MOREHEAD, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 16, 1967

Dale Jones Killed In Vietnam War

Rowan County has lost its second soldier in the Vietnam war. The Army officially announced that Specialist 4th Class Dwight Dale Jones, 21, was killed in action on Feb. 7. He was a graduate of Rowan County High School, and a member of the Viking football team. The remains were sent to Lane Funeral Home at Morehead, and final services conducted Sunday afternoon at the Freewill Baptist Church by Reverend G. G. Leach and Dr. Mackenzie. A detail from Fort Knox conferred full military honors at graveside in Caudill cemetery. He was the son of the John S. Jones and Beesie (Harris) Jones. The Army released few details about the incident except that Jones died in combat. Besides the parents, he leaves the following four brothers and four sisters: Amanda Johnson, Ypsanti, Mich., Juana Hill, Wheaton, Ill.; and Emer Jones, Clayton Jones, Theodores Jones, chief Swimm and Kathleen Jones, all of Morehead. Jones entered the armed services Oct. 20, 1965. He teamed on the RCHS football team as a center. He was a member of the Thompson, Larry Harris, Bobby Brown, Carl Lary, Ed Crisp and Gary Lambert. He was a member of the Glee Club, Haggan, Bill Jones, Paul Gaskin, Roy Dehart, Clay Banks, Carl Swimm, Raymond White, Arvil Crase, Russell Boyd and John Hoyer. Lane Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Rowan Soldier Receives Posthumous Award

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Skaggs, Clearfield, Ky., parents of Private First Class Frederick B. Skaggs, have been awarded posthumous Bronze Star and Purple Heart Medals for an act of heroism on the part of their son. Colonel Earl K. Buchanan, commander of the Lexington-Blue Grass Army Depot, by order of President Johnson, made the presentations during recent ceremonies at the depot installation. Private Skaggs, a former member of Company B, 1st Battalion, 26th Infantry, 1st Infantry Division, died from wounds received August 25, 1966 while engaged in action against the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam. His unit was moving to assist other friendly forces fighting the Viet Cong when it came under intense automatic weapons fire from enemy positions. "Without hesitation and with complete disregard of his personal safety, Private Skaggs began to maneuver to a more favorable position from which to effectively fire at the Viet Cong. Although he had been hit by small arms fire, Private Skaggs continued firing his weapon and throwing grenades until he was killed. His aggressive action set an example for his fellow soldiers who routed the Viet Cong," according to an official U. S. Army citation, which further stated, "Private Skaggs' outstanding display of courage, devotion to duty, and bravery in keeping with the finest traditions of the Army and 1st Infantry Division and the U. S. Army. Three sisters, Sus, Betty and Patricia, a brother, Michael, and military and civilian personnel at the depot witnessed the ceremony.

Rowan Site Of Girl Scout Meet
Gathering Is Largest In Annual Event

Mrs. Douglas Tuttle, Camp Services Director for Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council, will be in Rowan County Monday and Tuesday to promote camping for local girls. Monday afternoon at 1 p.m. a meeting will be held in the Christian Church. Tuesday, the Optimists will meet Mrs. Tuttle, Mrs. Hubbard, and representatives of other service clubs and urge them to put into action a plan to improve the facilities at Camp Judy Layne, an accredited American Camping Association (ACA) camp. "James Williams, county coordinator, stressed the importance of attending the Monday evening meeting. "We are very fortunate Mrs. Tuttle has come to us in her busy schedule. Ours is, in fact, one of the few areas she will be able to visit." Scouting in Rowan County is a direct result of the continued support of the United Fund. Through contributions and the efforts to achieve a successful fund campaign, council services, such as this, are available to the more than 200 registered Girl Scouts in Rowan County. Only with camping can the girls experience the full potential provided by the Girl Scout program. Mrs. Tuttle has been in Scouting for more than twelve years. Seven of these years were as volunteer leader of her daughters' troop in Frankfort. She accompanied the troop to Mexico City and Cuernavaca, Mexico, the location of the Girl Scouts and Girl Scouts Association, and also winter leader, who and her troop participated in an International Scouting canoe trip in Canada. As an active member of the American Camping Association, Mrs. Tuttle has served as a counselor for two years and as director for five years at Camp Judy Layne. She is a former Girl Scout and attended Camp Minnowwaka for two years to add to her qualifications as Service Director of Camps in the Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council.

The next lesson is planned for Tuesday, February 14, 6-8 p.m., in the Home-making Department at Rowan County High School. The lesson will include decorating, and a laboratory on underglaze painting. Mrs. Norman Roberts has charge of the class, and it is a part of the Vocational Home Economics Program at Rowan County High School.

