Rowan Election Donnybrook . . .

Absentee Ballots

Charges of 'vote buying' and 'vote selling' were obviously revived in Rowan County this morning the 'device' being the absentee ballot, which is the subject of the election law.

Objection is almost certain to come from the supporters of Henry Ward and Harry Lee Waterfield, candidates for Governor, and against supporters of A. B. Chandler, who opposed Ward and Waterfield in the May 23 democratic primary.

The 'incident' came when Ottis W. Ham, County Clerk, posted the names of 67 absentee voters on the ballots inside the courthouse. She said revised law requires that the entire application be posted in a public place and the applications are open for public inspection. [All but one of the applications were for democratic ballots.]

The member of the election board said, "This is a pretty plain case of buying the votes of poor people . . . to be sure they vote right the absentee ballot was used."

The Rowan County grand jury convenes Monday.

Records in the Clerk's office show one N. O. P. ballot, Virgil Adkins, notarized 43 of the 66 democratic ballot applications. Adkins formerly owned sewing machines, house-to-house, and is a strong supporter of Chandler with many Chandler stickers on his car.

Eleven of the applications specify that the ballot, itself, be mailed to either Virgil Adkins or his wife, Rosie Adkins, Post Office Box 271, Morehead, Ky. Mrs. Virgil [Rosie] Adkins applied herself for an absentee ballot, stating "Lexington hospital" as her reason.

Mrs. Ham said that in compliance with the law she was mailing all 11 of these ballots to Virgil Adkins or Rosie Adkins at Post Office Box 271, Morehead, Ky.

Six of the 43 absentee ballot applications, notarized by Virgil Adkins specified that the ballot should be mailed to: Carl Jones, City Hall, Morehead, Ky. Jones is a democratic candidate for Representative.

Following is a complete list of the ballot applications, all but one being democratic:

Edna Stamper, "visiting daughter in Ohio," send ballot in care of Rosie Adkins, P. O. Box 271, notarized by Virgil Adkins, precinct 8.

Squire Hall, "expecting to visit medical doctors outside Rowan County," ballot to RFD 3, Box 29, notarized by Virgil Adkins, precinct 8.

Cris Adkins, "working at Dominion Electric in Miami, Fla.," O. M. ballot, Carl Jones, City Hall, Morehead, Ky., notarized by Virgil Adkins, precinct 13.

Archie Gibbs, "working in Crestline, Ohio," send ballot care of Rosie Adkins, P. O. Box 271, notarized by Virgil Adkins, precinct 7.

Alford Jones, "visiting friend out of county," send ballot 930 W. Main, notarized by Virgil Adkins, precinct 7.

Hargis Stidman, "expecting to go to hospital," send ballot RFD 4, Box 406, notarized by Virgil Adkins, precinct 2.

Martin Jenkins, "visiting out of state," ballot care of Carl Jones, City Hall, Morehead, Ky., notarized by Virgil Adkins, precinct 8.

Edward White, "medical attention out of county," ballot care of Carl Jones, City Hall, Morehead, Ky., notarized by Virgil Adkins, precinct 2.

Ruby Gearhart, "with husband out of county for medical attention," ballot to RFD 4, Box 29, notarized by Virgil Adkins, precinct 2.

Sadie Gearhart, "out to business matters out of county," ballot Carl Jones, City Hall, Morehead, Ky., notarized by Virgil Adkins, precinct 7.

Charles Gregory, "due to army duty," send ballot care of Silas Adkins, 116 S. Blair Avenue, notarized by Virgil Adkins, precinct 7. [Silas Adkins is a candidate for City Council in the November election.]

Elta Meadows, "out for medical treatment," send ballot care of Rosie Adkins, Box 271, notarized by Virgil Adkins, precinct 7.

Henry C. Vicker, "official government business," send ballot RFD 4, notarized by Virgil Adkins, precinct 9.

Elvira Gregory, "with husband in U. S. Army," send ballot care of Silas Adkins, 116 Blair Ave., notarized by Virgil Adkins, precinct 13.

Baseball!

Little League Opens
Season Saturday

It's baseball time - Little League versus - again at Morehead starting Saturday.

The sponsoring Kiwanis Club announced the annual parade starts at the courthouse and continues to the baseball park at Rowan County High on Flemingsburg Road.

Following the parade the first Little League game of the year will start at 2 o'clock.

Harry Hogue, a Kiwanian and staff member of Morehead State University, has been elected 1967 Commissioner of the Morehead Little League, a baseball circuit for boys from 8 to 13.

DISTRICT CHAMPS . . . Rowan County's Future Farmers of America Soil Judging Team' earned first place in eastern Kentucky regional competition Saturday at Grayson. The winning team - Bobby Trent, who also had the highest overall score, Wendell White, Cecil Ison and Sandy Knipp.

Damage Is Light From High Water

Heavy weekend rainfalls brought flood waters to most of the low lying sections of Rowan County but damage was negligible because farmers had not yet planted crops.

Some farm homes received a few inches of water on the first floor. Residents on the north side of the North Fork of Triplet said water there was the highest in their memory.

Heaviest part of the storm seemed to center on the north side of the county and some rural and secondary roads were almost impassable. Gravel, soil and debris washed over highways.

The south fork of Triplet from Morehead to Farmers also received flood waters but little damage.

Licking River was rising, but within its banks.

Both County farmers also reported heavy rainfall and damage to plowed fields.

The editorial details Ward's life as a citizen, in his home, and in public service. "No man has a more enviable record . . . no scandal has ever touched Henry Ward," the editorial recited.

Emphasis was placed that Rowan County probably has more people in the primary than any other county because of Morehead State University, I-64, the elementary schools, Rowan College. The editorial also set out that a state park is assured at Cave Run road via Transistor-Glenn Creek road, and Ky. 32 north from the I-64 connector into Lewis county.

News Supports Henry Ward For Governor

The Morehead News today gave its endorsement in the May 23 primary election to Henry Ward for Governor.

The newspaper which formerly supported A. B. Chandler and Harry Lee Waterfield said that "Rowan County Has A Major Stake In The Primary" and recited the importance of the nomination of Ward.

Among the subjects pin-pointed in the editorial which appears on page 8 - Henry Ward is a proven friend of Morehead State University . . . and will do the most for MSU.

Ward expedited I-64 in Rowan County and the four-lane connector at Morehead. U. S. 60 from Morehead west to Farmers will be kept in a high state of maintenance due to Mr. Ward . . . Morehead will benefit because of traffic to Cave Run Reservoir which would have been passed except for Henry Ward.

The elementary schools in Rowan County have been elevated by the present state administration and the Rowan Board of Education has become solvent.

Rowan County has procured more rural and secondary roads under Ward as Highway Commissioner than any other time. [The roads are detailed in the editorial.]

With Henry Ward as Governor the following highway arteries will be improved and kept in high maintenance - I-64, the elementary schools, Rowan College via Transistor-Glenn Creek road, and Ky. 32 north from the I-64 connector into Lewis county.

The editorial details Ward's life as a citizen, in his home, and in public service. "No man has a more enviable record . . . no scandal has ever touched Henry Ward," the editorial recited.

647 Receive Shots For Measles

The Rowan County Health Department reported this week the "War on Measles" Clinic held May 2 was very successful with 647 children receiving the measles vaccine.

A team of a doctor, public health nurses, technicians and volunteers traveled to all the elementary schools in the county and administered measles vaccine to those children who had not had the "red" measles or the measles vaccine.

The Health Department expresses appreciation to all those who helped to make this successful campaign in eradicating measles.

A make-up clinic will be held in June for those eligible who did not receive the vaccine. The date will be announced later in the Morehead News.

JCI President Speaks In Morehead Next Monday

Morehead Jaycees announced this week that Clifford E. Myatt, President, Junior Chamber International, will highlight a International Relations Dinner next Monday in the Doran Student House on the Morehead State University campus.

The meeting which will also serve as an installation of new officers and awards night for the Morehead chapter will begin at 7:00 p.m.

The honored guests is a President of San Juan, Puerto Rico and was elected President of Junior Chamber International at the World Congress held in Kyoto, Japan in November, 1966.

Mr. Myatt held many offices in the international organization prior to his becoming World President. He is a 37 year old Certified Public Accountant.

During his term of office as President of Junior Chamber International, Mr. Myatt will visit many of the 80 national organizations of JCI. He will be meeting and discussing world problems with individual members on six continents and with heads of state, prominent businessmen and community leaders in countries visited.

