Health Dept. Starts Season's Work In Schools

Have Visited Eleven Schools Made Trip Into Morgan In Carrying On Work

The Health Department in Rowan county is getting under the full swing of their work in the county schools. Eleven schools have been visited since the opening in July and the work of vaccinating against small pox, inoculation against typhoid and examination for T. B. is being carried out without any of the question that is raised when the work first started in this county. The law requires vaccination and whereas at first there was some question among some of the parents, all have apparently recognized the importance of the work and the children now march up to take their shots or their vaccination without a word. Many of the parents themselves are taking both inoculation and vaccination along with their children.

In many instances where there are large-families the county doctor and nurse visit the homes and giving the entire family the inoculation. In the case of typhoid inoculations, nearly every patron of the school is present to receive his shot.

Last week Dr. Evans and Mrs. Raymond were called to Morgan county where there is no Health Department, to visit one school, where they were asked to administer the shots. When they arrived they found a large crowd of patients present to receive the typhoid shots. They inoculated 15 babies against diphtheria and gave both inoculation and vaccination to the pupils and patrons. They spent a busy day in Morgan county.

Dr. Evans stated that there is a vast difference between the reception the Health Department is given now and when they first started on their work. Then they had difficulty in getting the patients.

J. H. Miles Moves To East End Place

J. H. Miles and son moved their place from Fawnville street to the stone building on the Midland Trail just outside the city limits, where they plan on operating a filling station and automobile repair and parts shop.

Mr. Miles has been in business for several years and is well known in this section. The repair shop will be in charge of Ted Taylor.

E. R. Sluss Purchases Hutchinson Store

Buys Out Bargain Store On Railroad Street; Will Carry Complete Line Of Goods

A business deal was closed this week, whereby by Mr. E. R. Sluss became the owner of the Bargain Store formerly owned by Roscoe Hutchinson. Mr. Sluss purchased the entire stock of Mr. Hutchinson and will continue the business under the name of the Sluss Bargain Store. He will handle both new and used clothing for the family.

Mr. Sluss has for the past eight years been manager of the Hawkins Lumber Company Store at Royalton, Ky., and is an experienced merchant. He is moving here with his family within the next week and will day program here at the Messer Caudill house on Hargis Avenue near the Church of God.

Will Lead College Eagles In Football Wars

LEN MILLER                      ELLIS JOHNSON

Johnson and Miller hope to duplicate the performance of the Eagles last year and to go it one better with this year's edition of the Morehead State Teachers College squad. Their first game is with the University of Cincinnati on Saturday night.

Eagles - Cincinnati U. Open Season In Night Session Saturday

"Lige" Hogge Leaves For Law Course

To Finish Work In Washington And Lee In Lexington, Va.; Will Take Law Degree

Elijah Monroe Hogge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hogge, left Wednesday for Lexington, Va., where he will enter Washington and Lee University at the beginning of the semester. He was accompanied by his parents and by his sister, Miss Barbara Ann Hogge.

Mr. Hogge will finish the law course offered at Washington and Lee. He is a graduate of the Morehead State Teachers College where he obtained his bachelors degree last June. He was a member of the Lloyd Debate Club for several years and was prominent in student activities in the local college during his four years there. The law course at Washington and Lee will require three years to finish.

Mr. and Mrs. Hogge and daughter will, after seeing their son settled at Washington and Lee, continue east on a short tour. They expect to return to Morehead the first part of next week.

Eagles Underdogs In Battle Which Marks Opening Of 1937 Gridiron Season

All roads from Morehead will lead into Cincinnati, Ohio next Saturday, and if our information is correct, Morehead will be more or less like a deserted village on that day. Of course the stores will remain open, but every one who can make an excuse or can catch a ride, will head out of town early and plan to remain late in the Ohio city.

The reason for the journey, what ever else they may say is to attend the opening football game on the Eagles schedule, the game against Cincinnati University. The Eagles meet the strong team from Cincinnati Saturday night under the flood lights. The Eagles hope to win, but they will undoubtedly be going up against the stiffest opposition they have met in the Morehead game during the entire season. If the Eagles come out of the game winners, it will be a decided upset. The Cincinnati papers are freely predicting that the Morehead game is the only game Cincinnati will win this season. Morehead was picked to open the season more or less as a practice game for the Cincinnati team.

