

Morehead Asks For Federal Court District

City Ideally Located For New Court District
Cities Seeking Site

Morehead entered the fight this week as the spot for the location of the proposed new Federal Court district in Eastern Kentucky. Although plans for Morehead's battle to secure this Federal court have not been fully mapped out, it is nevertheless a certainty that this city will make a fight for the court if the new district is created.

It has been pointed out that Morehead is the only logical location for the new court. Morehead is almost exactly in the center of the district to be served—has better transportation facilities than any other city in the area—is connected with every section of the district by good roads—and can provide adequate facilities.

M. Sterling and Mayville are both in the fight for the location of the court. However, Mr. Sterling is in the western end of the district and Mayville is in the extreme northern part. Mr. Sterling is only 35 miles from Lexington which has a Federal court, while Mayville is 100 miles from Lexington. It has been pointed out that if a court were located at Morehead, it would provide no further convenience for the majority of the people to be served than the present Federal districts do which are located at Catebsburg, Lexington and Jackson.

Another point which Morehead will advance for the location of the court here is that a new story to house the courtroom and offices could be built on the site of the old building at a maximum expense to the government. The Morehead position is that the two year old building was constructed so that another story could be added. Heating and other facilities in the building are planned to care for all the present space.

Basketball Clock Built By Kennard Gains Recognition

Chicago Newspaper Says Timepiece Ideal For Players, Coaches And Fans

The basketball clock which N. B. Kennard constructed and placed in the gymnasium of the Morehead State Teachers College is attracting national attention. Pointing out the numerous disputes that occur in basketball games and the time-consuming nature of the clock, the Chicago Herald-Examiner last week referred to the Morehead clock as the solution of the problem.

"The Morehead College clock, illuminated and easily visible from all parts of the gymnasium, is an entirely accurate and portable timepiece for the players and coaches and ideal from the spectators' viewpoint," the Chicago newspaper stated. "It is used as the official timepiece, doing away with time checkers and allowing everybody to see to the second how much time remains to be played."

Mr. Kennard states that he has had numerous inquiries about the clock and would have a large number of sales for it if he decides to manufacture them. Mr. Kennard also constructed the unique and highly adaptable seats for the gymnasium and the electric clock at Jayne Memorial Stadium.

Morehead People In West Virginia Train Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Hall of Morehead were passengers on the George Washington, crack main line flyer of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company when it wrecked last week near Charleston. Neither Mr. or Mrs. Hall or their children were injured. Mr. Hall was taking his family to Washington. The father secured a position in the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Duley Installs Officers Of Flemingsburg Lodge

Grand Master C. P. Duley installed the new officers of the Flemingsburg Lodge 112 F. & A. M. at colorful exercises there last Tuesday evening. The Flemingsburg lodge is 98 years old but not a year has passed since the lodge was first started. The officers were: Mr. Duley is a native of Fleming County, his father, Hiram Duley, operating for many years the Flemingsburg Times-Democrat.

Rowan County Jail Will Be Opened Within Week

Quarters Provide 6-Room Residence For Jailers
Prison Completely Modern

The Rowan County jail, which is now almost completed, will be opened this week. A few prisoners have been kept in the jail during the last few days of the construction. The building, including the six room residence for the jailer is not complete.

According to Judge I. E. Peffer it was necessary for the county to spend approximately $200 toward the completion of the structure. Modern in every detail and almost exact proof of the Rowan County jail represents an expenditure of more than $75,000. The jailer's residence connects with the jail.

During the construction of the jail prisoners have been kept at the Owsingsville jail.

Barkley Re-Elected As Majority Floor Leader In Senate

Kentuckian Gets Place Without Opposition; Other Leaders Are Selected

Senate Democrats unanimously re-elected Senator Barkley (D-Kv.) as majority leader at a harmonious meeting in the capitol here today.

Their Caucus lasted only 20 minutes. There were general expressions of friendship and good will among senators who have differed widely on legislative issues in the past.

Barkley was re-elected on the motion of Senator Pittman (D-Nev.) Senator Harrison (D-Miss.) served as temporary chairman of the caucus. It was announced that Barkley defeated for the leadership by a single vote last year.

The caucus unanimously re-elected Senator Lewis (D-Ill.) party whip and Senator Minton (D-Ind.) assistant whip. Senator Lee (D-Okl.) was designated secretary of the Democratic conference, a post which has been vacant since Hugo Black resigned from the Senate to become an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Two Morehead Players Out Of Union Skirmish

James Ishmail Is Ill; Jones Tallent Suffers Sprained Ankle This Week

Morehead's basketball team of the Christmas holidays as Coach Ellis Johnson sought to win in shape a game on the poor December showing. The Morehead men told today that he is far from satisfied with the manner in which the team has played.

