CRACKERBARREL COMMENTS . . .

(By WOODY BENTON)
Christmas. And only two more shopping days left. You women are going to have to hustle for you have only two days to exchange the things that you have bought. Of course after Christmas you can take them back but the clerks will be very nasty about giving refunds and exchanging things. However, that's their fault, they should not be so crabby. Last year I got two pair of women's twelve size (I wear 9 1-2). I got neckties that I would not go hunting in and house shoes that ruined my feet. I got a smoking jacket like the movie stars wear, and I have never worn it, I like to smoke in my long underwear with my sock on. One boy in town bought his girl a 36 pound stick of candy. Bob's Bishop really put on the dog this year, and I never knew he had a steady. The only thing I have gotten is bills, and I have mixed up my mind if "Santa" can't do any better by me he can go to some one and give them something that really deserves it. Personally, I like an old fashioned Christmas with country sausage, ham meat and cider, with a good fried rabbit and mince pie like a fireplace with a good fire and a good backing and forestick and a few good sticks of wood piled on top. I hate furnace heat with a dry turkey and candles burning on the table. I hate to dish out the food from the head of the table and carve the turkey. I just like to pitch in and help myself and let the company do the same. I like stockings hung up on the mantel with an orange in the toe tapping off at the top with a barber-shop stick and a piece of candy. I don't especially care for Silver and Goblet and China Christmases and high-falutin silks and satins. Anyhow a bunch of Mistletoe to all you guys of THE CORBIE ELLINGTON POST OF THE AMERICAN LEGION. As members of America's greatest, bravest, and most patriotic organization, for spending $100.00 on a needy and destitute. I feel like a piker, and I feel neglected that I was not asked to help you in some way. You have all given me a good laugh though I think all you guys that have been sadly neglected you can take it. And remember I am for you one hundred percent, right or wrong. You men who put yourselves up as targets, and saw those shot down beside you so that we were too young or too old to go to night live in a country and be free of dictatorship.

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL

CAPITOL COMMENTS

(By David H. Forster)
At this season of happiness, I want for the coming year as your news representative at Frankfort, to wish you the most of the best. In the coming legislative session, I am going to explain the bills that are brought before the houses and tell you how your Senator and Representative votes on them. In this way, you will know how they are representing you here at Frankfort.

Rowan Spelling Bee Is Set For January 12th

The price of tobacco is alarmingly low and farmers all over the state are becoming aroused at the price this year's crop is bringing, which is much less than production costs. The farmers of Clark county have protested to Governor Johnson and Secretary Wallace and have asked that the sales be stopped. We believe that is not the solution and would work a hardship on small planters who have to raise money on their tobacco, regardless of what it brings. Many farmers are protesting Government control of marketing and set prices for the various grades of tobacco. This may be the solution, but we believe the Government is interfering too much with business now. Cooperative pools have not worked so well in the past and our idea of talking with a number of officials is that the condition is brought about through the fact that four large companies buy most of the tobacco and with a large supply on hand they seem to pay what they please. We predict those low prices in the early fall, and know that the prices of cigarettes stay the same regardless of what is paid for the crop. (Continued on Page 3)

American Legion Plans Big Xmas

FOR UNDERPRIVILEGED Baskets of Food, Clothing Are To Be Distributed Says Nickell

Much praise belongs to the members of the American Legion, who are, according to Commander, H. L. Nickell, spending over $100 for the underprivileged children of Rowan county and Morehead.

Baskets of food and clothing are to be delivered to the underprivileged children's homes Saturday and Sunday, December 23, and 24, Dr. Nickell stated, in an effort "to make Christmas merrier for everyone in the county." Dr. Nickell said that Maurice E. Hall, 18, sold popcorn at the high school to get money to purchase the ticket sold by the legion to help raise money. Young Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Morehead, drew the bed room suite which was the legion's main prize at their drawing held the early part of the month.

