The Campus Experience

Living on Campus

Morehead State offers students several options for living on campus. Incoming students have the option of many residence halls that are either two-person or four-person units. Upperclassmen can choose from three apartment-style living residence halls.

Mignon Hall and Mignon Tower

Thompson Hall

Mays Hall Apartments

Morehead State has begun the process of refurbishing all of its residence halls, beginning with Nunn Hall, which will re-open in Fall 2009. Over the next several years, plans call for all residence halls to be renovated and updated with more modern amenities and state-of-the-art technological updates as well.

Staying in Shape

The Morehead State University Wellness Center offers students an exceptional facility for workouts. The on-campus facility opened in 1996 and recently expanded in March of 2008 to include more equipment and services for students, faculty, staff and retirees. The center also offers an aerobic room, a jogging/walking track, a classroom and three indoor tennis courts. Equipment includes top-of-the-line weight training instruments and cardiovascular units.

new Student-Athlete Academic Center. The new Student Recreation Center will house state-of-art exercise equipment, a new aquatics facility, and many other exciting and adventurous options for Morehead State students. Meanwhile, MSU student-athletes will benefit from the new dedicated academic facility, which will house classrooms, computer labs and all the modern amenities to help MSU student-athletes achieve their maximum potential and earn their degrees.

Work is scheduled to begin in 2009 for the new $30 million dollar Student Recreation Center. Once completed, the current Wellness Center will be transformed exclusively into a

On-Campus Dining

Students have a plethora of options for dining on campus. The newly renovated Marketplace in the Adron Doran University Center offers home-style cooking along with many other fast food and health food options. ADUC also offers students a convenience store and a smoothie and ice cream kiosk, along with stations offering made-to-order asian food, hamburgers and pizza. Alumni Tower dining center offers students a buffet-style dining experience as well as a delicious salad bar option. Alumni Tower also houses Tony's Convenience Store. Students can choose from a variety of meal plans that suits each one's individual dining habits.

Building Towards the Future

It is an exciting time in the life of Morehead State University as several new building projects have been completed, are nearing completion, or have broken ground. The new $15.4 million, 45,000 square-foot Space Science Center will house the Ronald G. Eaglin Space Science Program, including a space mission control center, a micro/nano fabrication center, space systems development laboratory, and the Digital Star Theatre, a 110-seat multi-functional state-of-the-art digital classroom which will house a 360-degree full dome projection theatre to be used as an instructional tool for MSU students, K-12 students and for planetarium shows designed for the general public.

Ground was broken for the facility in 2007 with completion slated for March 2009. MSU is one of only a handful of Space Science curriculum programs in the United States. MSU also recently completed and opened the new Equine Health Education Center as part of the Derrickson Agricultural Complex. This new, 6,000-square foot building is dedicated to the training of students in modern equine veterinary technology. It is the only dedicated equine medical and surgical facility in the nation that is associated with a stand-alone veterinary technology program. Developed at a cost of more than $800,000 dollars, Morehead State now boasts a new molecular core biology research laboratory in Lappin Hall. Morehead State's new lab is one of only a few at a regional public university, and the facility will give MSU students an advantage in the study field of macromolecules, including DNA research. Ground was also recently broken on MSU's latest building project, the new $30 million dollar Center for Health, Education, and Research, a joint project between MSU, St. Claire Regional Medical Center and the University of Kentucky. The largest construction project in the history of MSU and St. Claire Regional Medical Center, the new facility of 90,237-square feet will house MSU's departments of nursing and imaging sciences, UK's physician assistant program and St. Claire's family medicine clinic and health education center.

Stephanie Barker, a former professional golfer and experienced collegiate coach, is in her first season as women's head golf coach at Morehead State. Barker was hired in September of 2007.

Before her first official season began, Barker attended the prestigious NCAA Women Coaches Academy in Denver, Colo., in June.

