CRACKER BARREL COMMENTS

I don't like to brag about my column but for the past five years I have given the readers of this two-sheeter (sometimes four inside stuff on this and that. I have been whipped once but on numerous occasions made severe apologies. I have been called some pretty bad names and have smell-told many a fat. I have pioneered in handing out things that you would not otherwise find out. I will go down in history as being the first man to hand out to the public the first air raid instructions for civilians and pedestrians in Morehead and Rowan County. Below I list a few instructions that will soon be revised by the City Council:

IMPORTANT Aid-Raid Instructions for Civilians and Pedestrians

1. As soon as the bombs start falling, run like h—l. It doesn't matter where—but run fast. Wear crack shoes if possible, but in case the plane running ahead of you are slow, or fall down, you don't have any trouble jumping them, or jumping over them.
2. Take advantage of opportunities afforded you when the air-raid sirens sound the warning of attack or black-out... for example:
(a) If in a bakery, grab a pie.
(b) If in a tavern, grab a beer.
(c) If in a mess hall, grab a slice.
3. If you find an unexploded bomb, pick it up and shake it... maybe the firing-pin is stuck.
4. If an incendiary bomb is found burning in a building, throw gasoline on it... you can't put it out, so you might as well have a little fun.
5. When the first bombs fall, holler bloody murder... it will add to the fun and confusion, and scare Hell out of the kids.
6. It is well to have onions or lima beans handy for a survival kit before entering a crowded air-raid shelter... it may make you a bit tipsy, but you'll have lots more room for yourself.
7. If you should be the victim of a direct hit, don't go to pieces... just lie still and wait until the explosion will attend you.
8. If an air-raid warder starts to tell you what to do... knock him down. Warders are always the best beasts for themselves and their friends.

Walter Carr Among 17 Kentuckians in Air Corps Training

Kentucky, the state which is justly famous for its blue grass and horses, may soon be famous for its fliers, for more than seventy Kentuckians have begun their training as aviation cadets in the Southeast Air Corps Training Center since the beginning of 1942. Among the Kentuckians now in the Training Center is Walter Winston Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carr, 369 Wilson Avenue, Morehead, Kentucky.

These youths, along with hundreds of other Americans from every section of the state, are taking pre-flight training in the Replacement Center, at Maxwell Field, near Montgomery, Ala. They will leave upon completion of this training for primary schools in the southeast for the first phase of their instruction.

Louisville led all the cities in the state in furnishing prospective pilots for the Air Corps sixteen cadets now in training at the center here are from the city which is famous for the Derby, Lexington and Ashland fairs. A few men each for the large group now beginning their training as pilots.

684 Registered In Rowan County In Third Registration

At the third Selective Service registration, held Monday, February 16, Rowan County registered 684 men. This was done at twelve registration places in the county, with the valuable assistance of school teachers and other volunteer workers.

The largest number was registered at the Local Board office in Morehead, where 325 eligible men signed up. The Independent will publish at a later date, the complete list of all men registered together with their order numbers.

Sam Johnson Will Get "Wings" In Air Corps, February 28

Sam Johnson, formerly of Morehead, is scheduled to receive his "Wings" in the U. S. Army Air Corps on February 28. He is now stationed at Lowry Field, Denver, Colorado. Upon the completion of his training at the end of this month, Mr. Johnson will be commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Air Corps and will be assigned to active duty.

Mr. Johnson is a graduate of Morehead High School, Class of 1936, and recipient of a B. degree from Morehead State Teachers College in 1941. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Johnson, of Morehead.

WIT, WISDOM, BLASPHEMY AND THE LIKE WITH DIATRIBES ON PSYCHOLOGY

By Rex Hoke

In order to gauge the intelligence of my audience... if any... so there will be a testing of minds, here are a few brain teasers. Send answers, or any other communication relative to this column, to the Editor.

