Annual Clean Up Drive Gets Under Way

Truck Under Direction Of N.Y.A. Boys To Haul Trash From Premises This Week

In spite of the rain and disagreeable weather that has prevailed during the past few days Morehead is on the way to being a clean city. The annual Clean-Up drive, started on Monday of this week, under the direction of the Rowan County Women's Club, and has been progressing rapidly during the past few days. Trash that has accumulated during the winter months is being piled conventionally to the streets where the trucks will have little difficulty in picking it up on the rounds which will begin Friday. Lanes are being moved, trees are being trimmed, shrubs are being shaped for the summer season. By the end of the week, the city will have completed its annual spring cleaning in the houses as well as out and the city will again be the well kept place that has caused comment from out-of-state tourists passing through.

Every property holder is urged to take advantage of the opportunity to get his yard and premises cleaned up and the trash hauled away free of charge. The city council has agreed to furnish trucks to haul the trash to the city dump and all that is necessary to obtain the services of the truck is to call the city hall. The truck will be at your service any time during the next few days.

The city has been divided into sections with the N. Y. A. boys under the supervision of Mr. Oscar Farris, in charge. The boys will supervise the loading of the trash and direct the trucks where to pick it up.

Last week Mayor Harlan Blank used a proclamation setting aside the present week for the Clean-Up. Morehead housewives are also taking advantage of the opportunity to get a great deal of their spring housecleaning done. Many of the

Circus To Furnish Fun And Amusement

Only One Of Many Important Events Set For Thursday Of This Week

Rain or shine, the Haag brothers circus will be in Morehead Thursday morning. As it will be the first and probably the only circus to visit Morehead this year, the usual large crowd is expected to attend both performances.

It may be mentioned that Thursday will be more or less of a big day in Morehead, with at least two outstanding events. Thursday morning the unveiling ceremony at the college will draw a considerable crowd to witness the unveiling of the paintings of Judge Allie W. Young and Dr. F. C. Button. Hon. J. Dan Talbot, one of Judge Young's oldest friends and staunchest admirers will be in attendance and will deliver a eulogy on Judge Young. Mr. Talbot is at present Commissioner of Finance under Governor A. B. Chandler.

The afternoon will be turned over to the children, with the circus as the central attraction. Elephants, bears, wild animals, trapeze performers, tumblers, and what have you will furnish entertainment to the young and old who will remember when they were young. Everybody will want to see the circus and nearly everybody will.

Bayham Shoe Display At Midland Trail Hotel

Thursday morning will see the opening of the Bayham Shoe Company shoe display at the Midland Trail Hotel under the supervision of Mr. W. R. Allender. Mr. Allender will have the most complete line of shoes ever displayed in Morehead, with a price range that should make it easy to select the style and price you wish to buy.

The line will be on display Thursday and Friday and Mr. Allender will be glad to meet you and demonstrate the line to you.

Thirty Ask Degrees From Local College

Plans are completed for final week with Baccalaureate sermon Sunday May 30. Thirty students at Morehead State Teachers College have applied for degrees at the spring commencement on Thursday, June 3. Commencement week will begin on Sunday, May 30, with the Baccalaureate sermon in the college auditorium, presided by Rev. W. C. Hammock, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Versailles, Ky. Monday is class day, featured by the senior breakfast at the home of President and Mrs. H. A. Babbs, Wednesday, June 2, is Alumni Day.

Mav Day To Be Friday

Due to the rain which interfered with the carrying out of the May Day Program at the Morehead Public School on Tuesday of this week, the program has been postponed until Friday afternoon of this week, unless rain on that day again interrupts. Everyone is invited to attend the program.

Training School To Graduate Sixteen

To Hold Exercises On Monday May 30, With A Complete Home Talent Program. Commencement exercises for the sixteen seniors of Breckinridge Training School will be held on Monday, May 31, according to W. C. Lappin, director of the school. The plan of the program will be similar to that of last year, with no out-of-town speakers, but with the program and discussions furnished by members of the class. The class president, Bruce Rawlings will preside. Willard Keeton and Frances Peratt will deliver addresses on the subject "What Federal Government has Done" and "What the Federal Government Should Do for Education." Music for the program will be furnished by the school glee clubs and orchestra.

