SUNDAY APPEARED TO BE one of those betwixt and between days. Churchgoers were divided into two groups, those who thought fall came with the calendar and were displaying their new fall outfits in red and green. Others who thought the day too warm wore an air of bravado and airy summer clothes.

MY GUESSES FOR THE WEST-ERN-MARCHED football game Saturday: Marched by six points.

A FORMER COUNTY CHAIRMAN used his friends car last week, parked it in front of his own place of business and drove to Mt. Sterling with another friend. The chairman had made an arrangement with the owner of the car that he drive to Mt. Sterling and pick up the chairman and his friends and return to Morehead. When the owner of the car was ready to dash over to Mt. Sterling he discovered the car keys were to be found. So he borrowed an automobile from an acquaintance and drove to Mt. Sterling. When he arrived he questioned the chairman if he knew of the whereabouts of the keys. The chairman began to feel around in his pockets in his usual fashion. Finally he fished them out, saying he must have inadvertently put them in the car when he parked it in Morehead.

THE SQUIB THE BOOBIES freestyle meeting, ran this squib recently. "We still believe CCC enrollment" rate" higher with the public than college students do. Take a squint at this portion of an article on Chickadees, which appeared in News Digest.

"I don't generally pick up boys in their teens but I make an exception of CCC boys. I like their energy and am tickled them up in all parts of the country, and have yet to find one who was disgruntled and bitter."

"College boys, on the other hand, are rather interesting. They spell the natural charm of their ignorance by trying to be charming. They are little Dale Carnegies."

CRACKERBARREL COMMENTS . . .

By Wesley Hines
I can't see why we can't have the seasons re-ordered. If the President can change Thanksgiving I don't see why he can't change the seasons.
I get so tired of hearing "Well fall will soon be here". I'd like to see the seasons interchanged. For instance, it's football season now and won't it last until pumpkin pie season, then after that back-log season, or gas-bill season, then Easter, or corsage season, which brings us into Bride season, then July, Busting Ear season plus green beans and ripe tomatoes. August that would be primary season, September, tobacco cutting season, October, Hog-killing season, or fresh sausage.

Of all the seasons I like best is roasting ear, fresh-sausage, and football. I am not so hot on bride, corsage, or tobacco stick seasons.
Now pumpkin pie season is good and I don't know of anyone who would not appreciate it. But Ed Williams, he did not buy his wife's pie at the pie supper the other night. Well, here is like a flower. I am told after so many years it fades. Why I remember when Ed would have paid any amount for a pie baked by Beth-lah. Now he won't eat one at all. Well, Ed, last remember this. "The older a little girl gets the more her candy costs."

Chester Vernon Alfrey chews tobacco in bed. Well, one thing he gets in a big spittoon—Ed (U. S. Steel). Ryan has one of these More-or-less mousetatches, depending on how close he shaves. Any day now his razor head will slip and he will be completely out of mousetatch. Mart Bower tried the new one once but it turned out to be a complete fizzle.

RETAILERS GET TASTE OF PRICE ADVANCES

Wholesale prices all along the line seem to be advancing although the general public has not as yet felt the effect except in certain food items which they undoubtedly pushed up themselves by an unusual demand.

Stocks and bonds seem to have stabilized since the first rush upward during the opening two weeks of the European war.

While retailers all along the line are being notified, from rubber tires and paper to popcorn and drugs, of possible price increases to come, they are not raising their quotations.

In our own line our paper salesman tells us that several mills have already withdrawn from the market for the next 90 days because they are sold out or have a large number of orders.

These price increases are not expected of course to be very large. Retailers will be hurt because they will absorb the difference unless the increase is out of proportion, compelling them to take action.

Retailers are being warned by their trade associations not to buy too heavily in order to take advantage of the present prices, because they say that such inordinate demand was a partial cause of the dislocation of prices during the last World War.

If, however, Great Britain and France should decide to end the war by making peace, the present upheaval in prices will not affect the general public a great deal if they have been slow to make large purchases.

HALDEMAN SCHOOL NEWS

The third grade started a diary Monday, September 25th. They have also made a sprayed flower design for the blackboard. They have a first aid kit for the entire school which will be filled by the P. T. A.

The second grade also have a spelling chart. When they get 20 blocks colored they get a spelling certificate. They also have new arithmetic work books.

The fifth grade student, Opal Fultz is back in school after being out with typhoid fever. Margaret Hall has also returned after being out on account of illness.

Eunice Cox is back in school after being absent on account of illness. Barbara Lee Stinson was out of school Monday on account of illness. Marjorie Bailey is back in school after being out a week. Charles Conley of the sixth grade has gone to the Lexington hospital.