What Is Wrong With Each of These:

1. An incendiary bomb strikes an immovable object, there is a crack-up, followed by a considerable blaze and everything burns.
2. Mr. George rides his bicycle to school. He says it is down hill all the way back home and he will get a flat.
3. Mr. Smith makes his will. It is his provision "It is my will that my son George should have any of my property, and my son George, only through a responsible trustee in the way of clothes. My creditors can go to Hell. The probate court held that a trust fund had been set up for George.
4. A duck flies up and you swing and shoot at him, or her... but they go on off.
5. A George Washington crossed the Delaware in 1492. On the way over he ate several bags of peanuts, occasionally tossing some to his soldiers, there being no women along on this trip. The men employed themselves at hist, dominoes, or lounging in the cabin. No drink was allowed, owing to scarcity of water. Some of the crew, including the captain, were suspicious of being shot.
6. An ass starves to death standing between two equally distant sources of food that are within easy reach, such as haystacks or vegetable soup.
7. A man enters a restaurant and orders a meal, principally of ham and eggs. After eating the food up he pays the cashier, puts on his hat and walks out onto the street.
8. A fish weighs five pounds. You put it in a pail of water which weighs fifteen pounds and set it on a scale. What will weigh how many pounds?

Just send answers in and you'll be doing your part (in many instances you get a prize, including) to win the war. Did it ever occur to you that we can lose the war? The nation has been rocked.

Crop And Feed Loan Available Now For Farm Defense Work

St. Louis Firm Urges Farmers To Cooperate With USDA Defense Program

According to A. V. Allison Field Supervisor for the St. Louis Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office, all farmers are being urged to cooperate with the farm defense program sponsored by the United States Department of Agriculture by planting and cultivating crops, both for sale and for home use.

These loans are made primarily to small farmers—owners or operators who are unable to secure assistance on reasonable terms from any private source or from a Production Credit Association. The crop loans will be made in amounts commensurate with an applicant's actual cash needs in producing his 1942 crop. The necessary expenses incident to complying with the defense program. These loans are secured by the first mortgage on the crops to be financed.

Feed loans to finance the purchase and production of food animals made to farmers who are maintaining livestock to be fed for the market, as breeding animals with a view to increasing their production of dairy products, as wool, etc. These loans are secured by a first mortgage on the stock to be fed.

The emergency crop and feed loans are available to all farmers producing a marketable crop according to the rules and regulations, and to those farmers who have records, or can obtain records, a conscientious effort to discharge their obligations. Both types of loans bear interest at the rate of four percent per annum. Funds are immediately available upon application and farmers wishing to take advantage of the loans should see Mabel Alfrey.

Three Local Boys Enlist In Navy

Three local lads were voluntarily enlisted in the United States Navy this week. They were Robert C. Barker, Morehead; Marshall Conn, Smile and Claude Clayton Turner, Elliottville.

Skilled Machine Workers Needed By Defense Industries

Reports from Kentucky's war industries and from neighboring states show that they are not producing at capacity because of the lack of skilled workers. Skilled machinists and machine operators with a machine shop experience are in urgent demand.

Men who formerly worked in skilled trades are urged to be trained for their former occupations. The fact that a worker has not worked up his skill for several years will not keep him from returning to his trade.

If a worker lacks physical defects are no longer a handicap if these are not serious enough to endanger his work and his fellow workers. The age of a worker is no longer a barrier as long as a man is active and can produce satisfactorily.

It is not only the patriotic duty but vital to victory that all persons possessing mechanical skills should be known to their local office of the United States Employment Service. There is an office of the United States Employment Service in Morehead at 425 Thirteenth Street in Ashland.

Eagles Encounter Marshall College Here, Friday Night

Game Is Last Of Season For Morehead Eagles

Coach Ellis Johnson's Morehead College Eagles, on the comeback trail from a recent losing streak, will encounter Marshall College of Huntington, West Virginia, here Friday evening, February 20, in a return engagement.

In a game played at Huntington about four weeks ago, the "Thundering Herd" eked out a 60-59 victory over Johnson's lads, when Center Earl Duncan, missed a free throw for the Eagles in the final seconds of the game, which would have tied the score.

Friday evening's match will pit two of the greatest offensive campaigns in this section of the country. Marshall has scored almost one thousand points to date, this season, with an average of 52 points per game.

Earl Duncan, Eagle center, holds high scoring honors for Kentucky collegiate netters, having scored 150 points thus far this season. As a sophomore, Duncan scored 29 and 20 points against Marshall in the two games last year, and in the game with the Big Green earlier this season, he scored a total of 23 points.

Although Duncan has led the scoring stat for the Eagles this year, Coach Johnson has four other boys—Cooper, Johnson, Penik, and Horton—who are liable to break into a scoring spree and push the basket for plenty of points.

