

Red Cross Recruits Personnel For U. S. Service Overseas

Units Subject To Immediate Call; To Perform Normal Welfare Duties

Recruiting of trained personnel to serve the American Red Cross with American forces outside of continental United States is underway, Chairman Norman H. Davis announced today.

"Flying squadrons" are being formed to join any such force of the United States Army. Six of these units have been formed, Mr. Davis revealed, and eight more are now being organized.

Each unit will be subject to immediate call. The members will perform the normal Red Cross welfare duties with the soldiers.

The administrative staff of each unit will be a field director with one or more assistants, a medical social worker, a recreation worker (woman) for convalescents and a recreation worker (man) for able-bodied soldiers. Important task of this group is to form liaison between soldiers and their homes, handling personal problems through local Red Cross chapters.

Similar groups now are attached to the armed forces stationed in Iceland, Alaska, Newfoundland, Trinidad, Canal Zone, Puerto Rico and Bermuda, Hawaii and the Philippines.

Members wear the uniforms of the Red Cross Military and Naval Welfare Service, the same as worn by personnel in camps and bases in the United States.

Able-bodied, trained persons are being recruited for this foreign service.

Physical fitness is being stressed so workers may endure abnormal living conditions. Persons with heavy domestic responsibilities are not encouraged to volunteer for this type of service.

Food Production Will Increase In State This Year

AAA Committees Help Farmers Draft Good Production Plans

Virtually every farmer in Kentucky will increase production of one or more of the foods requested by the United States Department of Agriculture, according to the farmer's own plans reported to the State USDA War Board.

The survey, recently completed under the direction of the board, indicates that Kentucky farmers will more than meet goals in every instance where increases have been asked. M. D. Moore, the State USDA War Board chairman, announced.

Members of county and community AAA committees, who made the canvass, aided operators and tenants on 208,161 Kentucky farms in making good production plans. There are approximately 210,000 farm units in the state.

Royle said these farmers plan a 1942 milk production increase of twenty percent over the 1941 output. Other major increases planned are: thirty-four percent in hops, thirty-two percent in eggs, seven percent in farm gardens, ninety-two percent in soybeans for oil, and eighteen percent in beef marketings.

(Increases Secretary of Agriculture Wickard had asked Kentucky farmers to make in 1942 were:

The British listed their specific requirements of American food soon after the Lend-Lease Act became law on March 11, 1941. Shipments were moving into Great Britain by May. Agriculture was asked to produce immediately and was fully prepared to make necessary adjustments to keep on delivering at a rapidly accelerated pace.

In six months, Americans sent to the British people fourteen percent of the United States, thirteen percent of our evaporated milk, twelve percent of our dry skin milk for human consumption, and five percent of the eggs produced in this flow.

In 1942 American food will flow abroad in even greater quantities. Lend-Lease shipments will amount to nearly a third of the cheese produced in this country, more than a third of our dry skin milk produced on American farms, and about one-seventh of the pork and one-fifth of the lard output of the United States.

If American farmers reach their 1942 food production goals, there will be enough of practically all the foods to supply the Lend-Lease requirements and still have more for this country than our people consumed last year. Preliminary returns from the Food for Freedom survey indicate that farmers throughout the nation expect to exceed their goals.

Milk, twelve percent; eggs, fifteen percent; soybeans, ninety percent; and beef marketed, seven percent. An increase in farm gardens was suggested but no amount was set. No increase had been asked of Kentucky farmers in hog production, but they had been asked to save more of the pigs farrowed in the spring.

"Although Kentucky farmers have planned increases that exceed the Secretary's request," Royle said, "the goals were set up before Japan's attack, and these goals probably will be further increased in some cases."

Royle added that farm visits in the survey also were completed before Japan attacked Pearl Harbor and that many of the individual farmers' plans undoubtedly have been further increased.

"There is now no prospect of a food shortage," Royle said, "but farmers of this state are determined to do what the year to avoid the possibility of a 'Pearl Harbor' in the war of food, and to do it now."

Recent years could have been prevented, had farmers, hunters, and other persons who use the woods been careful.

Forest officers are asking all classes of people including loggers, oilmen, farmers, and sportsmen to be especially careful in smoking, building camp fires, and in land clearing operations this year, so Rowan County will have a perfect record in 1942.

