

Dr. Lloyd Asks Government For Higher Grants

Writes Congressman Asking Their Support Of Bills Now Pending In House

The following letter from A. Y. Lloyd, director of Old Age Assistance addressed to Hon. Fred M. Vinson, congressman from this district is similar to letters sent out from the office of the Welfare Department to all other congressmen and Senators of the state. Dr. Lloyd is anxious to do everything in his power to aid the old people of this state, as the letter bears witness.

Hon. Fred M. Vinson
Congress of the United States
Washington, D. C.
Dear Mr. Vinson:
I am informed that two bills now have been introduced in the Congress to amend the provisions of the Social Security Act with respect to reimbursement of expenditures for old-age assistance. The first is S. B. No. 626, introduced by Senator Caraway of Arkansas and now pending before the Senate Finance Committee; the second is an identical bill, H. B. No. 4688, introduced by Representative Colmer of Mississippi and now pending before the House Ways and Means Committee.

Both bills amend Section (a) of section 3 of the Social Security Act by providing that the Federal Government shall grant to states an amount which shall be used exclusively as old-age assistance, equal to the total sum expended during the quarter with respect to each individual who, at the time of such expenditure is 65 years of age or over and is not an inmate of a public institution, not counting so much of such expenditures with respect to any individual for any month as exceeds $15.00.

I would like to urge your support in behalf of this amendment to the Social Security Act. Under our present law, the maximum grant that can be made in Kentucky is $15.00. You can readily see that if this amendment passes and becomes a law it will mean a great deal to the Commonwealth of Kentucky, as it will enable us to get our proportionate share of federal aid in comparison with other states that have higher maximum grants than Kentucky at the present time. It will mean a great saving to Kentucky during the next fiscal year and may enable the next General Assembly to grant higher assistance to the needy old people of the State in the future.

Sincerely yours,
A. Y. Lloyd.

Rowan County Boys Make Record In CCC

Only Four Out Of Hundred Found Physically Unfit For Forest Service

Rowan County grows 'em big and grows 'em strong, according to recent statistics from the central camp at the CCC camp here. Out of over one hundred boys from this county to take the physical examination for appointment to the camps, only four failed to pass the examinations and were rejected.

The enrollment was completed Monday and nearly two hundred boys left for various camps throughout the nation, where they will spend the next six months as part of Uncle Sam's Saplin' Army, which incidentally is doing more for the boys of the nation than any other thing has ever done.

Rowan county furnished one hundred of the recruits who left Monday night for Louisville, from which point they will be sent to various camps. Forty seven of the recruits who remained in the camp at Rodburg, Elizabet county, made a small number as did several other surrounding counties. The Rodburg camp was a receiving station during the recent enrollment.

JANE YOUNG IS BITTEN IN LEG BY OWN DOG

Miss Jane Young was severely bitten by their dog last Friday and is at present taking the rabies treatment, under the care of Dr. G. Nickell. The dog suddenly became vicious killing a puppy and biting a number of other dogs in the neighborhood, before attacking his owner. The child was bitten on the leg.

Another child in the neighborhood was also bitten by a dog, but was unable to state that it was the same animal. The dog was killed and its head forwarded to Lexington for examination.

BOB DAY ERECTING SERVICE STATION

Two Story Brick Building To Be Built At East Edge Of Morehead

Another new business place under construction is the two story service station and tourist apartment house being built by Bob Day on his lots at the east edge of Morehead. Work got under way the first of this week.

Mr. Day is erecting a modern building two stories high and 60 by 40 feet. It will face the Midland Trail and will, when finished, replace the small frame service station and repair shop where they now operate their business.

The lower floor of the building will be occupied by the service station and repair shop. It will be modern in every way. It will have ample space to guarantee a fully modern station.

The upper floor will be divided into apartments which will be rented to tourists. There will be ten one roomed apartments, modern and up-to-date in all details. The building will be steam heated, with modern plumbing and conveniences.

Two bath rooms and lavatories will take care of the sanitary needs of the apartments on the second floor.

When completed Mr. Day plans on having the most modern service station in Morehead.

Former Student Dies Of Burns

Mrs. Garland Smith Former Student Injured When Car Collides With Gas Pump

Miss Betsa Robertson, of Russell, Ky., suffered fatal injuries from burns, sustained when the car in which she was riding caught on fire after striking a bread truck and crashing into three gas pumps.