United Fund Releases Distribution Of Funds

Rowan Countians gave $12,372,506 to the United Fund, according to a statement released today by Mrs. Virginia Rice, President, and Walter W. Carr, campaign chairman and President-elect. Most of the money will be distributed as follows: St. Claire Medical Center, Rowan indigent patients, $2,762,300; Rowan County Health Center, $305,02; Heart Research, $305,02; Cancer Research, $305,02; Morehead and Rowan County recreation, $3,078,79; Boy Scouts, $1,381,08; Red Cross, $1,651,60; Travelers Aid, $40,24; United Service Organizations, $316,50; Social Health, $20,77; Arthritis Foundation, $155,30. Point out that the above organizations might receive additional money "if and when available." Carr also had high praise for Carr, president of the campaign, and others who conducted the successful drive which surpassed the goal. The United Fund announced election of the following officers: Walter Carr, President; Randall Wells, Vice President; Billie Jean Clayton, Secretary; and Russell Jackson, Treasurer. The Board of Directors is composed of the officers and the following: Sibly Keller, Boy Scout Council; Lucille Seese, Harold Bellamy, Bruce Harris, Kenneth Spears, Bill Pierce and Betty Porter. Father Haggerty will head the Planning Committee for this year's fund raising. The organization also approved a pamphlet in the "Welcome wagon" drive pack, headed by Esther Jackson.

Final Leaf Sale In Kentucky Below Average

Burley tobacco sales for the period from Feb. 2-Feb. 8 were down almost 10.4 million pounds and $6.7 million from the 22,781,876 pounds which sold for $14,636,526 during the period from Jan. 26-Feb. 1. The average price also dropped, from $66.55 to $63.75, according to the State Agriculture Department. Department statistics reported a total of 12,307,608 pounds of burley sold from the 22,781,876 pounds sold for $7,899,765 for a five day period (ending Feb. 8). Twenty-one of the state's 30 auction centers have ended their sales except for one which is expected to hold final sales shortly. Thus far this season, 426,319,821 pounds of burley have sold for $283,680,474 and a statewide season average of $66.34. The Morehead market totals, recorded by the Agriculture Department through February 8, are $200,380 pounds for $5,979,318 value, with a $66.29 average.

Paintings To Be Exhibited At MSU

The famed Ashland Oil Purchase Prize Collection of American paintings will be exhibited March 8-20 in the Art Gallery at Morehead State University. The exhibit will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on weekdays and from 1 to 9 p.m. on Sundays. Started in 1945, the collection contains the annual award-winning painting from the Art-Center exhibit at Louisville. It was started by the late Walter L. Davis, a former Ashland Oil director and Louisville civic leader. Each of the painters represented in the collection enjoys professional standing as a teacher of art at the university.

Glover Invites Public To Exhibit At Morehead

An exhibition of student drawing and sculpture is on display at the Art Gallery in Allie Young Hall at Morehead State University through Friday. Display hours are from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on weekdays. Henry Glover head of the Art Department, invited the public to visit the exhibit.

High School Drama Scheduled Saturday

Breakfast On Menu At One School

The Tilden Hogue School, Cranston Road in Rowan County, was one of the first in the United States to be approved for serving breakfast to pupils who have to travel considerable distances. The school issued the following statement: "We at Tilden Hogue School are proud to announce that we are one of the few schools in the state who have been selected to serve breakfast to students. This authorization comes under the federal government's Child Nutrition Act. "A hungry child cannot learn. This slogan is the basis of the act that establishes the national breakfast program. The cost of the breakfast to the child will be five cents, the program will start Monday morning, February 13, 1967. The school will serve breakfast between 7:30 and 8:15 a.m. No school program will be interrupted. A juice will be served every morning - doughnuts - rolls - cereal - hot cake - scrambled eggs - various days through the week. "We at Tilden Hogue are very enthusiastic about this program. This can start the child's day off right and enable our children to receive more of the necessary daily vitamin requirements."

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (UPI) — In Christmas to come, Texas may be able to buy Christmas trees grown in the treeless plains of their home state.

The trees are an experiment of Harold Rhodes, a farmer in the Happy Union community south of Plainview. He expects to harvest some of his 50,000 seedlings for the Christmas trees in Texas in 1967. A few trees possibly sufficient for the area market may be ready for harvest in three years.

Rhodes, who only recently began the Christmas tree venture, does not know how well the trees will do in Texas. However, he says that even so, he is confident in the plains is evidenced by a formal contract between him and a nurseryman in Petersburg, Va. "Cutter and Abernathy."

The trees are Rhodes' solution to farming diversification. "I was looking for something to grow on some unutilized acreage," he said.

The project is being supervised by representatives of the Great Lakes Nursery in Wisconsin, where Rhodes bought his trees.

The first trees arrived about two months ago and were set out in a nursery plot. There the trees will stay for two or three years. After that time, they will be planted in five-foot by five-foot spacings with about 2,000 trees per acre.