Ronald Hart, chairman for the local meeting, stated that it is indeed an honor to have such a distinguished individual visit Morehead. Mr. Myatt will be our scheduled visits in Kentucky, most of these cities much larger than Morehead.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has scheduled an important meeting May 15 to explain its food stamp program to retail and wholesale grocers in Rowan County. The program is scheduled to start in Rowan County in June.

The meeting will be held Monday, May 15, at 2:30 p.m. in the Rowan County Courthouse at Morehead.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service urges all grocers serving customers in Rowan County to attend the meeting and apply for authorization to take part in the program.

Failure to receive authorization before the program gets underway in June could result in grocers losing some food sales, food stamp program officials point out, because only retailers who have been authorized by the Consumer and Marketing may handle USDA food coupons.

The United States Department of Agriculture today released the following statement concerning food stamps - "The U. S. Food Stamp Program" is a relatively new food-assistance program designed to safeguard the health of the nation's low-income families through better nutrition and to increase the flow of funds from the farm through normal trade channels.

In May 1967, USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service began the first phase of the food stamp program with 8 "pilot projects" throughout the nation. In 1967, the number of pilot programs was increased to 43, including 13 in southern states. After a 3 1/2-year trial period, Congress passed the Food Stamp Act in August 1964, which authorized the gradual expansion of the food stamp program to other parts of the nation that want and need it.

"At the end of 1966, there were 477 communities with the food stamp program - 127 of these programs were in the Southeast. This represented $44,673,393 worth of bonus coupons to boost the participating families' food buying power and the economy of their communities. The total amount received amounted $19,000,000 in bonus coupons."

In January 1967, the White House announced the expansion of the food stamp program to 146 newly-designated areas. When all of these programs are in operation, the food stamp program will be adding nearly 2 million needy people in 870 counties in 42 states and the District of Columbia to the bonus coupons.

"Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman attributes the rapid growth of the food stamp program to several factors, but 'First and foremost, important, low-income families accept this food stamp method as a dignified, effective way of helping themselves to enjoy better diets.'"

"The food stamp program has done Continued On Next Page

On Your Drivers License

Point System Change

A change in the State's point system for drivers designed to enable the Department of Public Safety to concentrate more on habitual violators has gone into effect.

The time in which a motorist may lose his license for accumulating 12 points was changed from three to two years.

The change is expected to result in fewer suspensions and to enable the State to reach problem drivers sooner. State Safety Commissioner Glenn A. Lovern says.

Drivers who accumulate points rapidly are considered a more serious menace than those who collect the same number of points over a longer period, says Lovern.

Points are assessed on the basis of court convictions, forfeiture of bonds and payment of fines by mail for traffic violations.

Lovern said suspension periods will remain the same: six months the first time, a year the second and two years the third time.

He emphasized that the state's aim is to help motorists improve their driving rather than to suspend their driving privileges.

Lovern announced these other changes in the point system:

"Drivers accumulating six points during two years will receive warning letters urging improvement of their driving."

"A driver with 8 to 11 points may be put on probation, called to a hearing by a driver-improvement officer. The officer will determine whether the driver will be required to attend a driver-improvement clinic. A driver who fails to appear for a hearing may have his license suspended."

"A driver with 12 or more points at a driver-improvement clinic may entitle a driver with 6 to 11 points to a three-point reduction."

"Drivers with 12 or more points at a driver-improvement clinic may be required to attend a driver-improvement clinic."

He was unable to give any details about the man who struck and robbed him. "It happened so fast and unexpected I don't have any kind of description," Love told investigating trooper Marion Campbell.

Green Valley is a subdivision about two miles west of Morehead.

Love, an employee of the United States Department of Agriculture, lives alone.

Neighbors said they heard nothing unusual, and the assault and robbery was not known until Love revived and called State Police.

Police theorized the crime was committed by someone who knew the neighborhood and that Love lived by himself.

Delia M. Stigall, 77, Is Claimed

Funeral services for Mrs. Delia M. Stigall, 77, were conducted Saturday morning at Bowen Chapel followed by burial in the nearby church cemetery. Mrs. Stigall passed away last Wednesday at St. Claire Medical Center.

She was born in Carter County May 11, 1889, daughter of the late Eide and Amanda (Warren) Coldiron.

Early in life she married George Parsons who preceded his wife in death. Later she married Manuel Stigall, who also preceded her.

Rev. Jake Plank officiated at the funeral.

She leaves a son, Lee Parsons of Morehead, and four sisters - Mrs. Rosie Sloan, Morehead, Mrs. Emma Conley, Van Lear, Mrs. Stella Estep, West Virginia, and Mrs. Pearl DeLong, Paintsville.

Mrs. Stigall was a housewife all her life and a member of the Church of God.

Arrangements were cared for by Stucky Funeral Home.

BURLEY - Shawnee Indians grew tobacco in Kentucky, according to a 1751 report of John Finley, a Pennsylvania explorer.

Homemakers Meet For 21st Year

Seventy people met Sunday, in the Doran Student House to celebrate the 21st year of the FHA organization in Rowan County.

Guests included charter leaders, honorary members, mothers, fathers and son graders.

A twenty-one year history of the charter FHA chapters in Rowan County was distributed to the honorary members and charter leaders.

The program included a panel discussion on "Our Beginning," led by Miss Patti Bolin, one of the charter advisers of the High School Home Economics Clubs.

Miss Bolin helped organize FHA chapters in Kentucky.

Other panel members were: Mrs. Merl Fair Allen, first President of the High School Home Economics Club at the University Breckinridge School; Mrs. Nancy Holbrook Calvert, first President of the Ashland District; Mrs. Virginia Ellington Martin, first President of the Morehead High School Chapter; Mrs. Mary Thompson Messer, first Co-President of the Morehead Chapter, which was the two high school chapters combined as one for a period of twelve years.

Detta Brammer, Morehead Chapter President, 1965-1967, presided and presented Mary Cassidy, Chairman of the Historical Records Committee, a symbol of appreciation.

Mrs. Alvin McGary, Chapter Mother in 1966-1967, was installed as Honorary Member.

Miss Thelma Evans has been selected by the chapter members as the Chapter Mother for 1967-1968. She will be installed in September.

Alvin McGary was installed as Chapter Father. He succeeds James Brammer, Jr., the first Chapter Father at Morehead.

Ceremonies were held to confer the Junior and Chapter Degrees, followed by a discussion of the Value Of The Degree Program In The Personal Development Of FHA Girls.

Mrs. Virginia Hamm Reynolds, the first member to receive a State Degree in the Ashland District, and Mrs. Margaret Foreman Partin, the only one to receive the American Homemaker Degree in Kentucky, pointed out the many advantages of learning to set goals and carry out plans that lead to the growth of the individual as leaders, both today and tomorrow. They emphasized that these values continue to become more meaningful in the role of the girl as she assumes responsibilities of citizenship as a homemaker.

Detta Brammer, Jr., and Carol Wentz, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Byron Wentz, were recognized for completing requirements for the state degree in 1966-1967. They will receive their degrees at the state FHA meeting in Louisville, June 7-8.

Members who received their Chapter Homemaker Degree were: Janie Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, Jr.; Mary Jane Hurt, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Williams; Ann Lea Lake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lake.

Mrs. John Allen, Jr., assisted Pam Hall in this ceremony.

Fan Vencill and Carol Wentz assisted in conferring the Junior Homemaker Degree to Janet Bellamy, Melinda Brammer, Rosemary Carlson, Martha Cline, Braunita Conley, Theresa Crawford, Toni Epperhart, Carla Annin, Joan Hill, Jean McGary, Deborah Penny, Amy Simpson, Rhonda Sluss, Rhonda Hill.

Prizes were awarded three members for the highest sales record in the Salesmanship Unit Project. Mrs. W. F. Rice, the adviser knitted a white stole that was given as first prize to Theresa Crawford. Deborah Penny was second prize, a silver FHA bracelet as second prize, a silver FHA bracelet as second prize, a silver FHA charm, third prize.

MILLER'S BARN - The pioneer settlement that became Richmond, Kentucky, was made in 1744 by Colonel John Miller, who had served at Yorktown. When Richmond was made the seat of county government in 1796, the first court was held in Colonel Miller's barn, the site of the present court house.

Issue Warning About Termite Exterminators

State Agriculture Commissioner Wendell P. Butler this week warned Kentucky homeowners to be on the lookout for termites and unscrupulous termite exterminators.

"The termite warning season is now in progress," Butler said, "and we urge everyone to inspect this property for wood-infesting termites."