Committee Of Five In Charge Of Event; Breck Scheduled

The Rowan County Spelling Bee will be held at the Morehead High School Gymnasium at the last regular Teachers Conference, January 12th. The following Committee has charge of the event: Golda Dillon, chairman, Amy Emma Jones, Grace Crosswhite, Ellen Hudgins, and Hubert Pennington. Every school in Rowan county is urged to have a contestant in this event including the rural schools, consolidated schools and the Breckinridge Training school. The elimination contest which will be written will be held at 1:00 P. M. and the oral contest at 1:00 P. M. The committee has asked that each teacher contribute twenty-five cents, and also that the business places of Rowan county make contributions so that each child participating can be given a prize and also that the paper ration.

An Editorial

This coming Monday the United States will celebrate its most sacred and meaningful holiday—Christmas. All countries throughout the world do not celebrate on this day. Some have already had their Christmas, others will not remember it until along in the month of January. Perhaps the origin of the modern "Santa Claus" is the most interesting thing of the Yuletide season. Its origin, historians believe, goes back to the sweeping of chimneys by the Englanders so that the "friendly spirit" might enter and bring his gifts to gladden the hearts of the children. The spirit was named "Saint Nicholas" from Holland and Scandinavian descent, but was finally slurred and shortened to "Santa Claus"—and that is remains. The burning of the Yule log, Santa's visits, the Christmas tree, which origin is lost in antiquity, all are part of the greatest of all holidays. And to our many subscribers and friends we want to wish with all the spirit of the season: "A Very Merry Christmas!"

Mrs. J. O. Everhart Wins First Prize For Home Decorating

A lighting pattern telling the story of the journey of the wise men to the little town of Bethlehem was awarded first prize in the Christmas decorating contest sponsored by the Home department of the Morehead Woman's club in cooperation with the employees of the Kentucky Power and Light Company. The first prize, a floor lamp, donated by the Kentucky Power and Light Company went to Mrs. J. O. Everhart. Second prize of $3.00 in cash to Mrs. J. G. Black and third prize of $2.00 cash to Maxine Caudill Evans. The cash prizes were donated by the Morehead Woman's club. Judges in the contest were Mr. John Palmer, Mrs. Rienz Jennings and Mrs. A. F. Ellington.

1939 Edition of Eagle Squad

Left to right: Ralph Musman—5 ft. 8 in. Newport High School, Soph. guard, good ball handle, a spark plug. Gets loose balls and a good passer. W. Barr—5ft. 11 in. Paris High School, Paris, Ky., Jr. Guard, best shot on squad, both long and short shots. Charles Higgenbotham—6 ft. 2 in. Graduate of Lofollet High School, Lofollet, Tenn. Classmates Write Enlogy To Hogge Child Killed Here

Was Favorite With Associates And Teachers Alike, Tribute Says A beautiful tribute to Mattie Hogge, 16, who was struck and killed by an automobile near Morehead early this month has been planned by her classmates at the Elliottville school of which she was an outstanding pupil. Tribute To Mattie Hogge From Her Class At The Elliottville School "There is a saying that 'As the twig is bent the tree is inclined.' It gives a teacher great joy to feel that in a small measure, he or she had the privilege of working with the parents in bending that twig so that as it grows and develops into young womanhood it will be a great asset to the community, the school, the state, and the nation. If the twig be suddenly broken off in its youth, we realize that its mission here on earth was completed, and that there must have been a greater need for its friends—no finer child we had. Her face was ever happy; and oh, so kind, You somehow know this girl was fine and noble; How sweet she was, and how each did love her; Our school room seemed blessed beyond compare. How precious were the hours she was with us; How wonderful it was to have had her there!"

