

Circuit Court March Docket Fairly Heavy

Three Murder Cases Scheduled For Trial At March Term

The March term of the Rowan County Circuit Court will open on Monday, March 1, with a fairly heavy felony docket, including three murder cases. Other cases include cutting and wounding, shooting and wounding, handing together, assault with a deadly weapon, and chicken stealing.

The cases mentioned below are a few of the more important cases that are expected to come up for trial at the March term. This is by no means a complete docket of the cases likely to come to trial, as many of the cases of lesser importance have not been mentioned.

The case of the Commonwealth against Elmer Eden, charged with the killing of a man by the name of Johnson is set down for the fourth day of the term. The killing grew out of an argument during a game of cards, according to reports.

The case of the Commonwealth against Jerry Dye, who is expected to be charged with the killing of J. Bailey, will probably be set for trial at this term. The case must first go to the Grand Jury for indictment. This will probably be one of the first cases to be acted on by the Grand Jury which will give the court plenty of time to bring it to trial at this term.

The case of Bessie Day, charged with the killing of Oscar Williams nearly two years ago, is again on the docket. Mrs. Day already had had three trials, each of them resulting in a hung jury. With the three trials of the past, it is doubtful that a jury could be obtained in this county, if the case is brought up again.

Other cases on the docket are: Orville Fouch, charged with shooting Clarence Williams, second day of term.

William Howard Jones, Paul Conley and Roscoe Stamper, charged with chicken stealing, second day.

Homier Trent, charged with cutting and wounding, second day.

John Adkins, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, second day.

William Noble charged with child desertion, second day.

Harley Pickett, charged with child desertion, third day.

Boone Lands charged with shooting and wounding Dave Christian, third day.

Zill Brown charged with cutting and wounding Homer Conley, third day.

TAXES BECOME DUE AFTER MARCH FIRST

Rowan county taxes are being well paid up, according to Mort May, sheriff of Rowan county. Taxes will become delinquent on March 1, said Mr. May and unless they are paid before midnight, February 28, the penalty and interest will go on.

The sheriff's office is ready to take tax payments at any time and someone will be in the office every day and all day to take care of those who wish to meet them. Remember the penalty will go on March 1.

Gov. Chandler In Morehead

Stops Off For An Hour And Takes Train On To Ashland

Governor A. B. Chandler paid a surprise visit to Morehead Saturday evening, where he took the train to Ashland and the Eastern Kentucky flood area. Governor Chandler spent about an hour in Morehead, where he paid short visits to Senator Clarence C. Nickell, at his apartment in Thompson Hall, and spent a few minutes at the home of Mrs. Ellen Wilson, who is ill at this time.

The Governor has spent the past two weeks visiting various cities and towns along the Ohio River which were in the flood area. He said it was absolutely impossible to picture adequately the havoc and destruction in that area, nor is it possible to even approximately estimate the damage done.

When the Governor was in Paducah last Thursday, he said he still had to wade with hip boots through the down town business section and in many parts of the residence section they were still using boats to get around.

After spending Sunday in the Ashland section, Governor Chandler and his party left Sunday for Washington, where he expected to remain, taking up various flood problems with Washington authorities. Among the most important moves to be accomplished, he hoped to obtain the $2,500,000 federal grant which will permit the building and remodeling of the entire prison system in Kentucky.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES AT KANSAS HOME

Mrs. W. R. Baker of Farmers received word last week of the death of her brother, Marion Padgett, of Kansas. Mr. Padgett was killed in the mines while working. He will be remembered by many in this county as he resided here before moving to Kansas several years ago. He was 54 years old.

In Memoriam

Judge A. W. Young

Two years ago today, Morehead, Rowan county and Kentucky suffered a great loss, perhaps one of the greatest losses this section of the Commonwealth has ever sustained.

It was two years ago today, February 16, that Judge A. W. Young died at a hospital in Morehead, following an illness of several months.

The Rowan County News, who counted Judge A. W. Young one of the best friends we have ever had, in common with the rest of the citizens of Morehead and Rowan County, we pause a moment in our work to give to East Kentucky's great man the meed of homage that is so justly his due.

PRES. H. A. BABB TO NEW ORLEANS MEETING

President and Mrs. H. A. Babb are leaving this (Thursday) morning for New Orleans where they will remain for the next week. President Babb is attending the meeting of the American Association of Teachers Colleges which are being held in New Orleans on Friday and Saturday of this week, and the meetings of the Department of Superintendents of the National Education Association which opens in the same city Sunday and remain in session until next Thursday.

