Jerry Dye Is Given Twenty-One Years By Circuit Court

Jury Is Out Only Fifteen Minutes; Appeal Considered By Defense

Outstanding in the events that have taken place during the June term of the Rowan Circuit court which has been in session since Monday of last week, and which is now drawing to a rapid close, was the trial of Jerry Dye charged with the murder of Jay Bailey. The Dye case occupied the last four days of last week and attracted the largest crowd that has been assembled recently to attend a session of the court. The trial began on Wednesday with the selection of the jury, which was finally accepted last Thursday afternoon. The Commonwealth immediately put four witnesses on the stand, whose testimony undoubtedly convinced Dye in the final analysis.

The Commonwealth attempted to prove that the shooting of Bailey was a premeditated affair and witnesses testified that he was defenseless and unarmed when Dye shot him emptying his pistol into his body. The defense offered a self-defense plea, claiming that there had been bad feelings between the two men, that Bailey had threatened Dye and that he was attempting to interfere with Dye in the performance of his duty as a deputy sheriff.

Attorney's pleas were made Saturday morning and the jury returned a verdict of guilty after being out 15 minutes, fixing the sentence at 21 years. Defense attorneys are considering an appeal. On Monday the trial of Everett Owens, charged with the murder of Miss Pitts was held, resulting in a verdict of not guilty for Owens. The killing occurred several weeks ago. Owens was able to prove self-defense.

Over cases of importance tried or continued to the next term were as follows: Orville Fouch charged with cutting and wounding Clarence Williams, resulted in a hung jury. Beecher Williams charged with seduction, continued to second day of next term. Fred McClurg charged with seduction, continued to second day of next term. Orville Brown charged with breaking into a store house, continued to third day of next term. Medie Botts charged with driving an automobile without license, fined $10.00 and costs. Boone Lands charged with shooting and wounding, continued to second day of next term. Andy Roberts charged with assault, continued to second day of next term.

All-Day Festival Tribute To Efficiency Of Present Administration

Citizens from all over the Commonwealth drew together in La Grange, Ky. this past Saturday, to pay homage to "Happy" Chandler on "Governor's Day." An all-day festival, which brought together the largest crowd ever to gather in Oldham County, was a recognition of the Governor's "homestead" economy and progress of administration. Senator A. W. Barkley made the principal address. Other speakers included former Governor J. C. W. Beckham and Congressman Brent Spenceman.

A battery of picked men of the 138th Field Artillery from Louisville paraded before the speaking stand. Two military bands were present. The day's festivities were climaxed by an address from Governor Chandler who related the things his administration has accomplished thus far. Those from Morehead to go to La Grange were Senator and Mrs. C. E. Nickell, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hogge, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Flood and G. D. Downing.

Grand Jury Makes Final Check - Up

Declare Road Machinery Idle; Jail Inmates At Largest Compliance W.P.A. Dept.

The Rowan County Grand Jury in its final report after making 29 indictments, returned information to the fact that it had found road machinery standing idle, jail inmates, running at large, made a survey of the county's tax machinery, advocated repairs to the Court House, and commended the office of the W. P. A. Department.

They declared that their investigation had covered the county in the "most effective way possible." The report set out follows: Hon. D. B. Caudill, Circuit Judge: Your Grand Jury for final report say: We have been in session for seven days and have presented in open court 29 indictments. Our investigation has covered the county in the most effective way possible. When facts were sufficient we have reported true bills. Aside from indictments, we have tried to learn the conditions of the county affairs, that we might bring you the facts as we have found them.

Roads We have found that there has been entered upon the Fiscal Court Book of the County an order providing for the application of all road funds representing some 11 thousand dollars to two particular roads, to be expended when an equal amount has been provided from another source. ## Nickell's Prophecy Comes True In Recent Decision

CCC Enrollees Cut By Recent Decision

Dispatch Received By Local Certifying Agent Sets New Standards

Mrs. Hattie B. Baumstark, Rowan County Certifying Agent for the Civilian Conservation Corps, has received information to the effect that Kentucky's requisition for enrollees has been cut substantially, the age limit for enrolling lowered, and individual minimum allotments to dependent relatives brought down three dollars per month.

