BANKS AND THE COMMUNITY The primary purpose of the banks is to serve the community, the state and the nation.

When, for instance, a bank loans a person money to build a new home, the whole town benefits. Property values are improved. New taxable assets are created.

And a similar thing happens when a bank loans to a local merchant, for the purpose of buying goods or improving his store, or expanding his business. The life of every community is vitally concerned with the buying and selling of goods and services.

conductor maker—and maintains the local standard of living. Few public services are so important as banking. And few institutions have done so fine a job in the public interest.

Employers of Commerce And Industry Employers in commerce or industry who have one or more employees are covered, unless specifically exempted by ordinance and survivors insurance and are subject to the tax which is imposed under this part of the Social Security Act.

This statement was made today by J. M. Chaney, manager of the Social Security Board field office in Ashland, Ky. Commenting on the situation which prevails in his service area, Mr. Chaney said:

"We advise any employer of one or more persons who has not paid his social security tax and made the one percent deduction from the wages of his workers to get in touch with the Collector of Internal Revenue for his district."

Commissioner's Sale

THE COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY, ROWAN CIRCUIT COURT. CITIZENS BANK Plaintiff Versus DR. H. L. NICKELL et al. Defendant

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Rowan Circuit Court rendered at the March Term thereof 1940, in the above cause, for the sum of Nine Hundred Fifty-Eight ($958.00) Dollars, with interest at the rate of 8 percent per annum from the 30th day of April 1936, until paid and its cost thereon I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House in the City of Morehead, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder at public auction on the 1st day of June 1940, at One O'clock P. M. or thereabout, upon a credit of Six (6) months, the following described property, to-wit:

"A certain tract or parcel of land, lying and being in the county of Rowan, State of Kentucky, containing (2) one and one-half acres and which is known as Rock Wall Hollow, consisting of about 40 acres of land, bounded as follows: By the north, John Day land, Peter Quensberry land, land formerly owned by Bill Collins, being the same land conveyed to the said Chaney by deed dated March 18, 1931, which deed is recorded in Deed Book No. 42, page 342, in the Rowan County records for deeds."

Also a certain tract or parcel of land, lying and being in Rowan County, Kentucky, and described as follows: Being all the Mery and Jay Crawford's home farm, beginning at a bridge at East end of farm, on face of plat, and with the wire fence to the public road; thence with the wire fence of J. W. Jones up to the cliff marking the top of face of cliff, and thence with members of cliff to the Bowman line on top of ridge to the beginning, containing 75 acres more or less. Being the same property conveyed to Dr. H. L. Nickell, by A. C. Caskey and his wife, Maggie Caskey by deed dated August 9, 1930, recorded in Deed Book No. 46 at page 421 Rowan County records for deeds."

On sufficient thereof to produce the sum of money so ordered to be made. For the purchase price, the purchaser must execute bond, with approved securities, bearing legal interest from the day of sale, until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Said bond will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

"Uncle" Wallace Is Familiar Figure Of Neighboring Community's Daily Life

A familiar sight along Main Street in Owingsville, is "Uncle" Wallace. He has snow-white hair and moustache. No one seems to know his exact age but it is the general opinion that he will never see ninety again. "Uncle" Wallace stands very straight even though he is not able to walk as fast as he once did. There are few homes in Owingsville that do not have a tiny pair of cedar slippers that he has carved and given some member of the family. He takes orders for his slippers just as though they were his chief support but he never charges a penny for them.

Whenever he goes he is beset by children because they know that he always has a penny to give them. The children sometimes gather on the walk in front of his store to let him pass until he pays a penny toll. When this happens his old eyes twinkle and a big smile comes to his tosaeco stained and white lips. He hunts in his pockets for pennies. "Uncle" Wallace as he is called by every man, woman, and child that knows him, says that for forty years he tried to drink whiskey as fast as the distilleries could well until the machine age came to the distilleries. When he saw that he was fighting a losing battle he gave up and has not drunk a drop since. He admits that all his drinking will probably cut his life short by ten years.

WILD LIFE OF KENTUCKY by Roger Barbour MOREHEAD STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

Frogs and Toads

The frogs and toads occurring in Eastern Kentucky are quite numerous and varied, and may well be divided into three groups; the toads, the tree toads, and the tree frogs. Those commonly occurring in Eastern Kentucky will be discussed under these three groupings.

The tree toads are the most numerous of all frogs and toads in Eastern Kentucky, but are the least known. Four kinds, the spring peeper, the chorus frog, the cricket frog, and the common tree toad occur here, and their numbers are legion. One seldom sees them except in the spring, when their myriad of voices make the marshes ring. The spring peeper and the chorus frog are the first ones to appear in spring, and are distinguished by the markings on their back. The spring peeper wears an X, while the chorus frog wears an H. The voice of the peeper is high-pitched whistle.