COUNTY AGENT REPORTS ON WORK

Report Discloses Activities Of Soil Conservation In County

The 1936 Soil Conservation Program of Rowan County has been completed and all applications for payments have been filed with the exception of twelve that have been delayed. Payments have been received by 131 farmers and their tenants for participation on 112 farms. About 315 applications have been filed that have not yet been paid. Payment on these will be received within a few weeks. Payments received on the 112 farms amounted to $5000.00. A total of 576 worksheets were prepared for the 1936 program and filed at the county office. About 140 of those farms did not qualify for payment because of having planted too large an acreage of soil depleting crops or because of not planting any soil conserving crops, such as grasses, clovers, etc.

Interesting data taken from a summary of supervisors reports, on the 596 farm that were supervised is given below.

Total land in these farms 71,000 acres.
 Total non-crop land 60,000 acres

HALDEMAN SCHOOL IS RE-OPENED AFTER SIEGE

After a two weeks vacation forced by the epidemic of influenza that seized the pupils the Haldeman school reopened on Monday of this week. At the time the school closed over 120 pupils of that institution were absent on account of the flu, and it was thought necessary to close the school to prevent its further spread.

Cecil Brown Is Found Dead

Had Wandered From Home After Serious Illness From Influenza

The body of Cecil Brown, living near Ordinary, Ky., was found Saturday morning at the foot of a 150 foot cliff, following his disappearance from his home Wednesday night. Mr. Brown, who was 30 years old, had been suffering from an attack of flu, and had been delirious for several days. The family had been closely watching him, but he escaped observation last Wednesday and wandered away. His brother, John Brown, instituted a search for him, but failed to find him and the entire neighborhood was aroused. Finally after two days' search, the body was found lying at the foot of the cliff. It was not known whether in his wanderings he had fallen over the cliff accidentally, or whether he had sat down to rest and perished of the cold.

Cecil Brown was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Brown of Ordinary, Ky. He was a brother of Curt Brown, a former student in Morehead State Teachers College, and a nephew of John Adams, local editor of this paper. He is survived by his parents and by two brothers and one sister.

Funeral services were held Saturday at the home.

Soldier Citizens Give Clothes To Red Cross

Collect Truck Load Of Goods For Victims Of Great Flood

In writing of the activities of the Red Cross last week, the News inadvertently omitted mention of a very considerable contribution of clothing made by the citizens of Morehead to the local Red Cross.

On Tuesday following the first announcement of the flood, the citizens of Morehead called the Red Cross in Morehead to notify them that they had collected a large quantity of clothing which they wished to turn over to the local organization for distribution. The CCC

Morehead Eagles Capture Berth In S. I. A. A. Tournament By Win Over Transylvania Monday

Will Play In Tourney To Be Held At Bowling Green After K. I. A. C. Go

Morehead State Teachers College Eagles are certain of an invitation to take part in the S. I. A. A. tournament to be held in Bowling Green, Kentucky. Their win over Union put them in a top position to guarantee the invitation. While there is still a faint possibility that the Eagles may be pushed off the top of the heap in the K. I. A. C. standings, the worst they could possibly do would be to rate second, which still gives them the bid to the tournament.

However, there is comparatively little probability that they will lose the lead. They have only one game to play to complete their season, playing Wesleyan at Winchester Saturday night. Wesleyan is not to be discounted, though, as the Eagles have already taken their measure over this season. They are a dangerous opponent and can

Morehead High To Be Hosts To District Tourney

Haldeman, Breck, Kings, Sandy Hook Will Be In Play

The district basketball tournament to be held March 5 and 6 at the Morehead High School gymnasium under the auspices of the Morehead High School looks to be a much better and more interesting bout than was at first anticipated, with the junior high tournament being held in connection. With only four teams listed for tournament play here last Sunday, Morehead plan whereby the junior teams of the four schools will also hold a tournament with awards as usual. This will provide three full sessions for the tournament with interest centering in the final.

In the drawing for tournament play held last Friday, Morehead Vikings drew Sandy Hook while Haldeman will meet Breckridge High School. In the nature of a consolation game, Morehead drew Sandy Hook's juniors while Breck juniors will again meet Haldeman's youngsters.