Johnson did admit, however, that the Eagles look better now than they did in the five games they have played. This improvement is not in passing or ability to handle the ball but rather in hitting the basket. They seem to be a little more aggressive on the rebound, but we have a long way to go before we can have a polished ball club," is the way that Johnson sizes up the Eagles.

Morehead's chances for victory over Union in a K. I. A. C. battle here Saturday were dampened some with the announcement that James Ishmail has a severe case of influenza while Tallent has a sprained ankle.

Johnson is liable to start anybody at guards against Union. Before the season opened the Morehead coach believed he was better fortified on the guard position than any place else but he now thinks that these are the spots that has been mostly responsible in halting the development of a smooth-working ball club.

Jack Kirk of Inez and Charlie Johnson of Paducah seem to have shown enough to warrant forward berths unless Harry Walker, Newport, who has also been named by the State Advisory Committee on the NYA by Miss Thelma McKelvey, Secretary of the National Advisory Council. Mr. Haney is a graduate of the Morehead State Teachers College and Superintendent of Morgan County Schools.

Haldeman Settlement Postponed

Technicality Prevents Payment To Men; Final Appeal Expected Soon

Many residents of the News have been wondering the reason for the delay in the settlement at Haldeman and in order to set various and sundry rumors at rest, the News has investigated the reason for this delay.

At the time the tentative agreement was reached and the men put back to work, it was thought there would be no difficulty in getting the entire problem ironed out and the back pay in the amount of $22,500 in the hands of the men, at the very latest before Christmas. With this in mind, the company and union representatives drew up the final agreement and allowed the completion of the settlement. Both the union representatives and the company signed the agreement, which was then sent to the National Labor Relations Board headquarters for final approval, which would have been the final step in the agreement.

However, just when both the company and the men thought that everything was finished satisfactorily, the National Labor Relations Board wired their refusal to approve the agreement, owing to the wording of one of the articles in the agreement.

The refusal of the National Labor Relations Board to approve the agreement has held up the final settlement and payment of the men.

It is unfortunate that this should have occurred, but neither the union nor the company were at fault in the matter, as both were entirely satisfied with the form of the agreement and were waiting to deliver such as to be capable of being misunderstood, according to the National Labor Relations Board, and ready to wait to deliver the check as soon as they receive the word to go ahead.

This article is written solely in explanation of the delay in making the final settlement.

Perry Garage To Occupy Nickell Building On Main

Company Will Retain Former Stand Also; Move Ahead Made

A deal was recently completed whereby the building formerly occupied by the Midland Truck Garage has been leased by Ray and Russell Perry and will be used as an automobile repair service shop and the Perry Radio Service. The new stand will be known as the Perry Garage and Radio Service, and is under the management of Russell Perry.

The wholesale parts business under the name of Carr-Perry, will continue to operate in their old location, under the direct management of Ray Perry.

100,000 Registered By S. Security Board

More than 100,000 workers in the area served by the Ashland field office of the Social Security Board are entitled to join today in celebrating the second anniversary of the establishment of the Federal old age insurance system.

This statement was made by James A. Chaney, manager of the Ashland field office, in summarizing progress made in this area and in the country as a whole since the social security program went into effect on January 1, 1937.

"In the nation as a whole," said Mr. Chaney, "more than 42,000,000 workers have applied for old age insurance accounts. Our own office, since it was opened on January 15, 1937, has issued more than 100,000 social security numbers to residents of the counties which we serve. In addition, it is estimated that more than 40,000 social security numbers have been issued in these 18 counties before we can type numbers in our office."

Christmas Business At Morehead Post Office Hits New High

Extra Services Are Provided For Patrons; Stamp Sales Above $1,000

The Morehead Postoffice recorded its heaviest holiday business during the ten weeks preceding Christmas, according to Matye M. Burns, postmaster. The sale of stamps for the holiday period ran over $1,000 for an all-time high.

Patrons of the Morehead office also enjoyed better service than at any time in the past. A truck delivery service was maintained the last three days of the rush. The office was kept open until 7:30 the evening of Christmas eve so that patrons might secure parcels and mail that arrived on late trains. It was not necessary to keep the windows open; this was done by the postmaster and employees who doled the extra time.

Rural Teachers Meeting

There will be a meeting of all rural teachers at the Morehead High School Gymnasium Friday, January 13th. The meeting will begin at 10:00 o'clock a. m. At this time the County Training Bee will be conducted. It is expected that the champion speller of Rowan County to represent this county in the State Training Bee will be one of the teachers.

W. P. A. Asks More Money For County Certifying Agent

Fiscal Court Deemed Not Sufficient

The appropriation made by the Rowan County Fiscal Court to pay a certifying agent for two months has been rejected by the district Works Progress Administration of fees at Paintsville, County Judge I. E. Peffer said today.

