LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS NEED SUPPORT, SAYS THOMAS

GUARDIANS OF PEACE ALWAYS INCUR DISPLEASURE OF THOSE WHOM THEY MUST ARREST.

The law-abiding, peace-loving people of our land need to be aroused to a situation which exists, which is rapidly growing worse and which is loaded with dangerous possibilities. It is a situation which is of concern to every citizen who desires security and protection under the law.

We are finding an insidious force strongly entrenched in our midst and about us that rises upon little or no provocation to criticize, harass and intimidate our law enforcement officers. From what quarter comes this force that asserts itself openly and boastfully to defeat the law? The attitude of a large part of our citizens toward our law enforcement officers must change.

In the first place, the job of our officers is a hard job, fraught with danger. Only men of courage and venturesome spirit will undertake such a job. The risk is great. While you and I are waiting peacefully about, busy with the affairs of home and business, our officers are working for security and protection in every step we take, we forget that our situation is secure because of the officer who stands between us and those who would trample law under their feet and encroach upon our most sacred rights if they dared to do so. We forget the officers are men who have loved ones that are dear to them and to whom they are dear; but by reason of the service they are performing for you and me, they are thrust into situations which, at the flash of a gun in the hands of a malicious defiler of all that is good in human society, that officer's wife becomes a widow, the children of that officer's home become fatherless with all the sorrow and loss attending the death of a father in any home, whether the one of high or low estate.

If any municipality has an officer unworthy of such respect and appreciation at the hands of its citizenship, he should be removed from office.

Instead of criticizing them, let us make them feel that their services are appreciated—greatly appreciated.

Another situation that is hard for the officer is this. No sooner is he in office than the "gang", those stealthy, surreptitious creatures who wink at the law, who feel that they occupy a place of such importance that their acts are not to come under the scrutiny of the law or the officer and who reflect the impression that they will tolerate no interference—they very quickly call for a show-down at the hands of the new officer and one of two things is inevitable—he must either come over to their side and promise immunity or wage a bitter warfare. Will we good citizens let him wage it single handed? Will we stand by and let a good officer, faithful in the performance of his duty be the object upon which criticism is heaped by those who violate and defy the law? By those who have never been taught the value of law to society? By those who have never come to a realization of the benefits of law and order? We affirm and declare that a situation exists which must be changed or dire consequences will result.

We are hoping that the day will come when the service of an officer will come into its place of proper appreciation at the hands of all our citizens; that such consideration will be given him and those dependent upon him, that in view of the hazardous nature of his work, ample, adequate insurance will be carried at the expense of the municipality to provide for the maintenance of his family should he be taken, should he fall in the performance of his duty. The family of the officer should be amply provided for against such contingency.

Always speak to children respectfully of officers. Instill in the mind of the growing child a high regard for the law and the officers of the law.

If any municipality has an officer unworthy of such respect and appreciation at the hands of its citizenship, he should be removed from office.

DAVIS CONGRATULATES COOLIDGE ON "SWEEPING VICTORY AT POLLS"

Washington, Nov. 5.—John W. Davis congratulated President Coolidge on his election to the Presidency.

"Permit me to congratulate you," Mr. Davis telegraphed, "on your sweeping victory and to express the hope that your administration may by its success inure to the welfare of the country."

President Coolidge sent this reply: "Please accept my thanks for your message and my appreciation of the patriotic sentiments you express."

Mr. Davis in a public statement issued today accepted the outcome of the election "without any vain regret or bitterness" and said it is his honest hope that the "administration of President Coolidge may prove successful and beneficial to the country."

"The results of the election speak for themselves, and the decisive character renders comment or explanation unnecessary. I accept the outcome without any vain regret or bitterness, and it is my earnest hope that the administration of President Coolidge may prove successful and beneficial to the country."

Mrs. Ellen B. Davis, wife of Mr. Davis, telegraphed Mrs. Coolidge a message of congratulation on her "husband's victory." Mrs. Davis said:

LONESOME PINE TRAIL SWITCHED

LYNCH GRABS TITLE BELONGING TO THE BIG SANDY ROUTE.

The following letter explains an event of much interest to Big Sandians and our citizens are urged to write the Highway Commission to rescind the action, which that body no doubt will do when properly advised.

Jenkins, Ky., Nov. 3, 1924. State Highway Commission, Frankfort, Kentucky.

The press recently reports that the State Highway Commission of Kentucky has officially designated the road from Lynch across mountain to Appalachia as "The Lonesome Pine Trail." Kentucky people are believers in pretty sentiment and some of us are even superstitious—believers in happy legends and the folk-lore of olden times. There was once an "up-beat" in the Pine or Cumberland Mountain here called "The Fault"—and now comes another, our unheard-of by your fault.

If I know the people of Big Sandy Valley aright, they are not in the least going to like your taking away from their domain a name pleasing to their ears, one ringing with wholesome sentiment of the struggles and past times of the earlier settlers of the Big Sandy Valley. You must know that Mr. John Fox, Jr., in his book clearly meant the Lonesome Pine Trail to wind through the Pound Gap and on to the "Forks of Elkhorn" then the home of Captain John W. Wright who was beyond question the character "Devil Judd Taylor." That story as applying to this place became so widely known persons come here from all over the country to see the Trail, and the very fact that the name was assigned to a modern highway from Pound Gap down Big Sandy Valley to Ashland will, in my judgment, attract thousands of tourists through this way.

Several years ago prominent citizens of Appalachia and other towns in Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina formed what they called the Lonesome Pine Trail Association for a road from Asheville through Tennessee, Virginia and down Big Sandy Valley in Kentucky, to Ashland, and the name of that association was spontaneously and unanimously given on account of the routing following the Lonesome Pine Trail in Mr. Fox's book.

The designating of this name to the section geologically incorrect, will not only cause the people of Big Sandy Valley to feel they have been mistreated, but will doubtless stand in the way of the success of the Highway Association by that name.

Feeling sure you were unadvised as to the things here set forth and you would not have taken the action you did, I hasten to bring these matters to your attention in the hope that you will gladly rectify the wrong done this section.

Will you please let us hear from you. Very truly yours, M. A. DUNLAP.

PRESIDENT SPEAKS OF BETTER UNDERSTANDING IN MESSAGE

COOLIDGE WILL MAKE SEVERAL CABINET SHIFTS

CHANGES ARE EXPECTED WHEN PRESIDENT TAKES OATH OF OFFICE NEXT MARCH.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Several changes are expected in the administration personnel when President Coolidge takes the oath of office next March.

There have been definite indications that certain officers high in the government desired for various reasons to resign to private life, including some Cabinet members.