Play will begin Friday afternoon. Breckridge Juniors will meet the little team of Haldeman at 2:30 p. m. Following that round, Morehead Senior High will meet Sandy Hook's big fellows, while Breckridge seniors will tussle with Haldeman. Winners of the two sessions will meet in the finals Saturday night.

Dopsters are picking the teams of both local schools to be in the finals Saturday night. Morehead Vikings have already met and defeated Sandy Hook twice by lopsided scores, while Breckridge tops over Haldeman. The two local teams if they win their skirmishes Friday will battle it out in the finals Saturday night for the championship of the district. Both finalists will go to the regional at the Morehead State Teachers College the following week.

BRECK LOSES TO MT. STERLING IN SLOW GAME

In a game with no outstanding features, Mt. Sterling defeated Breckridge Training School at Mt. Sterling Tuesday night. In spite of the fact that the game was same so far as features was concerned, both teams played consistent ball, and furnished a number of thrills to the fans. The score at the final whistle blew was Mt. Sterling 25, Breck 25. In a preliminary contest the Breckridge Juniors took the Mt. Sterling Juniors into camp by the score of 16-12.

Eagles Swamp Transylvania In Encounter Here Monday To Hold K. I. A. C. Conference Lead

Cash In On Ten Out Of Twelve Free Throws As Carter Stars

Led by a rejuvenated pace-setting Lawrence Carter, the veteran of many years, the Eagles had a big night Monday night when they soundly trounced the Pioneers of Transylvania here. Carter tossed in eighteen points for the Eagles, his biggest night of the season, and apparently the only reason he did not make it more was that he was pulled in the final ten minutes of the game. Every Eagle on the squad had his fling at the basket to make the total for the evening 42 points, while the Pioneers were garnering 24 for the night.

Transylvania, in spite of the fact that they have won but one game this season is no set-up, when Fitzpatrick is leading the way. Fitz is good material for anybody's team and after he had retired Cassidy to the side line, Arntzen was put on him to slow him down. The game for the first three quarters was interesting, although the Eagles took the lead in the early minutes and refused to relinquish it at any time. Arntzen opened the game with two free tosses. Fitzpatrick evened it at two all with a two pointer. The Eagles lifted the ante to 8 points and the Pioneers came back to lift their score to six. From that point on it was the Eagles game. The half ended with the score Eagles 22, Pioneers, 12.

Entering the second half the Eagles held the visitors stationary, while they proceeded to pile up their advantage. The score mounted, with Carter tossing them in from every angle. Apparently he had just found his batting eye and was in real form.

Arntzen playing the greater part of the game out of position, put up a great exhibition of floor work in guarding the fastest man on the game. Arntzen started for the Eagles and turned in a great exhibition. During the final minutes of the game, the crowd was treated to a upset almost any body's cart. On the other hand Eastern and Western battle it out Friday night at Richmond. Eastern by winning could come close to tying the Eagles providing the Eagles lost 7. They would then have 9 wins and three losses each. Western is dotted to win over Eastern, but the Easterners have a fashion of upsetting the hope as they did last Friday night to the sorrow of Morehead.

It will be a close finish, whoever wins, but the very worst Morehead could do, and we have no idea they are going to do their worst, would be to take second position.

As things look now, the Eagles will retain their lead. They should beat Wesleyan at Winchester Saturday, judged by all the dope. They have already measured them and should be able to repeat.

At any rate the Eagles will play at Richmond in the K. I. A. C. tournament next week and will then go to Bowling Green for the big tournament of the year, the S. I. A. A.

AMERICAN LEGION FIGHTS FOR SAFETY

The American Commission of the American Legion, long active in the cause of traffic safety, has released 20 talking-slide-films dealing with that vital subject. Entitled Inertia and The Other Fellow, they are an important contribution to promoting wider understanding of the cure of the traffic accident problem.

Inertia is an interesting and unusual presentation of why it is necessary to exercise care at the wheel of a motor car. It describes the physical laws of motion and how we call the automobile that we consistently tend to undervalue the force it harbors.

"The second film, The Other Fellow, is a dramatic treatment of community responsibility for traffic accidents. Not the other fellow, alone, but all of us are responsible for the mounting toll of death and injury because of failure to discharge responsibilities of enforcement, engineering, education, self-discipline. The film describes how a number of American cities are coping effectively with their traffic problems, and shows that any community, with intelligence and determination, can do the same thing.