Butler said some termite exterminators victimize unwary property owners.

"Although we constantly police this industry to weed out the few incompetent and disreputable operators, it seems that every year some of them are able to negotiate lucrative contracts which they never fulfill."

Butler advised property owners who suspect termites to obtain inspection and cost estimates from two or three licensed, reputable firms.

"Legitimate operators welcome the opportunity to solicit business on this basis," he said.

NEW YORK (UPI) - The management party, whether intimate to close friends, relatives or all your friends, traditionally is given by the bride's parents, etiquette experts report.

MSU Participates In Planning For Head Start

Two hundred school administrators, Head Start directors and Community Action directors will participate in special three-day Head Start Training session May 11-13.

The training program, under the direction of Eastern Kentucky University, Morehead State University and the University of Kentucky, will be held at the Campbell House in Lexington.

Special features of the program on Thursday will include discussions by Alta Schlaak, Vort Technical Corporation, Washington, D. C., on contracting procedures and Roland Lafayette, Head Start Coordinator of Region II, Office of Economic Opportunity, on the relationship between the Community Action Program and the delegate agency.

Speakers and their subjects at the Friday session will include: Martha Turner, coordinator of Federal Programs for the Owsky County Board of Education, "Parent, Teacher and Administrator Involvement"; Richard Walker, Executive Director of Fayette County Schools' Children's Bureaus, "Social Services"; Dr. Robert McLeod, Jr., Somerset, "Health Services"; and Betty Fogg, Program Specialist of the OEO, "Head Start Program Components."

There will be a group discussion in the afternoon.

Dr. Mary Northcutt and Dr. Norman Tant of Morehead State University will show candid photographs of Head Start classroom situations on video tape Friday evening.

Concluding the session, Dr. Morris Norfleet, Director of Research and Development at Morehead, will speak on "Evaluation From Stating Objectives to Measuring Behavioral Changes."

BIG BUSINESS - Kentucky has 37 tobacco manufacturing outlets including tobacco stemming and re-drying plants. These outlets employ nearly 15,000 persons. There are 26 tobacco stemming and re-drying facilities, employing about 6,000 persons.

Chevrolet's room, ride and price. When Automotive News made its annual roominess study, Chevrolet got the most points. It's roomier inside, they reported, than any other American car. The ride is Full Coil suspension, smooth. And Chevrolet hardtops and convertibles are still the lowest priced full-size cars of this kind you can buy. Chevrolet's quick - it's quick to climb, quick to turn. Other mid-size cars might be like Chevrolet, true. But they're not as low priced. And they're not made by Chevrolet with Body by Fisher, GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column, inner fenders and Full Coil suspension. Camaro's road-hugging stance. ## Publisher's Pen...

Day-by-day job-observations, and editorial observations, of the publisher of this newspaper.

DO NOT FOLD FOOD COUPON DO NOT SPINDLE

AGRICULTURAL ABUNDANCE NON-TRANSFERABLE HEALTHY FARMERS
EXCEPT UNDER CONDITIONS NOT SUBJECT TO THE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE

Above is a facsimile of a federal food stamp.

You'll be seeing many of these in the future because Rowan County will turn from cheese, dried milk, stinking dried eggs, and buggy milk commodities to food stamps the first week in June.

Every retail food store, large or small, can qualify to accept food stamps. All, or most, are expected to make application at a meeting called by the United States Department of Agriculture for Monday afternoon at the courthouse. These stamps are the same as money to the merchant. He simply deposits them (like a government check) at his bank.

Recipients usually pay $2 per person each month regardless of the number in the family, and receive $12 in food stamps for each person. The stamps are good only for food. Clothing, tobacco etc. are not included.

Food stamps are proved preferable, wherever tried, over commodities. The theory is that the recipient feels more self-respect since he pays one-sixth of the cost. Also, the stamps are never food desired like any other person.

The stamps are also a boost to grocery stores.

The program will be administered by the Department of Agriculture through an agency at Lexington. One or more field workers will be employed for drawing commodities which qualify for food stamps.

JOHN COLLIS IS THE CITIZEN OF THE YEAR

Another Derby... another loss. But three Damasci, far third because he couldn't catch John's Fred Clarion and Earl's Delight.

The only bright spot in the picture [Derby loss] is that John's Fred Clarion 24 "expert" Morehead handicappers were as far off base as this community publisher. Columnists Claig Sprout and Timothy Tugman's farm mutual pick.

As Claig says this week it is another matter when the selection is placed in print that can't be erased and before the race is run.

One of our Morehead handicappers is in the cloud nine. It's John Collis of Morehead State University. He picked the 30 to one shot Fred Clarion. We conjecture if John risked a bob or two at that whoppy farm mutual pay off of $62.20. If he did his good wife instead to a new car or milk stool.

John Collis has moved to the Collis subscription up one year. He will be one of our handicappers next year and if John repeats on a longshot like this we now and determine to sell this newspaper at public auction and follow his selections. We could make a million at the races.

Frankly and candidly - said Mr. Collis is study. Morehead's Citizen of the Year. Nobody has so far seeing vision.

John claims that he was not a stab in the dark. "I picked Fred Clarion because he was the logical and best horse," Mr. Collis said.

Anyhow, he who laughs last laughs loudest and Collis certainly has the final here today and this year.

We only joined [the wager] them our money until next year.

Two handicapping experts on the Morehead News Derby panel picked Fred Clarion to run third. They are Hubert Allen and Eldon T. Evans. Allen says this was because his active wife, Della, had Fred Clarion as his number one choice, and bet on the 23 to win.

THIS IS A PROGRAM YOU SHOULD CHECK

Are you an employer, large or small? If so, it is our confirmed advice that you should contact authorities of the Youth Corps.

The program is just getting underway in Rowan County and counties of Area Development.

Basically, the plan is that the government pay part of the wages of these people are in your training. It is sort of like the apprenticeship programs available to veterans and employers after the last World War.

RIGHT AGAIN - Old timers proved their point again. Three issues back we quoted them as saying this cool weather would continue for at least two weeks, maybe longer.

Decision followed that cold wave which followed an unseasonal early spring. Folks were sweating in shirt sleeves a month ago - now the furnaces are on.

BUSY WEEK - Time and space are short this week and we conclude with a few sage observations... the time seems to be here when proper city officials contact higher-ups of the C&K railroad for that right-of-way at the Y east of the Morehead passenger station. It is our understanding that the U.S. Government of Engineers can advertise contracts for widening and straightening Triplet Creek in August. But they can't proceed unless C&O gives permission and the rights-of-way are obtained from property owners from Bridge Street to west of George Pond. The New Yorkers think they have a traffic problem. They should move to Morehead... we picked the abigies to lose the OVC baseball game.

Eagles Almost Out Of OVC Baseball Chase

Morehead State University's baseball Eagles enter their final week with a slight chance for an Eastern Division championship in the Ohio Valley Conference after a doubleheader loss Saturday to East Tennessee.

The Eagles play four games on the road in the week meeting Marshall at Huntington on Tuesday, Kentucky Wesleyan in a pair at Owensboro Wednesday, and closing the season in an OVC twin bill Saturday against Tennessee Tech at Cookeville.

After leading the league in early games, the Eagles slumped after their leading hitter Doug Moulton suffered a broken jaw 10 days ago when hit with a relay.

M'head Theatre Schedules Last Production

Morehead Theatre of Morehead State University, Morehead, Kentucky is presenting as its last production of the 1966-67 season, "A Phoenix Too Frequent" by Christopher Fry, and Jean Tardieu's "Oswald and Zenaida."

The plays will be presented on May 12, 13, 15, 16, 18, 19 and 20, 1967 in the Little Theatre of the Combs Classroom Building at 8:00 p.m.

Christopher Fry, author of "A Phoenix Too Frequent," is an English playwright who derived his art from a turn toward verse drama in pre-war England. Other well-known plays by Christopher Fry are "The Lady's Not For Burning," "Venus Observed," and an adaptation of "Ring Around the Moon."

The play is a pert version of the matron of Ephesus theme from Petronius.

The cast of "A Phoenix Too Frequent" is as follows: Dynamene is portrayed by Judy Dorson, a senior Speech and Dramatic Arts major from Pataakea, Ohio.

The role of Tegeus-Chromis is played by Alan Tongret, a sophomore Speech and Dramatic Arts major from Yorktown, N.Y.

