Five Volunteers Enlist For Service; Fill Quota For Draft Call No. Eleven

New Registration Day To Be Held Tuesday, July 1st

Call Number Twelve, just issued by the Local Draft Board will include five men from Rowan County, who will report for Selective Service training on June 25th.

The five men, all volunteers, are: Carl Markwell, Sharky; James Willard Corrette, Morehead; Deward Hall, Hatfield; Kenneth Dyer, Hatfield; and John Allen Curtis, Hatfield.

This call exhausts the volunteer list for Rowan County. Call No. Thirteen, for early July, is expected to be the largest call to date and names will have to be drawn from the regular order numbers, unless a sufficient number of voluntary enlistments are received prior to that time.

Detailed instructions for registering in the Second Selective Service Registration on July 1, 1941, will be carried in next week's issue. All registrants of the first registration will be classified before July 1, the board said.

It is estimated that over one hundred men in Rowan County will have become twenty-one years of age before Registration No. Eleven men will leave Morehead for the induction center at Fort Thomas, Kentucky, Sunday afternoon, June 16. The names of the eleven men are: Carl Markwell, James Willard Corrette, Deward Hall, Kenneth Dyer, and John Allen Curtis.

Turner Reports On AAA Program For National Defense

The growing menace to America from war developments and the urgency for farmers to increase production of certain foods need protection, says a speaker at the National AAA meeting at Washington in June, he explained, and added that war consequences dominated all his discussions.

Mr. Turner, was most impressed by the fighting speech of Secretary of Agriculture, Claude R. Wickard, he declared that there is no time for half-way measures, and that the food and munitions America is producing must reach Britain safely and quickly if the United States is to be defended.

Elsewhere during the conference, Mr. Turner picked up authoritative figures which show that British imports of all products have dropped from the rate of 69 million tons per year to 27 million tons, due to shipping losses. Thirty-five million tons of imports have been regarded as the danger line, he said. Normal food imports have been at 22 and one-half million tons per year, but this has been cut to 12 million tons. Recently, however, this figure was increased to 14 million tons at the expense of munitions imports, badly as they are needed.

First Payments Of Retirement Benefit To Teachers, July 1

Mandatory Retirement For 137; Optional Retirement For 609

Public school teachers eligible for retirement July 1, 1942, now total 746, N. O. Kivler, secretary of the Teachers Retirement System, said Tuesday.

Barring death in the meantime, 137 must retire. Retirement with the other 609 will be optional. Retirement at 70 years of age is mandatory, but retirement is optional between 60 and 70. July 1, 1942, is the first retirement date, as fixed in the 1940 act, which system is in operation.

The median age of the group eligible for first retirement is 55 years, the average length of effective prior service is thirty years, and the average annual salary is $1,122. Using these figures as the basis for calculations, the average pension of the entire group would be $252.45 a year.

If this average teacher taught five more years until he reached mandatory retirement at 70, his pension would be $420 a year. There is a rapid increase in pension benefits for service between the ages of 60 and 70, Kivler explained.

Political Announcement

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 1st MAGISTERIAL DISTRICT.

Many of my friends have solicited me to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the office of Magistrate for the Morehead Magisterial District No. One.

I am not a stranger to the people of this Magisterial District. I have lived in Rowan County for the past thirty-seven years and have served you one term as Magistrate of your county. During my term as such officer, I feel some degree of pride in pointing to my service as such officer. Rowan County at that time did not receive anything like the amount of revenue that she now receives, but by economy and looking closely after the county's business, my fellow magistrates and I, together with the County Judge were able to pay many thousands of dollars of old debts that were against the county, as well as, we built the first model road that Rowan County ever had and the county contributed about $18,000.00 toward the construction of this road. I advocated during all my term as Magistrate the improvement of the County roads and many improvements were made, and I believe that for every dollar we spent on the road we got a dollar's worth of labor in return. At the close of my term as Magistrate the County was free from debt and had a surplus in the treasury and did not owe a man or woman one penny.