Stop Forest Fires And Buy More Planes

Farmers Can Save $40,000,000 A Year On Cream Market

Uncleanliness is responsible for the huge loss to dairymen.

Farmers of Rowan County have been appealed to to help along the nation's war effort by eliminating food waste and by producing only farm crops of unquestioned quality.

The appeal comes from H. C. Darger, coordinator of the National Cream Quality Program, Chicago.

Mr. Darger is immediately concerned with the waste involved in that portion of cream produced on farms which, because of a low standard of cleanliness of cans in production or handling or perhaps infrequent marketing, is found on the delivery to the creamery to be unfit for manufacturing into butter under the stringent federal food regulations. Cream thus rejected represents a serious loss to the nation's nutrition as well as the farmer's pocketbook. Mr. Darger estimates the loss to American farmers from unfit cream, including seizures of shipments of cream and butter and the "loss" from price differentials between cream and butter that grade less than first quality, at $40,000,000 annually. Kentucky farmers, of course, are standing their proportionate share of this loss.

1,000,000 Tons Of Lend - Lease Foods Arrive In Britain

1942 Flow Will Be In Even Greater Quantities

One million tons of American food have reached England under the Lend-Lease Act, the British Food Mission has advised Secretary of Agriculture Wickard.

This food, even in its highly concentrated form, would fill a string of freight cars almost four hundred miles long, or approximately the airline distance from Lexington, Kentucky, to Washington, D. MOREHEAD, KY.

THE chief counsel for the Tennessee Valley Authority told the Kentucky Legislature at a hearing on the electric power bill (Ward Bill 146) on February 3, that T.V.A. would not come into Kentucky unless it could come on its own terms. In a report on this hearing, the Lexington Herald declared that the T.V.A. chief counsel "delivered a virtual ultimatum similar to that which he had given to the Legislative Council."

- WHAT IS THIS T.V.A. "ULTIMATUM"?
1. It demands special privilege legislation giving the T.V.A. unfair advantage over electric power companies and cities which operate their own electric plants.
 2. It threatens tax losses to the cities, counties, state and federal governments which would have to be added to the tax burdens of individual citizens.
 3. It denies to the people of Kentucky their inherent state's right to regulate and control the operations and rates of the utilities that serve them.
 4. Its promised benefits are heavily offset by the dangers and disadvantages of outside control.

5. It threatens to cripple the developing rural electrification program by giving T.V.A. power systems unfair advantages over the various county R.E.A. co-operative associations.

Kentucky citizens will want to think a long time before they surrender their right to govern themselves and their affairs in every particular.

If Abraham Lincoln were living in his native state today, he might well be warning his fellow citizens—"GOVERNMENT OF KENTUCKIANS, FOR KENTUCKIANS, BY KENTUCKIANS."

Isn't this question broader than the sale of power alone?

It is an issue that vitally affects every taxpayer . . . everyone who works in a mercantile business . . . every doctor and dentist . . . every farmer . . . every freeborn American who likes to call his soul his own.

All we ask is that T.V.A. be required to operate by the same laws and regulations under which all the other electric power companies must operate.

THE HOME FRONT

This was going to be won on the home front. The home front is all-important in total war. The home front saved Britain after Dunkerque, it was to the home front—the betrayed and deluded people of Germany—that Hitler addressed himself when he began his insane hysteria 1 1/2 weeks-end.

We Americans are all-out for Victory on this front. We're all of us determined to keep the raw materials for Victory flowing into our industrial plants and the finished weapons of war streaming from those plants to the fighting zones until Adolf is in the ashcan, and Japan on the junkheap, and the poor misguided Italians are ready to dunk Hitler in the Tiber.

Of course, every Victory has its price. Right now we can begin to see already what Victory is going to cost the home front, and it's plenty, although a small sum to

1,000,000 Tons Of Lend - Lease Foods Arrive In Britain

1942 Flow Will Be In Even Greater Quantities

One million tons of American food have reached England under the Lend-Lease Act, the British Food Mission has advised Secretary of Agriculture Wickard.

This food, even in its highly concentrated form, would fill a string of freight cars almost four hundred miles long, or approximately the airline distance from Lexington, Kentucky, to Washington, D. C. Of the total amount, about a fifth consisted of dairy and poultry products, another fifth of fruits and vegetables, and still another fifth of pork and lard.