Mrs. Smith died on Sunday morning following the accident which occurred on Friday.

It was not known until after her death that she had become the bride of Mr. Garland Smith, eighteen months before. The marriage was to have been announced next month after the school where she was teaching closed. She was well known here, having played basketball against the local high school team, and later having attended college here. She was the sister of Mrs. Parnell Martindale of this city, a sister-in-law of Tim Wyatt of the Morehead Eagles' football team, and a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Watt Pritchard of this city.

Trapped in a locked automobile and burned to death by rapidly igniting gasoline from the three pumps of a filling station, she was seared from head to feet.

Saturday morning, Betsa accepted a ride to the West Russell school where she was a teacher with Vernie Caudill, a classmate and a friend of long standing. Enroute to the school, Caudill's car was said to have hit the rear end of a bakery truck in front of his machine.

Caudill's car swerved sharply to the left—hit three gasoline pumps at a station in West Russell, said to be owned by J. D. Reeves. The pumps were torn from the concrete foundations and Caudill's car was givelled by flames.

In the midst of the immediate fire, Caudill leaped from the car, but the door locked automatically and he was unable to go to the rescue of Miss Robertson, who was forced to remain inside the blazing car.

The flames leaped through the sides of the car, the floor-boards lighting the young teacher's clothing and soon she was a flaming torch. A passing truck driver, whose name was not known to the parents, crashed out a side window of the burning car and dragged Miss Robertson outside.

He smothered out the flaming clothing, and a moment or so later she was rushed to the Marting hospital, where she remains in a critical condition.

Miss Robertson is well and popularly known in Russell and throughout Greenup county. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Robertson, of Boyd street, she has been a valued and efficient teacher in the Russell District Schools for the past several years. She is a graduate of Russell High School and was a basketball star, being captain of the girls' team in her senior year.

Trees Are Planted By Forest Service

White Pine, And Poplar Trees Being Set By CCC Boys

Work has been started this week in the planting of 11,500 white pine and 3,500 yellow poplar trees on the Cumberland National Forest near McKee, Kentucky, was the announcement made today by R. F. Hemmingsway, Forest Supervisor. The plantations will be of an experimental nature and are being planted by a fifteen man crew from the CCC Camp F-3 at McKee, under the supervision of Assistant Ranger G. S. Powell.

Two types of plantations are to be made on fifteen acres of land involved. One area will contain pure white pine, while the other will be a mixture of white pine and yellow poplar. The purpose of such plantations is to determine the degree of success which may be expected in making future plantings and the relative value of such plantations in timber production and watering protection. The success with which these trees survive should also indicate the feasibility of planting good timber producing species on worn out farm land.

5,000 white pine were planted last October on an adjoining area. A study of this plantation showed that the remarkable high survival of 90 per cent has been attained.

Two Are Injured In Car Wreck Saturday

Coble Moore suffered a wrenched back which at first was thought to be broken, and Ralph Boyd suffered a broken leg, last Saturday night, when the car in which they were riding with three other boys ran off the Christy Creek road and was almost completely wrecked. The accident occurred Saturday night as the boys were coming to Morehead.

Boyd was brought to Morehead and given treatment, while Moore was considered too badly injured to move and was left at his home. It was discovered on more careful examination that the injuries were not so serious as at first believed. Moore is the son of Mrs. Lizzie Moore of Christy Creek.

Road Proposals Of Fiscal Court Arrive Too Late

Extra Federal Assistance Exhausted Before Orders Of Local Court Received

After all, Rowan county is not to have the road program mapped out by the Fiscal Court carried out, according to Cecil Williams, Commissioner of Rural Highways. Mr. Williams made the statement to a News reporter at his office in Frankfort. The rural highway commissioner has been swamped by requests for the money, and with the limited amount available, the counties that asked first were the counties that received the allotment. Allotments were granted in the order in which they were received, said Mr. Williams, and as Rowan county's request was received late, the funds available had already been allotted.

The plan proposed by the fiscal court was to extend the state fund of $11,000 on two roads in the county, one from Sharkey to Bluestone and the other from Rock Fork to Waltz, a distance all told of about 11 miles. These two roads were to have been graded and drained, after which they would be taken over by the state for maintenance.

There has been considerable argument pro and con as to the method of spending the $11,000.00 to be received from the state fund, which under the proposed plan would have matched by the federal flood fund. Those living in other sections of the county were opposed to spending the money in that way, as they believed they should receive their proportionate share of the fund.

