ONE OF KENTUCKY'S GREATER WEEKLIES" MOREHEAD, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 1, 1941 NUMBER EIGHTEEN

VOLUME VIII

Few people knew that MOREHEAD STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE had baseball game with Cedarville College last Saturday. And few people know that we have a team that looks fairly good. They have a pretty good schedule but it can't be complete without A. B. McKinney and Otto Carr in the bleachers. We have something for you baseball fans and its our solemn duty to support our team. We have Munsky our pitcher who gets a little fast and makes a little bull. We have bawled boys on the team that could not stop a sheep and its fun to watch them grab the sheep. Our base Wiggins has a bad foot and a bag of noodle-je-do. Fact is, I think it is almost impossible to play in this town. Well, he is no tenderfoot and he has had some tough going under Miller and Carr. You think you have had a tough time. Listen bud, you are in for it now if you have money to spend but at least you will be paid around by a little girl much smaller than you and that she will be having you eating out of the hand and you will like it. She is a grand girl, boy, but she is a no-account. And women are no account. You would think that you would know a word from his little wife. Napoleon had a good wife, but she too, caused him trouble. Napoleon had a good wife, but she too, caused him trouble. Napoleon had a good wife, but she too, caused him trouble.

There's a Bond Issued Especially For Every Type Of Investor

The United States Defense Savings Bonds and Postal Savings stamps will be placed on sale in the Morehead Post Office at the opening of business on Thursday, May 1, as a part of the national effort to make America impressive.

Postmaster, W. E. Crutcher announced today that plans are completed for this community, along with thousands of others throughout the country, to do its full part at the opening of the savings program. It is expected that the Mayor, President of the State Teachers College, and other civic leaders will be among the first purchasers of savings bonds and stamps here.

Breck Makes Fine Showing In Ky. Music Contests

Earn Two "Superior" Ratings, One "Excellent," And One "Good"

Breckinridge Training School of Morehead State Teachers College made a fine showing again this year in the Kentucky High School Music Festival and Contest. The finals in the vocal events were held at the University of Kentucky last Friday and Saturday and four chorals from Breckinridge participated in the Regional High School Mixed Chorus and its Girls Glee Club were both rated "Superior," the former standing alone, the latter with one equal. Wilmore, the mixed chorus was directed by Mr. L. H. Horton, while the girls glee club was directed by Mr. J. C. Oppenheimer, a college Senior and resident of Morehead, who is now taking supervised teaching practice under Mr. Horton's direction. Miss Oppenheimer also prepared the girls vocal trio and the vocal solos which Breckinridge entered in the Morehead Regional Contest a few weeks ago. Miss Mary Turley Rawlings, another Senior, of Mt. Sterling, was piano accompanist for all the solos.

The Junior High Boys Glee Club, directed by a rating of "Excellent" as did Bryan Station, but no others were rated as high or higher; while the Morehead Girls Glee Club, directed by Mr. Keith Davis received a rating of "Good," despite the local opinion that they were better this year than last, when they were rated "Excellent."

The United States Department of Agriculture is bringing before the farmers of the nation the importance of producing all necessary food possible for home and abroad as well as certain food products that will be needed for export. Dairy, poultry, pork products and truck crops have a very important place in the program. It is pointed out that there is a scarcity of feeder pigs and that all of such heavier weights, than generally recommended, in order to offset a threatening shortage. Farmers are also being urged to produce more eggs and dairy products. The national Government has taken steps to stabilize the market for these products assuring farmers a profitable price until June, 1943.

Large Attendance Expected For Go-To Sunday-School Day

To Be Observed By Local Churches With Special Programs

Next Sunday, May 4th, hundreds of Sunday Schools throughout the State will observe the twenty-seventh annual GO-TO-SUNDAY-SCHOOL DAY in Kentucky. In Morehead, the observance will be carried out by the individual Sunday Schools, which have made special preparations for the day and have carried out a great deal of effort to make this the greatest Sunday School Day attendance in the history of the annual event.

Go-To-Sunday-School Day is a Kentucky-Sunday-School Day Association. It was first observed on Sunday, May 4, 1914. The time has been part of the annual program of the Association. The idea originated with Dr. George A. Joplin, at that time General Secretary of the Association. Dr. Joplin's friends over the State will be interested to know that he celebrated his eightieth birthday on April 29th.

