EAGLES BROODINGS

By GORDON MOORE

"Remember, if you can't play a sport, be one!" Football season again is dividing into the past and the future. It is the choosing of the team, the selection of the various teams to be chosen the other team. It is true it is rather hard to please everyone, so we have attempted to give our opinion on who should make the all-KIAC team. This is chosen from the page, any similarities to any other choice are purely coincidental and are not intended.

The KIAC will hold its annual and first business meeting today in celebration. It is expected, from the officials and sports writers of the state. The official team will probably be published in the court-journal Sunday morning.

Basketball
On the whole, the teams in the KIAC this year appear to be better than those of the past decade. We will try to give you a general outline of what to expect this season.

Eastern has the same team last year except for Perry, whose place will be filled by Hase, Deuster, Threll, Osborne, and Cooper. John Campbell will resume their position. If Eastern plays as a ball club and not as individuals they should have a pretty fair fall club.

Greenwood is depending wholly on the freshmen team of last year, which was undefeated. These five will probably move up to the regular varsity if they play as well this year as they did last year.

Lewistown has only twelve men out for basketball and on the average they are small. They have returning Andrew, all-KIAC forward last year, Kipley, Kirk, Harris, and Phillips. They have been practicing for six weeks and are the best and good ball players. They seem to be weak on shooting.

Remond Westboro—no inside information. Unless has good players returning from last year's team, these two are sure of their position this year. They are Kemple and McFadden, except for these two the team's prospects for the season is poor.

Transylvania—no inside information.

Berea was hard struck by graduation last year. They lost Greene, one of the leading scorers of the state. Hise, Stewart, and Harper. They have only one regular returning and no promising players coming up from the freshmen. Duff will be the key player.