The probabilities are at present, that the fund, $11,000.00 will be spent in somewhat the same way as it was used last year, spread over different roads in the county and in different sections as well, so that each section may receive a small amount of benefit from the construction and improvement of the roads.

Mrs. S. Moore Dies Tuesday

Was Old Citizen Of Tract Section, Widow Of Boone Tabor

Mrs. Sarah F. Moore died at the home of her son, Lacy Tabor on Tuesday this week, following a long illness. Funeral services were held at the home on Wednesday in charge of Rev. T. F. Lyons, pastor of the Church of God. Burial was made in Tabor cemetery.

Mrs. Moore was born in Sandy Hook in Elliott county. Shortly after her marriage to Boone Tabor she moved to Rowan county where she has since resided. Mr. Tabor died thirty years ago and she was later united in marriage to Walter Moore, who preceded her in death about two years ago.

She is survived by the following children: C. W. Tabor, Cleveland, Ohio; Max Lewis, Christy, Ky.; Bertha Lewis, Vale, Ky.; Myrtle Cornette, Loveland, Ohio; Lacy Tabor, Elliottville, Ky.; Noble Tabor, Warren, Ohio; Brady Tabor, Chester, Pa.; Chauncey Tabor, New York City.

Mrs. Moore was one of the old residents of the county, having lived on Tabor Hill which was named after her first husband for over fifty years. She was an applicant for Old Age Assistance and her papers are now in Frankfort awaiting approval.

769 Automobiles Licensed Here

Expects Number In County To Exceed One Thousand For First Time

Will Rowan County for the first time have over one thousand licensed automobiles before the end of the year? That question has a risen in view of the fact that the number of licenses issued up to the present date has far exceeded the number issued in any previous year. Already the County Clerk has issued 769 licenses for passenger cars this year with only one third of the year passed. If only 231 more licenses are issued during the remaining eight months, they will reach the thousand mark for the first time, and judging from the continued demand they will exceed that mark.

On April 22 last year, only 641 licenses had been issued. Even that mark was far ahead of the number issued in previous years at that time. The 769 license was issued last year on August 26. If the ratio continues in that proportion, there will be almost one thousand issued on that date this year.

The increase may be partly due to a number of things. First there is the natural increase in the number of automobiles as new ones are bought and the used cars sold to other owners. That is in all probability the most important cause

Earley Cooper Held On Assault Charge

Appearance And Peace Bond Set At $500 And $1000 On Caudill Charge

Earley Cooper is confined to the county jail in lieu of bond as the result of an assault of his brother-in-law, D. C. Caudill last Saturday night. Cooper is held under a bond of $500.00 to the Grand Jury and $1000.00 peace bond which he was unable to make.

The trouble grew out of the failure of Cooper to meet or renew a note with the Peoples Bank of Morehead, according to Mr. Caudill. The bank had obtained a judgement several months ago and levied on a consignment of logs in the possession of Cooper.

Cooper met Mr. Caudill on the street in Morehead Saturday evening and attacked him, knocking him down, and kicking him and bruising him so severely that he has been confined to his home for the past few days. A warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Cooper and at his examining trial on Monday of this week, waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury last Tuesday afternoon to make the bond, and fitting to do so was confined to the jail.

MORE MURDERS BY MOTOR

If anyone had predicted at the beginning of this century that within less than forty years the nation would be criss-crossed with wide, paved streets along which automobiles would scoot at speeds up to eighty miles an hour, most people, if they listened to the prophet at all, would have said he was crazy. And if he had added that practically anyone, child or ancient, sound or cripple, drunk or sober, would be permitted to drive an automobile at such speeds, intelligent listeners would have said that could not possibly be allowed. It would be too dangerous to put such engines into irresponsible hands. Why, a lot of people would be killed.

We all know that is just what has happened. Last year we killed nearly 37,000 people on our highways. Most of them not the drivers of the cars, but their passengers, people in other cars, pedestrians and children. This year, so far, the death toll is nearly a quarter as large again. The National Safety Council reports that up to the end of February motor fatalities were 24 percent higher than in the same period last year. The open Winter in the East accounts for most of this increase in motor murders. More cars on the roads, more killings.

