Seventy-seven Morehead State University students will travel to China March 9-18 where they will perform five concerts including performances in the nation's elite music school, The Central Conservatory, and the Beijing Concert Hall.

Before heading overseas, the Symphony Band and Percussion Ensemble will give one public performance and a last rehearsal.

- The groups will perform for children from East Kentucky on Thursday, March 2, at 10 a.m at the Mountain Arts Center in Prestonsburg.
- On Sunday, March 5, the two bands will have a rehearsal in MSU's Baird Music Hall from 3 to 5 p.m.

The entourage will include seven faculty members. More than 4,000 pounds of equipment will accompany the group.

The overseas venture has been made possible by the sponsorship of more than 1,800 contributors, according to Dr. Richard Miles, director of bands. The trip will be an educational experience as the students will visit the Great Wall, Tiananmen Square, Ming Tombs and the Forbidden City.

Additional information is available from the bands office at (606) 783-2486.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---In March, designated as Women's History Month, Morehead State University will host the ninth Wilma E. Grote Symposium for the Advancement of Women.

The Sunday-Tuesday, March 26-28, conference titled "Coming of Age: Women in the New Millennium," will include a keynote address by Dr. Mary Frances Berry, chair of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission. All of the events will take place on the third floor of the Adron Doran University Center.

In addition to Dr. Berry's address, titled "What Do We Mean by Women's Equality: 2000 and Beyond," there will be a variety of programs from musical entertainment to roundtable discussions.

On Sunday, the Reel World String Band will perform at 7 p.m. in the Crager Room, ADUC. The five Bluegrass women, who have been performing American folk music for 22 years, include Sue Masek on banjo, Bev Futrell on guitar, Karen Jones on fiddle, Elise Melrood on piano and Sharon Ruble on bass.

Registration is set for Sunday, March 26, at 5 p.m., and Monday and Tuesday, beginning at 8 a.m. After the morning registrations, participants may choose from a number of concurrent sessions throughout both days.

Among the sessions are:

"Appalachian Women's Studies: An Argument to Take Appalachian Women Seriously." Panelists Lynda Ann Ewan and Amy Hudock from Marshall University will focus on the role of women in Appalachian history.

"From Chocolate Chips to Micro Chips: A program for Women in Transition." Nancy K. Swanborg, director of the Women's Resource Center at Schoolcraft College in Michigan, will discuss the program she created that addresses the issues relating to women making the move from home to the workplace.

During the symposium, there will be a creative presentation, co-written by Linda K. Williamson, a professor in the School of Arts and Humanities at the University of Texas at Dallas, and Brandi Andrade. "Voicings: A Celebration of American Women," a 65-minute theatrical production, will be accompanied by an annotated reading list on U.S. Women's History.

Registration forms for the conference are available on-line at www.morehead-st.edu/womensymposium or from Dr. Alana Cain Scott at (606) 783-2540. The $40 conference fee covers all activities Sunday through Tuesday, and includes a reception and two lunches.

For those who want to attend the Monday sessions and luncheon only, the fee is $30. A $15 fee covers the Tuesday sessions and brown bag lunch only.

Students, whether or not they are attending MSU, may attend the symposium for the cost of meals. The cost of the Monday luncheon is $10 and the Tuesday brown bag lunch is $5.

Registration fees for conference participants who want to attend either of the lunches must be postmarked by Friday, March 17.

Lodging is available on campus or at off-campus locations. Reservations, for on-campus lodging, must be made by March 20 with Rebecca McGinnis at (606) 783-5174.

The Grote Symposim, sponsored by the Women's Studies Program at MSU, is supported by the Office of Academic Affairs, Office of Multicultural Student Services, Institute for Regional Analysis and Public Policy and the Kentucky Humanities Council.

Additional information regarding the conference is available from Dr. Susan Eacker at (606) 783-2459 or from the symposium's Web site: www.morehead-st.edu/womensymposium.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Participants may learn to use and contribute to the Internet in two new courses being offered by Morehead State University's Office of Continuing Education.

"Introduction to the World Wide Web" will be taught Tuesday, March 21, and repeated Thursday, April 3, from 5 to 7 p.m. "Introduction to HTML (Web pages)" is slated for Thursday, March 23, and repeated Tuesday, April 15, from 5 to 7 p.m.

The two-hour courses, which are designed for new or novice Internet users, meet one time only. Darrell Smith, MSU senior academic consultant/web manager, will be the instructor.

The World Wide Web course will deal with accessing the latest news information on the Internet, for example, stock quotes, weather and world affairs. Participants will establish personal e-mail accounts, create e-mail address books and online calendars. In addition, the class members will learn how to use basic and advanced options of a Web browser.

In the Web page course, participants will use Microsoft FrontPage 2000 to develop basic to intermediate HTML. Those who complete the session should have the information to build a Web site.

The cost for either session is $25. Additional information and registration is available from MSU's Office of Continuing Education at (606) 783-2875.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Arrangements are being finalized for a variety of activities during Morehead State University's annual Founders Day observance on Thursday, April 6.

The University will recognize several individuals who have made significant contributions to MSU's growth through the years, according to President Ronald G. Eaglin.

"We look forward to having members of the community join us in celebrating the University's 78th birthday as a public institution and its 113th since being founded as a private school," Dr. Eaglin stated.

The day will begin with a special breakfast at 8:30 a.m. in the Crager Room of the Adron Doran University Center for retired faculty and staff members. Friends of MSU retirees may purchase tickets in advance at a price of $7.

A meeting of the MSU Retirees Association will follow the breakfast. Dr. John Philley will preside and new officers will be elected.

Scheduled for 10:45 a.m. at the Memorial Plaza in front of Camden-Carroll Library is the memorial bricks ceremony. The names of deceased faculty and staff members will be read aloud to the tolling of a single bell. Bricks bearing the name of each person will be on display and later added to the plaza.

