Crackerbarrel Comments

(By Woody Blinton)

I was afraid this snow we had would end in a thaw. "Uncle" Dr. Blair came through from Florida on his way home in Ashland, saying that he had to wait with his feet in the isles all the time he was down there. If the truth was known someone overcharged him a dime for something. Henry Flood has an old fashioned "bone fellow" on his "stringer-finger." He says it fore as a duck's eye-ball. Mike Floore left for Florida last Monday. Van Green was seen driving a new car last week. Woody Hinton read a poem at the Women's club last week. "Oh Death!" C. B. Lane is "grinning" all his hood now. I can't hardly wait to see him with his new uppers and lowers with that striped suit on he has had on since the nine years. L. Saunders, and E. Lewis were in no condition to attend church last Sunday. I nominate Mrs. Jesse Bowers as the best sausage makers in the county. Much obliged, Mrs. Jesse Bowers. Dr. Mills made John Allen quit eating at the club last week. C. P. Duley's sister's car looks like a nutcase that has been on a world cruise. Stanley Battsom is a "staid" ment with a notation on it a yard long. Be brief the next time Dr. like TIME. Lester Hogue, the local attorney reports that since this warm spell his house is hot as a depot stove. I have lost the key to our gas furnace and we had to keep all the doors and windows open. "Blitz" Sampel during the last cold spell he got colder than kratz juice. "Biggin" VanHook's three-year-old kid put ten cents in his "teez" every month. She is only three-months old. Get that kid a bank "Biggin." "Buck" Ambury is starting "swatting" anyone you see working "over" your car. You just drive away "Buck" money. Marvin was sent in a bulletin saying that anyone caught in his chicken house at night would be found there the next morning. Joe Nolan has a gerstlich car now, he says. It's awkward as "Gifford." If E. E. Elam does not stop razzing me I am going to tell the public or whoever reads this column the facts about two men a bag of relief flour, etta cetra. (That will hold him). Wiley May is showing improvement. As soon as they build the new extension down there they will come after him. Hello Lyda: "how's Wisconsin?"

C. & O. Railroad Cuts Passenger Rate On Big Sandy Route

A new, low passenger rate of 1-1-2c a mile, one way, with a further reduction of 25 per cent on round trips, was put into effect today on the Big Sandy division of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co., in Kentucky.

These new rates, lowest in the history of the C. & O. passenger service, have been approved by the Kentucky Railroad Commission for application to the Big Sandy division for an experimental period of eight months, from February 1 to September 30, 1940. The purpose is to determine the efficiency of these lower rates as an aid to greater passenger utilization of the branch line service.

The reduced rates will apply only locally points on the Big Sandy line from the Big Sandy, Ky., to the Junction, to be extended to cover the full run of branch line trams where they operate for a short distance. This will be satisfactory, for example, the stretch of line from Big Sandy Junction to the terminus of the passenger service of the Big Sandy division at Ashland, Ky.

The highlight of the basketball season, the game with the alumni, is being planned for February 10. Ellis Johnson, Morehead College coach, said today.

Old Grads To Play 1940 Model Eagles

The "Gray beards" have been invited to test their old fire against this season's crop of Eagles and Morehead fans are expected to turn out en masse to see some of their old heroes in action. Many of them are now coaches; many proud, hard-working parents, all of them out of training and beginning to develop that middle age spread, the "Gray beards" may find time for "sailing against the wind" in the coming, also admittedly late in the season, to get the best on the bucket.

BIRD HOUSES

How often in the spring have you wished that you had built a birdhouse so that the bluebird which appeared in your back yard could take up residence there? This is the time of the year to construct such houses so they can be placed out of doors in advance of the nesting season. Bird houses can do much to attract the hole-nesting species of birds and these species, in return, will serve admirably in the control of the insects which prey on the birds.

The building of bird houses requires but a few simple tools and old waste lumber of packing boxes will be satisfactory for construction. Farmer's bulletin No. 1456 of the U.S.D.A., Washington, D. C., which can be obtained free, has plans for many types of houses. Suggestions for locating the finished bird houses are also included. With this bulletin the boys in the household find it possible to produce nesting boxes entirely suitable for such birds as wrens, bluebirds, martins, woodpeckers and many other species.

Such an activity will provide an outlet for superfluous energy during the long winter evenings when the growing boy needs something to do.

A few bits of advice might be

IN ORDER AT THIS POINT.

