"ONE OF KENTUCKY'S GREATER WEEKLIES"

MOREHEAD, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY JULY 27, 1935.

Number 36.

This is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth so help me, if I don't turn into a fish—Dr. L. M. Garrod, Wilfred Wally, Earl May and Ernest Walford lit out on a fishing spree over the week-end. They drove to Norris dam last Saturday night, fished Sunday morning, passed awfully at the dam (and a little boy who caught a 3 1/2 pound bass) and Cumberland Falls. They landed here Sunday night with their fishing poks burzting with one bass and one sunfish.

The Paintsville Herald said that some people got wet during the recent flash flood who had been dodging water for forty years.

Stop right up folks! Get your tickets now for the biggest fight of the year—Barrehouse Dick Clay, super heavyweight, and "Wallpaper" Senator "Kay" Hinton, flyweight.

No heads barred, just a decent free-for-all. Everyone invited. Lunch will be served. Bring your own guns.

We're not saying who will win but their previous experiences certainly entitle them to be called challengers for the Rowan County title.

CRACKERBARREL COMMENTS . . .

By WOODY HINTON

One of the most crazy things I have seen lately is Grand Brown riding these phifish little cars up and down the road. He weighs almost as much as the car.

I have never heard anyone speak only something good about D. A. Black, the merchant of Hogtown. The Chas. F. Dole's, entertained the high officers of the Masons and their wives at Paris Lake over the week-end. Mrs. Dole I understand was responsible for the fivers that decorated the cottage, the books, and the wonderful food. Mr. Duley had a boy dig the worms that he fished with. Dr. Clyde Garr has no conscience what-so-ever when it comes to eating. I am told he can down a chicken dinner with around the lake and do the same thing over again. Mrs. Kate Dudley is so young in her manners I want to call her Katie.

I asked a certain man who told me he was trapped in his house during the flood with water up to his ears, if he prayed. He said, "prayed." "Why I prayed to beat the flood!"

I always think of the old negro preacher who was called on to preach the flood with water up to his ears. He raised his head to Heaven and said, "San Jones, yo is gone. We hopes yo is gone whar we 'spect yo 'ain't."

Le Grande Jaxon says you can buy one of his new cars for less than a song. I expect the song's title is "Over The Hill To The Poorhouse."

W. C. (Cliff) Hamilton can shake more hands in one minute than any candidate I have ever known. Judge Arthur Hogg is the handsomest man I have ever known. He is what I call a year-round shaker.

Joe McKinney can't shake hands without laughing out loud. James Clay, Esq., looks like a bullfrog in that new pale blue car he has. I am going to ask him to borrow it sometime.

Legion Post Gives Report Of Flood Relief Work Here

A vivid description of the work of the members of the Corbie Legion Post, No. 126, American Legion, during the flood, was given by Jack West in a report at the state convention held early this week in Louisville. West said the report was enthusiastically received.

Immediate help given not only by the Morehead post members but also by Owsingville and Ashland Legionnaires and other posts was made available in relieving the homeless. Noteworthy work done by the local Auxiliary women was also cited.

The Vacation Bible School which opened at the Baptist church Monday morning surprised even the most optimistic in attendance and activity by a large enrollment.

Monday the school opened with an attendance of 127. The second day brought the attendance to 139, and it was expected that the total for the third day would go above 150.

BAGBY IS ENDORSED BY IRVIN S. COBB

Humorist Pays Tribute To Carter Candidate

Irvin S. Cobb, internationally famous author and humorist, has enthusiastically endorsed R. M. Bagby of Grayson, for Lieutenant Governor, in a personal letter. The following is a full text of the letter:

To the Editor
The Shady Valley Enquirer
Grayson, Kentucky
Sir:

Not because his family distaste is related to my family but because of my knowledge of the man—his character, his worth as a citizen, his deep patriotism for his state and nation; his high intelligence and grasp of public affairs—I hope to avail myself of the courtesy of your columns to endorse the candidacy of your distinguished fellow-townman, R. M. Bagby, Esq., for Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky.

