Eagles Sink Union Team By 34 To 32

Match In Double Unit Final Gun As Morehead Blows Early Advantage

Kenneth Farmer, a strapping youth from Newport, Tenn., who plays for Dick Bacon's Union College team, created havoc in the scoring here Saturday night...

There was little fault to be found with both teams and the comparatively small crowd was treated to a well played ball game with both clubs making the most of their opportunities.

The Eagles appeared on their way to an easy victory at the outset as Stiner and Kirk hit two field goals apiece and Stiner dropped in a free throw as compared with the Union's first half which ended at 23-18.

Morehead came back hot in the second half and increased their lead in five minutes of fast scoring until at 32-22 in the first play and Earl and Lawell started hitting consistently from all points of the floor and with three minutes to go...

Farmer was the whole offensive show for the Bulldogs but the entire Union team passed well and handled itself capably. Jack Kirk of Inez, Len Steiner and Unk Gant, Williamburg and Walker were Morehead's standouts...

A Malicious Misrepresentation

At this point we wish to answer a statement made in the Trail Blazer of last week, in which it is stated that the Trail Blazer was published every year during the week of E. K. E. Y. and the week before Christmas, when the holidays begin.

The FEUD at SINGLE SHOT

By Luke Short

"But-but I don't understand," Mary said weakly.

"It's easily explained, Mrs. Winters," Crowell said. "Your brother realized that the place was worthless now. He decided to let his half go. He knew I would be out of this 'orning to tell you, so he didn't bother to send word out."

"But why are you buying it if it's so worthless?" Mary had got a grip on herself.

"Crowell said bluntly. "But the water."

Crowell laughed easily. "We have money, Mrs. Winters. Building up that wall again with a crew of men is a small matter for me."

"Ted, what do you think?" Mary asked suddenly.

"It looks like Dave ran out on us, Mary. Without him to run the place, I'd say we might as well give up and sell out to Mr. Crowell."

He heard Mary get out of her chair and walk to the window. When she spoke again, it was as if she was arguing with herself.

"But you'll have a court fight with the split air. It'll, Hammond claims the lake too."

"But who owns it?"

"We do," Mary said.

"And you have the papers to prove it, is that right?"

"May I see them?"

Mary hesitated a moment, then said, surely.

Rosy knew she was waiting time to digest this.

"God, this is shaky! Do you think it's going to be a sign?"

"Sure, Dave's signature is crowded her."

Crowell laughed softly. "But since Dave and Hammond aren't fighting each other, I don't know how much they suspect. And where is that redhead."

"He hasn't been around here. We're safe enough."

"Well, there's only one thing to do. I'll register at the hotel today like I'd just come in. Then I'll see Hammond again and try to talk him into selling and then I'm disappearing."

"Every one I don't just what the Boss said they would expect. Turner. He walked right into Sayre's hand."

"Did Sayre have a tough time cracking him?"

"Not from what Chae said when he gave me this paper."

"What does the Boss think."

"He's satisfied with Sayre's work but he's on my tail to finish this."

As Mary came into the room, Crowell was saying to Winters: "—and it can be done without too much expense."

Rosy had been listening until his ears rang. So Winters was in on it! And Sayre had a prisoner. But more than that, there was a boss behind them. Even behind Crowell.

He heard Mary say to Crowell: "Here's the land they want."

He heard Crowell take them.

"All in order, Mrs. Winters," Crowell said. "I think we can afford to pay an extra two thousand for that paper it's foot proof."

Rosy heard Mary sigh. "I—I don't think I'll sell, Mr. Crowell. Not right away, and I won't insist."

"Well, I think you'll regret it, Mrs. Winters. But I won't insist. We'll give you exactly what we gave Dyer, plus the two thousand of course. Won't you take time to reconsider before you give your refusal?"

"Why—yes," Mary said hesitatingly. "How long will the offer be open?"

"Until tonight at train time," Crowell said, and Rosy heard him rise. "I'll be at the hotel, at Single Shot."

"That will be fine," Mary said.

"Good-by, Mrs. Winters," Crowell said. "I hope to hear from you by tonight. Good-by."

Rosy heard the outside door shut.

"Mary?" It was Winters speaking pleadingly. "You can't be serious about not wanting to sell now that Dave has run out on us?"