The dispatch came from the office of George H. Goodman, CCC administrator, Louisville. Kentucky's requisition for the month of July will permit the enrollment of but 300 junior enrollees. Each local agent is to be allowed to re-enroll no more than four and no less than two men.

Effective July 1, 1937 the National quota strength is brought down from 350,000 to 300,000 with an average of 1000 per State. Kentucky's according to its population or basic quota, is 5,855—approximately 4,000 in excess of the new basic quota. Enrollment shortage in other States caused Kentucky's excess. The Louisville dispatch explained.

On the basis of these figures Kentucky is not entitled to enroll anyone in the CCC during July. The Federal Department of Labor (Continued On Page Two)

Running For Democratic Nomination; Field Office From 1929-1933

In this issue appears the announcement of Sanford Bowling for the office of Jailer of Rowan County, subject to the action of the Democratic voters at the primary on August 7. Mr. Bowling is well known to all the voters of Rowan county, having served as Jailer of the county for a term of four years, from 1929 to 1933 and having made an unsuccessful race for the same office in 1934.

Mr. Bowling is making an intensive campaign for the nomination to the office and while the time is short he hopes to see all the voters before the primary. If this is impossible he asks that the voters give his candidacy consideration.

Position Of Senator On Junior College Bill Is Vindicated By Court

Announcement of the decision of the Court of Appeals in the case of the Junior College at Ashland, in which the Court declared unconstitutional that part of the bill making the Junior College possible, which would make it a part of the common school system and permit the collection of additional taxes for a support of the same, a complete vindication for the position taken by Senator Clarence E. Nickell at the time the bill was under discussion in the Senate before its passage. At that time Senator Nickell voiced his opinion on the floor of the senate that that particular clause in the bill would prove to be unconstitutional if ever taken to the Court of Appeals. In the ruling handed down that week the senate held in strict accordance with Senator Nickell's contention.

The bill provided for the establishment of a junior college at Ashland as a part of the common school system of that city and provided also that a tax of from 5 to 7 cent could be collected for the support of the college. The court held that the part of the bill making the junior college possible was constitutional but held that part of it, which permitted the collection of taxes without a referendum vote of the people was unconstitutional and declared it inoperative.

The Junior College bill drew heavy fire from Morehead while it was being weighed at Frankfort last winter, and reports were freely circulated that Senator Nickell, who is Dean of Men at the local college did not oppose the bill and voted in favor of it when it was up. As a matter of fact Senator Nickell spoke against the bill, pointing out that that provision which was condemned by the Court of Appeals was unconstitutional and that the provision would render the bill inoperative when so declared. He also voted against its passage.

Since the ruling of the Court of Appeals, the sponsors of the Junior College bill are obliged either to submit the matter of raising taxes to a vote of the people of Ashland or find some other means of raising the necessary money, with which to operate the college. It seems to be the consensus of opinion of those who sponsor the bill in the last special session, that the people will refuse to vote the additional taxes upon themselves.

MRS. W. W. WILSON DIES NEAR PARIS; KNOWN HERE

Was Member Of Baptist Church; Sister Of Mrs. C. B. Lane

Last Friday, brought to many Morehead citizens the sad news of the death of Mrs. W. W. Wilson. As her Pastor, I wish to give this brief obituary. Theocodia Towry Wilson was born near Princeton, Ky., seventy-one years ago. She later became the wife of Mr. W. W. Wilson, with whom she moved to a farm at Crofton, Ky., near Hopkinsville. Here they lived together until their children were of enough to demand further education, whereupon they moved with the family to Providence, Ky. There they remained for several years, after which they returned to the farm at Crofton, and spent several nappy years there together.

About 1930 Mr. Wilson became ill and was brought to the home of his son, W. C. Wilson, in Lexington, where he remained until his death in 1932. There were five children born to these parents, named as follows (Continued On Page Two)

Kaze, Pastor of Baptist Church.

