Duke Ridgley's Tribute To Morehead College

The following eulogy written by Duke Ridgley of the Huntington Herald-Dispatch is being reprinted for its worth. "Duke" was the main speaker at the annual "M" Club banquet held at the College last Friday night. The following article appeared in his Monday morning's "Diamond Dust" in the Herald-Dispatch:

Homecoming is over now and we can all relax. It was a great game, a great weekend and a good time was had by all. Of course there were some discords and many now in the doghouse. One party, I understand did not get home until Monday. Personally, we had guests from Jackson and Hickman, Indiana. They spent the weekend with us and as they engaged it gave the wife and I an opportunity to pass our opinion as to where they were better a success of it or not. The bride, it is a stunning blonde and she caused a commotion in a local firm here that will not accept the groom. However, I think I have everything under control. The groom is well, I can't say much for him other than he is a fine horse, lives in Jackson, known as "Sleepy" Holiday, and does not own a hat. It looks to me like he is driving her ducks to post water. And he is getting himself into something that he admits he does not know anything about. But I do say they are both doing well in the in-law lines. Good luck to "Mike" and "Sadie." Much happiness to you both. Claud Brown and H. B. Tackett shared the same room last week, in Alby Hardin's Boarding House.

There is a Southern hospitality about the Morehead College, that you can't help but like. So it was for me to understand that Hubert Counts, president of the "M" Club, mentioned him when he said: "It is not a large college but there are countless thousands who love it."

Dr. William H. Vaughan, 41-year-old, is serving his first year as president of Morehead State Teacher's College, located in the sixth community of Morehead, surrounded by the friendly hills of Rowan County.

1,441 Youngsters Provided Medical Care During Year

The Kentucky Crippled Children's Commission provided medical, surgical, and hospital care for 1,441 State youngsters during the past year, Miss Marian Williamson, Director, reported before the annual State meeting of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children in Lexington, Thursday, November 14.

In addition to hospital care, many youngsters were aided with medical care, removal of casts, adjustment of braces, visits of field nurses, and through twenty-seven clinics held throughout the State. The Commission organizes the work with crippled children and through the financial help of State training of workers and interested lay groups. Miss Williamson commended the great aid rendered during the past year by the State.

Also speaking at the State meeting were: E. W. Palmer, Kingsport, Tennessee, President, of the National Society for Crippled Children; Miss Julia Kobb Ashland; Miss Ann C. Mayer, Covington; Mrs. H. C. Robinson, Lexington; H. V. McChesney, Frankfort; Dr. Baldwin Burnam and Neil Hood, Louisville, and Dr. R. C. Hood, Director, Crippled Children's Division, Children's Bureau, Washington, D. C.

NATURE

(By G. B. Pennebaker, Ph. D.) Morehead State Teachers College

MIGRATION

When the V-shaped flocks of wild geese pass overhead in the cool November morning, who will not stop and observe these feathered friends in admiration and amazement? Nor will one bestir himself until the last form is lost to view on the distant horizon and the honking calls of the leader have died away in silence. The migration of birds is a response to an irresistible call of nature. Every individual of a species that migrates will become restless as the time for migration approaches, and will soon be on his way, even if he has been raised as a pet apart from his wild relatives. The cause for migration has been studied by ornithologists and others for many years, but still the answer is not clear. It seems that it is an attempt of the bird to adjust himself to its environment, but no doubt its reactions are modified to a considerable extent by the experiences of its race as gone through for many generations during its development. The environment has been made up of many factors, therefore to determine which of these have an appreciable effect is a difficult matter. Since migration in our region correlates rather closely with three of the variable factors of the environment, light, temperature and food supply, these may account at least in part for their migration. As the temperature approaches freezing the food supply decreases, and the daylight period in which to look for food diminishes, then the birds migrate to more favorable southern climates in preparation for winter. That a scarcity of food is one of the main factors is indicated by the fact that insect eaters migrate more generally than do the seed eaters. In the spring they return to their summer home for breeding and the rearing of a family.

