I absolutely agree with "Buck Ambergrey and Wyr Wendell. I defy anyone to disagree with us. Why that dirty lowdown man, without-a-country made fun of me when I went to borrow his apartment. He tried to kiss me Tuesday. "Deliver that to Woody and come back by Martindale's High-jacking place and see what he wants to borrow. He has more than Jack West. He has even gone so far as to refuse to loan anything if he can't have it back the same day. I don't like to do business with people like that, and if any of my other neighbors has a portable window washer, house cat or vacuum cleaner I would quit doing business with him. He is as tight as Glen Lane at The Citizens Bank. Now, take Lane, he is not satisfied with just plain bank work, he has to have all the modern methods. I admit the bank did not do so well until he came here and that he is a successful banker and a successful man."

11 Men Form Draft Call No. Seventeen, Six Are Volunteers

Will Be Inducted Into Service On September Ninth

Eleven men are slated for induction into the United States Army on the ninth of September, according to the Local Draft Board here.

The following are the names of the men:

Willie Sparks, Triplett; Elva Curtis Barker, Morehead; Burr Fultz, Elliottville; Clarence Brown, Morehead; Hershel B. Setzer, Elliottville; William Miller, Morehead; Harry Anderson, Harwood; Andrew Johnson, Bangor.

Call Number Seventeen includes the first inductees who are registered on July 1st. In this call are four men who registered July first last, four old registrants who volunteered under age men who volunteered for service and two men called out of the regular order last according to the office of the Local Board.

The office of the Local Board will be moved some time next week to the new building next to the Mills Theatre, the office will be on the second floor and will afford many conveniences for registrants. This office is centrally located and all persons having business before the Board will find them in the new quarters after September 1st.

There will always be posted in the office of the Local Board the names of all persons inducted by the Board. This has always been maintained on the Bulletin Board in the office. The Board has worked out a plan whereby each man can tell where he stands in the order list, and by a glance at the board can tell how far down the line he is, or in other words what position he holds relative to a future call for manning the new building next to the National Headquarters, but the Local Board for a long time has maintained such a list on the bulletin board for the convenience of its registrants.

The Local Board and its personnel deserve the full support and congratulations of this community for the fair and impartial way in which they have administered the Selective Service Regulations.

Fish Game Director Urges Enforcement Of State Game Laws

A state-wide appeal to sportsmen and all local peace officers to assist in enforcement of the state game and fish laws was made today by S. J. Wakefield, Director of the Division of Game and Fish.

Pointing out that the Division's warning force is very small—and hopelessly inadequate for proper patrolling of the vast fish areas in the state—Wakefield stated that there was no immediate hope for increase in personnel, but that efficiency in enforcement would be brought about only by cooperation of these named.

Attention of law enforcement officers of all kinds and sportsmen and farmers alike are called to Section 1954A, 22, of the Kentucky Statutes, which provides that "The County Attorneys, the Commonwealth's Attorneys, the Justices of the Peace, the Constables and their deputies, and all other peace officers, are hereby required and it is made their duty to enforce the provisions of the Game and Fish Laws."

Basing his appeal on this section of the law, Wakefield requested that all peace officers cooperate to the utmost in protecting Kentucky's game and fish against the illegally-operating hunter and angler.

Wakefield requested the sportsmen to aid by informing their local peace officers as soon as possible of any game law violations they might themselves see. If the sportsmen will cooperate in this way, it will mean that many offenders could be taken into custody within a few hours instead of going "next-free" because one of the few conservation officers might be working elsewhere and not be available in that particular locality.

Ten Postoffices To Be Discontinued After August 31

Discontinuance of ten postoffices, eight of which are in Rowan County, and two in Boone, Morgan and Morgan Counties was ordered today by the First Assistant Postmaster General.

The offices to be discontinued, all on August 31, are Christy, Vale, Minor, Wyatt, Leasure, Craney, Paragon, Easton, Triplett and Waltz.

In issuing the order the First Assistant Postmaster General ordered that all mail for these offices be addressed to rural routes working out of the Morehead postoffice.

Christy, Vale, Minor, Wyatt, Leasure, Craney and Paragon mail will go into route three from the Morehead postoffice; Triplett and Waltz on route two.