Written each week by Rev. B. H. Kaze, Pastor of Baptist Church.
Subject: God Hears A People Cry.
Exodus 19:14-23:25.

"Before they call I will answer, and while they are speaking I will hear." Isaiah 65:1.
In beginning a new quarter's brief foreword is in order. We will study this quarter "God in the Making." The reference is to Israel, and brings up the question, Why did God build a nation? His purpose was to form a nation out of a body of slaves who would owe their deliverance and origin as a people to him only, with whom he might deposit his oracles and through whom he might work out his plan of salvation for every nation. "Salvation is of the Jews" said Jesus to the Samaritan woman, but this did not mean that it was for them only, but by or through them.
Israel erred in developing a national religion. God meant it for the whole world, through the Jews. This error appears in modern times in the form of the state church. There was and is nothing more foreign to the purpose of Jesus than the establishment of a worldly state, such as the religion of Rome. "My kingdom is not of this world" he said. Thus we find that religion is a matter for the individual soul, and only as the individual soul is converted to the spirit and knowledge of Christ through the miracles of divine transformation, will a nation ever become Christian.
The lesson for this week teaches us that God has to work out his purpose for his people, through his people, and that in so doing, he must bring them through sorrow and bitterness of experience. Joseph did. There Israel lost a great friend. But that was not all; they got an oppressor. They fell into slavery. They had depended on Joseph, and they must depend on God. That is what God was trying to teach them. We must each learn this great lesson, not to depend on any of our friends but to depend on God. Under severe persecutions the Israelites turned their thoughts to a better country. And God had one waiting for them, one which he had promised to Abraham—Canaan. He carried up the old nest of Egypt with pain and suffering to make his people want to go to Canaan. He has to set up our old nest with suffering to make us want to go home.
At last they "cried unto God." Conditions grew worse. One king after another was more severe. The Israelites ceased to look to the throne for help and turned to God in earnest and prevailing cries. God heard them and remembered his covenant with their fathers concerning them. It was not their bondage that arrested his attention, but the cries they made because of it. And when God hears a wail of distress that is addressed to him, his Almighty arm swings into action. God hears a nation when its individual souls cry to him.

Mrs. Wilson Dies
In order of ages:
The first died in infancy W. C. Wilson, Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. F. D. Powell, Paris, Ky.; Mrs. A. T. Frye, Dawn, Texas; Mrs. Clark Lane, Morehead, Ky.
Mrs. Wilson died last Friday, June 25th at the home of her daughter, Mrs. P. D. Powell, in Paris. Her body was laid to rest at Providence, Ky., Monday, June 28th, at 9:30 a. m.
During the last few years of her life, Mrs. Wilson spent much time at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lane, here in Morehead. She came into the fellowship of the Morehead Baptist Church soon after she came here. She had been a member of a Baptist church since girlhood, and it is not surprising to learn that she could, with ripe experience, "speak the language of Zion" with a spiritual understanding that is not usual. She naturally became a great blessing to our church fellowship, and a personal blessing to the Pastor. I personally feel a keen loss in her home-going. I have no hesitancy in saying up before our people as a model of Christian piety and spiritual living. While that is true of her as a character, Mrs. Wilson was ever humbly conscious of her spiritual need, and was always ready to express that need along with the poorest in spirit. The women of our church had in her a spiritual guide which will be greatly missed.
While the loss to the church and community of such a godly character is great, we cannot but rejoice with Mrs. Wilson in her well-earned entrance into the home of her

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF ROWAN COUNTY:

After having been urged by a number of the voters of this county, I have decided to announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for Jailer of Rowan County.
I want to first thank those loyal supporters who were so faithful to me in my campaign for this office one year ago and assure them of my appreciation for all that they did for me. I ran a straight, clean race in my former campaign and I will do so this year.
I was born in Rowan County and have spent my entire life of 34 years in this county. I have never held an elective office. In my campaign for Jailer four years ago I was defeated for the nomination by a majority of 23 votes.
If the Republicans of Rowan County will nominate me to this office and the voters will elect me in November, I promise that the duties of Jailer will be carried out as provided by the Statutes of Kentucky. The Jail, Court House, Public Square and any other public buildings legally placed in my hands will be kept in a clean and sanitary condition at all times and all prisoners committed to my custody by legal order will be kept as safe and attractive in appearance as I am able to make them.
Due to the fact that it is only a very short time until the Primary, I perhaps shall not be able to see and talk with every voter, but I assure you that I shall try to see and talk with every one of you and further assure you that I shall certainly appreciate anything that you may do in my behalf and hope that by your vote will say that I am the man for the job.
Respectfully,
MARVIN E. ADKINS

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER

She Turned Him Down Because He Had "No Prospects"—His Name Was—John D.

John D. Rockefeller had done two astonishing things:
First, he had amassed probably the greatest fortune in all history. He started out in life hoisting potatoes under the boiling sun for four cents an hour. In those days, there were but half a dozen men in all the United States who were worth even one million dollars; but John D. managed to amass a fortune estimated at anywhere from one million to two billion dollars.
And yet the first girl he fell in love with refused to marry him. Why? Because her mother said she was not going to let a daughter of hers "throw herself away" on a man who had such "poor prospects" as John D. Rockefeller.

The second astonishing thing that Mr. Rockefeller did was this: He gave away more money than anyone else had done in all history. He had given away $750,000,000, and that means that he had given away seventy-five cents for every minute that had passed since he was the birth of Christ—or to put it another way, John D. had given away six hundred dollars for every day that has dawned since Moses led the children of Israel across the Red Sea, three thousand five hundred years ago.
He had been one of the most bitter hated men in America. He had given thousands of letters from people threatening to kill him. He had to be protected day and night by armed body-guards. He had endured the building up and physical strain of business and managing all his far-flung enterprises. The strain of business killed Harman, the railroad builder at sixty-one.
Woolworth founded his vast chain of five-and-ten cent stores and was done with life at sixty-seven.
"Buck" Duke made a hundred million dollars out of tobacco and died at sixty-eight.
But John D. Rockefeller had made a far greater fortune than Woolworth, Duke and Harman all put together; and lived to ninety-seven. And remember, only ninety white men in a million ever reach the age of ninety-seven—and there is probably not one man in a hundred million who ever reaches ninety-seven without needing artificial teeth. But John D. at ninety-seven hadn't a false tooth in his head.
What was the secret of his long life? He probably inherited a tendency to live long. And this tendency was strengthened by a calm, placid disposition. He never got excited and he never was rushed.

When he was head of the Standard Oil Company, he had a couch in his office at 26 Broadway; and some odd nights he had a half hour nap every day at noon.
When John D. Rockefeller was fifty-five, he had a physical breakdown. That was one of the happiest accidents that ever happened in the whole history of medicine; for because of his own illness, John D. was stimulated to give millions to medical research. As a result of his ill health, the Rockefeller Foundation is spending almost a million dollars a month to promote health throughout the world.
I was in China during the terrible cholera epidemic of 1932, and in the midst of all that poverty and ignorance and disease, I was able to walk into the Rockefeller Medical College at Peking, and get a vaccination for cholera. Never until then had I realized how much Rockefeller was doing for suffering humanity in Asia and the remote corners of the earth. The Rockefeller Foundation has tried to stamp out hookworm all over the world; it is waging a winning battle against malaria; and its physicians discovered a vaccine for the dreaded yellow fever.
John D. earned his first dollar by helping his mother raise turkeys.
He saved all the nickels his mother paid him for tending turkeys and stored the money in a cracked teacup which he kept on the mantel piece. He worked on a farm for thirty-seven cents a day and saved all his wages until he accumulated fifty dollars. Then he lent those fifty dollars to his employer at seven per cent interest and discovered that his fifty dollars could make as much for him in a year as he could earn by ten days of grueling work.
He settled it, he said: I determined then and there to make myself be a slave instead of being the slave of money.
John D. didn't spoil his son with too much money. For example, he gave his son a penny for each fence post he could find on the estate that needed to be repaired. He found thirteen in one day, and was paid thirteen cents. Then John D. paid his son fifteen cents an hour for repairing fences, and his mother gave him five cents an hour for practicing on the violin.
John D. never went to college. He finished high school and attended a commercial school for a few months. He was through with academic study forever when he was sixteen; yet he had given fifty million dollars to the University of Chicago.
He was always intensely interested in the church. As a young man he taught Sunday school classes, never danced, never played cards, never went to the theatre and didn't smoke and didn't drink.
He said grace before each meal and he had the Bible read to him daily—in addition, he also had read to him selections from a book of poems at prayers containing uplift messages for every day.
Mr. Rockefeller's only great ambition was to round out a century of life; and he said that if he were alive on his hundredth birthday—July 8, 1938—he would lend a hand on his estate at Poanotto Hills. And the time they were going to play would be: When You and I Were Young, Maggie.