For many years I have known Mr. Bagby and always favorably. I admire his personality, I pay tribute to his moral stability and his attainments.

With all my heart I believe that, should he be nominated, he will add strength to the Democratic party's ticket and when elected will reflect credit and honor upon his county, his section and the whole Commonwealth.

I wish I might still be a citizen of Kentucky instead of an exile to California. It would give me pleasure to vote for Mr. Bagby.

He has my warmest wishes for success.

Yours Very Truly,
Irvin S. Cobb

CASE WORK FOR 140 FAMILIES FINISHED

Red Cross Places All Homeless Persons

Case work for 140 flood-districted families in Rowan County had been completed by the Red Cross Wednesday, according to Miss Helen J. Moses, area director.

Mass feeding was stopped last week and all of the homeless were either returned to their homes or placed with relatives and friends. Mrs. E. Fox Clinton, nurse attached to the national staff, returned to Washington, D. C., Monday.

D. A. Handy, national building advisor for the American Red Cross, is inspecting all buildings to determine the loss and the necessary repairs. Mr. Handy will write all the building contracts. Beneficiaries will be advised by headquarters when Mr. Handy will be able to confer with them. Expense of new building and repairs is expected to be double the amount to be spent for furniture for flood ravaged families.

Rehabilitation in Carter, Lewis and Menifee counties is expected to end next week. The case workers will be brought back to Rowan county to help complete the work here when the outlying counties are cared for.

Rehabilitation in this county was not completed early this week. A total of 550 is being predicted at the highwaters.

She is survived by two brothers, John and Flem Webb, both of Ashland; one sister, Mrs. Walter Queen of Glenwood; and three grandchildren, Raymond, Nora Nelle and Mrs. Clyde Bradley, all of Glenwood.

FLOOD DIFFICULTIES BEING SURMOUNTED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Lower Lick Fork Bridges Washed Out

By MABEL ARLFEY, Ashland, Ky.

The bridges on Lower Lick Fork were washed out due to the high waters Monday afternoon, preventing the Craney teacher, Leo Ball, from reaching his school Tuesday. This created an emergency, due to the fact, since the bridges are out, people cannot even get to a doctor in case of sickness. Something should be done immediately to relieve this situation.

The number of children in the census this year is 2,225. This is an increase of 104 over last year. We have every reason to believe that enrollment will be far greater than last year.

The NYA boys, under the supervision of Chas. E. Jennings, are making many needed repairs to the Rowan County schools, buildings and grounds. They have been cleaning flooded schoolhouses, walls, putting in windows and window sills, oiling floors, and in general getting the schoolhouses in a sanitary condition for the school children. They have also been salvaging lumber from the three schoolhouses that were washed away and wrecked by the flood July 5.

Without the aid of this program from the Rowan County Schools, that have been so handicapped, would probably have been unable to open until a later date.

The three school buildings that were washed away and wrecked during the flood will probably not be replaced. It is possible to replace any of these buildings before the opening of the rural schools. The Board of Education, in order to allow these children from these districts to be taken care of, and desirous of staying within their budget for the school year of 1934-40, have decided to take the Bradley school children to Elliottville, the Bluestone children to Farmers, and the children of Pond Lick school to Cranston.

Three rural schools are being used as demonstration schools by the Morehead State Teachers College, namely, Clearfield, Seas Branch and Little Ferry. In these schools the critic-teachers of the College Training School will work in cooperation with the Rowan County teachers.

A BALLOT FOR

Ernest E. Shannon

of Louisa, Ky.

Democratic Candidate

For State

Treasurer

Is A Vote For

The Best Interests of Rowan County and Eastern Kentucky

A NATIVE OF EASTERN KENTUCKY

Ernest E. Shannon was born and raised on a farm in Lawrence County, a county which almost adjoins Rowan. He later engaged in the furniture and hardware business at Louisa; served as state purchasing agent for Kentucky for 4 years and in 1935 was nominated and elected as Auditor of Kentucky. An eastern Kentuckian himself, he has the heart and interests of Eastern Kentucky foremost in his mind. As treasurer he will be in a position to do much for the people of this section of Kentucky.