About the first break expected in the official family is the resignation of C. Bayne Bishop, secretary of the President. Mr. Slomp has played an important part in the campaign, as well as handling the duties of his office, and he is said to want a rest. It is understood that he is planning a vacation that will keep him in the South for the winter.

Shortly after the Republican national convention last June, Mr. Slomp resigned then, owing to differences with Chairman Butler of the Republican National Committee, but these were not borne out and the secretary remained at his work.

Mr. Coolidge, naturally, will be free to select his own Cabinet for his full term. Those members who desire to leave are expected to communicate their wishes formally to the President. The resignation of Cabinet officers are always in the hands of the President and although these may be formally presented by their resignations, the decision is made upon assuming the office on the death of President Harding, that no resignations be tendered.

Some changes are also expected in various divisions of the executive departments to put into effect plans which the President is understood to feel are necessary, but no wholesale shifting of Government officers is in sight. Such changes as come about will occur largely in the natural course of events.

SAYS COUNTRY IN RELATION OF BETTER UNDERSTANDING WITH REST OF WORLD IN PROCLAIMING THANKS-GIVING DAY.

Washington, Nov. 5.—President Coolidge issued a proclamation today formally proclaiming Thursday, November 27, as Thanksgiving Day. The proclamation urged that thanks be given because the year had been marked by a continuation of peace, whereby "our country has entered into a relationship of better understanding with all the other nations of the earth," and because at home "we have continually had an improving state of health," with industrial production large and harvests bountiful. It follows:

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.—

WE approach that season of the year when it has been the custom for the American people to give thanks for the bounty of Providence, through the generosity of nature, has visited upon them. It is altogether a good time for the American people to give thanks for the bounty of Providence, through the generosity of nature, has visited upon them. It is altogether a good time for the American people to give thanks for the bounty of Providence, through the generosity of nature, has visited upon them.

The year has been marked by a continuation of peace whereby our country has entered into a relationship of better understanding with all the other nations of the earth. We have been revealed to us by which we could perform very great service through the giving of friendly counsel, through the extension of financial assistance, and through the exercise of a spirit of neighborly kindness to less favored peoples. We should give thanks for the power which has been given to our country, with which we have been able to render these services to the rest of mankind.

We have continually had an improving state of the public health. The production of our industries has been large and our harvests have been abundant. We have been remarkably free from disorder and remarkably successful in all our pursuits which flourish during a state of domestic peace. An abundant prosperity has overspread the land. We shall do well to accept all these favors and bounties with a becoming humility, and dedicate them to the service of the righteous cause of the world.

As the nation has prospered let all the people show that they are worthy to prosper, by rededicating America to the service of God and man. Therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States of America, hereby proclaim and fix Thursday, the twenty-seventh day of November, as a day for national thanksgiving, to be observed in such a manner as to best express the gratitude that the people gather in places of worship, and at the family altars, and offer up their thanks for the goodness which has been visited upon them in such a measure as to best express their gratitude, and to best express their gratitude, and to best express their gratitude.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the United States.

Done at the City of Washington, this fifth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and twenty-four, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and forty-ninth.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

By the President, CHARLES E. HUGHES, Secretary of State.

COOLIDGE GIVES SIMPLE THANKS FOR ELECTION

SAYS OVERWHELMING VOTE IS ACT OF DIVINE PROVIDENCE; PLEDGES SELF TO SERVE THE PEOPLE.

Washington, Nov. 5.—President Coolidge, having received a vote of confidence from the American voter, today expressed his "simple thanks" as one of his first acts after his election was assured.

"It does not seem possible to me," Mr. Coolidge said in a statement which he read to the newspaper men, "to make an adequate expression concerning the Presidency of the United States. No other honor equals it; no other responsibility approaches it. When it is conferred by an overwhelming choice of the American people and vote of the electoral college these are made all the greater."

"I can only express my simple thanks to all those who have contributed to this work and plainly acknowledge that it has been brought to pass through the result of a Divine Providence, of which I am but an instrument. Such powers as I have, I dedicate to the services of my country and of all my countrymen."

"In the performance of the duties of my office I cannot ask for anything more than the sympathetic consideration which my fellow-Americans have always bestowed upon me. I have no appeal except to the common sense of all the people. I have no pledge except to serve them. I have no object except to promote their welfare."

KEEPING WELL FORWARD!

The election is behind us. The result is decisive as to the choice of a President. With unmistakable emphasis the country has registered its approval of Calvin Coolidge. The man who was courageous enough to veto a bonus measure and disapprove pension bills which would have cost the treasury many millions annually has been retained in the White House by a demonstration of approval never before equaled.

The country can now go forward with no hesitations on account of uncertainty at Washington. Coolidge is committed to economy in government and sound economic policies. Whether or not Congress for the next two years will be in harmony with his views, is yet problematic. There may be such constructive legislation, or take this view: If there is to be no constructive legislation, there will be little likelihood of destructive legislation, because with Coolidge on guard, destructive legislation cannot pass a Congress which is sure to feel the chastening rod of public censure as expressed in the avalanche of ballots, which will Coolidge over on November 4.

Business, which is the life of either for the worker as well as the business man, does not fear no legislation. But that capital will be in a position to have no legislation of any kind whatsoever for the next five years, business would be relieved rather than frightened, and confident rather than apprehensive.

The western voters manifested a decided change of front. States which produced wealthy frauds in the form of Magnus Johnson and Smith W. Brookhart, voted overwhelmingly for Coolidge. Minnesota elected a genuine Republican to succeed Magnus Johnson, and Iowa Republicans elected a democrat to displace the melodorous Brookhart.

Therefore, while the new Congress will function after March 4, it may not be conservative enough to follow Coolidge, the retiring Congress has had its mandate from the people, and the new one cannot mistake the tone of public opinion. If, or when a week ago it was said that, under the Dawes plan, Europe is reviving and preparing to buy more heavily of American products it would perhaps, have been held that the assertion was made for political effect. But the election of 1924 is over. The next presidential election is four years away. It is not campaign talk, therefore, to assert that Europe is visibly reviving under the Dawes plan and that the revival there will assist the greater era of normal prosperity the United States has ever experienced.

HERDS TESTED IN 9 COUNTIES

ALL CATTLE IN COUNTIES ARE FREE FROM TUBERCULOSIS, CLAIM.

Frankfort, Ky.—Nine Kentucky counties now are free from tuberculosis among cattle, and testing is being done in 12 other counties, according to a recent report of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry and the State Live Stock Sanitary Board of Kentucky, which are co-operating in eradicating tuberculosis from the herds in the state.