The WPA stated in a communication to the County Judge that it would be necessary to provide for the certifying agent for a longer period of time.

Members of the Fiscal Court, interviewed on the matter, stated they would be willing to provide the money for a longer period but their hands are tied through a Federal court order holding all moneys of the county following a judgement of creditors on debts made before the present administration took office.

Turner Charged With Murder Of Eddie Baldrige

Three Men Hit By Bullets In Affray At County Roadhouse

John Turner of Morehead was formally charged in county court yesterday with the murder New Years of Eddie Baldrige, 46, at a roadhouse near Morehead on U. S. highway 60. Officers said they believed the shooting was the result of an old grudge.

Baldrige was hit four times, once in the hand and three times in the chest. He lived only a few minutes. Oda Kepley, 40, a bystander, a bystander in the crowded roadhouse was hit in the leg while Turner suffered wounds to the hand and shoulder. Neither Kepley nor Turner were seriously injured.

Turner was arrested by deputy sheriff Willis Bailey, operator of the roadhouse. He was not formally charged with the murder until this week.

Funeral services for Baldrige were held Monday at the Church of God, Clearfield. The rites were conducted by the Rev. L. W. and the arrangements handled by the Lane Funeral Home.

Baldrige, who had been a resident of this county all his life, lived at Clearfield and was formerly employed at the Lee-City Products Company. He was a veteran of the World War and the rites at the Baldrige Family cemetery where he was buried were conducted by the Corlie Ellington American Legion Post of Morehead. A volley of shots were fired across the grave.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Caudill Sell Store; Move To Florida

Had Been In Business At Same Location For Last Sixteen Years

Morehead and Rowan County loses two of its pioneer citizens this week as Mr. and Mrs. Joe Caudill will move to Kelsey City, Fla., to join their son, D. D. Caudill who is Principal of the High School there.

Mr. Caudill has sold his store, residence and other property on East Main Street to Herman Cooper. Mr. Cooper has already assumed charge of the store. Mr. Caudill also has operated his store at Clearfield and Haldeman.

Mr. Caudill says he hopes to return to Morehead as frequently as possible.

Information Given On Unemployment Compensation Tax

Law On Employees Receiving Over $3,000 Annually Clarified

Individuals employed in the industry coming within the provisions of the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Insurance Law and earning $3,000 or more per year are required to pay such contribution tax required by law from employees. V. E. Barnes, chairman and executive director of the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission, declared today.

The tax, however, Director Barnes explained, is assessable only over the first $3,000 earned by such employees. Any amount earned in excess of this amount in wages or salary being exempt.

Some misunderstanding concerning the status of employees earning $3,000 a year or more under the law will be clarified by such employees. Law has arisen but the law is quite clear, Director Barnes said.

Let's Work Together

It becomes evident that a new Federal court district is to be created in this section of Kentucky. Morehead attorneys and business men have already launched preliminary steps toward securing the location of this court in Morehead.

Mr. Sterling and Mayville are making a hard fight to secure the court for their city. Morehead has no quarrel with either Mayville or Mr. Sterling for they have been very friendly neighbors. However, analyzing the location of such a court from a matter-of-fact standpoint, neither Mayville nor Mr. Sterling are entitled to it. Morehead is the only logical spot for its location.

If we were to draw a map of Kentucky he would place dots at Lexington, Clatsburg, Jackson and Covington as the location of Federal court districts. If a new court were to be located it becomes obvious at first glance that Morehead is the center of the district and has every advantage over any other city in the district for the location of such a court.

It is approximately 65 miles from Morehead to Catlettsburg, seventy-one miles to Lexington, ninety-five miles to Covington, and approximately eighty miles to Jackson. Morehead is the hub of the district and there is no more ideal spot for the location of a Federal Court.

Let us look at what disadvantages would be wrought to this section as a whole if the court should go to either Mt. Sterling or Mayville. Neither is centrally located, neither has as many roads leading into it from the section to be served as has Morehead. Neither has any better transportation facilities.

It is always the reason for locating a new court would be to avoid congestion and too heavy dockets in the districts now existing and at the same time operate the courts more economically by saving on mileage for witnesses, jurors, etc., offering a court closer to home which can serve the most people best.

A new postoffice building has just been completed at Morehead. The foundation of this building was laid so that another story could be added. This could be one at a maximum expense to the government, providing spacious quarters for the courtroom and offices. Wherever this location is located it would be necessary to either construct a new building or add to the postoffice building in that city. The government could, no doubt, build a second story to the Morehead postoffice as cheaply or cheaper than in any other city. The hearing postoffice and other facilities in the present postoffice building were designed to serve a second floor if need be.