Christmas tree varieties of the experiment are the blue spruce, ponderosa pine, Scotch pine, Australian pine, white pine and Serbian spruce.

"The idea of the experiment is to grow the trees as close to the market as possible," Rhodes explained. He said the nursery representatives feel the day when Christmas trees were cut from the forests is gone, and that most of today's trees are nursery-grown.

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: You probable will quit running my little piece in your paper when I tell you what I done yesterday. I set down and wrote a letter to a Congressman and told him I didn't never aim to vote for him if he didn't never to cut off all foreign aid to ever country in the world.

On account of the weather being half bad lately and me being all the way lazy, I been spending my time all week reading and studying the matter. What bring up my verdict was hearing one of them Washington column writers that was just back from Paris telling folks on television that General DeGaulle was whispering to his close friends that we stole Louisiana from France in 1803 and actual Louisiana still belonged to France. This fellow on television reported DeGaulle was saying we didn't give but $15 million for that territory and furthermore the French authorities that sold it didn't have no legal right to make the deal.

That's the kind of feller running France, a country we bailed out of two world wars and rebuilt after the last war.

This put me to studying some newspaper clippings I was saving in a box under the bed and one of these pieces, that was put out by a U. S. Senator, reported the United States had spent $88 billion on foreign aid since the end of World War II and we ain't got a friend in the world except South Korea and Formosa, two small countries that was depending on us to keep 'em from getting invaded.

I don't recollect from my history book in the sixth grade how much we paid Russia for Alaska and when we bought it, but I'm looking any day now for them Russians to claim the price was too low and the sale wasn't official.

According to the papers, we have give France more of that $88 billion than any other country and I was reading a piece yesterday where France was making us pay $3 million to French civilian workers for losing their jobs when NAU moves out of France after that country ordered us to get out of the country.

An amount of them countries in South America and Africa that was making motions from American tax payers, was carrying it to the bank with one hand and burning up our embassy flag with the other.

With all the money we was squandering away here at home and the cost of the War in Vietnam, we can't keep on sending billions to them foreign countries without taking eating us up in the end. I was talking to my old lady, that ain't agreed with me political more'n a half dozen times in 40 years, but she was agreed on one and our Congressman has done lost two votes if he don't see the light.

Yours truly,
Claig Sprout

Automobile Insurance Rates To Be Increased

Insurance companies affiliated with the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters are getting a rate revision on automobile liability insurance in Kentucky under an order by State Insurance Commissioner S. Roy Woodall Jr.

Another Woodall order denies a 6.4 per cent rate increase on auto physical damage insurance requested by the National Automobile Underwriters Association.

The rate revision granted the Bureau will result in:
* An increase of 21.6 per cent for about one-tenth of all Kentucky motorists. The order allows for differences in claim costs between 12 rating territories and limits the rate increase in any territory to 25 per cent.

A slight decrease for one-eighth of Kentucky drivers holding policies with those Bureau companies which carrier received higher rates individually. Woodall said the new rates would relax what he called "the currently tight auto insurance market."

Woodall said the request for the rate raise on auto physical damage insurance was denied "because expenses especially applicable to Kentucky were not used by the Association in figuring its proposed new rates."

Buyer, Be Wise, Beware

By Robert Matthews
Attorney General,
Commonwealth of Kentucky

"Earn $500 per Week!"
"Distributor Nets $40,000 per Year!"
Glowing statements, such as these, in advertisement for sales representatives are enticing. Many of us when reading them say, "Oh, sure! I feel that perhaps we have chosen the wrong line of work."

But all is not gold that glitters. Investigation showed that none of the salesmen of one national manufacturer making such claims were earning that much money, nor were their distributors. In fact many of their distributors were losing money and the "existing growing profitable businesses in franchised areas" were nonexistent. Proceed with caution. Inquire. Investigate. Don't be misled.

Project Aims To Put Negroes In Business

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Educators here hope to implement a graduate program to prepare Negroes for careers in business. The plan is proposed by Indiana and Washington Universities and the University of Wisconsin. It has a $200,000 Ford Foundation "challenge grant" to get some on the program. The grant must be matched on a one-for-one basis by contributions from industry.

Dr. Sterling H. Schoen, professor of management at Washington University here and program director, said the Ford grant "will enable our consortium to begin implementation of this educational program."

He said however, that both the graduate schools and the Ford Foundation "recognize that the major support properly belongs with the business community."

The plan has been described here as a step toward making equal rights a reality through the preparation of more Negroes to assume management positions in the field of business, an area which has accepted few Negroes in the past.

The Reasons — A Ford Foundation report included reasons for the scarcity of Negroes in business. — Few Negroes graduating from college choose to enter the business world because they have learned that they have little chance to succeed and they know little of the opportunities.