The cast of the short one-act play by Jean Tardieu, "Oswald and Zenaida" is as follows: Gayle Lyon portrays Zenaida, the fiancée of Oswald. Gayle is a freshman Speech and Dramatic Arts major from Columbus, Ohio.

Oswald, the fiancée of Zenaida, is played by Dennis Slomkowski, a freshman Sociology major from Cincinnati, Ohio.

Allan Tongret, a sophomore Speech and Dramatic Arts major from Yorktown, N.Y., is portraying Mr. Pommethe, father of Zenaida.

Registration for Girl Scouts Day Camp will be this Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Christian Church in Morehead.

All Rowan County Girl Scouts who are planning to attend Day Camp must register today. The fee of $3.50 per girl includes insurance, crafts, supplies, and camp equipment.

Day Camp will be at the Watkins Martindale farm, Forest Hills, June 12 through June 16. The hours each day are 8 a.m. through 4:45 p.m.

Parents or friends interested in volunteering their services to Day Camp should contact Mrs. Thelma Casper or Mrs. David Abner, Business Manager. Day Camp is camping for the day... girls plan together in small groups with trained leaders in the out-of-doors... a camp home is made... hiking, cooking a meal and other events are scheduled.

Mrs. Maxine Huddell, Day Camp nurse, will be on duty at all times. The Gaudin carries Girl Scout insurance on all day camps.

Tetanus shots are recommended for all campers, but USDA advised typhoid shots are no longer necessary.

TEACHERS' PAY RISES - Salaries for qualified-degree teachers have increased an average of $2,100 since 1960 under Kentucky's minimum foundation program, the State Department of Education reports.

NUMBER ONE - Kentucky ranks first in the production of scrap-chewing tobacco, producing about 43 percent of the total, and is third in pipe-smoking tobacco with 21 percent of the total.

A Bargain in Air Cooling May Be in the Basement

NEW YORK (UPI) - You may have a real cool bargain in your basement.

More than 20 million American homes are heated by warm air furnaces - and the furnace's fan, plus the ductwork supplying forced air throughout the house, is half the equipment needed for central air conditioning. The rest of the air conditioning can be added at a relatively low cost, less than $1,000 for most average-sized three bedroom houses.

This means that central air conditioning is demonstrably within reach of a majority of American homeowners, according to heating-cooling experts at General Electric Company's Central Air Conditioning and Heating Department.

Trouble is, many homeowners don't even know about the system in their basement, or how to take advantage of it. The first step is to understand exactly what is central air conditioning. An add-on system, such as most owners of existing homes purchase when they decide to cool their houses, has only three parts: the condensing section - heat exchanger and the tubing connecting the two. The furnace fan pushes cool air through the slats duct used for warm air in winter. Since the condensing unit is outside the house, there's no problem about noise, or finding floor space for the unit.

Second Step

The second step is to find out how much cooling capacity your house requires. Your local dealer will come to your house to make a cost estimate - checking the cubic footage inside the house, the insulation, the amount of glass area, and other factors which add up to the heat gain that has to be removed for effective cooling.

One important consideration is the size of the ducts. Since cool air is less buoyant than warm air, it needs more duct space to flow through - or a larger fan to move it faster. Enlarging the ducts could be expensive and your dealer may recommend installing a bigger furnace fan. How much will it cost to operate your central air conditioning system? Surprisingly little. It will vary according to the kind of air conditioner you buy, the size of your house, the cost of electricity and the length and intensity of the hot weather.

Assuming a cooling capacity of 36,000 British thermal units per hour (3 tons of refrigeration) with electricity at 2 cents per kilowatt hour, it may cost as little as $44 for an entire cooling season in New York, $80 in Kansas City and $96 in Dallas.

So, no need to wait to enjoy the cool life. Try less expensive than you may think. Particularly when you consider the bargain in your basement.

Curly Cue

NEW YORK (UPI) - Gordon MacRae says that one of the most grueling experiences he suffered during the filming of the motion picture classic "Oklahoma."

To the role of "Curly" in the film, the husky, masculine singer was forced to sleep with his normally straight hair in pin curls "for over a hundred nights."

It was horrible," he recalled. "How on earth do women get any sleep?"

MacRae's hair straightened once more, currently is appearing solo at the Empire Room of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

His seven previous appearances in the room were with his wife of 28 years, Sheila, from whom he recently was divorced.

Sheila, however, was present for his opening night. "I wouldn't have missed it," she said. "Gordon's my favorite baritone."

MacRae is one of the "five-letter men" in show business with major achievements in motion pictures, television, radio, recordings and nightclubs.

Seek Help

NEW YORK (UPI) - If you are being married at a hotel ballroom or if you plan to have your reception there, the banquet or social manager can be of valuable help, says Eustine Vincent in "Bride-to-be."

If your wedding is held at the hotel, he will make arrangements for a suitable floral background, engage musicians and set up seating arrangements.

Joe Stacy has demonstrated that he is one of the area's outstanding young men. Though only 42, he has served in a number of responsible leadership roles. In addition, he has joined with others and cooperated with them in all projects designed to improve the economy of his community and county and to improve the wellbeing of his home people.

Born and raised in West Liberty, county seat of Morgan County, Joe Stacy attended local schools and then Morehead University. He came back to Morgan and has become a successful small town businessman and tobacco farmer. And he has helped and is helping promote profitable farming practices, obtain better educational opportunities, increase roadbuilding in foothill counties, and secure small industries for the area.

Joe Stacy has helped to make Morgan the "Bluegrass County of the Mountains," to promote REA and phone co-ops, and to foster the spirit of progress that is so evident in a wide section of foothills and outer bluegrass counties.

Member of a long-time Democrat family, Joe Stacy served eight years as Chairman of the Morgan County Democratic Executive Committee, and in 1964, he managed the campaign for President Lyndon B. Johnson when Morgan County returned a majority of 2,791, nearly equalling the majority for Franklin D. Roosevelt in the '30s when the county's population was much larger.

TV NOTES

NEW YORK (UPI) — Melvyn Douglas has replaced Fred March as star of "Do Not Go Gentle Into That Good Night," new television drama by Larry Mandel being taped here this month for use on the CBS network next season. March had to use on because of illness and Florence Eldridge ("Mrs. March") also left the cast.

Sept. 10 is the date for ABC's four-hour presentation of its "Africa" documentary — 7 to 11 p.m. This will be split into four subsequent telecasts on day-time scheduling.

"Coronet Blue" is finally going on the air. This one-hour dramatic series about an amateur's search for identity was filmed by producer Herbert Brodwin more than two years ago for what he thought was imminent scheduling on CBS-TV. It was put off, and later it was shelved again when it seemed the series would be a summer replacement. CBS will put it into the 10-11 p.m. slot Mondays starting May 29, replacing "To Tell the Truth" and "I've Got a Secret." Stage actor Frank Converse, tall, blond and handsome, is the star of "Coronet Blue."

CBS will telecast 110 regular-season games of the National Football League starting Sept. 17. The games will be spread over 18 dates. There also will be five pre-season NFL games starting Aug. 9.

F. Lee Bailey, who has gained so much attention in the last year as defense attorney in a couple of murder trials, will be host on "Inside Out," new half-hour series scheduled by ABC for Thursdays at 10 p.m. next season. The program consists of visits to homes of the famous. It seems to be in the pattern of the old "Person to Person" series that the late Edward G. Morrow did for CBS.

Insecticide Warning
AMES, Iowa (UPI) — Buying a large can of insecticides to use a few pennies may result in loss of life, an Iowa State University entomologist warns. Dave Mick says either disposal or storage of bug and weed killers leads to the possibility that children might find them and play with them, or that pets might spill them, with deadly results. Mick advises turning over any extra chemicals to neighbors who can use them immediately, rather than storing or disposing of them.

Claig Sprout... Sez

and his friend, Timothy Tugwell

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: Me and Timothy is full of apology today.

For several years Timothy has been critical of the way you pick the Kentucky Derby. Each year Timothy always says "he had the winner after the race is run. This year me and Timothy tried out hands at this and we are sorry to relate that we did none better."

We are agreed after the race is run that 1. "When something is in black and white like printed in the Morehead News it cannot be erased. That must be the reason the power of the press is so great and if you are a merchant you get nowhere unless you advertise in the newspaper; 2. Loss of people can say after the Derby they picked the right horse but if they have it in writing they don't seem to have the right winner; and 3. Talk is cheap but the printed word is all powerful and conclusive.