Last year 10,000 herds containing 77,000 head were tested in the state, according to Dr. E. F. Biles, the Federal inspector in charge of the work done in Boone, Barren, Breckinridge, Boyd, Fayette, Graves, Jefferson, Larue, Muhlenberg, Pendleton, Scott and Shelby counties.

On June 30, this year, 29,188 herds containing 226,499 cattle had been tested in Kentucky. Reaction numbers 3.65, or 1.6 per cent.

The testing is being done by the State Live Stock Sanitary Board of Kentucky and the United States Bureau of Animal Industry co-operating while the educational end of the work is handled by the College of Agriculture extension division, through Dr. T. P. Polk, field agent in veterinary science.

Georgia raised and marketed 30 million pounds of tobacco during the season just closed, which brought an average of 21 cents, putting more than six million dollars into the pockets of the farmers.

STATE'S ENTIRE ELECTORAL VOTE IS G. O. P. FIRST TIME

LOUISVILLE AND JEFFERSON COUNTY GIVES MAJORITY TO ENTIRE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

The Republican victory in Kentucky means that Kentucky for the first time will cast its entire block of thirteen electoral votes for the Republican nominee for President. Furthermore, it means that Kentucky for the first time will be represented in the United States Senate by two Republicans. Mr. Sackett is the fourth Kentucky Republican to be elected Senator.

Reversing its Democratic majority of 2,614 in 1923, Louisville and Jefferson County elected to office the entire Republican ticket, including M. H. Thatcher as Representative from the Fifth Kentucky District and City were in the Fifth and Sixth Districts. Last year Democrats carried the Fifth District by 2,700. Tuesday they lost it by 10,157. In 1923 the Democrats carried the Sixth District by 11,116. Tuesday they lost it by 9,200.

Although the incomplete returns show an increase of 31,788 in the total vote of the State compared to the complete returns in the Governor's race last year, they indicate a great falling off in the total vote compared to the Presidential election in 1920.

The returns from the 3,835 of the 3,900 State precincts, in the Presidential election aggregated 770,791. Four years ago the total vote was 908,977. In the election of State officers in 1923 the total vote of 662,322.

The decrease in the voting this year was general throughout the State, not being confined to any separate sections.

Comparisons show tremendous changes in the districts in the Presidential elections of 1920 and 1924, and the State election in 1923. They affected the Republican mountain strongholds as well as the Democratic Gibraltar, the First District, in the west end of the Commonwealth. The biggest turnover was in the Sixth District. In 1920 it gave a Democratic majority of 12,886, and in 1923 a Democratic majority of 11,116, but Tuesday it was carried by the Republicans by 9,300.

The Sixth District gave Coolidge a majority of 9,300, while Senator Sackett carried it by 1,200. This was regarded as showing the greatest amount of ballot scratching in a single district in the history of elections in Kentucky.

Other Republican winners in Louisville and Jefferson County Tuesday were Peter P. Roser over Mark Beauchamp, Democrat, for City Tax Receiver; Frank W. Bradshaw over Reginald R. Walker, Democrat, for Par Commissioner; and Don Warren over Edward Bartley, Democrat, for Magistrate of the Seventh District.

Returns available show a total vote of 111,247 in Louisville and Jefferson County, with thirty-five per cent of the vote estimated that Friday under supervision of the Jefferson County Election Commission will increase the figure to 116,000.

GETTING OUT OF SNARLS

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois

CORNELIA, a little twelve-year-old neighbor of mine this summer had had her hair washed, and now as I sat outside on the porch of our cottage trying to compose a letter, she was inside with Nancy getting the snarls out. This was a result wrought with no little expenditure of time and pain, for the child's hair was long and heavy and furnished infinite possible tangles.

I gathered from the conversation it came to me rather disconnectedly through the open window that Cornelia had an engagement that required her immediate attention. She was going horseback riding, or was driving into the village for a sandwich, or had something much more pleasant in mind than getting the snarls out of her hair. She was of the opinion that if the surface were brushed lightly with the hands the snarls would work themselves straight. She proceeded to sticking until the words "snarls" were firm. "It's got to be done," she insisted. "If you don't get it out at the start, they get worse and worse, and they hurt more and by." And so Cornelia submitted and came out in due time, her blond hair all way and shining.

There are a good many people who hate to get all the snarls out at the beginning. There was Higgins for an ample, drifted along at the first of the semester, alighting his conjugation and his declensions and paying little attention to his idiosyncrasies and his irregular verbs until finally he found himself in such a mental tangle that Cornelia wouldn't come out, and he he nonchalantly flunked the course.

It was the same way with Simons. He was a fine athlete with every prospect of making the team, but he didn't quite understand the beginning of his analytics. He trusted to chance to work out his difficulties, and the result was that when fall came he was ineligible and his absence probably lost us the conference championship. The time to do a piece of work is when it is assigned. The time to solve a difficulty is when it arises. Well begun is often very much more than half done, and it is the true of the beginner in business. If there are any snarls in your work get them combed out immediately. Otherwise the result is failure.

(By Lizzie Walker.)

When we think of the many fads, theories and delusions that are so prevalent in our midst, those words of Scripture come to our minds. This also: "That in the last days perilous times shall come."

We realize the fact we are living in those perilous times, and we that have built our hopes of eternal rest on Christ the Solid Rock, ought to be sounding the danger signals, to warn parents and teachers to wake up to their duties in teaching the children the great truths of the Bible. Nothing else will stand the test in this fast age of deception and false doctrines.

So many have the forms of Godliness but denying the power thereof. From such turn away.

Are our children of this generation well enough established in the faiths of the Gospel of Christ to turn away from the hearing of these false teachers? Let us explore the God of love and power to inspire us with faith and with the anointing to teach them the Scripture that able to make them wise unto salvation; teach them that the wages of sin is death. Take them back to the beginning. Teach them who is the author of sin and what the first sin was, and what a beguiling death blow it proved to be to cause the happy pair in Eden to die a spiritual death, and to be driven from the beautiful garden. Robbed of their dominion, and doomed to darkness and despair, lost in sorrow, without one ray of hope or bliss, until the voice of God's love spake forth the cheering promises, (Gen. 3:15), "and I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall crush thy heel and thou shalt bruise his head." And by faith in the atoning sacrifice of Jesus Christ for the sin of the whole world, we can be quickened in the life of Christ for in Adam all die, in Christ shall all be made alive. Jesus says: "I am come that ye may have life." Teach them Jesus is the life, the truth, and the way; teach them to turn away from evil, forsake sin, explore God's forgiveness, accept of Jesus as their personal and true faith, and as the blessed Holy Spirit applies the atoning blood of Jesus to the soul it is quickened into life, and between thy seed and her seed: it shall crush thy heel and thou shalt bruise his head." He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life. It is being new creatures in Christ makes us love God and His word, and by faith and obedience to God's word. Our sins are forgiven and being alive to God we have a hungering and thirsting for righteousness. The promise is, ye shall be filled, filled with the Holy Spirit of God, that will lead us into all truth.

