"ONE OF KENTUCKY'S GREATER WEEKLIES"

MOREHEAD, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JUNE 6, 1940

NUMBER 21

VOLUME VII.

Crackerbarrel Comments

The old town is coming into its own again. I can't wait for the fourth of July. The American Legion combined with The Business Men's Club are going to put forth every effort to make this one of the biggest days that Morehead has ever known since the day after the flood. Parades, contests, floats, fireworks, and the funniest thing will be a big game. American Legion vs. Business Men. It's worth waiting for. LOCAL NEWS: The Harry Goldberg's are planning for a little bunch of Heaven in September. Time sure doth march on. It seems only yesterday that Harry and I were going to see those two blades in Lexington. I can't realize he is going to be a father. Dr. Marsh shaves in his underwear and he wears the sweaters. He's a "burr" Procter is one of the grandest sports in town, and has one of the contrastiest brothers I know. (Continued on Page 4.)

Morehead Merchants Obtain One Of Largest Carnivals For 4th

Prizes To Be Awarded For Floats In Gigantic Display Set For This July 4th

The Morehead Merchants Club this year obtained by special request one of the largest carnivals ever to play at Morehead for the July Fourth Celebration in the Scott Brothers Shows. They are carrying six of the newest model riding devices and twelve meritorious shows including Minstrel performance with thirty-five (35) people with a band and orchestra. There has been arranged by request the return to Morehead of the largest reptile in captivity. The Advertiser Shows challenge all comers with a staff of good wrestlers and boxers. This means that more money will go into prizes, and a greater fair will be held. The Aquatic department is adding live stock to the fair this year with liberal prizes to be given. The prize lists will be published in the near future. Mr. Hagan was asked to secure for the fair wild-life display, either from the Fish and Game Commission or to complete a loan from Rowan County's own wild life.

Fair Organization Covers Community As Plans Progress

Pres. Woody Hinton Whips Group In Broadside

The Rowan County School and Agriculture Fair has taken on more complete and serious organization this year than ever before. President Woody Hinton has whipped his organization into a broadside that about covers the entire community and puts everybody to work. More and more the Fair becomes everybody's affair and that it is as should be. At a meeting last Friday afternoon several of the committee reported work already done in their departments. The following list shows the departments and their heads: School, Roy Cornette; Agriculture, Charles L. Goff; Home, Mrs. C. E. Bishop; Athletics, Roy Holbrook and Fred Caudill; Finance, Cur Bruce; Publicity, B. H. Kazee; Registration, Charles E. Jennings; Program, J. O. Everhardt; and Mrs. A. E. Landolt, Agriculture, S. J. ## Burley Growers Study All Problems

Prospects Nore Two Good For Present Tobacco Season

All burley tobacco growers will recall their reactions to the situation that developed on the burley market during the pre-holiday two weeks time and the lowest average for years was paid, $18.33 per hundred pounds. Every producer realized that something is afoot to remedy the trouble, and general regret was expressed that the producers had no organization to take care of the present problems, then so apparent. In the midst of the confusion, disappointment and discouragement following those opening sales, a group of growers from several adjacent counties was called to meet at the Court House, Williamson, Kentucky, by the officers of the Grant County Farm Bureau, A. Threlkeld, President. (Continued on Page 4.)

To Sell Fifty Lots, Farms At Clearfield

The Rowland Auction Company, one of the largest auction companies in Kentucky, located at 215 West Third Street, is selling fifty lots of building and several baby farms at Clearfield as agents for J. B. Maxey. The auction will be held on Saturday, June 15, "rain or shine." The property to be sold is near the Lee-Cay Products Company, the same company which will sell fifty lots at Salyersville, Missouri, June 10, to help dispose of house, store, forty-five lots and nineteen acres of land.

Dr. Ellington May Build Soon

L. C. "COTTON" FIELDER

L. C. "COTTON" Fielder, democratic candidate for Congress opposing Joe E. Bates, incumbent, will formally open his campaign for that office Saturday, June 8, in front of the local courthouse. Fielder's friends are pleased to note that he has effectively put into service a beautiful, white sound truck and that he is making an aggressive fight for the nomination. It is hoped that his friends will have a large delegation at Morehead from each County in the District.

