(By Woody Hinton)

Well, I had been hoping for spring but now I have given up all hopes and it does not really matter to me if it snows all summer. Every morning it seems when I look out the window its weathering. It will seem like spring Thursday night with THE WOMANLESS WEDDING! will be staged here in town. I can't wait to see "Bill" Lane dressed as Mae West and W. H. Rice as the bride. They look awfully funny dressed in their regular clothes. John Palmer and "Judge" Pettrey are regular lecturers. I'd advise everyone to see that dog-gone thing; its going to be a "belly-laughing" thing. Noah Kennard has invented another score board. That's about all I know other than try to collect my account. Dr. Clyde Garr over in Fleming can't sleep on or around pillows or with a blanket over his head. He is doing things down to a fine point, when a man's nose and head gets that sensitive. I saw a couple going to Easter service, the bride wearing "Thing" had a Corage of Gardemia on her shoulder and he had a pint of "Yellowstone on his hip." C. B. Lane, I hear, is planning to get out of town. I am sure all the boys will be dying to meet her. I have to laugh when I think of Judge. ($50.00) Burke who has holding court here in the absence of Judge White. He recalled a witness I understand, and said sternly: "My man, you may find yourself committed for perjury. You told the court that you just had one brother, but your sister has sworn she has two. (Now, which is the truth?) Another one of my brother Ed. (My New Deal Brother) said he to Wade Stewart: That fish I caught out at the lake was too small to bother with and I got a couple of men to bring it back in. Where he takes his throwing from, I don't know. He didn't used to be like that. He got drunk and found a bunch of keys and from the looks of them they might be very valuable to someone. For a coker he will deliver them to the owner. Jess Boggs has got a hole out and it blew a hole smack through his fender. I ain't a saying where he got the tire. Willie McBrayer the local deputy sheriff went to Chippee Waw Falls, Wis. to get "Bill" Sample's car that had been stolen and when he brought it back "Bill" would not have it. It kindly asked "Willie" to take it.

John Fouch; a good man, a good citizen, we will miss you.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

—By David M. Forter—

The 1940 General Assembly is under way and it is anticipated there will be no lawmaking for another two years.

The results of this Legislative Session are an exciting beginning of the four years of this Administration as Governor Johnson stated at the Kentucky Press Association meeting. He said, "I will not make you a spectacular Governor but I will try to make you a good one." The first session of his Legislature bears this out.

There were no spending bills passed and the whole Assembly seemed to want to refrain from any expenditures that were not absolutely necessary. We believe that with the upturn of business Kentucky may be out of debt at the end of this Administration.

Action of the 1940 General Assembly. Vote to submit two Constitutional Amendments to be voted on at the next election.

The voting machine Amendment providing that counties using them must pay for them and another authorizing additional aid to schools in the poorer counties.

The most important bill passed was the said Conservation bill authorizing said conservation districts in Kentucky for the Federal program of flood control, reforestation and enrichment of worn out eroded lands. The dangerous mandatory features of this bill were amended and the bill will

City Is To Start Beautification Of Town Immediately

Sidewalks To Be Constructed With Federal Aid At Low Cost To Citizens

With the view of placing modern sidewalks on every street in the city limits of Morehead, including those sections recently incorporated, the Morehead City Council, meeting Tues. night with Bernard Whitt, NYA area supervisor and Postmaster W. E. Crutcher drew the final plans for a major project that is expected to last until next winter.

Letters are being mailed to all property owners today explaining the entire project. The letters contain an application blank for those residents desiring the sidewalks in front of their property.

Mayor C. B. Daugherty explained that the sidewalks project is the first major step of the present city council to beautify and improve the city. He urged that every property owner look into the matter thoroughly and set out that the low cost to the property owners should result in improved modern sidewalks on every street and cross street in the city.

Mr. Whitt stated that sufficient Federal funds could be obtained to cover the entire city of sidewalks. Thirty eight men will start work Monday morning laying walks on Railroad Street, which were damaged by the flood of last July 5. Alexander Seymour, has been named as the local supervisor, and will be in charge of all construction.