It is customary now when we are deeply interested in an undertaking to make drives to accomplish the greatest results in whatever the work may be, and realizing as we do, in these perilous times, the danger our children are in of being drawn off by false doctrines into dangerous delusions, we should make a mighty drive to get parents and teachers interested enough to get under the burden for the salvation of the children of the rising generation. Teach them the real truths of the Bible so they will be able to turn away from false doctrines and stand firm on Christ the Solid Rock. Let us see to it that they hold up for Jesus, the light of the world, so our nation shall not go down behind a cloud.

The day will soon be over in which to work and win.

There's many a gem lies hidden Beneath the dross of sin; Oh, let us dig and find them, God's power is enough to polish into beauty.

Those diamonds in the rough.

LOUISA, KY.

A telegram to Lawrence county relatives Wednesday afternoon said that Nathan George and wife are critically ill at Majestic, Pike county. This is a place on The River not far from Williamson. Mr. George has been in the employ of a large coal company there for some time. He is a young man of fine qualifications having been one of the leading teachers for several years.

The vote in Lawrence county was not quite as large as that cast four years ago when the county contained 291 majority. The weather was beautiful last Tuesday and a larger vote was expected. Unofficial returns give Coolidge 173 plurality.

Sackett 116 majority. Fred M. Vinson, 706 majority. Watt Prichard 152. Lofollette received about 60 votes in the county, it is said. The largest number in any precinct was 14 at Peach Orchard for the first elector and 11 for the others.

Luther L. Prince, age 23, son of Wm. Prince, was badly injured in an automobile wreck two miles below Louisa Tuesday about noon. He is in Riverview hospital. It is said he has a good chance to recover unless pneumonia should attack him. When brought to the hospital he was bleeding from internal injuries, probably from the lungs.

The accident occurred on the Mayo Trail, two miles below Louisa. The car turned over by the side of the road. The young man was on his way to the home of his parents just beyond Five Forks Hill. Congressman Fred M. Vinson was re-elected Tuesday by a handsome majority. In Lawrence county he ran nearly 900 ahead of Davis, and

Pine Tar and Honey Still Best for Chest Colds and Coughs

Our mothers and grandmothers would never be without pine tar syrup in the house for coughs, chest colds, etc. This was many years ago, but modern medicine has never been able to improve on this time-tested remedy. Doctors say the pine tar is hard to beat for quickly loosening and removing the phlegm and congestion that are the actual cause of the cough. At the same time pine tar and honey soothe and heal all irritation and soreness.

The kind that has been used with nerve-racking success for generations for years is that known as Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. This is a highly compounded of just the right proportion of pine tar and honey. It is quite-acting, heating ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. It contains absolutely no opium or other harmful drugs. It gives you your cough—the one that won't stop. It is a medicine that often stops the severest cough. It costs only 25¢ at any good drugstore.

Farmers' Questions Answered by Ky. Experiment Station.

It Pays To Advertise.

Question—Would a bull calf that is a twin to a heifer be a good animal to keep for breeding purposes? Answer—The calf should be all right. The twin heifer is called a free martin, and usually will not breed. We have three such heifers raised on the experiment station farm, and only one of them bred. Usually heifers twined with a bull are sterile.—J. J. Cooper, Kentucky Experiment Station.

Question—As I am converting an old barn into a dairy barn, I desire to know the number and size of windows to use. Answer—The number of windows needed depends upon the size of your barn. Most authorities recommend 1 square foot of window glass to 20 to 25 square feet of floor space, or 4 square feet of glass per cow. The window sills should be about 4 feet above the floor in order to allow the maximum amount of direct sunlight to enter. A six to nine light, single ash window hinged at the bottom so it can swing in at the top affords good ventilation. Circular No. 128, published by the Extension Division of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, Lexington, KY, contains more detailed information.—R. Kelley, Kentucky Experiment Station.

Much Interest in Sheepmen's Meeting.

Lexington, Ky.—Sheep breeders from several states will attend the spring lamb conference at the Kentucky Experiment Station November 19, according to word received by Dr. Thomas F. Cooper, the fame of Kentucky's sheep industry. The conference, especially in the states to the south and east.

Among the speakers will be H. A. Phillips, head of Armour & Co. sheep department in Chicago; D. A. Spencer, in charge of the Government's sheep work; H. K. Nickell of the United States Meat Co., New York; Jonas Weil, a Bluegrass sheep raiser, and several other breeders and dealers.

Stock yards companies in Louisville, Cincinnati and other cities will have representatives present. The widespread interest in sheep is expected to result in a large attendance. The sheep industry is now worth $10,000,000 annually to Kentucky, a large proportion of which comes from the sale of spring lambs.

KENTUCKY'S DAY'S WORK

Notwithstanding the prevalence of the prediction that Kentucky would give President Coolidge a majority this State's giving all of its thirteen electoral votes to the Republican candidate is as great a surprise, to Republicans as the Conservative landslide in Great-Britain was to the Conservatives, notwithstanding their belief they would win.

The Governor of Kentucky was so busy in maladroitness efforts to put the bond issue across that he did not lift his voice in behalf of the Democratic ticket. The Times observed some time ago that his devotion to the bond issue exclusively probably would not injure Mr. Davis in Kentucky, but might knock the bond issue into a cocked hat.

Speaking seriously, in justice to the cause, it should be said, perhaps, that the bond issue would have fared as badly had he remained as silent as Calvin Coolidge during the campaign. Had Kentucky's entire electoral vote would have gone to President Coolidge had Governor Fields devoted himself daily to advocacy of John W. Davis.

There is, of course no consolation for the Fields Administration in the reflection that Kentucky went for Cox in 1920, just after having given the State to Mr. Davis in 1916, and that it now goes for Coolidge after having given William Jackson Fields a majority of 50,000. But there could have been no consolation for the Fields Administration in reversal of the results in the Presidential race in view of the landslide against the bonds.

The decision of the voters as to the bonds rendered in such terms that there should be an end of the discussion. Kentucky will build its roads on the pay-as-you-go plan. That's settled. It has the money to build them on that plan. Nothing is lost, to road building, by the defeat of the bonds. The coal interest loses its fight to saddle a mortgage on the State. It may not be able to dodge, indefinitely, payment of its share of the taxes from which roads should be built. The Klax-Galvin bi-partisan bond ring makes a water-haul. Kentucky ditches Davis and true democracy, not the Democratic ticket merely. But she elected Frederick M. O. Stanley and elected Frederick M. Sackett. She smashed the $75,000,000 bond issue which was conceived in iniquity and presented as the child born in wedlock, to Progress and Humanity.

