Rowan Schools Shows Increase In Number

Four Consolidated Schools Open With Big Increase, Near 1,500 Mark

Rowan County Consolidated Schools, which opened on Monday, September 3, have universally increased their enrollments over the previous year. Haldeman, Morehead Farmers and Elliottville have stepped up to the point where the prediction of approximately 1,500 enrolled in the four consolidated schools of the county is about to be realized. These enlarged enrollments, coupled with those enrolled in the rural schools, gives Rowan county a school enrollment of nearly 3,000.

Enrollment at Morehead High School has reached a new high, according to figures released this week by Miss Ethel Ellington, principal of the school. A total of 516 pupils were enrolled in all grades according to the enrollment report, exceeding the total enrollment of the school during the past year by a number of students.

Enrollment by grades is as follows:

- Grade 1: 32 pupils.
- Grade 2: 36 pupils.
- Grade 3: 46 pupils.
- Grade 4: 45 pupils.
- Grade 5: 60 pupils.
- Grade 6: 46 pupils.
- Grade 7: 42 pupils.
- Grade 8: 25 pupils.
- Grade 9: 49 pupils.
- Grade 10: 57 pupils.
- Grade 11: 49 pupils.
- Grade 12: 29 pupils.

The prospects are for one of the big years in the history of the school. The senior class it will be noted has 29 students at present, and bids fair to be the largest class in every short time a number of subscriptions now due or past due and several hundred new subscriptions.

The explanation is simple. The Herald is anxious to clean up in a very short time a number of subscriptions now due or past due and several hundred new subscriptions. The explanation is simple. Morehead Takes War Calmly, Asks For Rain

It is the first time in the history of Rowan county that anyone here has been interested in whether or not it rained in Poland. On Tuesday of this week, however, the announcement that rain was falling in Poland was an item of intense interest in this community, as the previous announcements had said that the rains in Poland would be to the benefit of the Poles who are in a death struggle with the Germans under Hitler.

There can be little or no denying the fact that the sentiments of local people are unanimously in the favor of the Allies, Poland, France and England. There is equally no denying the fact that citizens here hope for strict neutrality on the part of our Government. The people here reflect accurately the avowed intention of President Roosevelt to remain on the side-line and get a good view of what is going on.

So far as we have been able to learn, there has been little action along the Morehead front. Radio reports are still running on many a story and the unpronounceable names of cities in Poland and Germany are being learned. At least, most of us are getting a new education in Geography.

The Return Of Mr. Chips

"The—The Headship!" Chips could hardly speak he was so astonished. "Yes, Will you Chips?" "Yes," said Chips after a breathless pause. "I'll come."

He visited Helen Colley and her late Peter, at Charlestown where his duties permitted. It was only the day following a visit to her that he stood up in Chapel, the latest casualty list in his hand and read "Peter Colley, Lieutenant in the Coldstream Guards, was killed in action during a trench raid. He remained in full view of an enemy to rescue his batman, Peter Kings, who had fallen mortally wounded. Both men died before they could be brought in." His voice quivered and there were tears in his eyes as he stated that His Majesty had posthumously awarded the Distinguished Service Order to Colley. And he told those boys that he had that day received a letter from Switzerland announcing the death in action, with a Sixton regiment, of Max Stauffel, former German master at Brookfield.

"Funny, old Chips reading a German soldier's name," commented one boy. "He was an enemy," one of Chips' ideas," said a fellow. "He's got lots of funny ideas like that."

Beach, Betty's

Beach, Betty's, headless! There are symptoms which warrant certification. Don't neglect these signs. It may lead to more complications of the stomach, to appetite disorders. Just take some spicy vegetable BLACK-BRAUGHT by simple directions tonight and it will cleanse your bowels gently, thoroughly. Tone is imparted to lazy bowel muscles by BLACK-BRAUGHT. Try it!

When at last the armistice was signed Brookfield went wild with joy like all other schools and all towns and cities in the country; bonfires were lighted, rockets sent up, and Chips was carried on the shoulders of his pupils about the Quadrangle.

His door was always open to Brookfield boys, however, the biscuit box never empty, and tea waiting to be made. The boys got into the habit of sending new boys to go keep at his door and say, "Here I am, sir."

"What's that you're saying about me?" asked Chips, weakly. "Nothing at all," Marsham assured him, "just wondering when you were coming out of that beauty sleep of yours?"