Laurel & Hardy At Cozy Theatre

Imagine, if you can, Laurel and Hardy as a pair of "tenderhearts" in the wild and woolly West, back in the Gay '90's, and then start laughing!

"Way Out West," their latest Hal Roach M-G-M feature comedy, opening Wednesday at the Cozy Theatre, presents the famous comedy team in their first Western picture and it is heralded as a rip-roaring, gunfiring, yippee-whoopie song-dance hit of the season.

When the sad-faced Laurel and the pompous Hardy leave off prospecting in the desert to hitch hike to town on a stage coach with a valuable deed to a gold mine, they commit a succession of misdeeds that lead to a series of thrilling adventures and hilariously funny episodes that are carried through eight reels of the picture.

An old prospector dies and charges Stan and Ollie to deliver the deed to his daughter in the frontier town of Brushwood Gulch. But dumber than usual they deliver it to the wrong girl. But come and see the picture for yourself.

Louis Davenport Injured As He Works In The Cafeteria

This accident will possibly incapacitate Davenport for two or three weeks.

Activities Are Very Well - Rounded

Downing Provides Intramural Activities To Suit All Persons

Although the regular athletic program has been discontinued during the summer season, Coach G. D. Downing has provided a very desirable intramural program of sports for all summer school students.

Coach Downing has been much enthused in building up an intramural athletic program, and has not only invited but encouraged the men and women to participate in at least one activity.

Much work is being done on the tennis courts to take care of the four regular classes and all others who wish to play. Since tennis classes are held in the early morning the courts are left open for play practically the whole day. An intramural tennis tournament is being planned later on for both the men and women.

Two soft ball teams have been organized and will play regularly each afternoon. Other teams will be organized there is a demand. A few games will be scheduled with the CCC Camp located at Rodburn, Ky.

The swimming schedule is filled to capacity. Approximately two hundred and fifty students use the pool daily. As an added interest a pageant has been planned by the women's classes while the men are organizing polo teams.

The horse-shoe pitching ground has been worked over and improved, and horse-shoes may be had any time one wishes to pitch.

It is for the benefit of all that the student body help carry out the intramural program 100 per cent. The instructors have striven to plan a program that will not eliminate anyone but will supply recreation for a great number.

Steve Owens laughed. I guess Roys statement goes for all of us, Dakota. What happened after the trouble started in town?

"Dakota outlines the events since he and Slim had struck Pinnacle when he finished. Stony Sheard nodded. "Allus did have my doubts about Jigger Starbuck" he drawled. Too self-centered, duty-struck and cold-blooded to my way of thinking. That's comin' on this range when hell is gonna pop. I've told yuh somethin'."

"Let 'er pop," said Charley Quinn. "I an' Steve can do a little poppin' ourselves when necessary." Roy snorted. "Cheeky young cubs yur are. Should a spavined jack-rabbit kick yuh in the pants, yuh'd come runnin' home here to Roy for help."

"That so?" yelled Charley. "C'man, Steve, let's get him, the red-headed, stick-up ape."

Instantly there was a tangle of arms and legs, and the three punckers were on the ground, mauling and tugging and laughing. "I'll show yuh," grunted Roy. "Gang up on old Roy, will yuh? I'll knock a kick of sense into yuh."