Many Negro students attend Negro colleges where the educational program often is not sufficiently rigorous. They are not as well-prepared to compete for executive business jobs as their white counterparts.

Negro students find it hard to get meaningful job experience which might prepare them for business careers. First Negro students to be recruited for the program will include those receiving their baccalaureate degrees; college graduates with one to four years of work experience in business, government agencies or educational institutions; graduates whose employers believe them capable of benefiting from a master of business administration program and will finance the employee's course of study; and graduates who have completed their military obligations and who wish to seek careers in business.

A spokesman, who said recruiting will be carried on na-

GIRL SCOUTS NEWS

One day each year Girl Scouts everywhere, join their thoughts and send them around the world as a powerful prayer that all men shall be friends. This day is called "Thinking Day" and is celebrated on February 22 because it is the birthday of Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, founders of scouting for boys and girls around the world. This, also, is the day Brownies and Girl Scouts contribute to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund. This fund is to help our own Girl Scouts and their sister members around the world become friends and find out what life is like in other countries.

Chairman for the World Friendship Fund is Mrs. Kaye Penny, and a Junior scout from Tildon Hodge, they will represent neighborhood 26 at the World Friendship Day program March 18 at the Memorial Coliseum in Lexington. Mrs. Douglas Tuttle and Mrs. Phillip Hubback, field advisors, will hold a camp promotion meeting Monday, February 20 at 1:30 p.m. at the Christian Church. All persons interested in getting the day camp started should attend.

Saturday, February 11, ten members of Troop 417 attended the first rehearsal of the Cadet Choruses at the Greenwood Christian Church in Lexington. The Chorus, under the direction of Donald Ivey will perform March 18 as part of the World Friendship program. Those attending were: Terry Holbrook, Louise Venetozzi, Jody Taylor, Barbara Casper, Leslie Williams, Sandy Williams, Brenda Lyons, Susan Allen, Linda Howard, and Barbby Holbrook. The next rehearsal is scheduled for February 25.

A meeting was held Tuesday, February 14, at the home of Mrs. Dave Abney, county cookie chairman. Plans were discussed for the cookie sale which begins March 27 through April 12.

All Girl Scouts from Rowan County would like to welcome three new sister troops from Tildon Hodge. The Brownies have ten members with Juanita Brown and Jolene Brown as their leaders; the Junior troop has twenty-six members and their leaders are Marie Smith and Francis Alderman; the Cadettes have ten members with Violet Hardin and Margaret Jones as their leaders. We now have two hundred eighteen registered Girl Scouts in Rowan County.

Monday, February 20, a meeting concerning Girl Scout Camp will be held at the Rowan County High School cafeteria. All Girl Scouts, leaders, and parents are urged to attend.

Wednesday, February 8, the monthly community meeting of leaders and com-

Sunday Statistics
LONDON (UPI) — Britons drank an average of half an imperial pint (16 ounces) of beer daily per person in 1966, according to the Brewers Society. Per capita consumption was 26 imperial gallons per person during the year.

TGE Is Danger In State Pig Herds

Watch out for the swine disease TGE [transmissible gastro-enteritis], says Dr. D. E. Labore, U. K. Cooperative Extension Service veterinarian.

It is a problem this time of year, he says. The department has many reports of the disease already. Death rates are high. Depending on age of the animal, it is close to 100 percent in pigs less than a week old. When pigs are three weeks of age, the rate is about 40 to 60 percent. It is much lower in weaned pigs, and adult pigs rarely die. But the loss in young animals is damaging to profits.

Symptoms are vomiting, diarrhea and rapid dehydration [loss of body fluid]. Usually the outbreak is explosive, then disappears if there is enough time between farrowings. It usually is prevalent at farrowing time.

Control is very difficult. The virus that causes it, Dr. LaBore says, is either air-borne or passed by contact.

1. Disinfect all farrowing pens thoroughly and carefully. If possible, isolate pregnant sows from areas where the disease was found.

2. Try to breed sows so that there is a break of at least a month between series of farrowing in the herd.

3. Veterinarians sometimes can artificially infect pregnant sows so that some protection can be passed through their milk to newborn pigs. But only a veterinarian should attempt this control measure.

Thinking a commercial vaccine on the market. Producers should contact their local veterinarian about its use, says Dr. Labore.

What's Going On Here
By Ky. Dept. of Agriculture

The acreage-pouidage program is the only plan that will stabilize burley yields and bring supplies in line with demand, E. T. Reed of the Kentucky Department of Agriculture says. Reed, Division of Marketing Tobacco Specialist, says last year's production showed that acreage controls alone will not cut out surpluses.

Growers throughout the eight-state burley belt will vote February 3 through March 3 on an acreage-pouidage proposal. The referendum will be conducted by mail ballot.

Reed noted that even though last year's allotments were cut 15 per cent, total production was only six per cent less than that in 1965. Some observers feel that the 1966 production might even go beyond the 1965 yield.