Many Ton Litters On Kentucky Farms.

Lexington, Ky.—The progress of the ton litter contest this year indicates that many Kentucky farmers are raising litters of pigs to weigh 2,000 pounds or more in six months, says Grady Sallards of the College of Agriculture, who is promoting the contest. About 25 farmers raised litters to the required weight in this year's contest, and practically all of them reported their pigs profitable. Wardell Mason, an Oldham county farmer, won the contest with a litter weighing 3,120 pounds.

For next year's contest, sows should be bred to produce between Feb. 1 and May 1, preferably in March, says Mr. Sallards. Litters farrowed in March would be ready for county fairs and other shows in September.

It is advisable to finish sows before breeding—that is, feed them extra well. In addition to corn, it is well to feed a quarter to a half a pound of tankage per sow daily. Farmers desiring to enter the state ton-litter contest can obtain further information and entry blanks from county agents.

CONTROL OF POTATO SCAB

Lexington, Ky.—Treating the seed with corrosive sublimate apparently controls scab in potatoes, according to reports by growers to the Kentucky Experiment Station. More than 40 Jefferson county farmers this year tried seed treatment. H. W. Ewing planted every other row with treated seed, and every other row with untreated seed. Scab on 85 percent of the potatoes dug this fall were free from scab, while the untreated rows were so scabby as to raise the question as to whether digging was worth while, according to John S. Gardner, field agent in horticulture for the College of Agriculture.

John Frieder, Jr., another Jefferson county grower, reported a similar experience, and declared that he would plant more untreated potatoes. W. H. Stutzberger found sprouting applied to the soil a help in controlling scab. Several years ago he heavily limed six acres. Thereafter potatoes grown on this land were so scabby as to be almost unsalable. Two years ago he put on this land 600 pounds of sulfur to the acre. Lead was found in the soil. This was noted, but this year the absence of scab is almost astounding, according to Mr. Gardner.

For controlling scab, Mr. Gardner recommends treating seed with corrosive sublimate; dusting seed freshly cut with sulfur, using about a pound to the bushel, and applying to the mature, but not in steep plowing under a cover crop. The cover crop should be turned under before it becomes woody, and in plenty of time for it to be broken down thoroughly before potato planting.

Circular No. 34, entitled, "Potato Growing in Kentucky," recently issued by the Experiment Station at Lexington, deals with all phases of potato growing.

Now, however, according to reports being distributed by the American Association for Labor Legislation, the immediate adoption of the same in England and France after extensive tests have proved its practical value. In Utah the system has been put into effect by agreement of the coal operators and the industrial commission. If coal dust explosions in mines can be prevented in England and France and Utah they must be prevented in Kentucky. This State cannot afford to assume responsibility for murder, and that is what dust explosion fatalities amount to if they are preventable and yet not prevented by those who can apply the prevention.

The industrial world is interesting itself as never before in the promotion of safety for employees. Mining has ever been hazardous. If it can be made safer, it must be.

CASH MAKES FRIENDS

KENNARD & WHEELER TO PUT ALL BUSINESS ON CASH BASIS; TO SAVE CUSTOMERS BIG PERCENT.

The store of Kennard & Wheeler Dry Goods Company will on November 15th, change their retail business to a strictly cash basis, and we take this method of explaining some of our reasons.

First—We can hold more customers. Second—We can eliminate the necessary "bad accounts" that go with any credit business. Third—The expense of bookkeeping. Fourth—It will enable us to take a larger discount by paying cash for our goods.

Fifth—It will save 10 percent attorney fees incurred in the collection of bad accounts. You can readily see that any firm selling on a credit will pay 10 percent extra, 2 per cent to bookkeeping expense, make a total of 20 percent that it would cost any firm to carry on a credit business, often more.

We propose to pass this saving of 20 per cent or one-fifth on to our customers, thereby not only simplifying our business but giving you a real saving over our previous money-saving prices for as you well know we are not here to meet prices but to make them.

Please feel that we do not mean that a simple customer is dishonest. Each of you know that your credit was unlimited while we were doing a credit business. This is one of our untiring efforts to save our customers money, make this store the best place in town to trade, and give you an "honest to goodness square deal." This rule will, of course, not apply to furniture, floor coverings, trunks, and photographs, that must be sold on any payment plan.

Yours respectfully for twenty percent cheaper square deal goods. KENNARD & WHEELER DRY GOODS CO. Prize money for the great potato show at Allentown, Pa., this fall amounts to $15,250.00, said to be more money than ever before offered by a similar exhibition.

MRS. HARDING IS CRITICALLY ILL

WIDOW OF FORMER PRESIDENT SUFFERING FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE.

Marion, Ohio, Nov. 3.—Mrs. Warren G. Harding, widow of former President Harding, was reported today to be in a critical condition at the home here of Dr. Carl W. Sawyer. She is suffering from kidney trouble.

Mrs. Harding has been ill for several weeks, and has fallen considerably since the recent death of Brig. Gen. Charles E. Sawyer, who was her personal physician and who was personal physician to Mr. Harding when he occupied the White House.

It was known today that Dr. James C. Wood of Cleveland was called to Marion yesterday for consultation. Mrs. Harding is making her home at White Oak Farm, home of the late General Sawyer.

Dr. Carl W. Sawyer issued this bulletin: "Mrs. Harding's condition remains practically the same as last week. She has developed a number of symptoms that were present in her serious attack in 1922 in the White House. Other complications have arisen which were not present at that time, and her condition is now rather serious."

Friends of Mrs. Harding say she has suffered with kidney trouble for years, but they attribute her present illness to the shock caused by General Sawyer's recent death following so closely the death of her husband a little more than a year ago.

PEOPLE OWNING TELEPHONES

Today there are almost no telephone wires, there only a few are straggling sparsely business in some sections of the country practically all the time. Today, thousands of employees are buying company stock, and are gladly becoming "pilotcars," the general red term for those who own anything of value. The employees do not own it all, but they do own according to what they have sacrificed to get into it. The business has been stabilized to the vast profit of the general public as well as to the employees and the telephone company itself. "The company really belongs to the people; in the American Telephone & Telegraph Company there are 230,000 stockholders, more than in any other American corporation, and one stockholder to every 37 Bell owned phones."

If the people are a majority of the stockholders of the telephone system they will be interested in maintaining good service and in rates that pay fair dividends and provide good wages and working conditions for their own sons and daughters.