The Eagles are going into the game under certain handicaps. They will be playing their first game under flood lights, a fact which will be to their disadvantage. Then they have a smaller squad to meet an old saying that a team is just as strong as its reserve. While the reserve strength of the Eagles is strong in quality, it is short on numbers and members may count in the final figures.

However the team is not under the handicap of lack of confidence. The Eagles are going to Cincinnati confident that they will show the Ohio boys a game and that the score will not be one sided. They feel that they are just as good or better, man for man, as their Ohio brothers, and are not to furnish the first upset of the season in big football circles.

There is one thing about the Eagles that is decidedly to their advantage.

Farm Program To Continue

Rural Rehabilitation Program Under Direction Of Supervisor Will Carry On

The rural rehabilitation supervised loan program will continue as heretofore, under the newly established Farm Security Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Florence W. Cobb, County supervisor in charge, rural Rehabilitation work in Rowan, Carter, and Elliott counties announced early this week from his office in Morehead, Ky., following assurances received from George S. Mitchell, Regional Director of the Farm Security Administration in Raleigh, N. C.

Mr. Cobb stated that the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, which the Farm Security Administration will administer, provides for continuation of the rural rehabilitation and farm debt adjustment work which he represents in this section and that he has been instructed to carry on substantially as before, under the new agency.

Rehabilitation loans, accompanied by farm and home management advice from County Supervisors are made by the government to financially distressed farm families who hold out hope of making a comeback whether on their own land or on rented land, but who are unable to secure proper credit from other sources to make a crop or to purchase needed livestock and equipment.

Crippled Children's Clinic At Mt. Sterling Being Held Today

Number Of Rowan County Children Attend For Examination At Free Clinic

Final plans are being made for the free clinic to be conducted by the Kentucky Crippled Children's Commission on Thursday, September 16 in the First Christian Church Mt. Sterling, for the benefit of handicapped children in seven counties. Mrs. A. K. Bowling, the Commission's field nurse in this district is conferring with health departments and local groups in each of the following counties: Montgomery, Bath, Menifee, Morgan, Rowan, Powell, and Wolfe. The local committees hope to contact every crippled boy and girl and make arrangements for them to attend the clinic in Mt. Sterling.

Cases with no other means of transportation are to get in touch with Dr. T. A. E. Evans, Morehead and to meet at the Health Dept. office at 7:30 A. M. September 16. Only those absolutely in need of transportation are to communicate with the above chairman. Parents who can provide some way to take their children to the clinic are asked to do so if possible.

Examinations at the clinic will be made by Dr. W. M. Brown, Lexington, orthopedic surgeon, who has conducted many other clinics in this district. He will be assisted by nurses on the staff of the Ky. Crippled Children's Commission. No operations will be performed at the clinic, but application for hospital care will be made.

D. D. Caudill Accepts Principal's Position

Will Spend Ensuing Year As Head Of Public Schools In Kelsey City, Florida

D. D. Caudill, former principal of the Morehead High School writes that his permanent address will be Kelsey City, Florida. Mr. Caudill has accepted the position as principal of the Kelsey City School for the ensuing year, and asks that the News be sent to him at that address.

Mr. Caudill was up until this year principal of the Morehead Public Schools, where he served for three years. During that period he rendered good service to the community building up the local school and extending the service. His friends here are delighted to know that he is well placed in the Florida school system.

Amateur Hour To Be Feature Of County Fair

Plan To Give Amateurs Opportunity To Show Ability At Special Attraction

A special feature at the Fair to be held at the Morehead Public School gymnasium Friday evening of next week will be an Amateur Hour program under the sponsorship of Mrs. Ethel Ellington, principal of the Morehead High school. The program will last one hour and amateurs will be given an opportunity to present a short program for the approval of the audience. Such items as singing, dancing, music, reading, or original stunts may be offered. All who wish to take part in the amateur hour must register with the committee by 6:00 p. m. Friday evening. Prizes will be given to the winners, $5.00 to the winner of first place; $4.00 to second and $2.00 to third. The committee is Mrs. Ellington, Mrs. Lester Blair and Mrs. C. E. Jennings.