If I am nominated and elected as your Magistrate, it is my intention to give to the County the best service I know how. It will be my purpose to have the County live within its income and pay all of its just debts and to see that for every dollar that is spent that the County gets due return therefor. I am still an advocate of good roads and will use every effort I know to economize so that we will be able for the country people to get the roads improved in all parts of the county.

The office of Magistrate does not pay any large salary but notwithstanding this fact, I am willing to devote a sufficient amount of my time or all of my time to its duties if for the best interest of the county.

I thank you for any support you will give me, and I am

Sincerely Yours,
A. J. ALDERMAN

THINK ON THESE THINGS

By REV. B. H. KAZEE

I have been trying to think where I heard it, but it has not been so long since I did. It is the passing of the home is marked in these particulars: We have transferred the education of our children to the school; we have transferred the religion of our family to the church house; and we have transferred the recreation of our family to the commercial entertainers, mainly the picture shows.

God ordained the home as the place to rear and train children. He gave children fathers and mothers (in most cases) to train and rear their children. There, mainly, the development of our children was to take place. What did they do in those centuries when there was no public school system? Or before we had gymnasiums and picture shows and other gadgets of entertainment? Oh, they had things to do. They had games, and they had entertainment. There was social life. There was religion. But I think they had their beginning in the home.

Parents assumed the duties of being fathers and mothers to their children. Mighty training, yes, and mighty trying. No time much for mothers to engage in and rear their children. No time today. And no father quite knew the long trying hours that mothers had to spend bearing the more unpleasant grind of household duties, and care of children. But the name of "mother" meant more than that it does now.

Yes, we have changed our ways of life. In a measure we have moved away from home as the center of the nation's life, and have turned our families over to the mass-production machines of our socialized world. They say it is better this way. We are in the stage of experimentation, and I cannot say as to the outcome. I only know that I doubt it. Crude as may have been the products of other days, when our fitness was not so much in evidence, and our institutions were not so streamlined, and when we did not try to produce great men en masse, they were substantial, and had reverence for goodness. They were not as may have been the products of competing with others in the art of "getting by," and calling it smart when they did it. Yes, we have socialized, and just as some of the nations we condemn have done.

Naval Recruiter--

Men up to fifty years of age in many trades and professions may be enlisted in the Naval Reserve with rates commensurate with their experience and pay ranging from $20.00 to $170.00 a month. Medical attention is furnished and an initial outfit of uniforms, worth about $18.00 is given to each recruit. The present rate of enlistments permit those accepted to be called for duty within a few days.

The Naval Service provides an excellent opportunity to learn any standard trade such as Machinist, Electrician, Carpenter, Boiler-maker, Metallsmith, Stenographer, Radioman, and many others.

Naval Reserve personnel are expected to serve only during the national emergency.

Those interested in either the Navy or Naval Reserve are asked to meet the Navy Recruiter while he is in this section, or write to the Navy Recruiting Station, Ashland, Kentucky, for further information.

forty-three, who will be 68 years old to eighty-nine, who will be 82.

The system has around 18,750 members, which is a little more than 25 percent of public school teachers and administrators in Kentucky. The members have paid into and $451,000 since July 1, 1940, first effective date. This amount has been matched dollar for dollar by a State appropriation limited to $500,000 for the final year ending June 30. Because he has no past experience to guide him, Kimbler said he cannot make a good guess as to how much of the State appropriation will revert to the general fund on June 30. The total, however, will be whatever sum is not matched by teacher contributions. A new appropriation of $500,000 becomes available as the State's share on July 1.

Teachers have contributed to their pension fund in three groups. Between 20 and 29 years have paid 2 percent of their salaries; from 30 to 39, 3 percent, and 40 or older, 4 percent.

The present $875,000 invested in Government bonds at an average interest return of 2.2 percent, Kimbler said. Of this sum, $500,000 has been invested in defense bonds.

While the pension act allows the systems to retain as cash on hand a sum equivalent to collections the preceding year, Kimbler said low interest rates has prompted investment of virtually all the money available. Only $35,000 is on hand as cash, he said.

The Association of American Railroads figures that by October there will be in service one thousand and six electric and diesel electric locomotives, new electric locomotives which were not in existence when the war started in September, 1939.