Beatrice Hall, a seventh grade student fell in front of the school building and cut her knee. She was rushed to the Doctor and had five stitches taken.

Some of the high school teachers visited the parents at Triplett last weekend. The W. P. A. is completing a new gymnasium. They hope to get it finished within two weeks.

The senior high basket ball boys will practice in the old gym until the new one is finished.

Mr. Caudill brought up some laboratory equipment Monday.

The Haldeman P. T. A. held its first meeting of the year on Tuesday evening, Sept. 19th. Plans were made to send representatives to an all day district meeting of the P. T. A. which is to be held in Morehead at the Methodist church on Friday, September 29th.

Private cars and the school bus will be used to transport the parents wishing to attend.

The fourth grade has ordered new arithmetic work books and Mrs. Satterfield is sure the interest in arithmetic will become greater and the books will be of great help to all the boys and girls. Evalyn Adkins has been ill for the past week. She was able to be back in school Friday.

The fourth grade has divided the room into two teams. The object of the teams is to have fewer absences when a child is absent, the ones on the team try to find out why. The contest will run for several weeks at the end of the winning team will be taken on a picnic.

Eaglets May Play Marshall Freshmen

College Frosh Squad Carries Three Squads Over 200 Pounds

"You're not going to run over us" was the cry of the Morehead yearlings this week as they donned the mole skins for the first time this season to furnish "cannon fodder" for the powerful variety. And they may be right at that. Facing for size by two young men who wear a size 13 shoe, the smallest man on the Eaglet team weighs 180 and is scorned by his teammates as "runt." Few of the freshmen tip the beams less than 185—and that isn't a child's weight at all.

Largest man on the squad is Jim Reidsinger, Newport, Ky., center who tips the scales at a mere 240. Slightly smaller, but none the less effective is 220 pound Addie Marshall, backfield ace from Marion, Indiana.

A problem for freshman coach Bobby Laughlin was the shoehorn of Reidsinger and Richard Dougherty, 195 pounder from Uniontown, Pa.

A tentative schedule calling for two games with Marshall College and one with the University of Cincinnati freshmen has been arranged.

- Names, positions and the home town of the incoming freshmen are listed below:
- Erik Morris, Portsmouth, Ohio, E. 160.
 - James Caudill, Newport, Ky., E. 170.
 - James Boswell, Newport, Ky., E. 175.
 - Richard Dougherty, Uniontown, Pa., T. 195.
 - Andrew Philip, Hamilton, Ohio, T. 195.
 - Dewey Cornette, Whitesburg, Ky., G. 185.
 - Kenneth Volgaros, Ironton, Ohio, G. 170.
 - Bill Mack, New Britain, Conn., G. 185.
 - Jim Reidsinger, Newport, Ky., C. 240.
 - Red Heitz, Louisville, Ky., B. 185.
 - Carl Howerton, Olive Hill, Ky., B. 165.
 - Lee Cavanaugh, Paris, Ky., B. 165.
 - Harold Jenkins, Fleming, Ky., B. 165.
 - Addie Marshall, Marion, Ind., B. 220.
 - Vincent Zachem, Ashland, Ky., C. 205.

LIME-FROSPHATE PRODUCE CLOVER

How limestone and superphosphate produced clover three years in succession on the farm of Tom Baldwin in Madison county, is related by J. L. Miller, county farm agent. Sowed in 1937, a hay crop was cut the first year, a hay and seed crop the second year. The usual result would be a little hay this year, the third season, but production this year is extra good. The only explanation Miller has to offer is: limestone, superphosphate, adapted seed.

Squirrel Hunting Season Ends Sunday

The squirrel-hunting season is drawing to a close in Kentucky and attention of all hunters is called to this fact by Major James Brown, Director of the Division of Game and Fish.

The open season on squirrels closes October first and after that date it will be a violation of the game laws to kill squirrels.

The squirrel hunters had a fairly successful season, but due to the lack of a plentiful supply of food, which is necessary to hold the squirrel populations at home squirrels were not as plentiful as they were last year.

Corbie Ellington Post Flood Report In State Magazine

A full page of the August issue of the Kentucky Legionnaire was devoted to the work of the Kentucky posts rendering aid in the July flood in Breathitt and Rowan counties.

The report of the Corbie Ellington Post No. 126 related the activity of the local post members, aid sent by other posts in neighboring counties.