Agriculture To Feature Fair

Growth Of Agricultural Section Of County Fair Is Marked During Past Seven Years

The Agriculture Department of the Rowan County Fair is expected to show a decided improvement over last year. Farm and garden crops are very much better than last year and premiums offered are somewhat higher in the more important rings. The corn, tobacco and hay crops of the county are very much better than in 1936. This situation will bring about an increase in the number of exhibits entered in the rings representing these crops.

The 1937 Fair is the seventh annual meeting and many farmers are beginning to look forward to it from one year to another. It gives them an opportunity to bring samples of their choicest products and place it beside those produced by their neighbors where they can be judged; ribbons tied and premiums paid to the best exhibits. Farmers of the county have studied carefully the exhibits that have won in past years and know what characteristics are given most consideration by the judges and are using this information in selecting their exhibits. The quality of agricultural exhibits have steadily improved because of the keen interest farmers have taken in the winning exhibits. Because of this and the (Continued On Page Two)

Elliotville School To Have Pie Supper

A pie supper will be held at the Elliotville School house on Friday night of this week at 7:30 p. m. The supper will be under the auspices of the Elliotville school and the proceeds will be used to purchase needed equipment for the school. Everybody is welcome and is cordially invited.

Bluestone Pie Supper

A pie supper will be held at the Bluestone school house on Saturday night of this week, under the auspices of the Bluestone Chapter of God, to which everyone is invited. All funds raised from the pie and box supper will be devoted to the building fund for the church, the erection of which is planned to start in the near future.

All candidates are especially invited to attend the pie supper, and women are urged to send and bring boxes and pies from the sale of which a tidy sum is hoped to be realized.

The plans of the church members are to build a small stone church on a lot which has been donated. The women of the congregation have also been promised enough stone cut for the church. Truck owners have also agreed to loan them the trucks and labor for hauling the stone and it is expected to obtain almost enough free labor to build it.

The News wishes to heartily endorse the movement and to lend all its power to accomplish the object. We wish to urge every citizen of Morehead and Rowan county to do all in their power to aid this worthy cause, as it is our feeling that there cannot be too many churches in this county, and that by aiding in the cause of this sort, citizens will spend their money to the very best advantage. Remember the date, Saturday, September 18, at 7:30 p. m. at the Bluestone school house. If you cannot be there yourself, send a pie, if you are a woman, and if you are a man, send enough to buy a pie or two pies. There will be no objection to your buying even more.

New Assistant In Business Office

Herbert Hogan Replaces C. B. Lane As Assistant In Colored Business Office

Mr. Herbert Hogan of Frankfort has been elected assistant in the office of the Business agent of the Morehead State Teachers Office, taking the place of C. B. Lane, who recently resigned. Mr. Hogan has been a teacher of Commerce in the schools of Frankfort, Ky., and is an expert accountant. Mr. Lane has been retained as a part time employee during the ensuing year.

Other teachers added to the faculty at a recent meeting of the Board of Regents are Miss Helen Board, of Bowling Green who will act as critic teacher in the Training school, having charge of the first grade, and Mrs. Lottie Nickell of Greenvu, who will have charge of the sixth grade in the training school.

The regular session of first semester work will begin on Monday of next week with enrollment on Monday at the gymnasium.

BILL EVANS INJURED IN SAW MILL FURNACE FIRE

A message received by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Evans of Farmers, stated that their son Bill, who was employed in a saw mill in Harlan county was seriously burned Tuesday of this week. The message stated that Mr. Evans, with two other men were working at the furnace when they fell into the blazing fire. All of them were seriously burned. He is in the hospital in Harlan.

The accident occurred while the men were burning the sawdust in the furnace. The saw dust had been burned and the men were on top of the furnace turning water on to put out the fire, when the pile exploded throwing them into the fiery furnace. All of them were badly injured.

"This Is My Affair" Is Cozy Theatre Feature

It took a lifetime of reading, six months of intensive study and a sizable cash outlay for Sidney Blackmer to bring to the screen in the picture the world is talking about, his favorite historical character and one of the nation's outstanding personalities — Theodore Roosevelt.