Derby Day Helps City

The annual trek to Louisville has begun. Every day cars from all over the state east of this city pass through Morehead on their way to the Mecca of all May tourists in this section, Louisville, the home of Churchill Downs and the Kentucky Derby.

This year has been no exception. For the past week visitors to the Derby have been passing through this city, stopping for lunch, stopping for gas and stopping for liquid refreshments.

Derby Day is essentially a Louisville day. But in the sense that every community along the Midland Trail and other through highways profit by the tourists on their way to Louisville, it has come to be a distinctly Kentucky Day. Morehead has entertained some rather notable visitors at lunch, supper and overnight in the past, as the result of travelers to the Derby.

Incidentally Morehead has always furnished her quota of Derby attendants and this year will send her usual number to see the greatest American race won and lost. Those who are not so fortunate as to be able to attend in person will be able to attend in spirit through the radio to get the first information as the horse that wins passed under the wire, and most of them will be polling for Billionaire. No that they think he has a chance, but because they want the Colonel Bradley horse to win.

Mrs. Roosevelt At West Liberty

May 24 will be a gala day for West Liberty, Morgan county and all of Eastern Kentucky, according to plans of County School Superintendent Ova L. Haney, of Morgan county.

ARTHUR HOGGE ASKS FOR COUNTY JUDGE

In this issue of The Rowan County News appears the announcement of Judge Arthur Hogge as a candidate for the office of County Judge, subject to the action of the Democratic voters at the August Primary, Saturday, August 7.

Judge Hogge has been prominent in Democratic politics for many years and is probably as well known throughout the county as any one man.

Judge Hogge will run his statement in a later issue of the news.

T. B. Clinic To Be Held Here Soon

Expected To Be Even More Successful Than That Held In County Last Year

Next week, on May 14 and 15, the second Tuberculosis clinic to be held in Rowan county will open, according to announcements made by Dr. T. A. E. Evans, county health doctor. The clinic is expected to attract even greater attendance than the clinic of last year when 154 cases were examined and reported on.

The clinic is expected to draw people from both Bath and Carter counties, as well as Rowan, as it is absolutely free, so far as examination are concerned. If it is necessary to have an X-Ray picture taken there will be a charge of one dollar, for the cost of the picture only. As the average fee for an X-Ray is around $10.00, it will be seen that this one dollar charge will scarcely cover expenses.

Arrangements are being made to hold the clinic in the auditorium building at the college, according to Dr. Evans. The purpose of the clinic is to determine cases of tuberculosis. Every one is invited to attend the clinic and to be examined, whether you believe you will be a danger to one dollar, for the cost of the picture only. As the average fee for an X-Ray is around $10.00, it will be seen that this one dollar charge will scarcely cover expenses.

Breck Rates High In Music Contest

Entrants From Local School Win Three Superiors And One Excellent

Breckinridge Training School of Morehead State Teachers College played a prominent part in the annual Kentucky High School Music Festival and Concert held last week end in Lexington on the University Campus. The senior high school mixed chorus and the junior high school girls glee club were given a rating of "superior," which is the top rating; and while the junior high school boys glee club received the next lower rating of "excellent," there were no "superiors" given in this event and the boys glee club was handicapped by the absence of several of its members.

Marian Louise Oppenheimer was rated "superior" in the soprano solo event and she was selected as one of nine who sang a soprano.

Monday Was Big Day At Local Post Office

Seventy One Money Orders Written For Large Sum In Biggest Day In History

Monday was a big day in Morehead, at least so far as the local post office was concerned. Beginning early and ending when the windows was closed Monday evening, the volume of the entire force was busy all day. Particularly was the money order window busy, busier than ever before. Applicants for money orders began to file in early in the morning and continued until the last minute.

As a result of the days work 71 money orders were issued during the day, the largest number ever issued in the history of the office. They were drawn for a total amount of $613.21.

