil In conserving the soil, which is correct, why not conserve the non reproductive coal and oil? The soil can be rebuilt in the future as needed to be, but once the coal is gone there can be no reproduction.

Alcohol, made from farm products can in part take the place of gasoline. Such use would help the farmers by furnishing a market for damaged crops of corn, potatoes and other farm products.

Punctuate this sentence to make sense: "What is was, what was is." Courage is sometimes tested by silence and character by forbearance.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON... LESSON FOR OCTOBER 2

THE ONE TRUE GOD LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:2, 17; Isaiah 48:22; Mark: 12:28-34; 1 Corinthians 8:4-6. GOLDEN TEXT—And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might...

Today we will begin a series of studies which should be of unusual value, a consideration of the Ten Commandments in the light of the teachings of Jesus and related New Testament passages.

I. The True God—(Exod. 20:2-3). Jehovah means "I will be what I will be," or "I am that I am" (Exod. 31:4).

There are many things concerning which we do not speak dogmatically. There are even Christian doctrines about which spiritual and earnest men may come to differ.

II. The Truth Explained. 1. God is our Deliverer. (Exod. 20:2). He who brought Israel out of the bondage of Egypt is the one, and the only one, who can deliver men from the bondage of sin.

It was this verse that led one of the world's greatest preachers, Charles Haddon Spurgeon, to accept Christ as his Saviour when he was just a humble lad.

ers, Charles Haddon Spurgeon, to accept Christ as his Saviour when he was just a humble lad. Perhaps some boy or girl who reads these lines may do likewise and become a great instrument in God's hands—Teacher, perhaps the Spurgeon of the next generation will be in your class today.

STYLES TURN BACK TO 18TH CENTURY

Miss Iris B. Davenport, clothing specialist for the Kentucky College of Agriculture, points out in a circular on fall styles that things fashionable in the 18th century are high style for 1938-39. Colors are rich and yet muted pastel shades, as do ornaments and hair dress not seen for many a day.

European celebrations, such as that commemorating the 300th anniversary of the birth of Louis XIV of France, and even foreign court styles in every community in the United States, Miss Davenport believes. The birthday celebration and the movie "Marie Antoinette" are responsible for tiny waists, emphasis on sleeves, the featuring of bows, buttons, braid and embroidery as trimmings, and for use to another richer fabrics. The distinct Chinese influence often seen has come from interest in the Orient at the present time.

Miss Davenport calls attention to the high hair dress, and to long sleeves. The trend is toward narrow shoulders, she says, though sleeves are full at the top. The shoulder arrangement and the fullness of blouses effects all serve to accent the tiny waists that American women have not sought for some time.

MAKE LATE TURNIPS INTO SAUER RUBEN

Preserving turnips in a way like sauerkraut is described in United States department of agriculture circular No. 389. The product is called "Sauer Ruben." Preserved in this manner, turnips add variety to the daily winter fare, just as sauerkraut does. The characteristic turnip flavor is changed somewhat and much of the strong odor is gone.

Full turnips make the best sauer ruben. For finest flavor and texture select medium-sized turnips, those ranging from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 inches in diameter. Smaller ones lack flavor and larger ones are inclined to be woody and tough. Those with the highest sugar content give best results.

Wash and shred the turnips, using a shredder if possible. Do not peel. A little less salt is needed for sauer ruben than for sauerkraut—about 3 1/2 ounces of salt to each ten pounds of shredded turnip. Mix thoroughly in enamel pans and then put into open stone jars until the desired acidity is reached. At this point the jars are sealed with cork and glass jars the lids are left loose to allow the gas released by fermentation to escape. Once each 2 1/2 hours the lids are removed, the shreds pushed down into jars by means of a wooden spoon of blunt wooden stick, any overflowed juice returned to the jars, and the lids replaced. Gas ceases to be given off in about four days, after which time the jars are sealed tight and stored at room temperature. The fermentation period is about 12 to 14 days and the product is then ready for use.

Organize Health Club. The third and fourth grade rooms have organized a health club. They gave the club the name of "Wide-Awake Health Club." The following officers have been elected: Adron Armstrong, president; M. T. Myers, vice-president; Lucille Hamilton, secretary and treasurer. One section of the blackboard belongs to the club. On this is kept individual health charts. They are checked each morning by the health officer, Kenneth Postum. The third grade is working on a project called "Jack and the Bean Stalk." The fourth grade is making a cotton field scene for a floor project in geography.