"Let's go in the kitchen, Ted," Mary said quietly.

"Darned if I will!" Winters exploded. "I want to know if you're going to sell. Let's get rid of this ramshackle old place and go east where we belong."

Rosy heard Mary's heels on the floor, headed for the kitchen. Then she stopped abruptly and scraped.

"Look here," Winters said in a cold voice. "Cut out this sentimental nonsense. We'll have a fortune. Dave's out of it—"

"He isn't," Mary said desperately. "Isn't he?" Winters said sarcastically. "Are you doubting Crowell's word?"

"No," Mary retorted heatedly. "I'm not doubting anybody's word. I know he's right. I know we have to think he'd do a thing like that. Take a fortune, instead of a

Application For Unemployment Aid Accepted

To Inaugurate Payments For Persons Who Are Not Employed

Applications for benefit payments under Kentucky's Unemployment Compensation Insurance Law will be accepted Monday January 2. In the thirteen branch offices of the Kentucky State Employment Service and at 21 other towns or county seats which will be visited during the day by members of the itinerant service working under the direction of the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission.

It had been originally intended that applications would not be accepted until Tuesday, January 3, but V. E. Barnes, chairman and executive director of the Commission today announced the sudden shift in the plans of the Commission.

It had been originally intended that applications would not be accepted until Tuesday, January 3, but V. E. Barnes, chairman and executive director of the Commission today announced the sudden shift in the plans of the Commission.

The branch offices of the Kentucky State Employment Service which operates as a section of the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission are located at Paducah, Owensboro, Bowling Green, Somerset, Louisville, Newport, Covington, Frankfort, Lexington, Ashland, Pikeville, Hazard and Corbin.

Points that will be serviced by itinerant representatives of the Commission on Monday are Murray, Princeton, Hawesville, Madisonville, Hopkinsville, Henderson, Russellville, Elizabethtown, Shelbyville, Lawrenceburg, Paris, Richmond, Louisa, Prestonsburg, Whitesburg, Williamsburg, Whitley, City and Harlan.

The Commission and its organization is ready to function in all departments and despite the fact that Monday is observed as a holiday the Commission thought it best to eliminate every element of delay in insuring the payment of Unemployment Compensation Insurance in Kentucky." Director Barnes declared.

The Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Insurance Fund is now in excess of $18,500,000 and with contributions due for the quarterly period of October, November, and December due within the next thirty days it will be more than $20,500,000 when benefit payment checks are actually issued to employed covered workers the latter part of January.

Director Barnes in announcing that applications would be received on next Monday again stressed the fact that only those persons who have worked for employers who came within the provisions of the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Insurance Law and who have paid contributions into the reserve insurance fund that has been created for administration by the Commission are eligible to receive benefit payments.

"Just because an individual is unemployed does not entitle him to receive benefits from the Kentucky Unemployment Insurance Fund," Director Barnes declared. "Any worker to receive benefits from the fund must have earned at least $20 during the last four out of the five quarterly periods he has worked and been employed by an employer who comes within the provisions of the act and has made contributions into the reserve fund.

Applications for benefit payments under the law must pass through a three week waiting period of total unemployment before they begin to receive benefit payments at the end of the fourth week. Benefit payments under the law cannot exceed $4 a week for a period of 15 weeks and will not be less than $4 a week.

State Farmers Borrow Almost Four Billion

Substantial increases in the volume of loans closed by production credit associations during the year, the outstanding features of which are the outstanding feature of the credit service to Kentucky farmers. Administration of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Louisville in the first eleven months of 1938, while repayments materially exceeded long-time farm mortgage loans by the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Louisville in the states of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee for the eleven months ending November 30 in 1938 by almost $5,000,000 as compared with the previous year. Since its organization less than five years ago the Louisville Bank for Cooperatives has made loans amounting to $3,975,000 to farmers' marketing and purchasing organizations of the state.

Production Credit Gains Volume
The twelve production credit associations of Kentucky made over 5,800 loans for $3,850,000 in 1938 up to November 30, 1938, a 15 percent increase above the same period of last year. The West Kentucky association at Hopkinsville leading that district with a 154 percent increase and the Danville District association second with 51 percent. The nine Tennessee production credit associations made 6,000 loans for $4,130,000 during the same time, an increase of 30 percent.