"The Sunday Schools of the nation and no less of Kentucky have been a service and to improve the support of everyone interested in the teaching of the Bible and the development of the Christian life. Speaking of the importance of the Sunday School, in a recent article, J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said: "Crime among youth would become practically negligible if the young people of America attended Sunday School regularly during the formative years. Surely no one cognizant of the true crime situation in the United States could be..."

Back Stage Interviewer Finds Performers Interesting

Says Musicians Are "Real People"

"If they're good, we'll go back again if not we won't give any space to the Wednesday night by-com." Speaking thus, we joined

Baby Chicks

...the audience to hear the concert given by Louise Bannerman, harpist, Louise Foote, violinist, and the accompanist, Mary Parmelee.

After the long program was completed we joined the usual throng behind the curtains. Not only did we find that Miss Foote has a sweet personality, but we got to see the harp being "put to bed." The case in it to which the boys carefully eased the golden replica of what-we-want-to-play-when-we-reach-Heaven, even had a mirror. We found that the reason the strings had to be tuned so often during the concert was due to the difference in temperature on the stage and behind the curtains. Do these women get around? Miss Bannerman's home is in Long Island, while the other two are residents of New York City. These young ladies, in their station wagon for the express purpose of presenting a two-hour concert, and had to be back in New York in time for Miss Foote to catch a train for a concert in Boston this weekend. Last week Miss Bannerman flew to Iowa to ten concerts in twenty-five states and Cuba, and made seventy-three appearances last season.

They seemed to be impressed with Morehead, our college, and the surrounding territory, commenting graciously on the lovely panorama of budding green trees, blossoming dogwood and redbud trees, despite the fact that they were shrouded by gray mists and drizzling rains.

To get back to the music, we enjoyed the entire program, and we would have liked Miss Foote as violinist better had we not before heard our talented instructor, Louise Davison, play the same selections. However, she is good, and certainly lives each note she plays. Not having anyone with whom to compare Miss Bannerman's skill on the harp, we certainly agree with other comments that she is in the front ranks of the present day concert harpists. The last selection which was presented, Mendelsohn's On Wings of Song, brought the combination of skill and technique of all three artists, the harpist, the violinist, and the accompanist.

Talking with the young harpist, we agreed with several members of the audience, that she could win any audience with her beauty alone. A sparkling youth and grace are added assets with talent. She said her mother played the harp, and first gave her lessons, and admitted that she played the piano "frantically" for her twelfth year studying the harp, and while in high school Miss Bannerman won a scholarship at the Junior Conservatory of Music, and at sixteen became the young harpist to be invited to play at a White House music party.

We delved into Miss Foote's private life, found that she began studying the violin at the age of five, and is originally from Cincinnati. She was very complimentary about Miss Bannerman, and we dubbed her the "personality number of the troupe." This is their first appearance together, but Miss Foote has been on tour for about four years. Prying deeper into her personal life, we found that none of the girls are married, but she is engaged. The husband-to-be of the violinist is an English teacher in an Eastern boys school and what more, is a musician. They met at a concert in 1937 in Town Hall, and since has been guest soloist with well-known orchestras in the East.

All in all, we want most guests artists with talent and beauty like the Wednesday night performers. Despite the fact that lessons had to be prepared for the next day, that students are still recovering from the cold, everyone seemed to enjoy the program as much as we did.

Agriculture Tips

By H. C. HAGGAN
Morehead State College

SPRAYING GRAPES

The grape is almost as old as civilization but the types grown at home in eastern Kentucky are mostly of American origin. The European grape is not used in this section of the country due to many reasons. Whether one lives in the country or in town grapes loved to be had for the table and are easy to produce if a good spray schedule is followed. Each year the Department of Agriculture of the Morehead State Teachers College is asked: "why do grapes not rot on the vine about the time they should be ripening?" The rotting is due to a fungous disease known as Black Rot and can be easily eradicated by a little effort. There are other diseases that attack the grape but most of these are controlled with the same spray material used in Black Rot control. For lack of space the spray schedule will be discussed as briefly as possible.