Sure enough, in about a minute Roy was on top of both of them. He cuffed their hair over their eyes and spanked them rough with open palm, whenever a tight-stretched area of blue jean overalls showed. "Enough," yelled Steve. "Oscar, I'm plumb blistered. Won't be able to sit-down for a week. Lemme up, yuh wild buckaroo. Doggone yuh, yuh got a hand like a fence board. Oscar, help! Pull him off!"

Oscar grinned, grabbed Roy by the shirt collar and the slack of the pants and lifted him clear, much as an ordinary person lifts a kitten. "Now yuh bane nice boys or I lick all of yuh," he boomed.

Roy squinted up at the cook, his blue eyes twinkling. "Tis a whale of a man yuh are, Oscar," he approved. "Should we combine Ireland and Sweden we'd be after lickin the world."

Oscar grinned wider than ever.

"We bane make a dent in some body. Now I go to work. Dinner bane ready in half an hour."

Dakota had watched the mauling match with a contented grin. Even graced Stony Sheard had a glimmer of amusement in his eyes. There was nothing wrong with the morale of the Circle L Ranch. It was a happy family if there ever was one, and Slim Loyale was assured of plenty of backing in his forth coming battle for exoneration and respect.

Slim spent that first afternoon alone. He never left the house, in fact. He drifted from one room to another, and in every one there were memories that dug and hurt. The house was vacant-filled with Loyale.

Writer Says To Swim Plenty

Swimming Forging Way To Front; Summer Sports Are Many

By Willis Cornette

Among the growing interest in sports at Morehead, one activity seems to be forging its way to the front and rightfully so. This sport is swimming. Morehead College should be extremely proud of having one of the most modern swimming pools in the whole South and second to none in the State.

During the last few years at Morehead much emphasis has been placed on swimming. This season the effects are very noticeable. At the State swimming meet held here Morehead placed third. In Charlie Morris, ace performer, it had the outstanding swimmer of the State. Since this swimming interest has just begun to grow not too much can be expected, but for the size of Morehead College the outcome has been very promising. To anyone who will observe the open hour at 3:45 each day you can readily see what is meant by a growing interest in swimming. It is evident that before long Morehead College will boast some of the best swimmers in the State. One hundred and five swimming cards has been issued to boys and girls not in college. Each afternoon the pool is chocked with swimmers. The way they swim, dive, and handle themselves in the water is enough to make one realize the possibilities of a future swimming team. But why should people learn to swim? Swimming is something that will be an absolute necessity in the next few years. It will hold just as prominent a part in our social life as does dancing at present. Besides it is to the benefit of the individual that he knows at least enough about swimming to save himself or rescue some other in time of danger. By taking swimming as a class at Morehead the men and women are under the close supervision of expert instructors. The beginners readily acquire the skill and habits that make it easy for him to progress rapidly. He receives instruction in life saving and first aid work. After the student has completed the elementary course he may take the two advanced courses offered. By taking all three courses the swimmer is almost certain to make the regular swimming team. This is the aim of the instructors. Any student who has a fair knowledge of swimming may take the Red Cross Life Saving Test. If he passes successfully he is awarded a large Red Cross insignia which places him above the average class of swimmers. Such distinction may help in getting employment later. Good advice to any student who is planning on staying for the second summer term or coming back next fall would be to reserve a highways before our body and have been advised by them that this amount of money will not complete either of the roads mentioned in the order, that the state take either or both for maintenance. That will mean that this amount of money will be appropriated to these two roads and nothing for the remaining fifteen of like character. It is not wise to apply this road fund leaving all other roads without attention. To follow this course with an equal amount of money each year it would require some eight years to get to all of them and entail great hardship to all of our citizens residing upon other roads.

TO HOLD SERVICES

Pilgrim Holiness tent meeting beginning July 4 to July 18. Evangelist H. K. Busby from Lamont, Kan. Special music by wife and daughter. The public is cordially invited to attend. All Christians are invited to cooperate. The meeting will be held in tent back of the Mayflower, Morehead, Ky.