The British listed their specific requirements of American food soon after the Lend-Lease Act was passed on March 11, 1941. Shipments were moving into Great Britain by May. Agriculture was able to deliver immediately and was fully prepared to make necessary adjustments to keep on delivering at a rapidly accelerated pace.

In six months, Americans sent to the British people fourteen percent of the cheese produced in the United States, thirteen percent of our evaporated milk, twelve percent of our dry skim milk for human consumption, and five percent of the eggs produced in this period.

In 1942 American food will flow abroad in even greater quantities. Lend-Lease shipments will amount to nearly a third of the cheese produced in this country, more than a third of our dry skim milk produced on American farms, and about one-seventh of the pork and one-fifth of the lard output of the United States.

American farmers reach their 1942 food production goals, there will be enough of practically all of these foods to supply the Lend-Lease requirements and still have more for this country than our people consumed last year. Preliminary returns from the Food for Freedom survey indicate that farmers throughout the nation expect to exceed their goals.

Food Production Will Increase In State This Year

AAA Committees Help Farmers Draft Good Production Plans

Virtually every farmer in Kentucky will increase production of one or more of the foods requested by the United States Department of Agriculture, according to the farmer's own plans reported to the State USDA War Board.

The survey, recently completed under the direction of the board, indicates that Kentucky farmers will more than meet goals in every instance where increases have been asked. M. D. Moore, the State USDA War Board chairman, announces.

Members of county and community AAA committees, who made the canvass, aided operators and tenants on 208,151 Kentucky farms in making good production plans. There are approximately 210,000 farm units in the state.

Moore said these farmers plan a 1942 milk production increase of twenty percent over the 1941 output. Other major increases planned are: thirty-four percent in hogs, thirty-two percent in eggs, seven percent in farm gardens, twenty-two percent in soybeans for oil, and eighteen percent in beef marketings.

(Increases Secretary of Agriculture Wickard had asked Kentucky farmers to make in 1942 were:

Milk, twelve percent; eggs, fifteen percent; soybeans, ninety percent; and beef marketed, seven percent. An increase in farm gardens was suggested but no amount was set. No increase had been asked of Kentucky farmers in hog production, but they had been asked to save more of the pigs fattened in the spring.

"Although Kentucky farmers have planned increases that exceed the Secretary's request," Roysie points out, the goals were set up before Japan's attack, and these goals probably will be further increased in some cases."

Roysie added that farm visits in the survey also were completed before Japan attacked Pearl Harbor and that many of the individual farmers' plans undoubtedly have been further increased.

"There is now no prospect of a food shortage," Roysie said, "but farmers of this state are determined to do what the year to avoid the possibility of a 'Pearl Harbor' in the war of food, and to do it now."

Stop Forest Fires And Buy More Planes

The 1941 fire record of the protected area in Rowan County showed that fifteen fires were chalked up against the area protected by the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture, according to Forest Supervisor, Harold L. Borden.

The reported number showed a decrease of twenty-seven fires when compared to 1940 when forty-two fires had to be fought by national forest personnel to protect government owned land.

Emphasizing the need for saving money for National Defense, Mr. Borden said that the money spent on fighting forest fires during the course of a year could buy many airplanes and guns for our defending forces. However, as long as uncontrolled blazes damage or threaten to damage government property they had to be fought.

Investigation showed that all the fires which occurred during recent years could have been prevented, had farmers, hunters, and other persons who use the woods been careful.

Forest officers are asking all classes of people including loggers, oilmen, farmers, and sportsmen to be especially careful in smoking, building camp fires, and in land clearing operations this year, so Rowan County will have a perfect record in 1942.

Farmers Can Save $40,000,000 A Year On Cream Market

Uncleanliness Is Responsible For The Huge Loss To Dairymen

Farmers of Rowan County have been appealed to help along the nation's war effort by eliminating food waste and by producing only farm crops of unquestioned quality. The appeal comes from H. C. Darger, coordinator of the National Cream Quality Program, Chicago.

Mr. Darger is immediately concerned with the waste involved in that portion of cream produced on farms which, because of a low standard of cleanliness of cans in production or handling or perhaps infrequent marketing, is found on the delivery to the creamery to be unfit for manufacturing into butter under the stringent federal food law regulations. Cream thus rejected represents a serious loss to the nation's nutrition as well as to the farmer's pocketbook. Mr. Darger estimates the loss to American farmers from unfit cream, including seizures of shipments of cream and butter and the loss from price differentials between cream and butter that grade less than first quality, at $40,000,000 annually. Kentucky farmers, of course, are standing their proportionate share of this loss.