The Founders Day Awards Luncheon is set for noon, also in the Crager Room. It will include presentation of the Founders Day Award for University Service. New MSU Fellows and other benefactors of the University also will be honored. Tickets, at $10 per person, must be purchased in advance.

Founders Day 2000 ends after a 2 p.m. groundbreaking ceremony for the $14 million renovation and expansion of Breckinridge Hall. The former laboratory school is being modernized to house WMKY Radio and the Department of Communications. Completion is expected in late 2001.

Additional information and reservations are available by calling (606) 783-2033.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Morehead State University senior Shannon Heiert has added $5,000 to her student account.

Heiert received a Governor's Scholarship from the Kentucky Restaurant Association Education Foundation. A hotel/restaurant/institutional management major from Brooksville, she will use the award for tuition, fees and books next year.

Governor's Scholarship recipients must be Kentucky residents, have a major in food service and have completed 1,000 hours of work experience in a restaurant during a two-year period. To qualify for the award, Heiert wrote a 500-word essay titled "Why the restaurant industry is the best career choice for the 21st century."

After graduation in May 2001, she wants to pursue a career in hotel or restaurant management. To prepare for that goal, Heiert is working at the front desk of Hilton Suites in Lexington, where she previously completed an internship.

MSU requires students to work 180 hours in both a restaurant and a hotel as part of their internship. "I did more hours than that because I kept the job all summer," Heiert said.

She also had an opportunity to learn a multitude of tasks while completing the internship. "I worked in the housekeeping department, laundry, reservations and at the front desk," Heiert said. "I also did maintenance for a while."

Heiert, who transferred from Cumberland College to the University for her sophomore year, received an MSU Transfer Award. To qualify for this scholarship, she had to have a minimum ACT composite of 20, have completed at least 12 hours of college coursework and be a resident of Kentucky. She must maintain a minimum cumulative 3.0 grade point average to retain the award.

A graduate of Bracken County High School, Heiert is the daughter of Marilyn and Lewis Heiert of Brooksville.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Author and lecturer Dr. Susan Bordo will speak at Morehead State University in March which is designated Women's History Month.

Chi Omega sorority is sponsoring the March 22 lecture titled "Our Bodies, Ourselves in the Empire of Images," according to Mary Jo Netherton, MSU associate professor of French and the sorority's adviser. Dr. Bordo will begin her talk at 7 p.m. in the Commonwealth Room of the Adron Doran University Center.

A professor of English and women's studies at the University of Kentucky, Dr. Bordo earned a doctorate degree in philosophy from State University of New York at Stony Brook. She lectures nationally on contemporary culture and the body, including such topics as eating disorders, cosmetic surgery, beauty and evolutionary theory, racism and the body, masculinity and the male body, sexual harassment, and the impact of contemporary media.

The author of five books, including her most recent titled "The Male Body: A New Look at Men in Public and Private," Dr. Bordo holds the Otis A. Singletary Chair in the Humanities. Her book has been featured in "Mademoiselle," "Elle," "Vanity Fair" and "The New York Times Magazine."

Dr. Bordo's talk is free and open to the public. Additional information is available from Netherton at (606) 783-2779.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Morehead State University wants to make the college decision-making process a little easier for high school students by hosting a Preview Day on Saturday, March 25.

“Preview days provide students with the opportunity to get a taste of what college life is like,” said Cheryl Million, assistant director of admissions/recruitment. The day begins at 9 a.m. in the Adron Doran University Center.

The future University students will take a campus tour, visit academic departments and attend a mini-class, according to Million. In addition, representatives will be on hand to answer questions about admissions, financial aid and residence hall life.

Additional information about the Preview Day is available from the Office of Admissions at (606) 783-2000 or (800) 585-6781.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Morehead State University's Kentucky Zeta Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity will join 151 chapters across the country in implementing a continuous membership development program.

The Balance Man Project (BMP), funded in part by the Sigma Phi Epsilon Educational Foundation, encourages involvement throughout a member's undergraduate experience, changing as the member moves through the years, according to Gary W. Adkins, chapter adviser.

"The program is based on four building blocks: community involvement, experiential learning, mentoring, and brotherhood," Adkins said. "As a member develops, he progresses through four stages of development, or challenges. Each challenge has a maximum duration and specific expectations that all members must meet in order to remain in the chapter."

As the BMP stresses chapter unity, all members are continuously involved in the chapter through experiential learning and community service in addition to a chapter's current programs, Adkins said.

Mentors, recruited from both the undergraduate chapter and the community, help members make decisions and set goals. "Every member must recruit a mentor from the community to serve as a role model and guide him through his career selection process," Adkins said.

Additional information on becoming a mentor for MSU's Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity is available from Adkins at (606) 784-1086.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Several hundred works of art by high school students are on display in Morehead State University's Claypool-Young Art Building.

The artwork is a part of the Kentucky Art Education Association's 2000 regional art exhibit for the Burley/Coal region. High school art teachers submitted up to 20 entries in 17 different categories including painting, mixed media, ceramics, jewelry, photography and computer graphics, according to Jennifer Hart, gallery coordinator.

Participating high schools include: Russell Independent, East Carter, West Carter, Leslie County, Montgomery County, Allen Central, Pikeville, Paul G. Blazer, Harrison County, Lewis County, Knott County Central, Raceland-Worthington Independent, Betsy Layne, Perry County, Perry County Central, Belfry County, Fleming County, Buckhorn, Johnson Central, Hazard, Rowan County and Mason County.

A member of the KAEA, an MSU faculty member and a graduate student will judge the entries, which will be on display in the main gallery through Wednesday, March 29. The winning entries from this region will participate in the state competition in Maysville.

On the last day of the exhibit, high students whose art is displayed will come to MSU. "It's a very exciting day," Hart said. "They will participate in demonstrations and see their art on exhibit in the gallery."