Laundry Operators Get Warning Not To Violate 1912 Law

State Industrial Relations Commissioner William C. Burrow warned Kentucky laundry owners today that his department would institute legal action against any one violating a 1912 law which limits the working hours of women to 10 hours a day and 60 hours a week.

Burrow said "numerous complaints" against violations had been received. Only women employed in domestic service of nursing are exempt from the act's provisions.

"In my opinion," Burrow said in commenting on a letter he sent to all laundry owners, "the law sets a reasonable limit of hours for women and it is the intention of this department to enforce rigidly that limit."

"There is nothing new about this statute as it has been a part of Kentucky law for almost 30 years."

The Model Laundry and Dry Cleaners of Morehead, of which Mr. John Calvert is proprietor, has during its entire period of service to Morehead and surrounding counties, obeyed this phase of the Kentucky Statutes to the letter.

Reports are current that President Roosevelt intends to press Congress in the near future for the enactment of such legislation as will permit him to proceed with the initiation of the St. Lawrence Waterway Project in the guise of a defense measure. Chairman Mansfield of the House Rivers and Harbors Committee has been quoted in the press to the effect that he expected to introduce legislation in the near future to authorize both the hydroelectric power development and the waterway project.

Senate Okays Draft Amendment Tues. To Defer Older Men

Would Eliminate Men 28-35 From Active Service

The Senate, June 10, unanimously approved and sent to the House legislation authorizing deferment from army training of all men who attain their 28th birthday by July 1, 1941.

Effect of the measure will be to lower the maximum draft age now 35—to 27. Technically, men from 28 to 35 still would be registered for service and the President could rescind their deferment if conditions warranted. The status of men who already have been inducted would not be affected.

The plan was embodied in an amendment to the Selective Service act passed last year. It was sponsored by Senator Chan Gurney, (R-S. D.), with the approval of Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, and War Department officials.

Senator Lister Hill, (D-Ala.) floor pilot of the measure, said there was "no doubt" that President Roosevelt would issue a blanket deferment for men in the 28 to 35 age bracket, but he conceded in response to inquiries that the bill makes deferment discretionary, not mandatory.

The bill authorizes the first blanket deferment as of July 1, 1941—covering all persons who have reached their 28th birthday on that date. It also authorizes similar deferment as of July 1 in each subsequent year, covering those men who have celebrated their 28th birthday during the preceding year.

Senator Alva B. Adams, (D-Colo.) said the bill would grant the chief executive "broad powers" over the lives of millions of men, and would radically alter the character of the Selective Service act. He emphasized that the original act definitely fixed the selective service age range, while the proposed amendment "would leave men between 28 and 35 uncertain."

"If these men are not going into service," he said, "Congress should say so and not the President."

World of 1938 is as dead as a do-do—has been since 1900—and we are just getting around to burying it," he said in lashing out at the theories of controlled money systems, tariffs and enlightened self-interests which are outmoded beyond resurrection.

Undersecretary of Agriculture Paul Appleby said: "You can't have democracy in the same world with Hitler's New Order." Director W. B. Dodd of the Western A.A. Region emphasized the importance of wheat farmers everywhere voting on wheat marketing quotas May 31. Other speakers were J. B. Hutson, Reuben Bringham, Eric England and Guy Bush, all of the Department of Agriculture.

In closing the conference, Assistant East Central Regional Director Charles Lewis said: "It takes men of pluck, courage and vision, men with lime in their backbones to adjust what acreages down and hog production up about some detail in the program to supply the democracies with tomatoes. It takes the same courage and vision to show the farmers back home that the democracies need pork, and eggs and dairy products to see that farmers do realize the seriousness of the situation."

He challenged the farmers to take as their watchword: "Wake Up America... Our Liberty is At Stake."

terprise, in which no degree of ownership is necessary, and from the pupil does not participate in the financial returns, though the pupil may be paid wages for his work. Improvement projects imply the use of improved practices and the cycle of jobs is complete enough to make it more involved than supplementary supervised practice in the performance of isolated farming jobs primarily to gain experience and skill. Supplementary practice should contribute to the success of the home farm business, or the living conditions on the farm.