According to Mr. Darger, there is no reason why any farmer should produce a poor grade of cream. Everything hinges on the care the cream receives on the farm and the frequency with which it is delivered to the butter-maker. The required sanitary precautions are easy and inexpensive for the average farmer to carry out. He can readily obtain any desired information from the state agricultural college or from the cream buyer or creamery with whom he does business. The little extra trouble involved in producing the best quality of cream does not only make available the maximum of protective food for the consumer but extra dollars as well as for the farmer exerting this extra care.

5. It threatens to cripple the developing rural electrification program by giving T.V.A. power systems unfair advantages over the various county R.E.A. co-operative associations.

Kentucky citizens will want to think a long time before they surrender their right to govern themselves and their affairs in every particular.

If Abraham Lincoln were living in his native state today, he might well be warning his fellow citizens—"GOVERNMENT OF KENTUCKIANS, FOR KENTUCKIANS, BY KENTUCKIANS."

Isn't this question broader than the sale of power alone?

It is an issue that vitally affects every taxpayer . . . everyone who works in a mercantile business . . . every doctor and dentist . . . every farmer . . . every freeborn American who likes to call his soul his own.

All we ask is that T.V.A. be required to operate by the same laws and regulations under which all the other electric power companies must operate.

Government Needs Stenographers And Secretaries At Once

Civil Service Examination Is Given At Hundreds Of Places

The Government needs stenographers for National defense. One is prone to think of National defense in terms of soldiers, sailors and marines. But there are many types of defense work behind the lines. A large army of civilian personnel is now on duty as stenographers in the Government service to take the dictation of the thousands of executives and administrative officers, and transcribe it into typewritten documents. Some of this material is of lasting importance. Some of it will set into motion Government events of historical consequence. Some of the material is of vital importance to the Government. Some of it has approximately 85,000 stenographers, typists and secretaries on the payroll. Many young men and women are responding to the call. Thousands more are needed.

Aside from the present emergency, the opportunities for stenographers in the Government service are favorable. Good stenographers are always in demand. The positions pay $1,440 a year to start, with a good chance for advancement to positions of greater responsibility, such as secretarial positions, in the case of those who have the ability. The examination announced by the Civil Service Commission for stenographers is open until further notice. The examination consists of a dictation test at ninety-six words a minute and transcription of notes. All persons who can qualify are urged to apply now.

The stenographer examinations are held at several hundred cities throughout the United States. In order to arrange for greater convenience to applicants, the Commission is planning to increase the number of places where the examinations will be held. The proper application form may be obtained from the Secretary of the Board of United States Civil Service Examiners at any first or second-class post office or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. To provide more living quarters especially for those in the lower-income groups, there has been a program, under Government sponsorship, a building program for constructing thousands of apartments, homes and homes in Washington, D. C.

New Army Setup Is Underway At Fort Knox A. F. School

Armored Force To Be Doubled This Year; To Have Two Combat Commands

Announcement by Secretary of War Henry W. Stimson that the Armored Force would be doubled this year found action to that effect already underway at Fort Knox. Today Major General Jacob L. Devers, Chief of the Armored Force, said that official orders have been issued for the activation at Fort Knox, February 15, of the Sixth Armored Division, and that a pool of officers to provide experience, leadership for the Sixth and also Seventh and Eighth Divisions, being formed at the Armored Force Replacement Training center. These experienced officers are being drawn from other armored divisions. Two new camps for armored divisions, Camp Cooke near Santa Maria, California, and Camp Chaffee at Fort Smith, Arkansas, are nearing completion and another camp site has been selected. The Armored Force School at Fort Knox, is now graduating skilled technicians at the rate of 23,440 a year, and plans are underway to increase the output.

At the Armored Force Replacement Training Center, the fifteen-week basic training course has been cut to ten weeks and total training capacity has been expanded from 9,000 to 15,000, of whom 12,000 are trainees and the balance instructors and administrative personnel. Under present arrangements it is possible to turn out 12,000 trained men, more than the enlisted personnel of a division, every ten weeks. At a three-day conference called by General Devers last week, commanding generals of all armored divisions and their staffs worked problems and exchanged ideas at Headquarters and in the field in connection with the newly reorganized armored divisions. Main changes under the reorganization of the blitz units are increased fire power, doubling of the number of medium tanks, adoption of self-propelled artillery, addition of a tank destroyer battalion and formation within the division of two combat commands.