An example of the difficulties encountered by other posts in coming to Morehead because of the flood waters was that of the Owingsville post: "By 7 o'clock in the morning, Commander J. Sidney Caudel of Bath County Post No. 42, Owingsville, led his detachment into town. To make what should be a twenty-two mile trip they had to cover seven miles but they were here. Commander Tom Hodge and his men of Clarence Fields Post No. 76, Ashland, followed in just a short time. Their services were offered, accepted and immediately pressed into action."

A foreword to the article read as follows: "Department extended aid all possible. When news of the flash floods that occurred in Rowan and Breathitt counties reached department headquarters early on the morning of July 5, attempts were made to communicate with Commander Nickell of Corbie Ellington Post No. 126, Morehead, and Commander Koppal of Wolfe County Post No. 179, Campton. Since communications were out, this was impossible. Dr. J. F. Hahn, Commander of Nelson Post No. 5, Flemingsburg, was sent to Morehead."

BULL FORK SCHOOL NEWS Mary L. Holbrook, teacher

(Held over from previous issue) Bull Fork is one of the smaller schools of the county.

Twenty pupils enrolled during the first two weeks of school. Ten of these pupils will receive certificates of attendance for the first month of school.

Visitors during the month were W. P. Eldridge, Mrs. Lloyd Eldridge and Mr. McGraw. Children who visited during the month were Chester Caudill, Gerta and Glanton Holbrook, also Janice Sampel and Geraldine Leedy, of Lovell, Kentucky.

Geraldine, Gerta and Clinton were on the program for the opening exercises. Their songs and poems were enjoyed by all the pupils.

Clark Lane Gives Account of Flood In Trade Journal

A picture of the Lane Funeral Home and an article describing the work of the local funeral homes and funeral directors from the surrounding cities during the July flood is appearing in the September issue of the funeral director's national trade journal, "Casket" and Sunnyside.

The picture was taken when several hearsees stood at the door of the home and a large crowd was on the porch.

The article gives a description of the activity of Lane and the readiness of the nearby funeral directors to aid the two local funeral homes.

A special letter from Lane was included telling how he summoned the aid of other funeral directors and the speed with which they worked in embalming the bodies as they were brought in.

RYE GRASS EXCELLS

In grass tests in Taylor and Boone counties, Italian rye grass has been about the only complete reports of county agents. The rye grass made excellent growth and was full of seed. Other grasses tested include meadow fescue, Canada bluegrass, tall oats grass and bromus grass. Certified seed not only increased wheat yields two to six bushels to the acre, but the stalks stood up better and lasted less.

LITTLE PERRY SCHOOL Lyda M. Caudill and Opal Cassidy

(Held over from previous issue) The teachers and children of Little Perry School had a very pleasant and profitable month, working with Miss Bord, Miss Finley and their student teachers. The primary room has completed their grocery store unit and will soon start working on a farm unit. The upper grades are working on a unit of progress including transportation, communication and agriculture.

The children who have had perfect attendance for the first month are: Tennis Fraker, Norman Stamper, William Sturgill, Nellie and Nettie Click, June Messer, Ruth Sturgill, Hazel Click, Bessie Albree Oney, Geneva Click, Alene Fraker, Edna Oney, Margaret Sturgill and Fay Turner. For the little room the following were present every day: Fred, Mabel and Russel Fraker, Willis and Genetta Hall, Leonard Bobby and Ina Messer, Esther and Mildred Oney, Mary Click, Dorothy and Betty Turner, Paul Sturgill, Vernon May and Eulalia and Fay Oney.

ELLIOTTSVILLE SCHOOL

Elliottville F. T. A. Meets and Elects Officers

There was a meeting of the Elliottville F. T. A. Thursday, September 21st. Mr. Crosswhite acted as Chairman. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Ronnie Fultz, President; Mrs. Marvin Aldkins, First Vice-President; Mrs. Virgil Sparkman, Second Vice-President; Mrs. Mary James, Secretary; Mrs. Virgil Kissinger, Treasurer.

After the election of officers the president suggested we have Grade Mothers; that is have a picture and a room that have most Mothers present get the picture until one room is beaten by another room.

Mrs. Barber read "Encouragement at Home," which was enjoyed by all present, and Mrs. Crosswhite read "Ten Ways to Kill an Organization."

There will be another meeting Wednesday, Sept. 27th. All parents are urged to attend.

Miss Carter's room, the third grade has had perfect attendance for the entire school year so far. The fourth grade only had one absent. The sixth grade is glad to welcome Fred James back in school this week. Fred underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils at the Grayson hospital two weeks ago. The fifth grade has begun the construction of a map of the U. S. in connection with their geography.
