

COUNTY NEWS!

and Adjoining Counties

NOV 27. 1923

NUMBER 47

THE LIGHT SITUATION

The people of Morehead should get behind the city council's efforts to get the Kentucky Utilities Corporation to run their lines to Morehead so they can have a light and power service worth while.

The increasing growth of Morehead will soon surpass that of the present plant, and it is to keep our town up to date in this respect, that we are working toward an end to this important

Morehead have been confronting them with these things. Some by the way, its citizens are coming the next few years the people we are confronting with these obstacles in order to be satisfied in Morehead. We are continuing to look which to at, we are to be of some few for a the sit- in a one ment as are las

the

er

R.

is.

re

to

THE MOREHEAD STATE NORMAL

—x—

President and Mrs. Button have spent several days in Lexington, Frankfort, and Richmond. President Button's birthday was celebrated Sunday in Richmond by a family dinner at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Harber.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Button and young son, Frank of Louisville, are visiting President and Mrs. Button at M. S. N.

A delightful social was given the campus boys and girls last Saturday evening in Hodson Hall by Mr. and Mrs. Haggan and Miss Watson. They played various games and had a candy pulling. "The best time we've ever had" was the general verdict.

Mr. Haggan and Dean Lewis spent last Saturday at Owingsville where the latter gave an address before the Bath County teachers on "The Fine Art of Teaching." Dean Lewis reports that Bath County has one of the best organizations in the state. They have an excellent system of grading the schools, of examinations and promotions, and of keeping records of all students. R. W. Kinkaid is the efficient county superintendent.

On Monday morning, the students and teachers of M. S. N. were delighted to have in chapel the Baptist minister, Mr. Hale, and his two assistants in the revival meetings. Miss Wells delighted her audience with two solos.

The boys and girls have had separate chapel services twice lately, and are so much pleased with the plan that they want to have the separate meetings once each week. The girls meet in the chapel and the boys in the assembly room in Withers Hall. A committee composed of Mary Marguerite Bishop, Edna Sparks and Mrs. Mayme Riley, will plan the program for the girls' meeting this week.

Misses Shader, Royalty, and Humphrey, and Edna Sparks went to Lexington Friday evening where they heard John McCormack sing. Nearly 3000 people crowded the Woodland Auditorium and listened to the wonderful voice.

—x—