After the well-known stage and screen actor was assigned this important part in "This Is My Affair," Robert Taylor, Barbara Stanwyck and Victor McLaglen in leading roles, to appear at the Cozy Theatre, he spent every available hour in his home "acting laboratory" equipped with large mirror, recording device and other paraphernalia to recreate "T. R." for the screen.

It was six months before he was sufficiently satisfied with his characterization to go to Darryl F. Zanuck, studio production chief, and play a scene from the script in order to illustrate his interpretation. In order to reproduce Roosevelt's stating and unusually forceful manner of speech, Blackmer purchased copies of several valuable photograph records of the ex-President's voice. Such items as T. R.'s famous gleaming teeth, and the timeless black-rimmed glasses were "more mechanical accessories" to the character," Blackmer explained. "It took me weeks to make my facial muscles behave. Roosevelt had a perpetual squint, which I finally was able to copy by working the jaws in co-ordination with my facial muscles."

Rowan County farmers are urged to make exhibits at the Fair. There is no charge to making entries in any ring, all exhibits will be returned to the owner at the end of the fair. Farmers are requested that they make their entries conform to these listed in the catalog. Any farm, garden, orchard or poultry product listed in the catalog may be exhibited by the producer or some member of his family. Exhibits must be produced in Rowan county.

95,169 Acres Of Land Bought By U. S. Forest

95,169 acres of land were acquired by the United States Forest Service on the Cumberland National Forest during August, was the announcement made by R. F. Heming way, Forest Supervisor.

The land acquired during the month was deeded to the United States Government after approximately $360,000.00 had been paid to the Federal Court of the Eastern District of Kentucky. The land was acquired through a process of friendly condemnation due to the fact that the title to the land was faulty and could be cleared only through court action.

A total of 281,000 acres has been deeded to the United States Forest Service, and approximately 104,000 acres are either in the process of condemnation or have been approved for purchase. The total gross area within the Cumberland National Forest is about 1,300,000 acres of which about 1,000,000 acres will eventually be purchased.

New Miracles Of The Photoelectric Cell

By James D. Purdy, Director, Schools of Electrical Engineering, International Correspondence Schools

A METHOD of transmitting news bulletins by telegraph has been developed by a New York inventor. At the transmitting station an electric typewriter types the characters on transparent tape. A light beam passes through the tape by a photoelectric cell which transforms and variations in light intensity into electric impulses that are sent out by short-wave radio. The receiving apparatus re-transforms the impulses into the light of varying intensity and projects the original letters or numbers onto a screen.

The photoelectric cell and a light beam from a special automobile headlight, from which all visible rays of light are excluded. The filtered, are employed in the latest protective device against burglar alarms or other intruders. By a system of mirrors the invisible light beam is reflected back and forth throughout the area to be protected. Energy released by any interference between the beam and a photoelectric cell or cells can be used to sound a bell or alarm, or even to transmit an alarm by telephone.

Automobile headlights can now be tested by a photoelectric cell meter. When the device is placed against the lens of the headlight a dial reading gives the volume and intensity of light. Another device based on the use of the photoelectric cell has been developed to grade milk. The device measures the degree to which various samples of milk transmit light, and grades them accordingly.

What's New in Radio?

By J. F. Witkowski
Principal, School of Radio, International Correspondence Schools; Associate Member, Institute of Radio Engineers

WHAT is said to be the most elaborate alarm system ever developed is installed in the vaults of the new United States mint at San Francisco. Controlled by an arrangement of detectors set to reset in case of sound disturbance, the alarms automatically call police and military authorities by short-wave radio, turn on floodlights, ring bells and spray tear gas.

Business men who find their recreation in cruising along the seaboard can talk to their homes or offices by telephone without putting in to shore. Radio telephone equipment suitable for small craft is now available and telephone companies have established shore stations, enabling yachtmen in the vicinity of Boston, New York, Miami, Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles to call any telephone subscriber on land.

It is reported that the U. S. Navy has developed a "radio spy" which can track down and locate enemy vessels over long distances, thus providing ample warning of their presence. It is believed that on the basis of the device is the use of micro-waves which are reflected back by the distant warships.