It was explained that the discontinuance of small (fourth-class) offices here is in keeping with the general established policy of the postoffice department, supplementing them with better free delivery service.

College Coaches Attend Coaching School At U. of K.

(Special to the Independent)

Coaches Ellis Johnson and Len Miller have just returned from Lexington, where they have been for the past week attending the University of Kentucky Coaching School. The principal speaker was Frank Leahy, the new football coach of Notre Dame. This is the sixth coaching school Johnson, Miller and Leahy have attended and they say this one was the best.

In an interview this morning, Coach Johnson expressed a note of optimism concerning football for this fall. He stated that the SIAA Conference will permit freshmen to replace each member of the varsity team that he has lost to the army. This does not mean that all freshmen will be eligible to participate on the varsity team, but only the freshmen chosen before the first game will be permitted to play during the season.

Coach Johnson will attend a meeting of the SIAA conference at Birmingham, Alabama, September 5, to present his list for approval.

Football practice will start September 8, and the first game will be with Western State Teachers at Morehead, September 12. The second game will be at Birmingham, Alabama, September 19. Saturday night, September 27th. This game will be sponsored by the Ashland Kiwanis Club.

More Cover Crops Needed In State, Says College Of Agri.

Lack of cover crops continues to be the principal factor contributing to the loss of soil and plant food on Kentucky farms, says a statement from the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics. It is estimated that more than three-fourths of the land devoted to cultivated crops lies bare in winter and thereby is subject to erosion and leaching.

Wheat is listed as the most important cover crop in Kentucky. Rye also is extensively used. Especially has Balbo rye been giving outstanding results in early growth, pasture and seed production.

The barley acreage in Kentucky has increased from 5,000 in 1929, to 125,000 in 1940. Winter oats are grown in some sections. A relatively new crop that is attracting attention is rye grass.

Vetch and crimson clover are extensively used as cover crops in Kentucky. Several million pounds of vetch seed has been requested in the agricultural conservation program this year.

County agents and the College of Agriculture have supervised a large number of cover crop tests over the state. Among some of the facts learned are:

That cover crops should be seeded early for best results. For late seeding, wheat or rye is most satisfactory. The use of lime and phosphate is beneficial on most soils and essential on some for satisfactory growth to cover crops. Balbo rye produces more pasture and affords better protection than common rye. Winter oats are in general the least dependable of winter grains. The Edwin variety appears more winter resistant than local varieties.

It Must Have Been A Whale Of A Race

The life guards were racing in the ocean off Long Beach Island, and a large crowd on the beach was cheering favorites. A 75-foot whale suddenly emerged nearby and started swimming around in circles, apparently to give the life guards a suitable handicap. The crowds cheered the whale then, and no one knows who won the life guard race.

Home Economics Summer Projects At Breckinridge

Work Will Be Done By MSTC Students

The home economics department of Breckinridge, in accordance with the Federal plan for vocational education is carrying out an extended program of home projects this summer. Under the plan, Miss Fatti Bolin, the instructor, teaches every term except the second summer term. In the second summer term she is relieved of teaching duties and devotes full time to the supervision of home projects.
 The work done by the students in the home projects is a continuation of what they have studied in their classes throughout the year except that it can be done in the home.
 Miss Bolin visits each of them to help and advise. Also if any student needs special help or advice beyond what Miss Bolin is available.
 The home projects are not compulsory for the home economics students. Each student, who desires, chooses a project with her mother's or instructor's approval and works at any time on it until the project is completed. The plans of each student are made before the school term is completed. Each girl keeps an individual record of her project and when it has been completed each girl writes a summary of her progress in her project.
 Some of the projects that the students choose to do are: room improvement, making clothing for self and others, cooking for family, self-improvement, learning to take care of children, learning to make the best use of leisure time, and canning.
 Miss Bolin is at the training school each Wednesday morning so that the girls may come for advice or to use references, sewing machines and other equipment.
 The students who have summer projects are: Ella Florence Allfrey, Margie Bailey, Patsy Black, Chae Clay, Ruth Fair, Jessa Fielding, Vivian Flood, Miss High, Barbara Ann Hodge, Phyllis Jayne, Yvonne Lyon, Alice Patrick, Frances Penix, Kathryn Sargent, Beatrice Sorrell, Jean Thompson, Ernestine Wallen, Martha Wellman, Margaret Wells, Mary Helen Wilson, Jane Young, Betty Banks, Hazel Bays, Helen Crossley, Mary Denny, Dorothy Fannin, Pauline

 A meeting of the parents was held at the Clark School Thursday night, and a P-T-A was organized with great success. Clyde Estep was elected president, Allie Plank, Vice-President, Dorothy Clark, Secretary and Treasurer.
 Most every home in the community was represented. Both teachers were very much pleased, as they know the parents are taking part in the school and are very interested.