Do you want to know what you can do to straighten the home front in national defense? A booklet which answers this question is now being distributed by the Ashland, Kentucky, field office of the Social Security Board. Copies may be obtained without charge by sending a post card to Elbert M. Bohon, manager, social security office, Second National Bank building, Ashland, Kentucky. Just ask for the home defense booklet, it will be sent by return

IS IT REASONABLE — IS IT FAIR?

The Louisville Courier-Journal reported in a front page article on February 7, 1942, concerning the electric power bill now before the Legislature:

"The concensus is that the Administration will exert whatever pressure is necessary to pass the bill, perhaps next week.

"Another sign of Administration interest heartening to proponents of H. B. 146 was the presence in Frankfort of the advisory highway commissioners last night and today. Each was understood to be under orders to press hard for support of the measure."

If this statement be true—

Are unfair political practices being adopted to force unpopular laws through our Kentucky Legislature?

Why all this "Administration pressure" to pass a law which—

- (a) Surrenders State's rights.
- (b) Strikes a death blow to the second largest taxpaying industry.
- (c) Is the most vicious form of special privilege.
- (d) Is not needed until after 1944.

increase of the cost of foodstuffs.
Almost all the trends developed during the past week have gone on which, taken with WPB's warning of stringent rationing to come, points the direction in which we're headed. WPB is questioning 10,000 manufacturers to find out just how much minimum civilian production they must maintain along with maximum military production.

Such things foreshadow change, and change we will have--change in one familiar contents of the kitchen shelves, in the contents of our closets and bureau drawers, in our living rooms.

We're going to see a lot of the tin can, which is going through this war primarily as a container of food, and the vegetable can. WPB has halved the amount of tin which may be used in cans for baking powder, bicarbonate of soda, cereal, flour, chocolate and cocoa, dog food, condiments, petroleum products, tobacco.

There's been a lot of beer started into tins. In 1941 beer cans consumed 1,600 tons of scarce tin more than was used for any other vegetable except tomatoes, along with the cans. WPB is drafting a part of their contents, plans an order withdrawing it through the use of the 1942 fruit and vegetable pack as a reserve for the armed forces and the war effort. Sales of sugar may be limited to three-quarters of a pound per person per week. That's enough there probably be enough of the consumer spices, too--except cinnamon. We've more than the two-year supply of East Indian pepper in the warehouse.

WPB found it possible to relax restrictions of fats and oils. A break for men and women in the winter. Shortening, lard, soaps, and paint. Women's styles probably will be altered by the need to conserve all kinds of cloth changes. We're in for a period of slim silhouettes and short skirts. But it looks as though the winter will be safe anyway. WPB's rubber branch is going to make a limited amount of crude rubber available for foundation garments, girdles, corsets. Manufacturers will conserve by design changes, partial substitutions.

As for coats and dresses, members of the women's coat and suit industry have assured WPB that women will have a warm and warmly clad--whatever amount of wool the Government gives us--plan is to blend used and reworked wool with cotton, rayon and virgin wool. There'll be more rayon stockings. Silk stocks are actually used in making the rayon supply will be needed for military purposes.

Women and the work of war. (1) WPB doesn't want a broad wave of knitting that will consume millions of pounds of wool needed for more essential purposes. It does want women in sweaters when Commanding Officers have asked for them. To be sure, ask Red Cross. (2) WPB's chief Director Sidney Hillman says more than a million women will be needed for work in war industry. (3) America's more than 3,000 women pilots were called "Indispensable" to the Civil Air Patrol by the national committee. The Civil Air Patrol, organized by the Office of Civilian Defense, invites college flyers and aviation followers to join up. Training courses are being prepared. WPB won't grant priorities for steel to be used in it. Paid shelters, and other protection when it is guns or it ships.