Mrs. Cooper Dies Of Burns Received At Home Monday

Dropped Lamp and Ignited Clothes Led to Tragedy Burns resulting from dropping a lamp at 7 p. m. Monday night, and igniting her clothes proved fatal to Mrs. Francis L. Cooper, 79, of near Sharkey, Rowan county, six hours after she sustained the burns. Mrs. Cooper, wife of the late Ephraim Cooper, is said to have dropped a lamp which had been carrying on the house and was severely burned before her stepson, L. P. Cooper, who made his home with her, could extinguish the blaze. Mrs. Cooper is survived by five children, Luther Cooper, of Vanceburg; Mrs. F. J. Stags, of Vanceburg; Leonard of Shelby, Ky.; Mrs. Mattie Roberts of Frankfort, Ky.; and Mrs. Emma Jones of Muncie, Ind. Funeral services were held at the Lane Funeral home, Morehead, Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 P. M. Burial was made in the Purvis cemetery near Sharkey.

Morehead Postoffice To Deliver Parcels

The Morehead Postoffice, instead of closing at 2 o'clock as customary on Saturday, will be open until 7 p. m. this coming Saturday. The Morehead office this week further accommodated the public by delivering packages. Many inquiries have been received according to the postmaster, regarding packages that are received on Sunday December 24 and Christmas Day. Deliveries of gift parcels will be made on both these days, which is being done so accommodate the patrons of the office. Another new service that will be offered by the postmaster, patrons this year is that the windows will be open for one hour, from 8 o'clock a. m. to 9 o'clock on Sunday, December 24, and Monday, December 25.

CHURCH NEWS

Christmas Program Is Held Monday Afternoon At Methodist Church.
 A jolly good time was had by all at the Christmas party of the Rowan County Woman's club on Monday evening, December 18. The basement of the Methodist church was quite tastefully decorated leading a festive air to the assembly.

 After a short business session, Mrs. William Sample led the group in singing Christmas Carols. Then Mrs. V. H. Wolford, chairman of the Home department, introduced Dr. Gabriel Banks, who read "The First Christmas Tree" by Henry Van Dyke. Following this more serious part of the program came a hilarious part when the whole group played some Christmas games under the direction of Miss Leola Caudill.

After refreshments were served Sunshine Sister presents were exchanged.

Hostesses for the evening were: Mrs. Roy Cornette, Mrs. V. H. Wolford, Mrs. R. L. Broaden, Mrs. W. H. Flood, and Miss Ellen Hudgins.

Christmas Church.

Morning Worship, 10:45; Sermon, "A White Christmas"; Sunday school, 9:45; Young Peoples Guild, 6:15; Junior Christian Brdeavor, 5:00; Mid-week services, Wednesday, 7:30.

 The Christmas program will be held next Sunday evening beginning at 7:00.

The Christmas program at the Christian church will be presented next Sunday evening, Christmas Eve, at 7:00. The program will be approximately an hour and a half in length.

The Young Peoples Guild, under the direction of Mrs. Landolt will present the play, "Where Lies the Child?" In the cast are the following: Mrs. William Hudgins, Frank Miller, Frances Peratt, Margaret Fenix, Mabel Carr, Sampel Reynolds, Jimmy Reynolds, J. B. Calvert, Irvin Kash, Betty Banks, Mary Ella Lappin, Maxine McGuire, Joyce Wolford, and the pastor.

Following the play the children of the Sunday School will present a program of Christmas pieces. Then, Santa Claus will visit the church and give out the gifts he finds under the tree. The program will conclude with a short candle-light service.

 ing first, second and third prizes can be given worthwhile prizes. Teachers contributing can be paid at the superintendent's office by January 6th. Each school is urged to select their best speller for this event.

The general public is invited to attend the oral contest which will be at 1:00 o'clock P. M., and a special invitation is extended to the parents of the contestants.

The name of the contestant of each school must be in the office of the superintendent by January 6th.

The adopted spelling text will be used and also an additional word list if necessary. The judges and pronouncer will be selected in advance by the committee.

