

THE PORTSMOUTH TIMES

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1892.

SOUNDS FROM THE STREETS.

The benefit ball for Dan Drake cleared $186.

The McKinley bill forest fires were quenched Tuesday by a tariff reform rain.

An exchange remarks that the fool turkey continues to take on fat for thanksgiving day.

A young ladies' (?) base ball club from New York is to play the Sciotoville Acmes at 2 this afternoon.

The water works trustees are offering 5 per cent discount to consumers who will pay their water rates promptly.

Dr W. S. Samson, a brilliant young physician at Flats, has gone to Baltimore to take a course through the celebrated John Hopkins hospital.

The paving of west Second is carried only as far as the railroad crossing to Reitz's stone factory and not to the bridge, as is generally supposed.

The "Indian Head" is peeping above *
the water and is being visited by many.
The names of some of our old time citizens can be plainly seen cut therein.