LITTLE BRUSHY Mrs. John Caudill

The P-T. A. had a meeting at the Little Brushy school house September 22, to make definite plans for the fair and start their work. One article has been finished which will be entered in the fair and afterwards sold for the benefit of the organization. A Dutch girl quilt has been started. When finished it will be sold and the proceeds will be put in the treasury.

P-T. A. officers are: Mrs. Baumgardner, president; Mrs. Cooper Black, vice-president; and Mrs. Dave Eppner, secretary and treasurer. The meeting was called to order and was carried on very successfully.

Serve foods at the evening meal which are easily digested, such as creamed soups, creamed or buttered vegetables, souffles and scalloped vegetables, fruit or vegetable salads, eggs, cottage cheese and simple desserts. Unusual red clover growth in Spencer county has encouraged farmers to thresh a seed crop.

Rowan County Fair Projects Prepared By Farmers Pupils

Installation of Heating Plant To Be Completed Soon

Miss Maze and the first and second grade children enjoy working in their room in the new school building. They have plenty of light and space. They have completed a frieze and two peep shows for the fair. They have had only one absence during the three weeks of school. There were seven mothers visiting in this room last week.

The project supervised by Mr. Pelfrey is Medieval History. The homes are the exact duplicate of those in the days of manors, serfs and lords. The house and walls are made of clay mixture of salt and flour to prevent the cracking of the clay. A stage couch is made of three different articles. The sides are made of a chunk of box, the springs are made out of a boot hanger, the top is a tin can, the harness of bus tape binding. The Indians and drivers are made of pipe cleaners and yarn. The horses are made of clay. Other projects are geography and biological booklets.

Mr. Pelfrey's room has a good record of only one-half day's absence.

The following officers have been elected: Adron Armstrong, president; M. T. Myers, vice-president; Lucille Hamilton, secretary and treasurer. One section of the blackboard belongs to the club. On this is kept individual health charts. They are checked each morning by the health officer, Kenneth Postum. The third grade is working on a project called "Jack and the Bean Stalk." The fourth grade is making a cotton field scene for a floor project in geography.

Kathleen Calvert is absent from school on account of poison.

The pie supper sponsored was a huge success. Thanks to the support given it by the C. and O. Camp Cars. The supper took in better than $58.00 clearing $33.00. The school and P-T. A. wish to take this opportunity to thank those who made the event a success.

The steps and landing to the front and side doors of the new school building were poured last week, and the side entrance was in use the first of the week. The excavating for the heating plant room is just about completed and we are looking forward to completion of the heating and installation of a plant within the next few days.

The seventh grade English class is having a study contest. The class is divided into two groups. The captains are Alfred Peed and Clarence Myers, Jr. A question is written by the teacher and answered by the pupils. Each correct answer counts one point for the pupil answering it. The contest will continue for a six weeks period. Then the losers will treat the winners. Mrs. Maze is also having the sixth grade English class to write stories and poems.

The high school boys and girls have been putting money into their class treasury by a candy and pencil sale. This money may be used by the high school pupils in financing their part of the Halloween Carnival.

EXPERIMENT STATION BULLETIN STRESSING CROP-STOCK BALANCE

The importance of a balance between crop production and livestock raising is stressed in a Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station bulletin dealing with farming in the Bluegrass region of the state. The proper fitting together of crops and livestock is necessary to provide steady labor for men and teams and also to produce the largest continuous income, it is pointed out.

The long rotation system practiced in growing burley tobacco involves relatively large acreages of grass, and livestock is necessary for the economical use of pasture. Hence, the emphasis placed on livestock, and the factors to be considered in determining the numbers and kind of stock to be raised on a farm.

This 96-page bulletin presents a mass of information about Blue-grass farming, including the production of tobacco, grain, hay and pasture, and all kinds of livestock. Farms studied were located at Fayette, Bourbon, Clark, Woodford, Jessamine, Scott and Harrison counties. Periods covered extended from 1921 to 1929 and from 1931 to 1933.

The purpose of the study was to determine the physical requirements and production obtained for each farm enterprise. In addition, the costs and results were ascertained for each crop and livestock enterprise and for the farm as a whole.

The authors are W. L. Rouse and Geo. B. Byers of the department of farm economics.