All of which may be taken to heart by Morehead merchants, as if that money had been distributed

Expresses Surprise At Improvement In City Since He Left Eleven Years Ago

The Rowan County News enjoyed a brief visit from a former resident of this city on Monday of this week when C. S. Mark of Muncie, Indiana returned to Morehead for a visit with friends. Mr. Mark moved to Muncie from this city eleven years ago.

His father, Boone Mark built the building now known as the McKinley building on the corner of Main and Fairbanks Street and occupied by the A. B. McKinney store, over 50 years ago. He died in 1901.

Mr. Mark was greatly impressed with the improvement that has been made in the city in the past 11 years, and in the roads and highways leading into the city. One amusing feature of the change was that he attempted to visit the community of Hilda, but was unable to locate it, due to the changes wrought by the highway.

He will visit in Morehead for several days, renewing old acquaintances.

To Present Senior Play

The senior play, "He's My Pal" by Lillian Martimer, will be presented Monday evening, May 10th at the High School gymnasium. The play is under the direction of Grace G. D. Downing, who has charge of the arrangements. Plans were to have started this week, but due to the inclement weather prevented the start.

Seven teams will take part in the play, two from each of the freshman, sophomores and junior classes and one from the senior class.

THE GRADE CROSSING PROBLEM

More persons were killed last year at railway grade crossings than in any year since 1931, according to reports by the safety section of the Association of American Railroads. Nearly five thousand persons were injured, and 1,786 were killed while trying to cross railroad tracks ahead of a train. Most of these were careless, impatient motorists, who either disregarded warning signals or took reckless chances in the effort to beat the oncoming train to the crossing. Many of them even crashed through the crossing gates, a form of recklessness which can only be accounted for by gaudiness or intoxication.

Of all the different kinds of accidents which befall people, it would seem that there is less excuse for those which follow the attempt to dispute the right of way with a railroad train, than for any other. Yet many of the reported deaths occurred because the motor driver ran his car square into the side of a moving train!

The railroads are doing a great job of guarding crossings with bells, flickering lights and other unmistakable warnings, and with gates and crossings watchmen wherever there is even moderate motor traffic. Motoring recklessness seems to reach its peak when crossing watchmen holding up their "stop" signals are run down and killed. That has happened a number of times.

The ultimate solution, of course, of the grade-crossing problem will be the elimination of all crossings of highway and railroad on the same level. But in some states where a program of grade-crossing abolition has been under way for years, the number has actually increased. One crossing is eliminated by a highway viaduct or underpass, and somewhere else a new county road is opened which crosses the railroad at grade. Cost enters into the question, of course. It would take billions to abolish all the grade crossings in America, and where is the money coming from? The railroads can't do it, and states and counties are reluctant to spend highway funds for that purpose. Moreover, the question always arises as to whether the highway should cross above or below the railroad tracks. In thickly settled districts such questions give rise to endless and obstructive local disputes.

Meantime, the old rule of "stop, look and listen," is the only safe one for motorists to follow.

THREE-DIMENSION LIVING

Three-Dimension living consists of living in the past, the present and the future all at the same time.

The past is a store house of inspiration, experience and tender memories. Sift out the good from the past and let it help you find happiness today. Unreeling your book of joyful memories will bring peace and contentment into your life. Following the guide posts of past mistakes will enable you to steer clear of the rocks today.

Live today. Grasp the present moment and squeeze out of it all the joy and inspiration and power in it. Make your life count today. Grow bigger today. Do good work today.

Protect yourself into the future. Dream dreams. Make plans and lay foundations under them with hard work. Plan a bigger, broader, more worthwhile life. Reach beyond today.

CLAYTON NEWS

A. J. Stamper of Whitelake, Wis., died on January 18 and was brought to the family cemetery near Wyett for burial on May 2. Dave Mabry of Whitelake accompanied the body to Kentucky.

His wife, Belle Stamper and six children, Mrs. Sallie Mabry, Mrs. Nola Bowling, Ancel Sherman, Bessie and Fannie Stamper, all of Whitelake survive him.

He is also survived by six brothers and three sisters and a host of relatives and friends in this community to mourn his death. The bereaved ones have our deepest sympathy in this their sad bereavement.