Allen Young, Jr. Given Suspended Sentence Monday

Allen Young, Jr., son of the late Senator Young, was given a suspended sentence when he pled guilty Monday to a charge of embezzling $106.00 of federal money while holding a social security job in Louisville. The money was repaid, it was brought out, by Mrs. Allen Young. Young's case was tried before United States Federal Judge, Guy Shackelford.

Ninety-one Teachers Hired By Board Of Education In Monday Evening Action

Independent In New Office

It is with a reasonable degree of pride that we announce that we are now in our new home on Clinton and Dean Streets. Our machinery was moved from its temporary location in the Caskey Building. A few "house calls" must be attended to before we hold an "open house" but we invite your attention to our new location. It is the Independent's desire to better serve its readers and friends at all times.

Morehead College To Open Summer Session Monday

Smaller Enrollment Due To Eight Weeks Session Expected

Summer school will open at Morehead State Teachers College Monday, June 10, with a smaller enrollment than usual accompanied by the regular two five-week sessions as in the past. Eastern State Teachers College, Murray and Western are also inaugurating the eight weeks' session this summer. The University of Kentucky, however, will continue its regular split sessions. A large group, it is thought, of the University to get work which they will be unable to procure at the teachers colleges this summer. However, the eight weeks' session is not without study over a longer period of time, the student may learn more. He will also have a longer vacation period before assuming his September duties. A minimum of nine hours may be had during the eight weeks' term. College authorities stated.

Louisville Group To Arrive At Nine A. M. Today

On "Good-Will" Tour Over Eastern Section Of Kentucky

The Louisville Board of Trade sponsored special "Good-Will" train will pull into Morehead this morning at nine o'clock. The party of Louisville business men will include bankers, newsmen, transportation officials, and executives. The group is accompanied by a twenty-piece band. The trip is sponsored by the Louisville Board of Trade. The president of that organization, Edward J. O'Brien, Jr., will be official head of the party. William A. Stoll, a vice-president of the board of directors of the board of Louisville, will accompany the group. Upon arrival here, the party will place itself in the hands of the local reception committee. Headed by that committee, it will march to a meeting place designated by local officials where there may be brief exchange of greetings. After that, if there is sufficient time, it is announced by Tour Director Stoll, the Louisville visitors would welcome the opportunity to see the evidences of growth and progress and points of scenic or historical interest nearby. "We regret, says Mr. Stoll, that our limited time makes it impossible for us to accept dinner and luncheon invitations. We are making from five to eight stops daily and to conserve time, where our meals will be served between visits. "We have chosen to visit the Blue Grass and Mountain sections of Eastern Kentucky this year because we regard these areas as two of the business bright spots of the Ohio river at the present time. Aside from that, because of their beauty and charm." (Continued on Page 3.)

Neighboring City Of Mt. Sterling Shows Increase

According to figures released yesterday by David C. Garnett, district census supervisor, the population of Mt. Sterling is now 4,775, an increase of 425 since 1930. This increase of about ten percent indicates the growing prosperity of Mt. Sterling. The population of this organization, Edward J. O'Brien, Jr., will be official head of the party. William A. Stoll, a vice-president of the board of directors of the board of Louisville, will accompany the group. Upon arrival here, the party will place itself in the hands of the local reception committee. Headed by that committee, it will march to a meeting place designated by local officials where there may be brief exchange of greetings. After that, if there is sufficient time, it is announced by Tour Director Stoll, the Louisville visitors would welcome the opportunity to see the evidences of growth and progress and points of scenic or historical interest nearby. ## NATION EMBARKING ON UNPRECEDENTED ARMAMENT PROGRAM