One thing about our wrong selections. When Timothy talked me into writing them down I deduced a slight error on his breath. It could be that Timothy had been visiting a place where they sell a white liquid in a pint and half pint bottles that carries a powerful whollop. Timothy ain't just hisself after imbibing of this liquid matter.

I was a telling you here a while back about that country editor in North Carolina that was gitting overflooded with red tape from the Post Office Department.

Well, I found out yesterday that your country editors ain't yet even got in the mainstream of Government red tape. This Washington column writer said he got a news item from the U. S. Civil Service Commission. I copied the news item down for my little piece this week and here it is:

"The United States Civil Service Commission announces the cancellation of Amendment No. 1 to Announcement No. DE-27-19 (1966) for identification and condition verifiers W-7 issued Feb. 27, 1967."

The column writer said he gave the news item to Senator Dirksen and asked him if he would get in touch with the Civil Service Commission and find out what they was trying to announce. He got the word back that they was going to hold an examination for a clerk but was announcing it had been called off.

And you think you got red tape troubles, Mister Editor? I ain't saw but one item out of Washington this week that I could understand. This item said the Veterans Administration had 20,700,000 names on file and they had completed a study to see which was the most common names in this country. They run in this order:

FRESH AND PERT . . . The May Calendar Girl on the campus of Morehead State University is Miss Sue Craine from Chillicothe, O.

[1] Smith, [2] Johnson, [3] Williams, [4] Jones, [5] Brown, [6] Miller, [7] Davis, [8] Anderson, [9] Wilson, [10] Thompson.

I was a little surprised, Mister Editor, that Jones and Brown wasn't running in the two and three spots; but the Veterans Administration has spoke.

And speaking of Government red tape once more, I was reading where a "White House spokesman" said the "destruction House" was succeeding. "If anything is Viet Nam was succeeding I wanted to know about it so I went over to Ed Doolittle's house to look in his dictionary and see what "infrastructure" meant. It wasn't in Ed's dictionary and I still don't know what we've got over there that was succeeding.

When you get through with your Zip Code chores this week and get your papers sacked up east and west, please find out what "infrastructure" means so I can tell the fellers at the store Saturday night about our new success.

Yours truly,
Claig Sprout

Co-op Fieldhouse Open To Public

C. J. Ross, manager of Fleming-Nason R.I.C.C., has announced that the Co-op Field House officially opened May 1 and will close September 30. Due to the popularity of the Field House near Flemingsburg, it is necessary that reservations be made well in advance.

The Field House which was completed about seven years ago is open to the general public for meetings, reunions, 4-H, FFA and FHS work, Scouts, picnics and other activities with an adult or adults in charge at all times.

The facilities cannot be used for political purposes, dancing or games of chance and alcoholic beverages will not be permitted on the grounds.

The Field House contains a well-equipped kitchen with kitchen utensils, dishes and cooking are available for use. During the time the Field House has been in operation, hundreds of people have enjoyed its facilities.

It is an ideal location for all types of outdoor gatherings.

Anyone wishing to use the Field House may make reservations by calling the member Services department of Fleming-Nason R.I.C.C. (Phone 845-2661) or by writing. There is no charge for use of the Field House except for damages that might occur.

SCHOLARLY GOVERNOR — Kentucky's 11th Governor, James T. Morehead, was a scholar. His reputation rested mainly on a series of letters that appeared in Kentucky newspapers under the heading "Mea Scripta." A notebook containing some of these copied by Morehead is now owned by the Kentucky Historical Society, Morehead, whose term expired in 1836, served in the U.S. Senate also.

Cattleman, Businessman, Tobacco Farmer

Joe Stacy is a working businessman. He is cashier of the Commercial Bank of West Liberty and a member of its board of directors. He also operates a small insurance agency, with the help of Mrs. Stacy. Joe Stacy is devoted to the land. He is a cattle and tobacco farmer and a former dairyman. He owns and operates farms in both Morgan and Fleming Counties.

As a small town banker in a farming area, Joe Stacy knows the needs and problems of farmers and businessmen. He is close to the people and has shown he is responsive to their desires and needs. As a public official he will make vigorous effort to represent the people and will be responsive to their desires, and like in other endeavors, he will champion their interests vigorously at Frankfort.

Joe Stacy is well aware that the economy and wellbeing of people of the foothills and outer bluegrass counties of his district are geared basically to agriculture, small business, equal educational opportunities, better highways and small industries. And during all of his adult life he has worked to improve the economy and wellbeing of his people by initiating and working for programs that now are proving beneficial in many ways.

Joe Stacy is married to the former Martha Caudill, who also was reared at West Liberty. They have three children. Their sons, John and Corby, are students in the Morgan County public school system, and their daughter, Pat, is attending college. Mrs. Stacy, like her husband, attended Morehead University. She is active in her church and is also a member of a number of community organizations.

FAMILY MAN
Joe Stacy is married to the former Martha Caudill, who also was reared at West Liberty. They have three children. Their sons, John and Corby, are students in the Morgan County public school system, and their daughter, Pat, is attending college. Mrs. Stacy, like her husband, attended Morehead University. She is active in her church and is also a member of a number of community organizations.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE

A veteran of World War II, he has served as commander of the American Legion post in Morgan County. He is a Past Master of Highland Masonic Lodge of West Liberty and has served as a Grand Lodge officer.

Joe Stacy has served as a member of the board of directors of the Licking Valley Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation for 16 years. He has been treasurer of the county board of education 15 years. He is a member of the board of directors of both the Morgan County Development Association and the Northeast Kentucky Development Council. He is a member of the Farm Bureau and the Morgan County Extension Council, and is past president of the Morgan County 4-H Council.

As a director of REA, he has helped provide electric service to every rural area of a six-county region and to organize a rural telephone co-op that serves four counties. In agriculture, he has been a vigorous supporter of the tobacco price support program and other farm programs that are helping small farmers. He has helped promote 4-H and FFA for rural youth.

As director in local development organizations, he has worked in many programs to uplift the economy of his area. He helped his county secure a shoe factory and helped raise the $49,000 needed to purchase land and level a factory site atop hills near West Liberty. His business was the single largest contributor to the fund. The factory now employs more than 210 people.

Joe Stacy helped in having a branch of Mayo Vocational School established in Morgan County. He helped promote the project that provides free bus transportation for needy high school seniors to a nearby college.

Joe Stacy believes the people of his district want vigorous representation in government—representation that knows the needs and desires of the people, and he will work vigorously for their interests, remaining ever responsive to their wishes.

Art Exhibit May Be Seen At State Capitol

May visitors to the Capitol in Frankfort, Ky., will have a rare opportunity to see an unusual form of art. An exhibition of batik paintings by Kentucky's famed Margaret Cornelius will be on view in the Capitol's rotunda for the entire month of May.

Batik is an ancient art technique that originated in India before the 9th century. The canvas—which may be made of several kinds of fabric—is first coated with wax. Then the design is inscribed with a sharp instrument and the cloth is dipped in dye. When the wax is removed by boiling, the dye remains. By repeated scribing and dyeing a number of colors can be worked into the picture.

Margaret Cornelius was born in Goodlettsville, Ky., a little hamlet about halfway between Horse Cave and Elizabethtown.

Langdon Confers With IU Group

Dr. Golden I. Langdon, Director of Guidance Services at Morehead State University, recently completed the first of a series of conferences sponsored by the Indiana Department of Adult Basic Education.

As lead consultant, Dr. Langdon organized programs held at Notre Dame, Purdue University and Spring Mill Park. The initial series was designed to acquaint the 250 counselors with the place of counseling and guidance in programs for the under-educated adult.

Dr. Langdon presented papers on: counseling the under-educated adult, the social-psychological sphere of the under-educated adult, and informational needs of the under-educated adult.

Thirty of the participants will attend a one-week workshop at Ball State University, Muncie, Indiana, in June with Dr. Langdon as the consultant. The original group will hold follow-up conferences in October and November with Dr. Langdon as lead consultant.

According to Dr. Langdon, this series of conferences, which will serve as a prototype for other programs, makes a significant advance in services to under-educated adults.

Makeup Man Stands In for Stricken Actor

NEW YORK (UPI)—A makeup man on the Mississippi was nothing like Mark Twain's version for Emmy-winning makeup man Bob O'Bradovich.

O'Bradovich traveled with the crew producing the forthcoming color television special: "The Legend of Mark Twain," to the banks of the Mississippi outside of New Orleans to make up among others, David Wayne, who plays five of Twain's most famous characters.