Progress in the campaign for greater safety at sea is marked by the successful performance of a robot radio receiver designed to insure the receipt of distress signals by ships that have only one operator who may be off duty at the time. The receiver needs a special code signal. When such a signal is picked up it calls the operator by sounding an alarm bell and flashing warning lights.

Me I've seen this coming, an' I ain't a mite surprised. For that matter, neither will be boys be. Of course, it ain't exactly my business, but you nuth make a deal with Slim Loyale? He's got plenty of ready cash. I know Slim would be tickled to death to help yuh out.

Mona shook her head. "I couldn't, Abe. I've got a little pride left. I know Slim would help me; he already offered to. But he has had so much trouble himself, I can't add mine to the load. Besides, there are other reasons that make it—well, I just can't, that's all."

I see, nodded Fornachon, even though he didn't. Well, keep a stiff upper lip. Ten days' time is ten days' time, Mebbe something will turn up.

No, Abe, nothing will. That's the trouble. I've been waiting too long now for some good break to come along. They just don't call it all. I had stepped out with rub-ber hands and forced my own breaks, things would be different now.

Mebbe, nodded Fornachon. Mebbe you're right. Well, I'll tell the boys. An' some day I'm gonna cook up a reason to punch that lawyer Jasper to a tall, thin peak.

Mona went back to the house. As own the Dot H Dot, yet. How long since was it yuh got that word?

"Nigh onto a month. Yuh see, my names Tisdale. I own a purty good sized spread down in the Big Bend country, but I'm pullin' out of a lot of other Big Bend ranges. Too much sheep down there. We're haidin' up into this new Kiecpoo country that's to be opened.

"Ten of us got our herds already started on the trail. I come on ahaid to sorta break trail, yuh might say. The short, quick way into the Kiecpoo range for us is straight through this country. That's what I was lookin' for Arthur about. Said he had a business proposition to talk over with us.

Abe Fornachon was nobody's fool. He held out his hand. My name's Fornachon, he said. Glad to know yuh, Tisdale. Shore yuh don't mind my sayin' that yore bronc looks like it could stand a couple of fees of oats and a good rest. I'm haidin' for the Circle L, a couple miles along. Yuh better get over with me an' rest yoreself an' yore boss. When'd yuh get last?"

"Danged early this mornin'," grinned Tisdale. "Ain't no particular rush about me s'dan' Arthur. I can see him tonight. I'm with yuh. At the Circle L, they found Slim and Dakota perched on the corral fence, deep in thoughtful conversation. Slim looked up and waved to Abe. The Dot H Dot foreman said that Slim was carrying a pair of guns. He and Tisdale dismounted.

"Slim-Dakota, meet a gent from the Big Bend country. Tisdale, this is Slim Loyale and Dakota Blue. When the round of hand-claps was over, Abe explained. Slim nodded generously. "Glad yuh dropped in, Tisdale. Shore, we try an' treat folks. I'll tell Oscar to set yuh out a meal, an' I'll loan yuh a fresh bronc. Yore looks pretty gaunt."

Leaving Tisdale at his meal, Slim went outside again. Dakota, his eyes hot with interest, beckoned him. "Abe," he said, tell Slim what yuh just told me."

Abe did so, starting with infor-

WEST MOREHEAD
The Elam reunion was held at the home of E. E. Elam at Clearfield Sunday Sept. 12. It was a great day with everyone Early in the morning the doors were thrown open to welcome each guest. In due time cars and trucks were parking and carrying in boxes and baskets of lunch to add to what Mr. and Mrs. Elam had prepared. By noon the relatives and friends were there greeting one another. The father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Elam of West Liberty could not be present as Mr. Elam is in bad health. Also L. C. and E. E. Elam's son was absent, being in Sacramento, Calif., but sent a telegram Sunday A. M. Eight states was represented, Washington, Arizona, Alabama, Tenn., Virginia, Ohio, Ind. and Kentucky. The days program was carried out very nicely. Long tables were spread in the beautiful shady lawn and were laden with everything good and to say the least we all did justice to all the lunch. Silent prayer was offered for their father, Mr. L. C. Elam