"We cannot continue to over produce and still have a program for burley tobacco," Reed stated, "and I am convinced by saying, 'If we are to ever bring our production in line with demand, we must have a program which will control both the number of pounds produced as well as the total acreage grown.'"

"The acreage-pouidage program is working well for the flue-cured industry," Reed said, "for they are getting good prices while cutting down on surplus stocks. I feel that acreage-pouidage will do the same thing for burley."

Under the acreage-pouidage proposal being offered this year, the national marketing quota is 616 million pounds. This is the amount which the U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates will be utilized in the United States and exported during the marketing year plus maintaining an adequate supply in reserve.

Farm pouidage quotas and acreage allotments will be determined by local ASCS committees. This will be done through the use of farm and community yields during the base period of 1962-64, taking into consideration the national marketing quota.

A national average yield goal of 2,200 pounds per acre has been set for 1967. The 1967 acreage allotment is 277,273 acres—an increase of 10 1/2 per cent over the 1966 farm acreage allotment.

Groups or organizations which have endorsed the acreage-pouidage program include the Kentucky Farm Bureau, Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, Burley Farmers Advisory Council, Burley Leaf Tobacco Dealers Association, Western District Warehousing Corp., Central District Warehousing Corp., and the Governor's Commission in Agriculture. Last year 78.4 per cent of Kentucky burley growers voted in favor of the acreage-pouidage plan, although it failed to get a two-thirds majority in the eight-state belt.

Delinquent Tax Bills Will Soon Be Advertised

Under Kentucky Revised Statutes, I am required, as Sheriff, to advertise in the Morehead News any unpaid tax bills. These will be sold at the courthouse door.

One penalty has already been added. When advertised there will be another penalty, plus advertising costs.

If you haven't paid your taxes do so now and avoid this additional penalty, advertising costs and embarrassment of having your name published in the newspaper.

This applies to owners of automobiles, furniture etc. who may not own real estate. Further, the law requires that the Sheriff pick up and impound automobiles and trucks on which taxes are delinquent. Names of owners will also be published.

The Secretary of the Army in Vietnam

THE SECRETARY OF THE ARMY Stanley R. Reor pins the Distinguished Service Cross on Maj. James Dutton (left) and Capt. Stella Breed during ceremonies held at Ft. Lee. Both officers, members of the 1st Aviation Brigade, were awarded the Nation's second highest award for Valor as a result of their heroic actions while flying HUEYs in support of a 25th Infantry Division tactical operation. Major Dutton is from Lexington, Mass.; Captain Breed is from Paris, Arkansas. In January, the Secretary spent 8 days in Vietnam touring Army units and receiving briefings on Army current combat operations.

Women's Medical News

By LOUISE CHASE
Women's Medical News Service

Chicago, Ill. (WMAWS) - More than 5,000,000 Americans are suffering from a "serious insidious and progressive disease - alcoholism." The estimate and warning comes from the American Medical Association which urges that symptoms of the disease be recognized and treated early enough to avoid permanent damage.

According to the AMA, alcoholism is an emotional illness which can be treated successfully by though its causes are not fully understood. Among the early symptoms of the disease are increasing consumption of alcohol; necessity for a drink, particularly at a certain time of day, using alcohol as a drug rather than as a beverage; drinking in the morning or on awaking; getting drunk alone.

When these signs appear, it's urgent that expert help be obtained at once. Nothing is so important as getting help. Since alcoholism is an illness, the doctor is one major source of help. Effective, too, is Alcoholics Anonymous, which has had an encouraging record of success in working with alcoholics, family service agencies, and community organizations.

Disease treatable - While alcoholism is treatable it is not curable. The only successful treatment known so far is total abstinence. "Alcohol is a chemical, a drug," the AMA points out, "and as with any addiction, abstinence is the only possible successful solution." Alcoholics should be helped to understand that many illnesses, not just theirs, the desirable aspects of living, diabetics must control their diets. Alcoholics must not drink alcohol.

Think Before You Drink - How high is your alcohol quotient? To find out answer the following questions with a yes or no.

1. Is alcohol a stimulant?
2. Will you get drunk on beer as by drinking the same amount of beer in stronger drinks?
3. Will you get drunker by switching drinks than by taking the same amount of alcohol in one form such as bourbon?
4. Should you work at least three hours after drinking two highballs to be sure you can drive safely?
5. Is alcohol taken as medicine necessary in the treatment of a disease?
6. Is it a good policy to take a few "shots" of whiskey to warm one up just before being exposed to very low temperatures?