"But I heard you—You were talking about me—Pity I never had any children, eh? But you're wrong—I have thousands of 'em, and they're all boys!" He dived away again and there floated through his mind confused memories: Call over—Max Stauffel invited him to join him on a walking tour—A heavy mountain mist—and someone sitting there—Why it was Kathie—Kathie—"Why, you kissed me!" Call over—A boyish voice—Young Colley—What was he saying—"Goodbye, Mr. Chips!"

A fluttery sigh escaped from Chips lips, and Dr. Merciate pressed fingers on the eyelids, closing them.

NO CHANGE IN FARM PLANS SAYS COOPER Dr. Thomas P. Cooper, dean and director of the College of Agriculture and Experiment Station at the University of Kentucky, has joined Secretary of Agriculture Wallace in urging Kentucky farmers to proceed with their plans as if there were no war. Commenting on a statement which he received from Secretary Wallace, Dr. Cooper said, "American Agriculture is in a much better position to meet the shock of war than it was 25 years ago. The very machinery which farmers have used to adjust production to decreased demand in peacetime can be used in wartime to increase production if and when that becomes advisable. There is little likelihood that any substantial increase in production of the major crops will be desirable, certainly not in the near future."

future." The Secretary's statement continued. "In any case, the need for increase in supplies can be anticipated in ample time to make any necessary increases in acreages." The Secretary reminded American farmers that this year's wheat carryover is estimated at 254 million bushels, in comparison to 115 million bushels for the five years from 1921 to 1928. The present carryover of corn, he said, will probably make the total 1930-40 supply even larger than the 1928-29 supply. "Supplies of meat animals are expected to be larger next year than for this year, and continued heavy production of milk this fall is expected. Combined supplies of cottonseed oil, lard and soybean oil available for home consumption will be larger during the rest of this year and 1940 than for 1938. Cozy To Have Music Show

Filed in the format of "Alexander's Ragtime Band" and with musical numbers of its entirely new (stage) appeal, "Rose of Washington Square" contains all the essential ingredients that hit contained plus two it didn't!

One of these is Al Jolson in black face, playing and singing his own spotlight past under a character name that deceives nobody, and the other is a story so close to the factual story of one of his contemporaries as to have become a matter of discussion in the daily press. There was the customary number of reviews being "purely commendatory."

Like "Alexander's Ragtime Band" this picture has Alice Faye and Tyrone Power as young folk in love and in difficulty. Unlike it, this one has Al Jolson as faithful friend of the girl and, therefore, ally to the boy in his emergencies.

Don Ameche (and I emphatically) in the earlier picture, and nearly but Al Jolson steps into a white spotlight especially in this one to sing the songs he sang that way—like "Milk and Honey" to a Dixie Melody" finally the inevitable "Molony"—and steals the picture utterly from everybody else connected with it. (Forgotten in the tumultuous success of these sequences, are the whiteface Jolson of those last two respectable feature pictures and the invisible Jolson of that sponsored radio program, for this is the original Mammy-singer in the bulk of the force that made him a Broadway and an American institution.)

A dozen or more familiar songs of yesterday are worked into the picture, unlike "Pretty Baby," "The Vamp," "Ja-Da" and others of like vintage. "Rose of Washington Square" is sung danced, and smartly dealt with by a production man, featuring Miss Faye. The story comes down to a focal point, dramatically, in Miss Faye's singing of "Milk and Honey" in a scene where nobody with a good memory will fail to identify. "I Never Knew Heaven Could Speak" is a new and sure-to-be hit by Mack Gordon and Harry Revell.

The picture will be shown Tues., and Wednesday, Sept. 19-20 at the Cozy Theatre.

To Tell Workers How To Get Records On Social Security

Posters to be placed in Each Post Office Will Give Out Information
 Posters telling workers how to get a statement showing the status of their social security wage records will appear shortly in every office in the county, according to James A. Chaney, manager of the Old Age Insurance Bureau field office in Ashland.

"These posters ask workers how much money they have earned in employment covered by old age insurance. They point out that benefits paid under the old age insurance program depend on the wages credited on this individual old age insurance accounts of the various individuals."

"Our office has posters which workers may send to the Social Security Board to obtain information as to the amount of money now credited to the accounts of workers for the years 1937 and 1938. Information for the latter year is now available for the first time."

"Workers who wish to know the status of their wage records should obtain copies of this poster and mail the same to our headquarters in Baltimore where the earnings of covered employees are posted. We advise all workers to take this step so they may be sure all the wages they have earned in such employment are posted to their credit."

"There is no charge for this service except a one cent stamp for mailing the cards which may be obtained from our office in the 2nd National Bank building in Ashland," Mr. Chaney said.