(From Alton Payne) Director, Public Relations Morehead State Teachers College

Judge H. H. Ramey, Salverville, berrister and a member of the Morehead State Teachers College Board of Regents, was the main speaker at the Homecoming banquet held on the Campus Saturday evening, November 17. The banquet was tendered by President W. H. Vaughan in honor of the four members of the College faculty that have served since the conception of the College as a state-supported institution in 1923. Those faculty members are H. C. Haggan of the Department of Agriculture, Miss Katherine Graham of the Geography Department, Miss Inez Faith, Humphrey of the Department of English and Professor C. O. Peratt of the History Department. Speakers other than Judge Ramey were Dean Warren Lippin, John Ridgeway of the Lexington School system, William Hoggan, president of this year's senior class and Miss Ethel Patton, member of the Carter County school system. President Vaughan presided at the dinner in lieu of the inauguration of himself as president of the College.

amendment is passed by Congress, it will be necessary to obtain ratification by thirty-six states. Many states, particularly in the South, have a political advantage in the electoral college which they would not have otherwise, and would be reluctant to ratify the amendment.

Obituary And Tribute

Mrs. Ella Johnson Bowen was born December 14, 1872 at Upper Tygart, Carter County, Kentucky. She was the daughter of Lou Ann and William Johnson who preceded her in death. Mrs. Bowen was united in marriage to Mr. Saint Clair Bowen, February 18, 1892 and to this union eleven children were born, namely: Mrs. L. O. U. Tygart, Mrs. Nettie Reeder, Mrs. Deever, Mrs. Nettie Reeder, Mrs. Hester Hinton, Mrs. Lillie C. Stinson, Mrs. Emma Fugate, Mrs. L. O. U. Tygart, Mrs. Della McDonald, Sam H. Bowen, Luther Bowen, deceased, George H. Bowen and Claude C. Bowen.

Mrs. Bowen joined the Methodist church in the age of fifteen, after her marriage she became a member of the Christian church and after moving to Haldeman she joined with Missionary Baptist church. She was a sincere Christian woman, attending church as long as her health would permit and her wife and kind devoted mother and a true neighbor and friend.

Mrs. Bowen departed this life November 15, 1940 at 8:00 A. M. of complications. She leaves to mourn her death her husband, ten children, seven girls and three boys, forty grandchildren, four great grandchildren, three sisters and one brother. Inasmuch as it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to call this dear wife, mother and friend from her earthly home to her heavenly home on high, the church has lost a true and faithful member, the community a useful and valuable citizen, the family a kind, dutiful and loving wife and mother.

In bowing in humble submission to Him who doeth all things well, we extend to the sorrowing family our deep and heartfelt sympathy and a fervent prayer that God's blessings will rest upon them and His grace will abide with them forevermore.

A sincere friend,
J. EWING BASFORD

Questions And Answers . . .

Morehead State Teachers College THE CHILDREN COME FIRST IN A DEMOCRACY

William Givens, secretary of the NEA in a recent report said: "The battle for the tax dollar grows hotter. The schools have always had to fight for financial support but the struggle is growing harder." The schools are the first to take a cut in times of depression and the last to be restored in times of prosperity. Yet right here in our schools are the bulwarks of democracy. There are no more frontiers in the west, but the schools now furnish the frontiers. In our schools we have the crucible out of which is to come the leavening influence of a democracy. As important as our schools are we find certain states are cutting their programs for next year. For example, New York cut its state school program $10,000,000. The Georgia legislature adjourned owing its teachers $5,000,000. And sixty-five percent of the income tax in Colorado was diverted from the schools. With an increasing demand made for appropriations for relief, old age insurance, pensions, roads, armaments and a defense program, education will likely suffer. Children can't wait. They must be educated. Today our neglect today provides a weak link in our democracy for the morrow. Worthy as these causes mentioned above may be they should not allow the schools to suffer. The best defense plan I know is to begin in kindergarten and the first grade and carry it on through the graduate school. Let's not forget in a democracy, the children come first!

Tobacco Ref.--

In 1937 and 1939. For the first time this year, burley tobacco growers are voting on marketing quotas for 1941. If quotas are approved for three years, Mr. Turner said, farm allotments will be the same in 1941 as in 1940, while if the quota for 1941 only is approved a reduction in allotments will be needed.

Under three-year quotas no 40 acre allotment of more than one acre can be reduced by more than ten percent during the entire three-year period and no 1940 allotment of one acre or less can be reduced at all during the period. With these guarantees farmers can make plans without allowance for drastic changes in allotments from year to year, Mr. Turner said.

