

Craig Tolliver Acquitted.

[Special to the Courier-Journal.]

FRANKFORT, KY., Oct. 21.—Hon. T. F. Hollman, who came here by way of the Kentucky Central last night, says he was accompanied part of the way by Craig Tolliver, of Rowan county; that Tolliver's case was not even argued before the jury at Cincinnati, and so little proof was adduced that an acquittal was the result in a few moments. Tolliver facetiously sent his compliments to Gov. Knott, whom he unjustly holds partly responsible for his arrest and extradition to Ohio, and said he awaited orders for him to stand trial in Indiana, Illinois or California, but hoped, as he was as poor as Job's turkey, that he would first be allowed to spend a year or two in Kentucky.