While the voice of the chorus frog is a more guttural "gwa-a-a-ck."

The common tree toad and the cricket frog appear later in the spring. The cricket frog is the smallest of our frogs, and is so named because of its cricket-like voice. The common tree toad is the largest of our tree toads, and is characterized by the comparatively large discs on the tips of its toes.

There are five kinds of true frogs to be found in Eastern Kentucky. These are the freighting frog, the southern leopard frog, the pickerel frog, and the wood frog. Of these five, the bullfrog is the largest, and, perhaps, the most important. It can readily be distinguished by the absence of a fold of skin down each side of the back. Our other four true frogs possess these folds, but in the green frog they do not reach the hip, whereas in the other three, the folds do extend to the hips. Of the three frogs which possess dorsolateral folds of skin reaching the hip, only one, the wood frog is unspotted. It does possess a black check patch, however. The southern leopard and the pickerel frog, our two spotted frogs, are quite similar, but are separated by the fact that the concealed surfaces of the hind legs of the pickerel frog are orange, while those of the leopard are green. Another of the differences is that the spots of the pickerel frog are oblong, while those of the southern leopard frog are rounded.

Tri-State Briefs . . .

Maysville—The Maysville City Commission Monday formally guaranteed the water, heat and light bills for a period of five years at a proposed armory which will house a merchandized National Guard unit here.

Neon—Jack Duncan, an employee of the Cotton State Shows was shot and killed in Neon Wednesday afternoon by Bill Thomas, another show employee.

Salversville—S. E. Hager, 77, well-known business man of Salversville, died Saturday morning at a Paintsville hospital of complications received in an injury from a fall he sustained a month ago.

Ashland—The Independent denied Tuesday that "Joe" Giovannelli had been arrested as an alien spy" as reported over this section. Giovannelli is the operator of a restaurant at Ashland and an airplane enthusiast.

Martin—Joe Fletcher, 65, was killed almost instantly on the streets of Inez Monday as he alighted from a truck.

Paintsville—More than 350 were present at country club banquet given Monday by the local W.P.A.

Russell—The Board of Education here may not hire teachers until June 17. Superintendent Kiddwell asserted yesterday.

Ashland—Boy Scouts of the Ashland district are to have a permanent camp of 80 acres with easy hiking distance of the heart of the city. This has been made possible through the generosity of the American Rolling Mill Company and the interest of its president, Charles R. Hook, in the Scout program. A letter from Mr. Hook was received by Donald H. Putnam, chairman of the Ashland Boy Scout council, announcing that a deed for the 80 acres of land will be presented from the company.

Grayson—R. M. Bagby, who recently returned from Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore, Md., after undergoing a serious surgical operation, has been seen on the streets of Grayson a few times of late. Mr. Bagby, though not receiving but a few visitors as yet, is making an amazingly speedy recovery and will within a short time be able to receive all of his many friends from over the county and state.

No trace has been found of the fugitive Thursday morning, although officers of both Magoffin and Breathitt counties searched homes of relatives and friends in the two counties Wednesday and Wednesday night.

A friend was making a call "Here, Johnny, is an apple. Divide it politely with your sister."

"How shall I divide it politely, sir?"

"Why, give the larger part to her."

Johnny thought a moment, then handed the apple to his little sister. "Here, sis, you divide it politely!"

Two men, both noted for their caution when it came to money, met in the street.

"Well, well," said one, "fancy running into you like this. I was just looking for someone to lend me $10."

"That so," replied the other. "Well, you've got a nice day for it."

Father (after visit to son at college): "Enjoyed my visit, son. Good-bye and write home often!" Son: "Thanks father, that's mighty generous of you!"

OBITUARY

Miss Ruby Jane Reeder was born August 28, 1913 at Upper Tygart, Carter County, and departed this life May 24, 1940, 11:40 P. M., at her parents' home, Haldeman. She was twenty-six years old at the time of her death. Those surviving her in death are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Reeder, three sisters, Hester, Hazel and Elizabeth, two brothers, Chester and Waldo. Ruby was a member of the Christian Church of Flat Fork, Carter County, and after moving to Haldeman she attended the Baptist Church. Her entire life has been one of true Christian faith exemplifying the beautiful life preparatory to entrance into that house, not made with hands, but eternal in the Heavens. And we who had witnessed our sincerity to Him, who sits as her Judge Supreme, earnestly and sincerely believe it will be her portion to hear from Him these welcome words: "Well done thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of the Lord."

LOUISVILLE MAKES VISIT HERE

There is no part of Kentucky with a more compelling lure for Louisville business men than the Blue Grass and Mountain areas of the eastern half of the state.

Here is one of the most beautiful scenic sections in America and one of the richest in natural resources.