In a scene from "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," O'Bradovich watched as Wayne, made up as a slave bounty hunter, and a second ruffian, approached the shore in a canoe, looking for Jim, the runaway slave, and his companion, Hunk Finn.

"Suddenly" said O'Bradovich, "Wayne's accomplice helped in pain and fell unconscious in the canoe. A doctor in the crowd watching the filming comforted the actor and got an ambulance to take him to a hospital."

Then the director, Carl Genus, looked at me. No words were exchanged, but I knew exactly what he wanted. I made myself up, got into costume, memorized three pages of script, and played the role for the actor who'd fallen ill."

The B.F. Goodrich Company special, which will be broadcast on Friday, May 5, from 8 to 9 p.m. (EST) on ABC and will star Hollywood and Broadway star Wayne and O'Bradovich, won Emmy for his work in "Victoria Regina" and "The Magnificent Yankee."

O'Bradovich recently made himself up as a bum and went out on Third Avenue in New York City. "It was so effective I made 41 cents that day," he said.

The learned makeup artist at dramatic school, had some success as a television and commercial actor, but seems to have found his true expression at makeup itself. Once the head of a network makeup department, O'Bradovich won Emmy for his work in "Victoria Regina" and "The Magnificent Yankee."

Push Recreation At University

Undergraduate Programs, announced that a curriculum leading to the bachelor's degree in recreation will be offered starting next fall.

Graduates will be qualified to fill positions in state, national and voluntary service organizations which offer recreational programs, Dean Davis said. Enrollees in the recreational program will complete seven semesters of intensive classroom study, then spend a "professional semester" on the job conducting a recreational program under supervision.

Dr. Davis said many recreational programs are being operated by unqualified personnel and plans have been dropped for others because of a lack of qualified staffs.

Five top positions in Kentucky state parks were filled last year with unqualified personnel, and most of the voluntary service organizations go outside the state to find leaders.

With one of the best enabling laws for the development, acquisition and operation of public recreation, Kentucky cities have not organized because of a shortage of trained personnel.

Dr. Davis said students show that colleges are training less than one-sixth of the recreational leaders who will be needed in the next decade.

Some of the positions open to graduates of the program include: Supervisors of municipal programs; directors of Boy Scouts, executive directors of Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts; directors and field representatives for YMCA and YWCA; recreation directors and therapists in hospitals, school and private agency camp directors; service club directors; program directors with the armed forces; naturalists, planners and directors in state and federal parks; 4-H Club directors or rural recreation specialists; Christian education and recreation specialists and program directors of specialists in industry.

"Morehead State University is in an opportune position to develop a curriculum for the preparation of leaders for leisure which will meet the emerging demands of agencies of the commonwealth and nation," said Dr. Davis.

A number of students enrolled in other programs will be eligible to transfer to the new recreational curriculum. The program will be directed by Rex Chancy, who is working on his doctorate in recreation. Chancy is coach of the baseball team.

Specific objectives of the curriculum include: development of a sound philosophy of recreation and the ability to interpret it to others; focus attention on and heighten the personal qualities essential to recreation leaders; develop skills in activities; provide practical experience; train leaders to plan and carry out recreational services, and develop professional appreciation.

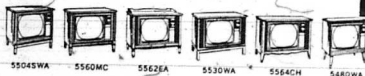

SPRING VACATION WORK . . . Not all students were basking in the sun over the spring break. These three MSU students did further work in the area where the University's archaeological team recently made its important discovery of early life in Kewanee County. # THE FAMILY LAWYER

Instant Justice

Back in frontier days, a stern judge in Ohio used to keep a liver hauled on the floor of the jury room. When he sent the jurors in to deliberate, he would call their attention to the fuse leading outside of the room.

"Bring me a verdict in five minutes," he would thunder, "or by heaven I will light the fuse!"

Nobody to say, his jurors didn't dawdle. And it is still true today that jurors, even though not soured on so persuasively, sometimes do bring in their verdict fast.

Quite naturally, doubts may arise. Did they really give fair consideration to the evidence? Can a trial that lasts for days be decided in minutes? Time did again, a person who has been found guilty of a crime will raise such questions by appealing to a higher court for a new trial.

But almost invariably, the court has ruled that speed alone does not prove that the verdict was unfair.

For, after all, there are perfectly sensible reasons why a jury, while conscientiously doing its duty, may still bring in a speedy verdict.

Thus, when a jury took only eight minutes to convict a man of drunk driving, the court found nothing improper—because there was just one simple issue for the jurors to decide.

And when a jury took only an hour to convict a man of tax fraud, the court found nothing improper—because a lopsided preponderance of evidence pointed to guilt.

In other words, the law does not insist on long, drawn-out deliberations just to make the verdict "look good."

But there is another side to the matter. The law does insist that, when jurors feel the need to go slow, they should not be high-pressed into hurrying.

For example: The jurors in a murder case, deadlocked for almost seven hours, reached a verdict in short order after the trial judge hinted that he might hold them in contempt if they did not agree.

This verdict—an appeal, was thrown out. The appellate court warned:

"If a trial judge is permitted to coerce a jury into a verdict, then the value of the system of trial by jury is at an end."

Cervical Cancer Tests Available

The Rowan County Health Department this week issues a reminder to the women of Rowan County that the test for cervical cancer (cancer of the neck of the womb) commonly called "Pap smear" is available at the Health Center on West Sun Street.

Every adult woman is urged to have the "Pap" smear done once a year. Make an appointment with your family physician or visit the Rowan County Health Center any Thursday or Friday in May between 8 a.m. and 12 noon or 1 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Average Bride Pays $100-$125 for Gown

BY LEROY POPE

United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The making and sale of bridal gowns and bridesmaids' gowns have become a very big business in the United States. No one knows exactly how big, according to James Osborne, executive manager of the Bridal and Bridesmaids Apparel Association.

According to government figures, there are about 1.8 million marriages in a year, he said. "No doubt that figure is low for certain, but perhaps 68 to 70 per cent of these are first marriages."

About 40 per cent or 730,000 of the brides become customers of the 6,000 bridal shops across the land. Of these shops, 1,100 are in department stores. The rest are independent.

The size of the business can be seen from the fact that New York City classified phone directory lists nearly a whole page of manufacturers and wholesalers of wedding gowns and bridesmaids' gowns and all the industry in New York, by any measure.

"How far away are we from the day when the girl made her own wedding dress or had it made by the family dressmaker may be seen easily when oldtimers tell us that in the first decade of this century there probably were not 50 stores in the country that sold wedding gowns," Osborne said.

Naturally, factory production of wedding gowns has brought a degree of standardization in price. Osborne said the most popular price range this year is $100 to $125 at retail. Retail prices for full length manufactured wedding gowns start at about $75 and go up to $400. In the more expensive gowns, part of the price usually is for white mink trimming.

Ballerina length gowns that end just below the knee are cheaper but far less popular. "Often," though, the bride-to-be wears ballerina length gowns while the bride wears the long gown, but not the reverse, if the bride wears a short gown, her bridesmaids must too," Osborne said.

The girl who isn't sentimental enough to want to keep her wedding gown can rent a

When buying your tuxedo consider not only what your own taste is, but what your husband's feelings are about clothes. Unless something is glaringly extreme, most men notice color more than silhouette or fabric. Choose the color he likes best on you. Generally these colors are more flattering.

A tuxedo, if it is well planned and organized, can last several years, with replacements as necessary, says the Consumer Service Division of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union. Plan your shopping meticulously to avoid mistakes.

Your tuxedo should consist of enough clothes, dinner, cocktail or evening clothes, at-home clothes, sports clothes, lounge wear, lingerie and outfit to wear for errands or housekeeping duties.

If your wedding is a simple one in the morning or afternoon, a simple wedding dress, and a wedding headpiece and veil.

Popular fabrics for summer wedding gowns include lace, organza, orsandy, nylon tulle—embroidered or lace trimmed.

Do not exhibit your wedding gown to anyone except your immediate family. That's a way to surprise all the others when you walk down the aisle. The admiring comments that reach your ears will make the wedding an even more memorable day.

If your wedding trip is a day one across the area, remember to wear comfortable, easy-fitting clothes, made of non-irritating fabrics.

In dressing for your wedding trip, try not to look as if everything you have on is new. Avoid pastel suits, tiny hats, lace blouses.

Student Recitals Scheduled At The University

The Morehead State University music department has scheduled six student recitals, an opera workshop and a concert by the Chamber Singers within the next two weeks.

All performances will be in the recital hall of Baird Music Hall and the public is invited.