The nation is embarking on a defense program unprecedented in its peace-time history. But, as the commentators are pointing out, there's more to national defense than simply appropriating money to buy ships and tanks and soldiers. No matter how great a nation's resources, an adequate defense structure cannot be created overnight. And when a nation has long been accustomed to the ways of peace, it is an extremely difficult thing to adapt to the way of war. The defense program involves many questions, some as yet unanswered. First and by far the most important question is simply this: What are we going to defend? A military establishment sufficient to guard our territorial borders is one thing; a military establishment adequate to guard the Philippines, northern South America, Greenland, the British West Indies and other far flung places, is obviously another. That question cannot be fully answered until it becomes completely clear what is going to be the winner in the European war. If the Allies win, we will have little to fear. If a strong movement to revise present laws governing the number of hours a man can work. It takes skilled and willing hands to make the many things a modern army must have, and many believe that we have none too many of them. Most of the unemployed are in the arms production? Certainly one notable machine tool work, there is a definite shortage of good men. How can industry be geared to the production of arms? Certainly our factories are not ready for that—they have been built to make the instruments of peace, not the weapons of destruction. Tremendous readjustment in methods will be necessary. There must be flawless coordination in production, transport and assembly. Industrial leaders are working over time now to bring this about, but it cannot be done in a hurry. Finally, the commentators say, there must be better coordination in government. We can no longer afford to have overlapping bureaus, and each responsible for its own and jealousy between officials.

There can be no unnecessary waste of time and resources. One thing seems certain—the course of the Federal government, no matter who is elected president, will be completed in the 13th district and most all of them show an advance over their 1930 figures. Owensville with a population of 950 shows a slightly higher figure than the last census figure of 933. Other towns in this district where the count has been completed, and their population are: Frenchburg, 289; Stanton, 2,097; Clay City, 637; Stanton, 647; Grayson, 1,171; Olive Hill, 1,491; and Sandy Hook, 184.

New Taxes To Pay For Arms

The fiscal committee of Congress have prepared a plan to finance the war costs which Adolf Hitler has forced upon the United States, such as this nation loves peace and hopes to keep aloof from the totalitarian wars.

The plan calls for a super-tax on all corporation and income taxes, plus an increase of $2,000,000, 000 in the nation's debt limit. In addition, there will be increases in gasoline, liquor and other levies to enable the government to partly "pay as it goes" during the next five years to cover the cost of meeting the Hitler menace.

No broadening of the tax base was proposed, so that the burden will be added to that already carried by present taxpayers. These individual income and corporation taxpayers may well be justified in asking for revision of restrictive laws which increase their burdens at the sources from which they derive the very incomes to pay the taxes.

Demands have already been heard for abolition of the Wagner Act and for revision downward of social security and unemployment insurance taxes. In Congress a demand has been made by Senator Byrd for a more equitable distribution of the burden of military preparedness. One plan he proposes would make a flat ten percent cut in all government salaries.

Certainly injustices must be remedied in the national economy of present wage scales are to be maintained. Capital and labor must cooperate. There can be no survival of the American standard if one side refuses to aid the other in a demand mutual acceptance of the division of the load.

The impact of taxation should be felt everywhere, in its just distribution, and a clear understanding of this fact must be the basis of any successful consummation of the series of grave crisis which at present face the nation.

Kentucky Stands By Her Tradition
No echoes were awakened by The Courier-Journal's Burkeville critic who advocates the poll tax qualification for voting in Kentucky. A week's silence confirms our faith that Kentuckians remain true to the traditions which made Kentucky great and gave her leadership when the new frontier was breaking down privileges.

All the progress of American democracy the last 148 years can be traced to the forces released when those two states, Vermont and Kentucky, introduced manhood suffrage. Prof is furnished by the most striking phenom-on of modern politics. That is the opposition to social reform, in states where the need is greatest but minority rule exists by reason of the poll tax qualification.

Democratic partisanship may be traditional in them, but let us not forget that democratic principles are traditional in Kentucky. Since Burkeville's admirer of restricted suffrage pitched his argument on a material basis, we may use it to examine the relative advantages of traditional partisanship and principles to a rural county like Cumberland.

He refers to the exemption of 625 of Cumberland's 3,000 voters from the $1.50 poll tax for schools.
Leave him to ponder the question whether they would have paid it as a qualification for voting.

Only about that proportion of 3, 000 voting population pays the poll tax in states which require it. So their schools are not enriched from that source.

The taxes of these 625, if applied to salaries, would have been but a slight addition to the annual incomes of 50 rural school teachers. Cumberland stands 110th among Kentucky counties in the ratio of taxable wealth to school-age population. Its teachers receive more pay from the state than county taxpayers. Cumberland will be a beneficiary of the equalization amendment at the expense of taxpayers elsewhere.

A writer disclosed that Grover Whalen wants to be President, but not this next time, surely. With the way things are now the country needs a chief executive who is a machine gun in his belt, instead of one with a carnation in his lapel and whose chief claim to public notice is that he is regularly selected as one of the Ten Best Dressed Men.