The city council last night adopted the following sequence of construction which will be followed:

- (1.) Railroad and Raines St. work being Monday, April 1st.
- (2.) Connecting streets from Railroad to Main.
- (3.) Water Street sidewalks on all the western part which was recently made a part of the city.

Funds Are Advanced To Farm Families

Collections of funds advanced to farm families farming under the Farm Security Administration, in region four, for the first eight months of the current fiscal year exceeded collections for the same months last year by $683,415 according to figures received here by John L. Zachary, County FSA Supervisor.

Between July 1, 1939 and February 29, 1940, FSA collections in the region totaled $3,290,419, as compared with $2,606,904 for a similar period last year. In Kentucky, $643,643 was collected in the eight-month period as compared with $479,694 for a similar period last year.

Mr. Zachary attributes the good collections largely to the planned economy program of the Farm Security Administration for all farmers who borrow from this federal agency. "The Farm Security Agency," said Mr. Zachary, "is helping small farmers to become self-supporting, by furnishing them credit to get in shape for more technical advice in sound farming practices."

"Farm families who borrow from FSA," he continued, "are assisted in planning their farm and home operations, keeping accurate records, and getting the best possible use out of the money they borrow."

A live-at-home program, conservation practices and following approved methods of seeding, feeding and production are some of the basic factors in the success of the farmers who are becoming rehabilitated. Although the repayment record established by thousands of farmers in North Carolina, Virginia, W. Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky is an important yard stick in measuring progress in rehabilitation, it is not the only index of progress according to FSA officials.

The increased net worth of these rural people, higher living standards and better health are of equal importance. Mr. William K. Rouse, Assistant County RR Supervisor, or myself will be at the Courthouse each Wednesday from 9:00 A. M., to 11:30 A. M., to receive applications for these loans.

Aid States' Children By Buying Seals

Pennies that heretofore were spent for candy, chewing gum, and other extra pennies now are being used to aid Kentucky's children. Ardent supporters of the Kentucky Committee for Crippled Children's campaign to raise $50,000 are the city, county, and parochial school children. They are touched by the plight of the physically handicapped child who cannot take part in their play.

Youngsters in the participating schools have received packets containing seals and a blue celluloid bangle shaped like an Easter bunny. Packets are distributed to all the children. They are permitted to wear the bangles whether they sell the seals or not, so no child whose family is financially unable to buy the seals need be embarrassed.

J. W. Brooker, State Superintendent endorsing the seal sale in the schools. He pointed out that funds are badly wanted because of the recent epidemic of infantile paralysis in the Big Sandy Valley which exhausted the emergency reserve fund of the Crippled Children's Commission.

"Asking school children to render this service will accomplish two purposes," wrote Mr. Brooker. "It will make the child conscious of his obligation to help others and it will no doubt add several thousand dollars to the total sum raised, and will materially increase the number of little cripples who may receive treatment during the year."

The commission which administers the funds will use money so placed in hospitals those on the mailing list, to conduct free clinics; and to buy braces and corrective appliances. A total of $310 clinic examinations were made within the last two years and a total of 2,537 cases were treated. C. O. Peratt, chairman of Rowan county, with headquarters at Morehead, predicted, "Our county

16,000 FARMERS' PAY APPLICATIONS REMAIN UNSIGNED

Approximately 16,000 Kentucky farmers who cooperated with the Agricultural Conservation program in 1939 have yet to sign their applications in county association offices in order to qualify for 1940 payments. It has been announced by the state office of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Lexington.

DON'T FLOW TOBACCO BEDS AFTER BURNING

Flowing or other deep stirring of tobacco beds after burning brings unburned weed seeds to the surface and thus destroys the benefits of burning, points out Prof. E. J. Kinney of the Kentucky College of Agriculture. Burning kills weed seeds in the top inch or two of the soil, and when the soil below that depth is brought to the surface unburned weed seed comes along. A light raking of the soil is all right, Prof. Kinney says, but deep stirring should be avoided.