The grape is also attacked by insects, aphids or sucking insects, and chewing insects. Spray schedules may be given when there are no leaves on the vine. This spray is called the dominant spray. Scale insects have been noticed on the vines at a number of places this year. To control these use liquid sulphur 1 gallon to make up 8 gallons of spray, or use oil emulsion 1 pint to every inch of the cane, as good spraying means to use the right material at the right strength, at the right time, and covering every inch of surface.

When new growth is about one inch long the grape should be sprayed with Bordeaux mixture (4-3-50). This means that, four pounds of copper sulphate is dissolved in water (in wooden container) and mixed with five lbs. of hydrated lime, adding water to make up fifty gallons. The Bordeaux mixture can be purchased as a ready mixed spray but when purchased this way it comes rather high in price. If a 4-4-50 mixture is bought at the store about eight pounds would be had. This would mean four pounds of copper sulphate and four pounds of hydrated lime would be in it thus making eight pounds. To make 4-3-50 mixture, one would be in it thus making eight pounds. Then to make the 4-5-50 mixture one would need an additional pound of hydrated lime. This material would cost not less than twenty-five cents per pound in that quantity while the copper sulphate crystals could be purchased separately at about ten cents per pound. The time we cost about one cent per pound. Spraying can always be done cheaper where the grower will take time to mix up his own spray. The Bordeaux mixture controls Black Rot, Mildews, and other fungous diseases.

When the clusters are breaking which is about two weeks later, the grapes are sprayed again with Bordeaux mixture to which a spreader is added. The spreader can be a pound of soap chips dissolved in a small amount of water and added to the Bordeaux. This makes the spray stick much tighter and spread more easily. When the blossoms are opening, repeat the Bordeaux spray.

After the blossoms fall, spray with Bordeaux mixture again to which is added one and one-half pounds of lead arsenate. This mixture will control the fungous diseases as well as the chewing insects.

When the berries get about the size of peas and before they begin to touch add another mixture of Bordeaux with lead arsenate. If any sucking insects are present add to the Bordeaux-lead arsenate spray about one-half pint of nicotine sulphate to make up the fifty gallons. Repeat this about two weeks later if leaf hoppers and aphids are present. If Black Rot is still present, use another application of Bordeaux without the lead arsenate. If small quantities are desired for the same vines, reduce this quantity. For example, suppose one wanted to mix three gallons of spray, then he would use a handful of soap chips, five ounces of hydrated lime, and one and one-half ounces of lead arsenate. If soap is added to this use a handful of soap chips. Nicotine sulphate is usually added at rate of 1 teaspoonful to each gallon of solution. One will be greatly surprised at the quality of grapes obtained by following a good spray schedule.

NEW ECONOMIC BOOKS ACQUIRED BY OUR COLLEGE LIBRARY

This week we are going to discuss some of the important books in the field of Economics. They are:

college library has. They are as follows:

1. Stanley, Eugene. (World Economy In Transition.) Published by Council On Foreign Relations, $3.00.

2. Power, politics and technological progress are forcing rapid changes in world economy. What this means in terms of living standards, and economic pressure is analyzed by Professor Staley.

He treats interestingly and objectively such issues as heretofore neglected by technology and politics; the best of world resources; laissez faire and planning; the challenge of war to the economic system; and the problems of policy in a "mixed" system partly planned and partly free. He shows how the stresses and strains of a world in transition affects in particular the economy of the United States.

3. Glover, Katherine. (America Begins Again.) Whittlesy House Publishing Company, $2.75.

This book is a dramatic review of what America has done with her rich stores of natural resources. First the background is sketched, the story of a developing youthful country, embarked upon a hitherto untried experiment in government, opening and settling new frontiers, adjusting itself to a mechanical and industrial age, and then to a world war and to a major depression. Against this is presented the sorry picture of what happened to the soil, the waters, the forests, the mines and the wild life. Then finally there is the outline of the conservation movements, its leaders, its projects, and the hope it offers to an America that must begin again.

NEW SCIENTIFIC BOOKS ACQUIRED BY OUR COLLEGE LIBRARY (Continued)

This week the discussion of new books in the field of Science, from our college library has recently to its collection will be continued. They are as follows:

1. Lynde, C. J. (Science Experiences With Inexpensive Equipment.) International Textbook Company, $1.60.

This book, the second of a series, describes and explains twenty different new Science Experiences, and leads the pupil who finds fun in making things happen with simple equipment many steps farther along the way of elementary experimentation. The first fifty-five of these new experience require only home equipment, and fifteen additional, but inexpensive, equipment is needed.