Since people living in Honolulu are called Honoluluans, surely there ought to be a song entitled "My Honey Honoluluan."

In 1939, railroads operating 40.7 percent of the total mileage of Class One railroads failed to earn their fixed charges, compared with 4.2 percent in 1929.

Nebraska Tragedy Recalls

WILD LIFE OF KENTUCKY
by Roger Barbour
MOREHEAD STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

Conservation
I feel that I have been cheated out of something that was my rightful heritage. I would like to see in Kentucky, such animals as deer, wild turkeys, passenger pigeons, and a host of other animals once common. The time may come when I can see deer and turkey common in Kentucky, but that time is far away. I will never see a passenger pigeon. No man alive will ever see one. They are no more. In the memory of many men now living, they were once so numerous as to darken the sun for days at a time. They were slaughtered by countless millions, and no one believed they could ever be exterminated. Yet, the last one died in the Cincinnati Zoological Garden in 1914. My children, any my children's children will never see a passenger pigeon. In that respect, they will have been cheated out of a part of their rightful heritage. Why?
It is simply because my country failed to apply even the elementary rules of conservation. I consider myself a conservationist.
In the same breath, I can say I am a sportsman also. I love to hunt and fish. There is no contradiction in these statements.
Conservation is merely wise use.
If we, as the men and women of today do not begin to use wisely our wildlife, then our children, the men and women of tomorrow, will be cheated out of a greater part of their rightful heritage. Dogwood, red bird, arbutus, bluebells, bullfrogs, ruffed grouse, raccoon, any number of other plants and animals are being ruthlessly destroyed. We may say we can't destroy them all.

Who, a hundred years ago, would have said the passenger pigeon, the heath hen, the Carolinian parakeet, and the Labrador duck would have been completely wiped off the face of the earth today? Who then would have said the countless thousands of bison, elk, caribou, and moose in the United States would be practically gone today? There are none so blind as those who will not see.
Why don't we, as individuals, see the facts before us, and begin to conserve and develop our wildlife, instead of trampling it under our feet?

"Fill 'er up, Joe"
We're Going On a Picnic!
 ONE day last summer it dawned on me just what this electric business really means to people.
 "Walkin' home early Sunday mornin' after bein' on the night shift, I saw Joe Baker openin' his gas station, so I stopped to talk a minute. While I'm standin' there, Clyde Davis drove up with his wife and the kids. That bus of theirs was full of lunch baskets and fishin' tackle and so on. 'Fill 'er up, Joe,' says Clyde. 'We're goin' on a picnic!'
 "I got to thinkin' what a lot of livin' Clyde and his family were goin' to get out of that tank of gas. Why, every drop meant just that much more pleasure. Then I realized my business was a lot like Joe's!
 "Because, I thought, when Clyde and his folks get home tonight they'll turn on the radio and listen to those swell Sunday night programs. Tomorrow mornin' Clyde's wife will press a lever and make the toast; later on she'll plug into a socket and do a family wash quick and easy. Every day, Clyde's folks get a million dollars' worth of comfort, entertainment and downright good livin' from the electric service my company sells.
 "Now if Clyde didn't own a washin' machine, for instance, his electric bill would be lower than it is. But he wants to save his wife all that work of scrubbin', so they use the machine. But they're apt to forget, when the bill comes in, how much time and work they saved and how much fun they got with the electric service they're buyin'!
 "If I knew a way to remind people what they get out of electric service. They just don't think about it, somehow, because in the first place they can't see it and in the second place it's so much a part of their lives they just take it for granted. But I'd like to show them that when they flip a light switch or turn a knob on the radio, they're buyin' somethin' that gives 'em pleasure and satisfaction, just like a tank of gas or a new hat.
 "If they thought about it that way, they'd realize it's the biggest dollar's worth of livin' they buy, and that it costs less all the time."

Kentucky Plays Important Part in Dairy Industry

States Annual Production is Valued At Over $17,000,000

NEW YORK, June 6.—Kentucky is playing an important role in June Dairy Month, as the state's annual milk production is valued at more than $17,000,000.