Where is this slaughter going to end? How can it be stopped? How many more Americans must be killed before outraged public sentiment rises to the point of indignation and forces action by the constituted authorities? A hundred or more groups and organizations have been giving intensive study for years to the causes of motor accidents and ways to prevent them. They all agree that the guilt lies at the doors of irresponsible, careless, "take-a-chance" drivers. The solution lies in tightening the restrictions upon drivers of cars and punishing severely every motorist whose recklessness or incompetence causes an accident.

There are limits beyond which the rights of the individual cease and the right of society to protect itself takes command. We no longer tolerate, in most American communities, what used to be regarded as the inalienable human right of every individual to carry fire-arms and shoot them off when and where he pleased. Even under that scheme of things, the shooter was held responsible if he hit anybody. Now the automobile has displaced the revolver as the universal American weapon of homicide. It is time we restricted its use to those who can be trusted not to abuse it. Driving a car should be regarded as a privilege granted to a select few, not a right which everybody's is free to exercise without restriction.

WHAT DO YOU BRING HOME?

It had been a hectic day for Mrs. Jones. Everything had gone wrong. She had broken a favorite dish, the baby had fallen out of his high chair, the telephone was out of order and now she had burned her dinner. Just at this crisis, her good husband appeared with a big bouquet of American Beauty Roses. "Oh, George," she cried, "I've had a terrible day, and now you come home drunk!"

George wasn't drunk. But when a husband brings flowers home for the first time in five years, who can blame a wife for being surprised?

This story set me to thinking. We talk about bringing home the groceries—and the bacon. But does a husband and father's job end there? It seems to me there are other things he should bring home. Flowers, theatre tickets, a picture, a book of poems or a little statuette—little gifts that will make a wife's heart glow with happiness. Little surprises for the children; candy, games or gum—things that will send them hunting through his pockets with sparkling eyes. But, oh, still more than these, he should bring home laughter, kind words, love, encouragement, appreciation.

When your children press noses against windows looking for daddy, when your wife hums a song of joy in anticipation of your coming, and when your dog wags his tail at the sound of your step—then, Mr. Man, you are a success!

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Written each week by Rev. B. R. Kasez, Pastor of Baptist Church.

Subject: Deliverance Through obedience Gen 8:20-22; 8:8-17.

Golden Text: "By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house." Heb. 11:7.

After the sin of Adam and Eve, sin began to develop in the human race with great rapidity. Their first child turned out to be a murderer, and succeeding generations continued to drift away from God, until in time of Noah very few men recognized God at all. "And the Lord said I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; both man, and beast, and creeping thing, and fowls of the air" (Gen. 6:7). Then were all the fountains of the great deep broken up, and the windows of heaven were opened. (Gen. 7:11). Noah had cried out of his generation that if they did not cease their abominations God would destroy them with a flood. Men who had ignored God and ridiculed his servant now cried out for mercy. Villages and towns were swept away, and the waters rose higher and higher, until the whole earth was submerged.

While Noah was preaching righteousness, and warning the people he was preparing to be saved from the destruction of the flood. According to God's instruction he was building an ark. He built it according to God's detailed plan, and did exactly in every particular as God told him. While he was working, no doubt, the people called him a fool, like they do some of the preachers who warn of the "wages of sin" today. But the days came when Noah, his three sons, Mrs. Noah, and the wife of each son floated above the destruction of the flood. In the ark also was a pair of each type of animal, fowl, etc., upon the earth. When the waters began to recede the ark landed on Mount Ararat. The first thing Noah thought of when he emerged from the ark to worship God. There he set up an altar and offered sacrifices.

Well, the flood is laughed at by the cynic of today, but that doesn't keep it from being true. Anyone who can live in a world where the result of sin is tragic before his eyes every day, and then go on with the hellishness that is wrecking our people every hour, couldn't be expected to have sense enough to believe an old story like this. Just the same, "The wages of sin is death" and it has never been known to produce anything else in this world.

Noah had sense enough to believe God, and not only to preach what he believed, but to practice it. While he was preaching he was hammering away on his ark. People with spiritual sense these days are making sure that they are in the Ark of Safety, which is Jesus Christ the Lord. For he is the only one who can lift us out of the sin and destruction of this earth which is soon to destroy it. The wise will obey the Gospel, but their trust in him who has been through the deep waters of sin and death and has come forth conqueror.

Daniel Boone At The College

For Friday, April 23, the College brings to the screen a thrilling historical drama entitled "Daniel Boone".