Roy Acuff To Present WSM Grand Ole Opry

 chel appear each Saturday night at 8:30 and 10:30 PM CST on the WSM Grand Ole Opry, at Nashville and during the week they appear in the leading theatres and auditoriums all over the country. Old time music and songs with comedy are featured in the show and all members of the company take part in the performance.

The songs "The Great Speckled Bird," "The Wabash Cannon Ball," "What Would You Do With Gabriel's Trumpet," and many others just as popular are sung at each performance by Roy Acuff. Roy is perhaps the best known singer of old time songs on the air today.

Little Rachel, the girl with the five string banjo who recently joined the Smoky Mountain Boys and made such a great hit with the radio audience is also the hit of the stage show. Dressed in her gingham dress and high top shoes she draws many a laugh from every audience.

The Smoky Mountain Boys travel in a special car and between broadcasts of the Grand Ole Opry they are busy making personal appearances over the country and turning out phonograph records of their hit numbers. They will appear for one day only, at the Trail Theatre.

STANLEY RADJUNAS IS ACE GUARD ON ALL-SIAA ELEVEN; REGULAR POSITION

Stanley Radjunas, ace guard of the Morehead Eagles, was named on the all-SIAA eleven in a regular guard position, according to a special release received here by Alton Payne, director of Public Relations at Morehead College.

Radjunas was also selected a little-all-American and all-KIAC performer.

Sea level along the Pacific coast varies a few inches with the season, being high in the winter at Seattle, for instance, and low in spring and summer.

 In order to be fair however, we would like to bring out that prices are set by supply and demand and that the crops for a number of years have been greatly in excess of consumption.

The legislative council is meeting in Frankfort to plan bills that are necessary to State Government, for the coming legislature to act on. We will tell you more of this next week.

Asst. Atty. General John M. Campbell, of Letchfield, died of heart trouble, brought about by the excitement of the inaugural ceremonies. In his three years, here at Frankfort, he made many friends and served the State well.

John Arthur Poin of Springfield, the new Adjutant General, is one of the best qualified the State has had.

A 2nd Lieutenant in the World War, he joined the National Guard in 1922 as Lieutenant Colonel and is Regimental Commander of the 126 Cavalry. He is a lawyer, bachelor, banker, and Catholic, and a swell man to know.

Club Notes

Young Peoples Guild
The Young Peoples Guild of the Christian Church held a Christmas program and party last Sunday evening in honor of home-going college students. A brilliantly lighted Christmas tree dominated the room. The large group sang Christmas carols, and listened to a Christmas story. They were then presented with candy canes by the pastor and his wife.

THE LOWLY ONION
Among the citizens of the garden, none has a longer lineage of cultivation than the onion, with its relatives the leek and the more pungent garlic. Onions, radishes and bread, were starchy rations away back when Croesus sat on the throne of Egypt.

COMPARE THE NEW 1940 APEX SPEEDLINER WASHER WITH WASHERS SELLING AT MUCH HIGHER PRICES

It's New!

This new Apex washer gives you everything you want in a washing machine. It washes clothes 1/2 cleaner, 1/2 faster, washes as gently as the hands.

PATENTED SPIRAL DASHER
Tests prove that the Apex Spiral Dasher accomplishes a given degree of cleansing 31% more quickly, and is 45% more consistent in cleansing performance than the average of four other leading makes of washing machines.

EXCLUSIVE APEX-LOVELL WRINGER
A slight touch of finger automatically stops or reverses wringer rolls... no manual effort required, even when wringing heaviest loads. Truly the world's finest wringer.

FREE-RUNNING MECHANISM
Patented device permits the independent operation of wringer or agitator without the constant running of parts not in use. Powerfully built, accurately machined and permanently lubricated.

THE APEX SPEEDLINER IS TODAY'S OUTSTANDING WASHER VALUE
Compare Apex with washers that sell for $20.00 more. Compare its beauty, its features and performance and you, too, will say it is the greatest washer value on the market today.