Morehead is connected by good roads with every section of the district in addition to being better served by more bus lines than either Mt. Sterling or Mayville. From the eastern and western end of the district Morehead is connected by U. S. Highway 60. We are the hub of good roads leading from Elliott, Morgan and Menifee Counties on the south. The New Allie Young Highway connects us with Fleming, Mason and counties along the Ohio River which are north from here. There is no city in this section of Kentucky better connected with good roads with the district to be served than Morehead. All three of the cities attempting to get the court are served by the same railroad.

It is natural that Mt. Sterling and Mayville would attempt to secure the court for their cities. However, we fail to see where either city has a logical claim for it. From a standpoint of geographical location, transportation facilities, economy to the government and service to the most people Morehead is the only logical spot.

It is up to us to make a fight for this court which by all rights should be ours. Write your Congressman and your Senators about this. A mass meeting of business men and citizens is being planned. Do your bit by helping to make this fight for this Federal Court. It is planned to send a delegation to Washington which should be done by all means.

Unquestionably the majority of people that would be served by the new court would prefer Morehead because of its accessibility and convenience. They will help us fight it for us but the idea across to them.

Morehead is asking only for what should be ours. Let us all join the fight today. Do your part.

Trade At Home

A Morehead woman, shopping last week in Lexington, went to the market there and paid for her potatoes at 2 pounds for 15 cents. Upon returning to Morehead she found that she could purchase the same potatoes for five cents a pound.

This is a little thing in itself, but serves to call to mind, the contentions always advanced through these editorial columns—Trade At Home!

Fortunately, Morehead people are discovering that it is better to trade at home instead of sending our dollars to some other city. However, the fact remains that far too many of our dollars are going into foreign stores.

We believe that you will be able to find the same merchandise in Morehead stores that you secure elsewhere at about the same price. Do you know that if there is a demand for any particular coat, dress or any other item that Morehead merchants will provide it.

Your banker can tell you that a dollar in Morehead is a dollar that will eventually gain reach your pocket. A dollar spent elsewhere will likely never find its way back to Morehead.

Rowan County's Roadhouses

Recently there has been a wave of popular sentiment against roadhouses that abound in Rowan County. These roadhouses have been justified for in the majority of cases they are on the shady side of the law.

In another year another local option election can be called in Rowan County. Unless these roadhouses clean up it is almost a foregone conclusion that Rowan County will vote dry next time. The whiskey and beer dealers had better take warning—public sentiment will catch up with them unless a bad situation is remedied.

FARMERS SCHOOL NEWS

Every child in grades five and six had perfect attendance excluding Wilbert May, son of Mrs. Warren May of Bell County, and Brady Ross, son of L. B. Rose of Blue-stone, for the month of December. This is a record which the children in this room from the home district are very proud. The following pupils are on the honor roll for December: Audrey Evans, Miriam Johnson, Louise Alley, J. W. Ingram, and Richard Hatten.

The fifth and sixth grades regret to report that one of their best standing pupils and harmonica players has withdrawn—Richard Hatten has and has moved back to Lexington. We wish him all the best.

The Farmers P. T. A. will hold its next regular meeting Friday afternoon at 8:30. A large attendance is expected as a result of an attendance drive which will be started at this meeting. The organization will make a report on its winter "House Warming" which will be announced to the public at a later date.

The P. T. A. meeting one of the largest crowds in the history of this organization has had and enjoyed an excellent Christmas program presented by Mrs. Hall. They were also pleasantly surprised by the entry of Billy old Nick, the old man who saved his life by not attempting off the gages and most pleasant meeting which the P. T. A. has had since Thanksgiving.

Practically every member came and brought visitors. The harmonica band has copied, mastered, partially their first grand record, "Guthrie's in High in Anticipation" a share in the P. T. A. House warming program.

GRADES THREE AND FOUR

We are all glad to be back in school after the holidays. We also welcome our first and last kisses to our room. They have been attending the home school.

The following children had perfect attendance last month: Eileen Ingram, Evelyn Stevens, Orlan Armstrong, Billy McClain, Kenneth Poston, Charlie Stampf, Joseph Jewell, John Lewis Caldwell, Louise Grayson, Lucille Hamilton, Geraldine Hyden, Ethel Logan and Ed Alley.

Honor for the fourth month are: Doris Caldwell, Louise Grayson, Iris Alley and Charles Stampf.

Our attendance for the month was 99 per cent.

The following 7th and 8th grade pupils had perfect attendance for the fourth month of school: Esther Grayson, Arlene McClain, Clarence Myers, Alfred Peed, Naomi Alley, Janet Evans, Maxine Jones, Mattie Jones, Della Swain, John Grayson.