INCREASING THE USE OF ELECTRICITY ON FARMS

Statistics show that every third home in the United States is on a farm. This means that about seven million families of this country are farm households. These facts were brought out by S. M. Kennedy, vice president of the Southern Farm Edison Co. The day has passed when farmers will be satisfied with conditions as they were twenty years ago and electricity is constantly gaining in use for farm work of all kinds.

In one western state 25 per cent of the farmers now use electricity in varying degrees to light the buildings and furnish power for milk separators, churns, water systems, and for cultivating the soil and threshing the seed crops.

CHILD FIRE PREVENTION

If all the people in our country regarding fire prevention which the Fire Commissioner Drennon or New York City has suggested for memorization by the school children of that city, so that what these rules require becomes instinctive, we would see a material decrease in our $500,000,000 annual fire loss.

The rules which the Fire Commissioner suggests do not ask for more than ordinary care. He suggests that matches be kept always in a metal container; he warns against throwing remnants of lighted matches, cigars and cigarettes away without seeing where they fall; he tells one not to try to start fires with kerosene, nor to go into dark closets, bedrooms or cellars with lighted candles or matches and not to use lighted candles on Christmas trees; he further cautions against keeping gasoline, naphtha or benzine in the house, and ends the list of twenty-one rules with the commandment: "Do not look for gas leaks with a lighted match or candle."

An average of nearly 400,000 dozen eggs are consumed in New York city every day or about one for each person.

RED CROSS DUTY TO AID VETERANS

Spends Nearly Four Millions in Year to Lessen Burdens of Disabled Soldiers.

SERVES 63,700 IN HOSPITALS

Every Case is Given Individual Service—Assists Families of These Men Everywhere.

Washington.—The need of individual assistance by ex-service men and their families from the Red Cross is as pressing today as it was immediately after the end of the World War. For six years this work has been foremost of all Red Cross services, and in emphasizing the steady public support of this work the Red Cross National Headquarters urged the largest enrollment this year during the membership campaign opening on Armistice Day, November 11. Nearly ten million dollars of Red Cross funds are being distributed to aid these men and their dependents during the year and June 30 last presents some idea of the magnitude of this work. The current year, it is estimated, will call for still further disbursements of funds for the reason that the Red Cross, through more than 3,500 Chapters in as many communities in the United States, has been called upon to help the ex-service men in making out their applications for the adjusted compensation granted in the so-called bonus law.

58,757 Soldier Cases a Month

The Red Cross work for the disabled soldier is designed "to give service," for it gives individual attention to the man and his family approximately the interest and loving care of the home. Such service is in hospitals, camps, soldiers' homes and sanatoria, averaged 53,351 cases a month during the year. Assistance to ex-service men and their dependents averaged 53,757 cases a month. In addition, the Red Cross in the last twelve months provided 33,000 recreation and entertainment events in the hospitals and camps.

Thus the Red Cross, symbolized as the "Greatest Mother," still watches over these many thousands of men, comforts them, helps to lighten the burden of their physical reconstruction, and in their homes lifts some of the burdens from their own people.

Work in Communities Increases The home service of the Red Cross was the most pressing duty of 2,509 Chapters, an increase of 182 communities where problems affected by the war veteran's condition required solution through immediate and intelligent assistance. The Chapters alone expended some $2,000,000 in this work.

The transient disabled soldier, usually suffering from disability or tuberculosis, is almost everywhere a grave problem. From national funds the last year $17,975,000 was expended in helping the Chapters to care for these wandering men.

According to government reports there are 4,800 veterans in civilian institutions, and in the national homes for soldiers the complications are increasing. The large groups of patients whose claims have been disallowed, of veterans of foreign wars, and the great number of men presently resident in these institutions, call for Red Cross work which can

Red Cross Fighting First Aid Battle To Conserve Life

Reliable records establish the fact that more than 75,000 accidental deaths occur every year in the United States. The records also show that 200 American citizens are killed every day; that 43 of these deaths are due to automobiles, 22 to falls, 19 to drownings, 16 to burns.

Facing such distressing sacrifice of life to the First Aid Service of the American Red Cross, fighting through education and demonstration to hasten consciousness of safety in the public mind and teaching approved methods which assure that competent hands will be at hand for injured persons at the arrival of doctors. Trained service men in the first few minutes is vital in saving accidents and saves many precious lives.

One of the most encouraging items of the year is the record of the Red Cross First Aid Insurance Card No. 1 which traveled 9,700 miles along trunk lines, stopping at 157 places. The card's staff of surgeons gave 811 demonstrations to audiences composed of 42,150 railroad men, 17,000 high school and college students, 13,000 in dental workers, 2,000 members of fire departments, and 15,000 policemen, firemen, and other municipal employees, a total of 147,000.

The Red Cross First Aid certificates were conferred upon 13,888 persons who took the course last year, an increase of 4,000 over 1923. Telephone, gas and electric companies, public service corporations and other large employers of the country adopted the Red Cross course, and their local contacts everywhere were witnessed by huge crowds with as much interest as develops at popular athletic games.

In the industrial field the growth of First Aid practices to fight to reduce preventable accidents and unnecessary loss of life has received wide recognition. The promise of an unexcelled advance in this line has been made throughout the country through the Red Cross Chapters and the work of the experts in this service under direction of the national organization.

Sign the American Red Cross roll this year for humanity's sake.

THE CONSTITUTION

At the 15th anniversary celebration of the meeting of the First Constitutional Congress at Valley Forge, Pa., Senator George Wharton Pepper said: "When things go wrong, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred it is we who are at fault—not our constitutional system. Our job is not to chop the constitution to pieces to fit our abnormalities but to make ourselves worthy to live under our constitution as it is."

"We are reminded here that when the times were evil, Washington fasted all day and united with his countrymen in prayer for light and guidance. It was in this spirit that they laid the foundations of the constitution. Some of our modern reformers, on the basis of three square meals a day and the busy proclamation of their own self-sufficiency, want to blow the foundations from under the constitution. My brethren, these things ought not so to be."

Then in 30 seconds—without even leaving your seat—it can be changed to a deeply cushioned, richly appointed, fully protected enclosed car. It's no fuss or bother at all—simply lower the roller enclosures—it's so easy a child can do it.

No more hurried efforts to put up curtains in the wind and rain. No more hunting for the right one while the storm beats in. No more exposure through holes torn in them while trying to obtain for the emergency the protection given by a car.

For in the Duplex the side enclosures are instantly duplicated—yet rolled up safe, out of the way when not in use.

If this two-fold utility were the only feature of the new Studebaker cars they would still be a sensational value—but there are many others.