The gallery is open 8 a.m.- 4 p.m., weekdays. There is no admission charge.

Additional information on the show is available from Hart at (606) 783-5446.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Dr. Benjamin K. Malphrus, professor of science and director of Morehead State University's Astrophysics Laboratory, has been recognized for his contributions to the teaching of science by being named the recipient of the Kentucky Science Teachers Association's Distinguished Service Award.

"The award is given to an educator in our state who has made outstanding contributions," said Ken Rosenbaum, executive director of KSTA.

Dr. Malphrus is a graduate of the University of South Carolina where he earned a bachelor's degree in art in 1984 and a master's degree in physics in 1987. After completing a doctoral degree in physics and astronomy from West Virginia University in 1990, he joined the faculty at MSU.

To be chosen for the award, recipients must exhibit an exceptional dedication to science education in the state and be known for their work throughout the scientific education community inside and outside of Kentucky. "KSTA has honored only 22 individuals in the past 26 years," Rosenbaum said.

Dr. Malphrus was selected for his work with science teachers throughout the state including projects such as the Partnership for Reform Initiatives in Science and Mathematics (PRISM), various Eisenhower projects and National Aeronautics and Space Administration and National Science Foundation-funded projects.

Involvement in research of extragalactic astrophysics with science teachers and their students added to his qualifications for the award as did his past work with KSTA, an organization of more than 2,000 members. He served on the board of directors for six years and was president in 1995.

March 10, 2000

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Morehead State University's Office of Continuing Education and the Kentucky Motorcycle Program will offer riding courses this spring on campus and at the Ashland Area Extended Campus Center.

The Riding and Street Skills class is designed for non-riders, new riders or those who want to brush up on their skills. The course offers instruction that covers on-cycle maneuvers in a controlled, off-street environment, learning the proper mounting technique and emergency braking. Participants must be at least 16 years of age to register and those under 18 must have parental consent.

The basic course will be offered on four weekends this spring: April 14-16, May 12-14, June 9-11, and July 21-23, at MSU; April 7-9, May 19-21, June 16-18 and July 28-30 in Ashland. The 20 hours of instruction will be offered 6-10 p.m. on Fridays, and 8 a.m.- 4 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. The fee for RSS is $70.

For riders who want to fine-tune their street skills, the Experienced Rider Course may be an option. The course is designed for individuals who have a current motorcycle license, have access to a street cycle and have riding experience. Classroom instruction includes mental strategies necessary to reduce risk.

The advanced class will be offered from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 27, at MSU and Saturday, June 24, in Ashland. For the minimum eight hours of instruction, the fee is $45.

Due to limited class size, early registration is encouraged. The class will meet in Room 3 of the Waterfield Hall Conference Center on campus and Room 204 at the Ashland Center.

Instructors for the course have been certified by the Motorcycle Safety Foundation and approved by the Motorcycle Rider Education Program.

Additional information and registration is available by calling (606) 783-2067, or by mail to the Office of Continuing Education, Morehead State University, Motorcycle Registration, 112 Waterfield Hall Conference Center, Morehead, KY 40351.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Morehead State University's nationally ranked bowling team will appear on The Nashville Network again next week.

The team participated in TNN's "Rockin' Bowl" competition along with 15 other collegiate teams. In addition to normal bowling, the competition included bowling from a recliner, bowling backwards and relay bowling.

The show will be aired Tuesday, March 14, at 8 p.m. and repeated on Friday, March 17, at 11 p.m.

While the University is on spring break, the bowling team will participate in sectionals Saturday and Sunday, March 18-19, at Eastland Bowling Lanes in Lexington. They will bowl there from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days.

"If you can, drop by and see what kind of teams that we have," said Larry Wilson, the team's coach. "We are ranked number one in the power rankings and number two in the coaches poll."

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Larry Keenan, Morehead State University professor of music, will present his faculty keyboard recital titled "48 Hours" on Tuesday, March 21, at 8 p.m. in Duncan Recital Hall on campus.

The program will feature Keenan's original arrangements and transcriptions that feature a variety of moods and styles ranging from classical to ragtime to religious that might have been encountered by a contemporary performing keyboard artist in an imaginary 48-hour period of time.

Keenan, who has taught at MSU since 1967, has won 19 keyboard competitions. He was the national champion in the professional organist division of the Yamaha Electone Organ Festival and represented the United States at the international festival in Japan.

He has been a national and regional judge for the Yamaha Keyboard Festivals and currently serves as an educational and performing consultant for the Yamaha Corporation.

A past-president of the Kentucky Music Teachers Association, Keenan has performed as the state convention recitalist, as conductor for the All-State Piano Ensemble and as a keyboard clinician/artist at the state convention.

Keenan has served as organist and associate music director of "The Stephen Foster Story" in Bardstown for 34 seasons where he performed more than 2,800 shows as solo keyboardist on the drama keyboards. He continues as accompanist and music director for its promotional group, "The Stephen Foster Story Singers."

A church organist since age 11, Keenan currently serves as organist for the Morehead United Methodist Church and as keyboardist for his home church, the Seventh Day Church of God in Lexington. In 1992, Keenan started "Playing Hands Ministries," a faith ministry and performing outreach service.

Keenan's recital is free and open to the public. Additional information is available by calling him at (606) 783-2479.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Students in Kentucky will have an opportunity to experience the benefits of space technology when the NASA semitrailer makes a stop on the Morehead State University campus Tuesday and Wednesday, March 21-22.

More than 800 students from school systems in the region will visit the exhibit during its stop in Morehead, according to Eric Thomas of the Region 7 Service Center who is coordinating the activity.

The semitrailer, owned and operated by NASA's Johnson Space Center, measures 53 feet long with expandable sides that allows it to nearly double its width, accommodating 30 people at once. It is divided into sections with the Technology Hall of Fame featuring exhibits of the space program spin-offs. A surround-sound theatre, where a 10-minute video is shown, completes the exhibit.