He was kept by his family in Wisconsin three months and fourteen days after his death, so that when the weather in Wisconsin would permit his remains might be laid to rest on the old home farm in Kentucky, where he was born and raised. He looked very natural and the body was in good condition in spite of the time that had elapsed since his death.

Hooper (he was known by his many friends here) was of a kind gentle and loving disposition, he was always ready to lend a helping hand to his friends and neighbors in time of need or trouble.

We feel sure that his friends in Wisconsin will miss him, as we missed him when he left us to make his home in that state.

Funeral services were conducted at the home of his brother Jim Stamper, by the Rev. Carl of Olive Hill, Ky., and Rev. Barker of Newfoundland, Ky. The people attending the funeral was estimated to be about 700.

His father, uncle John Stamper, and aunt Lizzie and a brother, Berry Stamper, preceded him in death several years.

We realize that no words of consolation, that we might say can heal the wound that has been made in the hearts of his loved ones, by his departure. Time only can do that.

We can only point them to the one that doeth all things well. B. F. Fannin.

Social Security Board

Employees over 65 in Rowan County, who work in factories, shops, mines, mills, stores, offices, and other places of business not excluded under the Old-Age Benefits and Unemployment Compensation programs of the Social Security Board may now get Social Security Account Numbers according to an announcement made today by S. H. Orubecker, Field Representative of the Board in Ashland, Ky.

Explaining the reasons for this new registration, Mr. Orubecker stated that the step was taken primarily as an aid to States in administering unemployment compensation laws. Application for an account number by an employee 65 years of age or over is voluntary in so far as the Social Security Act is concerned. However, the same type of account number card will be issued to those 65 years of age and over as has been issued to the workers.

State unemployment compensation laws," said Orubecker, "cover workers of all ages. Since State agencies will use Social Security Account Numbers, such account numbers are needed for workers 65 years of age and over as well as for the younger employees. In order to promote efficiency and uniformity, therefore, we are allowing for enumeration by all workers on a voluntary basis."

Procedure to be followed by aged workers is the same as that for others. They should get their application blanks at the local post office or at the office of the Social Security Board, and after filling them out completely, transmit them to the local post office which will issue the number. No postage is needed in mailing applications to post offices.

Mr. Orubecker emphasized that information on applications for account numbers, by agreements between the official State unemployment compensation administration, and the Social Security Board will be as absolutely confidential and will be used by the State agencies as well as by the Social Security Board solely in administering Social Security laws.

Use of account numbers by States in administering unemployment compensation laws and their use by the Federal Government will be advantageous to employers as well as workers in that only one number need be recorded for both the Federal Old Age Benefits plan and State unemployment compensation program.

Voluntary registration for the purposes outlined does not entitle an aged worker to the regular benefits of the Federal program. Requirements for such benefits are established by the Act and are not changed by the new ruling. Those requirements are: A worker must have earned not less than $2,000 in covered employment since December 31, 1936. He must have worked at least one day at such employment in five different calendar years after that date and before age 65, before regular monthly benefit payment can be made to him.

Unemployment Commission

Frankfort, Kentucky, April 30 — Last week the Unemployment Compensation Commission achieved two major administrative goals. Field men were sent to Paducah, Bowling Green, Owensboro, Louisville, Covington and Ashland to assist agencies in those cities in the preparation of their employee-employer contribution reports. The goal was the transfer to Washington of $2,200,000 which represented in the greater part the amount of 1936 employer contributions. This transfer of funds caused quite a stir in official circles at Frankfort. The State Auditor admitted that it was the largest warrant ever drawn in the history of the State and the State Treasurer declared it was the largest check ever written in the Commonwealth's history.

It is estimated that in 1937, there will be transferred to Washington a little more than $9,000,000.00. The increase over the preceding year is explained by V. E. Barnes, executive director of the Commission, this way. Employer contributions will be doubled over the year 1936. With this, the employee will contribute as much as the employer did last year; and that the act reach its employers of four or more in 1937 whereas it only reached employers of eight or more last year.

Patterns of Wolfpen

She held the skirt of her wedding gown above the grass and went to the tree. She reached for the long spray that hung over the well by, bending it down and looking back over her shoulder at Reuben who had followed her, watching her. She smiled at him across the blossoms.