FROM THE RINGSIDER

Woody sounds upset over a couple of new columnists coming into the field. Perhaps he is afraid Dr. Hoke or the Ringsider may have him out of his column on the front page. Don't worry, Woody. It is recognized that they will show him out of his column.

It was noticed that two bus loads of selectees left Morehead on Wednesday morning for Lexington, one year ago. During that short period of time, the yards have grown rapidly with an increased amount of stock at each sale.

War Rationing Now Vital to U.S. Defense

Sugar Allotments To Begin "Within A Few Weeks," Says War Production Board

The necessity and importance for full co-operation and participation by civilians in America's war effort is being burned deeper and deeper in our minds by the recent actions of the War Production Board.

The events of the past week illustrate more clearly than before, that America's fighting forces must have run ships, tanks and planes as soon as possible. The WPB, acting on its maxim, "First Things Come First," are instituting strong measures to make certain that our fighting men get guns, ships, tanks and planes. To all Americans this goal is a "must."

Rationing—formerly a subject for discussion—is now a reality. Production and more production—formerly a catchphrase—is also a reality. Every day, more and more industries—large and small—are converting from the manufacture of products of peace to products of war.

Before the plan goes into effect every household in the nation should get in the sugar ration habit now. Rationing means shares and shares must be ready and willing to accept whatever may be necessary to produce these guns, ships, tanks and planes. Americans at home must make up for lost time.

Sugar rationing, which starts Monday, is the most far-reaching rationing order of the WFO so far. Practically every man, woman and child will feel its effect. Before the plan goes into effect every household in the nation should get in the sugar ration habit now.

Those who have hoarded up large amounts of sugar are urged to "divvy up" with friends or neighbors. By "divvy up" sugar supplies, those who have stocked up heavily can help lessen the strain on retail stores and avoid embarrassment of having many stamps removed from their ration books at the time of registration.

Consumers will have to certify the amount of sugar they have on hand when they register for War Ration

Judge Lorenzo K. Wood, State Director for the Office of Government Reports. This compared with a total for the Office of Government Reports. This compares with a total of $62,000,000 expended during the prior fiscal year of 1940.

Loans totaled $57,093,000, and grants-in-aid and other expenditures amounted to $3,243,000. In addition, the Federal Housing Administration insured $10,026,000 worth of housing improvement loans, mortgages and defense housing insurance in the State. The largest unostentatious and the largest amount of loans was made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the greatest amount of direct expenditures was disbursed by the Works Projects Administration.

Loans were made to business, farmers, home owners, and to individuals whose property or holdings were damaged by such catastrophes as floods or fires. Granted in aid were made to the aged, farmers, and for the construction of public roads and buildings. Relief was extended to able-bodied men and women employed on Work Projects Administration projects, to young men enrolled in the Civilian Conservation Corps, and by the distribution of surplus commodities through the State relief agency.

Kentucky also expended $944,000 for training of defense workers under the Office of Education and $2,189,000 by the Office of the Administrator, Federal Works Agency for National Defense housing authorized by the Lanham Act. Principal construction agencies under the Office of Education are $2,189,000 by the Office of Administrator, Federal Works Agency for National Defense housing authorized by the Lanham Act. Principal constructing agencies under this program are Public Buildings Administration, United States Housing Authority, Office of Federal Works Administrator, Division of Defense Housing, Office of Federal Works Administrator.

Judge Wood pointed out that an itemized accounting of Federal loans and payments is available to persons interested in the functions of the Federal Government as they relate to the State of Kentucky by applying to the Office of Government Reports, 431 Federal Building, Louisville, Kentucky.

Ashland Oil Will Continue To Give "Free Insurance"

Refining Company Extends Present Plan; Bears Half Of Cost

Extension of its present plan of free life insurance by giving all workers the opportunity to take out additional life insurance approximately equal to their annual salary, with more than half the actual cost being borne by the company, has been announced by Ashland Oil & Refining Company.

The existing life and accident insurance plan was put into effect by Ashland Oil some sixteen years ago, during which time payments have constantly been made to the families of employees who have died, and to employees themselves who have become permanently and totally disabled. The entire cost of providing $1,000 group life and $1,000 of accidental death and dismemberment insurance for each eligible employee has been paid by the company; this policy will be continued.