During her tenure at Kentucky, Barker's Wildcat squads consistently finished among the nation's top 60 teams. She also saw many other outstanding academic and athletic achievements while at UK. Among them were:

- 3 Players on the top 10 list for low scoring rounds
- More than 80 percent of UK's players under her guidance improved their stroke average, and two players improved by more than seven strokes in a single season

Before joining the Kentucky coaching staff, Barker was named 2001 Big Sky Conference Women's Golf Coach of the Year after leading Cal State-Northridge to a second-place finish in the Big Sky, the school's best finish since the program was re-established in 1996.

Prior to joining the coaching ranks, she played professionally on the LPGA, Australian, Futures and European LPGA Tours. She posted two top-20 finishes on the European Tour, two top-25 finishes on the Australian Tour and two-top-40 finishes on the LPGA Tour. In 1995, she was a qualifier for both the Women's U.S. Open and the Women's British Open. She was a member of the LPGA teaching division from 1996-2006 and is now currently working on her PGA status. Barker won the 1996 Colorado Open.

A native of Carmel, Calif., and a graduate of Oklahoma State University (1994), Barker was a four-time NCAA Championships qualifier for the OSU women's golf program. She earned First-Team All-America honors and was a three-time Academic All-America honoree. As a junior in 1992, she received the Edith Cummings Munson Award, which is given to the First-Team All-America golfer with the highest grade point average (3.67). After her senior season in 1993, she was named OSU Woman Athlete of the Year and Woman Athlete of the Year for the state of Oklahoma. In her four-year college career, Barker placed in the top-10 in 23 of 44 tournaments and finished in the top-five in all four of her Big VIII Championships. She currently ranks fourth in all-time single-season scoring average at the school.

Barker was a member of the Rio Mesa High School (Oxnard, Calif.) boy's golf team. She led the team to two conference championships and won the Southern California High School Championship in 1989.

In addition to the bachelor's degree she earned at Oklahoma State, Barker recently completed a master's degree in kinesiology and health promotion at Kentucky in 2005. She and her husband, Jamie, have three children, Zack, Bailee and Alec Lee.

The Ohio Valley Conference

Entering its 61st year, the Ohio Valley Conference continues to build on the success that has made it the nation's eighth-oldest NCAA Division I conference. In 2008, for only the second time in the past decade, the Conference expanded by adding Southern Illinois University Edwardsville as the league's 11th member. The move expanded the OVC's geographical footprint to the St. Louis market and marked the first change in membership since expanding to the state of Alabama (Jacksonville State, Samford) in 2003.

The OVC's proud past dates back to 1948, but seeds for the new league were actually planted in 1941. It was then that Roy Stewart, the athletics director at Murray State, Charles (Turkey) Hughes, the athletics director at Eastern Kentucky, and Kelly Thompson, the public relations director at Western Kentucky, first broached the idea of forming a new conference. Discussions were put on hold by World War II, but reemerged Feb. 27-28, 1948 at the Kentucky Hotel in Louisville as the three original institutions combined with Morehead State, Louisville and Evansville to form the OVC.

In the 1950s, the OVC became a pioneer on a much more significant scale socially. During times of racial segregation, league member Morehead State became one of the first non-traditionally black mid-southern institutions to accept a black student. In 1958, Marshall Banks earned athletically-related aid at Morehead, which signed a second black athlete, Howard Murphy, a year later. In 1961, Murphy earned all-conference recognition as a halfback in football. With racial barriers broken, the rest of the institutions in the league began to provide educational and athletic opportunities to African-Americans.

Through the past 60 years, 14 teams have won or shared the league's football title. The list is led by Eastern Kentucky, winner of 19 outright or shared football crowns, including the 2007 championship when they compiled a perfect 8-0 league record. Former OVC member Middle Tennessee is next with 11, followed by Tennessee Tech with nine, and Murray State and former member Western Kentucky with eight apiece. Eastern Illinois has claimed four football crowns (including winning the title outright in 2005 and sharing the crown with UT Martin in 2006) while Jacksonville State, Morehead State, Tennessee State and former members Evansville and East Tennessee State have captured two apiece. Austin Peay, UT Martin (which captured its first crown in 2006) and former member Youngstown State have one title apiece.