The following ninth and tenth pupils had perfect attendance for the fourth month: George Caldwell, Charles Stevens, Ross MacChett, Marjory, Mildred Poston, Elneth Terry, Louise Uterback, Keith Johnson, Felsa Johnson, Eula Mae Foster.

AT THE MOREHEAD HIGH SCHOOL

The Home Economics Club had a Christmas party for the new members. They enjoyed a program of readings, Christmas carols and games. Refreshments were served by Irene Frisley, Edna Skages, Katherine Ingram, and Ruth Johnson. Thirty-six members were present and their visitors.

The first grade room of the Morehead Consolidated School celebrated the pre-Christmas in a most unselfish manner. Everyone brought gifts of food for our charity basket. We enjoyed being Old Santa's helpers most of all. We made toys of wood, such as caddies, toy furniture, tents, pig boards, A. B. C. blocks, marbles and games. Toys were also made of corks, clothespins, sponge, rubber, cloth and old cloths. These toys were given to the children whom we felt Old Santa could not visit.

Each child made a Christmas card in this grade and a greeting card to give to their parents. We want to tell Santa that we liked the treat he gave us.

The fourth grade has two new pupils, Wanda Bastford and Helen Corby. Most of the pupils have perfect attendance records for the last month. Only two are habitually absent. We are making geography booklets of all the countries we have visited. We are glad to have fifteen new books for our library given to us by our supplementary readers.

We are very sorry that Mrs. Ellington, principal is confined to her bed with the flu and hope she will soon be well and back at her work.

The following children in the fifth grade have not missed a day of school this year: Cova Marshall,

Shining Hour Is Cozy Feature

"The Shining Hour" is the screen version of a New York state play. As a picture, according to the accepted standards of some years past, it's dimly different from the play, but it is not so much in its moderate nature. In a direct even if limited way, it is a 1938 comedy in the manner of old fashioned material that is, material that was the fashion in the days of, say, "A Free Soul." "Strangers May Come" is a more completely comprehensive and sophisticated, intelligent or sophisticated, the "smart set," in other words.

Ann Harding sometimes was accorded the courtesy of choosing her own screen story. In "Acts and Figures" information, centered on the back page of the newspaper printed program distributed to preview reporters is the paragraph: "The play was first considered as screen material by Louis Crawford when she saw it in New York. Returning to the studio she persuaded him to purchase the drama."

The resulting photoplay is a romance melodrama in which the lives of several persons become smoldered in a manner that threatens to bring disaster, until those most directly implicated persuade themselves to act heroically.

A business man farmer marries an exotic New York club dancer notwithstanding the objections of his brother. The bride could move to the groom's farm home (it is an exceptionally ornate home), where the brothers' middle aged maiden sister makes no bones in demonstrating her disapproval of the bride, and where the dissenting brother falls in love with her and the groom's sister-in-law from death seem to realize what's going on, but everything is plain to his sister and sister-in-law. The picture continues as an audible but unimportant musical, the sister-in-law would subvert her own hopes of happiness to those of her husband's and his brother-in-law wife as she considers them. But the dancing lady bride rescues the more important children to stand the school. This last month is an important factor in the child's life. His success or failure depends on the parents who attend school this last month. No teacher wants to see a child fail and have to take the same work over, but this is assayed themselves truly.

During the World War Mr. Flagg created many of the Liberty Loan bond posters and recruiting posters which became famous throughout the world. His Infantine Paralysis campaign painting will be reproduced and widely distributed during the drive for funds.

First All-United States "Old Glory"

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—"Old Glory" itself, first American flag to be made with American-manufactured twine, is in Los Angeles, displayed by Abraham Lincoln three days before his assassination.

The flag has thirteen stripes of red and white, and thirty-seventeen stars, all but ten of which are arranged in a diamond-shaped pattern on the field of blue. It is the only flag of this type in existence.

Convalescent Boy Builds Kitchen

stricken with a serious type of muscular paralysis five years ago but not deterred, George C. Skinner, 27, has regained health and strength by his own efforts.

At present, he is in the final stage of convalescence. He did the construction work on a modern all-steel kitchen (illustrated above) in his home, 919 South Matthews Street, Los Angeles, California.

Because health was his goal, the youth noted that the kitchen range was the last and most important work.

Apparently well today, George will hold his annual open house this week. Parties will be broadcast over two of the major national networks.

Author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People"

H. G. WELLS

Sixty years ago, a group of boys were playing on the streets of a London suburb when an accident occurred. One of the biggest boys picked up a little chap called Bertie Wells, and tossed him high into the air. Instead of catching Bertie when he came down, the big boy dropped him and broke his leg.