Total for the Louisville district during the eleven months is $1,750,000 by production credit associations amounting to $2,336,000. The sum of $17,800,000 was outstanding at that date. At the corresponding time last year close to $10,000,000 of 28,333 for $21,578,000, and the amount outstanding was $13,778,000. The number of production credit associations members in Kentucky increased by 18 percent to 6,534.

Farm Mortgage Loans Decrease
The Federal land bank and Land Bank Commissioner closed 408 loans amounting to $1,042,000 in Kentucky up to November 30. In these eleven months new loans closed by the Federal bank alone in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee number 1,444 for the sum of $1,413,000. During this same period 1,915 land bank loans were paid in full, the balance amounting to $4,595,000. In addition, borrowers paid $3,862,000 in regular and additional payments. The total loan account of the bank, therefore, was reduced by $8,457,000 during the eleven months period. These repayments on outstanding loans furnished all the cash needed to make new loans amounting to $8,000,000 for other uses such as the reduction of interest bearing liabilities.

Similarly, large reductions were made in balances outstanding in the Louisville district on Land Bank Commissioner loans, which are serviced by the Federal land bank. During the eleven months, 2,068 Commissioner loans for $2,300,000 were paid in full and $5,585,000 was paid on the principal of Commissioner loans still outstanding. Meanwhile, but 1,688 new Commissioner loans were granted amounting to $2,300,000.

Systematic Repayments Effective
Since its organization in 1917, the Federal Land Bank of Louisville has closed 92,000 loans amounting to $28,000,000, yet 80 percent of 30, 1938 there were but 72,000 loans of $185,000,000. This means that during the twenty-one years of bank operation $100,000,000 of loans have been paid in full or in part or acquired by the bank.

The peak of the mortgage loan volume was reached in November, 1935, when it stood at $200,000,000. In the three years since it has been reduced by $15,000,000, and in the present rate of payment continues will decrease by five or 7 millions during the next year.

From organization to date, 15,000 loans amounting to $47,300,000 have been paid in full and $41,000,000 received by the bank as installment payments on the principal of loans outstanding. With the retirement by cash payment on November 1 of $3,200,000 of individual bonds of The Federal Land Bank of Louisville but $18,000 of this type of bonds remains outstanding, and these are callable next July 1. The balance of outstanding bonds of the bank, $18,000 of this type of bonds remains outstanding, and these are callable next July 1.

Consolidated Farm Loan Bonds, amounting to $163,000,000 and bearing an average rate of 3 1/2 percent. Of these, $103,000,000 bear 4 percent, and none can be called before July 1, 1943.

During the year the demand obligations of the bank to the Federal Treasury have been reduced by the stock. This follows the retirement of $1,000,000 of government securities during 1937, and reduces the amount held by the United States to a little over $4,000,000, while the national farm loan associations of the district now own $11,300,000 capital stock of the bank.

Record Crowd To See Eagle-Maroon Tilt

the game, W. J. Barr of Paris gave notice that he is going to be difficult to beat out of a first team berth while Buck Horton pertained better than he has all season.

Jack Kirk of Inez, the most dependable scorer on the Morehead floor, came through with 11 points, most of them tosses over his shoulder.

In a rough and tumble preliminary during which referee Darrell Hartly called 48 personal fouls, 23 of them on the Eagles, the Morehead Freshmen lost in the last minute of play by 34-32 to the Wesleyan yearlings. The Eagles probably would have won had not Jack Dumford, star scorer, fouled out early in the second half.

All five Morehead Freshmen and one from Wesleyan were ejected. Morehead High School continued its victory march with two small games. The Morehead Vikings, on Friday the Vikings blew a big cold lead but came back to beat Solidi a club that appeared much better than it has been rated, by 34 to 30. Barker, called the Vikings, but little Hobbs Holbrook, put in the game in the last two minutes proved the difference as he dropped in two baskets. The Morehead 'IV' also led by Holbrook won easily.