Having cut the output of radios and radio-photographs by more than forty percent--and there probably are still further cuts ahead--WPB moved to reduce production of "non-essential" incandescent lamps by fifty percent. The Price Administrator's office has asked makers of electric hair-ing aids not to raise prices. OPA has begun a checkup of dealers in new electrical tubes throughout the country to find out who has been breaking rationing regulations. WPB's Industrial Conservation Bureau has launched a drive on auto bonereads. The goal--five or six million spare cars in six months for scrap metal more than 15,000 retail merchants throughout the country are aiding the drive to salvage materials for war and WPB is receiving new pledges at the rate of thousands each day. The drive will be called supply of aluminum has now been marshaled for war.

talks at the Methodist church on humor. I figured if the adults learned it they'd go home and teach it to the kiddies, so the whole community would be happy--but the lecture idea fell through. By drawing diagrams of the good looks and the bad ones we tried to show them what we meant. It got them laughing alright, but they laughed at the wrong places, so we gave it up. Sense of humor is a funny thing about you, now you have it now you don't. A good way to start is just going around kicking people in the back.

As I was just saying this is a bad depression. We mean war--and we might give a five-odd analysis of it, particularly the most, before launching into its international phases, did you know about that party a Morehead woman threw down stairs last week? It might be entirely safe to put the woman in uniform but for the sake of America, we'd better keep the artillery for our own use.

food for home use. The increase for 1941 over 1940 is twenty percent, reported to County Agent, Kermit C. Mills.

Of the 1200 farms in the county all but eighty-five were contacted by AAAS committees. The survey the Defense Board chairman said. The eighty-three not contacted live outside the county. Of the 117 whom the committees interviewed 1050 indicated that they would make increases in one or more of the commodities needed. Mr. Turner urged that every farmer in the county begin now to carry out the program he has outlined for 1942. "Every day's delay is a loss to Defense that cannot be replaced," he said. "Let's remember that farms are counties to employ a home demonstration agent. These workers will also assist in handling 4-H club work and Homemakers clubs among the adults. The citizens and taxpayers will soon be called to make their choice in the employment of a home demonstration agent. The expenses need not be great as the agent would use the same office as the agricultural agent and the salary will largely be paid by the state.

Farmers Urged--

Farmers can lengthen the life of bags now on hand by handling and opening them carefully by storing them where they will be protected from the weather, rats and other hazards, and by using substitutes, whenever possible. Hays said: "Used bags which are not needed on the farm can be resold if in good condition. Usually the farmer from whom they were received will be glad to buy them, the war board chairman said.

2- Present to the rationing board the inspector's statement and explain the purpose for which the tire or tube is to be used. (Farmers are eligible to apply for tires or tubes for farm tractors or other farm implements for which they are essential or for trucks which carry farm products and foods to market. Tires or tubes may not be obtained for any purpose unless they are to be mounted immediately.)
If the applicant is eligible to buy new tires under requirements of the tire rationing board, the board will issue a certificate granting permission to buy the tires from any dealer provided the board's monthly quota of such certificates has not been exhausted.

agements for interested farmers to trade machinery that they cannot use for some other piece of equipment that they could not afford to buy outright. Mr. J. R. Wende, manager of the Morehead Stockyards, has agreed to let the farmers use the Stockyards for their trading event. The Stockyards will charge a small fee for equipment if it is asked to auction, but farmers may use the grounds free if they assume the responsibility of selling or trading their own products.

2,008 Employees In Kentucky And Tennessee Receive Back Wages

A total of $66,838.90 was paid to 2,008 employees by 106 firms in Tennessee and Kentucky during the month of January according to an announcement by William M. Eaves, Regional Director of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Nashville, Tennessee.
Lumber establishments and meat packers, whose products moved in interstate commerce, led in the payment of restitution during the month of January. The amounts paid in back wages represented the difference between what the employees actually received and what they were due under the War Relocation Law since October 24, 1938, the date the law became effective.

Enough Scrap Iron On Farms In State To Make 4 Cruisers

Scrap Is A Vital Necessity In Production Of Steel
There are enough rusty pieces of iron lying useless on the average Kentucky farm to furnish the scrap needed for manufacturing a 500-pound aerial bomb or enough for making ten small calibre machine guns, the State USDA War Board has estimated.

The amount of scrap that can be used in making one of these aerial bombs or ten of the machine guns is put by the OPM at about 125 pounds, the war board reported. "No doubt this seems like a small amount of scrap," said M. D. Royce, Kentucky USDA War Board chairman, "but when it is multiplied by the number of farms in the State, the total number of program items it will help to make it very impressive."