The scenes depicting Boone at Boonesboro and many other sights reminiscent of Kentucky history, this feature will possess a peculiar appeal to Kentuckians.

The story shows Boone leading a party of thirty families from Yadin River in North Carolina, up through Cumberland Gap into the Blue Grass. It shows his settlement at Boonesboro and the fights with the Indians and the treachery of one of the party, Mr. Marlowe and the activities of the renegade, Simon Girty. Finally Girty and Boone come to grips and Boone wins the battle. Marlowe treacherously steals title to the property of the settlers and Boone, having fallen in love with Virginia Randolph, a lovely young lady of the party, moves on with her into the wilderness to establish a home.

The show for Friday, April 30 will feature Edward G. Robinson in a gripping drama entitled "Thunder in the City".

Neighbors Day

Sponsored by the Kentucky Sunday School Association, a special series of Sunday School Days is now being observed. April 11th was "Family Day", April 18th was "Friends Day" and April 25 will be "Neighbors Day".

The men of the Methodist Church in Louisville are promoting these special days and the report for the first Sunday, from only 11 churches shows an increase of 915 over the corresponding day last year.

Several years ago when "Neighbor's Day" was observed by the Sunday Schools of Kentucky, many people proved themselves to be real neighbors. In one town three neighbors got together and planned to have everyone in their neighborhood in Sunday School that day. They prepared a pledge to be signed by all who would help make up the Neighbor's Day crowd on the appointed Sunday. With this pledge they visited every home in their square to get signatures and they came very near getting one hundred per cent to promise. Next they painted signs reading "We are going to Sunday School" and hung them on all the front doors.

When Sunday arrived the committee was active in seeing that all the people were awake early, and preparations were made to get them all old and young—even to the babies—to the Sunday Schools. It was a great day. One fine thing about it was that many of those who came as visitors enjoyed it so much they became regular members of the Sunday School.

Another "Neighbor's Day" is coming. It will be April 25th. In many towns of Kentucky there will be large numbers of neighbors in the Sunday Schools that day.

This series of special Sundays will culminate in Go To Sunday School Day, May 2nd which is expected to be the biggest day of the series.

Six Men Guilty Of Careless Fires

Six men have entered pleas of guilty to charges of negligence in starting forest fires while burning new ground and brush during the past week, was the announcement today made by R. F. Hemingway, Supervisor of the Cumberland National Forest.

Those convicted were James Stewart and Arthur Mullins of Rowan County, John R. Phillips, Powell County, Henry French, Rockcastle County, Laurence Stapleton and Roscoe Profit of Menifee county.

Two of the men were given a fine of $10.00 and cost and four cases were continued generally. Although the forest fire situation on the Cumberland National Forest is not as acute as was the case last year, the Forest Service has already fought nearly eighty fires since January first. This improvement can be explained to a large degree by the splendid spirit of cooperation of the Forest in fire residents of the forest in fire prevention by reporting when they intend to burn and by using care

Ready for Louis

PAAL LAKE SISSIBAGAMA, Wisc. ... Preparing for coming title bout with Joe Louis is just one big year for Jimmy Braddock, the world's heavyweight champion, at his training camp here.

Headaches, backache and nervous troubles are sometimes caused by improperly fitted or the wrong kind of shoes. It is especially important that properly fitted shoes be worn during the growing years, if the feet are to be free from aches and pains in adult life.

with fire while in forest areas. "Law enforcement is necessary and will be used to the fullest extent in the reduction of fires caused through willfulness or negligence. Last year's total of 256 incendiary fires on the Cumberland National Forest is some indication of the necessity for this type of forest fire prevention," said Mr. Hemingway.

Human Cargo Cozy Feature

James Ryan, casting director at Twentieth Century-Fox's Hollywood studio, is ahead a new suit because Brian Donlevy miscalculated Hollywood's interest in himself.

A year ago Donlevy was marking time in Hollywood because the picture for which he had been summoned from New York was being held up due to illness in the cast. Visiting with Ryan and gossiping about experiences at the United States Naval Academy, Donlevy announced his intention of returning East.

"The studios aren't interested in me and I'm going back to Broadway," he declared.

"Stay here," advised Ryan, "and in six months you'll be so busy you'll wish you could get a few days rest."

"Bet you a suit of clothes," offered Donlevy.

Ryan was right. Beginning with his role of the killer in "Barbary Coast," Donlevy has done nearly a dozen pictures in a year, with no days off.