Following is a list of the members present: Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Grant Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Stone, Mrs. Leonard Plank, Mrs. Mary Chadding, Arnie Gilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Allie Plank, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Estep, Mrs. Dorothy Clark, Mrs. Mitchell Estep, Mrs. Andrew Butler, Mrs. Mary Ball, Mrs. Elwood Clar, Mrs. Mattie Stevens, Mrs. Azel Brumfield, Miss Ester Crawford, and Mitchell Estep, teachers. A program was given by both rooms, and refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Charity School
 Mrs. George H. Ellington visited the school. It is always interesting for parents to visit the schools. It creates interest.

The Rowan County Health Department has finished their work with Charity School this year. The records show a normal progress since last year.
 This school feels that they have the parents on their side for the coming year in October. Several entries have already been planned.
 It is hoped that the Charity School has the best attendance record this year that they have ever had.

Clearfork School
 Four of the Clearfork School boys attended the Morehead District 4-H Club from August 4th to 6th at Morehead. They were Paul Wells, Lee Wells, Ramond Blevins, and James K. Miller.

All children have enrolled in Clearfork School except two. One boy is having trouble with his teeth and is still out. The other boy is sixteen years old. These boys will enroll soon.

There has been some lively ball games at this school since the lawn has been mowed. The big boys and girls play on one side of the playground and the little ones play on the other.

Teachers Program
 The rural teachers had a very interesting program Friday, August 15th. A fine demonstration in third and fourth grade readings was given by Miss Paulsen and Miss Finley using Clearfield children for the class of children. Carl Wade gave an interesting talk on "The Opportunity opening for the eighth grade boys and girls." Mrs. John Will Holtzrook gave a talk on publicity of the Fair. This was business and round-table discussions in the afternoon.

Clearfield Parent-Teachers Association Organized
 The Clearfield P-T-A met on Thursday afternoon, August 14, and selected for President, Mrs. Goldie Bailey; Vice-President, Mrs. Joe Nolan and Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Lottie Mobley.
 A discussion was held on the hot lunch project which they plan to have. They came to the conclusion that the affair would cost quite a sum of money to finance it, but everyone was enthused over the idea of having a hot lunch for their children these cold winter days which are coming. So it was decided to start moving and have one of the biggest and best free lunches in the county.

Self Styled Chef Gives Advice On The Gentle Art of Cooking

(Fred W. Bayer)
 So you want to dress a chicken, well first when we say dress, we don't mean the same as you girls do by this term. How should we first go about dressing a chicken? I'd suggest to first kill the chick. This is done by holding the head and what you just can't stand to see blood! Well you can hire the little boy next door to do that part by promising to take him to a movie, that will cost you twenty cents. Then after that is done, the hot water must be ready, not too hot and not too cold or the feathers won't come off without a lot of fussing and such. The chicken is held delicately in one hand and with the other, the picking is started. No, don't pick off one feather at a time, grab a handful. Yes, I know it's hot but you asked for it, so grit your teeth and bear it. The picking is to start first along the wings, then proceed to the body, wait! I see you grabbing whole handfuls of feathers at once so the chicken must be cold, dip it into the hot water and hold it there. Incidentally if you put your hand in the water with the chicken, pull it out because the scalding hot water will ruin your finger nail polish. You must let the chicken stay in the hot water until a count of ten. If you can't count sing the first stanza of "America". That will be sufficient time. Take it out, we mean the chicken, not the singing, and finish taking off the feathers and then say "You're not supposed to throw it out the back door. Oh, you're going to order a steak from the grocer and all you have to do then is to throw in the frying pan. You are wrong! The right way to fry a steak is to. We will take up steak frying in a future edition. A valuable booklet will be sent to all who are interested in chicken dressing and steak frying. (Enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope and fifty cents in coin, to cover the handling charge).