"On January 1, there were 540,000 milk cows reported in Kentucky valued at $24,300,000," says the Milk Industry Foundation in a statement urging nation-wide support for the Dairy Month campaign. "Production in 1939 equalled $77,000,000 quarts.

"Kentucky is an important state to the dairy industry," the Foundation declared, "and this June program will benefit consumers by emphasizing the food value of milk and dairy products, and enable producers and distributors to promote increased demand for excess farm milk production.

"In addition to fluid milk which brings the farmer his highest price, Kentucky in 1938 produced 23,814,000 pounds of butter, 7,900,000 gallons of cheese, 1,776,000 pounds of ice cream, 62,006,000 pounds of canned milk.

"In 1938 milk was the third largest single source of farm cash income in the state topped only by tobacco and cattle. Milk was 32 percent larger than cash farm income from hogs, two percent larger than the combined income from lamb, chickens and eggs, two and one-half times grain, more than three times vegetables, fruits and nuts.

"Estimates for the nation as a whole show that milk production on farms this June will reach a new all-time peak. Last June farm milk production in the U. S. totaled 5,322,000,000 quarts of milk."

Claims paid by the railroads of the United States and Canada as a result of logs and damage to freight shipments in 1938 totaled $18,853,330, a reduction of 17.2 percent compared with 1937.

Burley Growers Discuss Problems

(Continued from Page 1) sent from eight counties, after thoughtful discussion, adopted the following resolution: "We wish to go on record as favoring immediate organization of a Burley tobacco growers' cooperative association, to be set up with the cooperation of the United States Department of Agriculture, a complete plan for collection, production, grading and cooperative sale of burley tobacco, and to operate under said plan for the benefit of burley tobacco growers in the present burley region, said association to be properly incorporated."

Other meetings followed at Wilhamston, Georgetown and Lexington. At Lexington on March 16th the plan of organization and agreement was presented to about the draft of the new marketing five hundred growers from forty temporary organizations was encouraged to continue its work.

The incorporating Directors proceeded to complete the set-up of the new association. Incorporation papers were filed in Frankfort, and in Lexington where the ultimate headquarters will be located.

The present directors are from fourteen counties in Kentucky, representing eight of the old burley districts 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 14.

The officers, who will hold office until their successors are chosen on the third Monday in September, 1940 or until a permanent board is elected and qualified, are:

W. T. Forsee, Owenton, Kentucky, President. J. P. Fisher, Lexington, Kentucky, Vice-President. Ed Pruett, Winchester, Kentucky, Vice-President. F. L. Duffy, Cybiana, Kentucky, Secretary and Treasurer. On April 24th, W. J. Clarke, Sparta, Kentucky, was drafted as Promotional Director with temporary offices in Owenton, Kentucky.

The work of organizing the burley growers into a cooperative Association is being pushed along and it is hoped that by November, 1940 the Association will be ready to set up for business. If interested, write W. J. Clarke, Owenton, Kentucky for further information and watch your County and City papers for additional news.

June Dairy Month in Kentucky

No other single kind of food has as much weight in good nutrition as milk and its products, and research is constantly adding new information. The average human diet is deficient in calcium unless milk is included. Children show better bone formation and larger nitrogen and acid-base mineral retention as the amount of milk in their diet increases. For example, the United States consumes forty-five million bottles of fresh milk daily. Chairman Duncan says, "but that's only a part of our three and one-half billion dollar dairy industry." America also uses 17.7 pounds of butter, 5.72 pounds of cheese and 8.84 quarts of ice cream yearly per capita. Last year, America ranked 4th in consumption of cheese, but first in the eating of ice cream.

Morehead Merchants Plan July 4th

(Continued from Page 1.) comprising the same Physical Gymnastics at 110 feet midair that the contritionists master on the ground. This attraction alone is well worth our inhabitants coming far miles to behold. Then there are all kinds of good clean concessions for the young folks including the sale of candy and drinks. The arrangements are now being made to have a public wedding by two of our local people and if so a Free Banquet will be given to all. Please place your applications with the newspapers the Merchants Club in the Capital advance agents. All in all there is no reason that this should not be the largest celebration ever held in this part of the State and we are hoping that all will get to attend.

According to Bill Layne, president of the Club, prizes will be awarded for the best fire in the parade to be held that day. Fireworks in the evening will climax the day.