Students and their teachers are scheduled to visit the exhibit from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Tuesday, and 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. on Wednesday. The facility will be open to the public from 4:30 until 8 p.m. on Tuesday. There is no admission charge.

Tours of MSU's Astrophysical Laboratory and Radio Telescope also will be available.

The NASA exhibit is being co-sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Education's Region 7 Service Center, East Kentucky Center for Science and Technology and MSU's Department of Physical Sciences. Additional information is available by calling (606) 783-5418.

A BIT OF SPACE COMES TO MSU

NASA research has allowed Americans to have protective clothing that is available because of space suit technology. Area students will have an opportunity to see examples of this and other technological advances when the NASA semitrailer makes a stop on the Morehead State University campus on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 21 and 22. More than 800 students are registered to visit the exhibit during the two-days. The facility is open for public viewing on Tuesday evening from 4:30 until 8 p.m. The space activity at MSU is sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Education's Region 7 Service Center, East Kentucky Center for Science and Technology and the University's Department of Physical Sciences. Additional information is available by calling (606) 783-5418.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Morehead State University theatre students will present "Peter Pan," Thursday through Saturday, March 30-April 1 in Button Auditorium on the campus. A special matinee performance is scheduled for Friday, March 31 at 11 a.m.

The musical is based on James M. Barrie's play with music by Mark Charlap and lyrics by Carolyn Leigh. Additional music was composed by Jule Styne, Trude Rittman and Elmer Bernstein with additional lyrics written by Betty Comden.

"This popular Broadway musical is entertainment for all ages, according to Dr. Travis Lockhart, director of theatre.

The play will be directed by Dr. William J. Layne, theatre technical director; Christina Swanson, Ashland graduate student, will be the production stage manager; Dr. Greg Detweiler, professor of music, will be the musical supervisor; Sylvia Lane, theatre choreographic adviser, will be the choreographer; Kristopher Castle, Lowmansville junior, will serve as the scenic designer; Emily B. Moses, Cynthiana senior, will be the properties designer; Elizabeth Payne, South Point, Ohio, senior, will be the costumes designer; Dr. Mark E. Mallett, theatre associate technical director, will serve as the lighting designer; and Matt Morpew, Lexington junior, will be the sound designer.

Tickets for the play are $6 for adults, $2 for children and senior citizens and free to MSU students with a valid I.D. card. Reservations are not necessary.

In addition to this production, members of Theta Alpha Phi theatre honor society and MSU Players will offer "A Day of Theatre Workshops" for high school and middle school students on Thursday, March 30. There will be a $5 fee per student for the workshop, which includes admission to the evening performance. The sessions will cover acting, costumes, make-up, sound, lights, set design and dance. Last season, more than 1,000 students participated in special performances with MSU theatre.

Additional information is available by calling MSU's Theatre Box Office at (606) 783-2170.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Morehead State University is offering free, anonymous screenings for alcohol problems as part of National Alcohol Screening Day which will be observed on April 6.

The screenings will be held Tuesday, April 4, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on the second floor of the Adron Doran University Center.

Participants will take a written test and review the results with a health professional. Optional alcohol education sessions will be offered. Some topics include: binge drinking; how to recognize drinking problems; and what happens to the body when drunk.

“It is critical that college students know that alcohol can be a dangerous and life-threatening substance,” said Judy Krug, student wellness coordinator. “Alcohol is frequently a factor in the three leading causes of death -- auto crashes, homicides, suicides -- for 15-24-year-olds, but by learning the facts about alcohol, you can cut your risk and have a good time without endangering yourself and others.”

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Being recognized as a leader in one's field might mean having experience and the right qualifications.

For those in human resources positions, that could also mean having professional certification. To assist in enhancing your credentials, Morehead State University's Office of Human Resources wants to organize a group to accomplish this goal.

Professionals in the human resources field may receive certification as a Professional in Human Resources (PHR) or Senior Professional in Human Resources (SPHR) after passing a national examination. Individuals with at least two years of experience may qualify for the PHR exam while six years of experience is needed for SPHR certification.

To plan for the national examination that is given biannually, Dr. Bob Hatfield, MSU assistant professor of management, will offer a preparation course. "When I taught the SHRM prep class, all my students passed the test on the first try," he said. "While I cannot guarantee the same result, the SHRM material combined with in-class preparation is a formula for success."

Dr. Hatfield holds a Ph.D. degree in organizational behavior/human resources and a minor in public policy (labor relations and human resources in public sector) from Indiana University's School of Business. He has more than 10 years of management experience with a Fortune 500 company.

The preparation course, which will be taught between Oct. 3 and Nov. 21, will consist of six meetings with each session running two and one-half hours.

Additional information and registration is available from Michelle Hardin, MSU assistant director of employment and training, at (606) 783-2097 or her assistant, Kristie Jenkins, at (606) 783-4429, or from the Web site at www.moreheadstae.edu/units/hr.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---The Morehead State University/Central Kentucky Blood Center spring blood drive will have an added dimension this year.

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity is sponsoring a marrow donor registration as part of the CKBC blood drive Tuesday and Wednesday, March 28 and 29, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the Button Drill Room.

Approximately 250 pints of blood is needed each day to satisfy routine and emergency needs in the East and Central Kentucky area and bone marrow donations is another area where fellow Kentuckians need help.

Marrow transplantation is used to combat leukemia and other related cancer and immune system disorders. Marrow used in a transplant must be a close match with the patient's tissue type. For this reason, family members are used as donors whenever possible.

"For many patients, family members are not available or are ineligible," said Glen White, donor resources consultant for CKBC. "That's where the National Marrow Donor Program comes in."

NMDP maintains a worldwide computer registry of tissue type codes of volunteers who are willing to be tested and put on the list. The odds of any listed individual matching a patient are low, so the more people listed, the better the chances, White noted.