There was a widow....

Who listened to the sermon over her husband. She wasn't quite sure, so, when the preacher finished she turned to her son and whispered:

"Johnnie, step over there to the coffin and see if that really is your father your preacher has been saying all those nice things about."

Chances are you've been hearing a lot of nice things about the values to be found at MCKINNEY'S for this fall and winter. Maybe you are beginning to feel like the widow. You'd like to see if they are true.

Well, that's just the reason we're printing this friendly little message to you.

All we ask is that you "STEP IN" and see for yourself. We could talk from now to doomsday about style, quality, material, and workmanship. But we'd much rather let you see these fine values for yourself.

After all, you know good values and quality merchandise when you see them. Come in our store and see that Curlee Suit... Carole King Dress... Fortune Shoe... Miss New Yorker Slip... Arrow Shirts... or the dozens of other nationally advertised lines you have been hearing about and you will sum it all up in two little words... "THEY'RE SWELL!"

We're waiting for you!

Defense Stamps

Stamps will be sold in the retail stores at convenient points, the representatives of the retail associations explained. Defense Savings posters will be displayed, and store clerks will help to interest customers in the Defense Savings program.
The retail executives said they had decided on the merchandising of Defense Stamps nationally following the success of the sale of Stamps in the State of Michigan. On July 10, the sale of Stamps was started in Michigan retail stores to test the effectiveness of the plan. More than 20,000 Michigan merchants already are selling Defense Stamps, and the retail trade leaders reported that they looked for double that number of Michigan stores to be selling the Stamps by the opening of "Retailers for Defense" Week on September 15.

A. A. Imus, Director of Postal Field Activities, Defense Bonds and Stamps, who also attended the meeting, reported that 10,000 ad-

Nearly 1 1/2 million officers and men of our armed forces were transported by the Railroads during the first six months of 1941. This required 2,851 special trains and also many special routings—without the slightest interference with other traffic! Yes, the Railroads are meeting the extra demands of National Defense and taking them in their stride!

Imagine a stack of Railroad Time tables over 150 miles high! The American Railroads distribute enough time tables to build such a structure—about 80,000,000—every year!

Imperial-Leslie Cooker on Chesapeake and Ohio's famous trains, THE GEORGE WASHINGTON, THE SPORTSMAN and THE F.F.V., have deep-cushioned reclining seats, carpeted floors, individual reading lights, modern lighting, free porter service, and many other features... all at the same low coach fare!

The highest point reached by a railroad in the United States is the summit of Pike's Peak in Colorado, 14,109 feet above sea level, reached by the Manitou & Pike's Peak (cog) Railroad.

Ever wonder why coal from mines along the Chesapeake and Ohio has that extra heating power? It's because coals from this region have a low ash and moisture content and just the right combination of hydrogen and carbon!

... that's about the bargain electricity under business operation gives you now

- 1 Twice the speed. Electric appliances breeze through a day's housework in less than half the time it used to take—at about half the cost. Your bill is probably about the same or perhaps a bit more than it has been, but you now get the extra advantages of these modern appliances, plus better lighting, for little or no more than you used to pay for lights alone.
- 2 Twice the labor saving. Ask the woman who owns a washing machine what electricity has done to ease that once-dreaded household task! Best of all, you can afford to use a flock of modern appliances because electric rates today are only about half what they were 10-15 years ago, and today you get about twice as much electricity for your money.
- 3 Twice the light. No blackouts here! Today you can enjoy twice as much light as you used to, for the same money; electricity today costs you only about half as much. (Light bulbs are so efficient, therefore you get four times as much light today for the same money.)
- 4 Twice the comfort. You don't have to simmer this summer. Turn on your fan and bank in cooling electric breezes. It's cool comfort, too, to realize that today you can cool off in front of your electric fan at about half the former cost!

The credit for steadily improved service at steadily reduced rates is due the employees of this company and other electric companies run on the American way of business operation. It is our job to give you better service at lower cost. We have been doing it. We are going to keep on doing it.