Under quotas the penalty on the marketing of excess tobacco is ten cents a pound. And while allotments are protected for the three-year period for those who plant within their allotments and for those who do not attempt to evade the tax on excess marketing, Mr. Turner pointed out that growers who attempt to evade the tax or to help others to evade it will be penalized by having their allotments reduced. The quota law also provides penalties for buyers, dealers and warehousemen who help growers evade payment of the tax.

Burley growers of Rowan County will vote Saturday, November 23, the following voting places, Mr. Turner said:

1. Morehead - J. L. Litton, chairman, 2. Ezra Martt, 3. Harrison Ramey, County A. office.
2. Elliottville - C. B. Parr, chairman, 2. Norman Royce, 3. Marvin Adkins, 4. Arnold McDonald, alternate, Hoggins voting booth.
3. Wagoner - Voting booth 1. Ora James, chairman, 2. W. H. Chick, 3. Jesse Jennings, 4. Tilman Jones, alternate, Hoggins voting booth.
4. A. M. D. L. Jennings' Store, P. M. Clearfield Store, 1. Robert

- Riddle, chairman, 2. J. M. Perkins, 3. D. L. Jennings, 4. Robert Jones, alternate.
5. Farmers Voting booth, No. 2, 1. Clayton Prater, chairman, 2. W. J. Hinton, 3. Ligon Prater, 4. Sam Stamper, alternate.
6. A. M. Little Brushy Voting Booth, P. M. Sharkey School, 1. Henry Eldridge, chairman, 2. David Epperhart, 3. Simon Eldridge, 4. C. A. Black, alternate.
7. A. M. Cranston, P. M. Johnson, 1. William Edger, chairman, 2. Johnnie Adkins, 3. W. F. Wells, 4. G. C. Hogue, alternate.
8. A. M. Plank Voting Booth, P. M. Fine Grove Voting Booth, George Brown, chairman, 2. Alvin Plank, 3. B. H. Buckner, 4. R. A. Decker, alternate.

Any farmer who shares in the proceeds of the 1940 burley crop a landlord, share tenant or share-cropper will be eligible to vote. Growers should vote for one of the following questions which will appear on the ballot:

1. Are you in favor of quotas for three years?
2. Are you in favor of quotas for one year, but opposed to quotas for three years?
3. Are you opposed to quotas?

have access to public, civic and state libraries and that in addition army camps would be fitted with small but possibly adequate libraries. He stated that the navy already has its own library facilities. The speaker also said the libraries are now playing and will continue to play an even greater part in engineering research, etc. for the defense program.

In an open forum following the address the members were divided in opinion as to whether any foreign propaganda should be allowed in the libraries.

SCHOOL NEWS

Three Lick is proud of two new pupils, Ila Fay and Arvil Brown who made the enrollment total to 15. Nine pupils had perfect attendance for the fourth month. The PTA is now selling home-made samplers to purchase a set of maps for the school room. At the fourth meeting of the organization, a Halloween party was enjoyed by all present. The pupils presented a short Halloween program and the third grade presented a puppet play, "Tulip Time in Holland." Prizes were awarded for those wearing costumes and for the winners of various contests including stunts, cracker eating, candy eating, apple bobbing, knife walk, word building, "Tailing the Tiger," etc.

Pupils purchased a flag and five new books with the money given them on their group projects taking blue ribbons at the fair.

Seas Branch Improved
The teachers of the Seas Branch

School have been doing work to improve the building. The inside of the building has been painted and decorated. Plans are now under way to install a hot lunch kitchen and provide a hot noon day lunch for the children. These kitchens in connection with the school are a part of the WPA work carried on in the county. Any teacher desiring to install a WPA kitchen in your school may get information you need at the office of the County Superintendent, Eunice Cecil, teacher at the Old House Creek School was the first teacher this school year to furnish hot lunches to the children.

The following improvements have been made on the rural school buildings and grounds so far:

CLEARFIELD: Roof of the school house painted. New coal house has been built and the toilet repaired. New outside doors are ready to be hung.

DRY CREEK: A new window has been added to the grade room. The roof has been painted and the weather boarding has been repaired.