Stimulating Answers - The correct answers, says the AMA, are as follows:

1. No. The apparent stimulation is due to lessening of the inhibitions by the narcotic action of alcohol.
2. No! The large amount of water in beer is responsible for slower absorption of alcohol.
3. No. The intoxicating action depends upon the amount of alcohol regardless of the type of drink. Assuming that the drinks contain about the same amount of water.
4. Yes. The two highballs contain a total about one ounce of alcohol. It takes about three hours to oxidize one ounce of alcohol!
5. No. "Alcohol is not a specific or cure for any disease, unless one considers 'worry' a disease, and a drugged indifference a cure."
6. No. The feeling of warmth after drinking is caused by the dilation of the superficial capillaries. A sensation of cold is associated with rapid loss of bodily heat.

The International Relations Department of the Morehead Woman's Club presented a fashion show "Around the World in Sixty Minutes," at the Feb. 7 meeting. Twenty-two costumes from 12 countries were featured.

Models for each country were: Portugal, Mrs. Tina Gnagy; Morocco, Dr. Olga Mourino; Colombia, Mrs. Dolores Hamilton; China, Mrs. Elma Hill; Korea, Mrs. Mabel Barber; Mrs. Jodie Offutt, Mrs. Cozy Hamilton and Mrs. Norma Dady; Thailand, Miss Fornpappa MSU student; India, Mrs. Jodie Offutt; Pakistan, Mrs. Mimi Cole, Mrs. Pat Smith and Mrs. Joyce Barber; Switzerland, Mrs. Sue Harmon; Arab States, Audrey Hicks; and Spain, Mrs. Genevieve Hampton, Dr. Olga Mourino and Professor and Mrs. Allan Gnagy.

Mrs. Frances Ginzberg and Mrs. Jesse Mangrum narrated and Mrs. Thelma Bell and Mrs. Ethel Moore assisted with the program. Mrs. Jodie Offutt and Mrs. Nell Prather provided international refreshments. Mrs. Sue Harmon was chairman of the fashion show.

L. Wells observed his 91st birthday Friday at a dinner given at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Gile Wells Tabor, East Main Street. As a highlight of the occasion, Judge W. C. Flannery presented Mr. Wells with a certificate making him Honorary Judge of Rowan County.

Helping Mr. Wells celebrate were Judge and Mrs. Flannery, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jones, Mrs. Myrtle Harman, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vencil, W. T. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Binion and Mrs. Beatrice Gaebneau.

Mrs. Joe Keelber of New York City and Milton Davis of Middletown, Ohio were weekend visitors at their home here. Mr. Davis returned to Middletown Sunday, while Mrs. Keelber remained for a longer visit.

Certain Medical Expense Deductible

The Internal Revenue Service today advised senior citizens that the $3.00 a month payments beginning July 1, 1966, for supplementary medical insurance under "Medicare" are deductible as medical expenses on their 1966 Federal income tax returns.

While the "Medicare" bill, and several IRS publications, including "Your Federal Income Tax" indicates that these payments are deductible beginning January 1, 1967, the IRS has said that the 1966 payments are also deductible medical expenses on 1966 income tax returns.

However, IRS said the $3.00 monthly payments are not to be confused with hospital insurance tax which is included as part of the regular social security tax and withheld from 1966 wages. This tax is not deductible by employees on their income tax returns.

Medical expenses, including the $300 monthly supplementary medical insurance for taxpayers 65 and over, are deductible without regard to the 3 percent limitation which applies to taxpayers under 65 years of age.

Boating

By JACK WOLSTON
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Notes from the city bag.

A new high of 100 million pounds of fibreglass reinforced plastic was used in construction of pleasure boats in 1966, a 22 per cent increase over the 82 million pounds reported for 1965, according to the Boat Committee of the Society of the Plastics Industry Inc.

A British-made folding marine plywood boat that can be assembled ready for the water in less than 30 seconds was displayed at the recent National Boat Show here. Unfolded to its 17-foot 8-inch length, it is roomy enough to hold three adults and can handle outboards up to 65-horsepower on its reinforced transom.

On exhibit at the same show was a 31-year-old aluminum canoe, believed to be the oldest of its type in use. Manufactured by Gramman Boats in 1936 and used by three generations of a Maine family in salt and fresh water, the craft had not had a coat of paint in 15 years and still was in excellent condition.

MORE MUSIC FOR MOREHEAD—This is an architect's drawing of the proposed addition, right, to the Baird Music Building, left, at Morehead State University, Morehead. Walls of the concrete construction, foreground, retain a nearby stream. The acoustically engineered addition will house 12 teaching studios, 14 practice rooms, a recital hall seating 600, a choral practice room, a recital hall seating 100, and a student lounge. Cost of construction has been estimated at $820,000. Bids will be opened in March.

Beef, Feed, Sheep Meeting Set At M'head

An Area Beef, Sheep, and feed production meeting is scheduled on Tuesday, February 21, 8:45 a.m. at Morehead University, in Room 215 of the Home Economics Building.