2. Needham, Joseph and Paget, Walter, editors. (Background To Modern Science.) The book is made up of ten lectures at Cambridge arranged by the History of Science Committee. (Background to Modern Science) presents a complete survey of the background of modern science, each section being the work of an expert in the subject with which it deals.

3. Hilliken, R. A. (Comic Rays.) Macmillan Publishing Company, $2.50.

This book contains a full history of the discovery and investigation of cosmic rays and their effects. In an introductory chapter Professor Millikan writes generally of the contribution made to human society by pure science, and makes use of the discovery of modern science, each section progress. In the remaining chapters he describes in detail the stages by which the present position has been reached, giving accounts of the experimental methods used and illustrating his thesis throughout with many a shine cloud-chamber photograph, as well as with diagrams, tables, and photographs or apparatus.

Teacher—"Describe the manners and customs of the people of Central Africa."

Pupil—"They ain't got no manners and they don't wear no costumes."

Who's Who Book Released Soon

Morehead Placed Nine Students This Year

The seventh edition of "WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES" will be released the second week in May. Heretofore, the book has been released from the office of the publishers in April. This year the publishers have been making up separate sections of the book for various companies and it will be delayed a few days.

The motivating idea behind the project is to establish a reference source of authoritative information on the great body of American College Students. Extra-curricular activities are equally important as an index to a student's ability and we have put much emphasis of selection on that phase of college life and not on scholarship alone. Annually we publish a compilation of biographies of outstanding students in America. Only juniors and seniors and students who are taking advanced work are selected. Every phase of college activity of college life is included in one section of the book. A poll of over fifty questions is included. There is information included which is not available in any other book printed. This is a book which is of value to the college libraries to the business and social world, and to the students.

For the last several years, the complete volume has been sent to nearly five hundred persons, managers of large companies to be used in recruiting students; however, this year, the book and graphics have been divided into the various departmental sections; for instance, a folder has been made for Mechanical Engineers, another pamphlet of Aeronautical Engineers, one of Chemical Engineers, one of Chemical Engineers and these folders are being sent to those companies who are interested in employing these types of students. If the results justify it, next year there will be a complete section of every student, classified under "Teacher," "Salesman," etc. This year we have included only Mechanical Engineers, Aeronautics, Chemical Engineers, Electrical Engineers and Civil Engineers so far. Work is progressing on the salesman section folder.

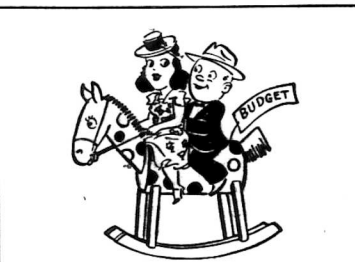

organizations showed that WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES rated first in 144 colleges, second in 110 colleges, third in 90 colleges, and fourth in 45 colleges. We realize that there is no definite way to rate honorary organizations, but the fact that WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES being only seven years old did have a rating like this, is very pleasing to those students who made it this year and who have made it in the past.

Political Announcement

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 3RD MAGISTRAL DISTRICT: I wish to take this means to announce to the voters of the third magistral district that I will be a candidate for the nomination for Magistrate, subject to the action of the Republican Primary to be held Saturday, August 2, 1941.

I have lived in this precinct for twenty-five years, and for the past twelve years have been a merchant. I am not a stranger to any you, and have had dealings with most of you.

I am for better roads and a better community in which to live, and if nominated and elected I will faithfully fulfill the duties of this office to the very best of my ability. I feel that my record as a citizen, neighbor and merchant among you speaks for itself, and if nominated and elected I shall render the same fair and honest service that I have given the people of my district in private life. I shall be no respecter of persons, but shall give everyone alike a fair and square deal, honestly.

I should like to be magistrate this term in order to do everything in my power to obtain better roads for this district which are badly in need of repair. This is all I ask of the voters. You help me, and I will help you! Your support and influence will be sincerely appreciated. Thank you. Respectfully, JAMES H. BRAMMER