The films were made possible by the financial support of trade groups within the automobile industry, and produced with the cooperation of the National Bureau of Casualties and Surly Underwriters. Six hundred copies of the productions are being distributed country-wide through state departments of the American Legion. The Legion is showing the films to its members and will arrange showing for other interested groups in the community.

It is peculiarly fitting that the great organization which grew out of a carnage should now be engaged actively in a war the primary purpose of which is to save lives.

INVESTMENT PLUS SOCIAL SECURITY

Figures released by the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau show that the remarkable improvement in life insurance purchasing made during depression years is generally being maintained.

Sales for 1936 were very slightly under those for 1935. And in 19 states increases were registered.

This is the result of the average citizen's conviction—largely established by the bitter experience of bad times—that life insurance represents one of the safest possible forms of investment, as well as protection and social security for himself and family.

Lawrence Tibbett Eastern Tops At Cozy Theatre Eagles 40-30

Lawrence Tibbett, gloriously singing three new songs headed for the nations hit list, brilliantly cast against a background of riotous comedy produced by Gregory Ratoff and Arthur Treacher and a rough-house romance with Wendy Barrie, will be at the Cozy Theatre Friday and Saturday Feb. 19 and 20, in his newest and greatest musical-comedy romance, Your Spite. Twentieth Century Fox triumph.

The new songs, written by Broadway rhythm kings, Arthur Schwartz and Howard Dietz, give a lift and a swing to the picture that is new to the screen. Under Your Spite My Little Mule Wagon and Amigo are titles certain to grace every orchestra's request list.

In a role closely paralleling real life, the world famous baritone is cast as a popular singer, kept so busy by his vigorous manager, Gregory Ratoff, that his every moment is filled with a continual round of engagements, endorsements and publicity stunts.

Manager Ratoff gets away with murder (of the English language) but finally his protegee has enough and flees out West to resume his former occupation as a cowboy. Accompanying Tibbett to the wide open spaces is Arthur Treacher widely comic as a coldly formal English man-servant who loses his nerve on a Western reservation and turns cowboy. Pursuing Tibbett to the wide open spaces is Wendy Barrie, as a coldly formal society girl who loses her heart on a mountain top and turns romantic.

College Has 3 Big Features

The pulsating romance of a man and woman from two warring worlds who risked their lives for love amid intrigue and bloodshed provides the theme of "Beloved Enemy", a thrilling new screen drama which stars Merle Oberon and Brian Aherne.

Merle Oberon has her greatest role to date as Lady Helen Drummond, the lovely English girl who accompanies her father Lord Athleigh, an emissary of Parliament.

The two fall madly in love and the story depicts how the girl is torn between her duty to her country and her devotion to this handsome, hunted fellow. She risks her life to intercede for the man she loves and the cause she is sworn to oppose.

There will be an excellent supporting cast and an interesting series of short subjects.

"They Wanted to Marry" comes to the College Sunday, Feb. 21. It is a lively comedy depicting the experiences of a newspaper photographer who is trying to get pictures of a wealthy gentleman.

For Tuesday, Feb. 23 the feature is Devils playground, Richard Dix, Chester Morris and Dolores Del Rio take parts in an action drama of the friendship between two deep-sea divers. It tells how a heartless woman of the gold-digger type marries a man and by cheating on him when his friend brings a bitter enmity between the two.

Maroons At Best Form Take Overtime Period To Win Game

Eastern State Teachers College provided another upset for the Eagles last Friday night at Richmond, but it took them an overtime period to do it, when they eked out a win over the local team 40-38. The Eagles were clearly off form, missing ample shots and appearing to have started the game on the floor. It proved to be one of the most exciting encounters the Eagles have offered this season, the lead changing so rapidly that it was hard to follow. The Eagles were in the first half took an advantage of 83, which they held for minutes only. The Maroons tossed in a few to tie and go ahead taking a five point lead that looked like a mile at the end of the first half.

Coming back a rally, headed by Hinkle which put them out in front. The Eagles tied it up at 24, and they took the lead to be tied again. The Maroons boosted their score to 33 and the Eagles trailed until the last few minutes when they tossed in enough to go to the front 34-33, with seconds to go. Carter, with three personals left the game, and Hinkle tossed in the tying point as the whistle blew, forcing the game into an overtime.