The OVC's first volleyball tournament was held in 1981, the same year Eastern Kentucky began a string of six straight tournament crowns. Former EKU skipper Dr. Geri Polvino compiled a 627-439 record in 32 seasons as head coach of the Colonels, earning OVC Coach of the Year honors eight times. More recently, former Austin Peay coach Cheryl Holt and former Southeast Missouri skipper Cindy Gannon also earned their peers' recognition multiple times with four awards each.

Throughout the last 26 years, 10 different teams have won an OVC regular-season or tournament volleyball crown. Since joining the league in 1991, Southeast Missouri has dominated the scene, winning seven of its eight regular-season titles during the 1990's, including five straight from 1993-97. The Redhawks have also won five tournament crowns (1994, 1996, 1998, 1999 and 2000). Jacksonville State was won back-to-back OVC Tournament Championships (2005, 2006) including going through the OVC undefeated (16-0) in 2006, while Tennessee State claimed its first volleyball tournament championship in 2008.

Following the 2007 season, Jacksonville State's Abbey Breit was named the OVC Offensive Player of the Year for the third straight season, becoming the first player in OVC history to accomplish that feat. Four other individuals - Eastern Kentucky's Angela Boykins (1985-86), Morehead State's Dayle Hammtree (1988-89), Southeast Missouri's Tuba Meto (1996-97) and Morehead State's Amy Almond (2001-02) - were back-to-back winners of the award.

Over its 60 years, OVC teams have garnered national championships and bowl games in football, along with national team or individual titles in the sports of rifle, cross country, track and golf.

The OVC has also produced several Olympic athletes, including Murray State's Morgan Hicks, who was a member of the 2004 United States Olympic Rifle Team. In addition, some of the greatest players in professional sports were educated at OVC institutions. The list includes former greats such as football's Phil Simms (Morehead State), basketball's Clem Haskins (Western Kentucky) and Bubba Wells (Austin Peay) and two-sport star Steve Hamilton (Morehead State) to present-day standouts like basketball player Trenton Hassell (Austin Peay), football player Tony Romo (Eastern Illinois), baseball players Jamie Walker (Austin Peay) and George Sherrill (Austin Peay) and professional golfer Jeff Sluman (Tennessee Tech).

In 2007 the Conference had two teams in the NCAA Women's Soccer Tournament for the first time in league history, former OVC member Samford earned an at-large selection while Southeast Missouri was the Conference's automatic bid.

A first in the OVC occurred in 2008, when the league had a first round draft pick in both the NFL (Tennessee State's Dominique Rodgers-Cromartie) and Major League Baseball (Eastern Kentucky's Christian Friedrich) Drafts in the same school year.

The playing field isn't the only place where OVC athletes are working hard. The league also recognizes excellence in the classroom. Six Scholar-Athlete Awards are presented yearly to male and female athletes, while others are commended for their academic success by being Medal of Honor recipients or earning a spot on the Commissioner's Honor Roll. Additionally, the league annually presents one institutional Academic Achievement Award, as well as separate team awards in each Conference-sponsored sport.

The vision of leadership demonstrated by the Founding Fathers in 1948 remains alive today as the Ohio Valley Conference prepares for the future. One example is in regard to the current trend in collegiate athletics administration for increased involvement of university presidents in setting policies and making rules. The presidents of OVC institutions, however, have always governed the Conference, long before presidential governance became a national theme.

The Ohio Valley Conference sponsors the following sports: baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, tennis and track for men, and basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, tennis, track and volleyball for women. In addition, the OVC also sponsors the combined men's and women's sport of rifle.

Now in its sixth decade of competition, the Ohio Valley Conference has grown significantly from its humble beginnings while increasing the number of athletics opportunities it provides for students. Current league representatives include charter members Eastern Kentucky University, Morehead State University and Murray State University, along with Austin Peay State University, Eastern Illinois University, Jacksonville State University, Southeast Missouri State University, Southern Illinois University Edwardsville, Tennessee State University, Tennessee Technological University and the University of Tennessee at Martin.

