This Year's Easter

There are a great many reasons why Easter should mean more to us this year than ever before. We have all gotten lost in the fetich of new clothes, corsages, extraneous and busy habits and have almost lost sight of the real meaning of that great day, and this year is the time for us to turn back to the seriousness of it.

In this war-world where we are hurrying about at our jobs with single-purpose effort, we need one day out of the week to be a time of real spiritual atmosphere and quiet communion. Easter day this year should mean to us the chance to give thanks for even our very selfish, and thank that we still get a chance to worship as we please, and thanks for our country that gives us this year.

All of us are living under the strain of concern for our brothers, husbands, and next-door neighbors who are scattered all over the world. We need a day when we can give our prayers, and we need the inspiration of the Easter story to encourage us to go on in spite of all our hardships. We can imagine that when you are in the trenches, in the air—or boys are thinking more of Easter than ever before, and are worshipping with us on that day.

This year the Easter message will hold more significance for us, because in this direction the world is moving. We are fighting—toward brotherhood among nations, toward love for everyone. We should not forget that great example for one minute in our Emmett Bradley.

We are in war, and this is no time for us to waste money and time on the things of this world. This is the time for us to observe the day simply without show, but with sincere thinking on the meaning of Easter. This is the time for us to be sincere in what we do, and in the more trying days to come.

Last Six Weeks

Here we are with only a little over six weeks of school left in this year. We must remember that the last six weeks past weeks past that now, as never before, it is necessary to make the very most of every opportunity for an education. It is spring and the usual spring fever is upon us, and on most of us. When the weather is nice it is so much more difficult to stay out of the campus and talk with friends than to study and keep up your work. Yet we must remember that, besides being spring, it is also wartime and we have a job to do here in the men in the armed forces and the workers in defense industries have in their fields.

For many of us, this will be the last term of school we will ever see. We must remember that we will never have a chance to continue our school work after this year. It is spring and the usual spring fever is upon us, and on most of us. When the weather is nice it is so much more difficult to stay out of the campus and talk with friends than to study and keep up your work. Yet we must remember that, besides being spring, it is also wartime and we have a job to do here in the men in the armed forces and the workers in defense industries have in their fields.

The Club Dilemma

The time has come for some mention to be made about the participation of so few students in the clubs on the Morehead campus. In the past years clubs have been very important instruments for getting the things they have had the reputation of being the power behind most of the college activities.

There have been on the campus a great many more who have been working actively in the clubs. We have seen many students who have become less active in clubs. Right now there are at least eight clubs on the campus, but there are only a few students who are active in them. It is becoming more and more of a struggle for the clubs to get the things they need. It is becoming more and more of a struggle for the clubs to get the things they need. It is becoming more and more of a struggle for the clubs to get the things they need.

We all realize that there are other distractions which make it hard for us to concentrate on college clubs. The war has been too much for many of us. We are too busy with our rolling bandages in Victory Gardens, or taking part in the war effort. We are too busy with our rolling bandages in Victory Gardens, or taking part in the war effort. We are too busy with our rolling bandages in Victory Gardens, or taking part in the war effort.

Three freshmen girls were overheard talking about the club on the campus. One of the girls said she was going to go to a club meeting at 7 o'clock, so she couldn't go to the club. The other two girls both laughed at her and said, "Yes, she is one of those things that joined all the clubs at the first of school. Now she never has time for any."

It can be just dig through attitudes like that and get an intelligent interest in the benefits offered by club work. We can get an intelligent interest in the benefits offered by club work. We can get an intelligent interest in the benefits offered by club work. We can get an intelligent interest in the benefits offered by club work.

would be a much more united group. This is the time that we must make our greatest efforts to preserve the traditions and organizations which our alumni have established and nurtured into successful foundations of the Morehead State Teachers College campus.

Talk About Your Troubles

We could all avoid a lot of "nerves" if we would air our problems and grumblings in the quarters where the complaints would do some good, instead of harboring them inside ourselves or talking them softly in little groups. But most of us, when we do not like some of the social conditions of us and which we think are correctable, merely start fussing about them to ourselves and never even mention them to the persons responsible for changing them.

Too often the responsible persons are not even aware that such slugs exist. We discover some of our own grumblings, and we stand on the spot and moan about it but never take a step toward reporting it to someone who might be able to do it. We don't like some of the social conditions, and we offer no suggestions for anything more to our taste. We think that we don't like some of the social conditions, and we offer no suggestions for anything more to our taste. We think that we don't like some of the social conditions, and we offer no suggestions for anything more to our taste.

There's not a person on the campus who WANTS to be unpopular. There's not a person—student, faculty member, or worker—who wouldn't appreciate criticism or suggestions if it something he's responsible for. For don't suit us. He may not change the situation, but probably will convince us that the situation isn't mendable or that it's better the way it is. Then it will be our chance to demonstrate our "bigness" and show if we can take the criticism we so freely give.

CUES AND AVES

"What sort of activities would you like to have included on the social calendar of the college for the rest of the quarter?"

"A folk dance for everyone, faculty and students," Ted Allen, Ann Weyer, sophomore.

"Form a club to continue the tradition of the night dance," Alene Scott, freshman.

"Why not have a carnival and crown a May queen?" Doris Boush, sophomore.