You're as pretty as a picture there, he said. Then he broke the branch for her and she carried it along her arm as she went back to the porch for the ceremony. She held it in her hand across her breast when she said to Amos Barnes for Reuben, I do. And when Reuben placed the ring on her finger she held the spray on her right arm, thinking. The actual marrying itself is simple. I guess it is the feel in a body's heart that makes it not simple. Do you take this man to be your wedded husband? and for all that means a funeral. Then the dinner was laid on the long tables on the porch and in the dining room and kitchen. The men were merry. The women were efficient in serving the food. It was almost as if no new thing had come into the hills, as if Cynthia were not marrying a man from down the river, but a Gannon Creek boy. Then it was said that Reuben was one of the Pike County Warrens who went to Lawrence and Scioto Counties in Ohio at the time Julia Pattern's people went there, and that seemed to make the union complete.

Many of the women brought gifts to Cynthia of needle work and the loom. It ain't much, Cynthia, and nothing you couldn't do yourself, but you can remember us by it.

As if I needed anything to make me remember all you folks.

Shellenberger brought gifts, a gray telescope with leather bound edges and brass corners and yellow straps around it, and a silk umbrella. You've been mighty good to me you and your folks. Here's a gift present for you. I wish you much happiness. That was all he ever said about the board money. The people thought the gifts princely, in keeping with Shellenberger and the fine words on a cultivated tongue. Cynthia at first hardly knew whether to take them or not. But the telescope was a beautiful piece of luggage for a young bride going away for the first time on a far journey, and she had never had an umbrella. A body doesn't pay money for a place to sleep and a bite to eat in our country, anyway. I never it was right nice of him to think of it.

In the evening when the people were gone away, Hessie Mason remained, silently waiting a chance to say a word with Cynthia. Ma was a right smart worried she couldn't come.

I wish she could have come, Hessie. You tell her I should I ask her about Doug? or just let it pass like it is? Ask, just as if nothing ever happened. And how is Doug?

There was reproach in the fellow eyes as Hessie spoke. He still frets a sight. He's been coming down some now. He's learning to do things all right now. He plowed the garden yesterday. If he turns his head to the off side, he can see the furrows. He stumbles a bit, and when he cuts too wide a swath he gets in a fit of temper. It makes a body right heart-sick to watch him. If some body had done the right thing by him it wouldn't never have happened. He won't give up. He's going to do all the plowing I reckon he'll get along all right. All this she uttered in a slow even voice.

I hope he does, Hessie.

He's powerful proud. He knew he couldn't have you after he happened to him. He'd kill hisself to try to do about the place just like nothing happened. He won't let anybody say anything about it.

This seemed to be the thing she wanted to say, more with her eyes full of reproach and the tone of her voice than with the words. Cynthia did not go on with it. It would be idle to try to explain it. So Hessie could understand. She handed her a basketful of things from the table.

Jasper got her mule and let it up to the horse-block. She gave Cynthia a last look from her hooded eyes and sorrow face. I guess I'll be going now. You leaving tomorrow?

Yes. Tomorrow morning, Cynthia said, watchin' her ride stolidly through the gate.

Cynthia's shoulders trembled and she ran to the porch where Reuben was standing. She slipped her arm through his for his reassurance and look out up at him. He smiled at her and stroked his hair.

I hope we're going to have the sun for our trip on the boat tomorrow. I am sure we will.

The evening was soft with spring and the pale moon. Cranesnest was quiet under the stars. The Milky Way lay like a wisp of fog once more over Wolfpen as it had lain in the days of Saul Pattern, calm and immemorable above the affairs of this hollow. Looking up the dark hillside to the night sky Cynthia had the sensation that the year was a dream and the events that had befallen it no more substantial than this plume of white mist in the space above her.