The program will consist of production in beef cattle, sheep, forage production and grain production. There will be five of the University of Kentucky Specialists appearing on the program. Dr. Bernard Jones, Animal Science Department, will discuss Performance Testing; Dr. Roy Gray, Jr., Extension Specialist in beef cattle, will discuss the topic of beef production. In sheep, will discuss management and sheep production. Mr. Warren Thompson, Extension Specialist in Forages, will discuss good feed for livestock. Grains, will discuss feed Grain Production.

All of the above speakers are tops in the respective field. This program was set up to give the livestock and forage farmers some up to date information in the Carter Caves Extension Area so that the producer can update his program and be more efficient in his farming operation. All farmers in the eight county area are invited to attend along with feed companies and related agriculture industries.

Eagles Lose To Murray By 10 Points

With Herb McKinnon hitting the basket and Dick Cunningham dominating the boards, Murray State never looked better in whipping Morehead 99-89 here last night in the Ohio Valley Conference. The victory kept Murray in third place but dropped Morehead from second place by wallowing Eastern 94-70.

McPherson tossed in 13 in 20 shots for 26 points. Cunningham, a 6-foot-10 minor who leads the nation in rebounding, picked off 31 rebounds and added 25 points. It was revenge for Cunningham in his duel with Morehead's [Red] Jackson who outscored him and outbounded him in a 108-93 victory at Morehead. Jackson managed only eight rebounds and 11 points in the rematch. Murray jumped out quickly to a 14-point lead (25-11) in the first seven minutes and kept Morehead off guard with a zone press defense.

Then Morehead regrouped and trailed 52-49 at halftime, thanks to deadly outside shooting. Morehead led for the first time as Jackson hit a 37-foot lead with 13 minutes left on Jim Sandross' field goal and a tip-in by Larry Jordan. Murray regained the lead for keeps at 69-68 on Rich Haverstock's jumper. Cunningham was a terror in the first half with 21 rebounds and 23 points. Eight of his field goals were tip-ins. He now has 421 rebounds for a 21.5 average. It was Murray's 12th win in 20 starts and dropped Morehead to 13-6. Best teams shot well, especially in the first half when Murray hit 32.4 per cent and Morehead 52.6. Murray finished with 49.3 (36 of 73) and Morehead 48.7 (38 of 78).

Due to Cunningham, Murray enjoyed a 53-36 rebound edge over the league's No. 1 rebounding team.

Salsburg Festival
SALZBURG, Austria, (UPI)—For the traveling music lover, the 1967 Salzburg Festival, which will begin July 26 and continue through Aug. 30, offers 100 major performances. These include operas, orchestral concerts, solo recitals, lieder and chamber music presentations, serenades, other concert and dramatic presentations.

Boy Scout Activities

On Sunday, February 12, twenty-five Scouts and Explorers of Troop and Post 142 in Morehead attended the annual Sport and Show held in the Exposition Center and Fairgrounds, Louisville, Ky. Transportation to and from the show was provided by the scoutmasters Bruce Harris and Russell Jackson, and also Arvil Crase, Clayton Perkins, Creed Patrick.

We regret our mistake in last week's column, when we left out Kim Reynolds as a new Tenderfoot Scout. Explorer Post 142, had its annual election Monday night, Feb. 13th. The following officers were elected: Advisor, Russell Jackson; Asst. Advisor, Ron Kidd; President, Kim Rogers; V. President, Richard Proudfoot; Sec. Advisor, Tim Clayton; Treasurer, Chuck Duncan; Asst. Sec. and Reporter, Marc Holbrook; Quartermaster, Ronnie Jackson; Librarian, Jim Williams; Sgt.-at-Arms and Parliamentarian, Martin Proudfoot.

Women's League Raises Issue Of Local Politics

In a meeting held at City Hall last Wednesday night, the Provisional League of Women Voters of Rowan County discussed the organization of political parties within the framework of county government. Led by Mrs. Neva White, a housewife concerned such matters are, county committee representatives of the Democratic and Republican parties were chosen, the requirements for forming a new political party, and how the county operates politically in relation to the state and national levels.

The Rowan County League, which is in its provisional stage, has been meeting only a few months. Before it can become an active league, it must complete a thorough study of the county, covering all phases of the government and public life. Investigations of the history of Rowan County, public services, and Future study units will deal with health, education, judicial systems and others.

Mrs. Effie Roberts, 82, Is Claimed

Death came Monday to Mrs. Effie Roberts, 82. Despite her age, Mrs. Roberts had been in apparent good health until a few days ago. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday, followed by burial in Perry cemetery in Morgan County. Stocky Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Roberts was born in Morgan County July 4, 1884, daughter of the late William and Elizabeth Blair. She first married Wm. Perry. Following his death she married James Roberts.