Academics at Morehead

One of the most important aspects of the student-athlete's experience at Morehead State is academics, and the athletic department has excellent facilities and staff to provide MSU student-athletes with the best possible technology and know-how to help them succeed in the classroom.

A new state-of-the-art computer center and resource center, which was also recently updated in 2008, are now available in the Academic-Athletic Center. Academic Athletic Coordinator Valerie Ousley and her staff of students and volunteers also provide academic monitoring, tutoring and counseling in the new Academic Center.

Academically, the University offers 96 degree programs and pre-professional programs through four colleges, Business, Education, Caudill College of Humanities and Science and Technology, and the Institute for Regional Analysis and Public Policy.

On a year-by-year basis, Morehead State student-athletes continually rank among the best in the Ohio Valley Conference, and the athletic department again won the OVC's Institutional Academic Achievement Award, presented by Aeropostale, for 2006-07 – the third year in a row MSU has won the league's highest academic honor. In all, MSU has now claimed eight OVC Academic

Student-Athlete Computer Lab

Achievement Awards, tying Eastern Kentucky for the most in league history. In addition, the Morehead State women's basketball, women's tennis, baseball, men's tennis, softball and men's track teams have each won the OVC individual sport Academic Achievement Award for having the highest percentage of student-athletes named to the OVC Commissioner's Honor Roll in the last three years. The rifle team was named an All-Academic Team by the National Collegiate Rifle Coaches Association and soccer's Rachel Kendall was named Academic All-Region by the NSCAA.

The MSU athletic department also has had a large number of student-athletes awarded an Ohio Valley Conference Medal of Honor.

Since 1974, Morehead State has had 27 student-athletes earn ESPN the Magazine CoSIDA Academic All-America status, including track and field standout Brian Babcock, who earned first-team track and field/cross country honors in 2006. In 2006-07, track and field's Steve Thieme earned First-Team honors for District IV, while softball's Becky King and baseball's Donald Cheney and Nick Nail were each named Second-Team All-District.

Sports Medicine

The Sports Medicine Program at Morehead State offers student-athletes the most up-to-date professional services available. Led by head men's trainer James Carver and head women's trainer Sara Larson, the Sports Medicine Department allows athletes a wide range of options for treatment and rehabilitation of injuries.

One of the major support services offered is the main athletic training room located adjacent to Jayne Stadium. The facility contains four whirlpools, four electric stimulators, four ultrasound units and nine treatment tables, along with a variety of other services and equipment. Each athletic team has a full-time or graduate assistant athletic trainer assigned to them, and each of MSU's trainers are fully trained and accredited to perform life-saving and injury treatments. The training staff also utilizes two remote facilities in the Academic-Athletic Center and Werherby Gym. Both facilities have state-of-the-art equipment.

The training staff also works closely with the Caudill Health Clinic on campus in Allie Young Hall and with St. Claire Regional Medical Center.

Strength and Conditioning

The strength and conditioning program at Morehead State provides student-athletes with the best possible physical and mental training to help them perform at their peak potential. Under the direction of fourth-year coach Kevin Deweese, the individual sport programs focus on physical and mental training and nutrition for that particular sport as well as particular athletes. Deweese and his staff develop programs that will help athletes reach their maximum potential and prevent injuries.

Athletes have several options for weight training with the centerpiece of the program being the Phil Simms Weight Training Center. Funded by former Morehead State and NFL star quarterback Phil Simms, the center houses weight machines and free weights and is located adjacent to Jayne Stadium. The center has ample space for several teams to train at the same time.

Athletes also utilize the weight center in the Academic-Athletic Center. Free weights, as well as state-of-art machines, are located in the facility.

Stressing the whole body, the strength and conditioning program at Morehead State also helps athletes reach their potential in the fields of agility and speed. Deweese and his staff make sure athletes are ready for game action with speed drills and agility training tailored to each sport.