For months, Bertie lay writhing in bed with a heavy weight tied to his leg. But the same doctor set properly. It had to be broken. It was a terrible experience. Little Bertie screamed in agony and terror.

That seemed like a tragedy then, but Bertie knew better now. Today he is one of the most famous authors in the world. You know him not as Bertie, but as Herbert George Wells, or H. G. Wells. You have probably read some of his books. He has written over seventy-five volumes and he himself admits that broken leg was perhaps the luckiest thing that ever happened to him. Why? Because it kept him confined to the house for a whole year. He discovered every book he could get, because there was nothing else he could do.

Today, H. G. Wells is one of the highest paid authors on the planet. He has probably made a million dollars with his pen; yet he was brought up in a pitching poverty.

Finally, the copy-right stop failed. The family was desperate, so his mother had to take a job as a house-keeper of a big estate in Sussex. Naturally, she lived with the servants, and H. G. Wells often went there to visit. And it was there that he got his first peep into England's society life—his first peep from the peep from the servants' quarters.

The future author of "The Outline of History" started to lead a hard life, at the age of thirteen, as a dry goods clerk. He had to get up at five o'clock, sweep out the store, build the fire, and have his dinner in an hour. It was drudgery, and he despised it. At the end of one month, the boss fired him because he was untidy and slovenly and troublesome.

He finally got a job clerking in another dry goods store. He had to eat, so this time, he held out a bit longer. But when the floorwalker

PROTECT PROPERTY BY NEEDED REPAIRS

"Repairs to protect the property, to keep the house sound and weather-tight, come first," says Earl G. Welch, extension agricultural engineer for the Kentucky College of Agriculture. "They consider the repairs and improvements that can be made and convenient but that can wait without injury to the building."

It is a good plan, says Mr. Welch, to make a systematic inspection of the home at least once a year. In the first listed "urgent" needs but the repairs that will stop deterioration. First, the roof. Are there any leaks? Any broken shingles? Flashing pulled loose? Sometimes a house settles a little. This may show around the chimney. A few nails, a few nails will tighten on loose siding and prevent serious damage. Gutters and downspouts will last longer if they are cleaned and painted.

HOMEOWNERS TO STUDY COMMUNITY PROBLEMS

Community and social problems will be considered by hundreds of Kentucky homeowners when they gather January 21-27 at the University of Kentucky for the 27th annual Home Convention at Lexington.

Next, the foundations of the house. Bricks may be loosened or timbers rotted. Repairs to the foundation are important and cannot be allowed to wait. Window frames can be made firm, solid, and rain-proof. Outside steps are often cracked and should be repaired.

maintenance jobs that give considerable weather protection as well as improvement in appearance. Wood trim on door frames, window frames, porch floors and roofs require regular painting. Interior improvements can go over until these essential repairs are taken care of.

PROFITS FROM STOCK TO BE CONSIDERED

How to make money from stock will be discussed from various angles at a special section on animal husbandry during the Farm and Home Convention at Lexington. Meeting at the Kentucky College of Agriculture January 21-27, the convention annually attracts several hundred farm men and women. The animal husbandry section will be held the 25th and 26th, and among subjects to be considered are the following: alfalfa-matasse silage for fattening cattle, pasture profits from porkers, hay-making, cooperation in agriculture and beef cattle judging, distillery shuck handling the best cow best marketing, etc.

Foremost among speakers on the larger aspects of home concerns will be Signora Olivia Rosetti Agresti, noted journalist who has specialized in economic interpretations; Mrs. Marie Louise Disher, of Kansas, peace leader; Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky, and Miss Grace E. Frysinger, of the extension department of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The annual meeting of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers will be held the 27th with Mrs. T. M. Johnson, of Warren county, in charge. "Wardrobe Suggestions for the London Trip" will be discussed by Miss Iris S. Davenport, clothing specialist for the State College of Agriculture. She will discuss clothes suitable for those attending the conference in England in 1939 of the Associated Country Women of the World.

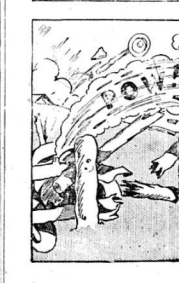

Signora Agresti will speak at the annual homemakers' luncheon. Others on the day's program include Miss Vivian Hardesty, Danville; Mrs. W. E. Nichols, Lexington; Mrs. J. H. Lawrence, Clinton; Mrs. J. T. Green, LaFayette; Mrs. Eugene Doelckner, Louisville, and Mrs. B. T. Bedford, Midway. Music will be furnished by Miss Mildred Lewis of the university music department and the university string trio.