They sat in the evening as a family on the old porch. Tivis and Snare had buried Lucy and her family. Jesse and Abrah, Jenny, Cynthia and Reuben. The talk was of the life on Wolfpen through the years, of the incidents in their family life. Reuben sat very quietly holding Cynthia's hand. Cynthia going out to be one of the family for a sentence or two, then hurrying back to be lost in her world with Reuben. Married. My name is not Pattern any more but Warren. Cynthia Warren. Mrs. Reuben Warren. His hand is hot. In a little while we will go to bed. Together. I always thought I would be plagued and hateful. A-hen. But I'm not. We've been married now, eleven to about eight, say nine or ten hours his wife. I

Woman Wise At Cozy Theatre

When Hollywood film scouts raided the advertising agencies, photographers' and commercial artists studios and magazine offices to kidnap the handsome young men and women who graced all sorts of advertising and story illustrations, they found that the men had a three times better chance to make good on the screen than girls.

One particularly distinguishing model who overcame difficulties to make a screen name for himself is Michael Whalen, young Twentieth Century-Fox player featured opposite Rochelle Hudson in "Woman-Wise," sporting thriller coming Friday and Saturday to the Cozy Theatre.

Michael, by chance, met the great illustrator James Montgomery Flagg after the closing of the show he was in left him stranded.

Am ready, Reuben. I love you.

Abrah broke the circle and everybody arose.

I got some news for you Cynthia. Mrs. Warren, tomorrow I go down Gannon with a raft. And I'm coming up to Pittsburgh. He stamped a few big steps in his excitement.

Don't ram it into Hart's barn down on that bend.

I go around all the curves. I'll be curving them before you're up, and I'm going to bed.

Cynthia had put on the walnut bed the bee-zed pillow case, the fine sheets Julia had hemstitched, and the choicest of the colored quilts wrought into intricate needle work patterns. She was poignantly aware of Reuben in the room. She did not light the lamp or candle. The glow from the moon filtered into the room. She stood for a minute looking down the hollow. It was stirring with spring and there was a whispering among the trees on the hillside. She could hear Reuben in movement in the room behind her. Under the moon the pear tree by the well looked to be bursting into full bloom under the pent-up urge of its nature. Reuben's movements had ceased and the room was quiet. She turned from the window. Reuben was standing by the footpost of the bed. She moved joyously toward him through the dim moonlight.

Flagg needed a model, and the handsome Irish actor was just what he wanted.

Soon other prominent illustrators and commercial photographers, including John LaGatta, Arthur William Brown and Henry Rawleigh, demanded his services. His likeness soon was plastered throughout the world, advertising everything from cigarettes to hats.

Flagg and Michael became fast friends, and when Michael decided to try Hollywood, the artist financed the trip. The fact that his face had appeared in all the leading national publications was no help to him in the cinema capital. Soon, however, his real ability won him a contract.

In the role of a crusading sports editor in "Woman-Wise" who is fighting a desperate battle with prize-ring racketeers in an attempt to keep the game straight, Michael finds great dramatic opportunities in addition to the engaging romantic aspect with Rochelle Hudson.

Which is by the way of announcing that you can look forward to seeing dark-eyed Charles Boyer and blonde Jean Arthur, filmdom's newest and most exciting love team, romancing in "Water Wagner's new 'History is Made at Night' which comes to the College Theatre on Friday.

This sparkling romance from the pens of Hollywood's madcap writing team, Gene Towe and Graham Baker, casts Boyer and Jean as Europe's most dashing head waiter and a gorgeous American mannequin who meet in Paris under very romantic circumstances and fall in love at first sight.

"The ensuing romance takes them across the Atlantic and back aboard a crack transatlantic luxury liner and moves against a background of lavish modern settings, including the smartest restaurants of New York and Paris, and winds up in a surprise climax that promises to be the talk of the town.

Leo Carrillo and Colin Clive are featured in "History is Made at Night" which Frank Borzage directed for release through United Artists. Others prominent in the cast are Ivan Lebedeff, George Meeker, Lillian Prival and Georges Renaud.

Watch for other great productions at the College including Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers in "Shall We Dance" and "The Woman I Love."

Centre Host At First Track Meet

Eagles To Be Represented At Danville May 15

With the innovation of track as a competitive sport here at Morehead, eyes will be focused with no little interest on the outcome of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference track and field meet to be held on Cheek Field in Danville, Ky., May 15. Coach Ed Kubale and his Centre College Colonels will act as hosts for the second consecutive year. The Eagles have not scheduled any meets prior to the state affair and will be seriously handicapped by lack of experience. Few if any of the Moreheadians have competed in a meet before, and are not expected to carry away honors.