His latest appearance is opposite Claire Trevor in the new Fox hit, "Human Cargo," coming to the Cozy Theatre Friday and Saturday April 23 and 24.

- If you think that "all low-price cars cost about the same" — forget it! They don't. Ford makes a car — a 60-horsepower economy Ford V-8 — that sells from 30 to 60 dollars under the prices asked for any other car of comparable size. The lowest Ford prices in years!
- Check delivered prices in your town and see for yourself.
- Of course, first cost doesn't prove "low cost" — you must consider operating cost also.
- The "60" has definitely established itself as the most economical car in Ford history. Ford cars have been famous for economy for 34 years, so that means something!
- Owners who have driven it thousands of miles report that the Ford "60" averages between 22 and 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

You can prove those figures — on the open road — in a car provided by the nearest Ford dealer.

● When you've finished your personal check-up, ask yourself: "Do I want to save money the day I buy my car and every mile I drive it?"

"Do I want a safe, roomy, comfortable car of advanced design — created from the finest materials to the highest precision standards?"

There's only one answer, of course — the 1937 Ford V-8.

Ford V-8 at Dealership, Price $529.00. Includes 1937 Federal tax and title and Federal tax also.

Patterns of Wolfpen

By Harlan Hatcher

I will think of my father. I never heard him lift his tongue on anybody. Not even on the bad men coming into these hills and giving them a bad name. Why do men kill the good men? Because they sneak behind a rock from behind. They wouldn't, none of them, stand up to him eye to eye like a man straight and fair. 'Abral calls them dirty devils, and keeps saying to Jasper they ought to catch and hang them. Jesse thinks Sheriff Wadler'll get them because he has some clout. It might lead to more feeds. There's been too much feud-fighting in these hills. Daddy always said about those Harpers and McCurges. Patterns have kept out of any trouble ever since they've been here. The law's got to keep this valley an orderly place for a man and his family, he said that evening before he went away.

I guess that meant Jasper and his family. Jesse is wrapped up in the law and won't let 'em live here. 'Abral is right now getting ready to go on a raft. I hope he takes it around the curves without running into the bank. Or would it be better if he grounded? No. It wouldn't. He's been so confident. He ought to keep it. He'll go on down to Cincinnati or up to Pittsburgh, I'm sure, hearing Shellenbenger. He owes me for his board. He'll never offer it to me. He owes Daddy a thousand dollars on a note and a payment on the place. Jesse says it ought to have been a mortgage instead of a note. I don't know. Neither did Jesse either last fall. Jesse says he'll look after all that now. He says there is enough money for me to have twelve hundred dollars when I go with Reuben. Is that an awful lot of money? And Reuben has some saved. Maybe it would be enough to buy the orchard so we could start off in our own place. Reuben will be surprised. What did they used to call it? A Dowry? Reuben. I bring a dowry of twelve hundred dollars cash and a chest of linen made on the loom in Wolfpen. Mother had a chest, too, but no money. Only she was a beautiful girl, more than I am. I reckon if Shellenbenger gets his other debts paid it won't hurt me any to give him his vitals and his bed. Even if he did want two sheets all the time.

The house looks so little down there in the trees, but it appears happy again, like I understood it was about to start all over again with Jasper and Jane Burden. Saul and Louvrena, then Barton and Mima, then Tivis and Adah, then Sparrel' and Julia, and now Jasper and Jane, the people ending but the house going on and the things in it. Jane is a good girl. She's been at town a right smart but she is a good girl. She can't weave as well as Mother or me, but maybe she'll learn better. And she won't have the garden Mother made, with every cloed out no bigger than a nothin's egg, and the flowers all around the fence. But she can do all right and I don't begrudge her the place—much—only I'm right glad I'm going down to a cottage in an orchard looking over two rivers and three states to live in with Reuben. I'd rather be away and let Jane and Jasper have it the way they want it. She'll want things changed some and might she should, but I wouldn't want anything different from the way mother left it. And Jasper will ask her about things and not me. It is the custom and custom is a good thing. Mother coming up here me to get down there. I guess it is about the same, always new things for a body to get used to. I reckon it's life.