MODERN WOMEN

Baroness Marthe Boel of Belgium who succeeded the Marchioness of Aberdeen and Tennyson as President of the International Council of Women, has made a deep impression on all those who have had contact with her. She is a woman of vision, a woman of action, and a woman of peace. She has been a pioneer in the field of international cooperation, breaking national divisions, the Baroness added. "We have done with war; we repudiate bitterness, we abandon greed and the hatred which come of it. Baroness Boel, whose father was governor of the Province of Hainaut, had a terrible experience during the war, having been imprisoned for arranging communication between families in Belgium and those who were scattered beyond the German lines. However, something like 200,000 letters had passed before she helped to discover and the Baroness was compelled to serve as a political prisoner.

The Matron Queen, Mrs. Regina Margarten, who is the patriarch of a family numbering 850 members, has gone to visit her husband in Hungary. Accompanying her were four married daughters. Mrs. Margarten is seventy-five years of age and this was her eighteenth voyage to Europe. The Matron Queen is an official of a New York company which is one of the largest match and noodle manufacturers in the east and was founded more than half a century ago. The 500,000 matches which are baked daily by this firm are sold all over this country and in Cuba, Mexico and South Africa.

The first woman to be appointed first Deputy State Commissioner of Social Welfare in New York is Miss Mary L. Gibbons. She had charge of the department's New York City office last year.

28 Girls Work For N. Y. A. Group

The NYA Home making Center was recently assigned seven new girls which makes a total of twenty-eight girls working. The project started in August with twenty-five youth. Since that time several of the girls have married or become twenty-five years of age.

The purpose of this program is to train young girls between the ages of eighteen to twenty-five for something better in the future as well as helping them financially at the present time.

The girls are now receiving instructions in sewing, weaving, crocheting and also related training courses such as "Food Marketing," "Personal Hygiene and Appearance" and "Table Manners."

The youth make between seventy five and one hundred garments during the month which include dresses, slips, overalls and shirts, ranging in size from six to twelve. The finished garments are given to the nearby school children of Rowan County through the school attendance officer, Mrs. Mabel Alfrey.

By having this center in its present location the school children of Rowan County and its Co-sponsor, The City of Morehead receives a direct benefit.

Drive Launched To Aid Infantile Paralysis

The slogan, "Give a dime and wear a button," recently adopted in the infantile Paralysis campaign, is strikingly well popular accord, Keith Morgan, chairman of the Committee for the celebration of the President's Birthday, reported today.

Although the March of Dimes, part of the drive for funds, will open nationally on Monday, January 16, Mr. Morgan said that in some states, counties and cities the campaign already has started.

Geneva, New York, is the first locality to inaugurate fund raising activities, he said, adding that many local committees throughout the Empire State are preparing a launch similar appeals within the first week of the New Year.

Throughout the land, beginning January 16, all citizens will be asked to contribute ten cents toward a fund to fight infantile paralysis and to wear the tiny "March of Dimes" button which is the emblem of the drive.

The button is circular in shape—a trifle larger than a ten cent piece. Around the rim are the words "Fight Infantile Paralysis," inside the circle and beneath the profile of the likeness of the Goddess of Liberty are the words "March of Dimes" and the date—1929.

Millions of these buttons will be distributed January 16 and January 20, President Roosevelt's 57th birthday anniversary, Mr. Morgan said. The buttons will be on sale everywhere and every person will be urged to join the March of Dimes.

With more than two-thirds of the nation in line in the "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign, the March of Dimes soon will become a coast to coast parade leading to adequate control of the dread disease, Mr. Morgan predicted. Six will state are 100 percent organized and in many other states only a few counties remain unorganized, according to George V. Riley, National Director of Organization. States with organization completed in each county are Ohio, Michigan, West Virginia, New Mexico, New York and New Hampshire.

Another form of the campaign, Mr. Morgan said, will be March of Dimes birthday cards. These cards, each of which will hold ten dimes, will be distributed in every city and town. Those receiving them will be invited to enclose dimes in the cards and send them as their March of Dimes contribution to President Roosevelt at the White House, Mr. Morgan said.

"The March of Dimes campaign was inaugurated last year by Eddie Cantor as a part of the radio appeal for funds. It was greeted with an enthusiastic response. Thousands who never attended any of the celebrations in connection with the President's birthday, were happy to give through the March of Dimes and the date—1929.

"This is a campaign for everybody—not a special campaign only for the rich. It is literally a cent you spare a dime" campaign. We believe most people will be happy to join."

Mr. Morgan urged that those interested in the campaign everywhere enlist as workers.

These volunteers should report at once to the Chairman in their own county, Mr. Morgan said.

Funds for the drive are to be divided on a 60-30 basis. One-third will be sent to the Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday to be turned over to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The other half will be held in trust in the county where raised and turned over to the permanent foundation chapter when it is organized.