This scrap on Kentucky farms would make more than 200,000 of the 500-pound aerial bombs more than 2,000,000 light machine guns, more than 10,000 37mm anti-aircraft guns, or more than 1,600 light tanks. It would be more than enough to supply the scrap for four heavy cruisers.
The immediate need for scrap iron is indicated by the fact that many small steel plants throughout the nation have been closed down or have had to suspend operations because of a lack of scrap, Royce said. Scrap iron is an essential ingredient in the production of steel, he pointed out.
The OPM has advised the U. S. Department of Agriculture that there is at least a million tons of this essential scrap lying useless on the nation's farms. Royce said the USDA War Boards are taking the responsibility of getting this metal moved off the farms into smelters and blast furnaces.

Residents Cooperate With Fort Knox

Take it from officers of the Armored Force at Fort Knox, Kentucky is one State in the Union which always can be proud of its part in World War II.
Without complaining residents of the 71,000 acres in Hardin and Bullitt counties which is to be added to the Fort Knox reservation already are moving off their land. When the evacuation is completed, the birthplace and nerve center of the Armored Force will become the third largest Army camp in the Nation.
As pointed out by Major General Jacob L. Devers, "It is essential to have adequate firing ranges in order that Armored Force troops may be trained for the serious business which now confronts the entire Nation. Adequate necessary for these ranges should be acquired within the next few days. This has been organized by the appropriation of $2,500,000 for the enlargement of Fort Knox."
Expanded to its new size, the present $5,500,000 a month now being paid out by the finance department at Fort Knox. This figure represents payments for local purchases of foodstuffs, materials and supplies, and payments of civilian employees in all fields of work. Obviously the expansion program, though hrd on these patriotic farmers benefits as a whole the farmers, laborer and merchants as well as the entire State of Kentucky.

To Direct Public Relations For Chain Stores In Four States

Ivan Jett, Georgetown, has been named Acting Director of the Mid-South Chain Stores Council, Inc., 1931 while editor and publisher of the Murray Ledger and Times.
Jett, who was Director of Marketing for the Kentucky Department of Agriculture in 1940-41, became associated with the Council last July. He will direct the program from his office in Georgetown. The Murray office will be closed for the duration of the War.

In addition to directing the program in Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee, Jett will continue to function in Kentucky. In recent months the Council has directed a large portion of its energies to assisting Kentucky farmers to find more direct and profitable markets, supplying information on quality, grade and pack requirements and market information, as well as purchasing increased quantities of Kentucky products.
Conferences have recently been held between producers' and chain stores' representatives on Strawberries, Irish potatoes, green-wrapped tomatoes, sorghum, eggs and other food commodities grown by Kentucky farmers.

Life insurance companies extended financing aid a property owners of the United States in the form of mortgage financing, at the rate of nearly three million dollars each working day in 1941, representing an important contribution to the housing needs of the country.

AN EDITORIAL

The heated T.V.A. issue which has this week reached almost its own proportions in Kentucky, seems to us to be almost itself down to one fundamental issue. Shall private industry be destroyed, and public ownership reign supreme in this, the great state of Kentucky, which was founded by men of vision who possessed of the initiative to combat almost insurmountable odds in order that we might enjoy the benefits of their labors?

State Contributes 250 NYA Youth To Defense Industries

Working and industrial sewing. "The success of the NYA defense training program is indicated by the fact that our youth are going into jobs in private industry at the rate of 1,000 every month in Kentucky and 43,000 a month nationally. In recent weeks NYA youth have secured jobs in such plants as United States Aluminum Company, General Electric Corporation, Wright Aeronautical Corporation, Hooper Ordnance Works, General Motors Corporation, Electric Boat Company, Salyers reported.

Out-of-school youth are paid a small monthly wage to enable them to pay their own way while they are employed by the National Youth Administration in Kentucky getting practical experience and training for industrial jobs. Instruction related to the work upon the project is provided by local branches of education in cooperation with the State Department of Education. Job placements are made through United States Employment offices.

Group life insurance, although only thirty-three years old, now insures 12,500,000 workers of the United States of America in 32,000 different companies of employee groups, giving them average protection of $1,500 from this source alone, in addition to the protection they have from their ordinary or industrial insurance.