The schedule includes: Thursday, May 11, 7:30 p.m. - Joe Weiss, Ashland, percussionist; student of Robert Schiroma; and Donald Payne, Ashland, trumpet, a student of Gene Deaton.

Sunday, May 14, 3 p.m. - Marilyn Errett, Urbana, Ohio, piano, a student of Richard Rivers and James Bragg. Monday, May 15, 7:30 p.m. - Flute Class recital.

Tuesday, May 16, 7:30 p.m. - Opera workshop, conducted by John Atwood. Thursday, May 18, 7:30 p.m. - James C. Rauch, Cincinnati, Ohio, composition recital, a student of James Bragg, Mrs. Violet Severy and Karl Payne.

Thursday, May 18, 10:20 a.m. - The Coeds, a girls' singing group composed of Carla Bondy, Alice Brown, Agnes Conley, Eunice Cornett, Carol Dettweiler, Doris, Harney, Patricia Quisenberry, Susan Shank, Jane Wallace and Jettie Goble. Directed by Mrs. Vasile Vettozzi.

Friday, May 19 - 7:30 p.m. - Mrs. Ruth Joan Davidson, voice.

Tuesday, May 23, 7:30 p.m. - Chamber Singers and Concert Choir, directed by James Rose Beane.

Thursday, May 25, 7:30 p.m. - Roger White, McKees Rock, Pa., clarinet, and Richard Kerestian, Cheswick, Pa., trumpet.

HAM PROMOTION - Promotion of Kentucky country ham will spearhead a planned national promotion of Kentucky's farm products. The campaign will be conducted by the Governor's Commission on Agriculture, the State Departments of Agriculture and Public Information, the University of Kentucky and country ham producers.

MSU's Sadler Chosen Coordinator For Project

Mrs. Elizabeth Sadler, instructor of physical education at Morehead State University, has been chosen coordinator for Kentucky's participation in the national lifetime sports Education Project.

One of the first steps will be a joint clinic next April with Tennessee. Physical education teachers in the two states will learn procedures for organizing and teaching large classes in the five lifetime sports - golf, bowling, archery, tennis and bad-minion. About 200 participants are expected to attend the clinic at Bowling Green, April 25-27, then return to their home areas to conduct regional clinics for other physical educators.

The clinic will be sponsored by the Kentucky Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, the Kentucky Department of Education, and the lifetime Sports Education Project of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Carl Jones Qualified For Representative

I am making efforts to personally visit with every citizen of Robertson, Fleming and Rowan counties before the May 23 primary. You will recognize that this is a large district and I am attempting to spend some time with each voter and hear their problems and desires.

I am 53 years of age, born, raised and received my education in Rowan County. I have been Judge of Rowan County and Sheriff of Rowan County being elected by the people.

I know that my greatest attribute is love for my fellowman. All my life I have been on the side of the average citizen and taxpayer and the night has never been too dark or the day too long to work for my people. Inquire of anybody who knows me and I am sure they will advise you that my greatest interest in public office has been building roads because no community can progress without good roads. I have built roads myself with road crews - when I was County Judge this was my number one objective.

I have observed that the four-lane connector [I-64] at Morehead will be next to Rowan County High and Rowan County Grade School. This will further endanger our children and I pledge as your Representative that an overpass or underpass will be built at this congested area.

I pledge to make you a hard working State Representative ever mindful of your problems and services to the people of my district.

Respectfully,
CARL JONES
Democratic Candidate For State Representative

Social SecurityBy Thomas B. Thompson - Ashland
District Mgr. for Social Security information write: District Social Security
Office, 1816 Carter Avenue - Ashland,
Ky. Phone 325-7666.

Every month several persons in this area sign up late for their medicare benefits. Thomas B. Thompson, Social Security District Manager, said today. Noting that May has been proclaimed Senior Citizens Month by the President, Thompson urged all residents who are approaching age 65 to celebrate by finding out as much as they can about the Federal health plan for older Americans.

A person should sign up for medical insurance two or three months before he reaches 65, if he wishes coverage of doctor bills to begin in the month he reaches 65. If he waits until later, his doctor bill insurance may not begin until one to three months after he signs up, and if he waits more than three months after he reaches 65, he will not have another chance to sign up for a long time -- perhaps as much as two years.

The basic hospital insurance protection begins automatically with the month of the 65th birthday.

The Ashland Social Security Office is located at 1816 Carter Avenue, Ashland, Kentucky 41101. The phone number is 325-7666. Thompson said that the office will also be open from 9 a.m. to noon DeT on Saturdays for those who cannot come in during regular hours.

A representative from the Social Security Administration may be contacted at the following places on the dates noted: Vanceburg Courthouse, May 15; Morehead State Building, May 16; West Liberty Courthouse, May 17; and Louisa Post Office, May 18.

James Johnson Assigned To Ft. Knox Training

Army Private James D. Johnson has been assigned to Company I, 19th Battalion, 5th Brigade, at Fort Knox in the United States Army Training Center, Armor (USATCA).

He will spend the next two months learning the fundamental skills of the soldier in today's modern, action Army -- firing live ammunition under simulated combat situations, learning protective measures and first-aid for chemical, biological and radiological attacks, as well as being schooled in the use of modern arms.

Following the completion of basic training, PVT Johnson, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivo Johnson, will receive at least an additional eight weeks of other advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

There's little you can do about the changing seasons. But maintaining perfect summertime comfort indoors, right on through the worst winter, is simple -- if you include modern electric heating in your home building or remodeling plans. Electric heat responds quickly and automatically -- quietly, too -- and it's unbelievably clean because flameless electricity just can't make dirt. No dusty pipes or ducts, either, or sudden bursts of air. And you can enjoy individual room-to-room thermostatic control -- to dial in a cool bedroom, toasty bathroom, cozy nursery.

For planning help or more information without obligation, stop in at your local KU office and ask about electric heating -- the way to today!

WOLFE COUNTY LIBRARY DEDICATED - Governor Edward T. Breathitt stands before the new Wolfe County Demonstration Library during recent dedication ceremonies at Campton. The library will become a part of the Big Sandy Regional Library System and will continue to receive State aid in cash, books, film strips and recordings. The Governor dedicated another new library in April, at Jamestown, and a third was opened at Springfield. During the last three years, Breathitt said, the remodeling or construction of 28 library projects has been approved at a cost of $2.7 million in Federal, local and State bond issue funds.

News Report From... Rowan County Extension Office

Adrian M. Razor
Mildred R. Wightman
Area Extension Agents

How long have you had your supply of spices and herbs? Under good conditions they will retain their aroma and flavor for a long time, but don't expect spices and herbs to keep indefinitely. It is a good idea to date the package when you take it home. Your spices may be older than you think. Some cooks recommend replacing spices every six months.

To judge the quality of your supply of spices first check the color. It should be rich and fresh - this is particularly true for herbs and paprika. Bring the condiment slowly up to the nostrils. The pungency of the spice should rise up to meet you. It should be strong and fresh except for the few nonaromatic or faintly perfumed items such as mustard seed, sesame seed, and poppy seeds.

Whole spices will keep longer than ground spices. And herbs tend to lose flavor a little faster than such items as pepper, ginger, cinnamon and cloves. For that reason many cooks prefer to buy herbs in the whole (or leaf) form, and whole spices.

For best results spices should be stored in as cool and dry a place as possible. Heat robs their flavors and dampness will cake them. Tie sure that containers are tightly closed after every use so that the volatile oils are not lost from the spices.

These tips on the art of seasoning are worth knowing. Your spice shelf holds many products that will save labor and time in food preparation, but you need to have a good knowledge of herbs and spices.

Spices and herbs should be used to aid and enhance the natural flavors of foods, but not obscure them. The impression you want to leave is one of savorness without any particularly dominant spice apparent. Of course, for every rule there is an exception and the exceptions here are for such foods as curry, chili, or gingerbread, where the character of the dish depends on its spice. The pungency of each spice and herb differs. It is not possible to offer a blanket rule for the amount to use. When you begin to experiment with different spices it is wise to use well-tested recipes. But where no recipe is available, start with about 1/4 teaspoon of spice to each pound of meat or pint of sauce or soup. Make this 1/4 teaspoon in the case of red pepper, cayenne and garlic powder. You will probably find these starter quantities should be increased, but it is easier to add than to subtract.

Ground spices are ready to give up their flavors quickly. When used in a medium-to-long cook dish, they should not be added until near the end of the cooking period. Otherwise, they are usually added with the salt.