Follow the plans faithfully. Particulars as regards the location and size of the box opening. Do not build on a wall or in a corner. Use bright colored paints. A house to be accepted by nesting birds must be as inconspicuous as possible in the neighborhood. The product outside doors be sure to make it inaccessible to cats. This can be done, as suggested in the bulletin mentioned, by the use of "vinyl" on the supporting post. Cats take a heavy toll of bird lives and the nesting box would be nothing more than a death trap unless your friends found it inaccessible.

The species of birds which you are most likely to attract in Kentucky are the Bluebird, Bewick's Wren, Martin, Carolina, Chickadee, Downy Woodpecker and Flicker.

With proper care in construction and erection of bird homes, you should find that the bird population around your dwelling has been noticeably increased with time. The birds which you have attracted are species which have been doing considerable damage to your shrubbery, lawn and garden. In this way you obtain not only the pleasure derived from the feathered songsters but also direct benefit in hedges control.

 paid out of its own revenues. They represent, for the most part, commissions to private brokers who handle our properties at set, minimum fees.

The homes the HOLC still owns, capitalized at $2,945,971 according to Mr. Davis, have a present estimated market value of $2,377,584.

"But merely to say the corporation is losing money in the amount of loss it takes on its sales of homes is like saying a business is losing money because one department shows a loss," said Mr. Davis. The HOLC could hardly be expected to sell foreclosed homes—many of them run down and needing extensive repairs, all burdened with unpaid taxes—at a profit. Every mortgage institution loses money on the sale of foreclosed homes, and makes up for it on its good loans.

Each month the corporation sets aside reserves, and its losses, together with operating expenses, are being met through the 'spread' between the interest it receives on its loans and the lower interest it must pay on its bonds.

The HOLC granted 9,233 loans in Kentucky prior to the close of its lending period in June, 1936, amounting to $25,326,811. To give a comparison on the performance of Kentucky borrowers with those of the rest of the country, Mr. Davis offered the following figures: The HOLC made more than 1,000,000 loans, amounting to approximately $3,000,000,000, throughout the nation. Borrowers have paid back $700,000,000 or 21 percent of the principal indebtedness, while 65,000 borrowers have paid in $155,000,000 to cancel their debts in full. Some 639,491 borrowers are current, less than three months in arrears, or liquidating their arrearages, while 135,515 others are making adjusted payments. The corporation has sold 80,824 homes to date—it now is disposing of them at a rate of more than 4,000 a month—and still owns 77,229, some 10,389 less than were on its books six months ago. Book losses on sales to date have averaged $975. Foreclosures dropped in November to 409, as compared with 8,000 foreclosures in the late summer and fall of 1936.

F.F.A. Chapter To Study Potatoes

 bushels for one year. This figure will give each individual in the state one and one-fourth bushels for one year while the average individual will use three and one-fourth bushels in a year. These figures show that every individual has to buy two bushels of potatoes that are not produced in Kentucky. As an average price for potatoes this would amount to $4,500,000 worth of potatoes imported in one year. Using these figures one can easily determine the possibilities of potatoes as a crop in the State of Rowan county. In one year's time according to the above Rowan county will use 34,248 bushels of 2,084,880 pounds of potatoes. This may seem to be too many potatoes but it is the truth. The production of potatoes in this county will fall far short of the amount produced by the farmers in this county.

Irish potatoes require a cool growing period with plenty of rainfall during the three months of growing period, 18 inches of rain fall is sufficient to produce this crop satisfactorily. Much of the land in this county is suited to growing potatoes, and good yields may be had if the effort is put forth.

The boys in the class expressed their opinion on why they were not more potatoes grown in this county, some said that the people did not realize how many were imported from other states, others said that there was no market for potatoes grown here, while one boy said that the people were just lazy to get at the job as they should.

 paid. The Constitution of the State would prohibit this as there are no provisions for it. Our belief is that the state will increase the bonds for their employees in this department and in all fairness this should be agreeable to the Federal Government. We will have to wait until 1941 to find this out.

Representative Henry W. R. d made a speech on the floor of the house last week requesting more action on important business before the session and less long adjournments. He was right, as the session is half over and very little legislative action has been taken.

Henry Ward brought up a bill to permit newspapers, magazines, or periodicals to advertise whiskey prices.

Otis White of Butler county brought up a bill to provide for the election of School Superintendents by popular vote and fixing their qualifications.