New body lines—new beauty—more powerful engines—new ease of gear shifting—genuine balloon tires—and the easiest steering car you ever drove.

In justice to yourself—use this car today.

HALLOWEEN PARTY AT ROYALTON, KY.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Carpenter entertained last Friday evening at Royalton, Ky., with a masquerade and Hallowe'en dance honoring their home guest, Miss Lucy Gardner of Winchester, Ky., and Misses Jesse Crowe and Ethel Bernard of Royalton, Ky., and which was a fitting climax for the many delightful social events of the month. The Carpenter home, ideally situated on the top of a hill and surrounded by large oak trees, was doubly attractive in its Hallowe'en decorations. Guests were met at the door by a witch, whose clammy hand dropped off when he shook hands. Upon entering, the house was quite dark except for the weird "Punkin" faces that peered out from unexpected places. After all the guests arrived the rooms were flooded with light and all that were masked fell into a grand march, judges awarding prizes for the cleverest costumes. Dancing formed the diversion for the rest of the evening, until bottles of ginger ale, dressed as black witches, trays of sandwiches and apples in split baskets were served. At the witching hour, the lights were again lowered, everyone gathered around the huge log fire and listened to about a dozen tales, made even the bravest cringe. As soon as everyone could regain their courage the guests left for home declaring it the most delightful dance of the season.

Those who were guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Burdette, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Salyer, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. THE FOUR INDESCRIBABLES.

Grit, Pep, Gumption, and Common Sense, four things indescribable. Of course there are definitions for each, but you can never describe just as you wish.

Grit is something which gives you the courage to tackle a thing and keep going.

Pep is a little spirit which makes you do things in a quick snappy fashion.

Gumption is knowing when and how to do the right thing.

And 'Common Sense' is—well—just common sense.

Grit, Pep, Gumption, and Common Sense found together is a combination hard to beat—that is if it can be.

This combination is more often found in Athletics and sure enough without it Athletics would be a game of the Home of Old Age.

But this combination can be used without it Athletics would be a game of the Home of Old Age.

LOST, STRAYED, STOLEN or BORROWED—Books! Books! Books! If any lost, strayed, stolen or borrowed books are found please return to person whose name is found in the back, and receive liberal reward of sweet sarcastic words flavored with a swift kick.

There will be an old-time bus supper at the High School Auditorium, Saturday, Nov. 15, 8 p. m. There will be a contest for the most popular girl, and to the man with the largest feet. There will also be a short program free of charge.

We are going to keep before you the fact that it is absolutely necessary that we do not relax for a moment if we are to be victors in the Thanksgiving contest with Russell. This team at last reports was still going strong and if P. H. S. walks away with the large end of the score, our pep must not be allowed to opeze out.

Do not forget that Thursday night of this week the second number in the Lexington Court will be given by the Bostonian Male Quartette.

On Friday afternoon the Jas. W. Turner Literary Society met in Room 14 of the Paintsville High School and adopted its Constitution and By-Laws. The purposes and plans of the society had been well stated by the committee and the large majority of votes for each article proved that high ideals were the goal of the entire society. As proved himself a friend and ally of the Paintsville High School the Society decided to name their organization in honor of him.

Kenneth Fisher president of the Senior Class ably acted as chairman with Miss Josephine Daniels as secretary. The following officers were elected: President—Hermalee Wheeler. Vice-President—Grady Stafford. Secretary—Edith Daniels. Treasurer—Walter Meek. Sergeant at Arms—Donald Pugh.

RECORD DISASTER YEAR KEPT RED CROSS BUSY In 192 Places in United States Its Relief Operations Cost $737,603. One hundred and ninety-two disasters resulting in 756 deaths and injury to 1,532 persons, rendering nearly 4,000 homeless and causing property losses estimated at more than $44,750,000, established a new record for the United States in the year ended last June 30, according to reports of the American Red Cross, in all of these disasters immediately relief activities was applied by the Red Cross, which expended $737,603 through the national organization and the local Chapters in assisting stricken communities. As the nation's chief relief agency, whose services cover over 43 years, the Red Cross is expected to be on duty almost as soon as a disaster strikes any locality. This trust and confidence is amply justified by the increasing equipment of the Red Cross, which recently organized a mobile disaster unit of experienced workers ready in all parts of the country to respond on the instant to a call for active duty. This unit is capable of operating in several disaster areas under one general direction, and reports received in seven communities in five states at the same time. Ability, alertness and increasing skill of volunteer workers in more disaster operations, the call for a disturbance in a restricted local area or for millions in relief funds for a staggering catastrophe such as the earthquake in Japan. The Red Cross, however, is far from being self-satisfied, for the organization is giving the most serious consideration to measures for preventing disasters. Its relief administration and rehabilitation policies have won for it nation-wide regard. That important work can always measure up to any demand needs the continued support of the American people through Red Cross membership. The annual enrollment will begin Armistice Day, November 11, and every American is urged to join or renew membership in the Red Cross. Help yourself by helping others with your dollar Red Cross membership. The dividend in good works is guaranteed.

Ramsey of Chandlerville; also three sons, Roscoe Pack of Charley, Ky.; Sherman Pack of Paton, Iowa, and James Craft of Ashland, Ky.; also about 70 grandchildren to mourn the loss. Mrs. Craft had reached the age of 84 years. THE OBJECTS OF ROTARY To encourage and foster: (a) The ideal of SERVICE as the basis of all worthy enterprises. (b) High ethical standards in business and profession. (c) The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian in his personal business and community life. (d) The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service. (e) The recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society. (f) The advancement of understanding, goodwill and international peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the Rotary ideal of service. AUTOMOBILE TOLL OF LIVES Fourteen hundred killed in one disaster would shock the nation, yet approximately that number, 1,398 to be exact, met death during the first eight months of this year in New York state alone through automobile accidents, without exciting any particular attention. While medicine and surgery are working wonders in the saving of human life, the grim toll of the automobile mounts higher and higher each year. Most of this terrible sacrifice is entirely unnecessary, being by reason or incompetent drivers. The pity of it is that so many of the victims are merely passengers in wrecked cars killed and maimed through no fault of their own. If irresponsible speed maniacs destroyed only themselves, there would be less cause for grief, but unfortunately they often escape, while helpless victims pay with their lives for the folly of these criminally careless drivers. $425.00 gets a nice building lot in Southside. A few lots are to be sold at this price. First come, first served.