Signing up for the registry means completing additional paperwork and having a small test-tube of blood drawn for tissue cross matching.

All blood donors will receive a free gift whether or not they join the registry. A drawing will be held for a free MSU parking pass, courtesy of the Office of Public Safety.

Additional information is available from CKBC at (800) 775-2522.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Students at Morehead State University have made helping those in need a little easier for the Christian Social Services Center.

Forty students in Dr. Brenda Malinauskas-Overton's introductory nutrition classes prepared and donated 25 packages of food to the center's food pantry.

"I wanted (the students) to do something that would actually give back to the community," said Dr. Malinauskas-Overton, assistant professor of nutrition/human sciences.

"We needed to do something nutrition-related."

Each package contained all the non-perishable items needed for an easy-to-prepare meal, nutritional information about the meal and an inspirational message.

The students' donation will enable CSSC to help a few more families. "We usually give between 35 and 40 food boxes per month," said Paul Semisch, a case manager at CSSC. Each box contains a seven-day supply of food.

In addition, Dr. Malinauskas-Overton's junior- and senior-level dietetic students are providing nutrition counseling for weight loss, weight gain and establishing healthy eating habits at MSU's Wellness Center through Friday, April 7.

Interested parties may complete an assessment sheet and make an appointment at the Wellness Center. The initial assessment will take 45 minutes to one hour and follow-up appointments will be approximately 25 minutes each.

Although there is no charge for this service, a recommended $5 contribution would be accepted to benefit the Broken Wing Foundation for MSU student Tony Baker. Donations may be given to any nutrition counselor.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Morehead State University will provide another evening of fun and entertainment at its "Bach to the Future" Spring Gala 2000 which will be held on Saturday, April 29.

In its eighth year, the gala is a benefit that supports MSU's academic programs. This year's net proceeds will be used to create an endowment to support visiting artists and professors in the humanities. The state will be asked to match the funds on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

"This event has raised more than $250,000 since its inception and we are hopeful that this occasion will provide even greater rewards," said Mrs. Bonnie Eaglin, who along with Al Baldwin, Dr. Christopher Gallaher and Susette Redwine, serve as the gala's executive committee.

The evening will provide insight into the life of Johann Sebastian Bach as he travels through a time warp to the future. With harpsichord at hand, Bach will greet guests and share his music.

Gala-goers may enjoy a variety of food dishes, a silent auction and music of all types including classical, big band, traditional and futuristic, as they stroll through the different rooms of the Adron Doran University Center.

To participate in the evening, there are two packages from which to choose, both with a reservation deadline of Wednesday, April 19. The deluxe package, at $125 per person, begins with a 6 p.m. reception in the Adron Doran University Center, followed by dinner at 6:30 p.m. Valet parking will be provided.

Those selecting the second level package, at $50 per person, will begin with a light buffet at 7 p.m. in the Patti Bolin Room, Lloyd Cassity Building.

All attendees may enjoy the featured musical presentation with "The Keyboard Whizzards" in Button Auditorium before returning to ADUC for dancing and food that includes a variety of delectable goodies.

"This is a fun evening and we hope that everyone will join us," Mrs. Eaglin said. The talents of our faculty and students are always a joy."

MOREHEAD, Ky.---There were no injuries in an early morning fire that damaged a two-story former residence on the Morehead State University campus.

No other structures were damaged in the fire, which is being investigated by the Morehead Fire Department.

The fire department was called to the scene at 3:35 a.m. Crews responded with two fire engines and a ladder truck with 19 firefighters and remained on the scene until 7:30 a.m., according to fire chief Dale Adkins.

The building, located near the Combs Building, housed the office of a faculty member and served as storage for the theatre program. Items kept there included period costumes, furniture and an extensive collection of photographs from productions of the last 25 years. The monetary loss has not been determined.

The MSU theatre student production of Peter Pan will remain on schedule for March 30-April 1.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Judy Krug, Morehead State University's student wellness coordinator, was among those attending the Statewide Initiatives Leadership Institute in Tampa, Fla.

The event, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education's Higher Education Center for Alcohol and Other Drug Prevention, addressed efforts to curb college students' underage and high-risk drinking. Since 1996, the center has worked to promote the formation of campus and community coalitions that focus on changing the environmental conditions that encourage student substance use.

Institute participants, representing 25 states, included state government substance abuse offices and alcoholic beverage control agencies, colleges and universities, and state coalitions.

"Statewide college prevention initiatives have dramatically expanded the reach and effectiveness of campus-based prevention efforts," stated William DeJong, director of the Higher Education Center. "Our experience shows that prevention efforts are more successful when campus administrators work hand-in-hand with local and state government officials to limit alcohol sales to underage youth and eliminate irresponsible marketing practices by local bars, restaurants and liquor outlets.

"High-risk drinking among college students is not a problem of the campus alone, but of the entire community."

Krug is regional coordinator of the Kentucky Network of Colleges and Universities Committed to the Elimination of Drug and Alcohol Abuse. She also serves as project coordinator for a $249,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Education that is dedicated to reducing high-risk drinking among college students.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--Michael R. Walters, associate vice president of fiscal services, will continue to serve at the helm of the guiding board for Morehead State University's Campus Partnership Fund.

Walters has been re-elected as president of the fund's board of stewards for the 2000-01 fiscal year. Dr. Wayne A. Morella, professor of industrial education, was elected vice president and Sandra L. Barker, associate director of admissions, was elected secretary/treasurer.

"We are proud of the fact that we have a new mechanism for providing additional financial support to worthy initiatives throughout our campus, especially one that involves us helping ourselves," said MSU President Ronald G. Eaglin.

The board of stewards is responsible for making the annual distributions of contributed and matched money within the Campus Partnership Fund account that result from the annual campus giving campaign

A total of $8,641.50 was contributed to the account during the 1999 campaign that will be matched fifty cents to the dollar by the MSU Foundation, Inc. for a total of $12,962.25 to be distributed campus-wide during the 2000 fall semester. The board will soon begin to discuss a strategy for making these distributions.