"Party for students, faculty, and sailors," Miss Harmon, freshman.

"Either a dance or party every Saturday night with more students participating," Mary Ellen, sophomore.

"More folk dances and parties in which the student body may take part, as well as USO members and faculty," Ted Allen, graduate student.

"Resume the Saturday night dances," Helen Croley, sophomore.

"More Saturday night dances, and at least one carnival, for students and faculty," Ted Allen, Mabel Curry, junior.

"Saturday dances. With a few folk dances," Ted Allen, Mabel Curry, junior.

"One big dance, the daddy of 'em all, with a big-name band," Ted Allen, Mabel Curry, junior.

"The thing I would like most is more parties and good old-fashioned dancing," Ted Allen, Mabel Curry, junior.

"Have a big dance and invite in plenty of good-looking girls," Alene Scott, freshman.

EAGLES BROODINGS

By MAX BRAND

Next Saturday may just be April 23rd to you, but on Granddaddy's calendar, it's marked Derby Day in big red letters. Bluegrass starters were expected to start in the Kentucky Bluegrass Stakes Wednesday. If they do, you can bet there will be plenty of "chasing of odds" on favorite depending on Wednesday's shooting and on the condition of the track. By the way, see "Red" for the latest racing results, and add him about that "lead horse" on Derby Day and a fortune.

Coch Elin Johnson will perform his diamond duties for the Prestonsburg basketball team this summer if Uncle Sam permits. He will hold down the shortstop position, and of course you know that he is one of U. K.'s two "4-4's."

George "Shorty" Wiggins, former Morehead College athlete, was a valuer on the campus for the last few years. He was stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., where there's nothing like Army life, and cordially invites any all to join him soon.

"Moosa" Zachem, Morehead's little All-American, says he expects to be deferred until some time next year. He's making a blunder, but will be finished in the sunlight, and he says, "I'll be here that long any way. It's this weather keeps up." Zach was recently drawn by the Philadelphia Eagles in the annual draft of the Professional Football League, and in a recent letter from the club president, Moosa was lauded for his college record and wished "as much success with the Philadelphia Eagles as he had with the Morehead Eagles."

Earl Duncan, Oxford's great Western Auto, has received a greeting from the U. S. Marines. He will report to the Marine base at Fort Island May 10 to make it to Italy. Duncan officially holds the state record for his three years of varsity competition with a total of 227 points in his career. Earl almost brought Morehead its first conference championship this year when he scored 28 points against the was mentioned because the editorial was written immediately after the program was presented. NOT because we believed student conduct was any worse at that time than it is now. The contribution letter will be noted by the faculty. Some of the charges of charge arrangements, which will probably be glad to accept the editorial suggestion, for programs. However, we still maintain that regardless of programs, we in college should be grown-up enough to take it courteously through even the ones that interest us least!

Easter Brings New Hope

In this year of war, Easter comes again with all its gladness. Right is eternal and the forces of evil will pass away. For this reason, it is a festival of flowers, of joy, and of anthems... and also a day for thankfulness.

It comes at the season when Nature has put aside dark winter robes, and when the earliest flowers turn their faces toward the sun. It brings new life, new hope, renewed faith, and greater courage. Though war casts its shadow over the world, we know that springtime follows every winter... and that peace will come again.

Dorothy Lewis, Helen Croley, Louise Curry, Betty Offner, Lela Baker, Ed Williams, Louis Jindra, and Louise Wynn. Dr. Jindra read the list of Morehead students whose standings have been above B during the past two terms.

The college choir, under the direction of Professor M. E. George, offered the vocal selection, "New God! Be Praised in Heaven Above."

Honor students of Morehead State Teachers College who were elected to the winter quarter with high standings were commended Thursday by Dr. Jindra, President of the Board of Trustees and Mrs. W. H. Wiggins.

Thirteen average two points or higher were members of the college social committee, with Miss Mary Page Milton assisting Mrs. Fagan with arrangements.

In the receiving line were Miss Mary Page Milton, Dean and Mrs. W. C. Collins, Wiggins Wynn, and Dorothy Lewis, the latter two being highest honor students for the winter quarter.

Mrs. Alice Palmer Morris and Miss Hulda Coltrane presided at the tea table. Also assisting in the hospitalities were Miss Lucy Gardner, Mrs. Loren Hart, Miss Ann Boone, Mrs. M. E. George, Mrs. Chiles Van Antwerp, and Miss Ayle Wootch.

Mrs. C. L. Cooper sang vocal selections during the tea hour, which was from four until five o'clock.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH GUILD

Special Easter services will be conducted by members of the Young People's Guild of the Christian Church tomorrow night at the regular meeting. The program will include a short inspirational devotion on an Easter theme, and special music.

Following the program, refreshments will be served and a party conducted in honor of the graduating Fourth Division of sailors.

All sailors and college students are invited to attend the Guild meeting, which will be held at 8:15 p. m. in the basement of the Christian Church.

Scholarship Day was inaugurated on the Morehead campus last year.

Dr. Dudley emphasized the importance of study over extracurricular activities, saying that the social grades can be learned elsewhere, but that the essential purpose of student attending college is to study. He pointed out the importance of scholarship in wartime, illustrating his point by saying that students of Morehead who were making the best record as fighters probably were also those who made good records in the classroom while they were students here.