In this way half of the funds raised for the national fight to stamp out the disease and half of the funds, will go for local aid through the permanent chapters.

RUSSELL PERRY, Manager

Business Guides

By C. E. Johnston

Director, Business Training School, International Correspondence Schools

MODERN business is largely conducted on credit. The manufacturer allows wholesalers and jobbers to buy in whole or in part. If they buy, the latter in turn ordinarily do not demand immediate payment from retailers. The extension of credit allows many business transactions to take place which would not otherwise occur. It, therefore, increases sales, increases sales and thus makes possible a greater production of commodities.

In spite of the frequency of credit transactions there is a widespread misunderstanding of the nature of credit. Credit does not flow from the creditor to the buyer to the dealer, and never in the opposite direction. Few people realize this. We frequently hear such statements as "Mrs. Blank took it on credit" or "Mr. Citizen asked for credit" at his neighbor's and the creditor was glad to give it to him."

As a matter of fact Mrs. Blank and Mr. Citizen did not receive credit. They parted with a portion of their cash. They parted with a portion of their credit when they bought goods from merchants with promises to pay in the future. The customer offers credit, and the merchant agrees or declines to accept credit. This is true in all credit transactions, large or small. The debtor receives his credit, or that part of it, with which he has parted, when he pays his bill.

If a dealer insists clearly that credit is an attribute of the buyer he will be more able to state up the credit standing of a customer and he will, therefore, have fewer losses from bad debts.

Morehead Teams In Action This Week

Breckinridge was a greatly improved club in losing 16-14 to Mt. Sterling there last week and Eagles followers believe that once the club gets really going they will be the strongest in the district. Olive Hill is unbeaten. Their closest shave was a 2 point victory over Morehead High.

Morehead's Vikings are picked over Soldier in what should be a good game at the High School gymnasium Friday.

Morehead High already holds a 35 to 15 victory over Vanceburg and will be favored to take the Lewis Mountains. The Vikings are scheduled Saturday evening at Boyd County High. The Cannonsburg team have the strongest team they have produced in years but will be underdogs against what appears to be a great Green and White combination.

Coach Roy Holbrook plans some changes in his lineup. Clifford Barker and Bob Tucker will start at forwards; Willard Calvert or George Hicks at center; and Hubert Harter or Warren Hicks at guard. James Butler will not be here for this week's games as he attended the Rose Bowl football game at Pasadena Monday and has not returned.

Clinton Tatum, Bill Ponder, Jack Hewitt, Buddy Judd and Charles Fraley will probably comprise Breck's lineup when the Eagles face Olive Hill. The play of Fraley and Hewitt has shown great improvement.

A double card is on tap Monday at the College gymnasium with the Morehead College Freshmen opposing Westeyn's yearlings in the preliminary at 7 o'clock followed by a varsity match between these two schools at 8.

A great treat may be seen in action here Tuesday evening, facing Breckinridge at the college gymnasium Breck also has a tough engagement Friday evening of next week when they go to Ashland to meet the Tomcats.

Aileen Fraley will sing an old folk song about the Frog. Etina and Eula Ongie will sing "Shake Hands with Mother again." Virgil Sparks in a medieval costume of rich velvet with plumed hat will represent an early English minister. A group of children in Scotch costumes will accompany Mrs. Caudill in singing the Scotch Ballad "Bonnie George Campbell." Mrs. Caudill will wear a costume of Royal Stuart plaid which she wears in the annual American Folk Song Festival. Johnny Hutton, Bedford Clifford, will sing "Lord Daniel." Fay Ongie will sing "The Rich Mercant Daughter." Nell Davis in a homespun frock dyed with home made dye will sing the "The March of the Dimes" song which she sings in the annual Festival. Mrs. Blanche Preston Jones, a daughter of the Big Sandy, with her children Hope and Buddy in homespun costumes will be singing "The Twelve Days of Christmas." They will also sing "The Cherry Tree Child" or Joseph an story which takes place on the Sixth Day of January an ancient ballad which commemorates the birth of Christ on January sixth, sometimes called "Old Christmas."

HONEY HAS MANY USES IN BAKING

Bakeries make much of the fact that they use honey in baking. They do this to keep their products from drying out too rapidly. The same principle works equally well in cakes and other products made in the home. says Miss Florence Inlay of the home demonstration section of the Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Honey takes up moisture rapidly and holds it, so fruit cakes, steam pudding, cookies and candies made with it stay moist a long time. But confections an frostings made with honey will remain undeniably soft and sticky and take up more moisture if the air is humid.

One can substitute honey for sugar in a cake recipe, but because of the moisture in the honey less liquid is needed. The amount of liquid must be reduced depends on the kind of honey—medium, thick or thin, and on the proportion of honey substituted for sugar.