Last year, awards were made through a mini-grant competition. The Department of Art and the Office of Research, Grants and Contracts were each awarded $3,000; the Office of the Physical Plant received $2,950; and the Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education was awarded $1,250.

The board of stewards is comprised of nine members elected from faculty and staff contributors to the Campus Partnership Fund.

Newly elected to serve three-year terms on the board are: Darryl S. Grimes, Dr. Michael Hopper and Barker. Members completing two-year terms are Phyllis J. Dehart, Robin J. Wicker, and Dr. Morella. Completing one-year terms are Jeffrey L. Barker, Russell W. Thurman and Walters.

"Each of these faculty and staff colleagues are deserving of all of our thanks for their important work," Dr. Eaglin said.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Approximately 850 students are expected to participate in Morehead State University's Regional Foreign Language Festival on Friday, April 14, on the campus.

The students will represent 15 senior high schools and four middle schools throughout East Kentucky, according to Mary Jo Netherton, MSU associate professor of French and festival coordinator.

High schools participating are Bath County, Buckhorn, Sheldon Clark, Fleming County, McCreary Central, Paul Blazer, Menifee County, Rowan County Senior, Greenup County, Paintsville, Boyd County, Johnson Central, East Carter, Elliott County and Raceland-Worthington high and middle school. Other middle schools include Boyd County, Simons and Holy Family.

The event includes academic competition in listening, speaking and writing proficiency, literary recitation; extemporaneous prose reading; drama; and construction models in French, German, Latin, Russian and Spanish. Non-academic events include frameable art, realia, costumes and chorus in the same languages. These competitions, which will be held in the Adron Doran University Center and Button Auditorium, are open to the public.

Faculty members from MSU's Department of English, Foreign Languages and Philosophy, graduates, and area residents will serve as festival judges. Assisting Netherton will be Vandy Trent, departmental secretary; Rita Atiase, a senior from Ghana, Africa, as the student director, and MSU students majoring foreign languages, as judges' assistants.

Additional information on the festival is available by calling (606) 783-2779 or 783-2582.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Twenty-six new Morehead State University Fellows will be recognized at the University's Founders Day Awards Luncheon on Thursday, April 6, in the Adron Doran University Center on the campus.

The 2000 Fellows include Mick and Linda Barker of Henderson, Nev.; Sarah Betty Blong of Cincinnati; and Wayne and Brenda Judy of Westerville, Ohio;

Charles E. Chatfield of Ashland; C. Gerald and Angela S. Martin of Winchester; and Bill, Beverly and John Vice of Lexington;

Brian and Mica Abrams, Alan and Yvonne Baldwin, Francene and Vincent Butler, Jami M. Hornbuckle, Dennis and Carole Karwatka, Mark and Joyce Minor, Larry and Mary Jo Netherton, and David R. and Mary Rudy, all of Morehead.

This brings the total of MSU Fellows to more than 300. To become part of this elite group, an individual or couple must provide a cash gift of $10,000 or a property gift value at $12,500 or a deferred gift in the amount of $25,000. The cash requirement may be achieved through minimum annual gifts of $1,000.

Also during the noon luncheon, MSU will honor several of the University's special friends: the Volunteer Fund Raiser, Russ McClure of Frankfort; Outstanding Faculty/Staff Fund Raisers, Madonna Weathers and April Haight; the Most Valuable Giver, the late Thomas Raymond Curtis, a native of Flat Gap in Johnson County; and the Foundation Board Member of the Year, James P. Pruitt Jr. of Pikeville.

The keynote address will be given by Dr. Lucian Yates III, superintendent of the 9,000-student Harrisburg (Pa.) School District. As the chief executive officer, he is responsible for developing an overall educational plan which includes public relations, curriculum and leadership development, financial analysis and employment recruitment.

Dr. Yates has been instrumental in developing a partnership with Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pa., to recognize outstanding urban teachers, designing the equity audit and writing the discrimination/harassment procedures.

(MORE)

In his nearly 30 years in education, he has held posts as a teacher, principal and most recently as an assistant superintendent in Jefferson County, before moving to Harrisburg.

Author of numerous publications, including "The Learning Styles of African American Males," a training module that is being presented nationwide, Dr. Yates was invited to serve as an international consultant in St. Petersburg, Russia, and to work with ambassadors in establishing partnerships between schools in the U.S. and Africa.

Active in his community, Dr. Yates received the Outstanding African-American Leader award from Shippensburg University, served on the board of the Keystone Area Council of Boys Scouts of America and is a member of Rotary Club of Harrisburg.

A two-time graduate of MSU, the educator earned A.B. and B.S. degrees in history and political science, respectively in 1974, an M.A. degree in history and education in 1977, and the Ph.D. degree in curriculum, instruction and supervision from Ohio University in Athens in 1994.

The deadline to purchase luncheon tickets is Friday, March 31. The cost is $10 per person.

To kickoff the Founders Day celebration, MSU faculty and staff retirees will be honored at a special breakfast hosted by President Ronald G. Eaglin. At 10:45 a.m., 39 individuals will be honored for their service to the University in a memorial brick ceremony at the Little Bell Tower.

Following the luncheon, a groundbreaking ceremony will be held for the Breckinridge Hall project to officially begin the $14 million renovation/expansion that is expected to be completed in late 2001.

Additional information on the Founders Day celebration and ticket reservations for the noon luncheon are available by calling the Office of Development and Alumni Relations at (606) 783-2599 or (800) 833-4483.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---A new scholarship program has been established by the Kentucky Counseling Association to help students who are interested in pursuing a career in counseling.