The squad under the tutelage of Coach Ellis Johnson, is rounding into a semblance of condition, but most of the sprint men are woefully slow. The distance men, however, are coming along rapidly and it is here, if anywhere, that the Blue and Gold will look for victory.

U. OF K. TO MEET EAGLES TUESDAY

Next Tuesday the University of Kentucky swim team will meet the Eagles at the local natatorium, in the last dual meet of the season, according to Coach Downing. The meet will start at 7:00 o'clock p. m. The state meet will be held here on Saturday, May 15. Letters have been sent to every college in the state asking for their entries at an early date. They should be received in time for publication next week. Coach Downing who has charge of the affair, is hoping for either teams or individuals to be entered from every college in the state.

Mrs. Roosevelt (Continued From Page One)

West Liberty will probably be the scene of the greatest gathering in the history of this section on that day, when they will dedicate the newly completed county high school building in that neighboring city, and will entertain Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as the guest of honor at the dedicatory ceremony.

The high school building, which is recognized as one of the best in the state, was built with WPA assistance. It occupies a site near door to the old building and is built of native rock, making one of the most impressive buildings possible, a grey stone edifice, dedicated to the youth of the county.

Mrs. Roosevelt, Governor A. B. Chandler and other notables have promised to attend the dedication ceremonies, and their presence insures the largest crowd that will ever be assembled in West Liberty. So far as The News has been able to learn every-able-bodied man, woman and child of this community plans on journeying to the neighboring city to assist them in honoring the First Lady on her first visit to Eastern Kentucky.

solo part in one of the numbers by the All-Kentucky High School Chorus, this chorus, numbering 385 youthful singers was conducted by Dr. Hollis Dann, professor Emeritus of New York University. Twelve Morehead singers sang with this group in Friday afternoon's concert, having rehearsed Wednesday evening all day Thursday, and Friday morning. The Breckbridge delegates were: Mary McClurg Adkins and Marion Louise Oppenheimer, Cherry Falls and Frances Peratt soprano; Elizabeth Blair, Juanita Lewis, and Mary Adeline McKinney altos; Calvin Crosthwaite, Frank Miller and Mortie Raymond, tenors; and Billie Black and J. Warren Blair, basses.

The annual Alumni-Senior dance will close the day's activities.

Thursday, June 3, the Commencement program will be held in the college auditorium, with the commencement address delivered by Governor A. B. Chandler.

The following is the list of those who have applied for degrees:

among the various merchants of this city, it would have increased their receipts by a considerable amount. The question is are the Morehead merchants allowing Morehead to become a money order. Mail order town? It's worth thinking about.

T. B. Clinic (Continued From Page One)

In this section to be honored with a second clinic, although several of the other counties have asked for one. This is an opportunity to make use of the free service extended by the state and federal government, and it is hoped by the health authorities that everyone will take advantage of the opportunity.

Basketball Schedule To Be "Tough"

Sixteen Games Scheduled For Next Winter

Morehead's surprising 'Eagles, who compiled the best record in the state in games won and lost during the 1936-37 basketball wars, will tackle ten conference foes in sixteen engagements during the 1937-38 campaign, according to Ellis Johnson, Blue and Gold mentor.

The Eagles play nine home games and seven on the road with the possibility that two or three warm-up games will be added. The Eagles open here on December 1 against the Pioneers of Transylvania.

homes are being painted inside and out, and the drive this year looks to be even more successful than in previous years.

There are few rules to observe in this cleanliness contest. Simply mow your lawn, trim your trees and shrubs, and be careful to pile all trash in one pile near the street where it will be convenient to the truck. Then call the city hall and the truck will be at your service.

It will make the rounds of the city during the last days of this week, picking up the trash. There really is not much to it, except a spirit of cooperation and a determination to really Clean-Up Morehead. Civic pride will tell you what to do.

Every citizen of Morehead is expected to do his part in the Clean-Up. If every citizen of Morehead does his part, there will be no question as to the results when the drive closes Saturday night.