In a series of pictures and with few words formed she let her mind play over the things that touched her-life. Sitting there on the rocks high above the valley, each mountain ridge shouldering its blue-green mist above the purple fusion with the sky on the horizon. The graves on Cranesnest Shelf were wrapped in peace. The mill was idle and the abandoned wheel at rest. Behind her in Dry Creek she heard the shouts of men. She had not for a long time looked into that looking. Now she felt released from it and detached. She would turn and confront it from this high place. She rose from the ledge and climbed across the back of Pinnacle. The brown pine needles were thick on the thin soil under the clump of trees. Emerging, she stood on the jagged rock on the west, the sun in her face, and looked down into Dry Creek.

It was a changed place. The mountain tops were desolate and almost bald, now as far as she could see. Brush piles were scattered on the slopes. The round gray splashes of wood ashes from the burned heapes spotted the hills like the after-marks of a disease. A few scrubby, worthless and unprofitable trees, scorching and seared by the brush fires, withered among the dead stumps. Already a hundred intricately shaped gullies were outlined on the naked hills by the mud dry waters as it rushed down Dry Creek. The men were gathered about the mountains of logs at the splash dam and in Gannon creek linking rafts with tie-poles.

Death here also and destruction. Well, that's what that man has done to the woods. I reckon there's nothing one poor body can do about it—only watch the wind come over from Wolfpen to wake up the trees when the night's over, and then hurry and away because they're dead, like Grandfather Barton. Still, I guess you needn't weep over it, only just wait, and maybe all the little under-trees will grow up to meet the wind and hide the scars of Dry Creek. The earth is very old, and to her a season is only an evening and a morning. And death is no older and no stronger than is life.

Asks For Higher Grants
Lloyd, director of public assistance in the Kentucky department of Welfare, has written Kentucky Congressmen urging them to support more liberal federal grants to the needy aged.

Lloyd referred to bills introduced by Senator Hattie W. Caraway, Arkansas, and Representative William M. Colmer, Pascagoula, Miss., to boost the federal grants to a maximum $15 a month regardless of whether the state matches that amount.

Colmer's bill would fix the federal grants at the total amount now being received by each person on the old age assistance rolls, up to $15 a month. Senator Caraway aimed to provide minimum grant of $15 monthly from the federal government for all needy persons over 65 years of age. Both bills would amend the social security act.

Either measure should be passed by Congress and signed by the President. Kentucky members said, their state would be relieved of paying any part of old age assistance grants under the Kentucky law, which limits grants to any person to $15 monthly.

"You will readily see that if this amendment passes and becomes a law," Lloyd wrote, "it will mean a great deal to the commonwealth of Kentucky as it will enable us to get our proper share of federal aid in comparison to other states that have higher maximum grants than Kentucky at the present time."

"It will mean a great saving to Kentucky during the next fiscal year and may enable the next general assembly to grant higher assistance to the needy old people of the state in the future."

Under the social security act, the federal government duplicates, up to $15 a month, any old age assistance granted by the states. Kentucky's law calls for a maximum of half that amount, $7.50 from the state and $7.50 from the federal treasury. All the funds are distributed through the state agency. The average grant, federal officials announced recently is about $10.20 in Kentucky.

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF ROWAN COUNTY:

I wish to announce to the people of Rowan County my candidacy for the office of County Judge, subject to the action of the Republican Primary, August 7.

I have spent practically my entire life in Rowan County and have been associated with and am acquainted with most of the people. I was in the mercantile business at Elliottville for a number of years, have farmed and dealt in farmland and real estate for about thirty years, have taught in Rowan County schools for some twenty years and hold a Life Certificate. Four years ago I was elected a member of the Rowan County Board of Education, which position I now hold. I feel that my familiarity with economic and business conditions and the problems of the farmer and the tax-payer generally together with my business experience and educational qualifications fit me to give the people an efficient, economical and businesslike administration in the office which I seek.

To those who may not know me I wish to say that I invite your investigation of me and my record. To all voters I wish to say that your earnest consideration of my candidacy will be appreciated.

of the increase in the number of licenses. Another cause, even though not so important, is undoubtedly the decrease in the cost of the license this year over other previous years. This decrease has caused many who have postponed using their cars until late in the season to get their licenses earlier. The state patrolmen have also had an influence of the increase of the number of licenses, as they have worked diligently to see that every car being driven had provided itself with new 1937 tags.

But unquestionably the greatest cause is the increased number of automobiles in the county. Incidentally it is a marvel to the old citizens to observe the increasing number of automobiles in the county. Altogether there are nearly fifty girls taking part in the performance.