Currently, there is a shortage of counselors in some regions of the state, both in school and community agencies, according to Dr. Deborah Abell, interim chair of the Department of Leadership and Secondary Education at Morehead State University. "The shortage is projected to increase as community programs develop and school counselors retire," she said.

To encourage students to consider counseling as a career choice, KCA and seven participating universities established the Summer Scholarship Program. The assistance includes both tuition and money for books for the 2000 summer session.

The participating universities are Eastern Kentucky University, Western Kentucky University, University of Louisville, Murray State University, Lindsey Wilson College, Xavier University in Cincinnati and MSU.

Applicants must complete an application, which is available online at www.kyca.org/KCASchorApplication.htm, document acceptance at a participating university and provide a letter of recommendation by Saturday, April 15. All materials should be mailed to Dr. Bill Braden, KCA executive director, 622 Timothy Dr., Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

Additional information is available from Dr. Abell at (606) 783-5207 or from the KCA Web site at www.kyca.org/KCASummer2000Scholarhip.htm.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---As a mother of three children and two grandchildren, Pamm Wainscott helps with a lot of homework. As a Morehead State University student, she has homework of her own that comes with pursuing two undergraduate degrees.

“Usually, we all do our homework together,” said Wainscott of Morehead. A native of Georgetown, Ohio, she started an “achievement wall” at her home to show all of the good grades she and her children earn.

“At the end of the month, the one with the most A’s gets a milkshake and everyone else gets an ice cream cone,” she said. Recently, the United States Achievement Academy recognized Wainscott as an All-American Scholar after being nominated by Dr. Marc Glasser, MSU associate vice president of academic affairs and dean of graduate and undergraduate programs.

The criteria for selection includes academics, attitude, citizenship, dependability and leadership. Wainscott’s name and biography will be listed in the USAA collegiate directory and she will be eligible to apply for All-American Scholar scholarships.

Wainscott, a junior majoring in marketing and horticulture, enrolled in her first MSU classes in the fall of 1997. “I always knew I wasn’t finished learning when I graduated from high school in the ‘70s,” she said.

During that first semester, she second-guessed her decision to become a college student. Since that time, she has accumulated a grade point average above 3.0 and has been on the Dean’s List.

Active on campus, she is a member of the Non-Traditional Eagles Society and the Pinnacle Honor Society for non-traditional students and is a recipient of a Kentucky Garden Club scholarship.

After graduation, she said she dreams of owning acreage where children can come to learn about butterflies, birds and plants. She also thinks about pursuing a Ph.D. degree so she can teach at the college level or work as an extension agent.

MT. STERLING, Ky.---The Morehead State University choirs will present a concert Thursday, April 6, at 7:30 p.m. at First Christian Church in Mount Sterling.

The touring vocal groups include the Concert Choir, of 50 students, the Chamber Singers and OperaWorks. Dr. Greg Detweiler, assistant professor of music, directs the Concert Choir and Chamber Singers. Dr. Roma Prindle, associate professor of music, directs OperaWorks.

The performance is part of a five-day concert tour throughout eastern and northern Kentucky and southern Ohio. MSU students from the area who are performing on the tour include Christopher Conley, a Mount Sterling sophomore; Laura Gabbard, a Mount Sterling junior; Norvel Perkins, an Owingsville senior; and Jessica Williams, a Jeffersonville sophomore.

The Concert Choir will open the program with "Be Merciful Unto Me, O God" by March Murphy, conducted by Jonathan Adkins, a senior music major from Salt Lick. "The first part of the program will continue with a variety of sacred music moving from joyful praise to intense pain and longing, and closing with a return to assurance and praise," Dr. Detweiler said.

The focal point of the performance will be Edwin Fissinger's "By the Waters of Babylon," a contemporary work for soprano and choir, which illustrates the emotions of the people of Judah during their exile in Babylon, Dr. Detweiler noted. Dr. Prindle will sing a soprano solo during the piece.

Later in the program, the Concert Choir will perform "Exultae Deo" by Palestrina, "Nachtens" by Johannes Brahms and "Great Day," arranged by Warren Martin.

OperaWorks will feature excerpts from Henry Purcell's "Dido and Aeneas." Andrea Trusty, a Mize freshman and mezzo soprano, will play the role of Dido. Christopher Conley, a Mt. Sterling sophomore and tenor, will play the role of Aeneas. The opera tells the tragic story of one of history's first known depressed women, Queen Dido of Carthage, and the man who loves her, Aeneas, the ruler of Troy, according to Dr. Prindle.

The Chamber Singers will feature Morten Lauridsen's choral work, "Les Chansons des Roses," or "Rose Songs." "The songs are a joyous, playful and highly romantic set of five pieces using poems on roses by Rilke," Dr. Detweiler said.

The singers also will perform the English Madrigal "O Stay Sweet Love" by John Farmer, the jazz ballad "London Night" arranged by Gene Peurling and the King Singers' arrangement of Randy Newman's "Short People."

The concert is free open to the public. Additional information is available from Dr. Detweiler at (606) 783-2480.

MOREHEAD, Ky.--After playing together for five years, two Morehead State University musician/educators decided to collaborate on a compact disc.

Jay Flippin, associate professor of music, and Dr. Gordon Towell, assistant professor of music, recorded "Ask Me Now" on Ballpark Records, their own company. The album is a series of jazz duets between Flippin on piano and Dr. Towell on saxophone.

"We decided to work together as we enjoy performing together and each other's company," Dr. Towell said. "We have been playing together and sort of have a musical affinity for each other's playing."

Three of the disc's tracks are original compositions, "A Sunday Lakeside" and "Alisong" by Dr. Towell and "The Nite Owl" by Flippin. The other tracks are jazz and popular music standards such as the title song by Thelonius Monk.

"Our CD has been selling very well in Morehead at Coffeetree, Mainstreet Music and Chris's Guitar Shop and in Lexington at Joseph Beth," Dr. Towell said. "It has been played on WMKY, WUKY, and WVRG."