The Vikings, with James Dutcher in the lineup, presented a stone-wall defense. The Vikings, on Friday the Vikings blew a big cold lead but came back to beat Solidi a club that appeared much better than it has been rated, by 34 to 30. Barker, called the Vikings, but little Hobbs Holbrook, put in the game in the last two minutes proved the difference as he dropped in two baskets. The Morehead 'IV' also led by Holbrook won easily.

Breck Team Loss
Breckinridge Training School one of its poorer games Friday at Olive Hill and dropped to 27-14 match. The size of the score was surprising since the Eagles, on the basis of continued improvement, were given an even chance with the Carter Countians. Coach Bobby Laughlin has been working hard this week in preparation for a number of hard games. Breck has lost five of seven matches, but all of their games have been with tough teams.

Fans will be provided with plenty of action during the next week, topped by the Morehead-Eastern match which will be preceded by a freshman preliminary. The Eagles are well defended. Coach Bobby Laughlin has been working hard this week in preparation for a number of hard games. Breck has lost five of seven matches, but all of their games have been with tough teams.

Our National Anthem
There is a group of peace-minded people who are trying to get new words written to our national anthem, because they think it is too warlike in its sentiments. Another group is offering a prize to composers for the revision of the words on the ground that the range is too great for most people's voices.

When Congress in 1931 enacted the law making the "Star-Spangled Banner" the official anthem of the United States, the lawmakers certainly overlooked a lot of more inspiring and definitely more American tunes, which are also easier to sing. The words of the "Star Spangled Banner" were written during the War of 1812, and set to the tune of "Anacreon in Heaven," an old English drinking song. "Yankee Doodle" is a livelier air, with "Pep" to it, and dates from America's revolutionary days. If someone would write a new set of verses to that old tune it could become the real national patriotic march. Acts of Congress to the contrary notwithstanding.

A genuinely American tune which brings American words, lyrics and spirit, and is not just a cheer is "Dixie." Written and composed by Dan Emmett for his Negro Minstrel troupe, its words are of no particular importance from a national point of view, but it is the time, after all, that counts in such things more than the words do. Who knows the words of the "Star-Spangled Banner" for that matter?

The words of "America" ring with real patriotic fervor, but the tune is the standard of the British national song, "God Save the King." Far more truly American, both in words and music, is "The Battle Hymn of America." It is a popular patriotic song, and it is written in order. They must be as spontaneous as "Over There" in the late war, and capture the popular imagination. Some day some American will compose a song which breathes the spirit of America so fervently that the whole nation will sing it. That will be the true National Anthem.

Death Claims Mrs. Snyder
was increasingly active, until fitness confined her to her bed, so much so that she may be said to have crawled a life time into the past four years.

During the period since her husband's death her constant companion was her niece, Mrs. J. M. Snyder, who as well as her closest friend, Mrs. Snyder is survived by her husband, James M. Snyder, of Paris, Miss Luzzader, her mother, Mrs. James Luzzader, Jenes, P. Mrs. Ruth Siroat and Mrs. Maude Freed of Salem, O., and two brothers, Don Palmer of Clinton, Oklahoma, and William of Oklahoma, City.

Morehead has certainly lost a citizen, a leading citizen, and the stock world has lost a real philanthropist during 1937, and reduces the amount held by the United States to a little over $4,000,000, while the national farm loan associations of the district now own $11,300,000 capital stock of the bank.

Business Personalities Of Rowan County

By Carl Scott
There is no line of cars that have gained popularity faster than the one bearing the famous name Humber. The people have come to recognize that they have always held their own against all comers, and there is no auto firm in our community that has come to the front faster than the Calvert Garage.

This splendid line of motor cars combines beauty of outline and appointments, exceptional smartness, with a dignified simplicity that spells style and performance. This sort of car does not pass quickly out of vogue, but is good for many seasons. In mechanical ability and stamina it has few peers at any price.

Calvert's Garage is known throughout this section as a leader in the line of general auto repairing. The tremendous prestige of their immense volume of business, the experience of years as the prominent name in the area, the practical knowledge of Mr. Calvert, who directs the sales department, has won for them the recognition of the community at large and their patronage.

If you purchased a used car from this firm, you are taking no chance, as the used cars they offer have been carefully checked and their OK is given, as the Calvert Garage is absolutely reliable and honest in their dealings, and their prices are reasonable.
