Exploding Bunk

We hope that those timid souls who have been having nightmares over visions of Adolph Hitler coming over here and taking America, like he took Poland, heard General Smedley Butler on the radio the other night. With years of military experience behind him, "Old Gimlet Eye" pronounces such fears "the bunk." Here is what General Butler had to say about this Hitler Boogymen that the Roosevelt Administration has set up to get support for repeal of the arms embargo.

"It doesn't take a military education to figure out what I'm going to tell you. "It will take not less than one million soldiers to invade the United States with any hope of even getting ashore. These million men must come all at once.

"They must bring not less than seven tons of baggage per man. One million men, seven million tons of food, ammunition, what-not. "They must bring four hundred thousand motor vehicles. They've got to find room for fifty gallons of gasoline per day for each vehicle for 270 days—that's nine months' supply.

"Why, there are not enough ships in the whole world to carry that kind of an expedition. And remember, those ships have to have enough fuel to get back with—to make the round trip.

"Any dumb cluck can see that. "But here's some more: they've got to have harbors to land in. Docks to get their stores ashore. You know, you can't stop 25 miles out at sea, drop a 5-ton armored tank overboard, and tell it to swim ashore and meet you on Broadway.

"You know very well we're not going to open our harbors to them, prepare docks for them, and invite them in.

"New York harbor is the only big one we have on this coast and to block New York harbor all you have to do is to dump two day's garbage in the channel instead of hauling it out to sea.

"And don't forget that we happen to have a navy and it's the best in the world.

"Now what about an aerial invasion? "Well, Colonel Lindbergh and Eddie Rickenbacker, the two foremost fliers we have, already have told you it's ridiculous to talk or to think about bombing New York from Berlin.

"And don't forget that we have an air force of our own.

"So, my fellow Americans, let's take one thing at a time. This war's in Europe."

Hunting Season Opens November 16

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 16.—Major James Brown, director of the Division of Game and Fish, calls to the attention of all hunters the fact that the season on rabbits and bob quail opens on November 24.

The hunter's attention is also called to the proclamation issued by Governor Chandler more than a month ago setting aside November 30 as Thanksgiving Day. As the result of this proclamation the hunter will be able to enjoy that particular holiday in the fields in the pursuit of the rabbit or quail. President Roosevelt proclaimed November 23 as Thanksgiving day, but due to the confusion raised by this change, Governor Chandler proclaimed the last Thursday in the month as the day on which to give thanks.

The Division of Game and Fish has received numerous requests within the past several weeks asking that the hunting season be moved up one day in order to have the opening on November 22, but this could only be done by an act of the Kentucky Legislature and as Thanksgiving Day will fall just one week later, on November 30, that will not be necessary.

From reports received from every county in the state this is going to be the best hunting season Kentucky nrmrods have enjoyed since the day Daniel Boone first gazed upon the land known to the Indians as the "Happy Hunting Ground."

Fire Insurance Policy Holders See Where Dollar Goes

Nallalier, Of National Agency, Tells Story

Many a fire insurance policyholder who has never sustained a loss must have wondered what happened to his premium dollars. In a recent talk, W. E. Mallalieu, general manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, tells the story. Taking of records of 332 large fire companies for 1938, it is found that a little more than 43 cents out of each premium dollar earned went to pay losses. Three cents was consumed by the expense of adjustment.

About twenty cents out of this average dollar was needed to pay management expenses. Of this, twenty cents, seven cents for salaries, about 5 cents for miscellaneous items, one cent for rent, and seven cents for field supervision.

The tax collector doesn't overlook fire insurance any more than another business. Taxes of various sorts took five cents of the premium dollar.

This accounts for about 71 cents. A quarter went to the agent who sold the insurance—and any policyholder who has had need of agency service in time of emergency can tell you that no man is more worthy of his hire. The remainder, less than 5 per cent, represents the modest profits earned by the companies.

Few businesses spend their revenue in a more beneficial manner than fire insurance. Take that (Continued on page 4)

Questionnaire Shows That Printer's Ink Rarely Rubs Off

Truism Sustained In U. of K. Poll Taken Recently of Students

The truism that printer's ink seldom comes off, was sustained recently when fifty-five out of sixty-five pre-jeanialism freshmen at the University of Kentucky revealed in a questionnaire that they are already experienced as editors on high school or hometown newspapers and now on their way to careers in ink.

If these college cubs attain their ambitions, the questionnaire indicates they will fill journalistic positions ranging from art to sports editor, from fashion writer to foreign correspondent, from advertising to literary critic.

The women lean toward careers in fashion and magazine writing, dramatic and literary criticism or fiction. The men prefer reporting and sports writing. Two traditions were reversed when several three long times as many women as men expressed determination to become foreign correspondents.

A similar questionnaire answered by the seniors showed that the fourth year students are still almost as ambitious as the beginners, though several of them, unlike the freshmen, would be glad to retire to a more leisurely life as editors of weekly newspapers.

Some of the freshmen believe in setting very specific goals. One boy wants eventually to become city editor of the New York Sun. A girl has already mapped out a detailed career beginning on the Kentucky Kernel, student newspaper, and leading, she hopes, to the Lexington Herald, the Cincinnati Enquirer, the Chicago Tribune, and the New York Times.

Approximately 60,000 new freight cars are expected to be installed in service this year by the railroads of this country.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Bronchitis, acute or chronic, is an inflammatory condition of the mucous membranes lining the bronchial tubes. Livestock Market Question Debated
(By Carl Wade)

For some time there has been talk of organizing a livestock market here in Morehead. Some of the men in Morehead seemed to think it would be a paying proposition to the yards and to the men in business.

A visit was made to Flemingsburg market last Saturday and during this time, Mr. Frank Broughton secured from the market to come to Morehead and discuss the particulars of organization and operation. On Monday afternoon a group of men gathered to hear this man discuss the phases of a stock market.

From all evidence there seems to be some active interest connective with the move, and all angles are to be considered before there is a market started. Mr. Broughton told us that honesty was the prime factor toward success in this business, we know that honesty is an important factor in any business but instances were cited in the different stock markets where honesty was needed.

Mr. Broughton is coming back to Morehead on the 21st of December to talk to the Business Men's Club. Everyone that is interested in such a move as establishing a livestock market, please see him, Dave Caudill, Mr. Bill Lane, Mr. Goff, or Mr. Wade and give them your ideas on the matter, and later on there will be meetings to discuss the matter of establishing a livestock market.

It is five cents for miscellaneous costs, for instance. This pays for all the expense of maintaining inspection, rating bureaus and other organizations, and for printing advertising, postage, maps, surveys, etc. It pays for the industry's continuous war against arson, for surveying municipal supplies, for inspecting property, etc. This fire precaution activity has been largely responsible for cutting average fire insurance rates from $1.17 in 1926 to 67 cents in 1938. So there's your insurance dollar.