Eastern opened the scoring and fouled and tossed in one to bring the Eagles to 35. The Eagles followed their two pointer to bring their total to 37, but the Maroons were then resting on the 39 spot. Seconds later they cashed in on another free one to make it forty. The Eagles also obtained a gratis throw and cashed to bring their total to 38. The whistle blew and the Maroons had won.

The Eagles, while appearing to be in the best they have become slightly off form, put up a stubborn what underestimated Eastern, who, according to those who have followed the team, playing the best game of the season.

Outstanding on the Eagles team was Stanley Arzen who accounted for 20 of the 38 points made by the Eagles. Hinkle for Eastern tossed in 16.

Hingles Beat Union

Saturday night the Eagles continued their road trip to Barbourville, Ky., where they met Union College in a return game. The Eagles won handily 46-40, although the game was one of the hardest of the season. Union always has a good team and play their best at home.

Vikings Win Over Raceland, Haldeman

Take Raceland Encounter By 34-17. Haldeman By 27-16 Count

The Vikings and Kinglets met the Haldeman teams at Haldeman in the first game the two teams have played this season, last Friday night. The Kinglets, who have gone through the season without a defeat, took the Junior team from Haldeman in line, by a score of 20 to 8.

The Vikings won, doubling the score of the Haldeman boys, 34-17. Last week the Vikings obtained revenge for the disputed win of Raceland at Raceland earlier in the season, when they won from McNabb's team 27 to 15, on the local court. The Vikings, in the outstanding feature of the evening met Ceredo-Kenova Juniors. Ceredo-Kenova was rated high, having, like the little Kings enjoyed an undefeated season up to the game against Morehead. When two undefeated teams meet, something has to give way, and the Kinglets determined that it had to be somebody else. It was they won 32 to 16, and hold undisputed sway in their class.

Probably the outstanding feature of the game was the manner in which the Eagles capitalized on their free throws. While this ball game was not won on free throws, it might well have been. The Eagles out of 12 free throws cashed in on 10.

He paused, breaking the passion engendered by his hot words, and the heat went out of him before he spoke.

"I ought not to have done that. I reckon it just kind of did itself, but I meant my words."

He stepped down from the porch and walked with long fast strides across the yard to the paling fence where his mule was tied. He mounted in one rhythmic leap, and rode down the creek out of sight while Cynthia stood with her stupefaction by the kitchen door whither she had retreated. Then she felt weak in an unfamiliar world, and she ran into the weaving-room and threw herself upon a pile of raw wool and for the second time in the same day she wept.

"Why did he have to come today? When Sparrel came in late from the trip to town he found Cynthia waiting his supper as Julia had always done. He also observed that she looked weary and sad and that her eyes were red. He talked more than usual to her, complimenting her cooking, telling her of the journey, of Jesse's room. Then he went to his desk by the big fireplace, and took from his pocket a large envelope and began to study it.

Reubens father sent the deeds and the calculations he said. Cynthia had often in these months contrasted her father with Shellenberger. She never got it formulated into a neat and satisfactory proposition that could be tied up in a packet and laid away. It was elusive as human personality and subtle as the incalculable response of pleasure or distaste to another human being. Sparrel, honest in himself and generous in assuming the same qualities in other people, inspired instantly a sense of security and faith in the rightness of things: like the jutting Pinnacle on his place. Shellenberger, with all his good speech and manners, left an impression uncertainty and suggested that things which should be assumed as ordered and fixed were precarious and sinister; like a pair of fox eyes discovered focused upon you in a clump of bushes.

So it was with a quickened sense that she heard Sparrel saying to Shellenberger that the surveys had got the land mapped and calculated and the deeds made out ready to sign.

So they'll all done, are they? That's good."

All complete they are, except the place where the terms of sale are put down, its left blank for us to fill in.

All right. How much was there of it?

They figured the whole place has six thousand two hundred and ten acres, more or less.

How much in that part, yet?

I haven't looked at that part yet, Sparrel said.

Well, you give me the papers and I'll go over them today and will sign them up.

Sparrel handed him the documents. In the evening after supper he sat with Sparrel in the big kitchen by the smoldering logs.

They did a good piece of work, and clear and all there. He figures there are four thousand two hundred and fifty-one acres in the strip I bought. Shellenberger said. I calculated there be around four thousand acres more or less.

Sparrel said. It takes a sight of ground to fill up the space between Cannon, Wolfpen Ridge, and Big Sandy, just on a surveyors level measurement, and I reckon it a about doubles if you measured the ground itself.