H. K. BUSBY

It is our judgement that the fiscal court should call to its aid an advisory committee to be composed of good citizens of as much road experience as possible and look at the county as a whole and from this point of view determine the best course to pursue.

We are advised that the road machinery is standing idle. This should not be permitted, in view of the fact this is the best time of the year to do road improving, and your grand jury is not satisfied with this course. We most earnestly urge that the fiscal court start the road work so that the whole of the county will derive some benefit while the season is present in which it should be done.

The Jail And Jailor
Previous grand juries have recommended that the county jailer keep the inmates in jail and not permit them to get out at large or given the liberty of visiting their home while committed to jail and not released. It has come to us that this privilege has been extended and inmates have been permitted these liberties. It is law that a conviction of such neglect upon the part of the jailer carries with it a forfeiture of office. We have not taken this action, upon the idea that such will not be permitted when brought to the attention of the court and hereby the jailer. If however such is permitted we insist that the next grand jury take drastic action.

It is true that the jail is in bad repair, but this does not warrant extending such liberties to the inmates. Reliance has been made upon a completion of the jail wall which has had the outlines of the wall well established for many months. Just why it is now delayed is not known to your grand jury. It is our recommendation that this shall be immediately put in proper condition both from a sanitary point of view and for the safe keeping of the prisoners.

Treasurer's Bond

It has also come to our attention that the county now has a new treasurer. The former treasurer executed a bond for the faithful accounting of all money coming to his hands in the sum of $60,000 but the new treasurer was required to give bond in the sum of $30,000. It may be the latter sum will be protective. We have in this connection examined the assessors book as to the property owned by the sureties whose names appear on the bond. We find some of them pay only a poll tax, while others have a small assessment above the exemptions allowed by law. In the aggregate according to the assessment, there is a property liability of approximately $7,000.00 to safeguard the proper handling of the county funds coming to the hands of the treasurer. We emphasize this because of the recent statutory restrictions upon the county treasurer in issuing vouchers, and we feel that the present treasurer as well as those hereafter qualifying would follow the precedent of the former and execute an adequate bond. There are a few needed-repairs to the court house, particularly the broken windows should be replaced. The county property generally, including the public offices is in good condition and properly kept, except complaints relating to the jail.

It is not a matter coming within our supervision, but we were invited to and did inspect the office and management of the W. P. A. Department. We were very much pleased and commend the efficient and proper manner in which this department is being operated and maintained.

Feeling that we have accomplished the object to which we have been assigned by the court we respectfully submit this as our final report, and in closing thank the officers for their valuable help during our sitting.

I AM A CANDIDATE

Regardless of rumors or statements that you may hear, I am a candidate for the nomination to the office of REPRESENTATIVE FROM THE ROWAN BATH DISTRICT

I expect to see the majority of the voters, of this & Bath county before the primary. I am running on a platform of service and am not making extravagant promises that I cannot fulfill. On that platform I am soliciting your support and I want to assure you that I am in the race to be finish and will appreciate anything you may do in my cause.

Rumors have been circulated and statements made to the effect that I was withdrawing from the race for Representative. To those who may have made these statements or who may have heard them I wish to say:
Over a hundred Democrats of this county and a good number from Bath county not only asked me to make the race, but urged me to do so. When I finally reluctantly agreed to announce myself as a candidate, and made that announcement hundreds of other Democrats called on me voluntarily and without solicitation and pledged me their support. I told them that I was making the race as a Democrat at the request of Democrats and that I was in to the finish, be that what it may.

In view of the fact that efforts have been made to take me out of the race, I wish to again state that I have never gone back on my word, once it is given. I have never put my hand to the plow without finishing the furrow. I have never started anything that I did not do my best to finish.
I am making my own campaign, without casting reflection on any candidate in the race and I want every man and woman who feels that he can honestly and freely support me to cast their vote in my favor. I feel that I can be of service to the people of my district in Frankfort and that is my sole aim in making the race.