An improvement project is a project planned and executed by a pupil of vocational agriculture which may or may not be an enterprise.

During 1940, Canada collected $10,037,000 in duty on American coals going into the Dominion. On the other hand, she subsidized freight rates on Canadian coal to the sum of $4,000,000, and these subventions during 1941 are expected to aggregate $4,500,000. The total tonnage of Canadian coal moving on the freight rate subventions amounted to 2,500,000 tons.

because of the growing food shortage, he explained.

He further reported the conference as follows:

R. M. Evans, Administrator of the A.A.A., outlined the job of the Triple-A under present conditions, and pointed out that the farm program is protecting farmers from the worst price depressing effect of the war. He emphasized that the program gives farmers an unequalled opportunity to serve the country at this time by adjusting production quickly to the needs of the hour.

Director Finn emphasized that the responsibility for the successful operation of the farm program rests squarely on the shoulders of the committees whom the farmers have elected. Much has been accomplished," said Mr. Finn, "especially in soil building, in adjusting production, in using marketing quotas to control surpluses, and especially in informing farmers about the issues that affect them and the nation."

Dr. Robert Montgomery of the University of Texas explained that radio, airplane and other modern inventions have done away with old boundary lines and that we cannot be isolationists. "The

Air Corps Cadets To Get Uniform Pay And Allowances

Now On Same Basis As Navy And Marine Corps... THE War Department has created the grade of Aviation Cadet in the Army Air Corps that will put Army flying cadets on a uniform basis and allow them to receive the same pay and allowances as their counterparts in the United States Marine Corps. It was announced today by Fifth Corps Area Headquarters. Acting under authority of legislation which has just been signed by President Roosevelt, the Secretary of War has directed that the Army flying cadets be placed immediately in the same category for reasons of efficiency in training and administration. The number of benefits will accrue to the Army Air Corps flying cadets under the new legislation. Among these is the authorization of a $150 monthly allowance when the Aviation Cadet completes his training and is commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Army Air Corps. This uniform allowance was heretofore given only to Navy and Marine Corps flying cadets. The government will also pay $10,000 life insurance policy per $100 in life insurance coverage. The student flyers formerly had to pay their own insurance premiums. After being commissioned into the Navy and Marine Corps, pilots are required to pay their own insurance premiums. Aviation Cadets are now entitled to an additional $500 bonus payment for each complete year or additional year of active service in the duty, whereas previously they were allowed a $500 bonus only after three years of continuous duty. The new payment plan is in line with regulations previously authorized by legislation for the Navy and Marine Corps.

For every entry submitted by the public, the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company - which is sponsoring the contest - is donating one cent to the National organization as well as an additional cent to the local Girl Scout troop if the name is specified on the entry blank. The Girl Scouts also will be recipients of a series of special awards set aside exclusively for them by the Palmolive Company. These will consist of a $500 first prize, thirty prizes of $50.00 each, and five $50.00 second prizes, to be presented to one hundred-eighty-one councils in order of their ranking and based on the number of entries to registrations. Duplicate prizes are provided for those councils that might be tied in the final tallies when the contest has officially ended. All of these Girl Scouts awards are in addition to the daily $500 first prize and five $50.00 second prizes now being given away for the best slogans or statements regarding the efficiency of the product submitted by the general public. At the conclusion of this series of thirty daily contests, the name of the lucky winner of the $5,000 grand prize will be announced.

THIS WEEK IN DEFENSE

Dr. Will Alexander of the OPM, speaking in Atlantic City, said defense industries will need 4,000,000 more workers by January. He said, as examples, the San Diego plant, the San Diego area of California will need 31,000; Detroit 66,000 to 88,000; Philadelphia 78,000; northern Jersey 30,000; Dallas and Fort Worth, 17,000; and Wichita, 7,000. He asked employers not to discriminate against persons with necessary skills because of race, religion, or color.

Dr. Edward Scriven, Assistant in Priorities Director, speaking in Chicago, said "you can walk today and see all around you commonplace objects—stoves, toasters, vacuum cleaners, typewriters, cameras, tools, and lots of other things—which cannot escape being hit by the demands of the defense program."