Dull, Sluggish Feeling "BLACK-DRAUGHT" is our household stand-by," says Mrs. Thomas H. Kell, who lives near Ellijay, Tenn. "We have been using it years and years. My mother's family used it and we do here and my four sisters do too. I could not run my house without Black-Draught. I give it to the children whenever they need a purgative, and both Mr. Kell and myself take it. As a medicine for sluggish liver and headache, and the ills that come with constipation, Black-Draught is fine. "Lots of times I have felt dull and sluggish, my head would ache and I had to make a great effort to do my work. A little dose of Black-Draught would correct this feeling. We always keep it on the medicine shelf. Be sure that you get Theodor's, the reliable Black-Draught powdered herb liver medicine. At all dealers."

There is no abatement of the exchange of correspondence between schools in the United States and schools in the hinter portions and foreign lands. During the year the government has added the weight of recognition by extending the Junior Red Cross in the schools for American Indian children. The American Red Cross is also planning to develop the Junior program in 400 rural schools in isolated sections.

RED CROSS RAISES $10,000,000 IN 21 DAYS FOR RELIEF

Terrible catastrophes, such as the Japanese earthquake, prove the wisdom of the people in maintaining the American Red Cross for their national and international relief agency. The readiness of the Red Cross for duty in the greatest emergencies was also proved by test. The record shows: Sept. 3, President Coolidge authorized a duty of raising $5,000,000 to the American Red Cross; Sept. 4, Red Cross chapters in over 1,500 communities gave their first allotments; Sept. 15, total $1,500,000; Sept. 17, total $3,000,000; Sept. 20, total $5,000,000; Sept. 21, total $10,000,000. It is believed that the Red Cross has doubtly performed the duty entrusted to it—all the while keeping a steady flow of relief supplies going out from the United States to the stricken areas in Japan. This was the confidence of the American people in their Red Cross preparedness to cope with unprecedented relief emergency conditions.

JUNIOR AMERICAN RED CROSS ARMY 5,596,663 Children of 29,942 Schools Now Enrolled in Movement of Service to Humanity.

The American Junior Red Cross, which was organized as a children's auxiliary during war-time especially to help the hapless childhood in Europe, and to exemplify in possession of the Red Cross ideal of service, has now a membership of 5,596,663 in the schools of the United States and the insular possessions. This Junior movement gives opportunity for the children to share in the Red Cross effort parallel to that of the parent organization. Juniors are therefore identified in varying degree with the health services, disaster relief work, salvage and other suitable activities of value to the operations of the Red Cross. It is a valiant host marching under its "I Serve" banner in the cause of happier childhood everywhere and particularly wherever the American flag flies. The enrollment embraces 23,842 schools and 127,436 school rooms, a gain over 1923 of 1,552 schools and 22,414 school rooms. The year's gain in membership was 769,402 children, or nearly 80,000 for each month of the school year. The educational and social values of the Junior Red Cross movement is thus evidencing the firm and cordial endorsement of school authorities. The government has added the weight of recognition by extending the Junior Red Cross in the schools for American Indian children. The American Red Cross is also planning to develop the Junior program in 400 rural schools in isolated sections.

5 Strong Reasons Why We Sell the Same Goods for Less Money 1st—Because our great volume cuts our overhead expense to less than one-half our competitors. 2nd—Because our tremendous volume buying for forty-eight stores enables us to buy cheaper. 3rd—Because our great financial strength, coupled to the fact that we sell for cash, enables us to buy for cash and take advantage of every possible discount. 4th—Because in operating our forty-three stores under one head it costs less than if operated separately. 5th—Because we operate on an unusually low margin of profit, relying on volume of sales and quick turnover for our profits. It is an undisputed fact that we offer you a higher grade of merchandise than is sold by our competitors. "The Store of Better Service" SALE! Midland Stores Co. PAINTSVILLE, KENTUCKY

Those who live on the farms of the nation are as eager as any others for the better sort of homes and as quick or quicker than many dwellers in cities to adapt new ideas in buildings to their needs. But the fact that a home is on a farm means that it must meet conditions which do not exist in the cities and are not recognized in home designs of usual type.

It was with the needs of the farm family in mind that the home shown here was designed. The pleasing sound and substantial exterior speaks for itself. The broad eaves give the house an appearance of hospitality and of coolness under the torrid summer sun which is very inviting. And the

Built-In Mirror Good and Efficient Idea

A bedroom with built-in mirrors gives an appearance of spaciousness and has proven very effective from an architectural point of view. The method of building in the mirror has everything to do with the splendid effect. Utilizing the doors for mirror effects is a very convenient idea and one which is greatly appreciated by those who have developed the idea in their homes. Utilizing the space for the mirrors will mean a reduction in a number of pieces of furniture required for the room, a condition in keeping with the proper treatment of the sleeping chamber.

Steel Basement Windows Practical and Artistic

The great superiority of high-grade steel windows for basement use is well recognized by all who have used them. This refers to the solid steel window, windows built of solid steel bars, not to hollow metal windows. Solid steel windows are artistic and serviceable, permit of more light and air, and are unaffected by climate. They cannot swell or warp and require no retitting.

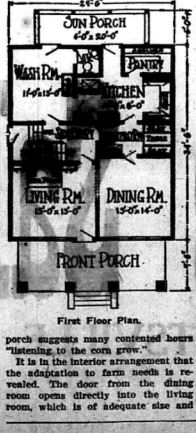

The steel window is now placed on the market in standard sizes, which permits its use for residential purposes, and through this condition is generally being used in the better homes for basement windows to the exclusion of all other types.

Locate With Care

Location of the tree best determines its selection as well as soil and climate. If there is small space which may be devoted to the future development of the tree, save the American Tree association of Washington. It would not be satisfactory to plant one which will attain huge proportions. More than any other determining feature in tree selection is the purpose intended. The tree is to survive. For a 2-cent stamp for postage the association will send tree-planting suggestions. The planter should stand reasoning in his immediate neighborhood and pick out the variety which will best serve his needs.

Drawers in Kitchen

Under the dish closet in the kitchen is an excellent place to have drawers installed. At least three of these drawers are no deeper than four or five inches, towels and dishcloths may be kept and found.

has a fireplace which should provide a place for family gathering. The dining room is practical, both as to siting and as to location. Nowhere will the breakfast room, with its built-in table and seats prove its worth more readily than in the farm, where every convenience and irregularities of work are likely to call for meals for some at some time of the day. The dining room is furnished with an outside seat for the sitting room. The kitchen in this house is a real asset. It is a feature which is not only a luxury which adds much to its convenience, but one which will be appreciated readily by the practical woman on the farm. And the sun porch on the rear is a feature which those who have looked for a cool place to do the work in the summer will appreciate.

On the second floor are four bedrooms of generous size and a bath. One of the bedrooms is equipped with a lavatory which adds much to its convenience. All are well supplied with closets and all have the cross ventilation which will insure cool, comfortable sleep in hot weather.