Mrs. Roberts leaves three daughters—Mrs. Stella Collins, Morehead, Mrs. Leora McGuire, Middletown, O., and Mrs. Martha Jones, a sister Mrs. Lucy Collins, Elliottville, 11 grandchildren, and 23 great grandchildren.

Rev. Ted Green conducted the funeral.

Lift Operator's Tourist Blues

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Roy Bradley has his ups and downs "around 400 times a day" in one of the city's famed panoramic sights — from which he can't see a thing.

"I'm always thinking of a view from the tower," he laughs. "I've got that about the worst place in the tower." He operates the elevator in Coit Tower.

Bradley sees none of the sights from atop the tower. Alcatraz, the Golden Gate Bridge, Yoh Hill — but he hears about it from tourists.

"Mostly they want to know where we're going to see Alcatraz," says Bradley. But someone always complains.

"A lot of them say they can't stand the height and when they're 25 cents back for the round trip on the elevator, they always refund," he reports. Others complain the elevator is just an inconvenience in the Empire State Building.

About 150,000 persons visit the tower every year.

'Bird Dog' Computers

NEW YORK (UPI) — It, though they won't be expected to retrieve game or to accompany a hunter in the field, computers are being recruited as "bird dogs."

This latest assignment for the ubiquitous computer will mean its keeping track on medical records for the area hospitals and research center of the $60 million Catholic Medical Center of Brooklyn and Queens now under development by the Catholic Charities of Brooklyn.

When the huge medical complex is in full operation — expected by 1972 — patient medical records will reach an astronomical figure, according to Robert B. Murphy, director of hospital planning. Murphy estimates that new patient records will be 500,000 annually in addition to the records already on file and which will be increasing every year.

The computerized medical record system for the Catholic Medical Center will have two unique features, according to Murphy. The "bird dog" computer will permit instant identification of a particular patient's record. A computer summary chart will enable the physician to summarize the key facts of the patient case rapidly and efficiently for instant retrieval of vital patient data, he said.

We can get it for you retail. $1,747

The suggested retail price for a new Volkswagen is $1,747 delivered. And most authorized Volkswagen dealers have probably been selling it around this price.

But surprisingly, other people began to buy Volkswagen for a whole lot more. And even more surprisingly, they got some takers.

We've varied. If you're someone who is willing to pay several hundred dollars more than we charge for a Volkswagen, we'll show you a double that they're willing to pay if they were aware of their own car price.

Or the important thing you get from an authorized dealer buying the car. Admittedly, you have to pay a little less for them but they're worth it!

All the cars that go with a Volkswagen (and keep a Volkswagen going) Parts or it. Equipment for servicing it. Volkswagen factory-trained mechanics.

For the authorized dealer, the service is an important as the sale. We conform to rigid requirements for service facilities and standards of practice. Which are aimed at making Volkswagen owners as pleased as it becomes habit-forming!

That's the way we sell Volkswagen. We dependable service as which is part of the Volkswagen experience.

That's the only way we like to see you get.

We spent a lot of time and money building a good name for Volkswagen. It was several years before people could even pronounce it. We expect to live with it for many years to come.

So get your Volkswagen anywhere you please. But please don't think you're getting a valid impression of Volkswagen from anybody but an authorized dealer. We're the only ones who care two cents about the car two months after it's sold.

RECORDS

AT CLEVELAND RECORDS

The Four Amigos, veterans of such TV shows as "Ed Sullivan Show," the Hollywood Talent and Tonight Show, display their vocal talents with "Amigos Goes Latin," their first Capitol album.

The foursome sing some of the songs that are part of their act: "Spanish Eyes," "The Shakedown of Your Soul," "The Days of My Youth," "The Night Sambo," "Oh, Yes My Love," "Somewhere in My Love," "I'll Love Me With All Your Heart," "Love Me, Love Me Now," "Strangers in the Dark," "Somewhere There's a Someone and High Flying Love."

Sandy Baron, co-star of "SHE" TV's hit comedy show, "Hey, Landlord," displays his comedy talents on an LP - "I Never Let School Interfere With My Education" - in which he covers subjects ranging from "Smoking Medical Marijuana" to "Farms, Dating - First Impressions and other stuff." The album, which centers around experiences the average student encounters in high school, contains several of the hits Baron uses in his nightclub act. The others were written especially for the LP.

An unusual album in which all the songs are performed by guitarist Jack Marshall and drummer Shelly Manne in "Sound's" without the aid of any other musicians or instruments. The two, who are paired together for the first time in an LP, took some familiar - but not so familiar - songs and arranged them for guitar and drums.

The songs range from Jerome Kern's "Astray" to Chorus by Brazil's most famous composer, "Jill Lobos." Others are "Fever" from Lawrence of Arabia, "Sweet Sue," "All the Things You Are," "The Rain in Spain," etc.