You couldn't measure that way, and anyway the trees I am buying are perpendicular and you can't have any more of them on a hillside than in a flat if as many.

Yes, that's what Reuben Warren tried to explain. I don't see it, but it is a way of selling and all its right.

Warren has let I think a space for writing in the contract, so I suppose we might as well begin to talk details of settlement, Shellenberger said.

Yes, Sparrel said.

Four thousand two hundred and fifty-one acres, at five dollars an acre would be, five ones are twenty-five, five, five lives are twenty-five and fifty two dollars, I make it.

Twenty-one thousand two hundred and fifty-five dollars, I make it

So it is. Twenty-one thousand two hundred and fifty-five dollars but its about four thousand too much. The surveyors bill is five hundred and thirty dollars.

Sparrel offered no comment.

Now about the terms of the contract, Shellenberger said. On sales like this it is customary to pay so much down and agree on a way of carrying the balance. I take it that is all right with you?

I reckon that's all right, Sparrel said.

Suppose then that we agree on this: I'll arrange to pay you, say, forty-five hundred dollars now, twenty-five hundred about the first of the year, and the balance when I get the logs down the river to the mills?

I reckon if that's the way you do in big deals like this, it will be all right. We'll just write in that agreement, Sparrel said.

I'll have to go down the river in a few days, Shellenberger said, and if we could have it witnessed and notated, and I'll draw up the amount of pay Warren while I'm down there.

Cynthia had finished her work, and she stole quietly out of the kitchen and into Julia's room and sat down in Julia's chair by the window to look down the hollow in the dark as Julia had so often done thinking. So the sale ends and all the months since April have gone by and the menfolk write what they're supposed to write to make it on paper. They're always putting things down on paper as if that made it any difference, and they forget about what it really is.

And mother lies there on the shelf with Saul and Barton and the rest where the stars are dim to night, and across the ridge are all the men for cutting down the trees to float away when spring comes. The way Reuben floated away that morning, Pears like Wolfpen has just become a place for a body to float away from and not live in. Reuben and Jesse and Mother and the land and way now and not miss things so much.

At the end of the week, Sparrel rode with Shellenberger over to town to sign the papers and file them with the county recorder. He brought back word from Jesse. He was proud of his son in the law for he was doing well, his heart was in his work, and he was aglow with his young enthusiasm and there was an inspired look in his eyes.

Tobacco crop in 1936	161 acres
Corn acreage in 1936	5,783 acres
Wheat harvested for grain	208 acres
Sorghum	207 acres
Garden and truck crops	362 acres
Acreage of soil conserving crops planted in 1936	3,608 acres

A summary of payments and possible payments. Soil building payments $6,575.00. Soil conserving payments 11,742.00. Total payments 18,317.00. Soil building allowance unearned 5,650.00. Soil conserving payment unearned 4,000.00 (Est.). If the 3,477 acres of idle land had been planted to soil conserving crops it would have added $3,477.00 to the soil building payment. The unearned payments are approximately $13,000.00. The earned payments are approximately 18,000.00.

The farmers whose farms were supervised could, therefore, have received about $13,000 more than they earned. This is about 40 percent of the total that could have been earned. This situation was due to several factors: (1) The program was started too late in 1936 for some farmers to make necessary changes in their plans. (2) A lack of understanding of the principles of the Conservation program. (3) The shortage of money required for using lime, phosphate and other practices for which they would have been paid. Most of these factors should be overcome for the 1937 program and there is a possibility of a bigger percentage of the farmers participating in the new program which should result in a better understanding of the principles of the conservation program to obtain about twice the amount of payments in 1937.

How to EASE a COLD FOR 15¢

TWO SIMPLE RULES INSTEAD of buying costly medicines to relieve the discomfort of a cold, try the way almost any doctor you ask will approve as the most effective — genuine Bayer Aspirin. It now costs only 15¢ for a dozen tablets, or two full doses for a quarter. The way you use it is to take two Bayer tablets the moment you feel a cold coming on, with a full glass of water. Repeat, necessarily, according to directions in package. If at the same time, keep a glass of water for almost instant relief. Bayer Aspirin acts to fight fever, and the aches and pains of a cold. Relief comes quickly. Ask your druggist for genuine BAYER Aspirin by its full name — not the name "aspirin" alone.