MEMBER MOREHEAD BOARD OF REGENTS

Last year Ernest E. Shannon was appointed a member of the Board of Regents of the Morehead State Teachers College. Later he was offered a position as trustee of the University of Kentucky but declined it with the statement that he would prefer to serve on the Morehead College Board, instead of the governing body of the larger Lexington institution, because Morehead is the school that is educating "the boys and girls I am most vitally interested in." Since being appointed a member of the Morehead Board of Regents he has conducted himself in that position with dignity and honesty that merits respect for himself and that institution. As state treasurer he will be able to help the Morehead State Teachers College even greater for in that position he will have great influence which can mean added appropriations and increased state support for this school, which is the backbone of Rowan County and the educational center of eastern Kentucky.

INTERESTED IN OUR ROADS

Good roads for Eastern Kentucky is a slogan that Ernest E.
Shannon adopted many years ago, and he has since worked for better roads. The Christy Creek road is one of the most vital to Mr. Shannon, because he is interested in the completion of this highway, fully paved, thereby connecting Louisa and Morehead with about a one hour drive. The election of Ernest E.
Shannon will mean much toward the paving of this entire strip from Louisa to Morehead via Sandy Hook.

A CAPABLE MAN FOR AN IMPORTANT JOB

The office of state treasurer is an important one; one of the most important in the entire state, for through this office must pass all finances of Kentucky. Ernest E. Shannon has already demonstrated by his commendable record as state Auditor that he is a capable man to hold one of the state's most important positions. Study his past record—you will find it merits commendation from all of Kentucky.

Russo-Japanese Crisis May Lead To Far East War

By PROFESSOR EARL K. SENFF

In all the so-called "danger spots" of the world there is probably more likely to be an explosion in the Far East than anywhere else. This statement will not altogether irrefutable, tends to become more obviously true each day.

Since 1931, when Japan extended her "sphere of interest" to Manchoukuo (pronounced Manchoo-kwo) affairs in the Far East have been in a constant turmoil.

Japan withdrew from the League of Nations on March 27, 1933. Since then several half-hearted attempts have been made to insure peace in the Far East. The Tanguin truce, May 31, 1933, was supposed to end fighting between the Japanese and Chinese in Manchoukuo.

In 1934 Japan filed notice she would withdraw from the Washington Naval Treaty in 1936. On April 18, 1935, in the Amu Declaration, Japan had the audacity to announce she would assume sole responsibility for the maintenance of order in China! Then on June 10, 1935, in the Ho-Umezu agreement China agreed to take certain steps, demanded by the Japanese, to lessen Chinese opposition to Japanese activities in North China and Manchoukuo.

To state that the present undeclared war existing between Japan and China has terminated whatever synthetic efforts at peace the above named agreements may have represented would be ludicrous. In fact, I seriously doubt if these efforts were even really sincere—on the part of Japan.

Some critics contend that the change in the personnel of the Japanese premiership has doubtlessly changed the policy of Japan toward China. My answer to that argument is brief. On March 5, 1936, Koki Hirota became premier. He was an expansionist.

On February 2, 1937, Hayashi was appointed but only served until May 31. He was inclined toward conciliation, but was unable to do anything about it—his early resignation.

On June 4, 1937, Prince Komei became premier, another militarist. He was, in turn, succeeded by the present Japanese Premier, Hiranuma, January 6, 1938. Hiranuma, while not so aggressive perhaps as some of his predecessors is undoubtedly an opportunist and a militant expansionist.

The present situation which has caused a crisis over the island of Sakhalin or Karafuto, if you prefer. Only recently have the Russians stopped Japanese oil and coal concessions. Japan needs these products badly. In view of the recent Russo-Japanese clashes—commonly referred to as "incidents"—it seems very likely that Japan may use the Russian bear as a final gesture of saving her "face" in the present untenable Chinese war.