So when the Louisville Board of Trade plans its annual Spring Outing it is always occasion for jubilation when it is announced as for the 1940 tour—"It's the Blue Grass and Mountains this year."

The Louisville party of 100 comes to see the growth and progress of twenty-six Eastern Kentucky cities, to talk over problems of good roads, transportation, reciprocal trade relations and similar subjects.

They will be mighty glad to meet business and professional men, civic leaders and the ladies and the children when their special train arrives in—gered by these new and treacherous methods of warfare. Our previously strong belief in the invulnerability of the West is shattered by these new methods of warfare. We are now being used up and including the World War French defense measures and strategy were based on such thinking, and they are suffering the consequences. One has also only to consider the effectiveness of the use of the "fifth column" in every country invaded, to visualize such possibilities in this half of the world.

That we have a tremendously vital stake in the outcome of this war, would scarcely be denied now by the most ardent isolationist. For, even if no direct attack were attempted, the thought of our attempting to live in harmony with a world of slavery and barbaric trade is dreadful to contemplate.

Yet, there remains this question upon which all of us are trying to get an adjustment. Would the extension of credit to the Allies be a decisive step toward our entry into the war in Europe? Obvious American citizens steadfastly oppose our fighting again on European soil. There are many who believe that such a step would lead irrevocably to this end, but the following seem to be valid reasons to the contrary:

1. This is a highly mechanized war. Britain and France do not need man power, but airplanes and machines, and need them now.

2. During the last war Japan was fighting with the Allies. With Japan threatening our interests in the Far East, we would scarcely risk keeping in the Atlantic, a sufficient fleet to successfully participate in the war.

3. We could not, if we were so disposed, give material military assistance before fall, and if the Allies can hold out that long with the aid of our economic assistance, the tide will very likely have turned in their favor.

4. Our people and our government are steeped in opposition to sending troops to Europe.

If the Johnson Act were repealed, there doubtless are thousands of people who would subscribe to an economic aid for Allied purchase of airplanes and materials in this country, and with little or no thought of reimbursement. Some of these things it would seem that the continued existence of the non-credit clause represents a selfishness and short-sightedness unworthy of our great democracy.

To Attend Convention. Reverend and Mrs. Arthur Landolt will attend the Annual State Convention of Christian Churches at Lexington, June 2-5. The convention is cooperating with the Seventy-Fifth Anniversary Celebration of the College of the Bible.

To Observe Children's Day. The Children of the Sunday School of the Christian Church will participate in a program arranged for observance of Children's Day next Sunday. The children will present a program of benediction during the church worship in the morning.

Young People Elect Officers. The Young Peoples Guild of the Christian Church elected officers for the coming year during its monthly dinner-meeting last Sunday evening. Those elected officers: Frances Ferrat, President; Athlene Lawson, Vice-President; Helen Crosley, Treasurer.

The program of the Guild at its meeting consisted of a stereopticon lecture about young people's summer camps. Plans are now under way for a group of Morehead youths to attend the summer camp of Northern and Eastern Kentucky at Camp Meacham, near California, Kentucky. The camps are under the direction of the State Secretary of Christian Churches.

Young People's Meeting. The following program will be given Sunday evening at 8:30 P. M., in the Church of God during the Young Peoples' Service: Song, Congregation, Prayer.

Jolly Ramey Talk: Opportunity of Youth-Dorothy Ellis. Jewel Horton Talk: The Purpose Of Education—Stella Crosthwaite Song Benediction.

A revival is in progress at the Yale Church house. This is the second week of the revival. Reverend Ramah Johnson is the evangelist and is well known by the entire county. You are invited to attend any or all of these services.

The trio from the Church of God, Grace Johnson, Irene Maxey and Susie Lewis broadcasted last week from the Ashland station. Their songs were: "What Is He Worth to Your Soul," "Drifting Too Far From the Shore," and "What They Doing in Heaven Today." Many from Morehead listened in and enjoyed their hymns.

THE OLD CHURCH YARD

O Come, come with me To the old church yard I will know the path Through the soft green award Friends slumber there We were wont to regard And we'll trace out their names In the old church yard.

Friends slumber there In sweet repose Released from the world's Sad bereavements and woes Deep in their sleep Their pillows may be In the old Church yard.

When they rest in hope Of their bright day When beauty shall spring From her prison of clay When the Angel's voice

And the trump of the Lord, Shall awaken the Saints, From the old church yard.

Were I at rest Beneath yon tree O, why should you weep, Dear friend, for me? I am weary and sad O, why then be narred? For I know I shall rise In the old Church yard.

Weep not for me I am ready to go Where no storms ever beat And no tears ever flow I dread not to enter For I know I shall rise From the old church yard. —For Memorial Service