An MSU faculty member since 1969, Flippin has been an accompanist for more than 1,000 concerts and recitals and has written more than 1,000 compositions and arrangements for solo piano to full orchestra and chorus. In addition, Flippin has written more than 300 radio/television jingles and commercial projects.

Dr. Towell is a frequent adjudicator and guest soloist/conductor across Canada and the United States. As a saxophonist, he has performed with numerous entertainers including the Manhattan Transfer, the Temptations, the Four Tops, Aaron Neville, Peabo Bryson, Roberta Flack, Melissa Manchester, the Lexington Philharmonic, the Indianapolis Symphony, the Edmonton Symphony and the Richmond Symphony.

The duo is rehearsing to record another compact disc with the MSU faculty jazz quintet. They also are discussing plans for another collaboration.

Additional information is available from Dr. Towell at (606) 783-2198 or Flippin at (606) 783-2403.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Dr. Earl Bentley, a former administrator, professor and coach, will be the recipient of the 2000 Founders Day Award for University Service at Morehead State University on Thursday, April 6.

Presentation of the award will be made during the awards luncheon, which begins at noon in the Crager Room of the Adron Doran University Center. Dr. Lucian Yates III, an MSU alumnus who is superintendent of the Harrisburg School District in Harrisburg, Pa., will give the keynote address. The University will recognize 26 new fellows and a number of special awards will be given.

The award, established in 1978 by the Board of Regents, is given annually to recognize those who have given superior service to the University. Dr. Bentley has been described as a “generous, friendly and loyal man who has been a devoted supporter of MSU for more than 30 years.”

Numerous former students cite Dr. Bentley’s influence on their lives as being a factor in their success on the job and in family life. “He is a man of integrity and honor; a father figure during my time at Morehead State and after graduation,” one student noted.

An Alabama native, Dr. Bentley earned a bachelor’s degree from Troy State University, a master’s degree from the University of Tennessee and an Ed.D. degree from the University of Southern Mississippi.

Dr. Bentley came to the University in 1959 as a football coach and faculty member in the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. He would add coach of track and women’s soccer to his experiences before being named chair of the department, where he would remain until retirement in 1989.

While serving as defensive coordinator for the football team, Dr. Bentley’s defenses ranked in the top three defensive teams in the Ohio Valley Conference and in the top 20 defensive teams in Division 1-AA, nationally.

During his tenure at MSU, Dr. Bentley served on the board of certification for elementary physical education and driver's education, initiated new courses including "Use and Abuse of Drugs," and started the master's degree program in HPER, as well as the Emergency Medical Technician program and the National Youth Sports Program for area youngsters that continues at MSU today.

Since his retirement, Dr. Bentley has continued to support activities on campus. He and his wife LeMerle, who retired as an assistant librarian after more than 20 years at the University, are members of the Retiree Advisory Committee. He also serves as a member of the Board of Directors of the MSU Alumni Association.

Active in the community, Dr. Bentley is a member of the Rowan County Retired Teachers Association and a volunteer for the American Cancer Society, where he serves on the planning committee for the Relay for Life and participates in the Road to Recovery program. He is a deacon at the First Baptist Church.

Dr. Bentley and his wife live in Morehead. They have two children and four grandchildren.

Also on the Founders Day schedule will be a memorial brick ceremony to honor faculty and staff members, which begins at 10:45 a.m. at the Memorial Plaza. An official ceremony for the groundbreaking for the $14 million Breckinridge Hall renovation and addition project will be held at 2 p.m.

Additional information on the Founders Day activities is available by calling (606) 783-2599 or (800) 833-4483.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Dr. Wayne Willis has studied education, journalism, theology, art and photography, but his most challenging endeavor to date has been as a dad.

A professor of education in Morehead State University's College of Education and Behavioral Sciences, Dr. Willis became a father eight years ago when he and his wife adopted their daughter, Suzannah. He said his experience while waiting for her inspired him to write a children's book entitled, "This Is How We Became a Family."

The children's book, which he also illustrated, was published by Magination Press in Washington, D.C. It is the story of a young woman who becomes pregnant, but decides she cannot care for her baby, Dr. Willis said. The expectant mother does not have a home, a car or enough money to raise a child, so she decides to let a couple, who cannot have children, adopt her child.

In the end, both the young woman and the couple with the new daughter are happy.

"All writers write from their own experiences, and this one is our story," Dr. Willis said. "I told it for Suzannah and I hope the rest of the world will enjoy it."

Dr. Willis has read his book to more than 1,000 public school children. When he does this, he takes the original canvas paintings to illustrate as he reads. These paintings, which were sized to fit the book, took approximately 23 drafts and four years to perfect.

He currently has several other children's and young adult books in progress and is under contract to co-author a scholarly book that will compare education in the United States, England and Russia.

A faculty member at MSU since 1988, Dr. Willis served two years as director of the Morehead Writing Project, an affiliate of the National Writing Project, where he received $200,000 in grants to help public school teachers improve their writing and their teaching of writing.

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Tracy McCall and Karen Jordon of Vanceburg are among the students whose art will be shown in Morehead State University's sophomore art show.

Their work will be displayed in the main gallery of the Claypool-Young Art Building, beginning Wednesday, April 5. The show is part of the requirement for art majors and minors who have completed at least 45 credit hours, but less than 75 hours of classes.

"The students choose four to six pieces they have created over the past two years," said Jennifer Hart, gallery coordinator. "Sometimes they submit more or sometimes the piece is so big they submit one."

An opening reception, which is free and open to the public, will be held Wednesday, April 5, at 7 p.m. The show will be on display through Friday, April 14. The gallery is open 8 a.m.-4 p.m., weekdays. There is no charge for viewing.

At the end of the show, Department of Art faculty members will critique each of the 24 participating students' work.

Additional information is available from Hart at (606) 783-5446.