William A. Lamkin, Mead county introduced a bill to prohibit monthly loan companies who loan under $300.00 from charging more than six percent a year.

A bill exempting war veterans of the last war from paying hunting and fishing license has been introduced.

A bill to require the Commissioner of Finance to approve proposed county budgets.

W.P.A. Projects To Continue In Spite Of Weather Conditions

Colonel F. C. Harrington, Work Progress Commissioned, announced today that every effort is being made to keep WPA projects operating during the unusually inclement weather so as to prevent loss of the time and wages when they are most needed.

This is being done, he said, by rescheduling working days, shifting workers to the protracted projects and putting them to work on the more sheltered operations of the projects they have been assigned to. Continuation of the present extreme weather will not be permitted to interfere with increasing the rolls above the present level of more than 2,000,000 as planned to meet the peak relief requirements of late winter, Colonel Harrington said.

Local Flock Of Chickens Make Good

(By Carl Wade, Leader of A.G.)
A small flock of chickens owned and fed by Mrs. I. C. Blair made an excellent record during the month of January while the temperature was so low. The flock has thirty-one white leghorns and eleven Plymouth rocks in it. During the past month the birds produced 940 eggs, an average of better than 22 eggs per bird. The chickens have not been on the ground since the middle of December, they have had warm water to drink during the day, and a good laying mash and some cracked corn. Mrs. Blair buys all the feed and cares for the flock herself, the birds are fed regular and in fact they do not want for anything. Most people would say that one could not realize any profit from chickens and as she does, but a complete record is kept to determine just what the birds are doing. Here are the actual expenses and re-

Expenses	$8.30
Labor, 15 hrs. at 25c.	3.75
Total	$12.05
Eggs, 73 1-3 dozen, at 30c.	23.50
Profit	$23.50
	12.05
	$10.45

On the basis of forty-one birds which made the above record, 100 birds would have approached $25 profit during the past month. Some people will say that everyone could not do as well with chickens as Mrs. Blair has done, maybe that is true, but there are more people who could have done something with chickens who have done nothing. The flock described is just about the right size for the average farmer, he does not need 150 hens, 40 to 50 is a plenty during the winter months. One can care for that many and still realize a good profit from them while if he had a larger flock the profits be nothing. How can this be? In a large flock there will be so many birds that will not lay at all and they eat just the same as a layer. I recommend close culling and keep only those that produce and sell, those that board.

A LOT LOWER PRICED THAN MOST PEOPLE THINK!

3 OUT OF 10
A few people think a Pontiac costs an average of $100 more than they pay. They do in relation to lower-priced cars. They're not this mistaken. They're from investigating Pontiac. Don't buy any low-priced car until you compare its price with a Pontiac. The price difference will amaze you.

HERE'S WHY SO MANY TRIVE PONTIAC HIGHER PRICED THAN IT ACTUALLY IS!

BIG CAR DIMENSIONS AND APPEARANCE
Add a few dollars to the price of the lowest priced car and get a big Pontiac. 4 inches wider at front seat, 8 1/2 inches longer from bumper to bumper than last year!

THE "TRIPLE-CUSHIONED" RIDE
Do you get car weary on long trips? Get a Pontiac and relax. Pontiac's "Triple-Cushioned" ride is worth all the slight difference between Pontiac and lowest-priced cars.

EXQUISITE, WIDE-VISIONED INTERIORS
Ever wish your car were larger? Pay a few extra dollars and get a Pontiac. It's wider-centered, wider-shouldered with Full-Tear Safety Plate Glass in all sections.

THRILL PERFORMANCE
You only have to go to the first traffic light to sample the thrill performance in Pontiac's power-packed engine.

W. P. A. Projects To Continue Despite Weather Conditions

reduced, in greater during a season such as that ever," Colonel Harrington said. "We realize that, in the operation of out-door projects during severe weather, the efficiency of our program necessarily will be reduced. In northern and midwestern states our programs have always been geared so as to keep work going by placing our men on more sheltered work saved for just such conditions as these. In the South and the more southernly central states our programs are rapidly being adjusted to the same ends.

Colonel Harrington pointed out that WPA project employees work 120 hours a month, which allows a sufficient number of days in which to make up time lost on

Out of every dollar of railroad revenue, thirty-six cents goes to pay the cost of owning and maintaining the roads on which their trains operate.