BRATTON BRANCH: The roof has been painted, and the toilets repaired.

MOORE SCHOOL: New floors have been laid.

WES COX: The roof has been painted, toilets repaired and a new stove installed.

CRANEY: A new stove has been installed.

UPPER LICK FORK: Two new toilets have been built.

ALFREY: There have been many needed repairs around the building.

MINOR: New toilets built, inside of the buildings has been painted.

BIG BRUSHY: Needed repairs around the buildings have been made.

ISLAND FORK: New stove installed.

ADAMS-DAVIS: A new stove installed and new toilets have been built.

WALTZ: A new stove has been installed.

A new bus station has been built on Lower Licking.

New seats have been sent to all schools in need of them.

Basketball
Basketball season is getting under way and a schedule of both Morehead and Haldeman teams will appear in the paper later. Watch for it.

Dry Creek School
The Dry Creek School will celebrate Thanksgiving in an unique way. The children will be the Indians and the parents, the pilgrims and the big Thanksgiving dinner will be given at the school house with the whole community invited. They will endeavor to have this celebration as much like the first celebration as possible.

Old House Creek
The parents and children will bring their Thanksgiving dinners to the school house and there will be a celebration and a real chicken dinner on that day. Mrs. Lizzie France who is present every day at the school and who prepares a hot lunch for the children will probably help in keeping the lunches hot and preparing other hot dishes.

RECENT MYSTERY BOOKS (Continued)

We are going to continue our discussion this week on recent interesting books. They are as follows:

1. Dickson, Carter (And So To Murder.) Morrow Publishing Co., $2.00.

(And So To Murder) is a puzzling mystery and murder in an English film studio, entertainingly written.

2. Grayson, Rupert (Gunston, Cotton In Mexico.) Dutton Publishing Company, $2.00.

Gunston, Cotton's most thrilling, packed adventure begins in Tampico, where his mission is to discover just how dangerous to the British Empire is a dancer at the city's most glided den of iniquity.

3. Blochman, Lawrence G. (Wives To Burn.) Harcourt, Brace Publishing Company, $2.25.

India is the back ground for murder, tied up with timely international events. An earlier novel of suspense, (Midnight Sailing) is also included in the volume.

4. Wells, Carolyn (Murder Plus.) Lippincott Publishing Co., $2.00.

Fleming Stone pursues a kidnapper and murdered in the Berkshire foothills of Connecticut.

5. Lovides, Mrs. Belle (The Christine Diamond.) Longman Publishing Company, $2.00.

(The Christine Diamond) is a mystery without a murder, yet with plenty of intrigue, crime, excitement and romance.

6. Cunningham, A. B. (Murder At The School House.) Dutton Publishing Company, $2.00.

A murder mystery with an authentic Kentucky background and colorful Kentucky characters.

For every pound of fuel used in freight service, the railroads in the first eight months of 1940, hauled $2.9 tons of freight and equipment one mile.

Think On These Things . . .

(Dorel R. Kaere)

THANKSGIVING: What Gratitude is . . . It is . . .

The music of heaven in the soul.

One of the fairest and most useful flowers in the garden of the soul.

An assemblage of graces—the gathered honey of the choicest flowers.

A mirror of the soul, reflecting the image of its several benefits.

A bright rainbow in our spiritual atmosphere, displaying the various odors of the rays that call it into being.

Like the orange tree dropping its golden fruit upon the earth whence it derives its nutriment.

Like the verdant willow bending gracefully its boughs to kiss the waters that refresh its roots.

Like a tidal wave returning all its gatherings to the ocean whence it flowed.

Like a sunbeam sparkling on the waters, and then darting by reflection heavenward.

Like an infant with its joyous countenance smiling back its mother's love.

An awakened echo in the heart, responding to the voice of its benefactor.

The vibration of the soul's harp-strings under the soft touch of God's benevolence.—Selected.

God gives no blessing to this world that he does not give thru His Son and our Saviour, Jesus Christ. To accept all of God's blessings and try to be grateful for them, without receiving His Son as our Saviour, is like taking a drink from a puddle near the edge of a fresh flowing stream.

Any man can be thankful for joys and cheers and the things we call good fortune; but only the man who works with God can thank Him for the tears, and find their deeper meaning.