Whole spices are especially useful in long-cooking dishes, and are added at the beginning of preparation. It is a good idea to place them in a small cheesecloth or muslin bag so that they may be removed when the desired flavor is obtained. This avoids any chance of pieces of whole spice remaining in the finished dish. Whole [leaf] herbs should be crumbled finely just before they are used to release best flavor.

In uncooked dishes such as salad dressings and fruit juices, the spiced liquid should be left standing for several hours to develop good flavor. Try adding the spices to the vinegar and letting it stand before adding the oil for the salad dressings. When time is short and you don't have several hours intervening, you may bring the vinegar and spices to a boil. The heat brings out the flavor.

Here is a simple to make old Swiss Meat Sauce recipe that depends upon spice alone for its unusual flavor.

1 1/4 pounds ground beef
1 medium size onion
Salt and Pepper to taste
2 small cans tomato paste
2 cans water
1 tsp. ground nutmeg (more if desired)

Brown meat and onion in small amount of fat. Add other ingredients and simmer while the spaghetti cooks. Is delicious on hot dogs also.

IF USING SOIL INSECTICIDES YOU SHOULD DO IT NOW

Since it takes 2-3 weeks for the soil insecticides to break down and become effective in the soil, they should be applied now or as soon as possible. These are effective against cutworms, wireworms, ants and other soil insects. Materials to use are Aldrin, Heptachlor, Dieldrin, or Diazinon. Either broadcast in the granular form and disk in the top 2 inches of soil or spray and disk in. Recommended rate is two pounds the actual material per acre. Treat only once every three years.

Keep in mind not to follow treatment in the soil with crops such as potatoes, alfalfa, etc. These crops may pick up harmful residue of the insecticides. Surface feeding cutworms can be controlled with DDT.

HERE ARE SOME INTERESTING FIGURES ON CIGARETTES

In 1966 U.S. cigarette output was over 567 billion. This was nearly 2% above 1965 and higher than any previous year. The proportion of filter-tip cigarettes continues to grow. Over 68% of the 1966 out-put consisted of filter tip cigarettes. In 1975, about 64 1/2% were filter-tip which was up from 51% in 1960.

Money Available To Small Business Firms

A representative of the Small Business Administration will be at that Federal agency's part-time office in the Commissioners' Chamber, Third Floor, City Building, 17th and Greenup Streets, Ashland, on Thursday, May 18. The office, operated on a semi-monthly basis every first and third Thursday, will be open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Jack Parker who was elected president of the new group. Mrs. Vernon Hamilton was elected Vice-president and Mrs. Jack Roberts is the Secretary-treasurer.

Other members present were Mrs. Gladith Barker, Mrs. J. M. Butcher, Mrs. Jerrid Davis, Mrs. Gladys Evans, Mrs. Kay Hall, and Mrs. Norton Graves.

Mrs. Walter Mitchell, President of the Rowan County Homemakers Association and Mrs. Mildred R. Wightman, Area Extension Agent in Rowan County assisted with the organization.

IS YOUR GROUND TURNED FOR PLANTING?

Have you turned your tobacco land? Too much residue turned now will have a hard time going through the decay process before planting time.

If your cover crop is knee-high or higher and is started to get "woody" it might be well to graze it off or if you have a rotary type mower or a bushhog, mow it down, put on your fertilizer, and turn it.

Too much "woody" residue will stay slowly and will endanger your plans from the standpoint of getting a good stand when they are set in the field.

BACTERIAL WILT SEEN IN CORN

Reports from the University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station say that Bacterial Wilt or Stewart's Disease has been detected in corn in Southern and Western Kentucky. It affects both field corn and sweet corn and is carried from one field to another by the Corn Flea-Bee. Of course, one control is to use DDT, which will keep it from spreading. Anyone having corn that has yellowing streaks in the older leaves that later turn brown and die should contact the Extension Office for a positive diagnosis.

JAYCEES WORKING ON ROWAN COUNTY FAIR

Mr. John Ramey is heading up the Fair Committee of the Jaycees and he tells us that they are planning a fair that will be open to the whole area and has the making of one of the biggest fairs in Kentucky. They have already put a lot of work into it and are in the process of setting up their organizations. Let everybody help make this an outstanding event.

WEED CONTROL IN THE TOBACCO BED

Elmer Kinder's tobacco plant bed that was buried last fall to control weeds was visited during the week and was found to be free of weeds and grasses. Fall sterilization gets one job out of the way that would be done in the spring otherwise. Some of the beds that were treated with Ende-Sol in this spring have gotten good control while others have not. Those that have gotten control of weeds and grasses were the ones in which the material was watered in or on which a heavy main right after treatment. The company recommends 1/2" of water on the bed immediately following application.

Emil Caudill of the Sharkey country got excellent control as have some others in the county.

Native son Louie Nunn ...
Born and bred in Kentucky

Beats Democrats

Louie Nunn makes a habit of beating Democrats. ( ) First-and-only Republican elected to a county-wide office in Democrat stronghold Barren County. ( ) Managed to victory the Eisenhower/Cooper/Morton ticket in 1956 and the Cooper/Morton ticket in 1960 and 1962. ( ) Barely missed becoming the first Republican governor in 20 years. ( ) A loyal Republican and defender of the Kentucky state constitution.

Vote for the man who beats Democrats ... The only one who can win in November. The one you can trust with the state -- and its constitution. Vote the Nunn Team May 23.

MURRAY LIVESTOCK PAVILION—During dedication ceremonies for the new Murray State University livestock pavilion, Hayden Timmons, executive director of the Governor's Commission on Agriculture, said the facility will make a major contribution to Kentucky agriculture through livestock teaching, sales and shows, and promotion of Kentucky livestock which will expand the industry. Timmons said the pavilion is the "direct result of the 1965 bond issue approved by Kentuckians."

Army Scientists Develop Two Adhesive Products

Army scientists are developing two adhesive devices, one of them an underwater glue and the other a spray-on liquid for stopping bleeding.

Researchers at the U.S. Army Medical Biomechanical Research Laboratory (USAMBRIL) at Forest Glen, Md., have discovered an adhesive mixture which can glue together most metals, glass, wood, or rubber materials which are "underwater."

Dr. Frederick Leonard, scientific director of USAMBRIL, said the glue, still being tested, has proven equally effective on corroded, painted, and clean surfaces. A patent application for the underwater glue has been filed by Dr. Leonard and George Branden, organic chemist at the laboratory.

Meanwhile, USAMBRIL scientists have found that a liquid can be sprayed on human organs, such as the skin or kidneys, to seal a wound and thus stop the bleeding. Researchers say the healing agent, which solidifies once it is applied, may someday replace the need for stitching up wounds. The spray-on liquid, being tested for the length of time it takes to decompose in the human body, (ANF)

Soldiers Help World War II Friend

FORT CARSON, Colo. (ANF)—Men of the 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized) are showing an aged British subject that soldiers do not forget a friend.

During World War II, Count Demetrio Sarsfield Salazar, an Italian-born British then serving in the British location in the Vatican, helped hundreds of servicemen find safety after they had escaped from Italian prison camps.

Count Salazar, now is 82 years old, sick and living in the slums of Naples. He never received monetary payment for his wartime help, which included feeding American and British servicemen and providing clothes, lodging, and fake identity papers.

Lt. Col. Alvin O'Neal, Commanding Officer, 3d Battalion, 77th Armor, 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized), Fort Carson, Colo., heard of Salazar's plight and suggested to his men that they help. Colonel O'Neal had gone through Naples during World War II as an 18-year-old tanker.

After more than $1,000 in money and pledges had been collected, Capt. A. C. Trifletti, of the 3d Battalion, delivered the money and said Salazar was happy to be remembered by the soldiers.

The battalion is still receiving contributions, which will be forwarded to the soldiers' friend through the U.S. Consulate in Naples.

Army to Study Use of SSAN

WASHINGTON (ANF)—The Army will conduct tests this month to evaluate problems involved in obtaining Social Security Account Numbers for all incoming service personnel.

The tests are in response to a Secretary of Defense directive that all individuals entering on active duty after June 30 have a Social Security Account Number (SSAN). The directive is part of the first phase of an overall program to eventually substitute the SSAN for the military service number.

The Army test program will be conducted at Armed Forces Examining and Entrance stations in Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, and Richmond, Va. At the conclusion of the survey May 31, an analysis will be made of problems encountered in obtaining SSANs for future service personnel who have not had them assigned.