Although the plan has provided substantial benefits, the company worked out the additional plan in order to more than double, on the average, the amount of group insurance that each employee may carry. This new coverage, known as contributory insurance, will be paid for partly by the employee and partly by the company, thereby keeping the individual's share of the cost well within his means. The employee's contributions represent less than half the cost of the group insurance, and the new insurance plan, with its permanent and total disability benefits, is a more liberal form than can be bought from any of the major insurance companies today. It enables the employee to inexpensively raise his insurance coverage from the basic figure of $1,000 to an amount in most cases somewhat exceeding his year's earnings. Within a week, eighty percent of the eligible employees made ap-

Forest Supervisor Urges Burning Of New Grounds Soon

Says Next 30 Days Is Safest Period From Fire Hazard Standpoint

All persons who have sedge fields, tobacco beds, and new ground areas to burn this spring are urged by H. L. Borden, Supervisor of the Cumberland National Forest, to burn during the next thirty (30) days. Forest fires that escape from crush or debris burning amounted to twenty-one percent of all fires on the National Forest in 1941 and nineteen percent and twelve percent in 1940. Of these brush burning fires, ninety-five percent escaped between March 20 and May 30, when leaves and grasses are dry and high winds occur.

It is obvious that if the trash burning could be done on calm winter days, soon after or just before a rain, when weather and fire conditions are safer, fewer fires would escape and less damage would be done to the forests. Mr. Borden declared that every stick of timber may be needed for war purposes, and every farmer and citizen should help win the war by being careful with fire. Other precautions that should be taken include:

1. Clear a line around the area to be burned, raked clean to the bare ground.
2. Get the neighbors to help control the fire; have tools handy.
3. Burn late in the evening; after 5:00 o'clock.
4. Start burning on the uphill side, or against the wind.
5. Never leave a fire unguarded as long as a live spark is found; examine the burned area next day for smoke or sparks.
6. Don't burn at all if the debris can be disposed of in any other way.

The following statement in printed form has been placed in the hands of each senator and representative in Frankfort.

DON'T BE RUSHED!

Why Pass Any T V A Bill Now?

With the present and increasing demands for electric power in Tennessee and the adjoining areas occasioned by war production, it is not expected that there will be any power available from T V A to the municipalities of Kentucky until after 1944.

Then why pass a bill at this session to meet a condition that will exist some years hence, when no single city or person in Kentucky will be damaged if you don't? On the contrary, the passage of this T V A substitute bill at this time is definitely:

1. Stop the construction of a $4,000,000 taxable generating plant and transmission program.
2. Cripple and obstruct the efforts of our Company in its war production program, rendering it as ineffective as a wounded soldier who has been dropped on the field of battle by the bullets of an enemy.
3. Close in our face the doors of all sources of new money necessary to carry out the improvements and enlargements of our system. (Since this T V A bill came before the Legislative Council and this Legislature, the market value of our preferred stock alone, owned by people living in Kentucky, has shrunk substantially more than $2,000,000.)

4. Deny our Company the opportunity to determine if, during the intervening period, it can continue to pay approximately 25c out of every dollar that it takes in for taxes and still reduce its rates to approach the levels of T V A.

5. Destroy the morale of over 1,100 employes of our Company in Kentucky, whose maximum efforts and production are as vitally needed today as are those men actually fighting in the front lines of battle. As a matter of fact, many of these men have shed blood on the battlefield in the defense of our country.

It is a significant and exceedingly important fact that, so far as we know, only two newspapers in Kentucky have indicated that they favor the passage of this T V A bill. If it could be determined at this time, a large majority of the users of electric service would also oppose its passage now.

On behalf of a vast majority of the people of our State, we beg of you to close your ears to political promises, to political pressure, and to political threats, long enough to listen to your conscience and let it guide you to a correct conclusion.

steel in it, that came later. Whether the correct figure should approximate the letter "double," as Emily Post, and others have argued, a woman with a high stomach has but little chance in society. In like vein the moralists have said, "A paunch woman is an ugly woman."

Per contra, that goddess of womanhood, Evelyn E. Pinkham, with followers, hold quite to the contrary, viewing that a woman is always at her best when she feels comfortable. It is the feeling, Mr. Nelson and I feel, rests on solid ground.

Nevertheless, pretentious men's blings indicate all is not well with the manufacturers, it being rumored that Eleanor has been experimenting with the Bustle. It may be presumed, however, that the Bustle, like the historical novel, is always based on stern reality, which fails utterly to solve the most pressing problem of womanhood.
