Historical Information: The library at Morehead State University dates to the days when the college was Morehead Normal School. The first recorded library was that of the school's principal in 1902, which had close to 1,000 books and was noted as being accessible to students. The library was first located at Burgess Hall. The library was relocated to the new Administrative Building (Rader Hall) in 1926. A new library building was constructed in 1929 and named Johnson Camden Library the following year. Two additions to the building were added, one in 1965 and the other in 1978. After the second addition the building was renamed Camden-Carroll Library in honor of Governor Julien Carroll.

Scope and Content: Collection consists of newspaper issues of significant events in the history of Morehead State University from 1905 to 2005. The issue contains reports on construction of campus buildings, presidential inaugurations, academic and athletic events, college and community histories, and other important articles on the evolution of the college. Included with the collection are newspapers issues on the presidential administration and retirement of Adron

Doran and his wife Mignon from 1954 to 2001 and dozens of issues of the “Golden Anniversary Edition of Morehead State” published in the Morehead News from October 19, 1972.