The staff also oversees off-season workouts and nutrition programs to make sure Eagle student-athletes are in-shape when the season begins.

The Phil Simms Weight Training Center is the centerpiece of the MSU Strength and Conditioning Program.

DeWeese came to Morehead after serving as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga. With the Mocs' athletic program, he was in charge of several aspects of the overall program for all sports. He was also instrumental in nutrition counseling for UTC's athletic teams.

Prior to UTC, DeWeese served as an assistant in the University of Kentucky strength and conditioning program for football from 2003-05. ## Compliance Letter

Dear Friends:

Morehead State University is committed to upholding the highest integrity within all procedures and practices of the athletic department. We are pleased to publish this note as a reference to understanding often confusing NCAA regulations.

The NCAA defines "representatives of athletic interests" as alumni, friends and boosters of the University. All member institutions are held accountable for their representatives' actions. One violation could jeopardize the eligibility of any or all Eagle athletic programs.

As a general rule, anyone who has financially supported Eagle Athletics, been a member of any booster organization, or who has supported Eagle Athletics is considered a "representative" of Eagle Athletics.

Prospective student-athletes can be defined as a student who has started classes in the ninth grade or any younger student-athlete who has received a benefit from the institution. These individuals may only be recruited by MSU coaches who have passed the NCAA Recruiting Rules Examination. While "representatives" of Eagle Athletics may speak to any of these individuals via telephone or in person, a recruiting effort must not be made. Also, no student-athlete or prospective student-athlete may receive any extra benefit outside of the support provided by the institution. For any questions regarding this description, please contact me at 606-783-5136.

These are certainly not all the regulations any "representative" of Eagle Athletics must remember. However, they provide a good outline of the types of things that could endanger the eligibility of any MSU Athletics program. Again, feel free to contact us if you have any questions. Thanks again for your support of Morehead State Athletics.

Sincerely,

Richard Fletcher

Associate Director of Athletics/Compliance

New Administration Building

The new administration building will be located on the south end of Jayne Stadium and will house all administrative offices, most coach's offices and football team facilities. The building will also house soccer and cross country locker rooms and serve as the site to strength and conditioning activities and the sports medicine operation.

Jayne Stadium

Jayne Stadium will be completely renovated with new grandstand seating on the home sideline as well as a new press/luxury box tower atop the home sideline grandstand. The new press tower will house a spacious press work area, the President's Box as well as space for luxury boxes and a club seating area. Visitor locker rooms will be renovated, and the visitor sideline grandstands will be completely renovated. The road leading into Jayne Stadium will be re-routed and will serve as an entrance to the new athletic complex. The current track will be removed, and the home sideline grandstands will also be moved closer to the field, giving fans excellent sightlines and a feel of being closer to the action.

Academic Center

The first phase of the plan, already underway, is the expansion of the current Wellness Center to become the new Academic Center. Once completed, it will house computer labs, offices and study halls and will be a valuable asset to the academic success of Morehead State's student-athletes.

Indoor Practice Facility

The indoor practice facility will be located on the present site of University Softball Field and will serve as a valuable practice facility for all of MSU's teams.

Softball Facilities

A new softball stadium will be built on the Northwest side of the current Academic-Athletic Center. The facility will have home and visiting locker rooms and a spacious press box. Also planned is a softball team locker room facility as well as an artificial turf infield practice area for use by all outdoor teams. Behind the new stadium, a golf chipping and putting green is also in the plan to be constructed.

Tennis Facilities

The current Sadler Courts will be renovated. The new facility will have 12 lighted courts and ample stadium seating for spectators. Team facilities as well as ample storage and restroom facilities will be located in the expanded Academic Center adjacent to the courts.

Baseball Facilities

The Allen Field grandstand will be reconstructed and modernized, and plans are to extend the current right field "short porch" area to a more-spacious field area. A new press box will be built atop the grandstand.
